

Rensselaer Republican

DAILY AND SEMI-WEEKLY

WE HAVE LOTS OF NICE APPLES FOR EATING, COOKING OR CANNING.

JOHN EGER.

Miss Charlotte Kanne went to Indianapolis today, having been sent there by the Charity Board to bring Miss Bessie Bowsher back home.

Can some one furnish The Republican with a copy of the poem beginning: "Let me dwell in a house by the side of the road and be a friend of man?"

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. McClure and children, of Hammond, were here a short time this morning enroute to Remington to visit her sister, Mrs. H. J. Bartoo and husband.

Now's the time to sell the things you don't need. A Republican classified ad will turn the trick. Call us as Phone 18.

Sylvester Hatton, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Laura, went to Kankakee, Ill., today, to attend the reunion of his regiment, the 76th Illinois volunteers.

Well matured Wisconsin sand grown potatoes, 75c bushel, 20c peck.

HOME GROCERY.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Chupp, of Surrey, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. P. Bailey, of Chicago, went to Eninburg, Ind., today, to visit their sons, Frank and Ralph Chupp.

The Republican wants to print the news. Please inform us when you have visitors at your homes.

Mrs. Emma Pritchard, of Franklin, who has been visiting in Chicago, stopped off here yesterday for a visit with the family of F. M. Parker, and continuing today to Lafayette for a brief visit before going to her home in Franklin.

Just in, new sauer kraut and dill pickles.

HOME GROCERY.

Mrs. C. T. Tryon received a letter today from her sister, Mrs. Susan Washburn, of Sacketts Harbor, N. Y., stating that a recent diagnosis developed that she had a cancer of the stomach and asking that her sister come there as soon as possible and Mrs. Tryon left on the milk train. Mr. Tryon accompanied her as far as Chicago and will later join her at Sacketts Harbor, where both will spend the winter months.

Complete mystery surrounds the disappearance of A. M. Steel, founder and proprietor of the National Business college of Joliet, Ill. Saturday afternoon he gave all the money he had, even to the change in his pockets, to his wife, left for his school office, and has not been seen since. Investigation has shown that the financial condition of his business is low, but not dangerously so.

H. C. Montay, of Newland, who has been in bad health for some time, returned a few days ago from Indianapolis, where he spent four weeks in a hospital. He is feeling no better and is now advised that an operation will be necessary, as he has a growth of some sort on his right side, which is pressing against the liver. He will probably enter a Chicago hospital soon to have the operation performed. Mr. Montay spent several years in Mexico and has lived in this county only about two years, during which time he has made many friends.

Within the past week The Republican has been informed by quite a number of democrats that they will not vote for Homer Cook, the candidate of their party for secretary of state, and who is a boon friend of Tom Taggart and Crawford Fairbanks, and who is alleged to be responsible as speaker of the last house, for the fact that two measures that were not passed by congress were published as laws and bore the signature of Governor Ralston. That the governor was made a dupe in signing them there is no doubt and the governor's friends do not propose to support a man for high office whom strong suspicion says employed dishonorable tactics to secure a signature to a measure never passed by the legislature.

ENDORSED AT HOME.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Rensselaer Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experiences when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Rensselaer adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

William Clift, 528 College Street, Rensselaer, Ind., says: "I had kidney and bladder trouble and my back ached severely. I didn't sleep well and was annoyed by a too frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions. I took doctors' medicine and remedies of various kinds, but found no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Since then my back hasn't troubled me and I have felt better in every way. It gives me great pleasure to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Clift had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

There are between 20,000 and 21,000 registered in Lake county this year. This is from 1,500 to 2,000 less than were registered two years ago. During the depression of the past year many have left the factory districts of the Calumet region.

To surely and safely rid yourself of catarrh get a Hyomel outfit from B. F. Fendig. There is no better remedy, yet harmless, pleasant and easy to use—you breathe it.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Rardin, of Montpelier, Ind., and daughter, Mrs. J. E. Hopkins and two children, of Mill Grove, Ind., returned home October 1st, after a two weeks' visit with L. U. Rardin and family at Parr, and Russell Harmon and family at Fair Oaks. They made the 300-mile trip in Rev. Rardin's auto, having no trouble on the way except a tire puncture.

