FUEL GAS FOR THE FUTURE.

THE ARCHER COMPANY DECIDES TO PUT IN A PLANT THIS FALL.

THE CENTENNIAL OIL WELL NEARING THE LIME STONE—NEWS FROM THE VARIOUS OTHER OIL WELLS.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Archer Gas Fuel Co. held this morning it was decided to form a company to pipe this city at once and furnish the gas for consumption this winter.

The plant at South Bend will be in operation within ten days.

Another meeting will be held in a few days the purpose of making more definite arrangements for this city.

NEARING THE OIL ROCK.

THE CENTENNIAL WELL, 1,600 FEET DEEP—THE PHOENIX TO BE DRILLED DEEPER.

The Centennial well will soon be down to oil rock and its fate will be known. The well is 1,600 feet and if no bad luck is encountered it will require only a few days' work to complete the well. The casing was put down in a compact clay. There is some little water in the well but its source cannot be definitely determined. It is thought that the casing is not altogether tight at the bottom. In order to exclude the flow rice and other materials will be put in around the casing. Should this fail to accomplish the desired result the casing will be removed.

The general opinion was that the Phoenix well was not drilled deep enough into lime rock. The reason that drilling was stopped was because there was some danger of breaking through to sulphur water. The flow continues good but it is desired to increase it. The tubing will be removed and the tools run very cautiously. No doubt the well can be improved.

The derrick and apparatus for drilling has been sent out to the Swope farm. Operations will be commenced as soon as the outfit can be gotten in readiness.

The derrick for H. Hulman's oil well has been conveyed to the site on the farm. Drilling will commence within a week or ten days.

Work is suspended at the Ellsworth gas well to-day.

The West Terre Haute well has been resumed and the casing is being put in to-day. As soon as the casing is in the drill will be started again.

RAILROAD INTELLIGENCE.

Pat O'Leary, of the Vandalia erecting shop, is off.

Vandalia engine No. 46 is in the shops for general repairs.

Engine 110 was sent out of the Van shops this morning.

The show horses and cattle were being shipped away from the city to-day.

Billy McCalla, of the Vandalia blacksmith shop, is off duty on account of illness.

Work is picking up with the car repairs. Four men laid off last week have been reinstated.

P. O. Miller will return to work in the shops Monday, having in a measure recovered from a serious illness.

Geo. Dahlan, an employee of the Van round house who has been sick for a month, will return to work Monday.

A lady of woe-begone aspect was in the Vandalia shops this morning begging for money to pay her fare to Richmond, Ind.

There is an excursion over the Big Four road to Cleveland, O., August 31 and September 1, $10.50 round trip, good to return until September 5.

Three popular young men of the Vandalia shops propose to give a dance at Gleason's hall, corner Ninth and Oak, next Friday night. The invitations are sent and the affair is private.

George Scott has taken the place of Bill Brandon as flue-cleaner in the Van round house. Brandon is looking very pale and it will probably be some time ere he will be able to resume work.

A CORNER ON PRIZES.

THE FOUNTS-HUNTER CARRIAGE FACTORY GETS EIGHT RED RIBBONS.

Messrs. Founts & Hunter, the carriage manufacturers on South Third street, made eight entries at the fair and came away with eight prizes. Their lightest road wagon and the other for being the best of the kind. They also took prizes for the best all-round phaeton, the best single top buggy, the best two-seated and the best one-seated Mikado wagon and two prizes on their out-under surry. They exhibited nothing but their own work, and the fact that the examining committee was composed of the practical men—a blacksmith, trimmer and liveryman—speaks highly for the character of the vehicles they placed on exhibition. The display was tastefully arranged and showed the elegant work to good advantage. Messrs. Founts & Hunter are deserving of congratulation for their wonderful success, which has highly delighted their many friends and admirers, who believe that they honestly earned their laurels. The vehicles which won the prizes are to be seen at their factory on South Third street by any one interested.

NO WATCHMAN AT NIGHT.

In a building the size of a court house it might be to the county interest to place a night watchman. The first floor on which the county offices are located is high above the street and it would be an easy matter for thieves to secrete themselves in the building before closing hours and afterwards bring down the safes in which small amounts of county money is stored. Lighted, not left burning save in the office, on entering the building at night, a tomb. After a loss is sustained, the casualty resulting from neglecting the county officials will awaken to a necessity and appoint a watchman to guard the building.

A TUB FOR THE POOR FARMERS.

The county commissioners will at their next session order a water tank for fire and domestic purposes placed at the poor house. The water supply will be forced up by a wind mill and the tank placed at a considerable elevation above the ground, so that the water can thus be supplied. The tank and work will cost about $1,500.
