GREAT CROWD HEARS SPEECH AND CHEERS W. J. BRYAN

Largest Audience to Ever Hear Political Speech in Putnam County Turns Out to Listen to the Great Commoner
Discuss the Issues of the Campaign —Talked for About 15 Minutes

AT LEAST 7000 PEOPLE THERE

Sunset Hill Never Before Presented the Sight It Did This Afternoon—Train Bearing the Great Commoner Reached Sunset Hill at 1:20—Col. Matson Accompanied
Mr. Bryan from Lafayette and Introduced Him to the Great Crowd

A crowd estimated at from 7,000 to 9,000 persons greeted W. J. Bryan at Sunset Hill this afternoon, when the Great Commoner addressed the people of Putnam County. Never before did as large a crowd attend a political meeting in Putnam County. Sunset Hill was literally covered with a surging mass of humanity and on the railroad right of way behind the speakers' stand were at least 1,000 people who could not get into the enclosure in front of the speakers' stand.

The crowd began to gather early and at 12:30 many were already on the ground. From that time on the people came in great crowds. A large enclosure had been wired off in front of the speakers' stand to prevent the buggies driving too near the stand.

At 12:45 Congressman Sullivan of Tennessee began to address the restless crowd, which at that time constituted several thousand. Mr. Sullivan spoke until the arrival of the Bryan train. The special was due to arrive at 1:15 but it was a few minutes late. The speakers' platform was placed at the edge of the railroad right of way with a shoot running to the train. Upon the arrival of Mr. Bryan he stepped out of the train upon the shoot and walked up on the stand. Col. C. C. Matson introduced Mr. Bryan to the crowd.

Crowd Cheers "The Commoner."
As the speaker stepped upon the stand the great crowd began to cheer and the whole hillside was a mass of waving hats, handkerchiefs and umbrellas. After several seconds of applause the noise diminished sufficiently to allow Col. C. C. Matson to introduce the speaker. As Mr. Bryan began to speak a hush fell over the audience and everyone in the crowd was all attention. Frequently there were hearty bursts of applause. Mr. Bryan spoke for about 15 minutes. He then returned to his train and started on his way south.

The special train consisted of an engine and two special coaches. The two coaches were full of prominent Democrats and newspaper men, who are accompanying Mr. Bryan on his tour through the state. Stokes Jackson, state chairman, was in the party and was one of those to leave the train and take a seat upon the platform.

WHAT MR. BRYAN SAID

Synopsis of the Argument of the Speech Made by the Democratic Candidate This Afternoon.

Mr. Bryan paid his respects to several of the issues of the day. He declared that anyone who was in favor of purity in politics, honestly in favor of elections uninfluenced by money and secret pull could not be against the publicity plank in the when he puts his money in a bank he ought to get it out again, can understand the bank guarantee proposal.

If you elect the Republican ticket, after their record of 1907, make them give bond that they will not cause another panic. Their word is not good.

If Mr. Taft and the president could not prevent the panic of 1907 when Mr. Taft was in the cabinet, how can Mr. Taft all alone accomplish this result when the president is off in South Africa.

If you vote the Republican ticket without knowing who contributed to the campaign you may be sorry when you see the list of contributors—after the election.

NOTES OF THE DAY

The Bainbridge Band arrived early this morning.

Many stores closed to allow the employees to hear Mr. Bryan.

and by eight o'clock many were on the streets.

The DePauw Democratic Club, headed by a drum corps, marched to the grounds.

Everybody was in good humor and all were strong in their advocacy of Mr. Bryan and his ideas.

The down-town stores and many residences displayed flags and bunting in honor of Mr. Bryan's visit.

The crowd began to arrive early. At least two hundred buggies were on Sunset Hill behind the wired-in enclosure. Everybody was there.

Col. C. C. Matson accompanied Mr. Bryan on his southern tour. Mr. Bryan will speak in Louisville tonight.

The Bainbridge Band, headed a large delegation which marched from the square to Sunset Hill at near 12:30 o'clock.

Cloverdale township was here en masse. Seventy-five tickets for Greencastle were sold this morning and at noon 40 more came up. Beside there were many who drove up.

Col. C. C. Matson, who introduced the speaker of the day to the great crowd, went to Crawfordsville this morning and came down on the Bryan Special. Col. Matson and Mr. Bryan are long time friends.

