

MAZOLA

MAZOLA-COOKED foods are more easily digested—because it is a vegetable fat, 100% pure, and is from an edible source.

Even after frying fish or onions the same lot of Mazola can be used for frying delicate foods. Merely strain and use it over and over again.

Mazola does not absorb any of the odor or flavor of the foods fried in it, nor does it smoke up your kitchen.

Once you try Mazola you will prefer it to lard or compounds.

Carrying On

THE refining of petroleum has been revolutionized during the past ten years. Otherwise the present use of automotive machinery would be impossible.

In 1910 the average yield of gasoline from crude was 11 percent, while in 1919 this average had risen to about 26 percent, without in any way, impairing the quality of the product.

This tremendous advance was the direct result of applying the findings of scientific workers to the problems of industry, and in this work the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has taken a leading part.

The chemists and technical experts who have charge of the manufacturing activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) have been pioneers in the scientific refining of crude oil.

Their success is attested by the fact that the Company has been able to produce an ever-increasing volume of gasoline from the petroleum available.

The gasoline problem is important, but it can and will be solved by individual initiative, stimulated by fair and reasonable competition.

In the solving of this problem, the interests of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), the manufacturer of automotive machinery, and the public are one—greatly increased production is essential.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is straining every fibre of its highly specialized organization to increase the quantity of gasoline which may be taken from the crude—to maintain the high standard of quality it has always insisted on, and to do this without disturbing the output of other useful and necessary refined products of petroleum which it must supply.

The records of these examinations are on file at Red Cross Headquarters at Rensselaer.

The Junior Branch—This branch of the American Red Cross is under the direction and guidance of Miss Helen L. Lamson, assisted by Miss Florence L. Ryan and the teachers in the various schools throughout the county. The schools in Rensselaer are practically organized at date, several district schools are now organized and by the end of October, or soon thereafter the other schools will be completed.

On May 1, 1920, the Home Service Secretary, Mrs. Nell Tritt Shafer, resigned and the work in that department was taken over by Miss Ida Milliken, of Rensselaer, until Sept. 1, 1920, when Miss Florence L. Ryan, of Jasper county, was appointed. Since then Miss Ryan has been engaged in various activities under the supervision of the Home Service committee, such as military, social, health and Junior.

On May 13, 1920, the chapter's nurse, Miss Nettie Jordan resigned and since that time the chapter has been without a nurse, but it is thought that one may be secured at an early date.

J. J. Hunt, chairman of executive committee.

BUT THEY DIDN'T TURN IT IN.

From Saturday's Indianapolis Times.

The Indianapolis Football Club is ready to turn in its first "worth while" victory of the season over Rensselaer, at Rensselaer, Sunday. The locals will put the finishing touches on their preparation for the contest with a practice drill at Fall Creek and College avenue, tonight.

The Indianapolis club is out to move Indianapolis up a notch or two on the independent grid hill this year and Manager Canning has rounded out a bunch of "hustlers" who should prove themselves well able to meet the work cut out for them.

The locals have not had to show much in their two early games, but when they meet the Rensselaer troop Sunday they will be forced to show all they know about the game. Rensselaer's High School and independent teams have always stacked up well and the independent team this year is said to be one of the strongest in Indiana.

AFTER a baking fails—becomes tough or soggy, you can't make it tender and tempting. It can't be "fixed." It is like spilled milk—"wasted."

But, there is a way to prevent this waste—every woman should use it—because a bake day loss these days is a real loss.

Calumet Baking Powder positively prevents failure. It has been doing it for millions of housewives for a third of a century.
