OFFICE OF THE INDIANAPOLIS NEWS,
November 1, 1879.

The actual circulation of The Indianapolis Daily News for nine months ending yesterday, was an average of 10,888 copies for each day.

W. J. RICHARDS,
Advertising manager.
Subscribed and sworn before me this 1st day of November, 1879. JAMES GREENE, [L.S.] Notary public.

The new state fiscal year began November 1st.

This was what Dickens would describe as a "dead" morning.

It requires ninety-six bushels of coal daily to heat the court-house.

A telephone will connect the office of the board of health, in the court-house, with Dr.
Jeffrey's office.

No additional street lamps will be erected this year, although the committee on public light say they are needed.

A house of ill-fame at 209 East Pearl street, occupied by Kate Dalton, was burned out this morning. Loss trifling.

Marriage licenses were issued to-day to Thomas J. Cummins and Mary King, Harry McLaughlin and Mary Satorius.

Two cells will be built in the Sixth street station house, much to the comfort and delight of Mr. Rooker and his constituents.

General Sheridan could not accept the invitation to visit Indianapolis on the 20th inst., being engaged at Washington on that day.

Yesterday afternoon George Bailey was thrown from a buggy on North Mississippi street, and badly injured in the back and head.

George O'Brien will have a hearing before Squire Newcomb to-morrow afternoon on a charge of bastardy preferred by Agnes Reid.

Timothy Lyons, foreman at the gas works, was struck in the head by an iron bar in the hands of John Tarpey, laborer, yesterday afternoon.

The suffrage society at its meeting tomorrow will discuss Francis Parkman's recent article on that question in the North American Review.

General Ben. Harrison was compelled to decline the invitation to deliver the address before the army of the Cumberland, on account of the press of legal business.

A South Meridian street wholesale dry goods house yesterday sold two large bills of goods to Ohio merchants, who preferred to buy here rather than to go to Cleveland or Cincinnati.

The Louisville Gray, Saturday night, accepted the invitation of the Light Infantry to visit Indianapolis on the 20th, and receive Grant. They will have an opportunity now to recede and try it over again.

At the meeting of the board of trade directors last night, it was decided to put the grain inspection rates up to their old figures, 25 cents per car in, and 15 cents per car out.
The rate takes effect from last Saturday.

John Keating was prosecuted in Squire Newcomb's court for selling liquor to Michael Lahey, an habitual drunkard. He will be discharged, the evidence going to show that he had received no notice not to sell, and failing to establish a sale.

There will be a children's temperance meeting to-morrow at 4:30 p. m. in Roberts Park church, conducted by Miss Anna Gordon, of Auburndale, Massachusetts, who is Miss Willard's charming little private secretary, aided by Miss Willard and other ladies. Only children and young people are invited. Parents and teachers will please send their children direct from school without having them go home to dress.

WINTER PORK-PACKING.

The Season Which Begins To-Day, and Some Statistics of the Past and Expectations of the Future.

With this week properly begins the winter pork packing season, and the Indianapoli-sian houses are making their preparations to commence work. Ferguson & Co. and Kingman & Co. have been packing for the European markets nearly all summer, and the opening of the season will make no difference in their operations. Landers & Co. began killing this morning. Coffin, Green-street & Fletcher begin next Wednesday and Barnes, McMurtry & Co. will begin as soon as they can get enough commission gents. Out of the city, Wright Brothers of Columbus, are ready to begin but will probably not kill for a week or ten days.
Henderson, Parks & Co., of Martinsville; the Spencer pork packing company, of Spencer; O. W. Thomas & Co., of Gosport; Baldwin, Robert & Co., of Newcastle; Reid, Beeler & Co., of Richmond; A. S. Wiggins, and Co., of Hagerstown; W. N. Evans, of Noblesville; John Bottine, of Muncie; Brown and Peterson, of Crawfordsville; Louis Schenck, of Seymour; Sample & Sop, of Lafayette, and the houses of Washington, Madison, Evansville and Bloomington, altogether combining a packing capacity of about 500,000 hogs, are prepared to begin work in a week or two, and expect to pack more extensively than last year. Last year there were 770,000 hogs packed in the city, but the number will probably be lessened this year, or at least it is smaller now than at this time last year, owing to the failure of Ferguson & Co. to pack during the entire summer season.
Unless they pack considerably more than last winter the total will fall short by several thousands.