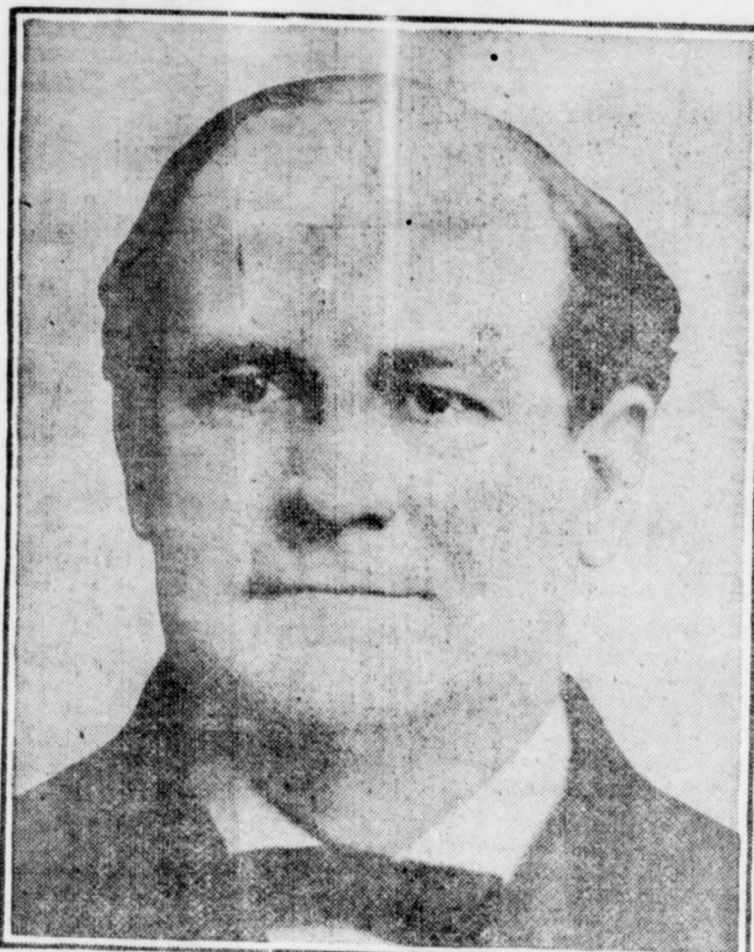

The Hon. R. D. Sullivan, Congressman from Tennessee, arrived this morning from Wisconsin, where he had been stamping the state. Mr. Sullivan addressed the crowd at Sunset Hill until the arrival of Mr. Bryan.

James P. Priest of Bainbridge, 75 years old, was an early morning caller at the Herald office. Mr. Priest although old in years, is strong and hearty. "Yes, I'm here to hear the next President," said Mr. Priest. "I'm just as young as I ever was and could walk from Bainbridge to Greencastle to vote for Bryan, if it was necessary."

MRS. WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

Mrs. Bryan is accompanying her husband on his trip through Indiana. She witnessed the great crowd who turned out today to hear her husband. Mrs. Bryan could not suppress her delight and appreciation, as she witnessed and heard the great oration tendered Mr. Bryan.

THE STUDENTS APOLOGIZE S. C. TAPP FOR PRESIDENT

Sophomores Who Took Part in the Attack Upon Rev. C. Fenwick Reed Ask Pardon on Ground of Mistaken Identity.

CASE WILL BE DROPPED NOW

Last night the four members of the Sophomore class, who, through mistake in identity, made an attack upon Rev. C. Fenwick Reed, Saturday night, appeared at the home of the evangelist and apologized. They stated that they had made the attack through a mistake in names and persons. They were seeking a freshman by the name of Reed, and were told that he lived at that place. When they asked for Reed they were understood to ask for Reed, and so the mistake was mutual.

Rev. Reed said this morning that the affair was at an end. The case will be dropped, and the evangelist requests that the names of the students shall not be published. Mrs. Reed, who was greatly worried when she believed the attack was made by thugs, is now able to laugh over the experience, and to look upon it as a joke.

THE STANSFIELD MEETING

Small Crowd to Hear the Indianapolis Clergyman at the Court House Monday Night—Republicans Not Responsible.

The Rev. Joshua Stansfield came to Greencastle to make a political temperance speech. There was but a small crowd out to hear him. As a matter of fact the temperance work now being done in Greencastle is in secret, and the means used is not temperate, at least so far as the truth is concerned. The local Republicans disclaim any knowledge of the coming of Rev. Stansfield. Others hold that the small crowd was due to the fact that it was advertised as a temperance meeting and not as a Republican speaking, and local Republicans forgot for what the party is now posing.

The speech was a presentation of the temperance situation as it appears to the speaker, and included the recommendation that all the Republican candidates should be elected, since they were the guardians of the state's morality. Between fifty or seventy-five persons heard the speech.

Sidney C. Tapp is Now a Full Fledged Candidate for President of the United States on the Newly Formed Liberal Ticket.

