Americanism

LEONARD WOOD

Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion, religion or politics.
—Thomas Jefferson: First inaugural address.

AN intending immigrant who has read these words finds in them sufficient impulse for his change of state. Perhaps nowhere can there be found a better description of the foundations of American political life than in these words of the third president. In them is to be found the essence of Americanism, as the fathers intended it to be.

Americanization, whether of the native born or the foreign born, includes within its scope an effort to make all citizens realize that freedom of thought and the right to express it are birthrights, provided of course that the freedom does not become license and the words are not counter to the spirit of Americanism itself.

For ages the right to think and to speak the thoughts of the heart were denied to men in many of the countries of the world. America was the first real refuge for those who were seeking a place where they could, with others, have a voice in their government and the right to pray to God after a manner dictated by their consciences. It was one among the few countries of the world one hundred years ago where the words "equal and exact justice to all men" meant what they said. The words are as true today of the United States as they were when Jefferson spoke and this is said in full knowledge of the fact that complaints of inequalities of justice frequently are heard. All things are comparative. Justice falls less frequently in the United States than elsewhere. It is within the power of people acting under American impulses, using their voices and their votes to the purpose to make all complaints groundless and to bring that perfection of procedure which shall insure to justice a permanent place in this country's life.

"Of whatever politics," Americanism pays no heed to the color of a man's politics. It is in the nature of things, that a man's political opinions are his own not to be interfered with nor their expression denied.

Americanization, and again let it be said whether of the native born or of the foreign born, does not concern itself with a man's political faith, but it should concern itself deeply with giving a man a proper understanding of the bases of the political faiths of the country of which he is a citizen.

"Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state, persuasion, religion or politics." This is the foundation upon which the great American political faith is built.

Five Minutes' Inspection Will Prove SELLERS Supremacy

Come to our store and in five minutes we will show you fifteen major conveniences in the Sellers Kitchen Cabinet that will prove to you why it is preferred by most women. They are improvements never before combined in a single cabinet — every one a worth-while convenience — a labor-saver and absolutely essential for perfection.

SELLERS KITCHEN CABINETS

"The Best Servant in Your House"

These conveniences cost over $100,000 extra annually, yet the price of a Sellers is no greater than the price of any good cabinet. When you buy a Sellers, it gives you the advantage of the best at the price of a good one. In no other will you find the Automatic Lowering Flour Bin. This is a convenience that eliminates lifting, straining and danger of climbing on uncertain chairs. It lowers to the table level for filling; then easily glides back into place, automatically. Other features such as Base Shelf Extender, Anti-Proof Casters, Porcelain Work Table, all contribute their part to make the Sellers the pinnacle of cabinet perfection.

A visit to our store places you under no obligation to buy, but if you decide to order a Sellers, we will arrange terms to suit your income.

Here is your opportunity. Why go a day longer without the ease and leisure that a Sellers guarantees?

Prices of Dodge Cars NOT Reduced

Official confirmation of press dispatches from Detroit, announcing that there would be no reduction in the price of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars, has been received by W. I. HOOVER & SON, the Dodge Brothers dealers in this city. A telegram from C. W. Matheson, acting general sales manager, to the local dealer, says:

"Dodge Brothers' policy has ever been to give full value for the price asked. There will be no reduction in the present price of Dodge Brothers' motor cars. Newspaper reports to the contrary are absolutely untrue."

"Dodge Brothers' announcement was no surprise to us," said W. I. Hoover. "In fact, it is only substantiation of the Dodge Brothers business principles. At no time have they ever demanded an excess amount for their product. As in the past they will continue in the future to demand a fair return for their efforts."

"The mere fact that the demand for Dodge Brothers' motor cars is still greater than the supply, despite the great expansion program at the factory, has absolutely nothing to do with the decision to continue the present prices. In marketing their car Dodge-Brother have never made a point of price and will never sacrifice the quality of their product to enter price competition."
