

[ELECTION ON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1903.]

For County Auditor,
JAMES B. RYAN.
For County Commissioner,
LEVI AYRES.
For Real Estate Appraiser,
POSTER WHITFORD.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

One hundred and ten prisoners are now confined in the Marion county jail.

Persons are mulcted before the Mayor for carrying concealed weapons.

Vote the Democratic ticket on Tuesday next.

More troops arrived in this city yesterday and departed.

Ammunition in great quantities is shipped daily from the arsenal here.

Blank leaves—A good form of blank leaves for houses, etc., has been printed and can be obtained at this office.

A young lady, on being asked what calling she wished her sweetheart to follow, blushing replied a husbandman's.

Many Major Generals, Brigadier Generals, Colonels and the like have passed through the city during the last few days.

Splendid dinners are set daily at the Palmer House, Minnick & Canan proprietors, and the distinguished Supp, Johnson and Jones at the clerk's desk.

An exchange says a young lady was discharged from a large vineyard here lately, because she was so sweet that the vinegar was kept from fermenting.

Democratic Tickets—We are prepared to print Democratic tickets on tobacco paper for $2 per 1,000. All orders accompanied with the cash will be promptly attended to.

Mr. C. A. Howard has all the late dolles from neighboring cities to tobacco signs for the benefit of the public, at his counter in the Palmer House counting room.

Masonic Notice—There will be a special meeting of Centre Lodge No. 33, this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock—for work.

Two soldiers were arrested last night for stealing a horse and buggy. It appeared that the boys were only on a lark and inclined to take a freeride, without any dishonest intentions. They were released.

In the Marion Circuit Court, a suit is now in progress between the owners of lands along White river and the municipality of Indianapolis, for taking bowlders out of the bed of the river in order to pave the streets.

Brick House for Sale—Situated on East street, north of the diagonal, contains four rooms and a hall, bath, and porch. $250.00. For sale by 161 East Street.

Eight dollars and twenty cents is the price of a drink in Indianapolis. The Mayor Caven arrested over a dozen unfortunates yesterday. Beware citizens and visitors. We propose to drink and look out.

State Fair Premium—The Treasurer and Secretary request all parties entitled to premiums at the late State Fair to call at the office, in the State-house, immediately and draw their claims, it being desirable to close up the business at once.

Situation Wanted—A young man possessed of some business qualifications; writes a good hand, and has had some experience at bookkeeping, would like a situation as clerk, copyist or book keeper. Reference given.

Morris Minster—This great and unrivaled troupe give their first exhibition at Masonic Hall, tomorrow night. A brilliant corps of brass-instrument performers accompany them. For beautiful minstrelsy, fun and comedy, and for splendid music, hand or string, the great artists who will give this exhibition stand without peers.

Fire—A lumber kiln belonging to Messrs. J. L. & M. K. Fatou, No. 109, Indiana avenue, was destroyed by fire, yesterday. The fire originated from the kiln. The loss of the Messrs. Fatou is between $700 and $800. No insurance. The engine was promptly on the ground, and undoubtedly saved much other property belonging to the enterprising firm.

Evening Class—Gentlemen and ladies who are otherwise employed during the day, can have the assistance of the Commercial College, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, at Bryant's Commercial College over the American Express office. For particulars, call at the College, or send for circular. Remember that this institution took the first premium for fine penmanship at the State Fair.

A great Democratic meeting will be held at Morrison, Shelby county, to say, Votars, Cox, Penland and Hendricks are favored. A feature of the procession will be a decorated car, drawn by thirty-four horses, in which will be thirty-five young ladies, thirty-four of them robed in virgin white, but the thirty fifth, representing the Goddess of Liberty, draped in solemn mourning, weeping and wringing her hands.

The New Sentinel Building—Our friend, Lansing, of the Clay County Democrat, visiting Indianapolis recently and seeing our new building, thus speaks:

"The proprietors of the Sentinel, and the owners of that building, having been at great expense to erect it, the present would be a very propitious time for Democrats to subscribe for the Sentinel. We may say also that it is well worthy of support, and the cheapest paper in the State."

The Commercial Hotel—This is among the first public houses of Indianapolis. Travelers will find it located on the corner of Illinois and Georgia streets. Its tables are always beautifully spread, and its rooms neat, well aired and clean. Those who wait upon guests are attentive, and the clerks are gentlemanly and courteous. With all this, the charges at the Commercial are moderate.

Miss J. Doyle—Beautiful Miss J. Doyle, we would call the attention of our lady readers to the advertisement of Miss J. Doyle, in another column. Her assortment of bonnets, ribbons, French fabrics, bridal veils, and all other goods is beautiful. Miss Doyle has engaged an artistic blancher and presser, and work in this line done at her establishment is unsurpassed. We would again especially say to our lady friends, call upon Miss Doyle.

