COLORED MEETING A FIZZLE

WILLIAM LOCKRIDGE'S PERSONALLY CONDUCTED MEETING LAST NIGHT PROVED A THORN IN THE SIDE OF THE PARTY—FAIR REPRESENTATION OF THE GREENCASTLE COLORED MEN THERE BUT ALL WERE DISGUSTED.

CHARLEY CASE MAKES SPEECH

Tells His Life History, Leaving Out Many of the Most Interesting Events—Lockridge Followed the Oklahomaian in Political Discussion—Got Tariff Reform and Bank Guarantee Mixed.

The much advertised "all you colored men come up to the Republican headquarters tonight and hear a white man tell the truth" meeting was one grand fizzle. To mention it to a Republican this morning was cause for a burst of anger from the G. O. P. member. They wouldn't even tell who the "white man," who addressed the meeting was.

There was a fair portion of Greencastle's colored men out for the meeting. But they were the disgusted lot this morning. Curiosity to learn who the man was "who could tell the truth" caused many of them to attend.

The significance of the sign was learned this morning from a colored man who attended. Charley Case, of Oklahoma, former mayor of Greencastle, was the speaker. Mr. Case did not talk politics. He gave the history of his life leaving out many of the interesting features. The colored men saw the point. Case was afraid he could not discuss politics and tell the truth—Republicans this year are steering clear of the truth—so he avoided discussing politics. Several of the colored men, however, say that the meeting would have been interesting if Charley had told all the events of his life. Needless to say he would not even do that.

Mr. Lockridge is reported to have said that he wished all his hearers to vote for Watson. In the first place he wanted the vote cast thus because he had a large amount of money wagered on the result. He said he believed Watson would win and was taking the chances. He did not wish his hearers to vote for Watson on that ground, alone, however, but because they felt, as Mr. Lockridge felt, that Watson was the best man. This might be called a mixed inducement, if not a mixed metaphor.

The main address of the evening was followed by a discourse—notice the "discourse" by William Lockridge. The meeting was personally conducted by Mr. Lockridge and of course he got the last say. It is said that he attempted to discuss the issues of the campaign but got mixed in his dates and confused "bank guarantee" and "tariff reform." It was his first political address, however, and so the mixup can be excused.

There was much doing just previous to the meeting. Lockridge was on the war path and swore that Charley should not address the meeting. Whether he wanted to be the "speaker of the evening" himself or was afraid that Charley would make a break is not made clear. Anyhow there was much stir among the Republican leaders and finally matters were adjusted.

Charley got so enthusiastic, so it is said, that the Republican leaders thought it best to get him out of town before he opened up his heart and told the story of his "whole life." Case left town on an early train.

This morning the Republicans would not mention the meeting unless something was asked about it. Then they would declare ignorance regarding the identity of the speaker of the evening. The colored men were a disgusted lot. The insinuation yesterday afternoon that a colored man could not tell the truth and the fact that the meeting last night was a fizzle caused them to sit up and take notice.

"Do the Republicans think they can do with us as they please," one of them said this morning. "Do they think that we are so ignorant that we could not comprehend a discussion of the political issues. Why then do they have an Oklahomaian tell us his life history?"

WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Today the will of the late Anna Morarity was filed for probate. The property goes to the immediate relatives. Daniel O'Connell is named as executor. The will was drawn on the 9th day of last July.

THE BRYAN AND KERN CLUB

Hears W. V. Rooker, Attorney for The Federation of Labor, at its Last Regular Meeting at the Court House Last Night.

THE SPEAKER MADE GOOD POINTS

The last regular meeting of the Bryan and Kern Club was held last night in the assembly room of the court house. The speaker of the evening was W. V. Rooker, formerly a student of DePauw and later a printer, member of the Typographical Union and an attorney for the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Rooker told in a very interesting way how the organization of the Typographical Union had shortened hours and raised wages. He made it quite plain that the tariff had no part in their rise except to compel the men to pay double for the necessities of life. He declared that as an attorney for the Federation he had argued cases before Judge Taft, and confirmed the labor view of the Republican candidate.

He spoke at length of the tariff and the taxes it imposed, a tax not in proportion to a man's wealth but in proportion to the size of the family and his need for the necessities of life. The speech was strong in facts, and made many things plain that have not, heretofore been thoroughly understood by many people.

Not all the colored voters attended the "white man telling the truth" meeting, as many were out to hear Rooker.

THAT GRIFFITHS SPEECH

Orator Promises Dispassionate Discussion of the Campaign Issues And Then Devotes His Time to History and a Reckless Denunciation of Bryan.

SPEECH COMMITTED TO MEMORY

John L. Griffiths, of Indianapolis, a Republican of substance like unto Taft, spoke to a well-filled room at the opera house this afternoon. Mr. Griffiths spoke as one who has committed well his speech. At times when the place was reached for applause he had to wait over-long for the feeble hand-clapping, but sooner or later some one came to his assistance and started the noise.

The orator began by declaring that he proposed a dispassionate discussion of the issues of the campaign. He soon forgot this, however, and launched into a review of history and a partisan denunciation of Bryan. The issues were largely forgotten. He dwelt upon what he styled the "impossible new Bryan," and did the "scare head" business in good style, but advanced little argument of any kind.

The audience filled the chairs of the lower floor and were scattered along the first two rows of seats in the balcony. About half the crowd were women and many Democrats, drawn by the speaker's reputation as a fun maker, were also present. The speech pleased the radical Republicans and affected no one else.

