FORDSON TRACTOR MAKES RECORD RUN.
PLOWS FORTY DAYS AND NIGHTS: 900 ACRES WITHOUT REPAIRS

Stopping only for fuel and oil, a FORDSON tractor, owned by N. Korpus of Ludden, Dickey county, North Dakota, recently completed a record run of forty days. Three operators were assigned to the tractor, each working an eight hour shift, thus keeping the tractor in operation 24 hours a day. "Nine hundred acres were plowed without one minute's stop for repairs," says the affidavit received by the Ford Company from the FORDSON owner.

The tractor was equipped with electric lights. No special efforts were made to run a test. The farmer simply obtained his operators and set them to work, with the result that they set a new record.

Last week in this paper we set forth some operating costs, showing that a FORDSON is a MONEY SAVING TOOL FOR THE FARMER TO OWN. The above record of a FORDSON in the hands of an owner shows that the FORDSON is a dependable machine that will do your work with a freedom from repairs and annoyances that can not be equaled.

Next week we will have a word to say about SERVICE.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS.

Weevil Damages Wheat.

Farmers who are not sure that their wheat stored in the bin is O. K., should examine it at once. If the wheat was put into the granary damp, weevil are most sure to work in it. The damage can be enormous both in the amount of grain destroyed and the loss in price because of the presence of weevil. Weevil in a car of wheat will put it in the sample class.

"Carbon bisulphide will kill the weevil in a bin of grain. Level off the grain in the bin and place shallow plates such as pie pans and saucers one in each corner and one in the center. Fill these plates with the liquid and close the bin as near air tight as possible for 24 hours. If the top of the bin is open and air drafts are likely to circulate over the bin cover the wheat with sacks or blankets.

Use one pound of carbon bisulphide to 300 bushels of wheat or 300 cubic feet of grain.

Farmers' Federation Meetings.

The townships which are holding meetings this week are Newton on Tuesday evening, Hanging Grove on Wednesday evening, Walker on Thursday evening, and Kankakee on Friday evening. These township meetings are being well attended and much interest is being exhibited in their business sessions. Mr. Van Hook and the county agent are attending every one of these meetings trying to give the farmers every support possible with a view to bettering the market conditions.

Chicken Stealing.

It has been brought to our attention that the outlaws who are making a profession of stealing chickens are beginning to make themselves conspicuous by the number of chickens they are taking from the different farm hen houses. This is a business among all other thefts which the farmers' wives hate the most. After the ladies have worked hard all summer trying to raise a fine flock of chickens and get them matured to that point where they are beginning to be of some value to them in the way of meat and laying, it is surely a low down robbery which can hardly be expressed in words. These parties who are in this kind of business should be stamped out by whatever means possible, whether it be by concerted action of the neighbors in that community or the county or by the farmers' federation. No doubt the only means of stamping out this annual curse is for the farmers' federation to agitate the most strict and rigid laws pertaining to this kind of theft. Any body that will stoop to such a theft deserves the most strict penalty of the law, and that penalty to be none too easy.

County Agents' Conference.

The county agents of this district met in conference in the county agent's office in Lafayette Monday, December 13. Mr. Lloyd of the farm management department gave the county agents and the vocation teachers that were present, a schooling in far mbook accounting. He brought out the valuable points why the farmers should keep a record of their farm business and also showed that these records are most valuable at the end of the year in making up their income tax reports. Plans are under way to have one of these schools in Jasper county some time during the first two weeks of February.

Corn and Poultry Show.

The Jasper County Poultry Association is putting forth every effort to make the corn and poultry show which is to be held in Rensselaer the second week in January, the best show ever held here. A list of premiums is being printed now and will soon be ready for distribution.

GEORGE GIPP, NOTRE DAME STAR, DEAD

George Gipp, All-American half-back and recognized as the super-football player of 1920, died at a South Bend hospital early Tuesday morning, his death resulting from pneumonia and throat trouble.

Gipp's death was the culmination of a three weeks' illness which began in the form of tonsillitis.

Gipp displayed the same remarkable nerve and fight against death as he exhibited on the football field, and twice after suffering relapses he rallied and it seemed that he was to win against death, but his third relapse proved too much and he sank to his last rest at three-thirty o'clock.

Trustee Bowie made "Lefty" smile today when he told the sporting pen pusher that the leading lady of the Gordon Players was an artist of rare ability and that at each appearance at the Northern Jasper metropolis she became more popular with her audiences. "Lefty" says that is fine but he does not want this increase in popular favor to become individualized.

ATTENTION POCAHONTAS!

Bigness Necessary for Service

IN some farm operations, in many manufacturing lines, and, more particularly, in refining and distribution of petroleum products, large scale operations are essential to insure maximum economy and service.

The production of crude oil varies but little on account of seasonal changes, and the refining processes are continuous operations.

The consumption of petroleum products, however, varies widely with the season. In summer, consumption far outstrips production, while during the winter months the reverse is true.

To prepare himself for the summer rush, the oil refiner, who is ambitious to render a maximum service, must operate his refineries at full capacity throughout the year, and must provide adequate storage to take care of his surplus output during the winter months, and store it against a day of maximum demand when the country roads and city boulevards are crowded with machines, and the farmer has his tractor in the field.

To perform this service requires the investment of huge sums of money, and the maintenance of a complete organization at all times.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is ambitious to be a leader in the petroleum industry. It is ambitious to render to the people of the Middle West as near a perfect service as care, thought, and adequate resources can devise.

In carrying on its business, the Company has invested more than 185 million dollars; it operates four large refineries in which it manufactures the many varieties of petroleum products needed by the consuming public.

It operates 3215 bulk stations, more than 1000 filling stations, and a fleet of nearly 4000 tank delivery trucks.

Its permanent organization consists of about 23,000 efficient loyal men and women, working under one head, to render a service which makes it possible for you to get a gallon of gasoline, or a quart of oil, or a pound of grease, when you want it, and wherever you may be.

CALIF. RAISES 300,000 SACKS OF ONIONS ANNUALLY

California is among the first state in the production of onions with a record of 2,000 carloads out of the state and a record of 300,000 sacks raised annually.

So Dean Walter Mulford of the College of Agriculture of the University of California states in announcing a correspondence course from the University on the various methods of growing onions and on vegetable gardening in general.

"The onion has been considered an edible vegetable in all countries in the world," he said today. "The Romans and Greeks used it."

PILGRIM FATHERS' BONES EXHUMED AT PLYMOUTH

Plymouth, Mass., Dec. 14.—The bones of some of the Pilgrim fathers were exposed for a time today when the box in which they have been kept was taken from the canopy over Plymouth Rock where it had rested since 1880. Records do not identify the bodies, but the two relatively well preserved skulls and other bones found in the casket are reputed to be those of members of the colony who died during the ordeal of the first winter. The canopy is to be removed and the rock reset to bring it again to shore level.