Wanted—A good, stout and industrious boy to attend to sweeping out the office rooms, carrying wood and making himself generally useful. Apply at this office.

Everybody is interested in knowing where they can buy their boots and shoes the cheapest. M. Hunter & Co. at No. 19 E. Washington street, have the best assortment of first class goods in the city, and are retreating at wholesale prices. You can save from 10 to 25 per cent. by making your purchases of them.

Engine and Boiler for Sale—A five horse power upright engine, with boiler, heater, connecting pipes, etc., in company, running order, now used in running the Sentinel Press, and all other kind of a bargain, to make room for a larger engine. It will be delivered when we remove into our new office, early in October. Apply at this office.

THE TRIAL OF CHAS. W. HALL, OF INDIANAPOLIS, BY CHAS. MARTIAL—Third Day's Proceeding.

The court convened at the appointed hour, Monday morning, at Cincinnati, Brigadier General Adman presiding, and all the members present.

The proceedings of the previous day were read, corrected and approved.

The Judge Advocate here presented a number of letters which had been written by the accused at Indianapolis to Olney Gould, Louisville, Ky. After reading the letters, Major Burnett stated that the Government rested the case.

THE DEFENSE.

The first witness called for the defense was Edward A. Smith, who testified substantially as follows:

I live in Cincinnati. Have lived here ten or twelve years, and have been in the stock business most of the time, was interested in Government contracts; had one at Louisville. I have had some contracts by myself, and in some I have had partners.

[Witness] has here shown by the Judge Advocate a number of contracts, which he recognized as his.]

I do not know that Hall ever signed contracts; he did not with my knowledge. He bought contracts, but I do not know that he ever became a partner. He never had an original contract; do not know that he ever had a written assignment of a contract. Most of the horses for the Louisville contract were bought at Indianapolis.

During the filling of that contract I was part of the time at that point, but most of my time was spent at Louisville. Messrs. Taylor, Woods and Boston were the inspectors at Louisville. Do not know that any attempt was made to put back stock on the Government. What I saw them take was all good stock, as good as the Government takes anywhere, no better nor worse. Do not know of any attempt to influence the filling of that contract. I do not know that I would have heard of it. Do not know that Hall ever made an attempt to do so.

In regard to the $4,445 which is found in the charge and specifications, I will say that it was for my own personal services. I told Hall that I thought I was entitled to one dollar per head on all of the stock. He at first objected, but at last consented. Another item of the $4,445 was for interest on the money that I had advanced. I told Mr. Hall that that was for my services. As to my knowledge of the money was paid to inspectors as bribes. We had about $60,000 stock invested in the different contracts. Our profits were about $21,000, rather more than the amount of money invested. I paid $1,300 to Leonard and $2,500 to Henderson as their share. These accounts are only charged in one place. After the closing of the contract there were about 150 horses left over which had not been taken by the Government. Some of them were shipped to Cincinnati and some to Lexington, Kentucky. They were afterward sent to where they had been bought. There was stock brought to Louisville that I refused to send to the Government. That place because I knew it to be unsound. Do not know that I ever put in a horse that was wild broke. I have offered horses that had only one eye. Inspectors have always taken them that both Cincinnati and Louisville.

I have a slight acquaintance with Olney Gould. He never told me that he had been instructed by Colonel Hall to offer bribes to the inspectors.

For myself I know of no bribe or bribe-giver, character for truth and veracity. Have heard people say that they would not trust him on oath. Gould never acted for me. Gould had a bad feeling toward Hall, but for what reason I do not know.

The balance of Smith's testimony had no particular bearing upon the case.

J. E. Irwin, sworn—I live in Indianapolis and am a horse dealer. I saw some of the horses in by Mr. Hall on his Louisville contract. These were all of good quality, and were inspected by Mr. Platt. Never had any dealings with Gould, and never heard his character spoken of. Hall, however, never acted for me. Gould had a bad feeling toward Hall, but for what reason I do not know.

At this stage of the proceedings the court adjourned until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Reply to a Would-be-Critic.

Mr. Editor—I would not have been surprised if the Drama, to answer your always frank and candid paper, a theatrical criticism by one Mr. "Occasional," recently printed in an evening sheet. This genius says—speaking of the performance at the State Fair, "Occasional," writes last week, that "the beautiful play of Evadne was produced in a style so artistic that it deserves more than a brief mention. And we are of the opinion with Mr. "Occasional," that we think he shows too much partiality in his remarks, as one or more deserved better praise than he deigned to give. Mr. Riley was very good, but he did not remind us of Macready at all. And as for Mr. Hill's acting, we do not think it suffered in comparison with Mr. Riley's. In our opinion, Mr. Hill is the best actor on the boards; and, as for his voice—being guttural, his tone unvaried, monotonous, and his declamation not good," we, ladies who witnessed "Evadne," think Mr. "Occasional" made a decided mistake. In our opinion, we are good judges, and have a right to say what we think. Mr. Hill is our favorite. His performance, unexcelled. He is, besides, a gentleman.

