JAIL COOK TELLS OF REVOLTING FOOD

"Bones for Supper" Is Judge Anderson's Description of Food Given to Prisoners.

DEATH OF INSANE MAN

Prisoner Alleged to Have Died Three Days After Being Abused by Jailers.

A revolting description of the food given to prisoners in the Marion County Jail and of its manner of preparation, told in detail by the jail cook, John Nicolini, and a reversal of testimony by Jack Hampton, of Evansville, a cell boss in the jail, were principal points brought out today by Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court, in the investigation being made into alleged misconduct of affairs at the jail by Robert F. Miller, sheriff of Marion county, and his employes. Hampton said today that in his testimony Tuesday, when the investigation was begun, he did not tell the truth, because he feared that if he did tell the truth he would be punished.

Witnesses asserted that within the last few weeks an insane man was beaten by jailers until he was so weak he could not stand, after which he was left for several days lying on the floor of his cell, until finally he and the cell were cleaned by means of a hose and cold water. The insane man died two or three days after this treatment, it was asserted.

Methods of Discipline.

Testimony also indicated that prisoners often were beaten and cursed by Uncle Charley Whitesell and that they were disciplined by being locked in the "hole," where they had no bed chair, light or ventilation and received only three slices of bread and three cups of water a day. Another mthod of nforcing discipline, according to several prisoners, was to spray formaldehyde into a cell until the occupant was "straightened out."

Repeated inquiry by Judge Anderson brought out the fact that when members of the board of state charities visited the jail, which, it was said, was seldom, the visit was announced in advance to the prisoners and orders were issued to have "things in good shape." The court took much interest in what had been done by the state board and indicated he might have witnesses called to explain what was accomplished by the board for the welfare of prisoners.

Four Jailers Discharged.

Announcement was made by harles E. Wiltsie, counsel for Mr. Miller, that the our jailers, Uncle Charlies Whitesell, George Douglass, Frank Kamp and Adria Van Cleave, had been discharged as a result of revelations made at the hearing Tuesday. In explanation of the fact that a change had been made in the food served to the prisoners, he said the new men taking the place of the discharged jailers had not had time to learn their work and consequently other proposed changes had been delayed.

Judge Anderson made it known that he expected a change immediately in the food that is served to prisoners. He said the one big concern of the government just now is to see that the prisoners are properly fed and cared for.

Testimony indicated that the only way in which the prisoners had been able to get food fit to eat was by buying it through a certain grocer favored by the jail officials. One witness said that he had paid as high as $2.50 a pound for butter and $5 for a small chicken.

"Bones for supper!"

Judge Anderson thus briefly and to the point expressed his opinion of meals at the Marion County Jail after Nicolini, the cook, had described what he had prepared for the prisoners daily for the last few months.

"You are a cook, are you?" asked the court.

"Yes, I'm a cook, but I can't cook this stuff," replied Nicholini, as he unwrapped a package of food samples to lay before the judge. "I have been a cook for ten years and I know how to cook, all right, but not this kind of stuff."

Samples Exhibited.

The samples of food consisted of white and red beans, rice, liver and the knee joint of a beef. The cook explained how the bones were handled. He said they were cooked and then, the skin, gristle and shreds of meat were scraped off and placed in the bean soup for supper. He said that if a man should use a razor in taking the meat off the bones he could not get much more than half a pound of real meat off the sixty pounds of bones used for the supper each day.

The following testimony was given by Nicolini concerning the food served daily to the federal, state and city prisoners confined in the jail and incidentally the manner of its preparation and the conditions under which it is prepared:

"Black coffee is served only for breakfast. It is served to about 175 men and it is made by boiling one and one-half pounds of cheap grade coffee in from sixteen to eighteen gallons of water. The officers of the jail get a special grade of coffee which is kept separate from the prisoners' coffee and is served with sugar and cream.

"The liver served recently was stamped "April 2, 1918," indicating that it had been in cold storage since that time. When it was handled parts of it fell off. Such liver as this and often also the bones that were served were so rank in smell that it was necessary to put salt and soda in it and soak it for at least two hours in cold water before cooking, the cook said. Little attention was paid to sanitation in the kitchen, he testified.

Mush Is Warmed Up.

"The mush served for breakfast is cooked the afternoon of the preceding day. On the morning it is served it is warmed in water and is given to the prisoners with sirup diluted in three parts of water. The officers get pure sirup.

"The officers have pork or veal or roast beef instead of liver or heart. Sometimes the cook was so hungry for good food that he took some of the meat that he was cooking for the officers.

"Prisoners were told that they would not be permitted to receive food from outside. Packages of food sent in by friends are often opened and only a small part is taken to the one for whom it is intended.

Report for County Officials.

The complete details, brought to light in the investigation in federal court of alleged improper practices at the county jail, will be given to Judge James A. Collins in the county criminal court, when the federal investigation is completed. A stenographic report of the testimony of federal prisoners at the jail will be transcribed and delivered to the criminal court officials and Claris Adams, prosecuting attorney.

County officials today would not say what sort of investigation by the BEDFORD, Ind., April 1.—The Bedford National Bank recently put in a burglar alarm. The alarm went off during the night with such gusto that residents all over the city thought yeggmen were robbing the bank. A short circuit later was found to have caused the untimely disturbance.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Edgar Schmitt, chief of police, Ira Wiltshire, chief of detectives, and several policemen hurried in automobiles to the American Bank and Trust Company at Main and Sixth streets Wednesday after a report was received at the central police station that a hold-up was in progress at the institution. The distance was covered in ninety second. When the policemen arrived they found no robbers. Bank officials explained that they had been testing out a new burglar alarm.

WILSON DOES NOT ACT TO STOP USE OF NAME

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE BY WHITE HOUSE.

GEORGIA BALLOT INVOLVED

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Wilson took no steps to prevent his name appearing on the presidential primary ballot in Georgia, it was said today at the White House.

The President had until 1 o'clock, Washington time, today to act. It was understood that he did not reply to the telegram from Secretary Gardner, of the Georgia Democratic state committee, asking whether he wished his name to appear on the ballot.

A petition signed by the requisite number of Georgia Democrats asking that the President's name be on the ballot in the Georgia primary, April 10, was filed with the state committee last Monday. It was said at the White House that the President did not advise the use of his name and that the telegram from Secretary Gardner was the first news to the White House that the petition had been filed.

TROOPS ALONG RHINE UNDER U. S. CONTROL

GOVERNED BY ARMISTICE

WASHINGTON, April 1.—American troops on the Rhine are subject only to the orders of the President of the United States as commander-in-chief of the army, President Wilson wrote the congress today in response to a resolution of inquiry adopted by the house.

The American troops and the territory they control still are governed by the terms of the armistice, the President said. He disclosed that the American government had disapproved plans to have the troops and the territory placed under the orders of the Rhineland high commission. Field Marshal Ferdinand Foch has no authority over the American troops, the President said. Major-General Allen, commanding the forces, "has full authority," Mr. Wilson added, "to utilize his troops for the police of the occupied district, the preservation of order and to repel any attack which may be made upon him."

The President said the American forces in Germany on March 26 "were reported to comprise 726 officers and 16,756 enlisted men."

Statement of Policy.

"The American forces in Germany," the President wrote, "are at present operating under the terms of the original armistice, and the subsequent convention prolonging the armistice. The instructions proposed to be issued to the commanding general, American forces in Germany, at the time of their occupying the Coblenz area, were submitted to the war department by General Pershing, and contain the following statement of policy:

"The American forces will, however, undertake no action beyond the occupied regions, nor beyond that in strict accordance with the terms of the treaty. Any use of the American forces beyond that mentioned above must be specifically authorized in each case by the government of the United States.'

"In reply, it was directed, that it should be stated in the orders issued to the commanding general, American forces in Germany, that the function of the American forces in Germany at present is to enforce the conditions of the armistice, and that when a peace treaty shall have been ratified by the United States, the

DENMARK ARMS TROOPS TO COPE WITH STRIKE

REPORTED NEGOTIATIONS NOT IN EVIDENCE.

BAKERS FIRST TO GO OUT

COPENHAGEN, April 1.—Despite reports that were current late yesterday and last night that there appeared to be excellent prospects of a settlement of the general strike called by the Danish labor unions, the Politiken today reports government preparations to put the military forces in shape for dealing with possible trouble. It likewise declares that a movement is on foot by the government to cause the occupation of the Flensburg zone by Danish military forces.

The troops in Copenhagen, the Politiken says, have been served with ball cartridges and the soldiers instructed to be prepared for eventualities.

The first move toward putting into effect the strike, ordered in protest against the refusal of King Christian to reinstate the dismissed Zahle ministry, appear to have been made by the bakers of Copenhagen. A number of the bakers quit work last evening. The stokers on four Danish steamers also struck.

The Zahle party has requested all the parties to hold meetings on Saturday for the purpose of coming to an agreement on the question of an electoral bill.

It is believed in many quarters that if the government consents to the convocation of the parliament and the immediate passage of the electoral bill the trade unions will be satisfied.

OLD CROWD FRAMES ANTI-WOOD PLANS

Seeks Control of Majority of Delegates to the State Convention.

AFTER NATIONAL DELEGATES

Dickering Might Counteract a Wood Popular Victory—Two Duties for Voters at Primary.

If the old organization crowd can get control of a majority of the delegates to the Republican state convention, which meets May 12, members of it quietly say they will lose little sleep over a Leonard Wood presidential preference victory at the primary election May 4, because through control of the delegates to the Republican state convention the old crowd would be able to dictate who should go to Chicago as delegates to the national convention.

The old crowd desires to prevent Wood from receiving a majority at the primary or even a plurality, and it desires an uninstructed delegation to the national convention, but while it is fighting for this, it is at the same time fighting to elect a majority of the delegates to the Republic state convention so that in the event of a Wood victory at the primary polls, the power to choose the delegates to the national convention will be in its hands.

In Position to Dicker.

Controlling the majority of the delegates to the state convention, the old crowd could send to the national convention delegates of its choosing, who would be in a position to dicker in the old way and counteract a Wood popular victory. Thus the old crowd would remain in power even if the delegates it chose for the national convention were instructed for Wood under the state law, which says instructions shall be given to support the majority candidate as long as his name is before the convention.

When the voters go to the polls May 4 they will have two duties to perform in connection with the Republican nomination for President. The ballot will provide for a presidential preference vote, and it will also contain a list of candidates for delegate to the state convention.

Voters Should Be Sure.

Inasmuch as the delegates to the state convention will elect the delegates to the national convention, those who mark their ballots for presidential preference will at the same time be careful, if they wish their presidential preference to be most effective, to cast their votes for delegates to the state convention who are known to be committed to carry through in good faith the results of the presidential preference vote.

This means that if a voter's presidential preference is Leonard Wood, the voter should make sure that the candidates for delegate to the state convention for whom he votes are for Wood, and will in the state convention vote for Wood men for delegates to the national convention.

Object of Laws.

Presidential primary laws are designed to take from the hands of a few men and keep in the hands of the people themselves the power to control delegates to the national convention, but most of those laws still leave opportunities for the old crowd to manipulate things in the old way. The best opportunity under the Indiana law is in the setting up of slates of candidates for delegate to the state convention. The old crowd is experienced in slatemaking and if it can put over enough slates to result in a majority of delegates to the state convention it will take much satisfaction in naming delegates of the sort it desires to the national convention, even if Leonard Wood wins handsomely at the primary election.

To defeat this plan the Wood forces have adopted this counsel: "Vote for Wood at the primaries and at the

WHOLESALE COAL PRICE IS ADVANCED 70 CENTS

COST IN TERRE HAUTE FIELD IS NOW $3.25.

NEW WAGE SCALE RESULT

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 1.—Wholesale prices on coal advanced 70 cents a ton here today, which marks the date of the taking effect of the new miners' wage scale. The price heretofore for coal of the prevailing grade mined in this part of Indiana was $2.55 a ton and is now $3.25. With governmental regulations removed the small amount of free coal on the market, it is believed, may run the price of wholesale coal up beyond this mark, although a big general advance is not looked for.

The retail price of coal in the local market also advanced today, the prices, however, varying. The cost to the retailer above the wholesale price is 60 cents a ton freight and an average of 75 cents a ton for handling, making the average total cost to retailers about $4.60 a ton. The retail prices quoted at present run from $5.50 to $6 a ton.

Retailers report that many householders are heeding the advice of the operators and are laying in their coal for next winter more generally than has heretofore been the custom. The fact that the miners are to continue work pending the adjustment of the wage scale by the joint conference at New York, it is thought, however, may halt this, as the fear of a strike had more to do with this unusual practice than the appeal of the operators to lay in coal. They have made this appeal every summer for years, but it usually has had little effect.

All coal mines in the Indiana field were closed today in annual observance of the eight-hour day. In Terre Haute the offices of the coal operators' association were closed for the holiday. Locally there was no observance among the miners except quitting work.

Increase at Evansville.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—The retail price of coal here advanced 2 cents a bushel or 50 cents a ton Thursday, following the expiration of government control of prices. The operators and dealers say that the raise is necessary because of the increase in the cost of production.

Mines within the city of Evansville have been charging the following prices a bushel for coal delivered:

Lump coal, 17 cents; mine run, 15 cents; nut, 16 cents, and screenings, 13 cents. The maximum prices that have been charged by the dealers shipping coal into the city have been, lump, 20 cents; mine run, 18 cents; nut, 20 cents, and screenings, 17 cents.

The difference in the two sets of figures is due to freight costs. Local dealers now are paying from 2½ cents to 3½ cents a bushel for hauling.

FIVE UNIONS FAIL TO AGREE ON NEW SCALES

ABOUT 650 BUILDING TRADES EMPLOYES IDLE.

SEVERAL SCALES RATIFIED

Approximately 650 members of local unions affiliated with the Marion County Building Trades Council were idle today as a result of failure to reach aggreements on wages or working conditions with the Building Contractors' Association of Indianapolis. The wage agreements of twelve of the trades expired Wednesday and in five cases new agreements were not completed, making necessary under union rules a cessation of work by these unions until such time as an agreement is reached. In the other seven trades, as well as in two whose agreements did not expire, increases in wages were agreed to.

Charles W. Kern, president of the Marion county council, explained that the disagreement by the five unions with the contractors over the terms does not mean, at least in this time, that the other union men shall not proceed with their work. A strike would be ordered in case non-union men were used by contractors pending agreements with the unions. Thus, the building jobs can be in progress with union men up to the point where work must be done by those trades which have not agreed on terms. The total membership of the county council is about 4,600.

Unions Affected.

Those unions which have not reached agreements, with the increased wages asked were: Cement finishers, an increase from 75 cents to $1 an hour; hoisting engineers, from $5 cents to $1.25 an hour; plasterers, from 87½ cents to $1.25 an hour; plumbers, from $1 to $1.25 an hour, and steamfitters, from $1 to $1.25 an hour.

It was understood that the cement finishers held up ratification of the tentative agreement reached by their committee and that of the contractors because of no serious dispute, and favorable action was expected soon. The hoisting engineers also were said to be at no serious deadlock, but the plumbers and steamfitters apparently were involved in a disagreement over

$500,000 CORPORATION FORMED TO SELL STOCK

WASHINGTON BANK OFFICERS STOCKHOLDERS.

PROPERTY LEASES OBTAINED

J. Edward Morris, president of the Washington Bank and Trust Company, today announced that articles of incorporation for the Washington Company, a corporation to buy and sell commercial paper, have been filed with the secretary of state. The corporation is capitalized at $500,000, all common stock, most of which, Mr. Morris said, has been subscribed. With the announcement of the organization of the Washington Company, Scott R. Brewer, manager of the real estate department of the Washington Bank and Trust Company, announced that ninety-nine-year leases have been acquired by the Washington Building Company and the Realty Investment Company, holding companies owned by the Washington Company, on two pieces of property at the southwest corner of Washington street and Senate avenue and one at the southeast corner of Washington and Missouri streets, all three valued in the negotiations at $350,000.

Companies Separate.

The offices of the Washington Company, Mr. Morris said, will be in the Washington Bank and Trust Company building, and although many of the officers, directors and stockholders are stockholders and officers of both companies, the two companies are distinctly separate organizations.

Officers of the Washington Company are: J. Edward Morris, president; Mark V. Rinehart, vice-president; Edward A. Kahn, vice-president; Carl and Hook, secretary and Scott R. Brewer, treasurer. The directors are J. Edward Morris, Saul Solomon, Scott R. Brewer, Mark dent; Carl A. Ploch, secretary and Cothrell, James S. Cruse, William C. Hayward, Edward A. Kahn, Thomas R. Lewis, Thomas A. NICHOLSON TO SING.

When "Bubbles," a musical farce, is presented at the Murat theater Tuesday evening, April 20, for the benefit of the Boys' Club Association of Indianapolis, Meredith Nicholson, the author, will satisfy the "pet" ambition of a lifetime. That peculiar "pet" ambition of Mr. Nicholson's is to sing a song on a stage in a "real show."

