CITY NEWS.

The weather yesterday was delightful, and the mud is fast drying up, and the indications of Spring are growing more conspicuous.

We are indebted to Mr. E. O. Bannan, acting clerk of the Tarascon, for late Louisville and New Albany papers.

We are under obligations to Maj. Kinney, the talented senator, from Henderson, for delicious bananas, the first we have seen since "this cruel war was waged."

A LIBERAL DONATION.—Some of the Copperheads who were unusually sanguine that their party would sweep everything in the city election, staked their money largely and lost. One of them sunk near $400 in this interesting manner. Tom Royton, who knows a thing or two in the betting line, pocketed about $500 as the net result of the day's transactions.

Tom took $100 and handed it to Mayor Baker as a donation to the Sanitary Fund. This is putting Copperheads money to good use.

THANKS.—The Scholars and Teachers of the A. M. E. Sabbath School on Last street, respectfully present their sincere thanks to the friends who contributed over forty dollars to procure them a Library.

The receipt of this highly prized treasure on last Sabbath—and well-timed remarks by some of our city Sabbath School workers, with singing and recital of scripture by the children—was quite an occasion, and will long be remembered by the scholars and visitors.

COURT.—We strolled into the court room yesterday afternoon and found the mild springing slowly but surely, with Judge Barrett on the bench, the handsome young Deputy Clerk at his desk, the ever vigilant and accommodating Sheriff and Deputy on duty, and the usual number of suspicious lawyers arranged within the bar, while a jury was patiently listening to the investigation of a case wherein the State of Indiana was plaintiff and one John Riley, supposed to be a lineal descendant of the celebrated "Rinolphid Wiley Riley," so justly celebrated in story and in song, was the defendant.

The defendant, as aforesaid, as the burden of proof tended to show, had fallen in company with a soldier of the Veterans Reserve corps, who was lame, named Stephen Warren, and found that Stephen had saved some of Uncle Sam's greenbacks, and concluded that "it would pay" to cultivate this "Veteran."

Accordingly he "froze to him" at once, and in company they indulged in "several" potatoes of a liquid stronger than water, and about five o'clock in the morning, feeling an interest in Stephen's material welfare, John inquired of him of what funds he was the happy possessor.

Stephen with a confidence often begotten by drinking with a supposed friend, exposed to the longing gaze of Riley a number of greenbacks. Riley's eyes, sparkling with delight, he desired to handle the funds, and asked Warren to hand him a bill, which was done. He received the request until he exhausted the supply, which amounted to $23 all told. Suddenly his legs became frightened and ran away with him and the money of his friend Stephen. Subsequently he was apprehended and indicted for larceny.

The case was a plain one, there being but one witness, the unfortunate and too confiding Stephen. Prosecutor Simon conducted the case on the part of the State with great legal and classical ability, and Mr. P. Maier, with a zeal worthy of a better cause, defended this dilapidated scion of the historical house of Riley. After a brief but pertinent charge by the Judge the jury retired to determine the future of the jury.

A Mrs. Smith obtained a divorce from her husband on the ground that he had gone into the rebel army.

We were pleased to see a grand improvement in the court room. The floor has been raised to a level with the new railing has been put up, and a new carpet put down inside the bar, and the room now looks really respectable. Further improvements are contemplated.

There are several important cases pending before the Court, and the term will probably be a long one.

A LARGE REWARD FOR COPPERHEADS.—The 54th Illinois Regiment has issued handbills offering a reward of one thousand dollars for the apprehension of John H. O'Hair, Sheriff of Coles county, J. Elsbury Haas, John Frazier, James W. Frazier, Henderson O'Hair, James O'Hair, Jesse O'Hair, B. F. Toland and B. F. Dukes, all of whom were engaged in the brutal murder of Major V. C. and four soldiers of the 54th Regiment, and the wounding of several others, in Charleston, on Monday, of last week.

The citizens will also pay three hundred dollars for the apprehension of John H. O'Hair, and one hundred dollars for each of the others above named, and for Alexander Rogers. This reward will be given, whether dead or alive.

SIXTIETH INDIANA.

We had the pleasure of a call late last night from our veteran friend Lieut. Jake Hoff, of the 60th Indiana, who arrived home last night, looking fine as silk and full of patriotism.

Lieut. Hoff went out as a private and has by his gallantry won his way up until he now sports a handsome gold bar on his shoulder.

The 60th had a glorious reception at Indianapolis on Monday. One hundred and seventy-one men and fifteen commissioned officers of this regiment returned home as veterans, and some thirty of the regiment were left in the parole camp at New Orleans.

About one week ago, says the Louisville Journal of yesterday, the steamer U. S. Grant left the Louisville wharf freighted with a cargo for Memphis and the Mississippi river. She passed through the canal, and Capt. Lockhart, keeper of the locks, in collecting the toll, received from the clerk of the boat a one hundred dollar Treasury note. The next day the bill was found to be a base counterfeit. The Captain reported the fact to Col. Vaughan, who immediately telegraphed to the Provost Marshal of Cairo to stop the boat on passing that point, and if the clerk could not satisfactorily explain how he came in possession of the bill, to place him under arrest and return him, under guard, to this city. Col. Vaughan received a reply to his despatch yesterday afternoon. The clerk denied having any knowledge of the baseness of the bill when he passed it on Capt. Lockhart.

He says that a few hours before the boat left Louisville, two men came aboard and engaged passage for Cairo, handing him the one hundred dollar bill, from which he deducted the price of passage, and returned to them the proper change. The men then went ashore, saying that they would send their baggage aboard in a few minutes. The boat left at the advertised hour, but nothing more was seen of the two individuals, who, without doubt, were nicely engaged in putting the counterfeits into extensive circulation. The clerk of the Grant, when informed of the note being counterfeit, promptly landed over the amount in genuine bills to be refunded Capt. Lockhart. The authorities exonerate him from all blame.

HIGH PRICED TOBACCO.—Messrs. Spratt & Co., of Louisville, sold on Monday a head of new tobacco at $77 per 100 pounds. It was grown by Mr. Robert Boyd, of Massac county, Illinois, and purchased by George Nash, of that city. This is the first head of really fine tobacco that has ever been sent from Illinois to this market.

ATTENTIONS.—To the young ladies and gentlemen of the city unusual attractions will be offered to attend the Church Fair at Masonic Hall to-night. We have been behind the scenes through the kindness of a couple of three young ladies, and speak advisedly. We hope all the young gentlemen will fill their vests with postage currency and greenbacks.

LECTURE.—Charles E. Marsh, Esq., will lecture on Commercial Law to the students of Behm's Commercial College, this (Thursday) evening, at 8 o'clock. Subject—Partnership.

Two Good Young Horses at Auction.—J. H. Nelson, at auction, Saturday morning, April 9th, at 10 o'clock, opposite the Washington Hotel, Main street, two good young horses and one express or pedlar wagon.

HIRAN NELSON, Auctioneer.

Twenty thousand dollars in Gold, Silver and Demand Notes wanted at Lyons, for which the highest market price will be paid.

TO THE LADIES.—Barnett's standard Flavoring Extracts are remarkable for their perfect purity and great strength. Their excellence has secured the reputation of being the best in the world.

H. A. Cook has a full stock.