A prominent packer told a News reporter this morning that the season opened with brighter prospects than before in years.
The old crop of hogs, which is nearly exhausted, the crop of hogs is exceptionally large, the country is in a better condition to take meats than before in years, and greater preparations are being made by the packers to receive the hogs. The houses out of the city, and the majority of those in the city, will pack largely on commission this season, as it is the safest arrangement for the packers that has yet been devised.
At the present price of hogs and the price of meats, which latter figure is hardly settled enough to base calculations upon, there is a very slight profit visible. But things are expected to better themselves before the season is over.

Council Proceedings.

There were only a few absentees at the meeting of council last night. Henry Cady's bond as contractor for improving Highland street from Washington to Ohio street, was approved. The property holders in that vicinity petitioned for a change in the grade of the proposed improvement, but no action was taken. The report of the finance committee, recommending that no change be made in the fee of patrolmen this year, was concurred in. Also, that the city assessor be instructed to list sequestered taxable property on the duplicate.

The charges against chief fire Pendergast by Ewald Over were examined by the judiciary committee and dismissed, and the chief exonerated from any blame.

The committee to whom the matter of furnishing statistics in the census bureau, was referred, were instructed to secure a full report at reasonable expense and $50 was appropriated for immediate expense.

A discussion ensued on the merits of the committee clerk ordinance, on a motion to recede from the former action of the council, by which B. W. Sullivan was nominated for the position, (which was called) in which nothing new was developed, save that an opinion that under the ordinance organizing the board of public improvements, it has the right to employ a clerk.

Mr. Lamb introduced an ordinance providing that all aldermen and board work be performed by the city clerk.

The appropriation ordinance passed as follows: On account of fire department, $796 86; city hospital, $988 85; printing, stationery and advertising, $222 00; on account of station houses, $175 98; city officers and city expenses, $8,688 41. The appropriation of $5,000 for the police was also passed.

Young Ladies' Temperance Union.
Between 30 and 40 young ladies of the various Protestant churches met at the Second Presbyterian church lecture room last night for the purpose of forming a Young Women's Christian temperance union, the meeting being called by Mrs. W. A.
Barnes, of New York, a delegate to the N. Y.
W. C. T. U., a lady who has had large experience in young women's work in this result.

Miss Lucia Kimball, who called the meeting to order, gave an interesting review of the young ladies' union and their plan of work as carried on in Chicago. Mrs.
Auretta Hoyt also spoke telling of the capacity for good possessed by the young women of this city. Miss Gretchen Killian was appointed secretary pro tempore. Mrs. Barnes presented the draft of a constitution. The name of the society is the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union. The white ribbon will be the badge of the society, and gentlemen may become honorary members by signing the pledge and paying the membership fee.

The following officers were then elected: President, Miss Lizzie Kellum; vice president, Miss Sue Ketchum; corresponding secretary, Miss Sadie Daggett; recording secretary, Miss Carrie Gregory; treasurer, Miss Minnie Curry.

The next meeting is to be held at the same place Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Street Cider.

A chemist in this city who knows what he is talking about, says there is now extensive sale in this city an artificial cider, in which there lurks and lingers a more energetic, persistent and disastrous poison than is ever found in the apple product. Qualitative analysis shows this beverage to be made of tartaric acid, cane sugar, water and alcohol, the latter being added in the form of apple brandy or high wines, the apple flavor being given by a Celtic ether.

The Grant Reception Postponed.

General Grant has telegraphed that he cannot be here before the unveiling of the Thomas statue, at Washington, on the 20th of this month, and that he will stop here on his return to the west from the meeting of the army of the Cumberland, but the date of his arrival cannot yet be announced. Postmaster Holloway left at noon to-day for Galena, to meet the general and fix a time for his coming. For the present therefore the reception is postponed.

TEMPERANCE CHRISTIANS

The Closing Proceedings—A Protest Against Intoxicating Beverages at Grant's Banquet—Reports of Committees, Thanks, Presentations, etc.

The convention met at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. After a bible reading, Mrs. Lathrop, by request, prayed for the reporters, who had been attending the meetings of the convention, and put it in their power to do great good. The following request was read and complied with. Earnest prayer, believing prayer, is requested for a man of influence in this community. Liquor and infidel associations have united to make him a very unhappy man, and it seems that only God's power can save him.

