THE RIOT.

though the methods of its execution had caused only death and suffering among honest men, and there was no compensation for the misfortune. The night will be memorable forever in our history. As we write the flames of the court house glare over the whole Cincinnati valley and present a portentous spectacle from the surrounding hills.

He Came Through Cincinnati.

Mr. Ben Blanchard arrived home at 2 o'clock this morning from West Virginia. He came through Cincinnati at 7 o'clock last evening, passing through the city in a 'bus. He states that the portion of the city he passed through presented about the same appearance as on any pleasant Sunday evening. Men were standing around in crowds at the depot, but men, women and children were on the streets out for a walk, and everything looked peaceable enough. At the same time in another portion of the city the mob were fighting the militia, and the dead and wounded were being carried from the scene of conflict. The riot created considerable excitement in Kentucky. People [if the riot causes the Kentuckians to read the papers, there may be some hope for hide-bound Democratic Kentucky after all], and all were anxious for the latest news, though Indiana people were gathered at the stations, eager to hear the latest. Dispatches from the "seat of war" were received on the train at frequent intervals. Mr. Blanchard left Charleston, W. Va., yesterday morning. Saturday evening he was in the mountains, mounted on a lame mule, endeavoring to reach a railway station.

THE FIRE CHIEF.

Kennedy's Resignation Accepted—The New Chief to be Selected Tuesday Night.

The fire committee met yesterday afternoon. The resignation of Chief Kennedy was considered and accepted. The committee has not decided who will be appointed to the vacancy. Two men are under consideration, one of whom will be appointed. The matter will be decided at a caucus of the Democratic members Tuesday evening.

The committee, it is said, desired Mr. Kennedy to withdraw his resignation, which he would not do unless Welch, the fireman whom he discharged, was taken off the force. This the committee refused to do.

"There is only one way for the chief to do with men he desires to have off the force," said a member of the committee, "and that is for him to relieve him from duty, and present written charges against him to the committee. This Mr. Kennedy did not do."

"How did Welch get into the department?" asked the reporter.

"That is more than I am able to tell. I never knew when he went on or where place he took. Mr. Kennedy never informed the committee."

FAILED.

A Man Frustrated in His Designs on a Little Girl.

Yesterday a little girl named Wagoner, aged about twelve years, was playing in the alley back of J. H. Nelson's dye house, on Main street, when she was approached by a well-dressed man. Mr. Nelson, who lives over his store room, was watching them, and when the man started off with her toward a large pile of boxes, he thought all was not right, and ran down into the alley. When the man saw Mr. Nelson he ran up the alley toward the Terre Haute house. When he reached Seventh street he stopped, leaned against a telegraph pole, and looked back. The girl told Mr. Nelson that the man offered her a penny to go back among the boxes with him. She was sent to her home on north Sixth street. Mr. Nelson's prompt action probably prevented another of the numerous outrages on little girls. Mr. Nelson did not recognize the fellow.

They Traded Horses.

Anthony Lane is a Gipsy, and his tribe is encamped over the river, but Anthony is in jail. Yesterday he met Henry Linty, and "poked" up a trade. They attracted little attention until Lane went on a dead run over the river bridge with a horse, and Linty followed yelling in pursuit. Lane was captured and brought back and placed in jail. Linty says that they struck a bargain, and that he was to receive "booty." While he went into his mansion to get change to give Lane for a bill, Lane put a set of harness on his horse and rode off, leaving a horse of less value for him to take. Lane says it is a mistake that the trade was square, and Lane is mad because he got the worst of the bargain.

Found on the Sidewalk.

Mrs. Long, residing in the east end, was found early Sunday morning lying on the sidewalk at the corner of Third and Wilson streets, so drunk she couldn't wag her tongue. She was given a bunk in jail.

James Wade, a citizen of Greensburg, Ill., was sleeping on the sidewalk at the corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets yesterday. He was jailed.

Dennis Gallagher was found on the sidewalk in front of an Ohio street fish market yesterday. The smell of fish evidently made Dennis think of water, causing him to faint. Restoratives will be administered this morning.

Manslaughter and Criminal Carelessness.

The grand jury of Edgar county has indicted Engineer Ham Kirchgraber, of Mattoon, and Conductor Al Laughlin, of Terre Haute, one for manslaughter and the other for criminal carelessness. Kirchgraber and Laughlin were the engineer and conductor of the freight train that collided with a passenger train on the I. & St. L. near Paris several weeks ago, when a fireman was killed.

Lost.

$5.00 Reward. On Sunday evening, on Seventh street, a white liver colored spotted setter pup, about six months old. Five dollars reward will be paid for its return to the National House saloon.

