W. J. WRIGHT

Rensselaer, Indiana

TO GIVE UP RESIDENCE AFTER FORTY-EIGHT YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. King will leave Thursday morning for Warsaw, Ind., where they will make their future home with their children, Mrs. Aden Rupe and Fred King, after having resided in Rensselaer continuously since the year 1872, or a period of forty-eight years.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. King will be a source of keen regret to their many friends here, an dthe best wishes of all will accompany them. M. and Mrs. King likewise find it very hard to sever the ties of friendship which have been so binding for such a long period.

Mr. King conducted a greenhouse for many years at the Cleveland property north of the railroad, but ill health forced him to abandon active business life a few years ago, and since that time he has resided in his property on N. Cullen street.

TODAY IS BUSY DAY FOR THE G. O. P.

The Republican party will be exceedingly busy today, Tuesday, with primaries in five important states in the union.

During the day 133 delegates will be chosen to its national convention in Chicago June 8, about one-eighth of the total number.

In Ohio, 48 delegates are to be elected with the chief battle between Wood and Harding; Massachusetts is to select thirty-five, with the main struggle between Wood and Coolidge; New Jersey will elect twenty-eight delegates, in a contest between Johnson and Wood; the state of Washington is to choose fourteen and Idaho will select eight in a convention.

So far as can be forecast from the reports on public sentiment in the various states, the name of Johnson seems to be the most prominent repeated by the voters and it is believed that he will poll a great number of votes in all states.

A sparkling comedy of New York society.

She hated him because he called her a "Walk-Off" and she determined to teach him a lesson. What is a "Walk-Off"? He took from her the money her fiancé had given her to gamble with and forsook to smoke or drink.

She divorced him because he flirted outrageously and then found out she loved him because other women were fond of him. Then she wanted

MORE THAN 1,000 TO ATTEND ROUND-UP

According to an announcement made by members of the Purdue extension division who have charge of the arrangements for the Boys' and Girls' club Round-up at Purdue, May 3-7, 1921 boys and girls have already signified their intention of attending. This information has been gathered from letters received from county agents, vocational teachers and other leaders in boys' and girls' club work in the state, so that the number may be taken as authoritative. As over a week remains before the opening of the Round-up, the extension department expects to hear from other groups who expect to attend.

The committee in charge of listing rooms; and board for the visitors announces that at this time accommodations for only 350 have been listed. Blanks seeking information regarding additional accommodations have been sent out to residents on the West Side and if replies are received soon, it is expected that sufficient rooms and boarding places will be available to fill the demand. The young people who will be here for the week, who will consist of about two-thirds boys and other third girls, will be prepared to pay the usual charges for the accommodations afforded them. The committee states that it is very desirable that any others having any beds, cots, davenport and the like to offer, call telephone 2743 during business hours and report the accommodations they have to offer. With this manner of co-operation, it is hoped to take care of any number who will be here for the week.—Lafayette Journal.

AMERICAN DAY SATURDAY MAY 1

COL. GEORGE H. HEALEY WILL MAKE THE ADDRESS HERE.

Arrangements have been completed under the direction of Harry G. Hogan, Indiana Campaign manager for Leonard Wood, for the celebration of American Day, Saturday, May 1, by members of the Leonard Wood organization throughout the state. The celebration will be carried out on an elaborate scale, and the plan includes observance of the day in every county, city and town.

The plan is to have mass meetings sponsored by the Leonard Wood organizations in each community and addressed by local speakers. The purpose is to discuss the basic principles of Americanism and government under the constitution as laid down in the platform of Leonard Wood.

In keeping with the above Col. George H. Healey of Frankfort, editor of the Crescent-News, has been engaged to make the address here Saturday evening.

A very special invitation is extended to the ex-service men and especially to all such who were formerly members of the old Company M.

Evansville and the First district observed a special Wood day, April 26, when Wood spoke in the pocket city. Arrangements had been made for a notable reception to the general when he arrived in Evansville and delegations from every county in the district will attend the meeting in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial coliseum where Wood will speak Monday night.

Pt. Wayne, South Bend, Terre Haute, Indianapolis and other large centers are planning Wood days which will be special to their particular communities.

The day that Wood speaks in these towns will be the occasion for the political festivities. Fort Wayne will observe April 28, Terre Haute, April 30th, Indianapolis, May 1st, Gary April 29, and Muncie, May 3rd. The Muncie celebration will be an Eighth district affair.

In those communities where a general observance of American day has been arranged the local Wood organizations will join the movement and lend a full co-operation, Mr. Hogan explained.