FEARED SPEAKER WAS CAPTURED

This morning Chairman Zeis and B. F. Corwin went to the interurban station to meet Mr. Griffiths, the Republican speaker of the afternoon. Both gentlemen were late and when they reached the station the speaker was gone. As a matter of fact several students had been present when Mr. Griffiths arrived, had made themselves known to him, and had taken him over to the Phi Psi house. When Messrs. Zeis and Corwin arrived and found their man gone they at once became anxious, and their anxiety increased when they were told that he had been seen going away with several Democrats. Visions of a kidnapping rose before the minds of the tardy committee. And they were only quieted when Griffiths was found enjoying himself at the Phi Psi house.

BISHOP HUGHES WAS HERE

Addressed Student in Joint Chapel Service This Morning—Says He Has Grown Homesick for the University.

ON WAY TO BISHOPS' MEETING

En route to Indianapolis from Kansas City president Edwin Holt Hughes stopped off at DePauw yesterday afternoon and remained until this morning. Bishop Hughes gave an address in Kansas City, Tuesday night and went to Indianapolis today to attend the meeting of American Bishops.

There was joint chapel services this morning led by President Hughes. The hall was full to overflowing and both Bishop Hughes and the students seemed overjoyed.

In a brief interview Dr. Hughes said that he misses the university greatly and that he grows homesick for DePauw.

One of the first places Dr. Hughes went to on his arrival was the new library. Its imposing appearance pleased him greatly. The president then took a short drive with several of the faculty members.

Dr. Hughes will return Friday from Indianapolis.

MR. MARSHALL'S CHARACTER

An Open Letter Directed to the Republicans Who Have Been Sending Out Slanders with Regard to the Democratic Candidate for Governor.

First Presbyterian Church
Rev. A. D. Sutherland Minister.
Columbia City, Ind.,
October 26, 1908.

To the People of Indiana:

Within the last few days I have received from a large number of persons living in different parts of the state, letters addressed to me as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbia City, making inquiries as to the truth of charges seriously reflecting on the sobriety and general moral character of the Hon. Thomas R. Marshall, Democratic candidate for Governor.

Upon my own initiative and without the suggestion or knowledge of Mr. Marshall, and wholly in the interest of fairness and decency, I take the liberty of addressing the people of this Commonwealth, in answer to these many inquiries.

Mr. Marshall is not a drunkard, but on the contrary is a total abstainer; a practical, consistent temperance man, yet not a hypocrite nor a fanatic. His influence and support are foremost in every moral and philanthropic movement in this city. No breath of scandal of any kind rests upon him here, but he is loved and admired by all right living, right thinking moral people, irrespective of sect or party.

Mrs. Marshall has always accompanied her husband on his business trips since their marriage, and she is but continuing the custom now. Having no children, it is a matter of congeniality for them to travel together; besides she is a great support to him with her sympathy and intelligent interest in this arduous campaign. Language can not fitly portray my indignation that partisan depravity should not even spare her name.

I can speak with authority concerning his home and church life, for I am his pastor, and he is a faithful parishioner and church officer. His home life is ideal as all who have shared its generous hospitality will bear witness. As a churchman, Mr. Marshall is most conscientious, never missing a service nor shirking a duty when at home. He has been a member of my church for many years; also a trustee, Bible class teacher, officer in the Brotherhood and a generous contributor to every line of church work, yet withal liberal minded and generous to other faiths.

Mr. Marshall is an alumnus and trustee of Wabash College, a Thirty-third degree Mason, an eminent lawyer, a sterling Christian gentleman of exemplary conduct and unblemished character.

This letter is not a partisan expression, for I have always been a Republican, but is a just tribute to the worth of the man that I know and who is my friend.

Very sincerely,
Alexander D. Sutherland, Minister First Presbyterian Church.

JOHN MITCHELLS POSITION

Republican papers have spent much time lately, attempting to prove that John Mitchell, ex-president of the Mine Workers of America was not for Bryan. The following shows the untruth of such statements Editor New York World:

"In accordance with your invitation I wish to state that, in my judgment, the election of Bryan would be for the best interests of the whole nation.

"He stands on the much better platform and will be guided by it in the event of his election. Mr. Taft is handicapped by the zealous advocacy of his cause by the predatory rich. Honest wealth and business have nothing to fear in Bryan's election.

"JOHN MITCHELL."

HANLY IS NOW EXPOSED

Is Shown That Temperance Fight Was Made to Hide Mal-Administration of the State's Affairs.

FEARS DEMOCRAT INVESTIGATION

In a speech delivered Tuesday night at Indianapolis Ex-Mayor John Holtzman makes some charges against Governor Hanly that are well worth remembering and thinking over. The charges are from records in the state house and show the worst of mis-management, graft and incompetency. It is flatly charged that the Governor fears the election of a Democratic governor because he fears the investigation of his record and acts that would follow. Mr. Holtzman's charges as quoted by The News are as follows:

According to the report of the legislative committee, the estimate of the cost of the new deaf and dumb school was $325,000. Plans were prepared for a building to cost that amount. Accordingly, an appropriation of $215,000 was made. The report of the commission entrusted with the work shows that the total cost of the building contracted for would be $1,044,714. After the appropriation was made, the original architect was discharged, another one employed, and the plans changed so as to make the building cost over a million dollars, which was $750,000 in excess of the appropriation. The legislative committee on State educational, benevolent and correctional institutions for the year 1907 show that the total cost of Purdue University, with its 1,658 students, was only $1,062,880. It is believed that the deaf and dumb school, with less than 400 students, will cost $1,200,000. The cost of this new school will be equal to the cost of Purdue University, or of the State University and State Normal School combined.

