

YOU CAN MAKE MORE MONEY
BY WRITING A WANT AD

Than Kipling

WOULD BE PAID FOR A POEM.

You may not be at all "literary," but still be able to make money as a writer. If you have a business of your own you can make it prosperous by writing convincing advertising of it. If you are not in business, you can still earn money by writing and publishing your classified ads in this paper. This chance is open to anyone, anytime—and it often happens that a want ad brings more to the writer than Kipling would be paid for a poem.

The Haynes shooting scrape in Millroy Wednesday has caused not a little excitement and will serve as fair warning to a number of other law violators. Several of Haynes' immediate associates have advanced the statement that the officers had better not interfere with this desperado, but this reminds us that a man never gets so desperate but what he can be captured.

One of Game Warden's Shots

Struck Haynes in the Ear.
It was reported to the Republican Saturday afternoon that James Haynes, the Millroy township man whom game wardens undertook to arrest, had received a bullet through one of his ears. The party who had told the man with whom the reporter talked, stated that he had seen Haynes following the shooting and that Haynes stated that he had not fired his shotgun until the game warden's bullet went through his ear. Nothing has been learned in town whether Haynes has returned to his home or not. Chief Deputy Fish and Game Warden Fleming is quoted as saying while here last week that he will send a man after Haynes the next time that won't make any mistake, but will get him if he goes after him.

Wrens Forced to Flunk on

Ball Game With Brook Sunday.

No one hates it worse than Manager Harmon that the Wrens were unable to fulfill their date with Brook Sunday, and it is certain that the Brook management has a big kick coming and will make it. This was the first time that Rensselaer was to go away from home this year and it is greatly to their shame that they should have forfeited the game. There were some mitigating circumstances, however. Catcher McLain, who is visiting in Ohio, had assured Manager Harmon that he would be here and he did not come. That put a bad hole in the team and one that could hardly be filled at a late hour. Wilcox, however, would have caught the game, but Agent Beam went to Chicago and Wilcox had to remain in charge at the depot. Morgan decided to go to Chicago and Manager Harmon could not dissuade him. Kevin came down from Chicago to play and Hassar and Renner were to appear in Brook and Hassar was there and Renner would have been had not the management reached a m in Sheldon before he got started. Swartzell and Jensen were ready to go and much regretted the fluke which was caused and which was certain to greatly inconvenience Brook.

Manager Harmon would have patched up some sort of a team had it been possible, but there were no young fellows even to be found and the complete flunking was the outcome. The Wrens have been having an uphill job this year. There is only a small part of a team here and the expense of putting a team together is heavy. But the local players should determine to abide by the manager and stick with him or give up playing altogether.

It is understood that Brook had sent away for a pitcher and it would be no more than right if the Rensselaer management would offer to settle with Brook for that expense.

OVERTAXED

Hundreds of Rensselaer Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, sideache, headache. Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Rensselaer citizen tells here the way to keep the kidneys well. Mrs. Mary Withim, E. Elm Street, Rensselaer, Ind., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid remedy for disordered kidneys. For years I was bothered by severe attacks of backache. I was nervous, had dizzy spells and felt tired all the time. The least exertion made me miserable and I became so run down that I took but little interest in my work. I could not rest with any comfort and it seemed as if nothing would help me. I finally decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. I never before took a remedy that acted so quickly and effectively. All the symptoms of my trouble were relieved and I felt like a different woman. I am very grateful for the benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills."

WHAT TO WRITE IS THE PUZZLE

Democrats Open Publicity Bureau to Keep Party Secrets.

DON'T DARE DISCUSS ISSUES

Writers For Democratic Press at Loss

For Texts—Liquor Issue Live Wire, and Tariff Presents Knotty Points—Advisory Board Wrestles With Problem Without Success—Taggart Controls Bureau but Can't Furnish Safe Bope.

(Indianapolis Correspondence.)

The Democratic state central committee has chosen its publicity bureau superintendent in the person of Guernsey Van Riper, recently city editor of the Indianapolis Star. It is understood Mr. Van Riper is to be paid $60 per week during the campaign. He is to be "advised" in matters of policy by State Chairman Stokes Jackson, Sam Ralston, of Lebanon, George Beebe of Anderson, and Ed. G. Hoffman, of Fort Wayne. Mr. Hoffman will represent Steve Fleming and the Tom Marshall interests. He will be tremendously in the minority. All the other men who are to "advise" the publicity bureau, are strong Taggart followers.

The funds for conducting the publicity bureau are to be provided by Tom Taggart, Joe Fanning, Gus Belmont and the others, from sources such as fed the Democratic party cause in the days of A. B. Parker. This is the cheering word sent forth by the Taggart workers, and it is probably true, in some degree.

It will take some time for Superintendent Van Riper and his helpers to square away and get down to work. The advisory committee has the publicity bureau on its hands and ready for work. But the advisory committee of Democrats does not know what to say to Indiana voters on the vital issues.

It is significant of the sure grip Tom Taggart keeps on the Democratic editors that the editors, though met at French Lick to organize their press bureau, left the matter over to be done at a Denison hotel secret caucus, under guidance of Taggart, himself, and according to his own plans.

It is known that the conference discussed ways and means of presenting the issues of the day to the people, and it is known further that the advisers to the publicity bureau adjourned without reaching any sort of conclusion as to methods or arguments. Especially was the meeting topsy-turvy on the liquor question. Sam Ralston, of Lebanon, being called on the carpet for permitting Boone county Democrats to pass resolutions repudiating the Democratic state platform, was forced to acknowledge that he was utterly powerless to block local sentiment as to existing temperance law. Stokes Jackson was free to admit that he had been unable to rally Hancock county Democrats for the state platform.

How to stand on the Taggartized state platform, and from that position appeal with any hope of success to the rank and file of Democrats, is the big puzzle confronting the Democratic publicity bureau.

It has been found that it will be disastrous to attack existing liquor laws. The tariff question presents serious difficulties to Democrats this year. They talk of the high cost of living, but they do not dare to go to the Indiana farmer with arguments against good prices for products of the farm.

The state platform straddled the issue of protection, and campaign demands for a "tariff for revenue only" will be quickly met by the words of the Democratic platform, which call for a "tariff for public purposes," which is an entirely different thing.

The bureau cannot whoop things up for Tom Marshall, for that might injure Harmon and enlarge the Marshall presidential boomlet. So there you are. Pending a decision as to campaign policy, it may be expected that the Marshall administration will be "played up" more or less for awhile.

REMEMBERS BENEFACTOR.

George W. Duncan, just named to be postmaster at Greenfield, twenty-five years ago appointed W. O. Barnard deputy prosecutor for Henry county. Mr. Duncan then was prosecutor for Hancock and Henry. He gave Mr. Barnard a start. Now Mr. Barnard, risen to be a member of congress, appoints his old time friend and helper to a postoffice. There is something pleasing and commendable in this sort of remembrance.

HOOSIER PROMOTED.

Charles F. Jones, of Brooksville, Ind., has been appointed to a place as solicitor in the department of justice at Washington, D. C. Mr. Jones has been representing the United States before the Spanish Treaty Claims commission, and there saved the government some $63,000,000. Which is a record worth considering, especially when made by a Hoosier Republican.