"Bubbles," which was written by Mrs. George B. Rockwood, 1321 North Meridian street, will be presented entirely by Indianapolis talent and the proceeds will be devoted to work among the boys of Indianapolis.

When Mrs. Rockwood and Mrs. R. Felix Geddes, who have charge of arrangements for the play, asked Mr. Nicholson if he would take part in the play he said he would on one condition—that he be permitted to sing a song. He wrote the words and is composing, with the aid of Mrs. Rockwood, the music for his song. According to tentative plans, however, he will do a blackface impersonation of Eddie Cantor.

BLAMES 'INDIFFERENCE' FOR NAVY'S CONDITION

ADMIRAL FULLAM CITES SERVICE SHORT OF MEN.

COULD NOT MOVE VESSELS

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Because of the navy department's policy of "indifference" no effort was made to bring the navy to a state of preparedness before the war, Rear-Admiral Fullam, former commander of the Pacific reserve fleet, declared today before the senate naval investigating committee.

The admiral said that in 1915, when he went to the Pacific coast to take command of the reserve fleet, the ships had such small complements that they could not be moved from the dock. The navy was "fatally short of men," he added, but the department failed to advocate sufficent personnel increases and was "totally indifferent to the possibility of a state of war being forced upon it."

Few Heard His Pleas.

The only persons in the navy department who would listen to his pleas for more men and material prepared were the assistant secretary and members of the general board, the officer declared.

INDICTS FOUR IN LEAK IN OIL CASE DECISION

GRAND JURY CHARGES CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD U. S.

ACTION BASED ON "TIP"

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Indictments against four persons were returned today by the District of Columbia supreme court grand jury investigating an alleged leak in the United States supreme court's decision last November in the Southern Pacific oil lands case.

Those indicted are Aston F. Embry, former secretary to Associate Justice McKenna, of the United States supreme court; James Harwood Graves, former assistant attorney in the department of justice; Barnet E. Moses, Washington lawyer, and E. Millard Mayer, Jr., New York stock broker.

Conspiracy Charged.

The indictments charge the four men with conspiracy to defraud the United States of its right of secrecy surrounding opinions of the supreme court prior to public announcement of the court's decision.

Embry is charged in the grand jury report with providing a "tip" on the court's decision whereby the other defendants were able to sell "short" 500 shares of Southern Pacific stock at a profit of $1,412.50.

PEACE PROPOSAL FAILS TO AROUSE ENTHUSIASM

MOVE REGARDED LARGELY AS CAMOUFLAGE.

MANY OBJECTIONS OFFERED

The Indianapolis News Bureau, 33 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The Republicans in the congress are showing no enthusiasm over the resolution reported by the house committee on foreign affairs to "declare" peace with Germany. As a matter of fact a large number of Republican members of the house are not in sympathy with the resolution, but as the leaders in that body have decided that it shall be passed it probably will be put through the house by a party vote.

The resolution was reported out today by the house foreign affairs committee by a strict party vote, 12 to 6.

When the resolution reaches the senate it will not have easy sailing. Some fifteen or twenty Republican senators, it was asserted today, have not made-up their minds that the passage of such a resolution would be the proper thing, and some of the members of this group are, it is asserted, ready openly to oppose the resolution. Many of the Republicans in both senate and house are saying privately that the only purpose of the resolution is to camouflage the treaty situation; that the real object of the resolution is to give the majority an excuse for keeping hands off the treaty of peace for the time being.

See No Real Gain

Speaking in a broad way the objection to the resolution is that it leaves the United States relationship to the world situation unchanged. Everybody knows, it is pointed out, that, strictly speaking, the war with Germany is over and that nothing actually can be gained by the enactment of a resolution "Declaring" this to be a fact. The point to be held in mind, the ablest of the statesmen say, is that the proposed resolution does not make peace.

The general lack of interest in the resolution is due to the fact that

The Japanese residents organized a volunteer force to aid the Japanese soldiers fight a heavy force of Bolsheviki.

The battle began on March 18. Nikolaevsk is at the mouth of the Amur river.

TRAIN, KILLS AUTO DRIVER

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

BRAZIL, Ind., April 1.—A man believed to be M. J. Pittman, age about twenty-three, of Wichita, Kas., was instantly killed late yesterday when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by east-bound train No. 7, New York and St. Louis limited, at a grade crossing near Reelsville, eight miles east of this city.

He was driving a new car from the Dodge factory, presumably for the Arnold Auto Company at Wichita. The body was identified by papers found in the man's pockets. His view of the track was obstructed by a freight train. The crossing where the accident happened is a very dangerous one and has been the scene of many accidents. The car was demolished and the body badly mangled.

SUFFRAGE BEATEN IN DELAWARE VOTE

FINAL DECISION 26 TO 5

First Result of 23 to 9 Changed So That Proponents May Move for Reconsideration of Action.

DOVER, Del., April 1.—Ratification of the equal suffrage amendment was defeated in the lower house of the legislature this afternoon. The vote was 23 to 9.

Members who voted for the amendment subsequently changed their votes for the purpose of later moving to reconsider. The vote as finally announced was 26 to 5.

The action of the assembly, opponents of the suffrage amendment say, definitely removes this state as the possible thirty-sixth state to ratify the amendment thereby making it effective.

Three Members Did Not Vote.

Three assemblymen did not vote when the measure came to the test.

Following the defeat of the amendment in Mississippi, suffrage leaders had pinned their immediate hopes on Delaware, where they have concentrated thier efforts since the opening of the present special session of the legislature. National leaders of both parties had appealed to the Delaware legislature to pass the amendment. The vote against it in the assembly was considerably greater than expected by the suffrage supporters.

Suffrage leaders pointed out that the senate has yet to act on the amendment. Should it pass the senate it can again be brought before the assembly.

Representative Hart, who was spirited away yesterday by suffrage workers, returned to the Statehouse this forenoon. He introduced the suffrage resolution and had it in charge in the house. This was in accordance, he said, with a written pledge he gave Mrs. Thompson, leader of the anti-suffragists, late last night.

MISSISSIPPI HOUSE REJECTS.

Refuses 4 to 1 to Ratify Federal Suffrage Amendment.

JACKSON, Miss., April 1.—The Mississippi house of representatives late yesterday declined, more than 4 to 1, to reverse its previous action on the federal woman suffrage amendment, and join the senate in adopting a ratification resolution. The action was final. Under the rules the question can not be reopened at this session, which ends Saturday.

Voting on a motion to disagree with the senate's resolution approving the amendment, the house overwhelmingly refused to approve the enfranchisement of women, although a bill already has been enacted making provision for women if the amendment becomes effective. The vote on disagreement was 94 to 23, as compared with a previous adverse vote in the house of 106 to 25. There was no doubt from the first that the house would express decisively its opposition to woman suffrage, despite the appeals of Democratic leaders of national prominence that a Democratic and not a Republican state be the one to make the amendment effective. Hoots, catcalls and jeers drowned the words of speakers favoring ratification, while cheers greeted those opposing. The members yelled for nearly a minute when R. H. Watts, of Pisgah, arose and shouted: "I would rather die and go to hades than vote for woman suffrage."

When Speaker Conner announced he would instruct the clerk to read telegrams from national Democratic leaders urging ratification, there was a thunder of objections, and, put to a vote, it was decided almost unanimously not to listen to the messages.

Bosse Urges Suffrage Action.

Benjamin Bosse, chairman of the Indiana Democratic central committee, Wednesday sent a telegram to the chairman of the Democratic state committee of Mississippi, urging him to use the influence of the party toward ratification of the federal suffrage amendment by the Mississippi legislature. The message was as follows:

"The Democracy of Indiana respectfully requests that you urge upon your house of representatives the importance of ratifying the federal suffrage amendment at once and give to the women of the United States full suffrage."

MESSENGERS LOSE $45,840

Two Armed Men Hold Up Kansas City Swift & Co. Employes.

KANSAS CITY, April 1.—Two armed men in an automobile held up messengers of Swift & Co. packers, on the Twenty-third street viaduct, here today and escaped with a handbag containing $45,840.

The robbery was witnessed by scores of spectators who sat in motor cars and watched while the bandits kept them "covered." All traffic was halted on the bridge while the bandits were robbing the messengers.

COUNTY UNIT LAW UPHELD

Supreme Court Decision in Road Bond Case.

The supreme court of Indiana today held the county unit road law constitutional, in affirming the decision of the Madison circuit court in the case of George C. Forrey, Jr., vs. the Madison county board of commissioners.

Mr. Forrey, a member of the firm of Breed, Elliott & Harrison, brought suit to enjoin the Madison county commissioners from selling certain road bonds. He charged that the county unit law, under which the bonds were to be sold, was unconstitutional. When he lost the case in the Madison circuit court he appealed to the supreme court, which upholds the law.

Pennsylvania Employes at Ft. Wayne Ask for Closed Shop.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

FT. WAYNE, Ind., April 1.—Two thousand employes here in the car shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company quit work at 10 o'clock this morning, demanding a closed shop. Those affected are the machinists, woodworkers, pattern workers and boiler makers. Union officials assert that the shops are 99 per cent. organized and a demand has been made that the company establish a closed shop. This the company's officials have refused to do.

Three hundred brewery union members employed by the Berghoff Products and Centlivre companies also went on strike, demanding increased pay and a forty-four-hour week.

ASSEMBLY OUSTS FIVE SOCIALISTS

ALL-NIGHT SESSION ENDS

Vote Against Waldman, Solomon and Claessens Is 116 to 28; Dewitt and Orr, 108 to 40.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 1.—Five Socialists—Louis Waldman, August Claessens, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr, all of New York City, the entire delegation of their party in the New York assembly—were expelled from the legislature today. The vote in favor of unseating the men, suspended on the opening day of the legislative session on charges of disloyalty, ranged from 116 to 28 on Solomon, Waldman and Claessens to 108 to 40 on Dewitt and Orr.

Voting came after twenty-two hours of oratory, parliamentary wrangles and filibustering.

Owing to the fact that the men were expelled after midnight, March 31, there can be no special elections to fill their seats in the assembly unless an extraordinary session of the legislature is to be convened.

Theodore Roosevelt voted against expulsion, having argued with the assembly that it had no right to exclude the party.

Voting Started Early.

Voting was begun at 9:38 a. m.

Louis Waldman, the first voted on, was expelled by a vote of 116 to 28.

The vote on Claessens' expulsion was 116 to 28. He was the Socialist's floor leader.

Solomon was expelled, 116 to 28. Solomon last week was arrested in Philadelphia for alleged disorderly conduct at a mass meeting called to protest against the ouster proceedings here.

Dewitt's and Orr's expulsion votes were 104 to 40.

Some assemblymen who had voted to unseat Waldman, Claessens and Solomon cast their ballots in favor of reseating Dewitt and Orr on the ground that the evidence had not incriminated them beyond establishing their adherence to the doctrines and platforms of the Socialist party. Majority Leader Simon L. Adler shared this opinion.

Based on Majority Report.

Last Monday night seven members of the committee signed the majority report, which recommended the expulsion of all five Socialists and the enactment of legislation designed to provide that no party which includes minors or aliens in its membership may have a position on the official ballot.

Dissenting opinions recommending the expulsion of Waldman, Claessens and Solomon and the reseating of Dewitt and Orr and recommending that all the suspended members be restored to their seats were signed by one and five members, respectively.

By its action the assembly established a precedent altogether unique in the legislative history in the United States, as never before has an entire party delegation been ejected from any legislative body.

Party Lines Disappeared.

Party lines disappeared in the voting. The Democratic minority, which was supposed to be pretty well united in favor of reseating the Socialists, polled a majority of one vote in favor of expelling Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, the Democratic vote on these men being eighteen for unseating and seventeen for restoring them to their former legislative status.

Twenty-one Democrats voted to reseat Dewitt and Orr, while fourteen favored their expulsion. The Republicans, by a division of 98 to 11, voted to unseat Waldman, Claessens and Solomon and on the Dewitt-Orr votes they stood 88 to 20.

When the assembly adjourned, after the seats of all five Socialists

VINCENNES PREPARING TO ENTERTAIN LEGION

3,000 VISITORS EXPECTED AT CONVENTION.

SPRINGER OUTLINES PLANS

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

VINCENNES, Ind., April 1.—More than 3,000 members of the American Legion in Indiana are expected at the state convention and the reunion which is to be held in this city in June, according to Raymond Springer, of Connorsville, judge of the Lafayette circuit court and state grand commander of the Legion, who visited Vincennes yesterday in company with Russell Nugent, of Indianapolis, adjutant of the state for the Legion.

Many Women Will Attend.

Judge Springer, in speaking before a joint meeting of the Vincennes Post and Rotary Club, said that more than 800 delegates will be in attendance in addition to 400 alternates, and that many married men selected as delegates would bring their wives. He also said that many others, who are not delegates, will probably come to this city for the occasion because of the many historical features here.

William L. Betz, formerly of Indianapolis, who is commander of the Vincennes post, told Judge Springer at the joint meeting that he had been assured by all the organizations in Vincennes that nothing will be left undone in order to take care of the visitors. W. M. Alsop, president of the Rotary club, said that in the event it was necessary hundreds of residents of Vincennes would entertain the visitors in their homes.

Discusses Immigration Law.

Judge Springer said in his address that members of the American Legion should by all means insist that the present immigration laws be modified so that a foreigner can not come to the United States, remain here an indefinite period, and then return to his native land, laden with money made by working in American industries and on American soil. He said that in his opinion one year was sufficient for any foreigner to remain in this country and determine whether or not he likes it enough to abide by its laws and become a naturalized citizen.

REPORTS ON POPULATION.

Census Bureau Announces Additional Figures for 1920.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Population statistics announced today by the census bureau included:

Pine Bluff, Ark., 19,280, an increase of 4,198 or 27.7 per cent. over 1910.

Manistee, Mich., 9,690, decrease 2,691, or 21.7 per cent.

West Hammond, Ill., 7,492; increase, 2,544, or 51.4 per cent.

Philadelphia Papers Higher.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—Philadelphia morning newspapers announced today that beginning April 4 the price of Sunday papers would be increased to 10 cents. Heretofore the price has been 7 cents in Philadelphia and 8 cents outside the city.

WOMAN FINED $100; TO PRISON FOR 30 DAYS

CONVICTED ON "BLIND TIGER" CHARGE.

TWO CASES ARE DISMISSED

Mrs. Mame Giuffre, 517 Weghorst street, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve thirty days in the Woman's Prison Wednesday by Judge Walter Pritchard when she was found guilty of a charge of operating a "blind tiger." Joe Giuffre, her husband, who was arrested on a similar charge, was discharged because there was no evidence that he was involved in the sale. Mrs. Giuffre's case was appealed.

The woman and her husband were arrested by federal agents, who testified that they bought a quart of whisky from the woman for $27. Clifford Douglas, a taxi driver, testified that he took the revenue agents, who were in soldiers' uniforms, to the Giuffre home, where, he said, he heard one of the government men and the woman argue over the price of the whisky. Joe Giuffre came to his home while the officers were there and was arrested. Approximately fifty quarts of bonded whisky, in half-pint, pint and quart bottles, was confiscated.

Condemns Disguises.

Judge Pritchard condemned the practice of enticing liquor sales by means of disguises, saying that he believed it was a disgrace to the uniform of the United States army that it should be put to such uses.

Thomas Stefanoff, 202 Bright street, was fined $100 and costs and was sentenced to serve thirty days on the State Farm when he was convicted of making raisin whisky. He was arrested by Sergeant Helm and Patrolmen Thompson and Roman, who testified that they found a home-made still, 300 gallons of raisin mash, and a small quantity of liquor at his home. An argument arose over the nature of the mash, as to whether it was to be used for making wine or whisky, and several federal protibition agents, with Sergeant Helm, qualified as expert witnesses on the subject and said the mash could be used only for the distillation of whisky.

Two Cases Dismissed.

"Blind tiger" charges against Florence Williams, colored, New York street and Senate avenue, and Boss Lewis, colored, Nineteenth and Alvord streets, were dismissed by Judge Pritchard when he learned that agents had been employed to buy liquor from both persons and that no whisky was found on the premises to corroborate the testimony that liquor had been sold.

Ten Minutes with this Elegant New Chalmers Tells You the Story

Quality First

YOU find it starts at once; that it is running with amazing sweetness in a few seconds. You note no vibration.

You call for speed and you get results. You tone it down and you detect a willing and perfect servant obeying every wish.

Ten minutes gives you a recast opinion on motor cars.

Your admiration for a Chalmers deepens. You search for the cause and you find it in Hot Spot and Ram's-horn.

You may or may not know that "gas" is worse this year than last, that it is becoming heavier and heavier and harder and harder to "burn."

