NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the Circuit Court of Putnam County, State of Indiana, Administrator of the estate of James L. Christy, late of Putnam County, Indiana, deceased.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

Dated this 7th day of September, 1914.

HIRAM C. CHRISTY, Administrator.

B. F. Corwin, Atty. 3d W Oct 16,

Fall Arbor and Bird Day.

My friend, are you going to plant a tree on Arbor and Bird Day, October 23, 1914? Or, were you one of the many that planted a tree on last Arbor Day, April 17th, when we strove to have a million trees planted by the people of Indiana? If you were and the drouth killed the tree, or the storm blew it down, or some person broke it off, are you going to give it up? We think not, for you have learned by sad experience that if at first you do not succeed, you must try again.

The State Board of Forestry is anxious to assist in every way, those who are interested in Forestry, no matter whether you are going to plant one tree for shade to beautify your home, or you are going to plant several thousand for profit that you or your children will receive in the future.

Every person conversant with the facts knows that there are few farms that contain more than eighty acres of land that do not have some part on it that should be devoted to trees of some kind. The kind that should be planted depends largely on the drainage, location, soil and many other local conditions. These should be well considered by the owner before planting, and if not familiar with the conditions, should seek the advice of the Board of Forestry, or some other competent authority before planting, and thus save himself from the disappointment that usually follows when trees are planted in soil not adapted to them.

The thing to do is to select the right kind of a tree, plant it according to the instructions sent out, and then take the proper care of it. Then you will not fail to realize on your time and labor.

If you cannot plant one this fall decide now to do so next spring, by selecting the kind of tree or trees that you are going to plant and select the place, make thorough preparations for all the details in every way by studying the trees and soil of your community, find out what kind of trees were native, those that have best withstood the ravages of insects and drouths, then plant a tree that will grow.

The board is prepared to furnish publications on the various phases of Forestry and suggestive Arbor Day program for schools, civic organizations and individuals, free to any one. Write the secretary.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD.

AMUSEMENTS.

English Opera House, Indianapolis.
Inc., Jos. P. Bickerton, Jr., Managing Director, will offer for an engagement at the English Opera House, Indianapolis, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 22-23-24th. "Adele," the biggest musical success of the past season. "Adele" stayed one whole year in the metropolis and was received in New York City by every dramatic critic as an unqualified success. It presentation here will be an event in the season's local musical activity.

The cast engaged is one of the best ever sent out of New York, and includes Peggy Wood, who will be seen as Adele; Wilmoth Merkel as the Baron; Georgia Caine as Myriam; Jas.
W. Redmond as Robert; Fred Waelder as Parmaceau; Edna Broderick as Babiole; Fred Frear as Friebur, and Harry C. Bradley as Jacques. Others in the cast are H. Barlah, Julian Winters, Charles Frye, Edward Wooster, Grace Walton, Edna Alling, Alyce Humphries, Marguerite Cunard, Kathlyn Beach, Anna Gartin, Leonora D'Arcy, Rue Brown and the renowned "chorus of prima donnas."

"Adele" was written by Paul Herve and Jean Briquet, authors of "Alma and adapted to the English stage by Adolph Phillip and Edward A. Paulton, author of "Erminie." The story of "Adele" briefly concerns a young French girl, Adele, who is in love with Robert Friebur, the son of her father's business rival, but cannot get her parent's consent to the marriage. She then persuades her father to arrange for her to be married to a member of the French nobility, Baron Charles de Chantilly, who is bankrupt and upon whom her father is willing to settle a large sum of money. She plans immediately after marriage ceremony to separate, secure a divorce and then marry the man she really loves. By a provision in the French law, once having been married, she is then free to marry without the consent of her parents. The Baron at first refuses but finally consents. It is then that Fate takes a hand and Adele finds that her heart is not with her first love and so complications pile up which at last are cleared away and the husband and wife live happily ever after.

The music, consisting of twenty-two numbers, have been played, sung and whistled all over the world. A waltz song, bearing the title of the operetta, has that listless catchiness that made the "Merry Widow" a huge success.

DID MAN MAKE GOD, OR DID GOD MAKE MAN?

The above is to be the subject of the lecture by Dr. John P. D. John at the Methodist church tonight. This is one of the really great lectures on the American platform. It has been delivered nearly a thousand times before American audiences. Tonight, the lecture will begin shortly after 7 o'clock, owing to the men's banquet which will immediately follow the lecture.

The people are becoming awakened to the real greatness of these addresses if one were to judge by the remarks of leading men and women last night at the close of the lecture.
It would be little short of a calamity for anyone to miss this great lecture tonight. This is one of the things that one could well afford to go through rain or storm to hear.—Fredonia, (Kan.) Herald.

castle Kitchen Cabinet company,

Special Notice To Taxpayers.

Many will question the amount of their taxes and ask concerning their personal property assessment and land appraisement.
Mistakes will occur where the assessment of property and the extending and collecting of taxes are done by as many different officers.

The Treasurer and Auditor will cheerfully correct all mistakes for which they are responsible and the county assessor will explain the assessment of personal property and where possible adjust if in error.

Time is at hand for the paying of Fall taxes. Monday, November 2, is the last day on which taxes can be paid, without the penalty being attached. You soon will find yourself in the Treasurer's office in a great crowd, waiting to get to pay windows. Some will be in a hurry to make certain trains to get home. Why delay and cause yourself as well as the treasurer so much inconvenience?

If the second installment of taxes is not paid within the limit set by law, the taxes become due and delinquent and with penalty is extended by the Auditor and charged to the Treasurer. The state is interested in this extension and the Auditor and Treasurer are both personally liable for any penalties that might be refunded.

