Porch Shades

The ventilating feature makes the shades doubly desirable, for they permit a perfect circulation of air at all times. They are constructed of thin, tough, linwood splints, woven together with a durable seine twine and stained with weatherproofing oil stains. Porcelain rings are used in place of rusting, sticking pulleys. Adjustable Guy Cords prevent flapping in the wind.

They are made in tan and green colors, 6 feet 8 inches long and in all widths from 3 to 12 feet. Priced from $5.00 up.

GOVERNOR HANLY AUTO VICTIM

EX-GOVERNOR J. FRANK HANLY KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT IN OHIO SUNDAY

Denison, Ohio, Aug. 1.—J. Frank Hanly, former Governor of Indiana and candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket in 1916, and Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Baker of Kilgore, O., were killed six miles from here early today when a Pennsylvania freight train struck the automobile in which the party was driving to Kilgore.

All three suffered fractured skulls and crushed bodies. They did not regain consciousness after being brought to a local hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Baker had met Mr. Hanly in Denison at 6:45 o'clock this morning and were driving him to their home in Kilgore, twenty miles from here.

Ex-Governor Hanly, known as a militant Methodist, reformer, lawyer, author and statesman, was born April 4, 1863, in a log cabin near St. Joseph, Champaign county, Illinois. He received his education at Eastern Illinois Normal School, taught school for nine years, then studied law. He was admitted to the bar at Williamsport, Ind., in 1889. In 1891 he was elected a member of the Indiana State Senate.

He was a member of Congress from 1895 to 1897. In 1904 he was elected Governor of Indiana by a majority of 85,000. As Governor he was active for reform and fought gambling and liquor interests.

Because of the failure of the Republican party to declare for prohibition in their 1916 platform ex-Governor Hanly deserted the party and aligned himself with the prohibitionists.

EVIL CONDITIONS

FACING WORLD

Rome, Aug. 1.—Evil conditions confronting the world today are outlined in a circular letter issued to the church by Pope Benedict today. The purpose of this letter is to proclaim throughout the world the fiftieth anniversary of the decree by which St. Joseph was named patron of the universal church, and in it the pontiff urges the Catholic world to celebrate for a whole year from December next with solemn function in honor of the saint.

"When the end of the war came," says the letter, "the minds of men led astray by militant passion, were exasperated by the length and bitterness of the conflict, and aggravated by famine on one side and accumulated riches in the hands of a few on the other. The war brought about two other evils—the diminution of conjugal fidelity and the diminution of respect for constituted authority. Licentious habits followed even among young women and there arose the fatal doctrine of communism, with the ablations between nations and between father and children. Terrible consequences ensuing have already been experienced."

The letter continues by illustrating the efficacy of the patronage of St. Joseph, "since the society of mankind is founded on the family, and anything strengthening Christian domestic organization also strengthens human society."

"HAVE YOU FOLKS HAD IT?"

My wife's husband is the latest victim stricken with the new dread disease which has been ravaging Rensselaer business men for several weeks. When it settles, it puts a man down—and also out (financially).

There is no cure once a guy gets "teed-up" on golf. He's neither safe nor sane. He must just run its nine hole course till the loss of balls breaks him (habitually and financially).

It's played with garden tools. Pick, mallet, hoe; any sharp piece of iron with a stick in it. Costs a dollar a day. That is, if you play it by the rules.

Hit a ball and look for it till you find it. If you don't want to look all day, hit another one. Only that makes it two dollars.

You practice form, stance, follow-thru, swing, back-spin and a dozen other things Webster never heard of. But all you ever develop is a chronic slice and a mule driver's vocabulary.

When a man like "Pa" Thompson (always considered and respected) sneaks away from the table and shatters a chandelier in the parlor practicing "form," I say, when a banker goes round raving about "bogies," "par" and "birdie"—well, I say its time to pity a fallen man. Or else challenge him to a game.