Few engines have met this serious condition.

The great Chalmers engine has. It takes the low grade "gas," throws it against the Hot Spot, which vaporizes the "gas" into a "cloud," and makes it "fine for fuel."

Ram's-horn, minus sharp corners and abrupt bends, rushes it to the cylinders at a velocity of 100 miles an hour.

Thus the cylinders get a fuel that they can "burn," can "digest," instead of "lumpy" or "rainy" kind of "gas."

Not only can you note results in a distinguished smoothness of action, but in your repair bills.

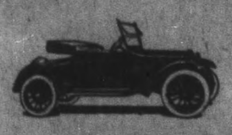

For Hot Spot and Ram's-horn provide against thinned out lubrication and consequent burned bearings, scored cylinders, frequent fouling of spark plugs, and wasted "gas" through the exhaust.

Ten minutes will tell; and then you, too, will say Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

ACTION AUTHORIZED TO OBTAIN MONEY FOR DEAL.

RATE CHANGES ARE ORDERED

The public service commission late Wednesday authorized the Central Union Telephone Company to issue $2,250,000 of 7 per cent. serial notes, $375,000 of which will be due on October 1, 1921, and a like amount each six months thereafter until the entire amount is paid. The issue is part of the $4,250,000 the Central Union Company is to pay for the Indianapolis Telephone Company.

The commission ordered the Indiana Railways and Light Company to attach trailers to trains Nos. 4 and 19, leaving and arriving at Kokomo at 6:30 a. m. and 5.15 p. m., respectively. These trains run between Frankfort and Kokomo. Elmer Shutters and others signed a petition for the trailers.

The commission authorized the city of Garrett to place in effect new rates for heat, light, water and power. Steam heat rates are increased from 25 to 20 cents a square foot of radiation, with a minimum monthly charge of $2.50. The electric light schedule provides a charge of from 10 to 8 cents a kilowatt hour, with a minimum monthly charge of 75 cents, and 11 cents a kilowatt hour and a minimum monthly charge of $1 in rural districts. A scale of from 7 to 5 cents a kilowatt hour is authorized for power, with a minimum charge of $10 a month. Ten per cent. discount is allowed for prompt payment.

New Water Rates.

New water rates established provide a scale of from 25 to 10 cents a 1,000 gallons, with minimum monthly charges of from $1 to $20. The city is directed to reorganize its flat-rate system on water rates, and allow a 10 per cent. discount for prompt payment.

The commission ordered all service placed on a meter basis. It ordered the city to discontinue giving free service to city departments, and ordered the discontinuance of preferential rates to ministers, churches and schools. The commission ordered the city to keep its books in conformity with regular commission rules and criticised the method of administrating the various plants. Certain improvements were ordered.

The commission authorized the United Gas and Electric Company to continue in effect a surcharge on unofficial gas rates, pending final adjustment of a petition for a new schedule at Jeffersonville, Port Fulton, New Albany and Clarksville. The surcharge was authorized a year ago, to expire April 6, 1920.

ALLEGED FORGER ARRESTED

James M. Cain Said to Be Wanted in Several Indiana Cities.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 1.—James M. Cain, wanted in several northern Indiana cities on charges of passing worthless checks made out on the First National Bank at Rochester, Ind., was arrested here Wednesday just after he attempted, it is alleged, to pass a check for $79 on Sailor Bros. Company. When searched at the station the police say they found a number of checks signed with various names on his person.

Cain is supposed to be from Converse, Ind. He has used the aliases of Franklin Klier, John P. Blackmore, George Allen, George Blake, F. G. Montgomery and F. G. Warden, the authorities say.

SALESMAN IS ARRESTED.

Charged With Selling Fake Stock at Terre Haute.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 1.—William E. Hadley, who says he represents an eastern pharmaceutical association, has been arrested here for selling alleged fake stock in the organization. He said that he was unable to give proper receipts for the stock because forms had not been received from the printer.

Complaint was made against him by Earl Richmond, of this city, who bought fifty shares of stock in the company, paying $27.50 in cash, the remainder to be paid at the rate of $5 a month. Hadley asserted he had been selling stock for more than a year, but a telegram to the headquarters of the company, a reputable organization in New York, brought the information that Hadley never had been in its employ. Hadley was bound over to the circuit court. He was unable to provide a bond of $1,500.

BUTLER COLLEGE NOTES

There will be no meeting of the Philokurian Literary Society this week. The program will be carried over until April 8.

Tryouts for the cast of "Cheating Cheaters," the second major downtown production of the Butler Dramatic Club, will be held in chapel at 2 o'clock Friday, April 9.

Dr. Elmer L. Williams, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, of Chicago, spoke in chapel Tuesday under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association.

Games in the co-ed inter-mural basketball league have resulted as follows: Kappa Alpha Theta defeated Pi Beta Phi, 7 to 0; Browns (unorganized) defeated Delta Pi Omega, 21 to 1.

Arrangements have been completed for the annual banquet of the Sandwich Club, which will be given at the Third Christian church April 23. A club baseball team is being organized.

The following have been made reporters on the Butler Collegian staff: Martha Hawkins, '21, Indianapolis; Aldeen Sears, '22, Chillecothe, O.; Donald Kennedy, '23, Indianapolis, and Ethelwynne Nalley, '23, Indianapolis.

New officers of the Butler Y. M. C. A. have been elected as follows: Henry Bruner, '22, Indianapolis, president; Lyman Hoover, '22, Indianapolis, vice-president; George Goodnight, '22, Frankfort, treasurer, and Ralph Austin, '21, Terre Haute, secretary.

The annual election of officers of the Butler Y. W. C. A. resulted as follows: Mary Louise Cory '20, Winnipeg, Canada, president; Gladys Wamsley, '22, Indianapolis, vice-president; Ruth Craig, '23, Greenwood, secretary, and Margaret Bruner, '21, Indianapolis, treasurer. Cleon Headrick, '21, Indianapolis, is new undergraduate field secretary. Mary Henderson and Hazel Harker provided a special Easter program Wednesday.

The first of a series of All-Butler mixers, to be given by the Women's Faculty Club, will be given Thursday afternoon, April 8, in the Home Economics building. These teas, which are designed with the object of having students and faculty become better acquainted, will be given the first, second and fourth Thursdays of each month this semester. The Women's Faculty Club is composed of woman members of the faculty and the wives of the faculties of both Butler schools and the College of Missions.

Speaking in chapel Friday, Dr. Tolbert F. Revis, mission authority on South America, pointed out the possibilities of South America, which, he said, have not begun to be developed. Dr. Revis believes the Monroe Doctrine a hindrance in conducting South American relations. "It is all right to grab the little brother's hand and pull him under the umbrella when it is raining," is the attitude of South Americans, he said, "but why continue patronizing tutelage when the sun is shining?"

Delta Tau Delta will give the monthly banquet for alumni at the chapter house, 15 South Ritter avenue, Thursday evening. Delta Tau alumni have arranged a theater party for Saturday evening. Phi Delta Theta will give a chapter dance at Moore's Hall Thursday evening. Z. B. T. S. will give a membership dane at Moore's Hall Saturday evening.

A botanical section of the Butler Biology Club has been formd, to be conducted in a manner similar to the older section, the zoological department. The officers are: Philip Spong, '21, president; Monta Hunter, '20, vice-president; Alice Crozier, '22, secretary, and Sara Simon, '22, treasurer. A program committee has been appointed consisting of Monta Hunter and Pearl Wildasin.

RESERVE BANK REPORTS SHOW HOPEFUL SIGNS

INDICATE "HESITATION" IN ADVANCE OF PRICES.

EXTRAVAGANCE NEAR END?

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Nation-wide reports from federal reserve bank officials, made public last night, disclose their opinion that the post-war era of "extravagance and reckless buying" by the public is nearing its end.

A "hesitation, if not an actual recession" of prices, is noted and the federal reserve board's statement summarizes its advices as indicating a generally more hopeful view of the country's business condition than for several months.

While the price changes were shown by the board not to be universal, they were, nevertheless, regarded as positive and of importance as a basis for reckoning what the immediate future holds.

Relief from the high prices for the consumer will not be completely obtained until present stocks are absorbed in practically all lines, according to the board's view. Manufacturers everywhere, however, were shown to hold the view that the peak of high prices had been reached and to expect a gradual recession.

Sees Public Awakening.

In the clothing trade, particularly, the board said there was a marked tendency of the public to make old supplies last longer and to refuse to pay exorbitant prices. This phase can mean only that an awakening has come, the statement said, and that many persons have arrived at the conclusion that they are themselves responsible for a continuing high range of prices. Wholesalers in the dry goods trade, to some extent, have taken a "commendatory attitude" and are discouraging their customers from placing heavy fall orders. This has served to slacken demand and create a feeling that lower prices will follow. The reports do not give encouragement concerning a price reduction in shoes. There was, however, a wide divergence of opinion as to what shoe and leather prices will do.

Eastern seaboard cities reported "a piling up of commodities" on this side of the Atlantic. The exchange situation was beginning to reflect itself on the export market as well as through a general reduction by Europeans in their foreign buying, it was noted.

Confusion Apparent.

Business and financial developments during March also were marked by confusion and lack of uniform opinion according to reports of the several reserve districts. But throughout the detailed observations of these officials, there was a distinctly optimistic tone. Summed up, it was:

"The outlook for the spring season, both industrially and agriculturally, is excellent. But modifying factors in the situation are an inadequacy of labor supply and a shortage of various kinds of building materials as well as borrowing facilities of banks."

Officials said that the full meaning of the changed attitude of the public probably would show definite results so slowly as to be almost imperceptible. They explained that it was "a step in the right direction," and that its value was increased because there had been no appreciable letting down in the volume of legitimate business.

The housing situation continued acute throughout the country, partly as a result of labor conditions, but more largely because thousands of families are deserting the farms for "what they believe are greater opportunities" in the cities. There was, however, another reason advanced: Capital is slow to engage in new building ventures because of the "unfavorable conditions of taxation." This, of course, applies to general construction work as well as to housing in the limited sense, the statement said.

"Production conditions the country over," the statement continues, "give every reason for encouragement with reference to actual industrial and agricultural potentialities. The crop outlook so far as can be judged at this season, is hopeful. There is a substantial degree of harmony between capital and labor, as indicated by small unemployment.

Decreased Production.

"The difficulties in sight are due to conditions of relative underproduction or decrease of production resulting from lessened activities of both capital and labor, problems arising out of heavy taxation and measures resulting from the one-sided working of the tax laws, while, financially speaking, caution and conservatism are called for and the efforts to restrict the volume of credit have been only partially successful. As a result, high interest rates and a relative scarcity of funds will continue to prevail during the period in which the country is endeavoring to extend its productive capacity and to overcome the relative loss of progress resulting from war limitations upon investment and production."

Indiana Central University.

Dr. S. E. Long, head of the Bible department of Indiana Central University, is conducting revival services under the auspices of the University Heights United Brethren church, in the art room of the university building. Meetings are being held each evening except Saturday at 7:30 o'clock.

Special Easter services have been arranged as the closing part of the Sunday school by D. L. Eaton, superintendent. The college orchestra will play, and several classes will take part in the program. Easter has been designated as "join the church" day in the united enlistment movement being conducted in the church.

An intermediate department rally day will be observed by the Sunday school, Sunday, April 18, in the college auditorium at 3 p. m. It is planned to make this a community meeting. The Brookside Park Intermediate Society will attend, and musical numbers will be provided by this organization. Roy L. Frazier, a Scout master, will speak. Edgewood Boy Scouts will also attend. D. J. Manly, now a student in Indiana Central University, whose father was a Mohammedan chief in Africa, will be the principal speaker.

Would Set Him Free.

WARNS ABOUT TREE PRUNING

Forester Says "Topping" Is Not Advisable—Folder Prepared.

Shade trees should be pruned each year, but they should not be "topped," says C. C. Deam, forester for the state conservation commission. If it is necessary to remove much of the top, it should be done before the leaves come out.

All dead or interfering branches should be removed. They should be cut off very close to the parent branch or trunk, and it is not necessary to treat the wound. Some paints, when applied to the wounds, kill the bark near it. Shade trees may be pruned any time of the year. A folder on tree pruning may be had from the state department.

ORPHANS' HOMES CLOSING

One a Year for Twenty Years, Is Record—Other Agencies Active.

An average of one county orphans' home a year for twenty years has closed its doors in Indiana, the board of state charities has observed. Not only are there fewer orphans to be cared for as public wards, but due to activities of boards of children's guardians, juvenile courts, the board of state charities, and other agencies, many orphans who under usual circumstances would be public wards have been placed in private homes.

Not only is the public saved considerable expense, but the children are reared under more favorable circumstances the state officials believe.

HAAG'S CUT PRICE DRUGS

Another Big Cut in the Price of Drugs

For years the Haags were loyal to the people of Indianapolis and Central Indiana. The crowds of satisfied customers that can be found at all times in all the seven Haag Drug Stores prove that the general public is loyal to the Haags. As a token of appreciation of this kindly feeling, another big reduction has been made in drugs and other merchandise. These can be bought cheaper every day and evening, including Sundays, in all the Haag stores since the war tax went into force. Before the war tax, these stores sold the $1.25 Pingham's Vegetable Compound for 89c; they now sell it for 79c. The $1.10 S. S. S. Blood Purifier for 74c, now 67c. Other goods in proportion. No mail orders filled at these prices.

DECLARING PEACE

Yesterday the chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the house presented a resolution declaring a state of peace, a resolution under which, if it should be adopted, as it appears now, Germany would be left free to develop her military power to the fullest extent, and to renew the war as soon as she felt herself strong enough to do so. All that it is sought to safeguard the United States against is "any claim, demand, right or benefit" that Germany might have asserted except for the treaty of Versailles. That is all. We are to make—as far as this is possible—peace apart from our associates, and in utter disregard of their welfare and that of the world. We should declare that it was a matter of indifference to us whether or not France had Alsace-Lorraine, whether France or Belgium received the reparation provided for in the treaty, whether Turkish rule was banished from Europe. All that we should seek under this resolution would be a renewal of "reciprocal trade with the German government and its nationals," and the waiver and renunciation by Germany on behalf of itself and its nationals of "any claim, demand, right or benefit against the United States or its nationals, that it or they would not have the right to assert had the United States ratified the treaty of Versailles."

We can think of few things more humiliating than the consent of this government to such a peace. It would involve a repudiation of most weighty obligations, a desertion of the nations that for almost four years fought for the safety and liberty of the world before we entered into the war, an admission of Germany's right to prepare for another raid on civilization, and, of course, a final rejection of the league of nations covenant. Such is the "world vision" of the men responsible for this resolution—such the "peace" they propose to make. We do not believe that the American people will give their approval to any such program. They want peace, but they also want a peace that shall be just and honorable, and that will guarantee something more than the re-establishment of trade relations.

It is hard to think that such a plan could have been proposed. Considered even from the narrow and selfish point of view, it is intolerable. For we are simply to covenant that Germany shall assert no claim, demand, right or benefit as against us; nothing is said as to our claims, rights or demands against Germany. The hope apparently is that the American people will be glad to purchase a bogus peace at the price of their own humiliation.

POLITICAL SONGS

It appears that Hoosier Republicans who write near and actual literature are to be taken away from their literary endeavors for the time being, because Frederick E. Schortemeier, secretary of the Republican state committee, has issued a call for songs. He may recall the remark attributed to Voltaire that it made little difference who wrote the nation's laws as long as he was permitted to write its songs. John Sherman once said that one good song is worth a hundred speeches, and another old expression is that a singing campaign is a winning campaign.

Political songs have figured prominently in the campaigns since the beginning of the American government. Even George Washington had political songs to aid him, and the history of political campaigns is replete with songs. One of the best known was "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too," yet another, favoring William Henry Harrison, concluded with:

> When this old hat was new, the friends of Liberty
> Knew well the merits of Old Tip, while fighting at Maumee;
> Come now, huzza for Harrison, just as we used to do
> When first we heard of Proctor's fall, when this old hat was new.

"Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too," was directed at Martin Van Buren, known in the song as "Little Van," after which came a campaign when Henry Clay was hailed in song as "Hal o'the West." The Republican party came into being singing, to the air of the Marseillaise:

> Arise, arise, ye brave:
> And let our war-cry be > Free Speech, Free Press, Free Soil, Free Men,
> Fremont and Victory!

Another old-timer was "Wait for the Wagon," interchangeable words being adopted whereby the air was used by Democrats and Republicans. The same situation was created when the Republicans shouted "Good-by, old Grover, good-by," and the Democrats replied "Good-by, dear Bennie, good-by." Indiana figured prominently in the Garfield-Hancock campaign, when W. H. English was the Democratic nominee for Vice-President. The Republicans sang about "In-di-an-ny declaring the Democrats could not win without Indiana's electoral votes. The Republicans carried the state and Garfield won. Thurman's red bandanna came into campaign song and story in the Cleveland-Harrison campaign of 1888. The Republicans were found singing about "brave Ben of Indiana," the chorus of the song being:

> Put up the old bandanna,
> Put up the old bandanna,
> You can not, can not, can not beat
> Brave Ben of Indiana.