Here is a clear case of reckless extravagance. The State House cost only $2,000,000, and this school for the deaf and dumb, with an average daily enrollment of only 314, will cost $1,250,000. It deserves, not merely criticism, but the severest and sharpest condemnation. Mr. Holtzman charges that $300,000 worth of the stone used was purchased from three Republican politicians, friends of the Governor. He further says that ninety feet of the wall collapsed throwing the stone cornice and the brick wall to the ground, and that one of the rear walls bulged outward to such an extent that it had to be taken down and rebuilt. The whole construction is said to be flimsy and unsafe, and not fireproof.

JOHN W. KERN WILL BE HERE TOMORROW

A NEW ADVERTISING SCHEME

Republican Paraders Last Night Carried a Sign "Who's the Editor of The Herald"—Scheme Said to Have Originated in the Mind of Billy Lockridge Who Had Charge of Last Night's Meeting.

THE HERALD STARTS A CONTEST

The colored drum corps, under the personal direction of William Lockridge, paraded the down town streets last night before the colored men's meeting. The parade consisted of three drummer boys and two banner carriers. On one of the banners was painted "Who is the editor of The Herald?"

The significance of the sign was wondered at by many who saw it. It created much comment.

The fact of the matter is that the sign was gotten up by persons who desired to give the Herald some good novelty advertising. The Herald believes in advertising and especially the kind that causes much comment.

The banner in last night's parade was the forerunner of a contest which the Herald starts today. Following are the rules of the contest:

- (1) Everybody is barred from competition except the second speaker at the meeting in Republican headquarters last night.
- (2) The first person sending in the correct answer to the question asked on the banner carried in the parade last night, will be declared the winner.
- (3) The winner will be given enough muslin and paint for a dozen more signs like the one carried in the parade.

ALL-DAY RALLY TO BE HELD IN GREENCASTLE — INDIANA'S VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE, AS WELL AS SEVERAL OTHER SPEAKERS OF NATIONAL REPUTATION, WILL BE HERE—MEETING TO BEGIN AT 9 O'CLOCK IN THE COURT HOUSE YARD.

A BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED

Senator Gore of Oklahoma, Ollie James of Kentucky, General Weaver of Iowa and Several Others Will Make Up the Party Which Will Arrive Here Over the Interurban at 8:55—Will be Driven to Court House Yard for the Meeting.

John W. Kern, Indiana's son who is the Democratic candidate for vice-president will be in Greencastle tomorrow. With Mr. Kern will be several of the country's most brilliant orators.

Ollie James of Kentucky.
Senator Gore, the blind senator of Oklahoma.

General Weaver of Iowa.
Henry D. Clayton of Alabama.

They all will be here for the big Democratic rally.

The Vice-Presidential candidate and his party will arrive over the interurban line at 8:55 o'clock and will immediately be taken to the court house yard where the meeting will be held. Several of those in the party will address the crowd.

Mr. Kern probably will be the first to address the crowd. The Vice-Presidential candidate will be here for at least an hour. When he leaves in his special car, at least one and possibly two of his companions on the trip, will be left behind to talk to the crowd.

Those who turn out will hear the best political speeches of the campaign. Senator Gore, Gen. Weaver, Ollie James and Henry Clayton—that's the list of the orators who will be heard.

F. C. Tilden will be chairman of the meeting. He, with C. C. Hurst, Dr. George W. Bence, W. B. Vestal, J. H. James, Alec Lane, J. L. Randel, W. L. Denman and Col. C. C. Matson will be the reception committee which will meet the party at the station and accompany them to the court house yard. There will be music all day.

It will be a big day for Democracy.

GOOD MATERIAL IN SCHOOL

If the exhibition of basketball given by the freshman and sophomore classes last Saturday was an index to the quality of material in college we should feel highly elated over our prospects. Saturday's game was by far the best inter-class struggle in the history of basketball at DePauw. It served to bring forth many promising players. It also seemed to instill basketball enthusiasm in the upperclasses for the seniors are organizing preparatory to a formal challenge to the juniors. Such a contest will have to be played on the outdoor grounds, and before many weeks because of the weather.

Cloaks for Little Folks and School Girls

Because children outgrow their Cloaks—parents are as a rule—a trifle reluctant about paying the price necessary to procure the quality and style desired by the child and her mother.

The people in our Cloak department say we've the best lot of Children's Cloaks for the price we have ever shown.

Cloaks for little folks are great in the popular Bear Skins at $2.50 to $5.00 and are shown in white and colors.

Cloaks for school girls 8 to 14 years of age are largely shown in the cloths and colorings that are extremely good this year and are priced at $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $8.00 and $10.00.

In this connection we want you to look at a big variety of girls Cloaks at the popular price $5.00. The best $5.00 Cloaks we have ever shown.

HANLY AND THE BREWERS.