WILL SPEAK AT INDIANAPOLIS

Today at Chicago Sidney C. Tapp, of Atlanta, was notified of his nomination as a candidate for President of the United States on the newly formed Liberal ticket, which, like the Hearst ticket is a product of this campaign. We do not learn, however, whether Mr. Tapp's ticket is solely for the purpose of defeating one of the other tickets or not.

Although today was set for the formal notification of Mr. Tapp he has been busy and has made several campaign speeches. We are not familiar with his line of talk or with the issues of the Liberty party, but Mr. Tapp says that on account of his being unable to make a complete tour of the country for all those who love, etc. to vote their sentiments—meaning the Liberal ticket. Mr. Tapp is scheduled to speak at Indianapolis within a short time. He will make a flying trip taking in Indianapolis, Louisville and Cincinnati.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEET

The non-commissioned high school teachers of Putnam County will meet at the County Superintendent's office Saturday, October 24, at ten o'clock to discuss the following program:

"The New Difficulties Found in a Commissioned High School," by P. B. Hutcheson, superintendent of the commissioned high school at Roachdale.

"How to get Pupils Interested in Ancient History," by J. R. Westhaver, principal of the accredited high school at Cloverdale.

"Difficulties Encountered in Teaching Higher Mathematics," by Frank Wallace, principal of the Broadpark high school.

"How to Teach English Composition," by Miss Flora Vandament, principal of the Reelsville high school.

KATHERINE CRAWFORD WED

Announcements of the marriage of Miss Katherine Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Crawford of Crawfordsville, and Charles H. Shank of Indianapolis have been received here by the many friends of the bride. The marriage was on Saturday, October 19, at Crawfordsville. Miss Crawford and her parents are well known here having visited Mrs. Mary McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Foreman here on many occasions.

Walter Wellman Says State is Sure For Democrats on Both State and National Tickets.

Walter Wellman, staff correspondent for the Chicago Record-Herald, a red hot Taft paper, uses five columns in that paper Sunday to show why neither Taft or Watson can carry Indiana. Mr. Wellman is a political expert and has just completed a thorough study of Indiana.

Mr. Wellman in summing up the situation says that Bryan will carry Indiana by 40,000 plurality, that the Republican managers admit Watson is beaten and that it is a 5 to 1 shot that the Democrats will carry the Legislature and elect a United States Senator and that two or three Congressmen will go with the hide. Wellman says there is no possible chance for either Taft or Watson carrying Indiana this year.

Fire which started yesterday afternoon from burning trash on the farm of Charley Frakes, two miles west of Brick Chapel, burned over twenty acres of land, destroying nine hay stacks and much fencing. The fire burned all night and was still burning this morning. The loss will reach into the hundreds of dollars.

For a time a large corn field was threatened. Virtually every man in the neighborhood turned out to fight the blaze and by hard efforts managed to save the field.

J. F. Crisk the tenant on the farm was burning burs on the farm yesterday afternoon when the fire got a start on him. This occurred near 3:30 o'clock. The fire spread over the meadow rapidly and soon the hay stacks began to go. Help was summoned and an effort made to stop the blaze, but it had gained such headway that there was little use.

Fencing went in a hurry and soon the flames began to threaten a corn field. Virtually every man in the neighborhood was at the scene by this time and all effort was directed toward saving the corn. Finally after much effort the field was saved. The fire burned all night and was still burning this morning. A large number of the farmers watched the fire all night. The fire caused the air to be filled with smoke. The loss will reach far up into the hundreds of dollars.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS

Who Gives the Money?

It is said that Mr. Sheldon's committee is now getting lots of money. There are all sorts of stories, which, in the absence of authoritative information, the people have a perfect right to believe. We are told that the Wall Street brokers have been assessed $500 each, and that they are paying the assessment. It is rumored that $300,000 has been raised in Wall Street within the last two weeks. As a result those statesmen who think that elections are merely financial affairs seem to be somewhat encouraged. Now, as we have said, there is no way of knowing whether these reports are true. Of course, they will be denied when it is felt that they are doing harm to the cause. But denials will count for little, since it would be an easy matter to put the people right. All that Mr. Sheldon, treasurer of the national committee, has to do is to publish a full list of his contributions with the names of the men making them. But this is what Sheldon refuses to do. In one of his speeches, Friday, Mr. Bryan said:

What evils are marshaled behind the Republican ticket? What debts are being contracted, what mortgages are being given? Let there be light. The Democratic committee has set the example. For the first time in our national history a national committee has taken the nation into its confidence and given forth a list of its contributors. This is in the interest of honest politics and honest government. It opens a new era. Will the Republicans dare to defy a universal sentiment and maintain the secrecy that has given predatory wealth its hold upon the government? The Republican national convention deliberately voted down a plank pledging publicity and the Republican candidate insists that the contributions should not be made known until after the election, when the information can be of but little service.