During the Lincoln-McClellan campaign the Democrats had a song that sounds strangely out of place now:

> In all our strength and pride,
> To hurl you from the place you hold,
> As not worthy to preside.

If the Republicans have music the Democrats will have it, and the campaign song doubtless will be full of jazz and pep. The campaign managers should remember, however, that it is one thing to write a song, and another to have a glee club murder it.

THE JAIL SCANDAL

It is astonishing that there could be in a civilized community such conditions as those that have been shown to exist in the Marion County jail without any one knowing anything about it. The question presented is a broad one. People must wonder whether other institutions may not be in much the same plight. Not so long ago a terrible scandal in connection with pauper burials at the poor farm was unearthed. And now we have this jail scandal. The question of food we have discussed elsewhere. Other abuses were even more astounding—as compelling prisoners to gamble in order that jail officials might get a rake-off.

Month after month these things went on, and no one knew anything about them. The grand jury investigated every six months, and found nothing wrong. The sheriff says that he never suspected anything. How he could have helped getting full knowledge of conditions is hard to understand. Presumably the jail has not been wholly neglected by the state board of charities, which has full power to investigate. The statute makes it the duty of that board to "investigate the whole system of public charities and correctional institutions of the state, examine into the conditions and management thereof, especially of prisons, jails," etc.

We also have a county board of charities. It is its business to visit and inspect, at least once each quarter, the various county institutions, including the jail. Whether it has done its duty we do not know. If it has made the required visitation one wonders how it could have helped uncovering such notorious and flagrant maladministration. The people have done their duty. They pay enough to secure proper management; and they have provided three agencies—the grand jury, and the state and county board of charities—to supervise the administration. Yet despite all these safeguards we have such a scandal as one could not have believed to be possible. The situation was uncovered almost by accident, through the providential intervention of the federal authorities.

Something more than jail reform is needed. We must have much greater vigilance on the part of those charged with the duty of inspection. Of course the gang responsible for this disgrace must be swept out—that is clear enough. But more than this is necessary—more even than putting the right sort of men in these places. The people must realize that there is always danger of great abuses in the care of the helples unfortunate and criminal. Every precaution must be taken to guard against them.

THAT $2.50 STORY

Among boys of cruel dispositions there used to be a practice of baiting a stout cord with a grain of corn, letting a chicken swallow the bait and then cruelly jerking it out of the fowl's throat. The practice can not be defended, but it may be better for the chicken to have the string removed—corn and all—than to go through life burdened with it. The New York Sun and Herald swallowed a political story originating in Indianapolis, but the tale refused to digest, and the paper has apologized.

The Sun and Herald printed as news what it now characterizes as "a yellow statement from Indianapolis," attacking the methods of Wood's managers. Among other things the story charged that these managers were out "to get the nomination at any cost"; that $2.50 was paid to any man or woman who would give a Wood testimonial; that the postal service was swamped with Wood publicity matter; that Republican newspapers had asked the junk man to call each week to cart away the Wood boiler plate, etc.

Although the Sun and Herald is opposing the nomination of Wood it has not lost a sense of fairness. It realized, after swallowing this bait, that the string tied to it must prove embarrassing. So it disgorged. As it says, "the Wood managers are not demented," and the Indianapolis yarn puts "too much of a strain on the credulity of the unimpassioned." Those who have read the falsehood originally printed in the city will agree with the Sun and Herald that its whole tone is such "as to discredit its concrete asseverations." The purpose of the story, of course, was to discredit the Wood campaign. There are Republicans who prefer some other candidate, but, like the rest of the American people, they love fair play even toward an opponent.

RECOGNIZING SOVIET RUSSIA

The national Civic Federation, Alton B. Parker, president, has issued a statement, signed by some 300 "men and women prominent in all forms of public endeavor," denouncing the plan to recognize soviet Russia. These people advise Americans to tell the government at Washington that the American people "can not consent to admit into the family of nations or in any other way countenance the 'government' of violence and terror." The federation's stand is interesting in general, but somewhat curious if viewed as a timely warning. The clear implication is that there has been some fear that the United States would recognize soviet Russia. Detaching the statement from the current of contemporary events, the casual reader might infer that some responsible American agency had really proposed recognition of Czar Lenine and his governmental organization, which is unlike an absolute monarchy only in name. The fact is that there has been no hint of official American relations with the Bolshevists. Here and there a little group of defiant radicals has indorsed the idea, but it has never been mentioned in congress, nor has the state department considered the matter. The National Civic Federation, it seems, has been a little hurried in its fervor. In denouncing something which does not exist it has created the impression that a movement for recognition does exist. Certainly it has brought the possibility of recognition to the attention of a great many people who had not thought of it before, and thereby probably done more harm than good.

THE WAR POWER

There have been certain inquiries in congress as to what use was to be made of the American troops still in Europe, whether they would go into Germany with the allied troops if it should be decided to make an advance, etc. These inquiries were natural, and it is not our purpose to criticise them. But it should be distinctly understood that one of the consequences of failing to ratify the treaty is to leave this country at war with Germany, and that, during wartime, the President is in command of the military and naval forces of the nation. The President could, if he chose, order the resumption of hostilities tomorrow, without going beyond his legal and constitutional powers. Congress could refuse appropriations, and public opinion might assert itself so strongly that he would not dare to proceed. And, of course, he has no thought of any such thing.

We are considering the question purely as a legal one. The war is still a fact, the supreme court having so held. We are living under the armistice. If Germany should violate the armistice, the President could terminate it, and, as we have said, resume military operations. Such is the vast power that the senate has left in his hands. He could order, again as a matter of law, a new draft, and reimpose all the wartime restrictions. It is a curious situation, and one that ought not to be permitted to exist. But the only way to end it is by making peace, and this it has thus far been impossible to do.

On the other hand, this government can take no part in any move looking to the enforcement of the treaty, since it is not a party to it. Not being a party to it, the nation is still in a state of war, with all that it implies in the way of executive power. This is the only nation that participated in the great war on our side, to which peace is denied. That is a thought which the people should allow to sink deep into their consciousness. The armistice was signed almost seventeen months ago, but peace still waits.

FEEDING PRISONERS

Evidence submitted in Judge Anderson's investigation of conditions at the Marion county jail showed that prisoners thought that they were not properly fed. Such evidence is not always reliable, but there has been no denial, thus far, in this case. Breakfast was made up of mush or rice, sirup mixed with water, coffee and three slices of bread; dinner of red beans and beef heart, or kraut and liver; supper of bean soup and bread. No fruit was served. Some of the witnesses told Judge Anderson the food was unfit to eat.

The law allows the sheriff of every county 60 cents a day for feeding each prisoner. If he can buy food on a basis of 20 cents he has 40 cents profit. This is sometimes an important item. When the Chamber of Commerce had charge of the army vocational school the hungry young men attending it had meat twice a day, milk for their cereals, plenty of bread and oleo, two vegetables, fruit at frequent intervals, pie, ice cream and extras. On holidays they had turkey or chicken. Ernest N. Smith, former general secretary, says this fare cost about 54 cents a day.

If young men in training could be fed all they wanted to eat for 54 cents a day and if the sheriff of Marion county gets 60 cents a day for feeding such stuff as the prisoners say he gives them, there should be a more extensive investigation than was at first contemplated. The board of state charities has recommended that the fee system for sheriffs be abolished because it offers the opportunity for serious abuses. The sheriffs have fought for their fees, such as the profit they might make on boarding prisoners, the "ins" and "outs," etc.

THE BATTLESHIP MARYLAND

The failure or success of the league of nations project as embodied in the peace treaty has not interfered in the least with the country's 1916 naval program. The Maryland, the first of four ships of her class authorized four years ago, has been launched and will be ready for her trial trip in the summer. She is a superdreadnought, the most powerful in the world, and calculated to be more than a match for the British ships of the Queen Elizabeth class. She will carry eight fifteen-inch guns, the first of this size ever mounted on a ship.

Feeling somewhat secure in the belief that the world is temporarily war-exhausted, the British have taken stock of their lead in naval equipment and decided to build fewer naval ships and more merchant ships for a few years. France and Italy are not able to increase their navies to an appreciable degree, but Japan has shown no disposition to run any risks that might involve the suspicion that she does not care for naval domination of the Pacific. These conditions promise to add greatly to the naval prestige of the United States as the 1916 building program is carried out.

The Maryland, however, is a challenge to the world. In all probability her career as the supreme fighting craft will be short, and since the United States is in the competition with all her wealth and resources, it is probable that within ten years she will be in the second line, even in the American navy. The addition of ships of the Maryland class will lessen the peril involved in a divided fleet—a peril which must be faced if the country plays fair with both coasts. Ten superdreadnoughts added to the smaller craft built during the emergency will make a fleet strong enough to impress any enemy or combination of enemies.

CARE OF INDIANA VETERANS

The act of the Indiana legislature creating the Indiana State Soldiers' Home at Lafayette made two provisions of interest to Indiana veterans of the present war who resided in the state during the five years immediately preceding their service in the war. It is provided that under certain circumstances the home may be used for other public purposes, the possibility of world peace and the passing of disabled war veterans having evidently been in the mind of the legislators; and it is provided that membership shall be open to the veterans, and the wives or widows of veterans of all wars. Thus the state can close the home or continue it indefinitely as an institution for victims of the recent hostilities.

There is now one world war veteran in the home, a precedent which is sanctioned by the law and approved by the Indiana attorney-general. It is probable that the legislature will not change the policy thus laid down by the trustees of the home. In the acts of 1911, it is provided that admission of wives and widows of veterans is possible only when they were married to the veteran two years before the act was passed, or in 1909. Since most of the veterans of the world war were not of the legal age for marriage at that time, this section of the law will have to be changed to comply with changed conditions which have since arisen. There are other minor provisions, which may also have to be changed.

The outstanding fact, however, is that there is now no obstacle, except possibly the limited accommodations afforded by the extent of the institution, in the way of participation in the benefits of this home by disabled veterans who are actually unable to earn a living and who have been reduced by reason of the neglect of the federal government to a state of want. There are, of course, only a few of these men in Indiana. They should know that the state has anticipated their needs and that upon making proper application to the home they will be cared for.

If the average increase in the cost of producing coal is 25 cents a ton, as the miners say it will be, and the operators advance the price $1.25 a ton, they should be able to manage somehow to pay the increase to the miners and have an ample amount left to swell their excess profits and pay the taxes thereon.

If that made-in-Indiana industrial exhibit includes made-in-Indiana literature it will need some floor space.

As to Germany's right to use troops in the Ruhr valley, France evidently takes the stand that whipped boys shouldn't be trusted with loaded guns.

A New York musicians' union is trying to get the musical comedy producers to use larger orchestras, which will no doubt lead the public to support the managers in a movement to cut out the music, as they have the comedy.

The New York legislature has done at least one good thing. It has invented a method of silencing an orator.

Lafayette is going after the fish pirates with enough zeal to indicate that Indiana may yet be known as a state with more fish and game than outlaw hunters and fishermen.

As soon as the senate reaches the convalescing stage of its attack of spring fever, and is able to withstand the shock of being informed that the postal service is about to collapse, it may, in the interest of the circulation of its political speeches, do something toward the new postal service pay bill.

With the Indians jazzed up for the opening game in two weeks, it's time for the bleacherite to figure out how he can purloin enough daylight to last through the season.

The Marion county jail appears to be a good place to keep out of.

Not only has the soft coal scale been signed, but with more than usual of the unpleasant after effects from the consumer's point of view.

With such distressing conditions revealed, even more people ought to try to be good enough—or smart enough—to keep out of jail.

The federal reserve board sees a downward trend of prices, which proves what the more thoughtful of us had long suspected, and that is that these federal reserve board chaps are a good deal more far-sighted than other folks.

The house peace resolution may be all right, but suppose Germany declines to "waive"—and Germany hasn't been doing much "waiving" lately? One effect of enforcing the penalty would be an unfortunate disturbance of business while the other countries were grabbing the trade and the concomitant profits.

CHILD'S TRIAL FOR MURDER

Extra Guard Follows Attack on Ursula Broderick's Mother.

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—Ten extra deputies were on duty in juvenile court today at the resumption of the trial of Ursula Broderick, age sixteen, charged with first degree murder in connection with the shooting to death of her step-father, Joseph F. Woodlock, April 14, last. The extra guard was assigned to forestall a repetition of trouble that occurred yesterday when Mrs. Woodlock, the defendant's mother, was attacked by Mrs. Bridget Corcoran, sister of Thomas P. Broderick, Mrs. Woodlock's first husband, who was shot to death by Ursula four years ago. The girl was exonerated at that time on the plea that she fired in defense of her mother.

Mrs. Woodlock, the first witness for the defense, took the stand when the trial was resumed today. Her testimony was expected to figure prominently in establishing the plea of the defendant that she killed Woodlock to protect her honor.

Mrs. Woodlock, who is charged with second degree murder in connection with the killing of her husband, will be tried later. The state rested late yesterday.

French Postage Advanced.

PARIS, April 1.—The new postal rates, by which the people of France will pay 25 centimes instead of 15 on letters of domestic origin to points within this country, came into effect today. Rates to foreign countries are not changed, and as a result one can send a letter from Paris to San Francisco as cheaply as to Versailles.

Domestic telegraph rates are also increased while international messages are not affected. Subway, tram and bus fares also have been increased.

$100 FINE AND COSTS ON SECOND CONVICTION

JUDGE RULES FOR MOTOR SPEED LAW VIOLATORS.

DELIVERY WAGON ACCIDENT

A second conviction for a violation of the motor speed laws means a fine of $100 and costs, according to a ruling made by Judge Walter Pritchard in city court Wednesday afternoon in the case of Roy Wilson, age nineteen, 1704 Olliver avenue.

Wilson, a taxicab driver, was arrested on a speeding charge twice within a month. He was convicted, fined and warned on March 2, and appeared before Judge Pritchard on a similar charge Wednesday. Both arrests were made by Motor Policeman McClain.

Judge's Comment.

"I warned you when I fined you the first time, as I do in all cases, that a second conviction means a fine of $100 and costs and I never suspend judgment in these cases," said the judge. "The certainty of the penalty seems to be about the only thing that will check the speeders."

Fines ranging from $1 and costs to $10 and costs were assessed against thirteen other persons Wednesday. The smaller fine was given to minors.

The speeders were: Paul Schallon, 2725 Station street; August Beyers, 2176 North Pennsylvania street; Joseph Lacken, 1823 East Eleventh street; Warren Smith, 2311 North Capitol avenue; Alvin Avery, 537 North Tacoma avenue; Louis Schneider, 2415 North Alabama street; Harry Wright, driving a test car for Nordyke & Marmon Company; Otto Axline, 2030 Park avenue; Millard Overtree, 912 Fayette street; Al Kufman, Severin hotel; Frank Foster, 566 Highland avenue; Robert Sinclair, 4320 Boulevard place, and Monte Guthman, who gave his address as "city."

Delivery Wagon Struck.

Harry Lanham, age eighteen, giving his address as 3463 East Washington street, was arrested Wednesday afternoon on a charge of speeding, after a motor truck he was driving had struck a horse-drawn delivery wagon belonging to the Progress Laundry, at New Jersey and Washington streets. The truck was overturned, but Lanham and two other youths riding with him were injured.

Nine other motorists were arrested Wednesday for violating the speed laws. They gave their names as Omer Hill, 1130 East Twenty-third street; Edward Parker, 2157 North Capitol avenue; Roy Wheeler, 110 East Thirty-third street; Robert Abernathy, 503 North Senate avenue; Louis Markum, 31 North Colorado avenue; Bernard Head, 720 Sanders street; Frank Garten, 3524 North Meridian street; Charles Chilett, 1300 North Meridian street, and Otto Axline, 2030 Park avenue.

SO-CALLED BARLEY FEED CONSIDERED IN REPORT

WEED SEEDS FOUND IN SOME MIXTURES, REPORT SAYS.

ACTION UNDER STATE LAW

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 1.—E. G. Proul, state chemist, and his assistants, have completed their quarterly analysis of commercial feeding stuffs, this being an important part of the work of administering the Indiana feeding stuffs control law. Complete analysis of 819 samples were made during the quarter and the results are embodied in a report, which is issued for the benefit of the farmers of the state who use these feeds in live stock production.

