

Was Told He Couldn't Live Six Months

But Doan's Brought Mr. Clayton Health and Strength.

C. T. Clayton, 78 N. Broad St., Woodbury, N. J., says: "I had about the worst case of kidney complaint a man could have. My kidneys were in terrible shape. I had sharp, knifelike pains in the small of my back, and my back often gave out entirely. I couldn't stoop to lace my shoes. For two years I was in this helpless condition and didn't do a tap of work and no one thought I would ever be able to work again. In fact, I was told I couldn't live six months. But fortunately I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel better from the first and after taking several boxes, I had better strength and health than ever before. I think Doan's are worth their weight in gold, and I recommend them whenever I hear anyone complaining of their kidneys."

He was visiting in the city and went with an older relative to the city library. The relative, who wished to consult some books in the reference room, decided to leave him to be entertained in the children's room meanwhile. When she returned she asked the attendant in charge how he had got along and was told, "He's all right now, but at first I couldn't get him to look at a thing." Rather surprised, because he is generally fond of books, she turned to the youngster. "Why, James, didn't you want to look at the pretty books?"

"Aw," he said gruffly, "I didn't know she just wanted me to look at them; I thought she wanted to sell me one, and I wasn't going to buy any. I'm saving my money for a soldier's belt!"

Leave to Print.

"What's the objection to my printing what I like in the Congressional Record?" asked the new member of congress.

"You've got to suffer for the general good, son," replied Senator Sorghum, soothingly. "You're liable to slap something in that is so interesting there won't be white paper enough in the country to meet demands for that particular issue."

The HEART of COFFEE LAND

Street Scene in Sao Paulo.

SAO PAULO, or, to use the English equivalent, St. Paul, is the capital and business metropolis of one of Brazil's greatest states. Of the 20 states, one territory and one federal district into which the great southern republic is divided, the state of Sao Paulo and its splendid capital stand among the most progressive units of the entire nation.

The state, says the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union, in territory is larger than the five New England states of North America, with Pennsylvania added, or an area of 112,300 square miles, embracing undulating plain and valley with several low mountain ranges extending across the country. More than three-fourths of the state lie within the region of the tropic of Capricorn, and about one-eighth of Brazil's 24,000,000 people reside within its boundaries. Nature has divided this territory into two distinct regions—that bordering the Atlantic ocean for nearly 400 miles, where the temperature is hot and moist and where bananas, coconuts, cacao, oranges and other tropical products grow in abundance. This coastal plain is narrow in the north, but gradually broadens to 80 miles or more near the southern boundary of the state. Westward from the low mountains bordering the coastal plain the country is higher and well suited to agricultural crops, of which coffee growing is the most important. In recent years various other crops have been introduced more generally and are now additional important industries, which, together with stock raising, are greatly increasing private and public revenues.

Climbing the Coast range or the Serra do Mar (at some places 3,000 feet high) by the railroad between the sea at Santos and Sao Paulo city, a distance of 50 miles, we perceive changes in temperature and note how the country gradually and in places precipitously rises as the train moves westward. At Sao Paulo the altitude is about 2,500 feet, while the state as a whole averages 2,000 feet above the level of the sea. There are many higher elevations along the mountain ranges. The streams flowing to the Atlantic are short, while those which carry their waters northward, following the "lay of the land," are of considerable size, the largest being the Tiete river, which has been harnessed to supply the city of Sao Paulo with electric power, and also with water for domestic uses. This river traverses almost the entire length of the state, flowing in a northwesterly direction.

One of Brazil's Oldest Cities.
Sao Paulo, the state capital, is one of Brazil's oldest cities, its fragmentary history dating from 1500, when the Portuguese discovered the country.

Passing over many eventful periods, Sao Paulo has outgrown its youthful years and stands today as a great city—the third in commercial importance of the South American continent. Surrounding the city we find a fertile rolling country, devoted largely to coffee and other crops. The state is credited with 2,000,000 acres devoted to coffee growing, representing an outlay of $500,000,000, and producing annually about 60 per cent of the world's coffee, the bulk of which trade centers in the capital. Furthermore, the network of 7,000 miles of railroads connecting the city with adjoining states is responsible for making Sao Paulo an interstate rather than a local outlet and trading mart.

The area of the city proper covers about 14 square miles, and its population of nearly 500,000 inhabitants has quadrupled during the last 30 years. About 35 per cent of the people are foreigners, the Italians being greatest in number, followed by Germans, Portuguese, Spaniards, French, and English. There is a sprinkling of North Americans, who represent something like 50 different commercial interests in the United States. The city's birth rate growth of 40.80 per 1,000 inhabitants has been largely augmented by a constant flow of European immigration, while the death rate of 20.505 per 1,000 indicates the healthy condition of the people.