You tell 'em Pastor—you know how to SAVE 'em. "Storky" Simon Thompson, "Storky" Wright and Roy Lowman left Sunday for Lansing, Mich., to bring home three Oldsmobiles for THOMPSON & KIRK.

Farm leases for sale at the Republican office, grain and cash rent.

WEATHER.

Fair weather and moderate temperature tonight and Tuesday.

SERIOUS FIRE THREATENED

BUSINESS SECTION IN PERIL WHEN FLAMES BROKE OUT SHORTLY AFTER NOON.

A serious fire which for a time threatened the business section of the city, broke forth shortly after noon today, Monday, and except for the prompt and efficient action of the fire department one of the worst fires in the city's history would have been recorded. The fire broke out in the hose, tower just to the rear of the fire department building and it was only a matter of a few moments until the tower was a mass of flames.

The firemen confined their efforts for the most part toward preventing nearby buildings catching fire and were successful in their attempts to check the spread of flames.

Falling embers from the tower caused the roof of one or two of the other buildings to catch fire but these flames were quickly subdued and no damage resulted. The roof of a barn in the next block also caught on fire but the flames were wiped out by volunteer firemen with the aid of garden hoses.

No details of the fire or its origin were at hand at the time the Republican went to press and a more detailed account will be given in the Tuesday issue.

Fire Chief Montgomery and his men were to be commended on their quick and efficient service and had it not been that the city is so well protected against fire it is probable that a loss of thousands of dollars would have resulted.

BILLS PASSED BY SPECIAL SESSION

The following is a summary of the administration bills outlined by the governor in his opening message and acted upon favorably by both houses:

Emergency appropriation bill providing funds for state institutions which had exhausted their appropriations.

Restoring "lost amendments" to county unit road law and giving township trustees jurisdiction over dirt roads.

Restoring the fee of $5 per day to county auditors and treasurers for attending meetings of county boards of review.

Increasing the rate of public legal advertising in newspapers making it correspond more closely to commercial rates.

Providing for construction in Indianapolis of a war memorial building.

Remedial tax legislation dealing with invalidated horizontal increases in 1919 assessments.

Home rule tax bill giving local authorities control over bond issues and tax levies.

Abolishing employment commission and placing its functions in control of industrial board.

Composite bill including all election law changes necessary to provide facilities for additional voters created by ratification of federal suffrage amendment.

Coal commission bill authorizing state board of accounts to investigate and regulate prices of fuel.

Giving public service commission power to order priority for coal cars to mines with which the state has contracts for fuel.

The senate killed an administration bill making the rate of interest on all public bonds 6 per cent and on temporary loans 7 per cent was killed in the house.

GOOD GRAIN YIELDS.

George Kanne has threshed a forty-acre field of oats which yielded 2,740 bushels. Al Kanne had a field of oats which averaged seventy bushels.

Thirty acres of the farm occupied by Elmer Jacks in Marion township produced an average of twenty bushels of wheat to the acre.

Newton Sunderland, living on the S. E. Reece farm in Marion township, reports a yield of thirty-three bushels to the acre for ten acres.

A fly-infested field of Halligan brothers produced 16 bushels of wheat to the acre. Several acres which were not injured by the fly produced twenty-six bushels to the acre.

The above are a few of the grain yields which were furnished us by the elevators today, Monday, and others will be furnished from day to day. It seems that Jasper county is going to have a very good crop record this year and that practically every acre is going to give a good yield.

NEW MEMBER HOSPITAL BOARD

Mrs. Marion I. Adams was appointed a member of the Jasper County hospital board in place of Louis H. Hamilton, who had resigned.

The appointment of Mrs. Adams makes the board members conform with the law. Two are Democrats, Mrs. Adams and E. P. Honan and two are Republicans, Charles Peck and J. D. Allman. But two now reside in Rensselaer.

The appointment of a woman on the board is a splendid idea. Mrs. Adams' appointment is a most excellent one.
