LOWER CATTLE PRICES PREVAIL THIS WEEK

Kansas City Prices Declined 10 to 25 Cents and Large Holdover. Feeder Kinds In Demand.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 12, 1914.—Purchases of stockers and feeders here last week amounted to 35,000 head, practically the same number as was taken out same week last year. Prices declined 10 to 25 cents per hundred during the week, and there was a large holdover, 9,000 head. Fresh receipts today are 32,000 head, containing the usual large proportion of thin kinds, which puts this week into the hands of the buyers. Monday's market is usually bullish, but sales are barely steady today. A feature is the arrival of some fancy yearlings from Texas, which are sellin at $8.00 to $8.60. These yearlings have the ability to make show cattle of themselves if given a chance. Other high class panhandle stockers are selling at $7.40 to $7.80, and good steers $6.50 to $7.25. Colorado is shipping freely, consignments containing some high class twos, rich colored, at $7.35 to $7.75. Plain Colorados are selling to distillery buyers around $6.75, some as low as $6.45. Tight money is depressing prices, some cattle selling 25 to 35 cents below where they would were money conditions as easy as two or three weeks ago. This makes a double reason for buying now to anyone in a position to do so, a plentiful supply and ample variety to choose from and bargain prices. A feature in the last week has been the large number of one and two car buyers here. Reports from various sections indicate a price for corn around 65 cents and plenty of rough feed everywhere, conditions that will render feeders able to nurse the market when it comes to selling till such time as ruling prices made advisable to cut loose. Liberal receipts will continue for another week or two.
