ARMISTICE DAY CAME

SECURED BY HIGH SCHOOL

Principal A. A. Shepler, manager of the high school football team, on Friday afternoon contracted with the management of the Kirklin high school team for a game to be played in this city the afternoon of November 11, the game to be one of the features of the Armistice day celebration. The game with Kirklin was originally set for Saturday, November 20. However, the failure of the Independent team to secure a game for November 11 and the desire of those in charge of the Armistice celebration, caused Manager Shepler to change the date of the Kirklin game.

Kirklin is conceded to be the class of the downstate teams and a real thriller can be looked forward to when they meet Rensselaer, and the game will have considerable bearing on the state championship. Rensselaer has been bumped once this season, but by a club outside of Indiana, leaving them a clean slate as far as Indiana is concerned. Kirklin has not yet tasted the dregs of defeat.

The game will be called at two-thirty o'clock at Riverside park.

WHOEVER IS ELECTED MUST

LEARN FROM PRESS

If a president-elect of this country didn't read the newspapers he might never learn he was elected. Although all other ceremonies and formalities are carefully taken care of by the law, no way is provided for the formal notification of a candidate that he has been chosen president.

When the vote of the electoral college is canvassed the result is spread on the journals of both houses of congress but there is no formal announcement to the candidate.

He finds out that he is elected the best way he can and then drops in at the White House on March 4 for inauguration.

HELP BOOST OUR SCHOOLS.

The Community Club held its first meeting of the year at the Primary Building Friday, October 29.

The work of the year was outlined. The chief subject is "The Education of the Child" and is to be taken up from several different angles. The first subject to be discussed was the Physical Welfare of Our Children. Miss Elizabeth King, the physical culture director, gave a demonstration to show the benefit derived from correct physical training.

Mrs. Turfner gave a discussion on the importance of physical culture from an osteopath's point of view. The committee served excellent refreshments.

Everyone who is interested in what our schools are doing for the boys and girls is invited to attend the meetings. If you come once we know you will come again and keep coming.

Senator Harding took not of the industrial situation now prevailing in many centers. Harding declared that the federal reserve board should make it easier for legitimate business to obtain working capital.

LEADING AGRICULTURALISTS

ON EXTENSION PROGRAM

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—Some of the leading agricultural speakers and thinkers of the country will be on the program at the twenty-third annual conference of agricultural extension workers of Indiana which will be held at Purdue University Nov. 3, 4, and 5, it was learned today when the program was given out.

In the list of speakers will be not only the leaders at Purdue, including President W. E. Stone, Director G. I. Christie, Deans Stanley E. Coulter, J. H. Skinner and Carolyn Shoemaker, but also many others from the university staff. Leaders of the farmer's organizations, including John G. Brown, of Monon, president of the Indiana Farmers' Federation and C. E. Gunnels, of Chicago, assistant secretary of the American Farm Bureau, will be on the program. Officers of a number of the county farmers' organizations in the state will attend the conference with the county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents, farmers' institute speakers, and others who will come to the gathering here.

Among the speakers from outside who are well known are Walter W. Bonner, Greensburg banker, who will discuss "The Farmer and the Business Man." He is chairman of the agricultural committee of the Indiana Bankers' Association. Clarence Henry, formerly assistant county agent leader in Indiana and prior to that agent in Allen county, will speak on "Our Country Youth." Mr. Henry now is a successful farmer at Hebron, O., and is farmers' institute instructor for Ohio State University. C. B. Smith, of the department of Agriculture will discuss relationship between government extension work and the farmers' organizations. C. G. Woodbury, formerly director of the Indiana experiment station, now connected with the National Canners' Association, will be another leading speaker.

SAME OLD STUFF

MOROCCO BOOTED OUT

On complaint of the Kentland high school, who resented being defeated by Morocco on the gridiron, the Morocco school has been barred from participation in athletics until after January 1. The specific charge made to the association by Kentland was that Morocco used "professional" football players in the game here October 9, substantiating their claim by evidence showing that certain members of the Morocco team had taken part in a game between the Morocco A. A. team and C. L. of Kankakee a few days previous. The decision also bars Morocco from playing basket ball until after January 1.

It was a surprise to Morocco people when they learned that Kentland had filed charges against us. No one denied that some of our boys played in the Kankakee game. They were given permission to do so, we understand, by Prof. Lewis, who thought they could do so and not disqualify themselves for further play on the high school team. But Kentland has proven themselves poor sports when complaining after being defeated, inasmuch as they knew all about the situation before the game.

Morocco can beat Kentland any time in anything, except possibly a county seat election.—Morocco Courier.

PROMINENT DEMOCRAT IS ## AGAINST COX ON LEAGUE

New York.—Frederic R. Coudert, a prominent Democrat and an authority on international law, has contributed $100 to the Republican campaign fund and announces that he will support Senator Harding for the presidency. He justifies his position by declaring that the experience of past years seems to have demonstrated the inability of the Democratic party to produce a sufficiently sound and practical leadership to meet present problems and by asserting that in his opinion the issue is not between the Wilson league of nations and no league but between the Wilson league and an association of nations which will be sustained by the majority sentiment of the people of the United States.

TO KEEP CHILDREN WHILE

MOTHERS VOTE FOR WATSON

Indianapolis, Ind.—Senator James E. Watson has many enthusiastic boosters over the state but none has volunteered to perform a more helpful service than Miss Maud Hunt of Indianapolis, who has known the senator and Mrs. Watson long and favorably and desires to see her favorite win by a smashing majority.

Miss Hunt is a trained nurse and she says that in addition to voting for Watson and getting her friends to do so, she is willing to give her services on election day to care for the children of Republican women who would otherwise be unable to go to the polls and vote for Senator Watson.

"I not only want to help Senator Watson because he is from my own home but because I know him to be a gentleman of the highest type and a statesman of the broadest ability," said Miss Hunt. "We ought to be proud to return him to the senate."

Miss Hunt said she comes of a Democratic family.

WATSON UPHOLDS BONUS BILL

UNITED STATES SENATE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Written from Rushville, Indiana

August 17, 1920

Mr. Max Kos,
1140 Lemcke Annex,
Indianapolis, Indiana.
My dear Kos:

I have your letter in regard to the Bonus.

Permit me to say that I have always favored legislation helpful to soldiers. I AM IN FAVOR OF THE BONUS BILL which was passed by the Republican House of Representatives at the last session of Congress.

Favoring the Bonus Bill, I will be following the record which I have maintained for every soldier bill that was ever before Congress while I have been a member. I supported the Fuller Bill giving from fifty to seventy-two dollars a month to all Civil War Veterans; I supported the Sells Bill giving generous allowances to Spanish-American War Veterans; I was the author of numerous measures helpful to the soldiers of the World War.

Having had two boys of my own in the Service—one a private in the Marines and another in the Infantry—I feel that I have a real and genuine interest in and abiding friendship for all who wear the uniform.

With best regards,

Cordially yours,

JAMES E. WATSON