The committee on plan of work continued their report. The three committees last recommended were amplified into twenty-two committees, the work divided as follows: Committees on evangelistic work—1, outdoor work, union and prayer meetings; 2, sabbath school work; 3, meetings in theaters; 4, work among sailors; 5, prison and jail work, meetings in almshouses and other charitable institutions; 6, Indians, Chinese and colored people; 7, unfermented wine. Moral suasion committees—1, juvenile temperance work; 2, young women's work, prior to marriage; 3, medical meetings for women; 4, on temperance literature; 5, on colleges, seminaries and public schools; 6, on extending our organization to the south; 7, friendly insults, temperance restaurants and reading rooms; 8, enlisting our foreign population; 9, visiting liquor dealers; 11, reformatories for women and girls.

1. On information concerning temperance legislation; 2. On a commission of inquiry into the liquor traffic. The report signed by Francis W. Willard, chairman, and Mrs.
S. M. L. Thickett was adopted. The committee on relation of public charities to temperance work, recommended that the committee be continued, and also that the work be taken up by each state as state work.
The report on juvenile work was read, and called up, and after some discussion laid on the table. The city of Boston was chosen as the place for holding the next meeting. The committee on resolutions reported extending thanks for cordiality extended by citizens, churches and railroads. A special vote of thanks was given Miss Auretta Hoyt for her indefatigable efforts in arranging transportation for the members, and in other ways contributing to their comfort, a protest against the use of liquors at Grant's banquet was entered. Mrs. Barnes, of Rhode Island, submitted a report on prison work, and the morning session closed.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening session opened with a report on southern work, showing a large field open for temperance work. A resolution was passed that congress be memorialized to appoint a commission of inquiry into the importation of liquors into the country, and Mrs. M. A. Riley, of Georgetown, D. C., Mrs. Lyman, of New York, and Mrs. G. H.
McLeod, Baltimore, were directed to present the memorial. Mrs. B. B. Hudson, Michigan, and Mrs. J. K. Barney, Rhode Island, were directed to attend the national fair account, the constitution of the union was here interrupted, and Mrs. S. M. L.
Henry, of Rockford, Illinois, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. Anna Wittenmeyer, the retiring president, with Ruskin's works, four volumes, a volume of good poems, and copies of Tennyson's and Milton's works.
Mrs. Wittenmeyer gracefully acknowledged the gift.

The executive committee were directed to indite a memorial against moralism.
After prayer by the president, and benediction by Rev. Dr. Lynch, the convention adjourned sine die.

THE I. D. S. DOUBLE TRACK.

Objections by Property Owners Along the Line—Repeal of the Ordinance by the Council.

When the clerk read to the council last night the ordinance by the Indianapolis Declarator and Springfield railroad company of the terms of the ordinance, granting them the right of way for a double track into the city, Mr. Tucker suggested the probability that a mistake had been made in granting such extreme privileges to a railroad company, and moved the vote by which the ordinance was passed be reconsidered. This was decided to be out of order, the ordinance having been passed by the board of aldermen. In this connection a petition signed by Kingan & Co., Coburn & Jones and M. L. Wright, property owners along the proposed line of railroad, asking that the ordinance be repealed, and the matter be carefully considered before the right to entirely block up Louisiana street be granted irreversibly to the company. Alderman Coburn stated that the property owners along the street would be badly damaged if both tracks were laid down. There was no necessity for hurry in the matter, as the company, he understood, had not yet begun to lay the track.
The ordinance was reconsidered, and it was decided to use the I. O. & L. track for the present.

E. H. Lamme, attorney for the road, stated that the bridge over the river and the tracks would be built at once and trains running into the city by December 1st. The company claim vested rights under the ordinance passed two weeks ago, and would endeavor to maintain them.

A. D. Straight, representing the property holders, addressed the council at some length in support of the petition. He said, in the first place, the company wouldn't pay a fair price for the right of way, and the matter would then go into the courts, where it would remain till the property holder was glad to compromise. That had been his experience in the matter. Besides being an extraordinary privilege, which had been granted, no railroad entering the city, that of laying two tracks into the city, was unnecessary. Before the Belt road was built, the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette, Indianapolis and St.
Louis, and Indiana, Bloomington and Western railroad, all used the same track upon which the entire business, through and local freight, and passenger, of all the roads was carried. The I. D. & S. certainly does not need double the facilities of these roads, especially now that the Belt road will relieve it of the through freight. If the two tracks are laid in Louisiana street it will absorb all that remains of that thoroughfare, and thereupon shut out any other road that may desire to come in.
Should a coal road be projected, it would of course meet the opposition of these western roads, and they, holding the only convenient entrance to the city, would bar it out.
These things should be thought of before the I. D. & S. gets possession of the street. It is simply impossible, as any one acquainted with railroad work knows, to complete the bridge and track this winter, and it will not be done. The track across the street, therefore, is a mistake that should be rectified.