We do not believe that Mr. Sheldon and Mr. Taft realize what a painful impression is being created by this contrast between the action of the two committees. Every important issue in the campaign is involved. For instance, the Republican party promises a revision of the tariff. But what sort of revision? That may depend, as it has depended on the past, on what interests contribute to the campaign fund. The attitude of the party toward the trusts may be powerfully affected by money paid by the trusts into Mr. Sheldon's fund. So with the railroads—so with the "interests" generally. The only definite suggestion concerning tariff revision that we have had are from Mr. Taft and Senator Hemenway. The former thinks that the present very high duties on pottery ought to be raised, while Mr. Hemenway thinks that possibly it may be found advisable to increase the tinplate tariff, in spite of the fact that vast fortunes have been made under the present duties. Have the pottery and the tinplate people contributed to the Republican fund? No one knows. No one will know—till after the election.

The Republican party can not claim to be above suspicion in this regard. For years it has been levying on the great protected industries; for years it has allowed them practically to write our tariff laws. The only way to dispel the suspicion is for the Republican party to take the people fully into its confidence.

In our opinion, this is one of the most important issues in this campaign. It is important in itself, and important in its bearing on other issues. In these closing days of the struggle we have the old stories of big contributions from men selfishly interested in the result of the election, stories which in the past have been found to be largely true. Yet the only possible method of denying them is not resorted to. What ought the people to think? What can they think? Is it true that within the last two weeks Sheldon has received more money from Wall Street than has been received by the Democratic committee during the whole campaign? We can not tell. For the knowledge is withheld.—Indianapolis News.

LaFollette's Brother Comes Out for Bryan.

A dispatch from Chicago says: William T. LaFollette, a brother of Senator LaFollette at Wisconsin, has come out strongly for the election of William Jennings Bryan. Mr. LaFollette emphasized his decision to vote and worry for Bryan by traveling with the Democratic candidate on his trip through Wisconsin. Mr. LaFollette informed Mr. Bryan that he knew the Senator was at heart whole-ly in sympathy with him and his platform, several of the chief planks of which have been and are still advocated by the progressive Wisconsin statesman. Said Mr. LaFollette: "Bob is simply supporting Mr. Taft for the sake of party regularity in much the same way as Mr. Bryan supported Mr. Parker four years ago. His heart, however, is for Bryan and the principles for which he stands. Bob ought to be a Democrat; he stands for things which are Democratic. I know the feeling of the men who are the supporters of my brother in Wisconsin and I know that they are going to vote for the great Commoner."

NOW IT IS KELLOGG

Another Republican Campaign Manager Allied to the Trusts—The Minnesota National Committeeman Attorney for the Steel Trust—Some Questions That Indicate Why the Republicans Need Not Be Expected to Suppress Trusts.

Every day there are new developments to show that the Republican party is in the control of the trusts. The head of the powder trust, under indictment, has been bounced from the committee, but the house cleaning has just begun. During the week the Chicago Journal and other papers have shown that Acting Chairman Nagel, of the Republican national committee, was the attorney for the Standard Oil trust in the big suit Republican Attorney General Hadley, of Missouri, brought to drive that trust out of Missouri. The New York World has shown that the Republicans in New York refused to nominate George R. Sheldon as lieutenant governor of that state because his trust connections were so notorious that the people would not stand for him, and yet he is the treasurer of the Republican national committee. In Chicago, the assistant treasurer of the Republican committee is a member of the board of review. As such he passes upon tax assessments. A few weeks ago he scandalized the country by sending letters to corporations, upon whose assessments for taxation he must pass, asking them to contribute to the Republican campaign fund. Nearly all the "advisory committee" has close trust affiliations, and were appointed to "try the fat" out of the trusts.

And now, by way of Seattle, come questions disclosing the fact that Frank B. Kellogg, the member of the national Republican executive committee from Minnesota, who, as a member of the platform committee in the convention that nominated Taft, is said to have drafted the evasive plank in the Taft platform, is so related to the steel trust as to disqualify him to represent the people in the contest between the trusts and the people. The Seattle Times, after showing that the trust magnates control the Republican party, adds another dark chapter to trust domination of that party in the following questions prepared by a citizen of Seattle:

"Was not Frank B. Kellogg, the attorney whom President Roosevelt appointed to fight the Standard Oil company, the general counsel of the Oliver Mining company of Minnesota for a period of ten years? But the Oliver Mining company of Minnesota is only another name for Standard Oil.

