

CHARLESTOWN, IA:
SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1825.

DURIN.
ORIGEN has for the present been absent about his own business.— In our next number, he will notice Mr. Matchett's next number.

An unfortunate dispute between "ORIGEN" and Mr. MATCHETT, which has found its way into our columns, entirely meets our dis-approbation on the ground that we do not tolerate religious differences in our pages; because we conceive that such affairs belong to another department. As parties press for further indulgence, we come to the conclusion to grant each the privilege of appearing once more, but they confine themselves within due bounds, and afterwards the columns of the paper will be closed upon the subject of the dispute; but if desired, handbills will be used for both parties.

Our Legislature convened on Monday of last week; but owing to the bad arrangement of mail routes between this place and Lansdown, we have not heard a word from them. We hope, next week, to be able to report some of their doings.

KENTUCKY.

The Legislature of this state adjourned on Wednesday the 12th instant, after remaining in session about nine weeks. The bill authorizing the state to cut a Canal around the Falls of Ohio, at Louisville, was rejected; but in lieu thereof, a bill has passed incorporating a private Company to construct said Canal, and empowering the trustees of Louisville to take stock to the amount of $100,000.

The bill defining the salaries of the judges of the Court of Appeals, at $2,000, has become a law.

The Legislature, at its next annual meeting, will again convene at Frankfort, there having been no provision made for its removal.

The bill has at length passed the House of Representatives, which has been for several years on the tapis, for occupying the Mouth of the Oregon, or Columbia River. It has been so amended as not to contemplate, even prospectively, a civil or territorial form of government. The occupation will therefore, for the present, be purely military.

The aboriginal name of the River, Daggon, will be restored to it, if this bill passes the Senate in its present shape, and we are glad of it. It is a honourous word, and significant—the meaning of it being, when translated, The River that runs to the West.

Commodore RODGERS resigned his commission as President of the Board of Navy Commissioners on the 15th inst. and proceeded to Norfolk to hoist his broad pendant on board the North Carolina, as commander-in-chief of the United States' Naval forces in the Mediterranean.—1b.

Commodore CHAUNCEY resigned his station as Commissioner of the Navy on the 21st inst. and proceeded yesterday morning to New York, to take command of the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, and of the New York station.—1b.

The National Journal of Dec. 30. says, a message from the President, was received yesterday by the House of Representatives, in compliance with a call for information relative to Com.
Porter's visit to Flaxardo.

The President informs the House, that Com. Porter has been ordered to return without delay, that there may be a full investigation of all the circumstances connected with the affair.

Estwick Evans, Esq. lately an unsuccessful candidate for member of Congress in New-Hampshire, has signified his intention of embarking for Greece, to assist the people of that country in their war for independence.— The Haverhill Gazette says its understanding that the Greek Committee of Boston have determined to give Mr. E. five hundred dollars, provided he embarks for Greece before the first of January.—West. Courier.

Education and Internal Improvement.

There have been, within our recollection, very few propositions presented to the consideration of Congress, so pregnant with interest as those embraced in the resolution submitted by Mr. John Smith, of Louisiana, yesterday, in the senate. These resolutions propose, 1st, That the public lands of the United States be appropriated and pledged as a permanent and perpetual fund for education and internal improvement; 2d, That the proceeds of the sales of public lands, after defraying the incidental expenses, be annually invested by the secretary of the treasury, in the stock of the bank of the United States, or in the stock of the government, or other stock, as Congress may direct, together with the interest annually accruing thereon; 3d, That the year following the return of the next census, & immediately after the apportionment of representatives, and every tenth year thereafter, the proceeds of the interest arising on the said capital stock shall be distributed among the several states, according to the ratio of representation; one half of which sum shall constitute a fund for education, and the other half shall constitute a fund for internal improvement, to be applied to respective states. It would be premature in us to express any decided opinion at this time, on questions so fresh, and of so much weight and magnitude; but we may remark without presumption, that it appears to us, if the general government ever undertake to exercise to any extent, the important duties of fostering education and promoting internal improvements, it must be by some such means as are suggested by Mr. Johnson.—Nat. Int.

