HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains when it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effect following use of liquor wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention Democratic Sentinel and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

African Bread.

"The staple article of food," writes a traveler in Africa, "is guinea or cassava bread. It is made from the manioc root, from which tapioca and manioc are produced. The manioc resembles the elder bush; the roots form tubers like sweet potatoes. The way in which the guinea or cassava bread is prepared is as follows: The tubers are thrown into a bamboo basket and are kept under water for five or six days, until they begin to show signs of decomposition. They are then taken out, the skins are removed, and they are pounded into pulp in a mortar. The dough is rolled into balls of about two pounds in weight, wrapped up in banana leaves, tied securely with cotton strings, and put into a big earthen pot and boiled for three or four hours. The cassava bread is then ready for use. It will keep for three weeks if properly made and taken care of. To see a company of natives stripping the covering of their two pound loaves and munching them in sociable way is not to what the appetite. When you begin to experiment with it you find it has a sour smell and a new taste. The natives in making it mean to eat a lot of good mixed meat."

making it feel rather gritty when eating it. Whether this is done to aid digestion or whether it is the result of accident is a matter of conjecture. But even in spite of the thought of the mudholes in which one has seen the tubers rotting, with hunger for a sauce, one gets to be able to eat the native bread, and after a time he even begins to like it."

California's Public Schools.
Facts as to the development of the public school system of California show that although it is only forty-seven years since the first schoolhouse was built in the State, yet now the annual expenditure for public schools is nearly $6,000,000, and 6,500 teachers are employed in instructing 240,000 pupils. These teachers are paid more liberally than in any other State, and they rank high in efficiency. The State University and its affiliated colleges have been very liberally endowed, and the competition of Stanford University has helped instead of injuring it. The bequest of J. C. Wilmerding of $400,000 for the establishment of a school in which boys may learn trades has fallen due, and this new technical school will be under the State University, and every effort will be made to render it efficient.

California's Vintage.
California's vintage has begun, and trustworthy estimates as to the production are now available. In every district the outlook is more favorable than last year. The production of dry wine in the State will be about 20 to 25 per cent. greater than last year, and will be from 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 gallons. About 4,500,000 gallons of sweet wine will be produced, making a total wine production in California this year of about 17,000,000 gallons. This is far short of the consumption, and much less than the production of 1896, so winemakers look for good prices and prosperous times. The average price for dry-wine grapes will be about $15 a ton.

Shoes Named for the New Empress.
Because the new Empress of Russia has pretty feet and is fond of dancing the faithful French bootmakers have named in her honor a series of new Russian slippers meriting admiration. The Tsaritsa is a rich black satin shoe on which a piece of fine white lace is applied, the pattern suiting the front of the slipper, and for other and particularly evening gowns tinted satins are used under lace. The Tsaritsa is of the new tan glaze kid, soft and pliable, and has bars of patent leather all round with a gilt or bronze slide. A white satin slipper banded with gold and twinkling like Cinderella's own is called the Allex, and the Alexander is made of patent leather perforated to prevent any injury to the feet and decorated with a row of alternate stripes of patent leather twisted with satin ribbons of various colors.