One of the principal features of the report is the statement regarding so-called "ground barley." The inspectors sent out by the state chemist found numerous carloads of feed, which the shipper contended to be ground barley, and, as such, exempt from the law. Examination of samples obtained from these cars shows that the material in most cases, the report says, is not ground barley, but a mixture of barley, after it has been processed to remore pearl barley or barley flour, the resulting by-product ground being mixed with weed seeds and screenings, mostly unground.

Other samples, the report says, show an excessive amount of oat hulls and both wild and tame oats, certainly in excess of what could be expected in odinary field barley. In many instances such shipments were removed from sale as in violation of the law. The difference in feeding value between pure ground barley and many of the so-called "ground barley" shipments condemned by the inspectors amounts to from $7 to $12 a ton.

INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL

MILTON—W. J. Anderson & Sons, who have been engaged in the coal and elevator business at this place, have sold their entire business to Cain, Snyder & Stone, of Connersville. The business consists of coalyards here and at Bentonville, and grain elevators here, at Beesons Station and Bentonville. The business will be turned over to the new owners, May 17.

WARSAW—A contract has been let for the foundation of the new auditorium at Winona Lake, and work has been started. The structure will seat 8,000 persons, and it is to be completed in time for the summer Chautauqua season. It is planned to open with a great meeting addressed by the Rev. Billy Sunday, whose home is within a stone's throw of the big building.

ELWOOD — B. F. Fettig, whose canning factory was destroyed by fire Monday night, after conferring with contractors, announces that he will erect a new building on the old foundation, starting work at once, and will be ready to take care of the acreage of tomatoes, for which he contracted this season. The new building will be constructed of structural iron and steel siding. The machinery was not badly damaged in the fire, and can be rebuilt. The estimated cost of the new building is $28,000.

ANDERSON—Official announcement is expected here soon concerning the proposed expansion of the Remy electric plant of the General Motors Company. Several weeks ago, when the enlargement of the Remy factory was first mentioned, the move was said to be contingent on an adequate sewer system in Anderson for several years ahead, greater capacity for the municipal light and power plant, and acquisition of land on which a housing project for Remy employes could be developed. Since that time, a sewer system to cost more than $919,000 has been contracted for, the city has made preliminary arrangements for enlarging the city light and power plant at a cost of more than $300,000 and a tract of sixty-six acres near the Remy plant has been bought and will be platted for houses.

EAST CHICAGO—Hundreds of thousands of dollars' of building improvements in East Chicago and Indiana Harbor are being delayed, and perhaps will be lost to the city entirely, because of the uncertainly of building conditions and the high cost of labor and material. Owners of business property have had plans drawn for business buildings at an aggregate construction cost of several hundred thousand dollars, but will not build until they are assured that the buildings will be finished within a reasonable time. Contractors who have planned to build houses for sale have been forced to postpone all building this year, because they say it is impossible for them to build at a profit. Contractors lay the blame for the situation on the local industries which are spending millions of dollars in new buildings and paying almost impossible wages to all kinds of workmen. The contractors admit that the industries save money by deducting the cost of building from their income and thereby escaping a heavy income tax, but assert that the practice is demoralizing the local labor market. The scarcity of house building is bringing to a crisis the already acute housing shortage, and has resulted in committees from Hammond, Gary and East Chicago joining in an effort to help the situation.

> Weary at heart with winter yesterday,
> I sought the fields for something green to see,
> Some budded turf or mossbank quietly
> Uncovered in the sweet familiar way.
> Crossing a pasture slope that sunward lay,
> I suddenly surprised beneath a tree
> A girlish creature who at sight of me
> Sprang up all wild with daintiest dismay.
> "Stay, pretty one!" I cried. "Who art thou, pray?"
> Mid tears and freak of pettish misery,
> And sighing, "I am April," answered she;
> "I rear the field flowers for my sister May."
> Then with an arch laugh sidewise, clear and strong,
> Turned blithely up the valley with a song.

With the new system, heavy wooden guillotines take the places of the axmen. The proposed celebration in Manchester of the tercentenary of the sailing of the Mayflower may render it of interest to direct attention to a curious anachronism. In the magnificent fresco in the palace of Westminster, in which the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers is depicted, the Mayflower is flying a Union Jack. The Union Jack, as every one knows, did not come into existence till the passing of the first Act of Union in 1800—180 years after the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers. One of the formalities connected with the Irish Union was a new standard combining the three orders of St. George, St. Andrew and St. Patrick, which was hoisted in the capitals of England, Scotland and Ireland.—Manchester (England) Guardian.

After the period of growth in spring and summer there is a period of dormancy before the cold weather sets in, and if plants are maintained artificially at a high temperature this dormant period persists. Exposure to cold is needed to activate the plant for another period of growth. Perhaps the liberation of enzymes acts on the stored starches, converting them into sugars, or the phenomenon may be due to a change in the permeability of the cell-membrane. Though normally the stimulus required for a renewal of growth is supplied by cold, mechanical injury or a period of drying may have the same effect. The process occurs independently in any exposed part of a plant, so that if one or two branches of a plant be kept continually warm while the other is subjected to the usual winter chilling, the former will not develop on the return of summer temperature, though the latter develops as usual.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Constant Reader—To whom should I write about the number, age, place of residence and other information about civil war veterans?—Headquarters, Grand Army of the Republic, Lincoln, Neb.

C. J. P.—What can I do to kill slugs in my cellar?—For this purpose, Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, recommends hydrated lime or salt and suggests that they can be kept out by making a thin line barrier of either the salt or lime round the cellar.

Forgetful—Please give the exact date and place of Theodore Roosevelt's death, funeral and burial.—He died at his home, Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, Long island, at 4:15 a. m., January 6, 1919. The first funeral service was in his home at noon, January 8, followed by another at 1 p. m. in Christ Episcopal church, Oyster Bay. He was buried in the Roosevelt plot adjoining the Christ Episcopal church immediately after the second service.

A Constant Reader—When is a good time to trim trees?—Now. (2) Can a neighbor be made to trim his trees which are hanging over my house?—The law does not require him to trim the portion of his trees extending beyond his property line over the property of another, but permits the owner of the adjoining lands to cut the branches which hang over his property. In most cases of this kind co-operation is of far more benefit than bare legal rights, especially to the trees.

W. G.—Acording to the rules of debate, has a debater the right to ask questions of his opponent?—Yes, in their proper place. Questioning is a favorite means of rebuttal, being effectively used to make an opponent take a definite position on an issue he has evaded or to force him into a dilemma. Read the Lincoln-Douglas debate for a classic example of the employment of questions. A debater may not, however, interrupt his opponent to ask questions, as under such rules a debate soon becomes a dispute.

V. E. R.—Did not the Indiana public service commission decide some time ago that a public utilities company could not refuse service to a consumer who declined to make a deposit on a meter?—There has been no general order of the commission against such demand for a deposit. In the fixing of rules and charges of some of the utilities such charges have not been included as a part of the rights of the company under its franchise or other contract. For information as to the rules of a particular company communicate with the secretary of the commission.

E. B.—Please tell me if the tax assessor, after accepting the tax sheet as filled out and without stepping into the house, can increase the assessment of personal property after leaving the house?—The law appears to contemplate a verified return by the property owner with a penalty for failure to make full return, and requiring notice to the property owner before additional property is added to the list, but a great deal is left to the discretion of the assessor, and just how wide this discretion is will not be known until decided by a court of last resort, as there has as yet been no such decision.

RIGGS QUITS TO ESCAPE 'DEADENING INFLUENCE'

INDIANIAN LEAVES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

FOUND ROUTINE "ANTIQUE"

The Indianapolis News Bureau,
33 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—James R. Riggs, of Sullivan, Ind., has resigned his place as first assistant secretary of agriculture and has left for his home after writing a letter of protest against what he calls the antiquated and unbusinesslike methods of the management of the department of agriculture.

The "deadening influence of antiquated routine in departmental proceedings" was found by Mr. Riggs, after six months of service in the department, as it always is found by those who come to Washington to serve the government, and he offered his resignation with the belief that he could save money for the taxpayers by resigning, and also save himself from a life in which the principal activity was the signing of papers laid before him by clerks who have grown old in the service of the department.

Mr. Riggs came to Washington from the management of large and varied farm interests in Sullivan county and other parts of Indiana at the suggestion of Vice-President Marshall, who asked him to take the place after G. I. Christie, of Purdue University, had resigned the position of assistant secretary to resume his duties at Lafayette.

Mr. Riggs said in his letter of resignation to Secretary E. T. Meredith that he came to Washington expecting that executive duties were connected with his office and that because of his long experience in agricultural work he would be able to be of some benefit to the agricultural interest of the nation.

Employes Out of Touch.

On arriving in Washington, Mr. Riggs said, he found control of the department of agriculture "usurped and centralized in the hands of four or five employes of long tenure in office who have not had an opportunity to come in contact with the agricultural conditions of the country at large."

He said that although these men may be super-efficient in matters of detail they "are unable to see the great agricultural problems that confront us."

Mr. Riggs commented that it seemed to him a travesty for the department to be teaching farm efficiency to the farmers of the country while reluctant to apply the same business methods to the administration of its own affairs.

"Numerous commissions, bureaus and departments have been created," said Mr. Riggs. "These have been divided and subdivided. Inspectors of inspectors over inspectors have come into existence. The procedure is so intricate that men of practical ability are forced to follow such a network of red tape that the process insulates them from the real duties they are to perform."

Speaks for Successor.

Mr. Riggs ended his letter of resignation by insisting that when a new assistant secretary comes into office that he shall receive real work to perform and that he be assistant secretary in fact, as well as in name. Then, he declared, an assistant secretary will have an opportunity to give creditable service to the department and to the government.

In his letter to Mr. Meredith Mr. Riggs wrote:

"My dear Mr. Secretary:

"In accepting the position of assistant secretary of agriculture six months ago I had hoped that my business experience, together with my practical knowledge of agriculture, would enable me to render a service to my country, and especially to this department. Knowing that the federal government was entering on an enormous road-building program, in co-operation with the several states, it was my dearest desire to utilize the information I had gained from long practical experience in the construction of highways for the benefit of the taxpayers.

Expected Responsibilities.

"Before accepting the appointment I came to Washington and discussed with the former secretary my experience and qualifications for the work in a most open and frank manner. It was my understanding that he was satisfied as to my fitness and, with that idea, I accepted the appointment.

"The title of the office would indicate that there were responsibilities of an executive nature that I would be called upon to discharge, especially in the absence of the secretary. I was not aware until some time after my acceptance that the position carried no definite responsible duties, with but scant opportunity to render service, and when considering the simple routine work performed, which consisted only in the signing of certain papers that came to me already prepared and approved, I am obliged to say that the expenses of my office are not justified.

"Feeling that is not fair to the taxpayers of the country, nor just to myself to make any further sacrifice of time and personal interest under such circumstances, I have tendered you my resignation.

Control Usurped.

"It appears to me that the department can not be of the greatest helpfulness to the whole country with the control usurped and centralized in the hands of four or five employes of long tenure in office, who have not had an opportunity to come in contact with the agricultural conditions of the country at large. Men whose experiences have been confined chiefly to Washington in the capacity of office help, even though they be superefficient in matters pertaining to detail, are unable to see the great agricultural problems that confront us. Such centralization of control in a few reduces the usefulness of the other 20,000 employes.

"The decentralization of this power, making each bureau chief and his subordinates responsible in turn for the work in their respective sections, will not only increase the efficiency and morale of the entire force, but will make for greater results with less effort and much less expense. It seems to me travesty that the department is successfully teaching efficiency in all things pertaining to farm practice, yet seems so reluctant to apply the same to the business administration of its own workings.

"Since the day that Columbus landed on the western hemisphere, knelt, kissed the soil and offered up a prayer, agriculture has been the foundation of our wealth and strength. I am convinced that progress in this industry shall continue to be the index of our prosperity and happiness. No work should command more serious consideration than that over which you have the honor to preside.

Antique Routine a Menace.

"It occurs to me that the most threatening thing today in the administration of government is the deadening influence of antique routine in departmental affairs. Numerous commissions, bureaus and departments have been created. These have been divided and subdivided. Inspectors of inspectors over inspectors have come into existence. The procedure is so intricate that men of practical ability are forced to follow such a network of red tape that the process insulates them from the real duties which they are to perform.

"I sincerely hope that my successor, immediately upon entrance into the department, will be given specific duties which he may regard as his official work. It is to be hoped that he will be, in fact as well as in name, an assistant secretary. This condition can not prevail until a close relationship is established between the secretary and the assistant secretary. The latter can not render creditable service without having full knowledge of the policies and aims of the former.

"Wishing you the utmost success and trusting you will receive these observations in the same spirit in which they are given, I am, most sincerely yours,

"JAMES R. RIGGS."

Weather forecasts for Indianapolis and vicinity for tonight and Friday indicate a drop in temperature to a minimum of 30 to 35 degrees, according to J. H. Armington meteorologist at the United States weather bureau. The drop will begin late tonight and probably will reach its minimum during the early morning hours Friday. The father in each household tells the children the story of the Passover.

Good Friday Services.

Good Friday services will be held at Christ Episcopal church at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and at 8 p. m. The three hours' service will be held from 12 to 3 o'clock, in the charge of the Rev. James D. Stanley, rector.

SUNNYSIDE ADDITION PROPOSAL IS LAUDED

COLORED WRITER SAYS TUBERCULOSIS RELIEF IS NEEDED.

NO PLACE FOR INCURABLES

The announcement of a meeting of the county council next Monday to consider an appropriation for an addition to the Sunnyside sanatorium, for the care of incurable tuberculosis patients, is heartily greeted by the colored citizens of Indianapolis, who have been making a serious effort to check the spread of the white plague for more than fifteen years.

The public is so familiar with the facts that it is hardly necessary to repeat here that because there is no place in the state where colored incurable persons may be taken, there has been a rapid spread of the disease in the homes, often wiping out whole families of half a dozen or more. Out of the 472 deaths in Marion county last year, 111 were colored. The colored population of the city forms only about one-eighth of the total population, which means that the death rate among the colored is double that among whites.

As a result of the influenza, the number of incipient and incurable cases has rapidly increased during the last two years. It is noticeable that the number of children in the schools who have tuberculosis in some stage is more than double the number five years ago, while there are large numbers of anaemic children in all the colored schools who will be the next victims, unless facilities for caring for the disease are improved.

Relief Urged Before.

The investigator for the war chest board emphasized the need of a hospital for colored incurables as among "the most urgent" needs of the city, pointing out that the responsibility rightly belonged to the whole people and not to the small group of women who have been working for sixteen years to do what they could for bettering conditions. The report of the committee went so far as to suggest a downtown hospital, and praised the effort that was being made by the Woman's Improvement Club, which was employing a friendly visitor to work among tuberculosis patients, giving any possible assistance from nursing to providing food, bedding, clothing and even homes for the sick, who are often turned out of doors.

There are several hundred cases on the visiting list of the club worker who is connected with the Flanner House Settlement, and the number of deaths last year was much larger than the year before. Dr. H. L. Hummons, physician in charge of branch tuberculosis clinic No. 1, at the Flanner House says that there are many cases in the incipient stage of tuberculosis which will be in the incurable stage before they can be accepted at Sunnyside, where there is a long waiting list.

The migration movement from the south was not met with adequate housing facilities and the result has been congestion of the worst sort. Hundreds of families are living in buildings unsuitable for human beings, barns, sheds, shops and other dilapidated buildings having been turned into rentals since the demand for houses has increased. Under these conditions, it is impossible to take care of the patients in the homes with any degree of satisfaction, especially since room and air are so essential to proper treatment. Many of these cases, it is said, would respond to treatment if it were not that they become discouraged because there is no place where they can go.

Churches Help in Task.

Few persons know of the tragic condition that exists, especially in cases of persons who are away from their homes and who have neither relatives nor friends here. In some instances the best that could be provided was space to place tents in the yards, where the family agreed to give the patients what care it could between the visits of the friendly worker. In some instances money has been provided for patients to return to their homes in other parts of the country, and they have been placed on trains when their condition was so serious as to cause doubt as to whether they could live through the journey. In some instances there are the "good-hearted" people, usually the older people, who are willing to do what they can for any one, and they are caring, as best they can, for tubercolous patients. The churches or other organizations are trying to pay the bills. In many instances tragedies have occurred.

It would be difficult to point to anything more needed than a place to care for colored incurables, and surely it will be reason for rejoicing if money is appropriated for this long-deserved and long-needed work, which has burdened the minds and hearts of the people for many years.

RESOLUTION ON PEACE IS OFFERED IN HOUSE

DECLARES STATE OF WAR WITH GERMANY AT END.

UP FOR ACTION MONDAY

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The Republican effort to terminate the state of war with Germany, started formally in the house yesterday with the introduction of a joint resolution to that effect, occupied the attention of the foreign affairs committee today, although, by agreement with Democratic leaders, it will not be brought up in the house until Monday. Chairman Porter, of the committee to which the resolution was referred after he had thrown it into the house hopper, planned to hold brief hearings before reporting it back with the way paved for rushing it through the house under a special rule.