"Is not Kellogg even now the general counsel for the United States Steel company of Minnesota? Is he not paid a very large salary by that corporation, and been so paid for many years? And yet the United States Steel company of Minnesota is absolutely owned by the Standard Oil.

"When the Merritt Bros., of Duluth, were obliged to sue John D. Rockefeller to obtain their rights in a mining deal located on the Mesaba range in Minnesota—was not Frank B. Kellogg the attorney for the oil king? Not only that, but did not Kellogg carry the case to the circuit court of appeals and secure the reversal of a judgment for about one million dollars?

"Do not the Rockefeller and their associates control the Great Western Railroad company, running from Chicago to St. Paul and Kansas City? But is not Kellogg the attorney for that road?

"Assuming that these questions must be answered in the affirmative, how can the department of justice employ Mr. Kellogg to prosecute the Standard Oil company in behalf of the people and still allow him to act for the Standard Oil company in the cases mentioned?

"Is not Kellogg also the trusted adviser of Judge Taft? If so, what will Judge Taft likely do, if he should succeed to the presidency, so far as enforcing the law against Standard Oil? The truth is—and everybody knows it—that the Standard Oil trust owns its power and wealth to favor legislation and immunity granted by the Republican party, and that the trusts for a generation have "put up" for the Republican campaign fund. They will do so again this year, and they are too smart to put their money in a concern without getting value received. Taft does not promise to take the tariff off of trust controlled articles or to put the officers of trusts in jail. Why? The trust magnates own the inner circle that, under Aldrich and Cannon, controls legislation, and when they pay for legislation and for freedom from prosecution they know they get what they pay for.

STARVING CHILDREN

Innocent Victims of Trust Rule and "Republican Prosperity."

Fifteen thousand school children starving in Chicago—among the causes, lack of employment of parents, and the constant increase in the cost of living without a corresponding increase in wages!

This is the startling announcement made in the daily newspapers of Chicago and which has brought gloom and consternation to the managers of the Republican national committee in that city. They have been preaching prosperity and the "full dinner pail" through the continuance of the Republican party in power and the maintenance of a high tariff. The Republican newspapers of Chicago without exception have given this Republican claim the lie direct. In publishing with big headlines the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the conditions in public schools, they show that thousands of children are suffering from hunger and actually dying from starvation in the great industrial and commercial city of Chicago.

Here are the headlines running across three columns of the paper, from the Chicago Inter Ocean (Republican):

HUNGER MENACES 20,000 PUPILS IN CITY SCHOOLS MANY BEG REFUSE TO EAT

Startling Conditions in Chicago Shown by Report of Investigating Committee, Who Find Starvation Has Many Victims.

5,000 Have No Meal in Morning.

Body Asks Food for Children, Some of Whom Have Forgotten Taste of Butter, Living on Dry Crusts Earned by Heroism of Mothers Who Go to Bed Fasting.

The Tribune (Republican) heads its article:

HUNGER STALKING IN CITY SCHOOLS Five Thousand Pupils Don't Know What a Full Meal Means and Ten Thousand Others are Underfed.

The Record-Herald (Ind. Republican) heads its story with:

THOUSANDS OF PUPILS SUFFER FROM HUNGER

The Inter Ocean begins the horrible story telling of the starving of the little ones in the midst of "Republican prosperity," with the following:

Five thousand children often go to school breakfastless. Fully fifteen thousand school children of Chicago are underfed and habitually hungry. Mothers go supperless to bed in order that their children may have food in the morning. Half-clad and crying children have been found on the streets begging dead fowls and rotten fruit to eat.

These are some of the statements in the report on indigent children filed with the school management committee of the board of education.

Summarizing the causes which produce the conditions of hunger the Tribune (Republican) cites, "lack of employment," and the "constant increase in the cost of living without a corresponding increase in wages" as the chief reasons for the horrors. During the present Republican panic hunger children have not even been provided with free soup-houses.

TRUSTS OFFERING BRIBES

IN THE INTEREST OF TAFT

The Standard Roller Ball Bearing Company, of Philadelphia, is a trust in itself and it is also allied with the steel trust. S. S. Eveland, president of the concern, called upon Mr. Taft and after a "satisfactory conversation," went back home and posted this bribing and intimidating notice in the trust's shops:

"The reduction of 10 per cent in wages last winter was to have been restored when business conditions would warrant it. While we are busy at present, we feel that its continuation will depend upon the result of the presidential election and that if Mr. Taft is elected a general improvement in all lines of business will result.

"On November 28th, we will, therefore, restore the old rating to all employees whose wages were reduced 10 per cent last winter, provided Mr. Taft is elected president.

