GREAT THROG MEETS HARDING

a clear, full voice that penetrated far into the crowded outskirts of the pavilion. Points he wished to drive home with particular force he emphasized by aggressive gestures, and several times he brought the crowd to its feet cheering as he hammered with clenched fists to land his blows where they would tell.

His thrusts at the League of Nations were awarded by repeated thunder claps of cheering, but the passage the crowd seemed to like best came almost at the end of the hour and a half of speaking, when he voiced his humility in the presence of the responsibilities of the presidency and then, squaring his broad shoulders, added that his confidence in the support of his fellow-citizens made him "wholly unafraid."

In his discussion of the league he made no direct recommendation for rejection of the peace treaty and did not take up in detail the league covenant. Contenting himself with the declaration that the league as conceived by the President was unthinkable, he passed on to state his own view of what should be done.

America Demands Peace.

"In the call of the conscience of America is peace," he said, "peace that closes the gaping wound of world war and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding as I do this call and knowing as I do the disposition of congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."

"Disposed as we are, the way is simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, special, unselfish way to do our part. * * * With a Senate advising as the constitution contemplates, I would approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of notions to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world."

MUST NOT HUNT WILD GAME ON SUNDAYS

Warning has been sounded by George N. Mannfield, chief of the division of fisheries and game under the state conservation department, that the law making it an offense to hunt wild game on Sunday will be rigidly enforced. The penalty upon conviction is a fine of not less than $1 and not to exceed $50.

"There is no fish law in Indiana that makes it an offense to fish on Sunday, and therefore the wardens of the state service will not arrest persons for Sunday fishing because they have not the time to spare from their business to fish at any other period in the week."

VICTORY MEDALS SENT OUT ON INDIVIDUAL APPLICATION

Washington, July 21.—Victory medals are being issued by the war department to world war veterans on individual application only and no arrangements have been made with the American Legion to distribute the medals, Secretary Baker has informed Marvin G. Sperry, president of the Private Soldiers and Sailors' Legion. Sperry recently sent a protest to the secretary saying that national headquarters of the American Legion had announced that arrangements had been made for that organization to distribute the medals.

Secretary Baker's reply, after denying that arrangements had been made with the American Legion to distribute the medals, said that "any arrangements made by the American Legion with the members of that society after they have received the medals is a matter over which this department exercises no jurisdiction."

Close to Perpetual Motion.

The nearest approach to perpetual motion was a clock constructed in 1774 by James Cox, a jeweler at Shoe lane, London. This clock kept the scientific world guessing for years. The energy that made it run was derived from the changes in atmospheric pressure—a barometer was the sole motive power. Ferguson, the scientist, saw this clock; said it unquestionably would run until its parts were out. The last heard of it, it had been sent as a gift to the Chinese emperor, from whom it later was stolen.

THE FINGER NAIL'S HISTORY.

The rapidity of the growth of the nails is indicative of the health. The growth of the nails on the right hand is in most people more rapid than of those on the left hand. Another curious point is that the rate of growth of the nail depends directly on the length of the finger; thus the nails on the two middle fingers of men grow more rapidly than those on the first and third fingers respectively, and these in turn are more speedy in the growth than those on the little finger.

JASPER COUNTY AGRICULTURAL NEWS

More Certification.

Mr. R. S. Thomas of the soils and crops department at Purdue came to Rensselaer Friday morning and the county agent accompanied him to one of Ferman Thompson's farms, which is in charge of Mr. Fred Iliff, where he certified their Improved American oats and Wing's Pedigreed barley. The oats is of a fine quality and a very high constant yielder. The barley is exceptionally clean and free of mixtures. They also have some especially good Gladden seed wheat which they were unable to certify on account of a little too high per cent of smooth foreign wheat. The Gladden wheat is being very highly recommended by Purdue for this section and would certainly advise any one sowing seed wheat to get in touch with Mr. Iliff and make arrangements for same, as the supply is limited and they have placed a reasonable price at present of $3.00 per bushel on same.

It might be of interest to state that the foreign wheat above mentioned looks so good to us that an endeavor will be made to get a start out enough of same to get a start on it.

Poultry Culling Demonstration.

Those interested in the culling of poultry will have the opportunity of receiving instructions on this important project, out at Mr. Oscar Hauter's Wednesday afternoon, August 4th, at 2:00 p. m. One of the Poultrymen from the poultry extension department at Purdue will be here to put on the demonstration.

In the forenoon of Wednesday, August 4th, at 9:30 a. m. the same instructions will be given at Alfred Duggeby's home west of Tefft. Mrs. Duggeby has the pure bred Rhode Island Reds and Mrs. Hauter has the pure bred Barred Plymouth Rocks.

Come, every lady that can possibly come, and avail yourself of this opportunity and learn how to get rid of your boarder hens. With the present high prices of chickens it doesn't pay to keep hens on the place that are not laying or those that have not been laying.

Please remember the date and time and talk it to your neighbor and get her to go to the demonstration with you. Both homes are well known and you can feel free to come and make yourselves at home.

District County Agents' Meeting.

The county agents and their wives of this district met at Battle Ground where a big picnic dinner was served, with plenty of ice cream and watermelons. Those that attended the picnic from the University were: Messrs. T. A. Coleman, W. A. Ostrander, Rosencrans, Shanklin, Robertson and Lloyd.

After the dinner was served the picnicers listened to talks given by Mr. Ostrander and Mr. Shanklin. Mr. Ostrander's talk was on certification of wheat and the fly free rates in the different sections of Indiana. He said that the time to sow wheat in Jasper county was the 27th of September. They had just finished up the certification of wheat in Indiana last week and found that many counties would not have enough seed wheat for the acreage that would be put out this fall. They have several thousands of acres of wheat certified but would not be near enough to go around. He emphasized the fact that certified wheat means purer wheat with higher yielding and milling qualities.

If any of the farmers in Jasper county would like to obtain some of this certified wheat the county agent is ready to help you get it.

Mr. Shanklin gave the history of Battle Ground which was for the benefit of the ladies and was much enjoyed by all.

Tractor Demonstration.

There will be a tractor demonstration on Simon Thompson's Farm just north of Rensselaer on the Jackson highway Saturday afternoon, July 31st at 2:00 p. m. This will be a farmer's competitive meet with owners driving their own tractor. Each dealer is to secure one farmer with his tractor. The judges will be well known farmers selected by the county agent. They will judge on percentage bases of several different points which will be published later. The meet in reality is to be judged along the line of educational features for the benefit of the farmer and men interested in tractors. So take off a few hours and witness a real tractor demonstration.

Directors of the Breeders' Assn. Meet.

The directors of the Jasper County Breeders' Association met in the county agent's office Monday evening July 19th at 8:30 p. m. and was called to order by the president, Mr. E. F. Alter. It was the unanimous vote of all that a larger and better live stock show than ever before, be held in Rensselaer this fall. The following committees were appointed to push the show to success:

Committee on Finance—Mrs. E. P. Lane, Russell Van Hook, P. H. Hauter.

Committee on arrangements—Richard McElroy, Geo. M. Myres, Chas. Schleman, Max Kepner.

Committee on amusements—Russel Van Hook.

Committee on stock is composed of the directors.

Committee on Publicity—County Agent.

Stock shows are very essential for the uplift of livestock in agriculture. They create interest in better pure bred animals with outstanding qualities and performance both in the show ring and marketing. They also create a greater desire for pure bred sires which are in demand all over the world. It is hoped that everybody will contribute to the success of the live stock show this fall. Be a booster for your county and its live stock industry.
