THE NEWS HAS THE LARGEST DAILY CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

WHY THE SOUTH IS SOLID FOR HANCOCK.

Consider what Lee and Jackson would do were they alive. THESE ARE THE SAME PRINCIPLES FOR WHICH THEY FOUGHT FOUR YEARS. Remember the men who poured forth their life-blood on Virginia's soil, and do not abandon them now. Remember that upon your vote depends the success of the Democratic ticket.—[Wade Hampton, at Staunton, Va. July 26.]

COL. THOMPSON to night.

SWELL the procession to-night.

Let the Republicans make to-night a "pointer" for the night of the sixth.

In the New York Herald, of Sept. 22, appears the following advertisement:

ANYONE HAVING CONFEDERATE BONDS MAY find a customer by addressing CONFEDERATE, box 109, Herald office.

What does it mean.

AN Aztec villa, in a remarkable state of preservation, a sort of Mexican Pompeii, is said to have been discovered by M. Desire Charnay, the head of Lorillard's exploring party. In the neighborhood of Tula. This town is on the site of Tollan, the capital of the Toltec empire, and the ruins are said to be more completely Asiatic in character than any other American remains which are known.

This is what Bob Toombs says about the election of Hancock:

"We cannot put in one of our own men this time, and have to take a 'Yank.' That being the case let us take one that is less 'blue-bellied' than the most of them. You may depend upon it, sir, that 'Yank,' or no 'Yank,' if elected the old boys of the South will see that Hancock does the fair thing by them. In other words, he will run the machine to suit them, or they will run the thing to suit themselves. They are not going to be played with any longer. If you hear any man say that Hancock cannot carry all of the South, you may put him down as a d-d fool."

THE Courier de l'Indo-Chine, one of the best French papers in Illinois, publishes what Judge Black says of Garfield:

"Je crois fermement dans l'integrité personnelle du General Garfield et je base mon jugement sur la connaissance intime de sa vie privée et de ses paroles. Intellectuellement il est le plus fort, moralement il est le plus droit, n'importe quel autre homme de son parti. Quant à ce qui est du 'Credit Mobilier,' les mains du General Garfield en sont pures comme il les a toujours gardées."

(I believe firmly in Gen. Garfield's personal integrity, and I base my judgment upon an intimate knowledge of his private walk and conversation. Intellectually he is the strongest man, and morally he is the equal of any man in his party. With regard to the Credit Mobilier transaction, Gen. Garfield's hands were clean, as he always has kept them.)

"I agree with you that it will not do to be beaten now; we should never be beaten until every man who counts, or represents those who count in the enumeration to give representation in the Electoral College, can cast his vote just as he pleases, and can have it counted just as he casts it."—General Grant's Letter to General Logan.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY THE SOLDIER'S FRIEND.

To show the people of Terre Haute, how much truth there is in the statement made by Democratic speakers, that the Democratic party has always stood by the soldier and has been the true friend of the widows and orphans of the dead heroes, we call the attention of every one to the record of these gentlemen, upon the different bills and resolutions introduced in Congress for the benefit of maimed and crippled soldiers as taken from the Congressional proceedings by the Inter-Ocean, which says that the arrears of pensions bill was not introduced by "red-handed rebels," as "The Soldier's True Friend" asserts. It was introduced by an ex-Union soldier, Mr. Cummings, of Iowa, and passed the House on the 19th of June, 1878, by a vote of 164 yeas to 61 nays. Every Republican voted in the affirmative! Every negative vote was cast by a Democrat! And all but three of the sixty one negative votes were cast by ex Confederates.

The following was the vote in the House of Representatives, Feb. 3, 1879, upon a resolution providing for the prompt payment of the arrears of pensions:

	For.	Against.
Confederates	4	31
Border Democrats	3	38
Northern Democrats	0	3
Republicans	108	3
Totals	140	81

The vote upon the bill appropriating $25,000,000 for arrears of pensions, in the House of Representatives, Feb. 17, 1879, was as follows:

	For.	Against.
Confederates	4	58
Border Democrats	8	3
Northern Democrats	0	3
Republicans	118	1
Totals	130	67

The vote in the Senate, Feb. 28, 1879, upon the same bill, was:

	For.	Against.
Confederates	0	11
Border Democrats	0	7
Northern Democrats	0	3
Republicans	24	2
Totals	24	23

An amendment having been offered in the Senate, by Senator Hoar, to exclude Jefferson Davis from the benefits of the pension laws, the vote was as follows:

	For.	Against.
Confederates	0	11
Border Democrats	0	4
Northern Democrats	0	5
Republicans	23	1
Totals	23	21

In 1875 Mr. Fort, of Illinois, introduced a resolution declaring that Union soldiers should be given preference in making appointments under the House of Representatives. This was defeated by a vote of 168 yeas to 102 nays. Every negative vote was cast by a Democrat! Every Republican, and two Democrats (Stevenson of Illinois, and Goodin of Kansas) voted aye.