Father William Hordeman, of Frankfort, who was raised in this county and whose father and brothers live here now, has just returned from a trip to Europe after a delay of some time in getting out of Germany. He arrived at Frankfort today and a big reception is to be tendered him this evening and some of his relatives here plan to go.

Many Indiana real estate dealers are advocating the proposition of a state license for all persons, firms or corporations who do a real estate business of any nature. This question will be one of the first that will come up before the state association of real estate men, which it is planned to form at the coming convention of realty dealers of Indiana, October 7, 8 and 9, in Indianapolis.

(Continued from first page.) in concealment, but there would be no object in carrying the information daily in the newspapers any more than it would be to say that the president of the United States is chosen through the election of electors, or in saying day after day that Indianapolis is the capital of Indiana. The fact that some grossly ignorant newspaper publisher in southern Indiana stated that senators were elected as of old through the legislature proved nothing except the ignorance of the editor, and Mr. Beveridge assailed the intelligence of the people by his foolish charge.

Will Ade, of Newton county, followed Senator Beveridge and made a short speech. He said that in Newton county he had the habit of getting whatever he went after. He did not say that he went after the job of county treasurer twice as a republican and was defeated and that it was this disappointment which made him leave the party. He said that the republican paper in Rensselaer had informed its readers that he was not a farmer. We do not believe that we ever said any such thing. Mr. Ade is an extensive farm owner, but he farms in the main by the tenant farm or hired man system and if comparisons along this line were to be made, he would be required to admit that John B. Peterson, the democratic candidate, is also a farmer, for he is an extensive farm owner. We don't know whether Will R. Wood owns a farm or not. Will Ade's father was a pioneer of Newton county and acquired broad acres when the land was cheap. Will came in for the advantage. But Will R. Wood is a friend to the farmer, a protectionist and believes in legislation that will develop the farming and manufacturing interests of the tenth district. He has proven worthy of confidence as a member of the state house and senate and all who are interested in the welfare of the district will take no chances of the reelection of John B. Peterson by throwing their vote to Will Ade, but will vote directly for Will R. Wood, and they will find him one of the ablest men Indiana ever had in the congress of the United States.

Following the speeches, which were heard by about 400 men and women, a joint convention was held and on the recommendation of Dr. Coffin, of Monticello, a man named McKinney, of Wolcott, was nominated for representative. A collection was then taken.

Mr. Beveridge had made speeches at Idaville, Wolcott and Monon before coming here. At Idaville he was presented with a silver loving cup, which cost $100 and which Monticello progressives had purchased for him. The occasion of the gift was the fact that it was his 52nd birthday. From here Mr. Beveridge and his party went to Kentland, where a meeting was held at night. The Star estimated the Kentland crowd at 4,000, which doubtless was fully large enough, for it is hardly probable that ten or fifteen times as many would turn out at Kentland as turned out here.

Mr. Beveridge will unquestionably be found back in the republican party two years later, for in periods of his speech he spoke so reverently of it and there was not the "punch" back of his speech that characterized him two years ago. He spoke of friends in the party and told how he revered the name and after the election this year, which will demonstrate that there is no mission for the third party and that the only way to secure the good things for which it may contend, is by joining forces with the parent party and using the great majority of the two in the righteous cause of the people, which is the aim, the hope and the strife of the people themselves and which itself is the greatest rebuff to Beveridge and Roosevelt in the selfish purposes which led them from the party of accomplishment at a time when they might so greatly have aided in the embodiment of issues into laws. We hope to see Senator Beveridge in Rensselaer two years hence flying a republican banner, and we expect it because he now feels the error of his departure.

The coming back movement was never stronger and in Jasper county it is more potent today than at any time since the Chicago convention breach of 1912.

McCasburg will have a Sunday school picnic next Sunday. It will be held in the grove if the weather is agreeable and in the school house if the weather is inclement. All are invited to come and bring well filled baskets. L. H. Hamilton will address all who are gathered there and a program will be carried out.
