Coming Marriage of Well Known Couple Has Been Announced.

In these gloomy days of strenuous war preparations when even matrimonial preliminaries have generally been greatly abbreviated, it was a pleasing chance as well as an agreeable surprise to the sixty ladies who were the guests of Mrs. A. L. Padgett, to learn upon their arrival at her home Wednesday afternoon of the approaching marriage of her daughter, Esther, to Mr. Kenneth Allman, of Indianapolis.

The little brother of the bride-to-be was the distributor of the happy tidings, which were conveyed to those present on little cards bearing the following lines:

"The twentieth of August is the date we've planned.

To travel life's pathway hand in hand; As Esther and Kenneth no longer we'll separately stand.

But henceforth and forever be Mr. and Mrs. Allman.

Among the guests were the members of the Presbyterian choir, of which Miss Padgett is a member and where she will be greatly missed, and the young ladies' sew club.

A pleasing musical program was rendered and dainty refreshments were served, after which the Hope Box of the soon-to-be-bride was inspected and pronounced by all to be unusually complete.

The wedding will take place at the Padgett home August 20.

Respected Citizen Passed Away After Lingering Illness.

C. Albert Timmons, aged 58, and for many years a respected citizen of this community, passed away at his home in the north part of the city at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, after suffering with an illness which has extended over the past several months. Death was due to stomach trouble.

Mr. Timmons is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Elmer Osman, of Benton Harbor, Mich., and Mrs. Roy M. Burch, of this city, and two sons, Harrison, of Benton Harbor, Mich., and Glenn, at home.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the house and will be conducted by Rev. E. W. Strecker. Burial will be made in Weston cemetery.

Abdications of History.

Ever since dynasties have existed there are records of kings having abdicated from one cause and another. Far back in the misty past one monarch gave up his throne because he was "weary of dominion," another retired out of preference for the freedom of private life; a third laid down his crown because his schemes failed; still another abdicated in a fit of melancholy; and there are two instances in which kings left their thrones because they were unable to cope with national crises.

Indians Good Orchardists.

The American apple owes much to the care of the Indian farmers, for the Indian was an able pomologist. It was not unusual 150 years ago for Indian orchards to have 1,500 trees, which all had been duly pruned and cultivated by the people we are prone to regard as nomadic savages. The peach and quince were also cultivated by them in later years. To the world the Indian introduced such fruits as the persimmon, the pawpaw, the pineapple and the Virginia strawberry.

Worrying Always Weakens.

Worrying is always weakness. It is always danger. In a sense, though often excusable and sometimes unavoidable, it is cowardice; and cowards, as Shakespeare tells us, "die many times before their death." We may regard worry as the price paid by humanity for advance in education and in refinement of feeling; but it is a higher price than need be paid.—Exchange.

The Majestic Magnolia.

There is no suggestion of timidity or coyness about the magnolia. It never appears in the role of offering an apology for being alive. No explanations are required. Like an independent, self-respecting citizen it faces the world unafraid. In kingly majesty it stands, an inspiring masterpiece of grandeur, an unparalleled display of nature's sublime handwork.

Fat.

"I admit that it is much of an effort to keep your spirit from growing fat as to keep your body from growing fat," says Margaret Deland in the Woman's Home Companion. "It means making sacrifices; you will give up potatoes to keep your body light; you will have to give up faultfinding and gossip to keep your heart light. But the effort pays!"

Goddess of Justice.

In Greek mythology Astraea, daughter of Zeus and Themis, was the goddess of justice. She is represented with a pair of balances in her hand and a crown of stars. She was the last of all the goddesses who left the earth when the golden age had passed away and men began to forge weapons and commit acts of violence.

"Alma Mater."

The phrase "alma mater," as applied to colleges and universities, is said to have originated in the University of Bonn, Germany. A statue of the Mother of Christ—the alma mater, or beloved mother, stands over the doorway of that famous seat of learning. From it the phrase received its origin.

only as a democracy? No! No! We see, we act, we enlist to produce, to sacrifice, to labor, to fight, to forego sentiment and to show that the talents given us by a gracious God have not been hidden in fright and in shame. Here before you is the first organized unit to leave your city and county and adjoining counties. Fifty of these young men proved their worth on the Mexican border and all are now to do all that and more and to glory in the privilege of its doing. We do not know what the future holds in store for them. But this we do know, that if they do their duty well as good soldiers, they will have contributed to the cause of humanity and have endeared themselves to you who will pray for them while they are absent. And those who survive will return to a high place in citizenship and a consciousness of duty well done, a heritage of satisfaction that is worth the price paid.

