The Ladies of the G. A. R. had a most enjoyable time today as the guests of Mrs. B. D. McColly, to whose home they took their dinners and spent the day. The husbands came in at noon, many of them being old soldiers, and while they made an assault upon the supply of rations, they were unable to conquer it and finally retreated and let the ladies make the charge. They were only moderately successful for the liberality of those who had prepared the dinner resulted in such abundant preparation that there was a big lot left after all had finished. The ladies have been taking their dinners and spending one day each month with some member but this was the first time the husbands had been invited.

Without a dissenting vote the house has increased Mexican war pensions from $12 to $20 a month.
