

To the Investing Public

IN fairness to our clients, to the investing public, and to ourselves, S. W. STRAUS & CO., desire to make the following statements:

We have no connection whatever with any other firm, company, or organization of similar name selling stock. We do not deal in stock, either preferred or common. We will continue, now as in the past, to underwrite and offer only first mortgage bonds of unimpeachable safety.

These facts we desire to emphasize because the public announcements of a house of similar name might give the erroneous impression that we have deviated from our policy of dealing only in the highest type of investment security—the first mortgage bond, safeguarded under the Straus Plan.

The fact that our method and plans have been widely imitated is evidence of the soundness of the principles we have followed and clearly indicates the place which this institution occupies in the financial life of the nation.

OVERALLITIS.

Washington, April 20.—Representative Upshaw, of Georgia, appeared in the house today in the conventional long-tailed coat. He explained to the members that he had temporarily abandoned his overall because of the cool weather and a cold he had contracted. This left only one representative of the "overall brigade" on Capitol Hill.

He is a house clerk.

Ducking Penalty.

Middletown, Conn., April 20.—A ducking in the gymnasium pool is provided as a penalty for members who ignore resolutions adopted by Wesleyan University fraternities and societies today in favor of the wearing of "old clothes." Students will be expected to wear such clothing while in Middletown every week day and Sundays, but when going out of town they may put on their best raiment.

Affiliated Clubs.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—In addition to the many "overall clubs" being formed here, a number of other societies have been organized to fight the cost of clothing. These include the "celluloid collar club,"

"the cotton stocking club" and "the patch club."

Wear Old Clothes.

Richmond, Ind., April 20.—The boys who will graduate from Richmond high school this year voted today unanimously to wear only old clothing at the graduation exercises.

They voted down a proposition to wear overalls. The most of the boys appeared at school today dressed in khaki.

ATTENTION, MODERN WOODMEN!

There will be a meeting this evening at 7:30 p. m. Business of importance to discuss. A full attendance is desired. There will be light refreshments served after the meeting.

MARKET SATURDAY.

The ladies of the Barkley church will hold a market at Warner

Brothers' hardware Saturday morning, beginning at eleven o'clock, and will have many good things to eat.

Why the Cleveland Six is Multiplying its Friends

The Cleveland Six is making new friends every day, thousands of them every month, because it brings them so much more than they had even dared to expect,—so much more of the pleasure of driving, and the ease of driving and of the comfort of riding.

The motor of the Cleveland Six—designed by the Cleveland company's own engineers, tested in road work and engineering shops for three years before being offered to the public, and now built in the company's own great factory—is something new to countless thousands of motorists who prefer the light six type of car.

They have never driven behind just such a motor as this. The wonders of its pick-up and flexibility are exceptional and the brakes sure. Low underslung spring construction and soft restful cushions give the Cleveland unusual qualities of comfort.

Since first sent out on its journey into the big world of motordom, last July, the Cleveland Six has made friends, and multiplied them. Thousands of owners know what a good car it is and they tell their friends.