There is an old saying that "what is sauce for the goose ought also to be sauce for the gander." This will apply aptly to the present candidates for governor on the Republican and Democratic tickets and the present incumbent of the executive chair. Both Hanly and Watson have declared that Marshall is not to be trusted because the brewers, as they allege, have contributed to the Democratic campaign fund. What is the record of Watson and Hanly on this point? It is openly admitted that the Republican party received the aid of the brewers four years ago, and that Governor Hanly received more or less direct aid in his campaign from these sources. Further, Watson's campaign two years ago was largely aided by the saloon interests of his home district, and it is generally understood that much of the money used by him in his campaign for the nomination this year came from that source. Where then is their superiority over Marshall? They claim they will, and have, represented the temperance element rather than the brewers who contributed to aid them. The only possible inference is, then, that they think they are better men, have superior character to Marshall. This insinuation would come with better grace from others than from Hanly and Watson themselves. But as to facts. Yesterday a Republican clergyman of Marshall's church in Columbia City sent an unsolicited letter to the Indianapolis News in which it was stated that Marshall was a man of the utmost integrity, a church man, a total abstainer, and a friend of temperance. Watson is not an abstainer, and his reputation for keeping campaign pledges is far from good. Hanly has some very unbecoming skeletons in the closet of his past. All the facts would seem to show that neither of the Republicans making these charges against Marshall has any ground, either in character or in the record of their past campaigns, to attack him.

But again, what of the charges against Marshall in so far as they relate to his connection with the brewers. These charges rest entirely upon the word of Hanly and Watson, and are denied by Marshall. As we stated before, Marshall's reputation for veracity is at least equal to that of Hanly and superior to that of Watson. So far as the brewery support of the Democratic party is concerned the charge is made by Lewis Ludlow, the unreliable feature man of the Indianapolis Star, a paper quite without conscience as regards campaign lies. So far as this district is concerned no money has appeared here, no brewer has offered support, nor made any representations in the campaign. This is doubtless true because it is understood that all the candidates on both sides stand for temperance. Over the state we understand that in places the brewery interests, as business interests, are supporting either party or candidates of either party regardless of state politics. They support those whom they can trust, and they are in both parties. Mr. Hanly's appeal to the voters to elect Watson and the Republicans is a partisan not a temperance appeal. It is a personal appeal, with personal interests in view, and an appeal not warranted by the facts.

WATSON, HANLY AND THEIR GAME OF "DOUBLE CROSS"

James E. Watson's supporters appear to be getting their wires crossed. Governor Hanly is telling the audience he addresses that the election of Watson and a Republican legislature will mean state-wide prohibition, which he declares he favors, within three years. That is what Hanly said at Spiceland on Wednesday evening and is what he has said at other places.

But another supporter of Mr. Watson is Thatcher A. Parker, chairman of the Republican county committee at Terre Haute. Mr. Watson spoke in that city on the evening of October 14. His friend Parker was anxious for the saloonkeepers to hear him and sent to them a letter asking them to attend his meeting. In this letter he told the saloon men that many things had been said about Watson that were not true, that the Republican candidate for governor was "not a fanatic" and that he was "a man that you can tie to." He further told the saloon men that he wanted them to see and hear Watson and that if they did so they would "think toward Jim Watson as I do." Friend Parker further said in this letter "I want you to help elect him and I am sure you will never regret it."

From all this it would seem that the "double cross" game is being worked by Watson's supporters for all it will stand. Hanly and men like him are promising the temperance folk "state-wide prohibition" if Watson is elected, and "within three years," while on the other hand men like Parker, Republican county chairman at Terre Haute, are assuring saloonkeepers that they can "tie to" Watson and that if they will only help to elect him they "will never regret it." Mr. Watson himself has made many speeches of different sound and meaning at different places. It is difficult to reconcile Hanly's promise of "state-wide prohibition within three years" with the Parker statement that saloonkeepers "will never regret it" if they help elect Watson.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS

The Scare Theory of Politics.

In commenting on the efforts of certain people, and many politicians, to "throw a scare" into the voters, the Springfield Republican, which is supporting Taft, very sensibly says:

If a narrow business sentiment or fear were always to be consulted above everything else in our elections how much in the way of progress and reform would ever come to be achieved? And how long would it be before the administration of the Government would be made a perpetual succession with one party or along hereditary lines? Indeed, if one is to view the election wholly through the eyes of this business dread of a change in party control of the Government, reason would compel a conclusion favorable to a vote for the opposition party; for the longer one party continues in power the more dreadful and disturbing to business will become the prospect of a change, no matter what may be the opposition leadership. The next presidential election would become more harmful to industry than this one, and in the end these quadrennial contests would be all but unendurable. If our democracy is to abide, the electorate will always be divided between two parties, and for business to work itself into a position where the success of one-half the electorate in opposition is to be always considered as of prostrating consequence—this is to place the great industrial interests of the nation where Democratic institutions will allow them no peace and only momentary outbursts of prosperity.

Sounder words have not been spoken during this campaign. When we come to a time when the people are not permitted freely to exercise their choice as between candidates, free government will be at an end. Instead of it, we shall have a government controlled by the industries of the country, and perpetuated in power by them without any regard to the issues under consideration. The demand will be that, no matter what may be your views on the tariff, finance, trusts, imperialism, civil service reform, bank guaranty, publicity for campaign contributions, you must vote for the party with not one of whose principles you may be in accord, simply to avert a "panic." Nor would the fitness of the man for whom you are asked to vote be allowed to have any weight with you. For you would be asked to vote, not for a man, or a party, or a cause, but for "business." Thus the right of choice would disappear, and with it the whole theory of our Government would be repudiated.