Introduction of the resolution, which was drawn after a conference of Republican leaders, was followed by a decision to force it through Friday with four hours' debate, but Democratic leaders requested and obtained a delay until Monday in order to permit a careful study of the proposal which provides also for rescinding the war powers of the President.

The resolution provides for certain reciprocal trading with Germany and for repeal of the President's war powers. It gives Germany forty-five days after its adoption in which to agree not to assert any claim against the United States which she could not have asserted under the treaty of Versailles. A penalty of $10,000 is provided in cases of violation of the terms of the resolution as to trading.

Text of Resolution.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, The President of the United States in the performance of his constitutional duty to give to congress information of the state of the Union, has advised congress that the war with the imperial German government has ended;

"Resolved, By the senate and the house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, that the state of war declared to exist between the imperial German government and the people of the United States by a joint resolution of congress approved April 6, 1917, is hereby declared at an end.

"Section 2. That in the interpretation of any provision relating to the date of the termination of the present war or of the present or existing emergency in any acts of congress, joint resolutions or proclamations of the President containing provisions contingent upon the date of the termination of the war or of the present or existing emergency, the date when this resolution becomes effective shall be construed and treated as the date of the termination of the war or of the present or existing emergency, notwithstanding any provision in any act of congress or joint resolution, providing any other mode of determination of the date of the termination of the war or of the present or existing emergency.

Reciprocal Trade.

"Section 3: That with a view to securing reciprocal trade with the German government and its nationals, and for this purpose it is hereby provided that unless within forty-five days from the date when this resolution becomes effective the German government shall duly notify the President of the United States that it has declared a termination of the war with the United States and that it waives and renounces on behalf of itself and its nationals any claim, demand, right or benefit against the United States or its nationals, that it or they would not have the right to assert had the United States ratified the treaty of Versailles, the President of the United States shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, to proclaim the fact that the German government has not given the notification hereinbefore mentioned and thereupon and until the President shall have proclaimed the receipt of such notification, commercial intercourse between the United States and Germany and the making of loans or credits, and the furnishing of financial assistance or supplies to the German government or the inhabitants of Germany, directly or indirectly, by the government or the inhabitants of the United States, shall, except with the license of the President, be prohibited.

$10,000 Fine Clause.

"Sec. 4. That whoever shall willfully violate the foregoing prohibition whenever the same shall be in force, shall upon conviction be fined not more than $10,000, or, if a natural person, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both; and the officer, director or agent of any corporation who knowingly participates in such violation shall be punished by a like fine, imprisonment or both, and any property, funds, securities, papers or other articles or documents, or any vessel, together with her tackle, apparel, furniture and equipment, concerned in such violation, shall be forfeited to the United States.

"Section 5: That nothing herein contained shall be construed as a waiver by the United States of its rights, privileges, indemnities, reparations or advantages to which the United States has become entitled under the terms of the armistice, signed November 11, 1918, or which were acquired by or are in the possession of the United States by reason of its participation in the war otherwise; all fines, forfeitures, penalties and seizures imposed or made by the United States are hereby ratified, confirmed and maintained."

PLANKS OF PLATFORM WILL BE CONSIDERED

REPUBLICAN SUBCOMMITTEE TO HOLD MEETING.

CHANGES IN PRIMARY LAW

The series of subcommittee meetings which will be held in Indianapolis for the purpose of considering recommendations for the various planks of the Republican state platform by a special committee which has been appointed by Edmund M. Wasmuth, state chairman, will begin at the Hotel Severin tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the subcommittee on labor problems will meet, with C. D. Parker, of Wabash, as chairman.

Other conferences of a similar nature will be held within the next two weeks on the following subjects: "Peace Treaty," Charles Martindale, of Indianapolis, chairman, April 5, 11 a. m.; "Workmen's Compensation," Walter W. Willis, of Linton, chairman, April 9, 2 p. m.; "Reduction of Federal Taxes," H. C. Atkins, of Indianapolis, chairman, April 10, 10 a. m.; "Budget," B. A. VanWinkle, Hartford City, chairman, April 14, 2 p. m., and "Primary Law," A. H. Beardsley, of Elkhart, chairman, April 14, evening. The general platform committee will meet April 15.

The conference on recommendations for changes in the primary law will be one of the most important of the series, as there is general dissatisfaction with some of the present features of the law.

Mr. Beardsley, who is a member of the Indiana state senate, has written a communication to the members of his subcommittee outlining his ideas on the question, saying he has been very much dissatisfied with the primary law ever since its passage.

Cumbersome and Expensive.

"I believe it is cumbersome and very expensive for the candidates who are seeking the offices," he said, "and also causes a great deal more work for a candidate to obtain a nomination than should be necessary.

"During the last session of the legislature, Glenn Van Auken, Democratic member of the senate, and myself drew a bill for the changing of the primary law. We spent a great deal of time and thought on this subject, and introduced the bill at the latter part of the session. There had been no publicity on this subject of any consequence, and the legislators were unprepared for it. The time was so short that there was no opportunity for getting public sentiment aroused regarding this matter and the bill failed.

"While I am not committed to this bill in its entirety, I believe that the fundamental principles set out in it will, if enacted into law, greatly improve our method of selecting candidates. It will not save any money to the state and counties in the matter of elections, but it will save a tremendous amount of work and expense for the various candidates.

Provisions of Law.

"Briefly, this law would provide for primary election of delegates to the municipal, county, district and state conventions. These delegates in turn select the candidates; otherwise, this proposed law provides a definite legal method of selecting delegates to the various conventions, in place of the old-time caucus in some out-of-the-way place which is improperly advertised and only the faithful few who are connected with the machine attend.

"This law would provide that at the primaries only delegates to the various conventions will be selected. This would make a much shorter ballot than the present primary ballot, especially in the more populous centers, and would permit the voter to select men he knew as delegates. It would, in my opinion, give us higher grade candidates and men of prominence and well known ability would be more willing to be candidates for offices.

"It also would permit a large number of public-spirited citizens to be delegates to these conventions, and create more interest in politics than at present."

Lists of Candidates.

Republican county chairmen of Indiana will be asked to send Republican state headquarters lists of candidates for precinct committeemen and of candidates for delegate to the state convention.

Fred Schortemeier, secretary of the Republican state committee, has sent a letter to candidates for state office saying:

"Republican state headquarters will ask all county chairmen next Monday to send in immediately a list of all candidates for precinct committeemen and delegates to the state convention. These lists will be available to all candidates at Room 521 Hotel Severin, as they arrive. Carbon copies of these lists will be prepared once a week and will be mailed to all candidates on Saturday of each week and oftener if sufficient lists arrive. This was done in 1918. The state committee must have these lists for organization purposes."

Mr. Schortemeier has arranged with Samuel M. Trabue, secretary of the Democratic state committee, to confer soon with Governor James P. Goodrich concerning the membership of the state board of election commissioners which is to be reappointed.

Taggart Goes to French Lick.

Thomas Taggart, who will be the Democratic nominee for United States senator, left Indianapolis today for French Lick, after spending a very fruitful twenty-four hours in consultations with Democrats at the Denison hotel. It is believed that Mr. Taggart made satisfactory progress in using his influence to the limit to have men of good standing announce for offices for which no candidates have yet spoken. Before the filing period closes Saturday evening there are assurances that Indianapolis Democrats of wide influence will file their names, particularly as candidates for seats in the state senate and house.

Mr. Taggart did his best to bring about a situation in Marion county favorable to the choice of a man as Democratic county chairman in whom everybody will have confidence, but it is not certain that entirely satisfactory results will be obtained. Reginald Sullivan, who has long been prominent in Democratic politics, has been favored by many leading Democrats for the chairmanship, but it is understood he will not consider taking the place as long as there is a fight on for it. James E. Berry and Thomas (Buck) Carroll, who have been talked of for the chairmanship, have not yet indicated that they would withdraw in favor of anybody else. It is expected that Benjamin Bosse, of Evansville, the new state chairman, will be in Indianapolis by next Saturday or Monday.

Fesler Workers Enthusiastic.

Workers for J. W. Fesler for the Republican nomination for Governor are enthusiastic over the support which they say has been gained by Mr. Fesler during the last few days. Those who returned from Logansport Thursday say that the Fesler meeting there Wednesday night was the best political meeting held there during this campaign. Benjamin F. Long, of the board of trustees of Indiana University, presided, and Major George Steel, Dr. George Daniels and John A. Jones headed a large delegation from Marion. James A. West, of Logansport, a Fesler admirer, furnished a band for the occasion.

"Whirlwind" Tour.

Warren T. McCray, of Kentland, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, is making a "whilwind" tour of the state. He was in Clay county Thursday and will be in Hancock county Friday. From his headquarters, it is reported that in Vanderburg county forty-three men favorable to Mr. McCray have filed notice of their candidacy as delegates to the Republican state convention.

A group of prominent men and women of Indianapolis made an automobile trip through Hendricks and Morgan counties Wednesday in Mr. Fesler's interest. Those who made the trip were: Caleb S. Denny, William McMaster, C. C. Perry, Chester Jewett, Thomas P. Harvey, Clinton H. Givan, L. M. Savelle, Miss Belle Ramey, Miss Ethel Hutchinson and Mrs. Pearson Mendenhall. Among the cities and towns visited were: Brownsburg, Pittsboro, Lizton, Danville, Clayton, Plainfield, Mooresville, Brooklyn, Martinsville and Waverly. The cars were covered with flags and Fesler banners. More than 100 leading business men and Republican women have pledged their time to assist Mr. Fesler in this way from now until primary day. Mrs. Mendenhall said that as soon as the men and women voters become acquainted with Mr. Fesler, they will support him, as he stands for the best and cleanest things in public life. Mr. Fesler was in Vincennes Thursday to address the Spanish-American War Veterans, and a Republican meeting.

Edward C. Toner, of Anderson, is still campaigning in the Thirteenth district. W. C. Erler, of South Bend; Thomas F. Berry, of Rochester, superintendent of the Fulton county schools, and other men have recently written to headquarters that they are supporting him.

"One of the threatening signs is the outcry against local and state taxation and there is a movement against our public institutions," Mr. Berry wrote. "Mr. Toner has the frankness and courage to tell the people that they can not hope to expect to escape honest 100 per cent. taxation and still keep up their public institutions. As a former member of the Indiana legislature, and as a school man, I am glad to support a man for Governor who is not appealing to men's prejudice and selfishness but to their higher aspirations."

McCulloch to Speak.

Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, of Indianapolis, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will speak before the Optimists' Club at the Claypool hotel Friday noon. He will speak at Crawfordsville in the evening, and at Greencastle Saturday night.

Jacob Steinmetz, of Washington township, who filed his candidacy for prosecuting attorney on the Democratic ticket, is a well known lawyer and business man and is active in the affairs of the Indiana Democratic Club, where he is a member of the board of directors. He was graduated from the Indiana Law School in 1905 and has been practicing law in this county since that time. He says he stands for a square deal and speedy trials for all accused persons and if nominated and elected to office would see that this principle is carried out in all of the courts in this jurisdiction. Clay Batchelder is also a candidate for the Democratic nomination for prosecutor.

Colored men living in the Seventh ward have organized the Seventh Ward Colored Men's Republican Club and will open headquarters at 435 Massachusetts avenue. Officers of the organization are L. C. Fletcher, president; Samuel T. Parker, vice-president; Charles Nichols, secretary, and Ike Pierson, treasurer. The board of directors is composed of Ben Osborne, N. Ratcliff, Joseph Porter, Fred Ray, James Turner, George Paxton, Jesse Stark and Otha Lewis. The club will meet each Wednesday night.

had been declared vacant, it had been in continuous session twenty-three hours and forty minutes.

Lacked Closing Thrills.

The final chapter lacked the thrills that many of the spectators had expected. Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet closed the debate at 9:36 a. m., and within two minutes the calling of the roll had been begun in the case of Louis Waldman.

Virtually every member was in his seat and as a result the five roll calls were run off in record-breaking time.

There was a brief outburst of applause when the clerk announced the vote on Waldman's case, followed by another mild demonstration a few seconds when Speaker Sweet announced:

"The resolution having been duly passed, I declare the seat occupied by Louis Waldman vacant."

The announcements in the cases of the other Socialists were received in silence by members and spectators until the final declaration by the Speaker that Orr's seat was vacant, when there was a last brief outburst of mild cheering and handclapping.

Service Men's Voting.

Solomon left the Capitol shortly after the voting began. Waldman remained in the assembly chamber until the moment the roll call was started, when he went into the lobby.

Considerable interest was manifested in the way in which the former service men in the assembly voted. Twenty-one favored the expulsion of all five Socialists, seven for reseating, while four voted to oust Waldman, Claessens and Solomon and to reseat DeWitt and Orr.

The women members of the house were evenly divided, the Republican member, Miss Margaret L. Smith, of New York, voting to expel the entire delegation, while her Democratic colleague, Miss Elizabeth Van R. Gillette, of Schenectady, favored their retention.

Maiden Speech Favors Defendants.

A protest against the expulsion of the assemblymen was voiced by Roosevelt in his maiden speech as a member of the assembly. Roosevelt conceded that the assembly, as the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, had a right to expel any one and that its determination was final.

"As this power is subject to no external control," he said, "it is doubly necessary for us to exercise it only with self-control, because the greater the power, the more dangerous the abuse."

The most dramatic moment of the debate was reached near midnight when Assemblyman Martin D. McCue, New York, Democrat, took the floor to urge ousting of the five Socialists. McCue characterized the Socialists as traitors. He declared they accepted all the benefits of the country but gave nothing in return.

The debate was closed by Speaker Sweet. He devoted considerable time to answering Roosevelt's plea for reinstatement.

CRITICISES ASSEMBLY ACTION.

Charles Evans Hughes Says It Is Blow at Americanism.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Expulsion of the five Socialist members of the New York assembly was a "serious blow at the standards of true Americanism and nothing short of a calamity," Charles Evans Hughes declared in a statement given out at his office today. He said:

"I do not care to speak of the action of the assembly in a casual or flippant manner. I regard it as a serious blow at the standards of true Americanism and nothing short of a calamity. Those who make their patriotism a vehicle for intolerance are very dangerous friends of our institutions. I expressed my views upon this question at the outset and I have no reason to change them."

CAUGHT IN ICE IN ARCTIC.

Eighty Persons on Drifting Steamship Call for Help.

LONDON, April 1.—A wireless dispatch from Moscow says a dramatic message of distress has been received there from the Arctic ice fields.

The message sent by wireless, asks help for eighty men, women and children perishing of cold and hunger aboard the steamer Solovei, which became icebound in the river at Chiga in January and finally drifted into the Kara sea.

The position of the vessel March 23, the message said, was latitude 72, longitude 69.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Bearing banners urging freedom for Ireland a dozen women attempted a demonstration today before the congress. They were escorted from the Capitol grounds by police before reaching the Capitol.

FIVE UNIONS FAIL TO AGREE ON NEW SCALES

the wage demand of $1.25 an hour that may not be easily adjusted.

Agreements Ratified.

The agreements ratified by the local unions at their special meetings, which were held in most cases Wednesday night, were as follows:

Sheet metal workers, an increase from 75 cents to $1 an hour; carpenters, an increase from 75 cents to $1 an hour; iron workers, an increase from $1 to $1.25 an hour; lathers, an increase from 75 cents to $1 an hour; painters, an increase from 70 cents to $1 an hour; paperhangers, an increase from 70 cents to $1 an hour; bricklayers, an increase from $1 to $1.25 an hour; hod carriers, which includes building laborers, an increase from 62½ cents to 75 cents an hour, and asbestos workers, a three-year agreement with a scale graduated upward over that period from 65 to 90 cents an hour.

Demands Rejected.

The situation with the plumbers and steamfitters seemed to be the most serious. These locals, both of which are affiliated with the United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters, made demands for $1.25 an hour, but the contractors, through their committee, rejected this and no compromise measure was offered by the union men, it was said.

Members of these two unions, numbering more than 300, met during the day at the Labor Temple, 138 West Washington street, and, following discussion, voted unanimously to hold out for the original demand. C. C. Pierson, secretary of the contractors' association, said this phase was the most serious of the remaining problems toward settling the wage agreements. Other unions which did not ratify the tentative agreements also met at the Labor Temple and outlined their courses.

Mr. Kern estimated the membership of the unions which were without contracts as: Cement finishers, 160; plasterers, 100; hoisting engineers, 70; plumbers, 180, and steamfitters, 140. In commenting on the demands of the last two he said the wage agreements throughout the country for workers in these trades in cities equal to Indianapolis were for $1.25 or more and that the men did not feel they were making unjust demands. Two locals of the county council, the electricians and elevator constructors, did not have to negotiate new contracts this year.