Under no circumstances can the Treasurer alter the duplicate. He can make no reduction in taxes and he can not refund money once paid in. Errors must be corrected through the Auditor's office.

As the Treasurer can not know the location of each person's property, tax payers should designate the property on which they wish to pay, and see that all property is included in their receipt. If they have land in more than one township or corporation, or desire to pay taxes on lands or lots not in their name, call the Treasurer's attention to the matter, carefully examine receipts, see if they describe all property (personal and real) and are otherwise correct before leaving the office, and if any errors are evident have them corrected at once.

The Tax Duplicate is not a transfer book and when, for any year, the Tax Duplicate is made with reference to the property on the first day of March said year the duplicate remains forever unchanged as to showing of property in whose books or prompt recording of deeds to the contrary notwithstanding.

Property will appear in same name of the payment of the second installment as for first. Assignees, Guardians, Administrators and others who pay taxes on property in trust and persons whose taxes are complicated, such as undivided estates, etc., are earnestly requested to settle such taxes before the last few days, as it requires considerable time to make divisions and separate receipts. Thus avoid mistakes which might happen during the rush of the last few days of taxpaying.

"All property, both Real and Personal, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes, penalties, interest and cost charged to the owner thereof in such county, and no partial payment of any such taxes penalties, interest or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid, which lien shall in no wise be erected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property, and shall attach on the first day of April annually for the taxes of such year."
—From Section 173, Acts 1881.

Special Notice.

All Ditch Taxes and Street Improvements must be called for separately.

The taxpayer often has personal property and poll assessed to him separately from his real estate especially when the land is in joint title, and accordingly must have a receipt therefor.

Delinquent taxes must be paid before the current tax.

The Treasurer will not be responsible for penalties and charges on delinquent taxes, resulting from omission of the person, paying such tax to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Very Respectfully,

H. H. RUNYAN,

Treasurer Putnam County.

Toned Up Whole System.

more for me than I ever dared hope for," writes Mrs. Esther Mae Baker, bottles of these tablets a few months bilious attacks, sick headaches and that tired out feeling, but toned up

ALMOST GENEROUS.

Casey was Close But Once He Came Near "Loosening Up."

Harry M. Daugherty, of Columbus, who, some persons believe, will be the next United States Senator from Ohio, while in the national capital recently told this story to the Washington Post. Two Irishmen were discussing the death of a friend.

Said Pat:
"Sure, Casey was a good fellow."
"He was that," replied Mike. "A good fellow, Casey."
"And a cheerful man was Casey,"
said Pat.
"A cheerful man was Casey, the cheerfullest I ever knew," echoed Mike.
"Casey was a generous man, too,"
said Pat.

"Generous, you say? Well, I don't know so much about that. Did Casey ever buy you anything?"
"Well, nearly," replied Mike, scratching his head. One day he came into Flaherty's barroom, where me and my friends were drinking, and he said to us: "Well, men, what are we going to have—rain or snow?"

SAME OLD WAY.

Teacher—Now, if I should give a smart boy this sentence to punctuate: "Mary Jane a beautiful girl ran down the street," what would he do?
John—Make a dash after the girl, of course.

A New Use for Cheese.

An English farmer recently went into a restaurant in Liverpool and called for some bread and cheese.

"What kind would you like, sir?" inquired the waiter. "Cheshire, Yorkshire or Gorgonzola?"

"Fancy name, that last," said the farmer: "I'll try a bit of that."

He thought it so tasty that he bought a pound, took it home for his wife late at night, and left it for her on the sideboard in the kitchen. Next morning he came in from his before-breakfast round and asked her if she had found the parcel.

"Oh, yes," she replied. "I saw it there all right, and very good mottled soap it is, no doubt, when you know how to use it. But I couldn't make it lather very well when I washed the children, and after I'd done they smelled so strong that I've turned 'em out for a breath of fresh air, just to sweeten 'em a bit before they go to school."

He Would Return.

Marlow was three years old. One day his mother said to him: "Now, Marlow, you may go outdoors to play for a while, but if I see you crossing the street to play with that naughty little boy, Willie Burr, again, I'll give you a hard, hard spanking."

Half an hour later the mother looked out after her boy and saw him playing with Willie Burr. She raised the window and called, with forced gentleness:

"Marlow, come here to me."

Marlow came, but as he did so, he turned to his companion and said:

"You stay right here, Willie. I'm don't in to get spanked. I'll be right back."

Back to the Farm.

"Well, Silas, what did you find new down to the city?"

"Why, somethin' wuth seein'. The bull place is full of cabs with cash registers on 'em, an' red flags to show folks it's dangerous to dispute the fare. They call 'em taxidermy cabs, 'cause ef you don't mind the drivers 'll jest take the skin off ye."

The Saddest Words.

Said a poet to an unfortunate speculator: "Don't you think that the opening lines of Tennyson's little poem, 'Break, break, break,' are plaintive and sad?"

"Yes," was the melancholy reply.
"But I think that 'Broke, broke,' is a good deal sadder."

Advice.

"You've got to put a certain amount of dependence on yourself," said Uncle Eben. "De man dat goes aroun' lookin' foh too much advice is liable to find himself in de position of de gemman dat gits so interested readin' de time-table dat he misses his train."

Holding Back the News.
"I suppose your wife was tickled to death at your raise in salary?"

"She will be."

"Haven't you told her yet?"

"No, I thought I would enjoy myself for a couple of weeks first."

The Way of the World.

Uncle Biff says: "Some hev patches on their knees from kneelin' in prayer, also in 't' seat o' their trousers from backslidin'."

Sensible Advice.

Look the world square in the eye. If it's friendly, smile and hold out your hand. If it tries to trip you, duck, dodge and bluff it in the neck.