Streets Afford Broad Contrasts.
Sao Paulo's streets are both ancient and modern. The narrow and often congested business thoroughfares contrast strikingly with the broad avenues that cross the city and extend through the newer suburban sections. In the latter we find such an abundance of shade trees that one is reminded of Washington, while the large number of detached private residences suggest Denver or Buffalo. In Sao Paulo, too, we find types of the chalet, the Moorish palace, the French Renaissance, and other features of architecture more or less modified to suit local conditions. The Tiete river, passing through the northern suburbs of Sao Paulo, is an extremely crooked stream, and numerous affluents flowing through the city in various directions seem to have influenced the early builders and some of the oldest streets are crooked or winding.

The business heart of the city, often referred to as the triangle, is served by active streets locally known as ruas. Thus Rua Sao Preto, Rua Quinze de Novembro, and Rua Direita are among the most important in the so-called triangle district. Overlooking the Largo do Palacio, also in the midst of business life, stands the government palace. From this point streets and avenues radiate to all parts of the city and suburbs. In this business area the city blocks are not so regular or uniform as are the newer sections of Sao Paulo. The Avenida Tiradentes extends northward to the Tiete; from the center of the city the Avenida Rangel Pestana opens a direct course to the eastward, passing one of the leading markets. Three thoroughfares leading to the southward, Ruas Liberdade, Santo Amaro, and Consolacao, provide direct access to the magnificent Avenida Paulista, by far the most beautiful boulevard of the capital. The principal business streets of the city are paved with asphalt and other materials, a feature that has encouraged the use of motor vehicles of all descriptions. (Last year Sao Paulo imported more automobiles than any other city of the country.)

The numerous parks of the city reflect large sums of money that have been expended in making them attractive. In numerous cases artificial lakes, natural streams, rustic bridges, statues, fine shade trees, and blooming flowers offer attractions to citizen and stranger alike.

Sao Paulo is a city of wealth, individual as well as official. Agriculture and industry have made many private fortunes, and these fortunes are reflected in the unusual number of palatial homes in the city proper and in the suburbs. No stranger can drive about the city without noticing the vast amount of capital and the diversified architectural talent that has been called to provide for Sao Paulo's wealthy residents.

Did This Ever Happen to You?

A North side club woman, prominent in D. A. R. and other circles, went picnicking with a group of friends on the Fourth of July. In the course of the day one of the other women lost her handkerchief, and the D. A. R. member generously lent an extra one. A few days ago the handkerchief was returned by the borrower. It was a daintily embroidered square with hearts and flowers intertwined with the letter "W."

There are no "W's" in the family of the D. A. R. woman. She took it with some surprise and said: "Why, that isn't my handkerchief."

"I know it isn't," was the quick reply. "But it's the one that you lent to me. I noticed it at the time."—Indianapolis News.

A New Sentry.

A lieutenant at Camp Grant was riding past a guard the other night, and at the usual command to halt he stopped his horse and stood there. However, the guard didn't say another word, and after a short time the lieutenant burst out with: "Well, what are you making me stand here for? Expect me to stay here all night?" The guard answered: "Well, I didn't know what to say next. I've only been here for a week."

Next Day.

It chanced, in the days before the war, that an Englishman in Berlin became acquainted with a young German officer. One day they were lingering over a tete-a-tete luncheon.

The officer got up and said, "I will give you a toast." Raising his well-filled glass, he added: "I drink to 'The Day'!" and there was a smile on his lips which hinted at some hidden jest in the words.

His companion, the Englishman, looked at him quietly.

"Indeed, Herr Lieutenant!" he said: "let me follow your toast with one of my own: 'Here's to 'The Day After'!'"

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

When you're fifty, your body begins to creak a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be" is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant symptoms show themselves. Painful and annoying complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy, and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles.

Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall stones, gravel, "brick dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules cleanse the kidneys and purify the blood. They frequently ward off attacks of the dangerous and fatal diseases of the kidneys. They have a beneficial effect, and often completely cure the diseases of the bodily organs, allied with the bladder and kidneys.

If you are troubled with soreness across the loins or with "simple" aches and pains in the back take warning, it may be the preliminary indications of some dreadful malady which can be warded off or cured if taken in time.

Go to your druggist today and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. GOLD MEDAL are the pure, original imported Haarlem Oil Capsules. Accept No Substitutes.—Adv.

It's Acid-Stomach That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer

Life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman with an acid-stomach. Acid-stomach kills Hope, Ambition, Energy, Courage. It saps the strength of the strongest body—impoverishes the blood—causes untold suffering—makes millions weak, unfit and brings on premature old age.