There is no road by which we can more surely reach a self-perpetuating dynasty. It does not matter what the party in power may or may not do, does not matter what principles it may profess, does not matter which party gets the better of the argument in the campaign, does not matter as to the respective merits of the candidate, for after everything is done, and after the issues are made up, the citizen is asked to vote precisely as if there had been no campaign, to vote perhaps against all his views, simply that a certain party may be kept in power in order to prevent a "panic"—the theory being that no matter how right the other party may be on all the great questions, it must be forever excluded from power. To this we have come in the last week of the campaign. If the President is right, there was no need to make a single speech, no need to spend a cent of money, no reason even to nominate candidates. And this is free government! On this question of business interest the Springfield Republican also speaks with sanity and patriotism, saying:

No man can stop the development of this country, and it may be added that no considerable party of men want to do any such thing. The pending election should be decided upon other grounds than vague business fears of some business men concerning what other business men may do in case this or that candidate wins. There are reasons for preferring Taft to Bryan, but this matter of business is not one of them; for neither this nor any future presidential election involving no more than a peaceful outcome, will be able to arrest the general business progress and industrial development of the nation.

To which we add that we were asked four years ago to vote for prosperity. We did so, and we got what we have!—Indianapolis News.

EASILY UNDERSTOOD

Mr. Bryan Shows Why the Individual Favors Protection of Bank Deposits.

A MATTER OF INTELLIGENCE

Banks Should Attend to the Banking Business and Not the Government.

No issue in this campaign appeals more strongly to the individual than the protection of bank deposits. Thousands and thousands of republicans will vote for Mr. Bryan on account of this one issue, which he has presented so clearly to the people of the nation.

In a recent speech Mr. Bryan presented this issue in a simple and most convincing way. He said:

"Of the many policies proposed in our platform, the protection of bank deposits is the simplest and most easily understood. Why, my friends, this question is so easily understood that I suppose there is not a person in this audience who is not able to understand it. I do not mean that every one, everywhere, can understand it. I draw the line here: When every person reaches the period of intellectual development, where he is able to see that when a man puts his money in the bank he ought to be able to get it again, he ought to have intelligence enough to understand this subject; but until he gets to this point I do not know how to reach him. I take it for granted, however, that you are all sufficiently advanced to be able to understand that when you put your money in a bank you ought to be able to get it out again. Now, my friends, there are just two questions to be considered in this matter. One of these I have given you. The other question is, who must make it secure? Our position is that as the banks make their profits out of the people's money, the bankers ought to give the insurance the people require. Now, I had supposed that that was a self-evident truth and that it would not be denied.

"I have made no speech without discussing the guaranty of bank deposits in all parts of the country. After I had made my speech in Baltimore, explaining our system and presenting our arguments in support of it, my attention was called to an advertisement in one of the papers. In my speech I had said that you could insure your house, you could insure your life, you could insure your buggy or your barn, but that you could not insure your money. And in this advertisement my language was quoted and the advertisement went on to say that I was mistaken, for a certain fidelity company was prepared to insure deposits. And then I found out how they do it down there. You put your money in a bank, and then go and get somebody to insure it so that you can get it out of the bank again. I believe the time has come to compel all the banks to stand back of the banks and make good the presumption upon which you deposit your money in the bank.

"Now, my friends, you may ask if the banks are not now sufficiently secured. That is what the bankers say. They will even tell you that only occasionally a bank fails, but the trouble is that we cannot tell in advance which bank is going to fail. Look at the notice they hang up. Does it say, 'this bank will fail'? No, the notice says 'this bank is closed,' and if bankers follow out this plan I will agree not to urge this insuring of deposits. Let the bank give notice three months in advance of a failure so the people can get their money out before the failure.

"Do you think the banks are sufficiently secure now? The postmaster general says, in his report in favor of the postal savings bank, that we are sending millions of dollars to Europe to be deposited in government savings banks there, and the people who send their money there would rather send it across an ocean three thousand miles wide than to risk the banks of this country. I say to you that we ought to make our banks here so secure that money will not be driven out of the United States to find a safe place of deposit. That money which is driven to Europe ought to be kept here and used in the business of this country. Not only does money go to Europe, but money goes into hiding, and this is about the time of year when we discover some of it. You will see in the paper every once in a while that Mrs. So and So for the first time this fall made a fire and was mortified to find that her husband, without her knowledge, had been using it as a bank. A man in New York said last fall, when the panic was on, that a million dollars was in hiding under carpets. I do not know whether that estimate is too high or too low, but I know this, that if I were a banker I would be ashamed to have an old rag of carpet running rivalry with me as a safety deposit vault, in time of danger.

"If any man says that the banks are sufficiently secure I will remind him that there is not a national bank in the United States that can get a dollar of Uncle Sam's money without putting up security; the county demands security; the city demands security; and the village demands security; and the federal orders are now demanding security, and I believe the time has come when the farmer, the merchant and the laboring man should have security when they put their money in a bank.

"In Oklahoma they have had this plan in operation for now some six months. I learned of one failure there and in forty-two minutes after the bank suspended, the man in charge had an order from the government to pay every depositor in full, and the business went on without interruption. And when he telephoned out to the farmers and said to them, 'The bank has suspended, come in and get your money,' they answered, 'We are busy with the crops now, we will be in a few days.' Is it the way you do here in your state when a bank gets shaky?