In 1876, 1877, 1878, and 1879, similar resolutions were voted upon with like results:

On the 20th of May, 1880, a bill was introduced by an ex-Confederate brigadier, Hunton, of Virginia, repealing the law which gives preference to the Union soldier in making appointments to the police force of Washington. The vote was as follows:

	For repeal.	Against.
Confederates	10	3
Border Democrats	12	4
Northern Democrats	30	7
Nationals	0	6
Republicans	0	75
Totals	78	95

In the Senate, April 17, 1879, a resolution was offered by Mr. Edmunds (Rep.) that Union soldiers should not be discharged from the places they held under the Secretary of the Senate and Sergeant-at-Arms except for specified cause. This resolution was defeated by the following vote:

	For.	Against.
Confederates	0	18
Border Democrats	0	3
Northern Democrats	0	10
Republicans	25	3
Totals	25	31

Mr. Carpenter (Rep.) then proposed an amendment that no Confederate soldier should be appointed to office about the Senate Chamber in lieu of a Union soldier. This was defeated by the following vote:

	For.	Against.
Confederates	0	18
Border Democrats	0	3
Northern Democrats	0	10
Republicans	26	0
Totals	26	31

A bill offering in the Senate, Feb. 25, 1880, to allow a Maryland rebel to receive a commission in the army, Mr. Garland, (ex Confederate) of Arkansas, moved as a substitute that the law which prohibits the appointment of Confederate soldiers, sailors, and office-holders to positions in the United States army should be repealed. The vote on the repeal was as follows:

	For.	Against.
Border Democrats	6	0
Northern Democrats	11	0
Republicans	0	23
Totals	36	23

Since the Democratic party "captured the capital," as they are fond of expressing it, they have removed from office seventy-six ex-Union soldiers, more than two thirds of whom were wounded; and have appointed eighty-eight men to office who were in the Confederate army during the war.

A young woman who loves more than she is loved deserves to suffer.—[Hollie Lee.]

To Accommodate the Public.
The proprietors of this immensely popular remedy, Kidney Wort in recognition of the claims of the public which has so liberally patronized them, have prepared a liquid preparation of that remedy for the special accommodation of those who from any reason dislike to prepare it for themselves. It is very concentrated and as the dose is small, it is more easily taken by many. It has the same effectual action in all diseases of the kidneys, liver or bowels.—Home and Farm.

BUSY BODIES.

Some busy bodies keep circulating the report that the News is only a campaign paper, and will have to "blow out" after the campaign is over. No one disputes or dares to dispute the fact that the News has, by several hundreds, the largest circulation in the city. The News is the best and spiciest paper in the city. The News is the cheapest paper to the public in the city. The News is gotten up by its proprietors with the least expense of any daily paper in the city. The News pays five times more interest on the money invested than any other paper in the city. The News is making money now and will make more money after the campaign is over than it does now. These being facts, pray tell us why under the blue Heavens should it "blow out" after the campaign. Simply to accommodate the other city papers? We will admit that when she was born she was an infant, but claim that she was perfectly formed and in a healthy condition. While it is true she sucked the hind teat for awhile, she nevertheless grew, and with the proper care and treatment, she has weathered through and now she is about able to "hoe her own row." The News will stand by those who stood by her. Will give no quarters nor receive any. Always standing by right and justice, she will hope for renewed success and the further confidence of the public.

THE Chicago Tribune, speaking of the taffy with which the Democratic party are trying to feed the soldier element, to support Hancock, says that the veteran James Watson Webb, now an octogenarian, took an active part in politics fifty-four years ago, when Jackson was running for the Presidency. Webb supported Jackson heartily until he declared war on the United States Bank. Then the former took up with the nascent Whig party, and remained with it till its death, passing then into the Republican ranks. He was for years an officer in the regular army. Some Democrats have impudently claimed him as a supporter of Hancock. The result is a letter three columns and one-half in length in the New York Tribune, in which he indignantly repels the assertion. He finds Gen. Hancock to possess none of those qualities of statesmanship which a President should have, and objects to him, besides, on the ground that he would be a plastic instrument in the hands of the Solid South. Gen. Webb devotes much attention to the claim of Hancock's friends that he was the hero of the battle of Gettysburg; Webb says:

"At Gettysburg, when he was in command of the left centre, occupying a line quite a mile in extent, Pickett's and Armistead's assaults on his right found him on his left, because it was there he expected and was ready to meet the enemy. Of course he hastened to the scene of conflict, but only arrived on its outskirts to be severely wounded, and was carried from the field. Forney in his 'Life of Hancock' says: 'Had Hancock fallen on the 3d as Reynolds fell on the first of July, 1863, what fate would have been ours?' Is not this exceedingly ridiculous? Hancock did fall on the 3d of July, 1863, and what was the consequence?"