"S. S. EVELAND, President."

Eveland says in his notice that "we are busy at present," which means that the old wages could be restored now, but the trust offers a provisional restoration as a bribe. Eveland likes Taft. After he had talked with him he felt so sure of the officeholding candidate that he gave out this opinion in a public interview:

"Taft is a very different man from Roosevelt. It is all right for the people to vote for Taft just like Roosevelt. Just keep them thinking that way, but we in the East know different. Why, there is no comparison between the two."

Now, the question is, what kind of a game is Taft trying to play? And are there any conscientious people who will help him play it?

Cloverdale, Ind., Oct. 19, '08.
Editor Herald:

The Republicans have had their spell-blinders here and the people have been treated to the usual amount of "dope" dished up in regulation "Artful Dodger" style. The entertainment was furnished by Mr. George W. Hanna, Mr. Maxwell and Thomas T. Moore who, by the way, was stripped by Governor Hanly who spoke here recently, of the credit of being the respected father of the Moore Remonstrance Law. Gov. Hanly surprised his hearers here when he laid claim to all the credit of suggesting and securing the passage of the law that bears the name of Mr. Moore. Mr. Moore did not dispute the claim of the Governor and Democrats and Republicans alike regret to see Mr. Moore despoiled of the honor he has in the past been claiming as author and promoter of the Moore Law. Mr. Moore made his characteristic campaign speech, and pointed with pride, backward, to his legislative record.

He said, however, that he was opposed to the special session of the legislature recently called by the governor, and admitted that the governor had the Republicans in a box and the only thing that they could do was to pass the County Option Law, for if they did not they would be called cowards by the Democrats and this Mr. Moore could not stand, and hence to avoid the accusation of cowardice the Republicans were forced to pass the bill. Mr. Moore told us that it would be no easy thing to put the Local Option Law into operation as it would require at least 1040 legal voters to put the law to test, and that it would be well to have many more than 1040 legal voters as many named might be taken from the petition. He did not tell us that it would cost the taxpayers of the county about $3500 to hold a special election, and that this expense would have to be met every two years, or in other words that it would cost the taxpayers of the county about $150 per month as long as the law lived to vote saloons out of a Republican Township, by the way, the strongest and most enthusiastic hot-bed of Republicanism in Putnam County, Greencastle Township and City. Mr. Moore never mentioned the fact that every Democratic Township in Putnam County had already settled the saloon question, but as a parting shot at us told us to vote for morality and the Republican party and not vote with the saloon party, (i. e.) the Democrats.

Mr. Moore has evidently but little faith in the morality of the voters of Greencastle, and Greencastle Township, since he virtually admits that the City of Greencastle, and the Township is unable to handle the saloon question alone. He fears that God and morality and the Republican majority located almost in the shadow of DePauw University cannot, or could not, vote saloons out of Greencastle without calling for help of the other thirteen townships of the county. O, shame, shame! Now Mr. Moore, when next you make a speech, will you please explain why Greencastle Township and City could not, if we had a township option law, vote out the saloons at its own expense. Why would it call on the Democratic townships for help?

You boast of Greencastle as being the seat of intelligence, the home of morality, the stronghold of Republicanism, (the only township in the county that ever elected a negro to a public office), the place that gave birth to Asbury University, and now the home of the greatest Methodist College west of the Alleghany Mountains, with all its boasted faculty, who are now playing politics, and urging the unsophisticated students under their charge to vote the Republican ticket, with all these elements combined you confess yourself unable to do what Cloverdale Township and Town did almost twenty years ago. We settled the saloon question at our own expense and did not get a single penny from Greencastle. We made no loud howl either, nor did we try to make a political question out of the saloon or drug store. We did this work, not as a political party, but citizens, friends and neighbors, and at that time we had about 200 Democratic majority in our township, and still Mr. Moore

THOUSANDS OF MILLIONAIRES

Made by the Tariff--But Not
One Is a Farmer.

[From a speech by Hon. B. F. Shively
at Shoals, Oct. 12, 1908.]