Boys, I had hoped to be with you, to counsel with you often and to help smooth down the rough spots that your hardships will encounter, but the fortunes of war have decreed differently and I am to be in another regiment, but I shall meet you often and shall be inspired by your success. Start in at the very outset to be the best soldiers in the American army. It is in you to be. Train, train, train. Work, work, work. Any moment you may learn something that will make it possible for you to save a life on the battlefield, but so live that you can meet death if called upon with a consciousness of duty well done. Remember the dear ones back home are always concerned for your conduct as well as your safety and write to the dear mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts and let their love be an added inspiration to do your service well. May God watch over your training, your service, your lives, at all times with tenderest care and may we in future years gather together in reunion and rejoicing.

Col. Honan then introduced Dr. Gobin, ex-president of DePauw University. The doctor was a veteran in the Civil War and has for years been one of Indiana's greatest men. He is a most devout Christian gentleman but a firm believer in the cause of his country and fully convinced of the necessity of our participation in this great world movement to crush autocracy and to forever enshrine universal democracy.

He was delighted with the magnificent audience that faced him and that gave him the very closest attention during his address. He complimented Col. Healey for his most splendid address.

He was here primarily in the interests of the United States Boys' Working Reserve which is a movement under the direction of the National, State and County Councils of Defense. Dr. Gobin introduced Harvey W. Wood, Jr., who is in charge of this work in Jasper county and urged all to co-operate with Mr. Wood in this essential work.

Dr. J. Budman Fleming was then introduced and made a splendid short address and asked for assistance from all for the work he is directing, Public Morals.

No account of this great evening and its momentous events can be written. It has left an indelible impression which time can never erase. It was a great soul uplift and bids us all to go forth as true American patriots.

Summer Complaint.

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., states, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."

Wild Hay to Put Up On Shares.

A large acreage of good wild hay on the Kent tract of land in Newton county, owned by John J. Lawler. Put up either on shares or by ton. See James E. Walter, Manager Lawler Ranches, Telephone 337.

First Lieutenant Carpenter, after mustering in Co. M, went to Monticello to muster in Co. C of that place.

Jay W. Stockton had the misfortune to run a rusty nail in his foot Tuesday while at work and the injury proved to be a quite painful one. Anti-toxin treatments were administered and it is thought that he will be all right in a short time.

Misses Jane Parkison and Luella Robinson are entertaining this afternoon at the former's home. The guests of honor are Misses Ellen Woods, Corrine Hughes and Louise Virgin, of Jacksonville College, and Miss Iris Baughman, of Oklahoma City.

HANGING GROVE.

Edward Rose is with the field artillery at Fort Harrison this week. John W. Sprague, on the W. C. Rose farm, has some of the finest corn in Jasper county, taking the whole field over.

Everett, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Ringelsen, fell off a couch at the home of Roy Cochran Monday afternoon and broke his arm. The family physician was called immediately to dress the arm.

Ed Jenkins started threshing Thursday morning.

Mrs. J. R. Phillips went to Delphi Wednesday to attend the funeral of Alfred Armstrong, who died at his home in Michigan City Monday noon. Delphi was the former home of the Armstrong family a number of years ago. They also lived in McCoysburg when A. McCoy was running his big ranch, after which Mr. Armstrong received an appointment as watchman at the prison and he held this position until a few years ago, giving it up on account of his age.

James Lefler visited Chas. Bussell and family Tuesday and Wednesday. He has been assisting his son Robert in the harvest for two weeks.

Father William Hordeman, of Frankfort, who is visiting relatives here, is spending the day with his brother, Peter Hordeman, at Parr.

Ask Anyone Who Has Used It. There are families who always aim to keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house for use in case it is needed, and find that it is not only a good investment but saves them no end of suffering. As to its reliability, ask anyone who has used it. C

Dr. C. E. Johnson has received word from the War Department notifying him of his appointment as captain in the medical corps of the army. It was not stated when he should report or where he would be located. The doctor was on the border last summer with the Indiana troops but received his discharge last fall.

Stomach and Liver Troubles. No end of misery and actual suffering is caused by disorders of the stomach and liver, and may be avoided by the use of Chamberlain's Tablets. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter. C

The Benton Review says: "A number of Fowler people spent Sunday at Cedar Lake. Hundreds of people enjoyed the day in the water of the lake. The roads via Morocco from Fowler were fine, but three or four over the Jackson highway, which passes through Rensselaer and at one time was the main road between Chicago and Indianapolis, and they report the roads miserable, especially between DeMotte and Rensselaer. In places it was impossible to run over five miles an hour and the occupants of the cars were kept busy holding on while taking the bumps. There was a time when all the tourists took the Jackson highway, which passes through Fowler, is used almost exclusively. If you have any respect for your back, stay off the Jackson highway."