Is it the way you do when a bank suspends? No! the very rumor that a bank is a little uncertain makes a rush of depositors, and they make it insolvent whether it was insolvent or not.

"This plan protects the depositors; it protects the community, and it is good for the bank as well. "I would rather see the banks attend to the banking business than to have it transferred to the government, and because I prefer to have the banking business done by the banks rather than by the government, I urge the guaranty of deposits as the easiest solution of our difficulties."

STRAUS GIVES REASONS

The New York Merchant and Philanthropist Declares Election of Bryan Means Business Prosperity.

Nathan Straus, the great New York merchant and philanthropist, in announcing his reasons for supporting Mr. Bryan, said:

"I feel sure that he will be elected, and I say, as a business man, one who is as much interested perhaps as any, in the general prosperity of the country, as one who is bound to feel personally any lack of prosperity among the masses, that I believe his election will be a benefit to all the country, and to all of the people. Those that talk otherwise, those that predict panic and disaster, as the result of the election of an honest man, chosen by an honest majority of the people, are narrow minded and short-sighted, or pretend to believe that which they know is not true, or they are seeking to obscure the real and vital issues of the campaign. Mr. Bryan will make a safe, reliable, conscientious president, a president for all of the people, the rich and the poor, the big man and the little. He will represent the American people, not any class, and for that reason I shall work for him until election and vote for him on election day."

THE GREAT EXPLAINER.

Here is a copy of a poster, headed "Laboring Men—Attention!" which has been circulated in advance of Judge Taft's appearance in a number of cities:

Come out and hear
 HON. WILLIAM H. TAFT
 Republican candidate for President.
 HE WILL EXPLAIN

how he secured his appointment as United States Judge through the influence of Senator Foraker, the attorney of the Standard Oil Company.

HE WILL EXPLAIN why, as United States Judge, he put railroad men and mechanics in jail by means of his INJUNCTION process.

HE WILL EXPLAIN why he is opposed to giving the laboring man a trial by a jury.

HE WILL EXPLAIN to you why the capitalistic class and the trusts and the syndicates of Wall street are supporting him, while the laboring men are opposing him, almost to a man.

By Order of the Committee.

The Cry of Politicians.

The best service that can be rendered for permanent prosperity is to rebuke the assumption which certain politicians continually are seeking to create in the public mind, that continued prosperity depends on the success of a particular political party.

Our form of government contemplates changes from time to time, and nothing is so disastrous as to instill in the people's minds the belief that there is danger to business in changing a portion of the officers of our government.

If the people cannot change their officers without creating a panic, then the logical step is to go to a monarchy, which, of course, none advocates.

SPECIAL INTERESTS VERSUS EQUAL RIGHTS.

In every utterance and every statement made so far Mr. Taft has shown great concern for the welfare of the TRUSTS and SPECIAL INTERESTS.

He is afraid that the guaranty of bank deposits will be a burden on a few big bankers. That thousands of small depositors may lose everything does not worry him.

He is afraid that a reduction of the tariff may hurt protected industries. He does not worry for the consumer, who bears the burden of the heavy tax.

He is afraid to oppose the TRUSTS, for he considers them a benefit. He does not mind the extortion they practice upon the public.

He is opposed to a jury trial in contempt and injunction cases because the SPECIAL INTERESTS want the unfair injunction process continued. The "Father of the Injunction" does not worry because the laborer may not get a square deal.

The Republican candidate believes in an income tax only when the present oppressive means of taxation fail to furnish enough revenue. In other words, he believes that the wealthy should not be taxed until the resources of the masses are exhausted. Not a word from Mr. Taft because the masses bear an unjust share of the burden of taxation.

Mr. Taft stands for the favored FEW and SPECIAL INTERESTS. Mr. Bryan stands for the PEOPLE as opposed to the INTERESTS.

Mr. Taft stands for PLUTOCRACY as opposed to DEMOCRACY.

Mr. Bryan stands for EQUAL RIGHTS as opposed to SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.

PROMOTE BIBLE STUDY POUNDS MEN INTO SHAPE

NEARLY THREE THOUSAND MEN ASSEMBLED IN MEETING IN-TERESTED IN BIBLE WORK.

MOVEMENT HAS BECOME NATIONAL

At a meeting of about three hundred Y. M. C. A. men in the gymnasium last night, Bible study in the university was given an impetus which will set it henceforth in a prominent place in a student's life.

Dr. Blanchard assisted by Henry McLain and Richard Scully had charge of the meeting. These men were fresh from the first annual Biblical conference at Columbus, O., where delegates from 400 institutions sat assembled. Nearly every college in North America was represented while many men interested in such work in foreign countries were there to give it an international color. China and Japan were represented.
Bishop McDowell and other celebrities were there to enliven the twelve hundred young men in the Christ course.

After Dr. Blanchard had imparted some enthusiasm to the assembly, plans were projected by which more men could be brought into Bible work. Ultimately it is hoped, to put the work on a systematic basis by which the leaders will meet in a normal class under Dr. Blanchard and all receive one hour credit for the work.

This work occupied most of the hour but the social recess was enjoyed by the large number of new men who were received in full membership at this auspicious meeting.

ALMOST READY

The Final Touches Are Given to the Library Building.