The convention between the United States and Great Britain for the suppression of the Slave Trade having been modified by the Senate, at its last winter session, Mr. Adams, as soon as Congress adjourned, sent the amended treaty to Mr. Rush, our minister in London, with instructions to lay it before the British government, and to request its acceptance of the modifications proposed. A correspondence accordingly took place between Mr. Rush and Mr. Canning, the British Secretary of State, on the subject. The British Secretary acceded to all the modifications, except that which excluded the right of visiting vessels suspected of slave trading on the coast of America.
Mr. Canning considered that while this right was authorised to be practised in the West Indies, the principles of a quality and mutual confidence required it to be authorised on the American coast. Willing to ratify the treaty with the restoration of this provision, the British government sent an authority to Mr. Addington, its charge d' affaires at Washington, to agree to the instrument with that amendment. To this effect Mr. Addington addressed Mr. Adams, in the early part of last month. In reply Mr. Adams states the unabated earnestness of our government to accomplish the entire extinction of the odious traffic in slaves, but that the President would refer the whole subject to the deliberate advisement of Congress, with whom it now rests.

The correspondence between Mr.
Adams and Mr. Addington places the ability and dignified firmness and moderation of Mr. Adams in a very conspicuous light. It is published entire in the National Journal, but we apprehend our limits will not enable us to transfer it to our columns.—West. Pat.

TREATY WITH THE INDIANS.

Savannah, Dec. 16.

The Montgomery Republican contains two talks or memorials from the commissioners of the chiefs of the Creek Nation, for the perusal of the citizens of the United States. They declare, in these papers, that they are determined not to dispense of their lands either in exchange or by sale.

Since writing the above, we have information from a source that may be relied upon, that, notwithstanding these talks and memorials, a treaty was commenced with the Creeks at Broken Arrow, near Fort Mitchell, on the first inst. by our commissioners—that the Indians have met them, and an entire has been made on the business of the treaty; and, although little has been done from which inferences may be drawn as to the result, yet it is believed that it will be favorable to the mission. The object of the treaty is to obtain a cession of the territory contained by these Indians within the limits of the state of Georgia, and their removal to lands provided for them by the United States beyond the Mississippi.

We are also assured that the Indian Chief, General McIntosh, is favorably disposed to the Treaty.—Republican.

From the Boston Telegraph.

The Right Rev. Bishop Chase has lately returned to this country from England. The object of his visit to that country was to obtain money for the establishment of an Episcopal Theological Seminary in Ohio. His success has been great beyond anticipation; and shows the prompt benevolence of the good people of England.
He brought back upwards of $10,000, and subscriptions in books and monies are still received in that country.

NEW YORK, DEC. 15.

The Mummy.—Yesterday, as usual to public notice, the Mummy which has been exhibited in this city for some time past, was unclosed by Drs. Mott, Stevens, and Ackerly, and several other gentlemen of the faculty, who will no doubt give a very interesting statement to the public. All cavil and scepticism is completely put at rest on the subject of the reality of the Mummy.
On placing the body on the table, it appeared to be wrapped in a countless number of folds of linen, which, by age, had been firmly matted together; but, upon placing the knife at the head, and with difficulty, cutting a straight line to the feet, the casement was easily separated from the body, which was found to be in a black and perfectly dry state. All the bones, flesh, and skin, were found to be as hard as common wood; the arms, hands, and fingers, were in quite a perfect state, and in a natural position by the side of the body.
A large quantity of glutinous substance was found within the body, which, on burning, was of an agreeable odour.
No doubt can now remain, that the Mummy exhibited, was entombed three thousand years ago; and, by the pains taken in embalming it, that it was the body of a female of no inconsiderable importance.—Daily Adv.

Zoology.—Mr. J. J. Audubon of N.
Orleans has for the last twenty years been collecting materials for a history of the birds of this country. We had an opportunity of inspecting the drawings of this work. They amount to about 100 in number and every drawing is of the size of life. It is estimated that the expense of engraving alone, if executed in this country, will exceed one hundred thousand dollars.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

IN SENATE.

December 27.

Mr. Johnson, of Ky. from the Select Committee on that subject, reported a bill "for the abolishment of imprisonment for debt," which was read.

On motion of Mr. Johnson, of Ky.
the Senate resumed the consideration of the motion of the twenty-first instant, to instruct the committee on Public Lands to inquire into the expediency of providing for a final liquidation of the debts due by Banks, in which the moneys arising from the sales of Public Land, were deposited, which was so modified as to refer the consideration of the subject to a select committee of five, and in that shape agreed to.