Millions of people are weak and unfit, suffering all the time, in one way or another, from superacidity or acid-stomach. They don't seem dangerously sick. Just ailing. Going through life weak, listless, dragging one foot after another. They're nervous and irritable; lack power and punch, frequently have severe attacks of blinding, splitting headaches; subject to fits of melancholia and mental depression. And nearly always their stomachs are out of order, even though many experience no actual stomach pains—digestion poor—never getting anywhere near the full strength from their food.

So, you see, it's just this acid-stomach—that is holding so many people back—sapping up the strength they should get from their food—taking away their vigor and vitality—leaving them weak and inefficient.

Get rid of the excess acid. That's the secret of good health and is the only way to obtain good digestion and assimilation.

It is the right way to be well and keep strong. Ordinary medicine won't do any lasting good. The best they can do is to spur up your appetite for awhile.

A modern remedy makes it possible to remove excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called EATONIO, in the form of pleasant tasting tablets. Their action in the stomach is good deal like a piece of blotting paper taking up a drop of ink—they literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines.

Begin using EATONIO right now—today—and get on the road to bounding, vigorous, vibrant health. Thousands upon thousands of people who have used EATONIO are enthusiastic in its praise. They say they never dreamed that anything could bring them such quick relief.

EATONIO is fully guaranteed. Your druggist will give you a big box for only 50 cents with the distinct understanding that if you are not pleased in every way, you get your 50 cents back. If you can't get EATONIO where you live—send us your name and address; we will send you a fifty cent box and you can send us the 50c when you get it. Address: Eatonio Remedy Co., Gunther Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

The Individual and the State.

"Do you think satisfactory arrangements can eventually be made with Germany concerning armament and trade?"

"Well," answered Broncho Bob, "I don't pretend to be any international statesman. But I don't see why Germany couldn't be regulated the same as Cactus Joe. Cactus Joe was an awful worrisome man till we passed an ordinance instructing the sheriff to shoot on sight if he was caught carrying a weapon and jailin' any dealer who sold him a stack of poker chips."

Delusions.

"What curious mistakes men make sometimes. I've just been reading, for instance, that Columbus imagined that he had discovered the Indies."

"That's nothing to one I made. When I married my wife I thought I'd discovered paradise."—Boston Transcript.

Repartee in France.

"I wonder if those are the latest hat styles from Paris," said Flotsam.

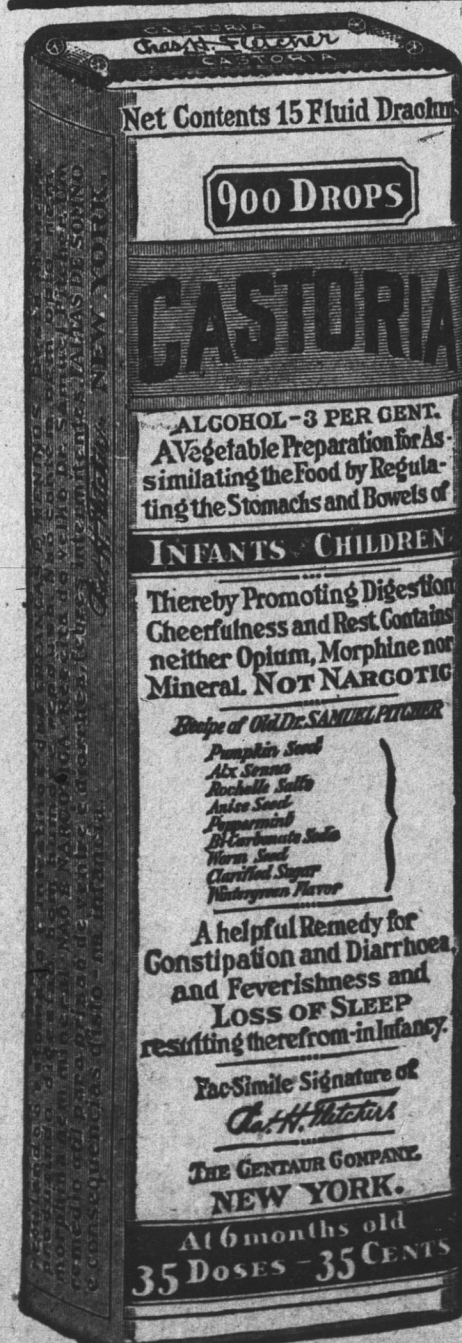

"I chapeaux so," replied Jetsam, right off the bat.—Piano News.