When the rising tide of artificial prices on iron, steel, woolen and cotton goods, and on glassware and crockery and furniture, farm implements, all forms of building material, and substantially everything that goes onto the farm, struck the farmer, was he to protect and recoup himself by writing up the prices of his own products? Right there came the rub. The farmer stands between two markets, neither of which he controls. Others fix the prices at which he must buy. Others fix the prices at which he must sell. American agriculture is an expert industry. In some of its staples it has been export since before the American Revolution. This industry has no combination at home with which to limit production, write up artificial prices to the American people, and unload surplus at low prices abroad. Such a combination is impracticable and impossible, and, if possible, could only spell ultimate misery and starvation to society. Millions of bushels of American wheat and corn and millions of pounds of American beef, pork and cotton go every year to the great surplus market of western Europe. Not a bushel nor a pound would go there but for the higher price paid there—at least enough higher to pay the cost of transportation. Wheat is sowed some place on this earth every day of the year. Wheat is reaped some place on this earth every day of the year. * * * The surplus grain from all these fields is poured into the surplus markets of western Europe in competition with the surplus grain from the American farmer. In that surplus market the level of prices is fixed, and from there the downward incline plane of prices extends backward past every farm and ranch in the United States. On any day of the year, except in rare instances due to purely local and temporary causes, the price of wheat is lower in New York than at Liverpool, lower in Chicago than at New York, lower in St. Paul than at Chicago, lower at Fargo than at St. Paul.

To this market, dominated by the competition of the whole world, the farmer brings his wheat, his corn, his beef, his pork and his cotton. If the price of the staples in his annual output rises, it is a rise that attends the same staples produced by the peon of South America, the ryot of India, the fellah of Egypt and the farmer of Russia. The rise in the level of farm prices in the last ten years, due to an addition of three billion dollars to the volume of the world's gold, was general and uniform throughout agricultural countries, but during all this time International Harvester Company farm machinery could be and has been purchased cheaper in any other agricultural country of the world than could the American farmer buy it at the door of the American factory where it was made. American mills, barb wire, shovels, axes, watches, sewing machines and scores of other articles have been and are now sold cheaper in the foreign markets than at home. * * * Even some of the products of the farm, after they leave the farm, are so manipulated by domestic trusts as to almost double their price to the consumer without increase received by the farmer. By reference to the market reports in the files of the Indianapolis newspapers, it will be found that on April 7, 1888, hogs were quoted at $5.25 per hundred, and the best bacon at 9 1/2 to 10 cents per pound; on April 14, same year, hogs $5.75 and the best bacon at 11 cents; on May 14, hogs $5.75 and the best bacon 11 1/2 cents, and on March 14, 1889, hogs $4.85 to $5.00 and the best bacon 11 1/2 cents. These, of course, were wholesale prices. The quotations today and the record of actual sales show hogs at from $5 to $7 per hundred and the best bacon at 21 cents per pound. Here is an increase of about $1.00 per hundred on hogs and over $10.00 per hundred on the bacon taken from the hog, and not one cent of the excess increase on the bacon goes to the farmer who produced it. The same thing is measurably true of all other parts of the hog. The meat trust controls the situation, lays the consumer under contribution, gathers in the profit and invites the farmer to support the tariff that supports the trust.

The farmer's selling prices are world's prices. He labors in competition with the whole agricultural world. Duties of $100 per bushel on his wheat and corn and per pound on his beef, pork and cotton could not protect him. The duties on wheat, corn, beef, pork, hay, cabbage and other farm products in the Dingley schedules are purely political duties. These duties cannot secure to the farmer higher prices on his sales. They are placed in the statute only to enslave and deceive him into the support of other duties which plunder him on his purchases. The system leaves him to sell his product at prices dominated by the competition of the whole world and to purchase his necessities at high artificial prices fixed by domestic monopoly, induced, licensed, fortified and perpetuated by affirmative acts of his government at Washington. If he enjoys any degree of prosperity, it is in spite of the fly in his wheat, the rust in his oats, the smut in his corn, the cholera in his hogs, the bots in his horses and the Dingley tariffs in his market, and not because of them.

The steel, lumber and other trusts may capitalize the taxing power of the government and write up the prices of their product 100 per cent; the farmer cannot capitalize his $1 wheat into $2 wheat, nor his 75-cent corn into $1.50 corn. He may cast away the sickle, the cradle, the reaper, the Marsh harvester and bring on the self binder, the grain drill, the corn-shredder and other improved forms of farm machinery to multiply his producing power, lessen cost, decrease waste and to increase economy in making, storing and marketing his product. The cunning device of high artificial prices on all things he must buy sponges up the profits and absorbs the gains arising from the cheapening forces of skill and invention. Whatever of margin between receipt and expenditure he has left at the end of the year is the remnant of the harvest left by the licensed locusts of monopoly which swarm his buying market and pluck him on all that he brings onto his farm or into his household. If he has money in bank, it is usually the fruits of stinting economy, pinching self-sacrifice and deprivation on the part of himself and family, rather than the natural reward of his industry. The natural rewards of American agriculture are ambushed away in the pennies, nickels, dimes and dollars picked up by and concealed in the fictitious prices charged for trust-controlled goods, and who are turned in splendid streams of unearned increment into the coffers of government favorites, some of whom starve the country as much by their ostentatious profligacy. American farmers have been creating splendid fortunes and making millions by the thousands, but to this hour not one on the American farm.

