Lacy Gwin Went South and Grew Up With the Country.

Lacy Gwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gwin, is another Rensselaer boy who has climbed the ladder in the south. For some years Lacy was an express agent in Wisconsin and did not seem to be advancing much, but he was gaining experience. Finally he was given the management of the American express office at Austin, Texas, and was so successful with his work that he was soon transferred to Denison, a larger city with a correspondingly larger business, and now he has been given the management of the American express office at Galveston, one of the most important offices of the south. He has made good all along the line and demonstrated that Rensselaer spirit and determination win. His many old friends here will be pleased at his success.

Sunday Service at Curtis Creek.

Owing to Rev. G. H. Clarke having another appointment for next Sunday, Rev. Parrett will again conduct the services at Curtis Creek, at 3 o'clock. These are union services and all are invited.

OVERTAXED

Hundreds of Rensselaer Readers Know What It Means.

The kidneys are overtaxed;

Have too much to do.

They tell about it in many aches and pains—

Backache, sideache, headache.

Early symptoms of kidney ills.

Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Rensselaer citizen tells here the way to keep the kidneys well.

Mrs. Mary Withim, E. Elm Street, Rensselaer, Ind., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid remedy for disordered kidneys. For years I was bothered by severe attacks of backache. I was nervous, had dizzy spells and felt tired all the time. The least exertion made me miserable and I became so run down that I took but little interest in my work. I could not rest with any comfort and it seemed as if nothing would help me. I finally decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. I never before took a remedy that acted so quickly and effectively. All the symptoms of my trouble were relieved and I felt like a different woman. I am very grateful for the benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Father Daniel's Father Died Wednesday at Tiffin, Ohio.

As previously chronicled in this paper, Father Christian Daniel, of St. Augustine's Catholic church, was called to Tiffin, Ohio, by the serious illness of his father. Death occurred. The following is from the Tiffin Daily Tribune:

Valentine Daniel, aged 76 years, a well known retired farmer, died at his home, 129 Schoenhardt street, at 1:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 20, 1910, death being due to bronchial pneumonia from which he has been ill for the past twelve days. The deceased was born in Darmstadt, Germany, on August 15, 1834, and was the son of Nicholas and Elizabeth Daniel and received his education in the school of his native land. At the age of nineteen he came to this country and settled in Erie county, where he resided until eight years ago, when he took up his residence in this city. He was at one time township trustee and also served on the district school board of Reed township. On January 29, 1861, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Miller, who together with the following children survive him: John, Aloysius, George and Mrs. Henry Koit, of Reed township; Joseph, Edward, Dr. Charles F., and Misses Mary and Rose, of this city, and Rev. Christian Daniel, pastor of St. Augustine's church, at Rensselaer, Ind. The body will be taken to the old home farm, in Reed township, Friday morning, and the funeral will be held Saturday morning at St. Mary's Assumption Catholic church. The six sons of the deceased will act as pall bearers and another son, Rev. Christian Daniel, will conduct the service. Interment will be made in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. J. C. Porter was brought home from Remington a few days ago and is now in a very critical condition of health, so poorly in fact, that it is feared death is not far removed.

Roe Yeoman and Ralph and Ruth Hammond, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hammond, arrived this afternoon from Big Rapids, Mich., for a visit of a week or ten days with relatives here.

My loan company is still making farm loans at 5 per cent. If you are going to need a loan make application now, as some other companies are already refusing to loan. John A. Dunlap, I. O. O. F. Bldg.

Miss Kathryn Arnold went to Blanchard, Mich., to visit her uncle, G. S. Lesh. Her sister, Miss Bethol Arnold, went as far as Chicago to visit her aunt, Mrs. Rebecca Albaugh. They will be gone for a week or ten days.

Today concludes a week of almost unprecedented fine weather for harvest. Following the rain of last Sunday the weather has been clear and mild until yesterday and today it has warmed up quite a little. Haying is practically done every place and oats are almost all cut. The hum of the threshing machine is in the land and a big crop is assured.

Little Jay Wood is now getting along very nicely and is apparently on the road to recovery. After being twice operated on for the removal of the pus from the pleural cavity, a drainage tube was inserted to keep the pus drained off. About two-thirds of a pint is thus removed every day. The little fellow has no fever now and yesterday was able to stand up a little while. It is probable that the drainage will be continued for about two months.

As soon as the new system of postal banks goes into operation there should be an end to the hiding of money on the person or in supposed well concealed places about premises. Trunks are not safe repositories nor are carpet edges, dark crannies or stove holes. Uncle Sam will shortly offer to receive money at designated post offices from any one over ten years of age and will pay 2 per cent interest. A class who will not trust any bank, however unreasonable such overcautious people may be, is known to exist and now the question is if they will have faith enough in the national government to confide a surplus of money to it, at interest, rather than carry it around sewed in clothing or in the traditional stocking stuffed in some old nook presumably to be unnoticed by the lynx eye of the dishonest. A large amount of currency is believed to be kept out of circulation by hoarding of this hazardous sort. The new law should bring it out. One argument for the passage of the law assumed that the money now in concealment would be poured into the active channels of business.

