High Tariff Swine.

Last Wednesday Senator Turpie addressed the Senate in support of his amendment for a 2 per cent tax on inheritances. His speech was notable for its picturesque metaphors and the virulence of his denunciation of the pending bill. He spoke of the statements frequently made as to the straits of the U. S. treasury, its insolvency and bankruptcy. Such statements were unwarranted and tended only to shake public confidence. Today there was a large surplus in the treasury, the last official statement showing $135,000,000 available cash balance.

In sarcastic tones Mr. Turpie declared that the tariff bill was the joint production of two parties—one the party that had come into power last November, the other, the party in office. One was a mercenary organization, the other political, and both had entered into a compact for a tariff bill. Neither branch had any anxiety as to the treasury, the amount of deficit, except as it served political ends. Hawaii must wait, Cuba must wait, pensions must wait while these two parties executed their plans.

Mr. Turpie declared that the bill was founded on prohibitory lines, it kept out articles yielding revenue, and in his judgment, it could not produce, with all other sources of revenue, $400,000,000. It would prove a blanket net short to cover the colossal deficit of the annual deficit. The theory pursued was the fallacious one that raising rates raised revenue.

Mr. Turpie bitterly arraigned the bill, saying that no measure had ever been presented making "a large and unprovoked spoliation of the world's commerce." There was "compound larceny" in such a policy. One-third of the bill was a declaration of war against France, Germany and the continent of Europe. W. had hopelessly looked toward the trade of South America but this bill made it almost a penal offense to carry on trade with the people of the southern republics.

The senator said that the amendment for an inheritance tax was urged by the minority in good faith as a means of raising revenue. It proposed but a small contribution for the support of the government under which the present beneficent rules of descent prevailed. It afforded a means of raising the vast accumulations of wealth, in the hands of trusts and individuals, which in time must be touched by death and distributed through the channels of inheritance.

Mr. Turpie denounced the protective system in bitter terms, his unique figures of speech attracting much attention. Referring to the enormous bounty to go to the wool manufacturers, he declared it was not for the interest of the sheep, but for the wolf in sheep's clothing, who would strip from the babe in its cradle the articles essential to its use. We had developed in this country a new breed of animals—"They are the tariff swine," exclaimed Mr. Turpie, "the high protective tariff swine. They are voracious feeders, with fierce appetites and a regard only for the infant industry of bribes."

The senator went on to characterize the rates on the bill as akin to bribery and rapine, dictated by a "bandit of syndicates." And yet, he declared, out of this unclean mass of bribes and gifts it was expected to distill the pure water of prosperity. You might as well expect to enjoy paradise by entering the domain of the damned.

Mr. Turpie spoke about two hours and received close attention owing to the picturesque nature of his utterances. He closed with a reference to the silver question, asserting that there was no more right to abandon the free coinage of silver than to abandon the free coinage of gold.

Does any Senator suppose that the duty on coal will ameliorate the condition of the coal miners? The State laborers largely employed in Pennsylvania was imported free and secured at wages that are starving out the American miner. But the coal barons that have fattened on distasteful and misery beyond powerful words to express, demand high duties in behalf of American labor. What a farce their play is!—Indianapolis News (rep)

Yes; what a farce it is! They demand in behalf of American labor, when the owners of the product of labor are the sole beneficiaries.

"Are the wool-raisers of the United States the most important members of the community?" asks the Republican Chicago Tribune. It looks that way "Have they paramount claims on the consideration of Congress?" it asks again. It appears so. The "seventy million users of woolen clothing" of whom the Tribune speaks have nothing to do but to go down in their pockets and pay the increased price demanded by the political flockmasters.

The tariff is a tax.

Brother Marshall is mortally offended at Senator Vest, of Missouri, for denouncing certain Democratic Southern Senators who voted for a tax on cotton as "cotton tails!"

"Strikes" and "Probable Strike" are the headlines which have taken the place of "Tariff Rushed Along!"
