The automobile is a fine bird, but it sucks blood. It has a song that lures men to destruction and women to vain pride that corrodes their happiness. Look not upon the buzz-cart when it is red and giveth stinkum to the evening breeze; for it chaweth seeds and ducats like a hay baler; also mazuma and sesterces, and rocks, and dough it lappeth up like a house afire. When the devil-wagon champeth and snorteth, flee to the mountains of the Hepsidam and crawl in a hole; or the old boy will get you and carry you to the poor house. Man goeth forth in the morning chugging and shalting with pride; a halo of blue smoke circlet him as a wreath; he patteth his belly with pride and saith, behold, I am a six-cylinder brute; even a lal-lapaloolu am I in my pride. When the sheriff campeth on the front door of the shop and swipeth up his substance in a night and a Missouri mule lauleth off the available assets to the auction. The auto is a mocker and the touring car is raging, and whoso is deceived thereby should soak his moodie in lye. Vessels of wrath fitted unto destruction are the devil-cars that eat man's time and sap his securities and in the end turn over in a ditch and make his family into hamburger steaks. Woe is his name who dallies with them; even pants is he called in the market-place who twists the brass wheel and winketh with the other eye at fate.

Popular Performers with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus exhibiting here Tomorrow

Do You Remember When

You Saw the First Circus?

Can words describe the sensation that you experienced when you beheld for the first time in your life a circus parade? Probably not. Lots of us were in arms and too young to become thoroughly interested. But a little later in life, when you were old enough to walk and could understand the names of things and could distinguish between a brass band and a steam whistle, or a dump cart or a gold chariot—it was at that age that you really saw your first parade, for that age is probably as far back as your memory can carry you. It was about this time that circus day took precedent over every holiday on your calendar.

You looked forward to the Fourth of July, you looked forward to the ten weeks' vacation from school during the summer, and Thanksgiving and Christmas were on your list, but the circus lead the procession and trotted in a class all by itself. You recall how the first advertising car arrived in town, then the pictures on the billboards; then another advance car with the pretty lithographs in the windows of the store. From this time on everything went by the board in anticipation of the circus. You began to save your money. You were good to your mother. You ran errands without complaint and begged to be asked to run more. You never cried; you were never cross; you went to bed early for weeks without registering the semblance of a kick. And how you did buckle into the woodpile. But those are all memories of the past. The days of days has dawned when the circus arrived. When you were very young you rose at three A. M., after a sleepless night, and with a big brother or father, wended your way to the place of unloading. A little later in life you did not go to bed, but sat up all night and convinced yourself that the night before circus day was the longest night of the year.

After the first number on the day's program—the unloading of the show—came a short intermission. Then the parade. You stood on the sidewalk, the curbstone or in the doorway; or perhaps you were perched on a tree or on a lamp post. How you did stretch the cords of your neck looking for the first chariot with the band. And how you imagine every few minutes that you hear the band and would look again in the direction from which the parade was to come. First the big looking-glass chariot, with the band on top. Then some more gold chariots, drawn by four, six, eight and ten horses. Then some cages with animals, and more wagons and more cages. Then some riders on horseback and more cages and another band. Finally the lumbering elephants, preceded by the men on horseback who shout "hold your horses."

Well, that was your first circus parade. That was the first real circus thrill that tingled the blood in your veins. From that time on you had the fever, and circus day became the star day of the year on your engagement hook. Circuses have changed since those days, and parades have changed. Year by year they have become better, larger and more stupendous and more gorgeous. Year by year have been added feats of great daring, acts of greater merit, artists of greater ability. The Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows combined present this year a super excellent pageant that is superbly stupendous. Not only in this way do they excel all previous efforts, but the performance itself is given by the greatest aggregation of artistic talent that money can hire. The wonderful trained wild animal exhibition that bears the name of Hagenbeck is considered the most exciting and most novel of all circus exhibits. They will be in Rensselaer Saturday, July 30th.

Judge James McCabe, an aged jurist, and former member of the Indiana supreme court, is seriously ill at his country home north of Williamsport. He was taken sick at Kansas City a few days ago, where he was affected by the heat and had to be brought home. He is about eighty years of age.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all dealers.

After being locked up by accident for 48 hours in a box car without a bite to eat or a drop to drink, Claude Need, a tramp, was dragged out a Huntington, nearly dead. He was unconscious when found, but was revived with stimulants and the doctors believe he will get well.

Huntington county voters who cast ballots for Abraham Lincoln for president have arranged to meet for the purpose of planting a Lincoln memorial tree on the court house lawn in Huntington. There are about 200 Lincoln votes in Huntington county.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then cast oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all dealers.

Disregarding the pleading of his mother that he keep away from the water, William Perry, 10 years old, went swimming in White river at Indianapolis Monday to "try out" a new bathing suit, and, going beyond his depth; drowned within sight of his uncle.

Governor John Burke, of North Dakota, was endorsed as the democratic nominee for the presidency in 1912 at a meeting of the democratic party held in Fargo yesterday. Governor Burke is a candidate for re-election as governor, and the cry of the party in his state will be "three times governor of North Dakota, then candidate for president."

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel the poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

Lawrence Ulrich of Kokomo has been chosen assistant professor in chemistry in Cornell university. Leaving Wabash college, where his scholarship was high, he went to Huron, Dak., where he taught last winter. Hearing of his unusual capabilities as a chemist the faculty of Cornell university extended to him a call to the assistantship, which he accepted at once. He is now in the east preparing for his new duties.