Respectfully,
LADIES.

THE THEATRE—Miss Sallie St. Clair—A great and fashionable audience filled the theatre last night to see Lauretta, Burgis, and realized in Miss St. Clair's enactment of the part of the terrible poisoner, one of the greatest dramatic talents presented here for years. We had no idea of the vast powers of vocal powers of "our Sallie" until we saw her last night in the part of Lauretta. Her rendition justly takes rank with the finest and most powerful examples of modern acting. She was most effectively supported by Mr. Riley, who, as the ill-starred General, won great applause. Mr. Hill and the other members of the company also acquitted themselves handsomely, and the fine mounting of the piece, and rich dressing of the characters, elicited much complimentary notice.

To night Miss Sallie appears in the new and thrilling play of The Actress of Padua—personating Tibbie the actress, in which she has achieved a great reputation. So will be supported by Mr. Riley and the entire company. The new and rollicking farce of Carte de Visite closes the evening's entertainment. Go early and secure good seats.

MERCHANT TAILORING—G. H. Heitkamp & Co., No. 17 North Illinois street, nearly opposite the Bates House, is one of the most fashionable merchant tailoring establishments in this city. Their stock of dress goods comprises the best varieties and latest styles, all fresh and new, from which any gentleman can select a suit to his taste, and have it made in the neatest and most serviceable style. Those who desire that want a new suit, or any part of a suit, we say call on G. H. Heitkamp & Co. and they will be well suited. Youth's and boys' clothing made to order in the latest style.

Game of All Kinds and Fish in the season, oysters in all styles, and both the substantial and delicacies furnished in the markets, are served at any hour of the day and night, at Heitkamp & Co.'s fashionable restaurant, No. 17 North Illinois street. Heitkamp is an accomplished caterer, and Miss Bradley is a splendid cuisinier.

House and lot for sale, on the southeast corner of North and Liberty streets. House has seven rooms and two good cellars; the lot is well set in shrubbery, with two fine grape arbors, and some bearing fruit trees. This house will be sold cheap and on good terms.

REMOVAL AND HEADQUARTERS FOR THE COLLECTION OF MILITARY CLAIMS—Messrs. Carter, attorneys at law and authorized agents for the collection of pensions, bounties and all kind of war claims, have removed their office to Old Fellow's Hall, No. 3, upstairs. Those entitled to military claims are requested to apply for information in person or by letter.

Night Report

From New York.

New York, October 6.—The Post says by the arrival of the steamer Fulton, at this port from Charleston, we have a report, apparently on good authority, that the remains of Gen. Gilmore had been removed from Morris Island to Folly Island. The continual sinking of the beach of Morris Island has rendered the removal of the Federal Headquarters, the body of the troops and the material, a measure of convenience, while there are sanitary reasons which would ultimately be controlling.

There are said to be other causes for the change, among them is that the troops will not be less available in the future operations against Charleston if they are entirely out of range of any batteries the rebels have or can erect on James Island.

The recent firing from Gen. Gilmore's batteries, of which we have received news from rebel sources, were directed almost exclusively against the efforts that were making, and which the rebels do not disclose, to erect new batteries in the ruins of Fort Sumter.

It appears that our reconnoitering boats which passed near the walls during the night, discovered that the garrison was conducting extensive operations, and the indications were that the rebels, who were gathering in large numbers, would be occupied in erecting batteries inside the ruins, with the intention of using them when the removal of the broken walls and debris which protected the workmen and concealed their operations from view.

The rapid and heavy firing of our guns, it is expected, will not only stop this work, but render the rebel occupation of Sumter precarious if not impossible.

Gen. Gilmore's operations on Morris Island are actively going on. The battery on Cummings' Point now shields our troops perfectly, while the condition of Wagner is such as to protect the troops from all hazard, still there are a few casualties, all of which occur in consequence of unnecessary exposure.

The batteries which are designed to throw Greek fire are now nearly completed, and the result of experiments has shown that the fire may be safely and effectively used. Charleston is within fair range of the guns already placed, and are in such number as to insure the destruction of the city when they are turned upon it. This event will not take place until other plans are completed and the navy is ready to co-operate.

Complaint against Admiral Dahlgren is universal. Our naval officers and sailors believe that Admiral Farragut will soon take command of the fleet in Charleston harbor, and they express the most confident belief that the result of the operations then undertaken will be successful.

The Commercial Washington correspondent says:

The President has prohibited the further enlistment of Maryland slaves in the army; also that the Government will not allow any correspondents to telegraph any news relative to Rosecrans' army to the North although extracted from the published columns of the Washington newspapers.

From Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, October 6.—A Nashville dispatch to a local dealer. I saw some of the horses in by Mr. Hall on his Louisville contract. These were all of good quality, and were inspected by Mr. Platt.
