

THE first thing you want in foods—and the all important thing is purity. Cost—taste—everything else is of minor consideration.

Foods should be nourishing. That's what they are for—to build up strong, sturdy bodies.

Calumet Baking Powder is pure in the can. It is made in the largest, cleanest, most modern Baking Powder Factories on earth—only of such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by United States Food Authorities.

HERE'S THE BEST WAY

USE

BAKING POWDER

BEST BY TEST

It's pure in the baking. Calumet never fails to produce the sweetest and most palatable of nourishing foods.

It has more than the ordinary leavening strength. You use less of it. That's one reason it is the most economical of all leaveners.

Another reason is—it is sold at a moderate price—you save when you buy it.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Waffle Recipe
2½ cups sifted pastry flour, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 eggs beaten separately. Then mix in the regular way.

AND RENSSELAER GOT ALL THE BREAKS

The following account of the Morocco-Rensselaer football game is taken from the Morocco Courier. The Courier editor attributes the defeat of the home team to the fact that "ALL of the breaks went to Rensselaer," which statement borders on the ridiculous, as anyone who saw the game knows that not a single break went Rensselaer's way. In fact Rensselaer was compelled to battle against discouraging odds throughout the game, and if it had not been for the element of luck that was continually coming to the aid of the home team, Rensselaer would have won by a more comfortable margin.

The Courier editor also states that Morocco was beaten, not by a superior team, but superior play, which statement is rather confusing. How can a team be superior to its opponent if it does not play a superior brand of ball? But then every losing team must have some kind of an alibi, so perhaps Morocco is entitled to her's.

Editor Miller has taken a keen delight during the past month in announcing to his readers just how much money Rensselaer fans dropped on the Kentland-Rensselaer game and the Kentland-Morocco game, but fails to announce how much the Morocco-Rensselaer game cost the Morocco supporters.

His squawk follows: The Morocco football team, which had weathered the season of 1920 without a defeat, met their Waterloo last Sunday when the Rensselaer eleven came here and carried off the honors of the day 6 to 3.

The game was one of the best ever seen in this section. Both teams had put in a week of hard work preparing for the scrimmage, and when the signal came for the kick-off at 2:30 Sunday afternoon two perfectly drilled teams faced each other on Lucas field. So letter perfect were both teams that the backers of each were confident of victory and a large sum was wagered on the result.

During the first and second quarters neither side scored. Three times Morocco forged their way across Rensselaer's ten yard line and tried for a field goal, but each time the effort failed. In the third quarter the locals again crossed their opponents' ten yard line. Ringler, who was playing end, was called back for a field kick and the first score of the day was registered when the ball sailed squarely between the goal posts.

Rensselaer became desperate. Once again they saw defeat staring them in the face and when they had rejuvenated their team with the best players they had, they started a drive down the field that the tired and worn-out Morocco boys could not stop and near the end of the third period a clever fake line punch and end run play netted them a touchdown.

The breaks had been against Morocco all through the game and when the visitors topped the score, it took the pep out of all. Once again the locals obtained the ball in the fourth quarter and slowly pushed toward Rensselaer's goal. When only three yards from the coveted line Rensselaer took time out, put in new and fresh players and held Morocco for downs. Rensselaer obtained the ball and punted to the center of the field. Again Morocco started for the goal and were slowly but surely driving for a touchdown when the whistle announced the end of the game.

The game was one of the best ever played here or in Rensselaer, and this fact is admitted by all except a few disgruntled chronic kickers. Morocco admits defeat, fairly and squarely, not by a superior team, but by superior playing with the breaks against the home squad.

SIR: Will you kindly settle a dispute in which three of us girls have been indulging for ever so long a time. The question is not a new one, but has never been satisfactorily answered. 1. Is a tomato a fruit? 2. Is a tomato a vegetable?

It's almost sacrilege to say it but we can't resist the temptation. After the big Cork fire in Ireland how easy it would have been to blacken the faces of a home talent minstrel company.

Fortunately we can again gorge ourselves with kraut, and call it that, without any danger of being called a German sympathizer. Fact it, we were always a kraut sympathizer; if we did eat it during the war camouflaged under the name of cabbage silage.

RENSSELAER MAY AGAIN HAVE MILITIA COMPANY

Capt. Frank E. Livengood, of Indianapolis, is here today conferring with Herman B. Tuteur on the possibility of organizing a militia company in this city, the same to be done within the next ten days if possible. At the outbreak of the World War the militia companies were merged with the regular army divisions and have been out of existence since that time. A statewide campaign is being made by the military authorities in this state for the reconstruction of the Indiana National Guard, and if a sufficient number of enlistments can be secured here, equipment will be forwarded immediately and the organization of a company completed.

M'CRAY GETS LICENSE NUMBER 1

Distribution of the 1921 licenses for automobiles will begin at the state house, December 27th, after the Christmas mail rush is over. The new plates are salmon colored with black numerals. Many applications are on file. Number one will go to Warren T. McCray in accordance with a custom that the governor shall have the first plate. Requests for special numbers pester the officials in charge of the division but with the exception of fewer than a dozen special requests established by a number of years' custom the plates are issued in order of the application. More than 300,000 sets of license plates were issued for the year.