Mr. Kahn stated that the committee had been misled by the statements of the railroad people into giving the ordinance their support, and he wanted to see it repealed.

Mr. Dowling asked a suspension of the rules to introduce a repealing ordinance, but that failed. Later in the evening, however, a motion to reconsider was passed by a vote of 19 to 3.

The State Auditor Predicts.

The state officers and loungers who crowd rejoice the stores in the state building to enjoy the generous warmth and forecast political events concerning the presidential campaign, do not feel the anxiety concerning the New York election that they did over the recent melancholy Ohio affair. A News reporter, noting a triumphant glow upon State Auditor Mann's brow, asked to be allowed to inspect his New York horoscope. "You may put it down young man that Robinson will be beaten 30,000 votes."

"I have, what next?"
"That Clarkson Potter, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor will be elected by 15,000 votes."

"Well?"
"And that John Kelly will get 40,000 votes."

"What will the vote of Thidden after Robinson's defeat? Does this defeat of any way his candidacy for the presidency?"
"I don't know about that, but this I do know, that Robinson's defeat doesn't hurt Mr. Hettricks in the least."

THE CORN CROP.

Some Opinions Concerning the Extent and Condition of the Harvest.

The following opinions regarding the size and condition of the new corn crop in this state were gathered by a News reporter this morning from four of the largest and best posted corn dealers on 'change. It will be seen that they agree, with one exception, that the entire crop will be about as large and as fine this year as last, although they disagree regarding the yield per acre and the extent of the acreage.

Martin H. Bennett said he thought the acreage of corn land in Indiana this year was nearly twenty per cent. less than last year, and that the yield was at least one-fifth less to the acre. The corn that has been received at his elevator has either been dry and chaffy and of light weight, or it is wet. But as we always get the worst corn first, there is probably a better lot back of this. The Illinois corn is the best he ever saw at this time of the year, and is so dry that it is hard to tell it from last year's crop.

Fred. P. Rush thought that the acreage of corn land was greater than last year. That the farmers were enabled to utilize wet and marshy patches of ground last spring on account of the long dry weather, and that it is on these places that the best corn is raised.

The wheat acreage, being larger than that of the previous year, has come out larger and better than the corn, and has made up for it and increased the corn acreage, if anything. The yield is less than that of 1878, but the size of the crop will not be either five per cent. greater or five per cent. less.

William P. Gallup was of the opinion that the corn acreage was about the same as last year, and the yield a little less. In Jasper and Benton counties unusually immense crops are being harvested, but in some parts of the state the yield is somewhat less. The quality of the crop, he thought, was poorer.
In the whole country, the crop will be much larger than ever before.

Wm. Scott thought that the acreage was at least 15 per cent. less than last year but that the yield was enough heavier to make the entire crop as large as that of 1878. It was, however, a smaller yield than was anticipated on account of the frost catching the late plantings, and with the exception of that injured corn, the quality is about as good as last year's. The Illinois crop is better and larger than ever before.

Benevolent Society.

The first annual business meeting of the reorganized Indianapolis Benevolent society was held last night at Plymouth church.
During the past ten months $958.45 have been expended, of which $180.52 in cash was paid to various individuals; grocery orders, $100.88; lodgings, $51.00; stationery, $36.87; fuel, $32.25; coal, $25.00; shoes, $23.30; loans, $13.95; clothing, $3.25; furniture and office expenses, $9.40; salary, $387; sundries, $17.26. The year's operations closed with over $300 on hand. The public anniversary meeting will be held the Sunday afternoon after Thanksgiving day. The following officers were then elected and the convention adjourned: President, Rev. O. C. McCulloch; vice-presidents, Simon Yandes, H. H. Walker, W. N. Jackson, Rev. George W. Cook; executive committee, O. C. Hines, George Meritt, Mrs. L. W. Moses, Mrs. O. N. Todd; treasurer, Ingram Fletcher; secretary, Henry D. Stevens.