In his letter to the Wood district and county managers explaining the plan and purpose of American day State Manager Hogan said:

"Out of the war emerged two great figures—Roosevelt and Wood. The one has rendered his last full measure of devotion. The other remains to carry on the glorious work of Americanization. To make America 100 per cent American and safe for all Americans.

O'RILEY BAKERY INSTALLING FINE NEW BAKE OVEN

Ralph O'Riley, owner of the Golden Loaf Bakery, is installing a fine new Marshall bake oven in his place of business, made necessary by the heavy demands for his bread and pastries. The oven has a capacity of four hundred loaves of bread and will permit Mr. O'Riley to enlarge his business materially as well as being a great time saver. The front of the oven is made of white enamel. The furnace has a continuous, steady heat and is so arranged that the ashes are removed from the rear, adding to the sanitary conditions. Complete, the oven weighs fifty tons and is one of the most modern made.

Mr. O'Riley came to Rensselaer a few years ago and through his progressiveness and thrift has built up one of the best bakery businesses in this section of the state. Cleanliness and printer's ink have been partly responsible for the success he has gained. Much of Mr. O'Riley's bread is shipped to nearby towns and during the past few months the demand for it has been increasing by leaps and bounds, which has made his present equipment entirely inadequate to care for his business.

COUNTY EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The following applicants for teachers' license wrote on the April teachers' examination: Wilson Clark, Wheatfield; Fairy Deardurff, Morocco; Mamie C. Reed, Remington; Margaret Delahantay, DeMotte; Grace Knapp, DeMotte; Charles M. Blue, Rensselaer; Gay Makeover, Fair Oaks; Jessie White, Wheatfield; Florence France, DeMotte; Day Jordan, Gifford; Jessie Raredin, Parr; Mabel Kemper, Wheatfield; Dorothy Boyle, Wheatfield; Cecile Jordan, Rensselaer; Vera Woods, Rensselaer; Mary Miles, Rensselaer; Clarence Kelly, Remington; Alta Lucas, Remington; Martha Parker, Remington; Alpha E. Kerlin, Wolcott; Helen Cain, Remington; Nellie Johnston, Remington; Marie Weging, Rensselaer; Helen Kessinger, Rensselaer; Alice Myers, Wheatfield. Of the entire number there was but one applicant for high school license and one for a primary license. The others were applicants for the common school licenses. Eighteen of the twenty-five sent their manuscripts to the state department for grading. The April examination was about one-third the size of the March examination. Practically all of the teachers are arranging to continue their professional training and many have already enrolled in normal schools and universities. The general index of school efficiency for Jasper county is very promising at this time. It is true that there will likely be a shortage next fall but very few teachers in Jasper county are drifting into a state of lethargy expecting to gain a school on account of this. The lesser part of this few are compelled to remain out of school on account of sickness. It is a matter some cannot afford but are compelled to remain at home on account of finances.

Commencements will be held at Tefft next Wednesday, at Wheatfield next Thursday and Friday night. The town holds its commencement on Thursday and the township on Friday night. Commencements were issued to the Tefft and Wheatfield high schools last week.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Margaret Fay Keller answered death summons Saturday evening, April 10, 1920, at 7 p. m. at East St. Louis, Illinois, where she had been at work for eight months for Mr. Herman Sternberg. The funeral was held at the M. E. Church at Fair Oaks, Ind. Burial was made in Fair Oaks cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Keller was born Feb. 17, 1870. She joined the M. P. church in 1888. In 1893, March 3, she was united in marriage to Benjamin Keller to whom three sons were born, Harry, Claude, and Cecil Keller.

Mrs. Keller lived in Fair Oaks, Ind., most of her life-time, until 1907, when she joined in work, with Mr. Sternberg. She was reliable and faithful until death. Mrs. Keller's death was caused by heart failure.

In December, 1919 she was in Kankakee to pay a visit to her son, Harry, at the hospital and she told him to live as she was living, so when God called he would be ready to answer the call.

Her untimely death was a great shock to her sons, sisters and brothers, also relatives and friends. On Saturday she was so happy all day. In the evening she passed away, just like the flower withers. She, too, faded away.

She was an exceedingly good mother, and faithful to her boys until death. She leaves three sons, five grand children, five sisters and one brother and several nieces and nephews and a great many friends to mourn their loss.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and assistance and use of their automobiles and for the floral tributes during death and burial of our mother and sister. And to especially thank the singers and pianist.