Cleveland Painters on Strike.

CLEVELAND, April 1.—Approximately 2,000 union painters were idle today as a result of refusing to accept an offer of $1.12 an hour beginning May 1 as their 1920 wage scale and which was believed to have been agreed to yesterday. The men are demanding $1.25 an hour. The old scale was 80 cents.

PEACE PROPOSAL FAILS TO AROUSE ENTHUSIASM

everybody assumes that it never will become effective. A careful canvass of both senate and house indicates that even though the resolution should be put through each branch it would fail of adoption should the President veto it, and everybody assumes that the President will veto it.

Expect Presidential Veto.

The truth is that many of the Republicans that are advocating the passage of the resolution, not only expect the President to veto it, but secretly hope he will, for they are wise enough to know that the step is ill-advised.

In the meantime there is still a lot of parleying going on among senators over the question as to whether a resolution should be introduced, asking President Wilson to return the treaty of peace to the senate for further consideration. While a good many senators would like to see such a resolution presented, it does not seem likely that any step in that direction will be taken immediately, if ever.

TROOPS ALONG RHINE UNDER U. S. CONTROL

function of the American forces will be as outlined.

Rhineland Commission.

"Upon the ratification of the treaty of peace by the allied powers, an interallied Rhineland high commission was organized in the manner set forth in a message from the President of the United States to the senate, containing the agreement between the allied and associated powers and Germany with regard to the military occupation of the territories of the Rhine.

"This commission having been organized and having formulated ordinances for the zone occupation, the question arose as to whether these ordinances should govern in the American sector, and the representatives of the state department and the commanding general of the American forces in Germany were instructed as follows:

"This government can not admit jurisdiction of that commission over portions of Rhinish provinces occupied by the American forces. Consequently, neither you (representative of the state department) nor General Allen should issue any ordinances which conflict with or exceed the terms of the armistice, which the department (of state) regards as continuing in force as to the United States.

Permitted to Sit Informally.

"You should, however, maintain the closest touch with the high commission and endeavor in so far as possible to conform administrative regime within territory occupied by American forces to regime adopted by high commission for other portions of occupied territory. There is no objection to your sitting informally with high commission provided you are requested to do so, nor of continuing your activities, as well as those of your staff, in connection with special committee to handle distribution of coal, etc. Ordinances, orders, regulations, etc., relating to financial and economic matters, including those similar to one adopted by high commission, which it is desired to put into force in territory occupied by American forces, should be issued by General Allen as commanding general of American forces in Germany, but only after having first been approved by you. In general, endeavor to cooperate fully with high commission and avoid all friction with that body, while at the same time make it perfectly clear that you are still operating under the armistice as before January 10 and are in no way bound by the terms of the Rhineland agreement or the memorandum of June 13, 1919, defining the relations between the military authorities and the high commission.

Foch Without Authority.

"Replying specifically to the remaining question in the resolutions of the house of representatives, I will state that Field Marshal Ferdinand Foch has no authority over the United States troops in German territory, nor can any one direct their activities without express orders from the President of the United States.

"It should be stated further that under his general police powers, under the terms of the armistice, General Allen has full authority to utilize his troops for the police of the occupied district, the preservation of order, and to repel any attack which may be made upon him."

CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED

The new church building of the West Side Church of the Nazarene, at King avenue and West Eleventh street, will be dedicated on Sunday, April 11, at 2 p. m. The church was opened several weeks ago and revival services are now in progress in the charge of the Rev. R. W. Chatfield. The Rev. E. O. Chalfant is pastor. The dedicatory exercises will be in the charge of Dr. J. W. Goodwin, of Pasadena, Cal., general superintendent of the Nazarene church. The Aeolian Quartet from Chicago will sing. Dr. J. E. L. Moore, president of Olivet University, will be present. Luncheon will be served in the basement of the church on that day.

same time vote for candidates for delegate to the state convention who are for Wood."

In Interest of Wood.

After a conference between H. A. Barnard and Miss Eleanor Barker, it was announced that Miss Barker will undertake to stimulate the interest of the women of Indiana in the proposed nomination of Herbert Hoover for President of the United States. An Indiana advisory Hoover committee is to be formed, Mr. Barnard says, and the committee, after consulting with the national managers of the Hoover candidacy, will decide whether Indiana Hoover headquarters shall be opened.

Senator Harding, of Ohio, will speak at a Sixth district rally to be held in Richmond April 20. He will spend April 7, 8 and 9 in a tour of Indiana. The other candidates for the Republican nomination for President have been invited to speak at the rally at Richmond and some of them may accept.

JOHNSON FLOUTS HOOVER.

Says He Meant Californian in Referring to Veering Opponent.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Senator Johnson, of California, at a political rally in Carnegie hall today, said that one of his opponents for the Republican presidential nomination "veered with the winds on certain questions." After the rally he told reporters he referred to Herbert Hoover. In his speech the senator said he held in utter contempt certain persons who were first on one side of the league of nations and then on the other.

"These," he said, "run with the hares and hunt with the hounds."

He declared that some newspapers in the United States did not function as a free press, since they were controlled by certain influences which made it impossible for them to do so.

Discussing the right of free assemblage, he said it was unwise to curb any minority acting within the law, because the minority of today might become the majority of tomorrow.

While he despised a profiteer, he said, he likewise held in contempt "the patrioteer who is hiding behind the American flag."

Urging that the New York state primary law be amended, he called it "a disgrace to the great empire state."

Senator Johnson said he would leave shortly after midnight for Detroit, where he will speak tomorrow evening. He will return to speak in Newark, N. J., Monday night, and spend the first four days of next week campaigning in New Jersey, where preferential presidential primaries are held April 27.

SCHEDEL TO BE DEPORTED

Ft. Wayne Man Is Told to Prepare for Trip—Others Await Orders.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

FT. WAYNE, Ind., April 1.—John Schedel, of this city, who was caught in the federal roundup of alleged Reds here early in January, and who was subsequently released on bond, has been ordered by the department of immigration to prepare himself for deportation from the United States. The order came direct to Schedel and his bondsmen from immigrtaion officials.

Schedel will have three or four weeks to complete arrangements for departure and to plan for members of his family, who will not accompany him across the seas.

Art Richter, Albert Walter and Julius R. Manniger, three others arrested here with Schedel, have as yet received no orders from the immigration officials, although each of them has been recommended for deportation.

KIWANIS "FLANNER DAY."

Members of Club Send Letters to Hospital to F. B. Flanner.

The Kiwanis Club today celebrated what was officially declared as "Flanner day," when every member sent a cheering letter to Frank B. Flanner, a member of the club, who is ill at the Methodist Hospital.

At the luncheon of the club at the Hotel Severin Wednesday Henry Dithmer introduced a resolution pledging every member to send a letter to Mr. Flanner. If the resolution was completely carried out something like 270 letters of greeting will besiege the hospital patient. "One of the club's innovations in the way of spreading sunshine," explained Mr. Dithmer.

In a talk on United States trade relations abroad, Captain E. H. Lougher declared that "we built the German navy and sustained the German army by profits paid on German-made goods for years before the war." Captain Lougher expects to see the day when the label "Made in America" may be found in every part of the world.

OPERATE ON BROKEN NECK

Surgeons Act to Save Life of Tippecanoe County Farmer.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 1.—Larson Stingley, a farmer living at Clarks Hill, was the central figure in an interesting hospital experiment here today when doctors performed an unusual operation on him in the hope of saving his life, although his neck is broken. Fragments of broken vertebræ were removed.

Stingley was seriously injured in a runaway accident several months ago and has since been partly paralyzed. It was not discovered until recently that his neck was actually broken. The operation performed today was a last resort measure, as he was doomed to die unless relief was afforded. Dr. A. B. Coyner and Dr. A. C. Arnett were the surgeons.

BILL FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Senator New Favors Permanent Places in Civil Service List.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator New today offered an amendment to the pending legislative appropriation bill to transfer immediately to the permanent list of the civil service, without examination, all former soldiers, sailors and marines.

At present there are several thousand ex-service men on the government rolls as temporary civil service employes and the time will soon approach when these employes must either lose their positions or take difficult examinations for permanent places on the rolls.

The New amendment is advocated by the American Legion and especially by the employes affected.

BLOODHOUNDS ARE USED.

Robbers Trailed to Point Where Auto Was Parked.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

BEDFORD, Ind., April 1.—The Bedford bloodhounds were taken to Campbellsburg yesterday to be used in connection with the investigation of the robbery of Ed Hughs's general store. The thieves obtained much merchandise. It is believed that they made their escape in an automobile. The dogs followed a trail to a point where, residents say, an automobile was parked early Tuesday morning.

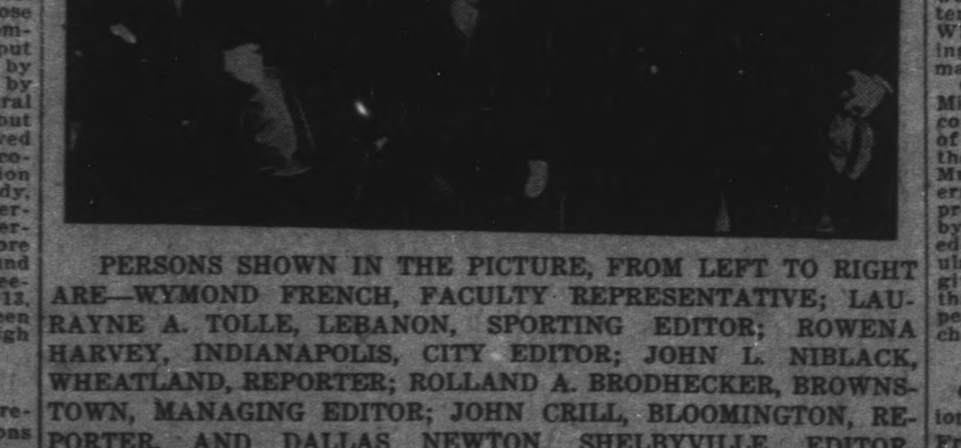

Ripley Officials Resign.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., April 1.—Frank L. Wildman has resigned as sheriff of Ripley county and Thomas A. Harper, deputy sheriff, has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of office. Mr. Wildman and his family will move to Indianapolis, where he will engage in the grocery and meat business.

Dr. Charles A. Murray has resigned as coroner and the board of county commissioners has appointed Dr. Martin M. Shaw, Jr., a veterinary surgeon of Holton, to serve the unexpired term.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 1.—When printers walk out a newspaper, whatever its size or status, sometimes stops business. This was the quandary in which the editorial force of the Indiana Daily Student, Indiana University's students newspaper, found itself recently.

But the students would not give up. Instead the editorial force, from the editor-in-chief to the cub reporter, went to work in the composing room. The managing editor set type on the Linotype machine; the faculty representative was the composing room foreman, and the editor-in-chief "took proof." The city editor, meanwhile, read columns of copy and managed the editorial department.

The result was that, notwithstanding a shortage in printers which extended for more than two weeks, student readers had their daily paper on time.

JAIL COOK TELLS OF REVOLTING FOOD

county will follow the disclosures in federal court, but it was believed that an investigation by the county grand jury will be opened. Mr. Adams said he had no statement to make until all the facts are presented to the county officials.

It is believed by many persons at the Courthouse that the bringing of charges against the alleged offenders at the jail will rest with the county officials, rather than the federal authorities, and the punishment of any of the alleged offenders, who might be found guilty of the charges brought in the prisoners' complaints, will be fixed in the county courts.

The county investigation, which is expected to be made, probably will cover the activities not only of the jailers and guards at the County Jail, but the actions of Robert F. Miller, sheriff. It is understood efforts will be made to determine whether or not Miller had knowledge of the conditions at the jail, if conditions were as the federal prisoners have described.

The question has been raised of the lack of any unfavorable report on conditions at the jail by the Marion county board of charities and correction.

Inspection Three Weeks Ago.

Mrs. Joseph B. Kealing, chairman of this board, and Rabbi M. M. Feuerlicht, a member of the board, said today that the board had made a visit of inspection at the jail about three weeks ago.

"We found the jail cleaner than on any previous visit," Mrs. Kealing said. "The bedding was clean, and the food was fairly reasonable."

Mrs. Kealing said the board's visit to the jail three weesk ago was the first visit made during the time Mr. Miller has been sheriff. She said the board was disorganized for many months because of the illness of a former member, and the absence from the city of another member. For this reason, she said, the board was unable to carry out the statutory provision that the board make quarterly inspections of the jail, and report on the conditions found.

Rabbi Feuerlicht said the board's investigation at the jail a few weeks ago was superficial.

In Jail at Meal Time.

"We were there more as guests than anything else, because of our lack of authority," he said. "We were in the jail at meal time on that occasion and we believed the food was not bad. It was not, however, the sort of food that we would wish to eat in our homes."

Two new members of the county board of charities were appointed by Judge Louis B. Ewbank, of circuit court, in February, and the board now is composed of six members, the specified number. Mrs. Kealing said that while the board had been inactive recently, it would be active in the future. Rabbi Feuerlicht said the visit to the jail three weeks ago was the first visit to that institution within two years. The other four members of the county board of charities are Mrs. Gertrude G. Ross, Mrs. Anna Davis, George Thornton and John R. Welch.

Hampton Changes Testimony.

Hampton, a cell boss, who testified Tuesday that he was well treated and that he had been in the office all night with George Douglas, a jailer, when it was supposed he was outside, and who said that he had seen Douglas refuse to take $5 offered him by Ota McKay for a "favor," changed his testimony today. He said he had not told the truth Tuesday because he feared that if he did so he would be put in the U. S. row, where he had been confined at one time and had lost thirty pounds.

Hampton testified today that he had been out of the jail on the night when he said he had stayed with the jailer and that Douglas, the jailer, had let him out. He said he was away about two hours and visited his wife. He testified that he advised McKay to give Douglas $5 for the "favor" Douglas had extended in letting McKay in after the latter had been outside. He said that McKay decided to give some money to Douglas but Hampton said that he did not see the transaction and so, as a matter of fact, did not know whether Douglas refused it or accepted it.

Says Meinert Got "Rake-off."

Puss Meinert, of Evansville, received part of the "rake-off" coming from the poker and rhum games played nightly by the prisoners according to Hampton. These games said by all prisoners to have netted a "rake-off" of from $12 to $15 a night which was handled by Meinert. Hampton testified that Meinert each night would give him a part of the "rake-off" and that he would place half of his receipts on the table at which Douglas would be seated in the office.

Hampton explained that what was known as the "U. S. row" is on the second floor and is comprised of single cells, while the big room, in which all desire to be, is on the third floor. In this latter place the men have opportunity to exercise and to talk, while in the "U. S. row" they are kept largely to themselves.

Cook Received Warning.

Referring to conditions in the kitchen, the court asked Nicolini whether any one from outside had ever made an inspection. Nicolini said that one time two or three women and two men came, but that he was told in advance so that he could clean the windows and "slick up the place generally."

This witness told also of buying butter for himself at $1.50 a pound. He told of the prisoners being required to contribute to the "toilet paper collection."

He was asked whether he knew about the poker games and the "rake-off," and he said he knew about the games, but did not know what a "rakeoff" was. He said there always was a man who watched every game and who "grabbed a nickel every once in a while and put it in his pocket."

Nathan J. Goldman, a former prisoner, testified that $10 had been paid to a cell boss to have a friend of Goldman's taken from the "U. S. row" to the big room. This witness said he had heard of many instances in which from $5 to $20 had been paid for the privilege of being in the big room. He said that Sheriff Miller had ordered that a package of food sent to Goldman by his wife be returned to Mrs. Goldman.

It has been indicated by the court that information obtained in this investigation will be presented to the federal grand jury should a grand jury investigation be deemed necessary. It was said Wednesday that Sheriff Miller had discharged Uncle Charley Whitesell and Adrian Van Cleave, jailers, who prisoners testified, had known of gambling by the prisoners in the jail. Mr. Miller would not say whether or not he intended to discharge any of his jailers. Whatever statements he made regarding the matter, he said, would be made before Judge Anderson.

Charles S. Wiltsie, counsel for Mr. Miller, did not indicate Tuesday what course would be pursued in defense of the methods used in conducting the affairs of the jail. He said that Mr. Miller desired to assist the government in learning what conditions prevailed at the jail. It was agreed by Mr. Wiltsie that testimony indicated gambling had been carried on regularly at the jail but no answer was given to a suggestion of the court that the jailers were either incompetent or corrupt and should be discharged.

Judge Collins Surprised.

Claris Adams, prosecutor for Marion county, was in conference with Frederick Van Nuys, United States district attorney, Wednesday. No information was obtained as to what was discussed at this conference. At a conference earlier in the day between Judge Anderson and Judge James A. Collins, of the Marion criminal court, the latter expressed surprise at the disclosures regarding the jail and said he intended to assist in correcting conditions. It is understood the information brought out in the federal inquiry was turned over to the county officials.

