

"Even a professor can learn"

THE PROFESSOR dropped in.
LAST NIGHT and said.
HE HAD a puzzle.
YOU KNOW he speaks.
FIFTY SEVEN kinds.
OF HIGHBROW talk.
BUT HE'D just heard.
TWO FELLOWS talking.
SOMETHING LIKE this.
"HERE'S THE real cheese,
ON THE kind of butt.
FOR STEADY stuff."
"SPILL IT," said the other.
SO THE first one said.
"IT'S GOT the goods,
AND PEP and all.
JUST TOUCH one off.
AND YOU'LL be living.
THE LIFE of Reilly.
I FELL for it, and gee.
I'M JAKE for keeps.
AND SITTING on the world."
AND THE second one said.
"JUST SLIP us one.
FOR THE double-O."
AND THAT was all.
I LAUGHED and pointed.
OUT THE window.
AND THE prof read.
THE ELECTRIC sign.
AND HE was on.
THE SIGN just said.
"THEY SATISFY."

THERE may be a hundred other ways to say it, but in good plain United States, it's "they satisfy." Those fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos and that can't-be-copied Chesterfield blend put Chesterfields where none can touch them for quality and value.

AFTERMATH.

The boatswain does not pipe us now, the coxswain does not call; We do not stir at reveille and rise to curse it all. Gone are the watches, ships and crew; the danger, toll and strife; The war, is over now and we are back in civil life.

Yet shall we, shall we soon forget that life of yesterday— The ships, the men, the ports, the stars, the seas, the open way? In future years amid the joys of friends and home again Will dreams not come like rising tides to haunt us now and then?

Will dreams not come like Channel dawns to tow us from the room? Will ships not rise before our eyes and beckon in the gloom? Shall we not hear as through a fog some lonely bell buoy ring, And yearn again for ships and men and high adventuring?

Aye, memories shall come again like mists above the sea, And all the years ahead shall know and breathe the used-to-be; The used-to-be of ships, of men, blue water, wind and skies— And who, shipmates, among us now would have it otherwise? —Morrow Mayo in Home Sector.

GUARD HEALTH OF GREENLAND

Elaborate Precautions Against the Introduction of Contagious Diseases Into That Country.

There has not been a case of contagious disease in Greenland since 1825, according to an article in the Wide World magazine by Roger Pock, the last being one of smallpox 95 years ago. The reason for this is not, as would at first seem probable, that the severe cold makes the natives immune, but to a directly opposite cause. The microbes of even such mild diseases as measles and influenza are so deadly in this northern island, epidemics wiping out entire tribes, that the government of Denmark, which owns the island, has forbidden all commerce with the natives except by certain accredited agents. So strict is this rule that all who visit Greenland—clergy, doctors, mechanics, tradesmen and marines—have to strip and submit to a medical examination before they are allowed to land. Liquor also has been found to have a serious effect and all persons in the "Royal Trade," as it is called, are sworn to give no liquor to the natives. This, says the writer, is perhaps the reason that while the Eskimo tribes of Alaska, Siberia, Canada and Labrador are rapidly dying out, the Greenlanders show a steady increase in number.

Foot Ease

When the sun shines hot and the thermometer tries to run over, then is when your feet begin to get cranky.

So treat them to a pair of Dr. A. Reed Cushion Shoes, and keep them cool and comfortable all through the hot months.

Shoes, like the ones in the window, Smith and Easy Joint, are the kind for your summer wear.
