of Tippecanoe County

DAVID H. YEOMAN, of Jasper County

COUNTY TICKET.

For Auditor—GEORGE O. STEARNS.
For Treasurer—MAJ. J. A. DAMS.
For Sheriff—WM. C. HUSTON.

Commissioner, Second District—
LUCIUS STRONG.

On first page to-day we give our readers a synopsis of the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention.

Arrangements are so far completed as to assure us in making the announcement that the Fourth of July will be a big day in Rensselaer. Program next week come, everybody.

The Democrats of this 30th Judicial Circuit will meet in delegate convention at Goodland, Ind., on Friday, July 22d, 1898, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a democratic candidate for Prosecuting Attorney to be voted for at the November election.

The Democratic State Convention was an ideal one. Tomlinson Hall was full to overflowing with stalwart democrats from all over the State, and the proceedings were in harmony with the character of the make-up of the convention. The ticket is admirable, and will commend itself to voters generally.

We regard the new court house as an ornament to the city and a credit to the county, and only wish that Democratic commissioners had been in position to receive credit for its erection. If irregularities come to light we will as readily condemn as any one, but until these are unmistakably produced, we will give credit where it is due.

We understand the Democrats will soon change hands. David can now sing that beautiful song commencing with the lines:

"What was I ever begun for,
If so soon I was to be done for."
The political complexion of the paper will continue the same, the new management having until recently been connected with the Remington Press, as virulent a Populist sheet, in our judgment, as was the "Pilot," deceased.

Owing to the space occupied by the proceedings of the state convention, we are unable today to do more than note that we endorse and accept the action of this congressional district convention in the nominee, John Ross, of Tippecanoe county. His name appears on the ticket, in another column. The name of Dave Yeoman for joint representative, also occupies its proper place on the ticket.

Well done, Dave! The Democrat? has from week to week been engaged in dishing out from the records the proceedings of the commissioners connected with the erection of the new court house hoping to show in the end that said commissioners have been exceedingly extravagant, if not criminal, in the management of its construction. And now comes this week the Republic and Journal with a condensed but complete statement of the cost, and the Democrat? takes it bodily, type and all, from the Republican.

The glazed, glaring eyeballs of the editor of the Democrat? seem to be constantly confronted with some horrible "gang," the same as when connected with his former paper the "Pilot." He is the same "calamity howler" now as then, and is prompted and pressed on by the same pharisaical political judges who controlled him then. He has the audacity this week to insinuate that the "Sentinel" has "never dared to raise its voice against this gang because it was afraid it would 'lose' patronage." All the patronage we have received has been through attorneys, and that on account of special rates given by us.

David is engaged in "peanut" or "popcorn" politics when he palms off his own productions as emanating from "Many Republicans."

"For Headache"

I don't believe there ever was so good a pill as Ayer's. I have been a victim of terrible headaches, and never found anything to relieve me so quickly as

AYER'S PILLS

C. L. NEWMAN, Drug Store, Va.

"The democratic sentiment has no hostility to wealth or capital. The free and prince's heart of liberty would not only allow but assure to every man his earnings and possessions, great or small. The democratic sentiment has no reverence for wealth as such. It reveres the freeman for what he is, not for what he has."—Senator Turpie.

A Tardy War.

There are grave complaints concerning the tardiness that characterizes our war with Spain. Delays in bringing the war with Spain to a close may involve this nation in grave international complications.

The New York World notes that "in the Mexican war we set out to conquer a people in their own land—a vast empire with powerful natural defenses, in great distances, rugged mountain barriers, wilderness not penetrated by roads. In the present war we have as our objective points two seacoast cities—San Juan and Havana—open to bombardment from our warships, and Spain has no navy."

"In the Mexican war there were no railroads, no telegraphs. The swiftest means of transportation were the sailing vessel and the horse. Armies had to make their long and difficult marches on foot. Cannon had to be dragged painfully up and down mountains and through tropical forests."

"In this war there has been fast trains, swift steamers. The telegraph annihilates space. The only necessary campaigning is on the smooth highways of the sea, controlled and easily traversed by our superb navy, the slowest of whose ships is faster far than the fastest sailing vessel taking the weather as it comes."

"In the Mexican war we had to meet large armies as well trained and as well equipped as Spain's armies of today, relatively to the times. And they were assisted by a people fired to unite their fury against the invader, and carrying on a guerrilla warfare of the most effective kind."

"In this war we have to meet ill-served modern guns mounted behind old-fashioned fortifications that crumble in your fingers. And these guns are all within easy range of our warships."

"In the Mexican war, which was purely a land war, we used about 400,000 troops, 73,000 being killed out."

"In this war, in which only need for troops for garrison purposes, we have already called out four times as many troops as were called out in the Mexican war."

"In the Mexican war, Gen. Scott marched three hundred miles from the seacoast to the capital city, stormed it, drove out its garrison of 30,000 and held it for nine months, or until peace was arranged. And he had less than 10,000 men in all and did the work at the City of Mexico with less than 6,000."