LOST—Small black leather hand satchel. Containing pair of gold-rimmed spectacles, and small sum of money, and a few other articles. Finder will receive suitable reward on leaving at this office.

FOUND.

FOUND—Pocket-book. Call at No. 100 S. 34th Street Monday, Sunday, or No. 32 south Fourth street Monday, and prove property. T. J. GRIFFITH.

MINERS' TROUBLES.

Trouble feared at the Coal Bluff Mining Co.'s Mine at Fontana.

Special Dispatch to the Express.

Fontana, Ind., March 30.—Trouble is feared here between the striking miners and the men working in the mines of the Coal Bluff Mining Company. A large number of miners were here to-day, and many will remain over night, saying they intend to prevent the men in the Coal Bluff mines going to work. It is thought the company will make arrangements to protect the men.

Church Chimes.

The guild at St. Stephen's will be reorganized Thursday evening.

The service at the German Methodist church last evening was song service.

"The Prophet Abraham" will be the topic for the Young Men's Bible class next Friday evening.

"Importance of Christian Charity" was the Rev. Samuel Beck's subject at Ashbury yesterday morning.

"The Conversion of Young Men" was the Rev. Alfred Kummer's subject at Centenary last evening.

The Rev. Wheeler preached an excellent sermon last evening on the subject, "The Three-fold Indictment."

Quarterly meeting will begin at Centenary Saturday. The Rev. Dr. Golin, of De Pauw University, will officiate next Sunday.

Bishop Knickerbocker will be at St. Stephen's at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. on the first Sunday after Easter. He will officiate at Brazil at 3 p. m. of the same day.

The Congregational Sunday school has undertaken a new line of work which is a pretty idea. It is proposed to enlist the children's interest in some benevolent work through the culture of flowers. They are to be supplied with seeds and at the close of the summer season a floral fair will exhibit the results of their horticultural labors and no doubt realize a handsome sum of money for the cause to be aided.

The Shepler-Brown Damage Suit.

The case of Sanford P. Shepler vs. Harry Brown, on trial in the circuit court at Brazil, has resulted in the disagreement of the jury. The case grew out of an alleged larceny of hogs several years ago. Shepler was arrested on the charge, but acquiesced in the charge, and Brown was released, and this in the suit which has been on trial at Brazil.

Fell Into the River.

Tommy Good, aged fourteen, and another boy about the same age, were in a skiff, yesterday, on the river above the I. & St. L. Tommy had a gun, and when a wild duck flew over he fired. When he attempted to sit down he missed his gun, and fell into the river. His companion saved him, but the gun was lost.

Thrown Out.

A woman and child were thrown out of a buggy on north Seventh street last evening. The horse took fright, reared, plunged to one side, and cut the buggy. The little girl was cut about the face, but the woman escaped without injury.

Ex-Union Prisoners.

The ex-Union Prisoners of War Association will hold a meeting at the old Masonic hall on Third street to-night. Comrade Redick will continue his reminiscences, giving an account of life in Andersonville.

Street Work.

The street commissioners had 105 men at work on the streets part of last week. The pay roll amounted to $407.63. Main, south Fifth and south Third streets were the principal streets cleaned.

Yesterday's Fire Alarm.

The alarm of fire yesterday afternoon was caused by flames being discovered in the roof of Mr. Moore's boarding house on Fourth street, between Eagle and Chestnut streets. Damage slight.

Cost of Water.

The cost of water to the city is quite an item. There are 33 hydrants, for which the city pays the Water Works Company $1,130 monthly.

The Harper Law Defeated Temporarily.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 30.—The Supreme court of Illinois has decided that the 103 saloon licenses granted by this city just prior to the time the Harper state law went into effect, are valid. By this ordinance the city has defeated the operation of the Harper law, under which the minimum licenses are $350 for eleven months. It was expected that the effect of the Harper bill would be to turn in the treasury somewhat more than a million dollars.

Mapleson Coming East.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 30.—Mapleson Opera company leave at 11 o'clock to-night on a special train for Salt Lake and the east. M. H. De Young and Mrs. De Young, who are en route for Europe, accompany them as guests of Patti, traveling in her special car. A careful estimate was made to-night of the receipts of seventeen performances of the Mapleson opera in this city puts it at $255,000, and Mapleson's net profits, $85,000.

Wagner Festival.

New York, N. Y., March 30.—Word is received to-day that the steamer Alaska of the Union line sailed from Liverpool for New York, having on board the Wagner festival artists.

A letter from the artists Theo. Thomas will begin the rehearsals. The Wagner festival will begin in Boston April 14th, and continue until the 17th.
