JOHNSTON-ADAMS.

One of the most notable of the early spring weddings took place last evening at the First Presbyterian Church, when Miss Stella Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Adams, and Dr. Samuel Andrew Johnston were married. The ceremony was pronounced before a large and brilliant assemblage of guests. The ceremony hour was half-past 8. The guests were seated by the ushers, Mr. Albert Rockwell, of Warren, Pa.; Mr. William Dickson, of Chicago; Mr. William Rockwell, of Chicago; Mr. Oscar Schmidt, of Frederick City, Md.; Dr. Bernard Kennedy, of this city.

Professor Maurice Donnelly presided at the organ, playing the Mendelssohn wedding march for the entrance of the bride and groom for the recessional.

The church, with its decorations of palms and flowers, was a beautiful sight. The bride and groom were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Robert Foster. The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. Thomas Villers, of the First Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. M. L. Haines, of the First Presbyterian Church. The bride was beautiful in a gown of white lace, with a full skirt and a full train. She wore a veil and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom was in a dark suit and wore a white shirt and a white tie. The wedding was a very beautiful affair.

After the ceremony a small reception was given at the Adams home, on North Alabama street, to the members of the two families and the most intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Adams, mother of the bride, who received with the bride party, were a beautiful group in lavender crepe de chine and Mrs. H. C.

Adams, Jr., a gown of white panne crepe. Mrs. Bertrand Adams wore a white silk gown. Mrs. William Johnston wore a gown of white satin crepe, hand embroidered. The house was beautifully decorated in palms and maidenhair ferns. The parlor had clusters of Easter lilies and the other rooms were in the spring flowers and delicate ferns, and the bride's table had white tapers in silver candelabras.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams and the bride party were assisted in entertaining by Dr. and Mrs. Francis O. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Morris Mothershead, Mr. and Mrs. Kerfoot Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. David Percy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Zumpfe and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Ridgely.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnston left last evening for a wedding journey in the East and on their return will be at home at 49 East Fifteenth street. Among the out-of-town guests last night were Miss Simpson, of Leeds, Mass., with Miss Martha Carey, Dr. Nelson, of Cincinnati, and Miss Bosler, of Carlisle, Pa., with Miss Edith Willner.

KRENTLER-ZOLLNER.

The marriage of Miss Hazel Linn Zollner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Zollner, and Mr. Edward F. Krentler took place last evening at the Blackford-street M. E. Church at 8 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. E. F. Jewett, pastor of the church.

The bride and groom were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Herbert Thurston. The bride wore a pretty lace robe with a veil, caught with a white organdie with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom was in a dark suit and wore a white shirt and a white tie. The wedding was a very beautiful affair.