The final work is being done upon the library and library premises during the few days before the dedication. The woodwork is being given the last coat of varnish and the floors are being cleaned. The yard has been graded and all the unsightly refuse carried away.

The present crew of workmen will be done with their work this week but owing to the lateness of the arrival of the stacks, the library will not be wholly ready for occupancy for some weeks yet.

One of the features of the new library is the revolving door which is a happy combination of vestibule, turnstile and door.

At the dedicatory services on Friday a paper telling of the work in securing donations for the library, and the history of its progress will be read.

MUSIC AND ART

Miss Gertrude Taylor of Greencas-tle has registered for work in the voice department of the School of Music.

Some of the Art School people will visit the Ceramic exhibit now open in Indianapolis, in the Claypool Hotel.

The series of recitals for the current year opened with the fortnightly last evening. There was an interesting program of pianoforte numbers ranging in grade from junior preparatory to junior collegiate. The number of this opening recital was Series 2, No. 105 which means the 1105th recital of the school. The first series having included 1000 numbers.

Smith Goes Home.

William Smith who sustained a double fracture of the ankle bone Saturday while captaining the junior football team, went to his home in Lafayette yesterday. The extent of the injury can not be definitely stated but Smith will not be able to return to school for several weeks. This is the first serious accident in football at DePauw this season.

BROWN CHASES MOLESKIN ART-ISTS THROUGH STIFF
WORK-OUT.

GREENSTREET IS IMPROVING

Still a little stiff from Saturday's game the varsity was yesterday sent through a hard and varied program on McKee Field. The team lacked the ginger and snap displayed in the Georgetown game but is expected to come round in good shape by next Saturday. Greenstreet was on the field in playing togs yesterday but the coach kept him out of scrimmage work entirely. His injured shoulder is healing fast and Saturday will no doubt find the star half-back lined up against the boiler-makers.

Yesterday's workout included forty minutes of scrimmage against the scrubs and later the preps. The scrub lineup was filled in with varsity cripples and could scarcely lineup before the varsity was off and ploughing through their ranks.

The preps were next substituted and held the varsity for a time.
Coach Brown kept the varsity continually on the offensive working on the newest plays and sprinkling in the forward pass. In this department the varsity showed surprising inaccuracy and suffered penalty several times during the play.

The continued disinclination of the team to fall on a fumbled ball is being guarded against by individual practice in the art and the result is a marked improvement.

Purdue is expecting a hard struggle against the old gold next Saturday. With Greenstreet back in the game the ranks of the regulars will be unbroken and little the worse for wear due to the Georgetown game.

The boiler-makers played no game
Saturday and should be in excellent physical condition. DePauw has shown that it can play great football and the next two days of practice will largely tell if such play can be duplicated in the coming contest at Lafayette.

MAY RUN A SPECIAL TRAIN

AN EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO RUN EXCURSION TO LAFAY-ETTE SATURDAY.

MATTER NOT SETTLED AS YET

An attempt is being made to secure a special train, to carry the delegation of DePauw rooters to Lafayette on Saturday when the DePauw-Purdue game will be played.

Manager Jay Carpenter yesterday said that better rates and a lower guarantee had been secured from the railway officials, than that offered on the Indiana special. Members of the faculty were consulted yesterday afternoon in regard to the matter and in most cases the project was received with favor.

It is probable that a special meeting of the faculty will be held and the matter will be definitely settled.
If the train is run a large number of students will necessarily be excused from eleven o'clock recitations. As it is over twenty men composing the squad will miss this class.

Paul Smith Here.

Paul Smith of the class of '07, conducted chapel services yesterday morning. Mr. Smith left last night for Des Moines, Iowa, where he and his family are now situated. He is at present the state secretary of the Student Department of the Y. M. C. A.
of Iowa. When he left he said,
"Unless something unforeseen happens the Smith family will certainly be here for the Commencement festivities."

ing at Brady Jones' returned home Sunday.

Mr. Johnson had an unexpected and unknown visitor one night last week after they had retired. When Mrs. Johnson started to greet him he departed hurriedly leaving in his excitement a flour sack. Just wait till Bryan is elected and they won't have to do anything like stealing for a living.

SOMERSET.

The old folks meeting here last Sunday was fairly well attended.

Uly Young read a paper relating to the early days of the church. Dr.
Collins of Bainbridge also gave an interesting talk.

little daughter, Ferol, returned Saturday from a visit with relatives in Emporia, Kansas. They report a big rain followed by a 4-inch fall of snow just before leaving that place.

Work is progressing nicely on our road over a mile having been finished.

Had a Close Call.

Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croom Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles affected a complete cure."
The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at the Owl Drug Store. 50c and $1.00.

SOME REPUBLICAN GOSSIP

William Masten, who resides at the corner of Illinois and Elm Streets has requested that the Herald state that the rumor to the effect that he would support the Republican ticket is false. Mr. Masten states that he is a Prohibitionist and that he will support the Prohibition candidate.

The Women's League.

The Woman's League of the College Avenue Church held its monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon in the chapel of the church. Mrs. J. P. Allen, Sr., the president, presided and Mrs. J. G. Dunbar acted as secretary.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Ayres. After a brief business session the program of the afternoon was carried out. The general subject was, "The Church, Its Measure of Success." Mrs. Gobin spoke on, "The Church's Relation to the Poor."

