Does the average woman stop to think and question concerning her love for a man?

Could you solve the mystery of the abandoned room? Is there anything that a man could do that would kill the love of a woman? Who was responsible for the strange disappearance of Silas Blackburn? Is a victim of aphasia responsible for what he does? Is there a love so strong and powerful that it overlooks all faults of man?

She is one of the most popular and pleasing young ladies of that community. She has a large circle of friends and is loved by all who know her.

HISTORIC LAFAYETTE HOTEL ORDERED CLOSED

Unless extensive repairs ordered by the state fire marshal are made at the Bramble house in Lafayette, the historic establishment, which for nearly seventy-five years has been doing business at the same location, must close its doors. The hotel is one of the oldest in Indiana.

In its early days it was visited by many distinguished men including Presidents, United States senators, supreme court judges and celebrated actors. The formal opening of the hotel, after it had been rebuilt and refurbished in 1855, was an event of such importance that it brought several hundred visitors to the city at a time when railroads were still a curiosity in Indiana. During the last ten years it has changed hands several times.

George H. Lehman of Boswell has been missing from his home since June 7 and his wife is endeavoring to find some trace of his whereabouts. He left home on June 7 on a business trip to Bedford. Calling on relatives in that city he told them he was going to Terre Haute.