Webb does not believe that Hancock has prompted this ridiculous and wicked claim to the glory of Gettysburg, but holds him responsible for keeping silence and permitting it to be made on his behalf by others. "Gen. Meade," says the veteran, "died in the full belief that he had won the greatest battle of the War. He little dreamed that any one of his brave associates would ever attempt to rob his memory of what a grateful country had so universally conceded, or his children of their inheritance."

A GENTLEMAN from Camden Ohio who is the editor of the Repositor, published in that city, stopped at this city a few days ago. When he got home he wrote a column on what he thought of Terre Haute in what he says, of the Magnific Artesian Springs:

"There is one institution which no visitor to Terre Haute should overlook, and he is not likely to if he gets to the 'wardward of it,' for it speaks loudly for itself, and that is the justly celebrated Magnific Artesian Springs, on the bank of the Wabash, at the corner of Walnut and Water streets, the waters of which are believed to possess wonderful medicinal qualities. The well was sunk in 1868 by a company who bored for oil; but in stead of an illuminating fluid, at a depth of 2,000 feet they 'struck oil,' so to speak, in that they tapped an inexhaustible fountain of mineral water, which has since been used as a healing balm for nearly all the ills that flesh is heir to, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, scrofula, dyspepsia, catarrh, hay fever, nervousness and all diseases of the skin and blood. [Particulars concerning these Springs may be obtained by addressing the superintendent, J. J. Daley.]"

A Beautiful Experiment.

Perhaps some of the boys and girls may be interested in the following experiment. It is easily performed, and will give some idea of the manner in which crystals are formed. Remember that the solution is poison, and must be kept where it cannot be taken by mistake.

Procure from an apothecary half an ounce of sugar of lead, sometimes called lead-acetate. Put this into a wide-mouthed bottle, an empty horse-radish bottle will do well, and fill the bottle nearly full with water. When the sugar of lead is all dissolved, push two or three pieces of copper wire into the cork, and let them run down into the liquid in the bottle. Bend the lower end into hooks, and hang on them a small piece of sheet-zinc, taking care that it touches all the wires.

After the bottle has stood for a few hours, crystals of lead form upon the lower ends of the wires. These rapidly increase, and soon the entire bottle is filled with beautiful fern-like crystals. Looking carefully at them, the branches are all formed to start out at the same angle, thus showing that the force which produced them acts constantly in the same direction.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The C. & E. I. R. R. has begun the building of a new round house at Danville, Ills.

Mr. H. L. Bushnell went to Fanbury, Ill., last night to visit his family which is located there.

Excursions will be run into the city over all the roads entering here, next Wednesday. The city will on that day be filled with a larger crowd than has ever been gathered in this place.

Serious Injury.

Buck Noble, was yesterday struck with a beer glass, by a fellow named Day, who has been freed from the penitentiary walls but a few days. Mr. Noble's skull was fractured, causing several bones to be removed by Dr. Crapo, who was called in to attend the injured man. After his wounds were dressed, he was removed to his home, on East Chestnut street, where he is lying in a dangerous condition. Officers, Chas. Watson and Hymer, arrested Day last night, and as bail would not be accepted, he at present lays in jail awaiting results.

Beautifiers.

Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health, and nothing will give you such good health, strength, buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. See another column.—Telegraph.

Are you low-spirited, "down-in-the-mouth," and weak in the back? Does walking, lifting or standing cause pain in the small of the back? If so you have kidney disease, and Prof. Guilmotte's French Kidney Pad is the only remedy which will cure you rapidly and permanently and without filling your stomach with nauseating medicine.

DIVERTING ATTENTION.—A child naturally cries when it is hurt, and it is cruel to try to hush its cries by threats. A thousand times better it is to soothe it by kindly stories, by explaining pictures, or by providing it with new toys. "We have many a time," says a famous doctor, "in our professional experience as to sick children, found more benefit to be derived from a beautiful or interesting toy than from a dose of physic." The greatest humanity a mother can exhibit in respect to her sick child is to divert it in all pleasing ways, possible, as we ourselves, who are larger children, feel sometimes really sick, when a cheerful face and much-loved friend has come in, and before we know it, we have forgotten what was the matter with us.