She made many practical suggestions which will result, it is hoped, in a forward movement along the lines suggested. Mrs. Peck presented the paper upon "The Church's Relation to Education" and gave a most interesting historic sketch showing the vital relation between the church and education from early times until now.

After the program the social session was held during which refreshments were served by the committee consisting of Mrs. Alice Thomas, Mrs. Pyke, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Landes, Mrs. Marshall assisted by others. There was present a large company who greatly enjoyed the meeting.

A Curious Fish.

There is a fish with four eyes along the sandy shores of tropical American seas. It is the anableps and is unique among vertebrates on account of the division of the cornea into upper and lower halves by a dark horizontal stripe and the development of two pupils to each orbit. One pair of these appears to be looking upward, the other sideways.

Wood's Liver Medicine in liquid form for malaria, chills and fever, regulates the liver, kidneys and bladder, brings quick relief to biliousness, sick-headache, constipation. Pleasant to take. The $1.00 bottle contains 2 and one-half times quantity of the 50c size. First dose brings relief. Sold by Badger & Green.

HIGERT--HELM WEDDING

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized last night at the home of Mrs. Augusta Higert, the contracting parties being Mrs. Higert's daughter, Miss Alma Therese Higert, and Mr. Carl Franklin Helm of Indianapolis. Dr. H. A. Gobin, officiated, using the full ring ceremony. The rooms were beautifully decorated in palms, smilax and cut flowers carrying out a color scheme of pink, green and white.

In the door-ways and arch between the parlor and music room, were hung wedding bells of pink and white, draped with festoons of smilax. The mantels were banked with pink and green carried out in foliage and pink chrysanthemums.

At 7:30 the wedding march was played by Mrs. Harry Helm and the bride and groom unattended came to their places before an altar of potted ferns, palms and chrysanthemums and here the ceremony which made them one was pronounced. Refreshments were served in the dining room which was beautifully decorated, and lighted by green shaded candles. On the table was a beautiful French basket of pink roses and violets.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of hand-made lace battenberg over white satin in Directoire style. The going-away dress was a touse-colored tailored suit, with hat to match. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Helm left over the interurban for Indianapolis where their handsome new home is already furnished at 1610 East Vermont Street. The wedding was essentially a home one and no invitations were issued, the only guests present being relatives. The following from out of town were here Mr. and Mrs. Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Helm, Victor Helm, Miss Leila Helm, Mr. and Mrs. George Alig, Mr. and Mrs. W. Widdop and sons, Mr. and Misses B. Schumer, Mrs. Pfafflin, Mrs. Bertha Pfafflin, Mrs. Aufder-Lorger, Misses Tillie Aufderherder, Margaret Widdop, Stella Alig, Adele Schriener, Nellie Bell and Charlotte Pfafflin, Miss Eva Gibbons, all of Indianapolis; Mrs. George Weber of Terre Haute, and Mrs. Mattie Starr of Milton.

The Elder Robert Fulton.

Robert Fulton was born at Little Britain, Lancaster county, Pa., Nov. 14, 1765. His biographers have called him "a self made man" and have made but brief reference to his parentage. It is noteworthy that his father, the senior Robert Fulton, in a failure to leave financial patrimony to his children has not been accorded the mention of other achievements, not slight in those primitive days. His ancestors crossed from Scotland to Ireland prior to the time of Cromwell. From Kilkenny, Ireland, the Fulton family came to America before the year 1735. The senior Robert Fulton was among the prominent men of Lancaster, his name having been on record upon all the town organizations which existed at that period. He was a founder of the Presbyterian church, the secretary of the Union Fire company and a charter member of the Juliana library of Lancaster, the third library established in the American colonies.—Century.

The Fourmillion.

"In the Sahara," said an explorer, "there is a little insect that throws sand, and its volleys slay. They call it the fourmillion. The fourmillion digs itself a funnel shaped hole of the circumference of a silver dollar. It lies hidden and watchful in the bottom of this hole, and when a spider or ant or beetle comes cautiously prospecting down the steep and slippery sides the inhospitable fourmillion launches upon its guest volley after volley of sand—a hail of stinging sand so abundant, so suffocating, so blinding that the visitor loses his head. He rolls unconscious for the nonce to the bottom of the hole, and the fourmillion calmly dismembers him before he has time to come to himself again and puts him in the larder for the next meal."

By mutual agreement the Meat Markets of the city have decided to close their shops on Sunday. Therefore those wanting meat will have to get it on Saturday night. By order of committee. 2481

CLOTHCRAFT STYLE

Young men want their clothes cut with a certain smartness—they ought to have what they want.

Older men—want more conservative styles—they, also, ought to have what they want.

Now, CLOTHCRAFT clothes for Fall and Winter have this merit—you can find just the model and just the pattern best suited to your wants.

But, whatever you want, the style will be correct and proper

—if you get CLOTHCRAFT.

The cutting, the making in every detail will be just right to give you good-looking clothes—a suit or an overcoat that will not only look well when you first put it on, but keep on looking well.

Because of their merit, CLOTHCRAFT clothes have the approval of the trade and of all who ever try them.

Most important, perhaps, of all—

CLOTHCRAFT garments are all wool—pure wool with no cotton mixture—guaranteed wool all through.

And CLOTHCRAFT is the only line of men's clothing made of all wool materials and selling at from $10 to $25, suit or overcoat.

Look in soon while the stock is complete. Why not today? It will pay you.