Vidette Says It Is the Best Show That Ever Came to Town.

The Valparaiso Vidette says that the Hagenbeck-Wallace show, which was there Monday, is a dandy. The paper says:

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus deserves good crowds, for it undoubtedly was the best ever seen here, and with the possible exception of one, is in a class by itself. To enumerate the excellencies is impractical. But the performance of the trained animals was spectacular and thrilling. At the evening show, when the big lion became obstreperous, things looked dangerous for awhile, but the keeper finally cowed the big brute and it went through its act faithfully.

"A majority of the acts were the classiest ever witnessed on a local show lot and the performers were heartily applauded for their efforts. The clowning and burlesquing was out of the ordinary, too, many new and novel stunts being pulled off by the fun makers. Taken all in all, the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows gave splendid satisfaction here, and but for the scare caused by the scarlet fever story, would have packed the tent at both performances."

There were a number of efforts made by attaches of the show to short change people who were buying tickets. They were exposed several times and made to give back the money, but in some instances got away with it. The management of the circus is not responsible for this, however. It will be a safe thing to take the correct change to the ticket office. Don't carry a pocketbook filled with money, as pickpockets are reported at some places to be following the show. At Valparaiso one house was raided while the family were at the show. Put your valuables away and lock the doors and windows.

BAD DREAMS.

Nightmare, Restlessness and Night-Sweats All Caused by Indigestion.

Half of the nervousness in the world, all of the disturbing dreams and nightmares can be ended in a few weeks by a simple, inexpensive treatment.

Upset stomach is the cause of nervousness and bad dreams. Your food is lying in your stomach undigested and fermenting; it is forming poisonous gases which irritates the pneumogastric nerve that leads direct from the brain, and ends in a network of tiny branches running through the stomach.

It is also the irritation of this great pneumogastric nerve that causes headaches. Many times people have severe headaches and know they are caused by the stomach, but do not know in what manner.

If you are nervous, have dreams or nightmares, and do not sleep sound at night, get a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and take one or two after or with meals. They relieve distended stomach in 5 minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere and by B. F. Fendick, who guarantees them to cure indigestion or money back.

Union Vesper Services.

Vesper services will be held on the court house lawn on Sunday evening, at 6:30 o'clock. Rev. G. H. Clarke will deliver the sermon. C. E. Prior will sing a solo. Everyone invited.

A "Classified Adv." will rent it.

HANGING GROVE.

Oren Peregrine has gone to Mitchell, S. Dak., to work this fall.

Roy Hagg, of Rensselaer, visited at C. E. Maxwell's Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Erb went to Illinois Saturday for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed McCoy were in Rensselaer a short time Monday evening.

Miss Ida Maxwell, of Francesville, is spending this week with C. E. Maxwell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McCoy and son Pierce, of Indianapolis, are here for a visit of two weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Githens, of Indianapolis, visited her sister, Mrs. Sarah Fulk and son Clyde last week.

John Clapp, of West Lafayette, is up to his farm this week, helping his tenant, John Jordan, rebuild a granary.

Mrs. Cora Brower and daughter returned to Hammond Monday after an extended visit with relatives at Lewistown and Wheatfield.

A dozen of Delena Lefler's little friends came in Tuesday afternoon to remind her of her birthday. Ice cream was served and the afternoon enjoyably spent at games.

The C. & W. V. will run a special train Saturday morning from Kersey, to connect with the milk train at McCosburg, for the benefit of those who wish to attend the show at Rensselaer.

A threshing meeting was held at C. W. Bussell's Tuesday evening to make final arrangements about threshing. The machine will begin at Geo. Potts' Wednesday and thresh the wheat first, then begin at Will Murray's and thresh the oats.

Bob Drake has an unusually large crop of clover hay this season. He just finished putting it up last week. He put forty big loads in the barn, and has four ricks in the stack yard, all off of twenty-five acres of new meadow. The clover seed crop will likely be very short here, as it was cut rather late.

John O. P. Bowers, of Salem, visited his sister, Mrs. Sarah Fulk and family from Sunday until Thursday evening, when he went to Indianapolis to visit another sister before returning to his home. Mr. Bowers states that they have had an unusual amount of rain in his section this season, just barely enough clear days to get their harvesting done. He also says they are usually done threshing by the 4th, but this year they are two weeks behind.

WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away—Rensselaer People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Rensselaer testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Henry Randle, Forest street, Rensselaer, Ind., says: "I have not the least hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know them to be a reliable remedy for kidney complaint. Last July I had a severe attack of backache, accompanied by pains through my loins. It was all I could do to attend to my work. When I was suffering the worst, one of my neighbors advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, in fact, gave me a few that she had in the house. I took them and was so impressed with the results that I procured a further supply at Larsh's Drug Store. They acted just as represented and in a short time I was free from pain. I think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills and highly recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The harvesting season usually claims a few accidents. Last week little Jim Cook was playing with the barn rope, while his father and older brothers were putting hay in the barn, and caught his right fore finger between the rope and pulley in such a manner as to tear the flesh from the bone near the end of the finger. The wound caused the little fellow quite a good deal of pain, but it is thought it will heal up in the course of a few years so as not to leave a noticeable scar.

Tell the people of Rensselaer and Jasper county what you have—what you want—what you are offering for sale, rent or exchange. Get quick action by telling them through the Republican Classified column.
