D. P. Downs, claim agent, Vandalia: "Yes; I have stock in an oil well. A few weeks ago I owned the world. Since then I have found I couldn't run it and give the requisite amount of attention to my family, and I have sold a number of corner lots."

THE HAT AND THE MAN.

The hat does not necessarily make the man, but it certainly has much to do with it. The head gear of every one it invariably noticed first and it is astonishing what an improvement a nobby hat makes. There is no good reason why everyone should not be provided with a new hat when S. Loeb, at 5th and Main, is making such remarkably low prices.

He has the noblest line in town including all the latest styles.

SURE TO GET OIL.

There is one man who is sure to strike oil. In fact, he has already struck a paying well, by going straight down into popular favor with the public. That man is Frederick Freers, the popular merchant tailor, at 813 Main street. He has the finest goods the market affords and has established a reputation for first-class work, which others do not command. His prices are always reasonable and he never fails to please in price as well as work. Call and examine his handsome fall suitings before purchasing elsewhere.