HOW WILL YOU VOTE?

Will You Vote for Yourself, or to Give More Millions and Power to the Trusts?

Do you want to vote more millions into the coffers of the trusts and more power into their hands to crush you? Or do you intend to vote for your own interests? In other words, are you going to vote for Taft and Sherman, or Bryan and Kern?—for Marshall or Watson? A letter just sent to many persons in Indiana by the Republican national committee, asking for contributions and saying that "Bryan's election will be dangerous," has printed at its head, as members of the advisory committee, etc., the names of the following men:

Charles F. Brooker, head of the brass trust, and vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, against which a government suit is now pending in the federal courts.

Charles Nagel of Missouri, one of the general attorneys of the Standard Oil company. This Standard Oil representative is in charge of Republican national campaign headquarters in Chicago.

Frank O. Lowden, multimillionaire son-in-law of the late George M. Pullman, and now the head of the great Pullman Palace Car trust, to which the travelling public pays tribute.

T. Coleman Du Pont, the head of the powder trust, which is fighting a suit against dissolution.

Boise Penrose, the political "boss" of the corrupt political machine in Pennsylvania.

George R. Sheldon, the personal representative of J. Pierpont Morgan, in the capacity of director in all his trust companies, and who collected trust money for the election of Governor Hughes of New York.

William Nelson Cromwell, the legal representative of Edward H. Harriman, and probably the greatest trust lawyer in the United States.

Fred W. Upham, the "fat fryer" for the Republican party in the West, and the man who wrote letters to corporations whose property he assessed by virtue of his position as a member of the board of revision in Chicago.

This is a fine outfit to advise the farmers and business men of the West how to vote. Two of the signers are heads of corporations which are fighting for their existence in the courts. Of course these men think Bryan's election dangerous; that is natural when one becomes acquainted with their connections. But there is not a legitimate business man in the nation, small or large, who has any reason to fear a Democratic victory.

TRUST MONEY ALL GOES TO TAFT

William Nelson Cromwell, the legal representative of E. H. Harriman, and the Wall street lawyer who engineered the Panama deal—which made a "profit" of $35,000,000 for the syndicate made up of himself, Pierpont Morgan, Charles P. Taft and others—was the first big contributor to the Republican campaign fund. He gave $50,000 to the Republican national campaign slush fund. Andrew Carnegie, head of the steel trust, has made a donation of $20,000 toward financing the election of Judge Taft. These are a few of the contributions from trust sources that have reached the public, and indicate very clearly on which side the trust interests are arrayed in this campaign.

GLEE CLUB TRY-OUT TO-DAY

PROFESSOR KLEINSMID WILL GIVE STUDENTS A CHANCE TO SHOW UP.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS NOW MADE

The try-out for the DePauw Glee Club was held this afternoon at two o'clock, in Meharry Hall, under the direction of Prof. Rufus Bernhard von Kleinsmid. The Club will be similar to the club of 1907-'08, in character, but there will be a change in specialties. No second basses need report this afternoon, but Prof. von Kleinsmid wishes to meet all first tenors, second tenors and first basses who intend to try for places on the club. Those who tryout are requested to bring with them a song which they are accustomed to singing.

Director von Kleinsmid announces that, although the nature of the club will be similar to last year's club, the program will be entirely new. The club managers are already planning the Christmas trip, which will include cities of southern Indiana and perhaps a few cities of Kentucky and Eastern Illinois. The club may take a few one night trips before the Christmas vacation, to cities near Greencastle.

Addressed Linton Bryan Club.

J. H. Newnam of Indianapolis spoke before the Bryan Club of Linton one night last week. Mr. Newnam is a brother of Mrs. Mollie Alspaugh, Mrs. W. P. Ledbetter and a brother-in-law of C. C. Leachman of this city.

STILL PUSHING OLIVE OIL

The natural, rich, nutty flavor possessed only by the PURE ITALIAN OLIVE OIL is found in the imported olive oil that we offer. We guarantee every drop to be perfectly pure—an important statement in view of the many mixtures and adulterations of olive oil on the market. A favorite mixture for adulterating purposes is cotton seed oil (worth 3¢ or 4¢ a pound, while olive oil is valued at 60¢ a pound.) It does not require very much figuring to show that the element of profit in unscrupulous adulterations is considerable. But all the same, adulterated olive oil is dangerous to any human system. Our prices on Pure Italian are: Half pint bottles 25c. Pint bottles 50c.