Dandruff is Dangerous

When dandruff appears it is usually regarded as an annoyance. It should be regarded as a disease. Its presence indicates an unhealthy condition of the scalp, which, if neglected, leads to baldness. Dandruff should be cured at once. The most effective means for the cure is found in AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It promotes the growth of the hair, restores it when gray or faded to its original color, and keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

"For more than eight years I was greatly troubled with dandruff, and though a young man, my hair was fast turning gray and falling out. Baldness seemed inevitable until I began to use

"There has been much bald, dis-jointed chat about the ability, or inability, of our government to carry silver. We never have carried and are not now carrying any silver. Standard silver coin does not need to be carried. It lives, moves and circulates upon its beneficent errand of exchange by reason of its own strength and merit. It is gold as the single standard of values that has to be carried. The people are even now bending and straining under the weary burden of the gold standard sought to be imposed upon us."—Senator Turpie.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. IDA A. wife of George B. Parkison, was born August 16th, 1859, in Jasper county, Ind., where she resided all her life. She was the daughter of John M. and Mary Gwin. Joined in wedlock to Geo. B. Parkison, July 13, 1879. Three children were born to them, of whom two, with their father, mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother.

Her aged parents also survive her, as do three brothers and four sisters, namely Jesse C. Gwin of Rensselaer, county treasurer of Jasper county; John P. Gwin, merchant and postmaster at McCosyburg; M. W. Gwin, of Newton township; Mrs. Hannah Menden of Fair Oak; Mrs. Samantha McDonald, of Monticello; Mrs. Celeste Parker of Hanging Grove, and Mrs. Emma Sayers, of Des Moines.

When about 18 years of age she united with the Methodist church, and showed by her every day walk in life that she was a devoted and consistent Christian.

She died at her home near Pleasant Ridge, Saturday, June 18, 1898, aged 38 years, 10 months, 2 days. She had been in poor health for many years, beginning with a heart trouble, and finally terminating in dropsy.

The funeral was held Monday forenoon, June 20th, at the residence, Rev. H. M. Middleton, of Trinity M. E. church, Rensselaer, conducting the religious exercises. Interment in Barkley cemetery.

The funeral was very largely attended; while the procession of vehicles which followed it remains to their last resting place was nearly a half mile in length.

Edward Hardesty, of Lebanon, Indiana, died at the home of Daniel Roach, in this city, on Saturday of last week, aged 19 years, 7 months and 23 days.

He was a young man of good character, industrious habits, and a member of the M. E. church. Sunday forenoon, after brief funeral services conducted by Rev. H. M. Middleton, the remains were taken to Lebanon for interment.

"I have often wished that I could fix the minds of our political opponents upon the consideration of the commercial value of justice, its mere money worth, if they are unconcerned about its other attributes. How rich in happiness and contentment a people grow who are conscious of the exercise of justice and fair dealing toward them by their rulers. How well-to-do that nation becomes and all the men and women in it, when they feel that the burthens of government are distributed and borne in due proportions and that its benefits may be equally shared by all."—Senator Turpie.

NO TEACHER

Should miss the N. E. A. meeting at Washington in July next. A visit to Washington under ordinary circumstances is an education in itself, but on this occasion teachers will have special opportunities to visit the National Library, the Smithsonian Institution, National Museum, the departments, Mount Vernon and various other places of interest. This year, it is not unlikely, will offer a journey across the continent to see.

The Monon Route will sell round trip tickets at a special low rate, good for a sufficient length of time to see all the sights of the national capital and vicinity, part of which will be furnished by any Monon ticket agent.

All Monon trains now stop at 17th street Chicago, where tickets are sold and baggage is checked to all stations. Electric cars from this point reach the stock yards in five minutes, and communicate with all parts of the city.

Judge Haley, exclusive boot and shoe dealer, has purchased a large stock of fine shoes, latest styles, direct from the factory. Call, examine goods, and learn prices.

MENICUS LENSES.

The particular advantage these Menicus lenses possess are that they give much more correct secondary axes and when adjusted to the eye yield more perfect vision through the periphery of the lens rendering the field of vision much larger and more distinct.

The above is a scientific fact. If you want a pair of these lenses of the best material in the world, correctly adjusted to your vision, notify, or call on Dr. CHAS. VICK, the Optician, Rensselaer, Ind.

R. S. Swigins has returned to Rensselaer and will make this city his permanent home. He has opened a law office and will devote his entire time to the practice of his profession. He quit the practice about fifteen years ago on account of his health which is now fully recovered. See his card in another column.

Judge Healy's is the place for shoes—Gents', Ladies' and Children's. Don't forget it.

In our advertising columns will be found an announcement of Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls' forthcoming book, entitled "America's War for Humanity." Canvas agents will find it a book of remarkable interest, and certainly of extraordinary salubility. The history of the war is told in picture and story, in a way that air yet characterizes the grand scene of Senator Ingalls. In narrating the incidents of this war he finds grand scope for his superb descriptive and analytical powers. The theme is worthy of the author, and the author is worthy of the theme. It is published by N. D. Thompson Publishing Co., of St. Louis, Mo. It will be a monumental work that will not only be everywhere read, but it will be a monument to his genius that will outlive in history his senatorial career.