The bill to authorize the Territory of Florida to open a Canal through the public land to unite the river St. Johns with the bay of St. Augustine, was read a second time and referred to the committee on Roads and Canals.

The bill from the H. of Representatives, entitled "an act authorizing payment for land erroneously sold by the U. States," was read a third time, passed, and returned to the House of Representatives.

On motion of Mr. Johnson, of Ky.
Ordered, That the petition of Lewis A.
Tarrascon, presented on the 13th inst., praying the opening of a wagon road from the Missouri to the Columbia river, be referred to the Committee on Roads and Canals. And then the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. Reynolds, of Tenn. laid on the table the following:

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to communicate to this House, whenever he deems it convenient, what progress the Engineers have made in carrying into effect the act of Congress of the 31st of March, 1823, entitled "An act to establish a national armory on the Western Water."

To Mr. Davis Shockley

On perusing the last paper, I discovered that you had advertised a runaway Girl by the name of Julian Shockley, and believing that said name was intended to designate me, I take this method to inform the public that I deny and disown it—for the two following reasons: 1st, when I reflect on the manner of your leaving Virginia, and the character which you here possess, and which you left behind you. 2d, when I take a view of some of the members of your family, more particularly the delicate widow Rice. You say that possibly I may change my name to Julian Rice; but I prefer my own name to a borrowed one. My name is Juliana Madera. You also forbid all persons from employing me; but you have no right so to do, for you never had me indebted, nor had you ever any other claim on me—but, sir, you may expect to pay me one hundred dollars of my own money which you unjustly detain from me.

If I had no more virtuous friends in Charlestown than you have, I should really fear suffering; but in spite of your malice, I hope I shall be able honestly to support myself. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

JULIANN MADERA.

Charlestown, Jan. 22, 1825.

CHEAP WORK FOR GOOD PAY!

The Subscriber takes the present opportunity to inform the public, that he still continues to carry on the business of BOOT & SHOE MAKING, in Charlestown, at his old stand, where he will do all kinds of Serviceable and Fancy work, on the most reduced terms, for CASH. He is determined to work as low as any person for prompt pay. He also wishes to inform such persons as have contracted to pay him produce, that unless the same be delivered by the first of February next, that it will not be afterwards received; but that cash will be indiscriminately required.

He will further give notice, that any person wishing to have Counterpanes, Bed Spreads, Curtains, or any other article of Cotton or Linen manufacture, indelibly and elegantly flowered or stamped, can be accommodated by applying to him; having prepared himself with apparatus for executing such work in durable colors and first rate style.

N. B.—Persons indebted will please come forward and close their old accounts.

JOHN L. P. MCUNE.

Charlestown, Jan. 22, 1825.

SHERIFF'S SALES.

By virtue of a writ of Venditioni Exponas, issued from the clerk's office of the Clark circuit court, I will offer at public sale, on the public square in Charlestown, on the 5th day of Feb.
1825, between the hours of 10 o'clock, A. M. and 4 P. M. the use, for 7 years, of 100 acres of land, in no. 209, in the Illinois Grant; taken as the property of Reece Williams, impleaded with Je-siah Williams, to satisfy the said writ in favour of John Beggs & A. Plumer, executors of James Abbott, dec'd.

ALSO—By virtue of a writ of Venditioni Exponas, issued from the clerk's office of the Clark circuit court, I will offer at public sale, on the 5th day of Feb. 1825, between the hours of ten o'clock, A. M. and 4 P. M. the use, for seven years, of 24 acres of land, in no. 81, in the Illinois Grant; taken as the property of David Stutsman and Reece Williams, to satisfy the said writ, in favour of John Beggs and A.
Plumer, executors of James Abbott, deceased.

THOS. CARR, Dep'ty, for
J. S. SIMONSON, S. C. C.

Jan. 15th, 1825.

BELONA.

The public are hereby informed, that the above named Horse, will again stand the ensuing season in Charletown or its vicinity. To those who are acquainted with the horse, no recommendation is necessary, and to those who are not, his colts are the most indisputable evidence in his favor.
The season will commence on the first of April next, and expire on the first of July, 1825.

Further particulars will be made known on the arrival of the Horse.

WILLIAM DUNKIN.