B. E. Wallace Discourses On The Elephant.

"It is contended by many philosophers that a map will serve out his own destiny despite his environment. No matter what his parents are or where he lives or the training of his early youth, he will find his way into the groove into which he was born to fit. This theory is fatalism to a degree, though in this connection it has no bearing upon spiritual or religious matters."

With this somewhat curious introduction to the subject, Mr. B. E. Wallace, General Manager of the Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Shows combined, recently entertained several gentlemen with some strange information regarding elephants and their training. Mr. Wallace said: "I am moved to make these remarks considering a man's avocation being a matter of his own choice by reason of the wonderful character of the trained elephants with our show. When I speak of them I refer especially to that portion of them known as the Wallace herd. They were trained to do all their wonderful work by Prof. Frank Rossmore. These elephants were collected by me one and two at a time. They were selected for a uniformity in size and evenness of disposition. An agent in Siam, the home of the Asiatic elephant, was instructed to be on the lookout for specimens of this sort, and when one was found to buy it and ship it to America at once. The work of establishing the herd was begun years ago. Rosmore at that time was the most famous elephant trainer in the world. He trained them to perform the usual stunts, at that time the masterpiece being a pyramid of some seven elephants.

"No one else at that time pretended to know how to handle elephants in the manner he did and when he was taken seriously ill I was, for the time being, in a serious distress. You must know that there must be no let up in the training of an elephant. He is an animal that is extremely sensitive to cold and must be warmly housed in the winter. Likewise he has an insatiable appetite and must be kept busy munching hay when he has nothing else to do. A hungry elephant would not let such a trifle as a stone wall interfere with him getting his dinner. There is no room in a building into which to give him exercise save in the training ring. Besides the elephant is a loafer and soon forgets his tricks unless he is kept at them all the time. You may see, therefore, that Rosmore's illness was a serious matter. He finally died and I was in a quandary. Percy Phillips, who is now their master, was then a boy and when he saw the predicament I was in he volunteered to take the big fellows in hand and I find that he has taught them to do more tricks and has a better command of them than Rossmore. He is now a man and is still their master."

SUMMER HAIR DRESSING.

Ask B. F. Fendig for Parisian Sage, If You Want the Best.

Almost everybody in Rensselaer knows that there is no preparation for the hair that can compare with Parisian Sage.

It cures dandruff, stops falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

It puts radiance and lustre into that dull, lifeless hair that many women possess, and does it in a few days.

It makes hair grow; prevents hair from turning gray and is without doubt the most refreshing and invigorating hair tonic in the world.

It is daintily perfumed and is not in the least sticky or greasy.

In summer, people of refinement use it regularly, because it keeps the scalp cool and free from odor of perspiration.

On March 25, 1910, Lulu D. Fix, of Raphine, Va., wrote: "Parisian Sage is a wonderful hair restorer; it stopped my hair from falling out and stopped my scalp from itching; also cured the dandruff. I only used one bottle, but I like it so much I am going to use more."

Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere and by B. F. Fendig for 50 cents a large bottle. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Unique Penny Photo Co. has located in Rensselaer east of the court house in a tent for a short time. Now is your chance to get a photo of each member of your family at a small cost—10 photos of yourself for 10c. They are nice size and fine finish. It will pay to investigate.

A "Classified Adv." will find it.

FARMER'S WIFE HAD HEAP TO DO

Mrs. Shepherd Was in Bad Shape When She Could Not Stand on Her Feet.

Durham, N. C.—"I am a farmer's wife," writes Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, of this city, "and have a heap to do."

"Four months ago I could not stand on my feet, to do anything much, but at this time I do the most of my work. I took Cardui and it did me more good than all the doctors."

"You don't know how I thank you for the Cardui Home Treatment. I wish that all women who suffer from womanly trouble would treat themselves as I have."

Ladies can easily treat themselves at home, with Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is easy to take, and so gentle in its action, that it cannot do anything but good.

Being composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, Cardui cannot lay up trouble in your system, as mineral drugs often do. Its ingredients having no harsh, medicinal effects, and being non-poisonous and perfectly harmless, Cardui is absolutely safe for young and old.

Ask your druggist. He will tell you to try Cardui.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

A Famous Orator Says

"The best all-around family medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter is Electric Bitters." It is the grandest tonic for weak, nervous and run-down people that is known to man. If you want new life, strength and energy, take only Electric Bitters. 50c. Guaranteed by A. F. Long.