A representative of the federal officials was in the office of the county commissioners and the county auditor Wednesday going over claims of the sheriff for supplies.

Describes the "Hole."

According to Glenn Foresman, who has been employed as a waiter, the "hole" consists of a room about six feet by eight feet for which there is no light or ventilation. He said he had carried food to a man confined in the "hole" and that all the man received for each meal was a slice of bread and a cup of water. Foresman said this prisoner was in the "hole" five days without a bed or a chair. The witness said he remonstrated to Uncle Charley Whitesell and was told that if the man in the "hole" starved he "might have better sense."

Foresman also related the details of how Uncle Charley and Frank had handled an insane man by knocking him down and throwing cold water on him. The witness said the insane man was violent until he became so weak that he could not take food, and that when the jailers saw he could not stand up they washed him and his cell by turning on the hose. The insane man died two or three days later. Foresman said that when the man was first brought in he was so injured by the jailers that he was unable to drink water for fourteen days.

Sprayed With Formaldehyde.

Leslie L. Sanders, of Irvington, told of seing men beaten. He said one method of handling a prisoner was to put him in a cell and spray him with formaldehyde until he was "straightened out."

Witness after witness referred to Uncle Charles as being the one who beat the prisoners or otherwise abused them.

"I am beginning to see," said the court, "why they call him Uncle. I thought at first it was because he was such a kind old man."

Sanders said that on one occasion "a Mr. Brown of the board of state charities" came to visit the jail and that Sanders was instructed in advance to have things in good shape for the visit. The witness said that Mr. Brown asked whether there were any lice or bedbugs and whether the beds were all right and that he was shown around a little by Sanders, after which he left. The witness explained that he told Mr. Brown nothing except what he could not avoid telling.

"For instance," said Sanders, "I told him there weren't any lice and bedbugs in where I was, but I didn't say they were swarming in the other cells."

Visits Known in Advance.

All testimony of the prisoners concerning visits by members of the county board of charities or the board of state charities indicated that the visits were known in advance, and that little or no information was given concerning the food and other details of life in the jail. The district attorney read from the 1918 report of the board of state charities to show nothing was reported as to the actual conditions in the Marion County Jail.

Fred Wilson, a former employe of the jail, was expected to be present to testify for the government, but he did not appear. The district attorney said that Wilson had promised to be present. The court ordered that he be subpenaed to appear in court Friday, when the investigation will be resumed. Other witnesses will be heard then.

Charles S. Wiltsie, counsellor Mr. Miller, explained to the court that it was desired that the matter under investigation be taken up before the grand juries and, therefore he was not taking up the time of the court with cross-examinations. He said the investigation was a revelation, in many respects, to Mr. Miller as well as to the government.

WATCH JAIL DISCLOSURES.

Other Departments Interested—Miller Made $43,678.06 in 1919.

State departments are watching with interest the developments of the Marion county jail case in the federal court.

Governor Goodrich said a little more than a year ago he received an anonymous letter telling of alleged bad conditions in the Marion county jail. The letter complained particularly of alleged unfit and scant food, it was said. Having no power himself in the matter, he turned over the letter to the board of state charities.

Amos W. Butler, secretary of the board, said that J. A. Brown, supervisor of field service for the board, made an investigation of conditions and reported them February 19, 1919. The report is a public document in the state office. It states that J. A. Brown visited the jail, questioned officers and men of the jail and I am of the opinion that the food is sufficient for men living in idleness." The report describes sanitary conditions and concludes with the paragraph:

"The sheriff is taking an interest in the jail and says he wants to make it the best administered jail in the state."

Brown's Report Not Ready.

It is the custom for the field supervisor to inspect the jail about once a year, Mr. Butler said. Six weeks ago, or thereabouts, Mr. Brown again visited the jail, Mr. Butler said, but did not write a report, saying that he wished to go back there again before he completed the inspection. He now is out in the state inspecting other jails, and has not completed the Marion county jail inspection.

A representative of the federal department of justice called at the Statehouse today to investigate. Because the federal authorities are working on the case, Mr. Butler said he did not feel at liberty to disclose what the field supervisor observed at the jail when the recent inspection was made.

W. H. Glidewell and C. T. Blizzard, field examiners for the state board of accounts, examined the books of Sheriff Miller for 1919 and in a report filed with the board in February gave details of the finances of the office.

They reported that the sheriff had collected $1,033.15 too much from the county for the year, but that refunds effected by the examination straightened out the matter. The report shows that most of the sum was due to the sheriff retaining the so-called in-and-out fees, which the board holds belong to counties.

Sheriff Made $43,678.06.

The fees are allowed by an old law to a sheriff for entering a prisoner in the institution and for discharging a prisoner. The law allows 25 cents for each transaction. At the time the examination was made the right of a sheriff to such a fee for merely taking a prisoner out of jail to the court and back again was raised.

The report shows that Sheriff Miller in 1919 received a salary of $13,000 and fees which netted him a total of $42,678.06 for his services to the county for the year.

STOCKYARDS STRIKE ENDS

Men Said to Have Agreed to Submit to Arbitration.

[By the United Press]

CHICAGO, April 1.—A strike of live stock handlers at the Union stockyards here was declared off today, according to reports coming from a meeting of the union.

Federal Arbiter Samuel Alschuler was notified that the men would return to await arbitration of their demands for increased wages.

No live stock has been sold at the yards since the strike began Monday. Killing plants were idle. Armour & Co. reported [illegible] men idle today through lack of animals for slaughter. Other big packers were affected similarly.

Prices of meat rose with the shutting off of the raw product.

$5[illegible]0,000 CORPORATION FORMED TO SELL STOCK

Riley, George Rosenberg, Jesse A. Shearer and Frank C. Williams.

Property Rental Starts at $6,600.

The two pieces of property leased by the Washington Building Company, at Washington street and Senate avenue, have a combined frontage of 65½ feet in Washington street. The building is two stories, of brick construction. The first eighteen feet of the property off Senate avenue is owned by David M. Isgriff, and has been occupied by J. J. Roller, with a saloon and later a restaurant for the last twenty-five years. The remainder of the property to the west is owned by David Wild. The rental for the entire property starts at $6,600 a year, and gradually increases to $[illegible]000.

It is announced the property is acquired as an investment. The corner property, occupied by Mr. Roller, has been rented to the Hook Drug Company. It will be remodeled and the company is to occupy the property with a drug store before June 1.

The property acquired by the Realty Investment Company at Washington and Missouri streets is known as the Capitol hotel building. It is a four-story brick building and the property has a frontage of 100 feet on Washington street and a depth of 195 feet on Missouri street. A switch track runs the depth of the property on Missouri street. The lower floor is occupied by a number of stores and the upper floors are used as a rooming house.

Option to Buy.

It is announced that the property was acquired as an investment, and no immediate changes in tenants is contemplated. The property is owned by the heirs of Max Gundelfinger. The terms of the lease were not announced, except that the lessee has an option to buy within twenty years for $200,000. Mr. Morris said extensive improvements are planned of all the properties acquired by the leases.

The Washington Bank and Trust Company, the parent organization, was organized and established at 257 West Washington street, in 1912. The bank and trust company was taken over by the present organization in January, 1918. The institution has enjoyed a rapid growth since its reorganization in 1918.

CADETS, BASKETBALL TEAM, BAND IN INDIANA GROUP.

CELEBRATING CENTENNIAL

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 1.—College men in khaki, the Indiana University basketball team, the band, and a squad of decorated veterans of the world war, started on a trip through southern Indiana today to advertise the university's centennial celebration and to give the university reserve officers training corps a part in the recruiting campaign now being conducted by the United States army. Seven army motor trucks from Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., and two closed cars carried the party.

Many Events Planned.

Brownstown, Salem and West Baden are included in the itinerary, and it was expected that the residents of these towns would throw open the town doors for the party. Basketball, games, band concerts, dances, moving picture shows and receptions have been planned.

The tour is under the direction of Captain R. E. O'Brien, commandant of the Indiana R. O. T. C. Lieutenant Jones, of Camp Taylor, has charge of the recruiting, and Noble Butler, cadet major, commands a special detail of sixty R. O. T. C. cadets. The band of thirty-five pieces is directed by Archie Warner, band leader, and Eddie Brackett, of Indianapolis, university cheer leader. Bruce Demarcus, of Danville, and Russell Ashby, of Ladoga, compose an "all-star musical trio" which will furnish the music for the dances. Professor Stephenson, of the department of English, is taking moving pictures of interesting events on the trip.

The Itinerary.

The itinerary of the party is as follows:

Left Bloomington at 8:30 a. m. Thursday, April 1. Arrive Brownstown, 3:00 p. m. Band concert, Public square, 4 to 5. Basketball game between Indiana and team composed of former college players. Corner Washington and Delaware Streets

Imagine a jazz-party on a gondola! It seems impossible, but that is the only thing to think of when this "Venetian Moon" is being played. The saxophone, the xylophone and the piano do a wonderful job of joining the spirit of jazz with the langour of Venetian nights—and the slow, dreamy, floating melody that comes to mind when one thinks of Venice and gondolas and guitars. The fox-trot dance time never falters throughout. It makes a rare dance piece.

John Burroughs' Nature Notes

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. How does the killing instinct control a wildcat?
2. Does the chimney swallow often perch?
3. How was Mammoth cave formed?

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Do English sparrows deliberately hang one another?—Some people in town saw an English sparrow tangled up in a horsehair and suspended from a tree, with other sparrows fluttering and chattering about it. They concluded at once that the sparrows had executed one of their number, doubtless for some crime. I have several times seen sparrows suspended in this way about their nesting and roosting places. Accidents happen to birds as well as to other folks. But they do not yet imitate us in the matter of capital punishment.

2. How will hunger change the habits of wild creatures?—What the wild creatures shall do, where they shall live, what they shall eat, is determined, I repeat, by their organization. Acquired habit or experience modifies the natural course of their lives very little. The scarcity of their staple food may drive them to an unaccustomed diet, as when the crossbills from the north fell on the peach orchard in my neighborhood, one May, and cut out the germ of the peach blossoms. Hunger will drive a fox to eat corn, which he can not digest, or fear of the mongoose will drive rats to nest in trees.

2. Where do bluets grow?—We have one flower which grows in vast multitudes, yet which is exquisitely delicate and beautiful in and of itself; I mean the houstonia, or bluets. In May, in certain parts of the country, I see vast sheets of it; in old, low meadow bottoms that have never known the plow, it covers the ground like a dull bluish or purplish snow which has blown unevenly about. Its color is not strong and positive enough to be effective in the mass, yet each single flower is a gem of itself.

NEW ANTHRACITE SCALE NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED

LEWIS REPLACES MURRAY FOR MINE WORKERS.

SOFT COAL WAGE SIGNED

NEW YORK, April 1.—The new wage agreement of the bituminous mine workers disposed of, John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America today turned his attention to the negotiation of a new contract for the anthracite miners. He declared that steps would be taken to bring about a "satisfactory" adjustment in the hard coal industry without further delay.

When the subcommittee of anthracite operators and miners appointed to negotiate the new contract met, Mr. Lewis replaced Philip Murray, international vice-president. The latter, however, remained in the conference in an advisory capacity to Mr. Lewis.

The subcommittee took up a continuation of its discussion on the comparison on the wage earnings of the bituminous and anthracite coal diggers, the operators supplying additional data.

Official Agreement Goes Out.

Official copies of the bituminous wage agreement signed here by representatives of operators and miners of the central competitive states were being sent out to the various districts today. More than 400,000 mine workers will receive the 27 per cent. wage increase in the new contract which goes into effect today and continues for two years.

There will be no "noticeable" increase in production in the bituminous fields as a result of the signing of the new wage agreement, according to T. L. Lewis, secretary of the New River Coal Association, of West Virginia. He said it would be practically impossible to increase the output until the mine owners were assured an "adequate car supply."

There was an "enormous demand" for coal at the present time, Mr. Lewis added, declaring that there was "no possible chance" of the operators meeting it. He estimated the demand was 10 per cent. greater than the output. Because of the car shortage the mines could operate only from 50 to 60 per cent. of the time, he said.

Embodies Commission Award.

The contract for bituminous coal miners embodied the award of President Wilson's coal commission.

Wage increases totaling approximately $200,000,000 annually are granted, affecting about 400,000 soft coal diggers.

One of the features of the new contract is a clause which provides that all internal differences in the various districts of the bituminous coal fields will be settled by the district officers of the mine workers and operators. There must be nothing done, however, in adjusting these matters that will increase the cost of production or decrease the earning capacity of the mine workers.

The new agreement also "condemns" the bonus system now used by operators in competing with each other for employes. The contract provides that all agreements in the various districts should contain a "penalty" clause for any "stoppage of work," or unauthorized strikes. The international officers of the United Mine Workers also agree to make the agreement binding in every detail.

Eight-Hour Day Kept

The eight-hour day, as now in effect in the soft coal regions, is continued by the new agreement.

Immediately on adoption by unanimous vote of the members of the scale committee, it was signed by the international officers of the United Mine Workers, John L. Lewis, president; Philip Murray, vice-president and William Green, secretary and treasurer, and by two operators and two miners of each of the four states of the central competitive field—Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Representatives of the mine operators of West Virginia, Kentucky and other outlying districts not included in the central field, announced that they also would put into effect the new contract in their territory.

Representatives of the miners produced statistics to show the increase in the price of coal to the consumer was "unwarranted." They declared that present prices were "no reflection of what the miners received in increases," as the total increase to the men since 1913 was but 47 cents a ton, while the "increase in the cost of coal averages from $1.11 before the war, to $2.70."

Boosted Prices Accordingly.

Mine workers asserted that, although Fuel Administrator Garfield declared the operators could absorb the 14 per cent. he awarded the miners without increasing the price of coal to the consumer, the mine owners had boosted their prices accordingly.

"Now we contend," said a miner-statistician, "that the operators can absorb the 12 per cent. additional increase without placing a further burden on the public."

T. L. Lewis, secretary of the New River Coal Operators' Association of West Virginia, declared today that the operators were "justified" in increasing prices because of the increase in wages, cost of equipment and overhead expenditures. The operators, according to Mr. Lewis, are attempting to keep prices from "running away" and prevent "speculators" from invading the coal market.

Wage clauses in the agreement covering the various districts of the central competitive field follow:

New Wage Clauses Adopted.

"The pick mining rate in the thin vein district of western Pennsylvania shall be $1.1164 a ton, and in the eastern Ohio, Hocking, Cambridge and Amsterdam-Bergholz districts of Ohio the mining rate shall be $1.1164, and throughout the balance of Ohio the pick mining rate shall be advanced 24 cents a ton upon the pick mining rate in effect October 31, 1919; in the bituminous district of Indiana, $1.08 a ton, and Danville district of Illinois, $1.08 a ton.

"Machine mining in the thin vein district of western Pennsylvania, 94 cents a ton; in Ohio, 94 cents a ton; in the bituminous district of Indiana, chain machine mining, 86 cents a ton, and punching machines, 98 cents a ton; in the Danville district of Illinois, 98 cents a ton.

"That all day labor and monthly men (the advance to monthly men to be based on an average of the usual number of days he is required to work in a month), except trapper and other boys, be advanced $1 a day. Trappers and boys receiving less than men's wages to be advanced 53 cents a day.

"Dead work, yardage and room turning is advanced 20 per cent. on the prices being paid October 31, 1919."

Coal Orders Turned Down.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MUNCIE, Ind., April 1.—Because of uncertainty as to what prices at the mines will be, local coal dealers are refusing to take orders for future delivery. Thus the practice of domestic consumers to begin ordering coal April 1 to be placed in their cellars for next winter's use has been discontinued temporarily.

NINE YEARS ON THE WAY

A postcard mailed at Terre Haute, June 29, 1911, to Miss Viola Ellis, 453 North Arsenal avenue, was delivered to Miss Ellis, now Mrs. J. E. Craven, 1638 Park avenue, Monday. The card was written by Mrs. Elizabeth George, an aunt of Mrs. Cravens, while she was visiting at Terre Haute. It bears a postmark showing that it was left in the Terre Haute office at 1 p. m., June 29, 1911, and was received at the local postoffice March 28, 1920, at 9 p. m. Mrs. Cravens is the daughter of William T. Ellis, 1638 Park avenue.

Charles Byfield, assistant postmaster at the local office, said he had no idea where the card could have been since it was mailed unless it had been delivered to the wrong address in Indianapolis and held a long time before being remailed.

$25 More for Mrs. Stringer

The benefit fund for Mrs. Lee Stringer and children was increased $25 today by a check received by The News from William H. Avant, 6 the Marydan. The fund now amounts to $92.50. The fund was opened for the relief of the widow and children of Lee Stringer, detective, who was killed by one of a gang of colored men who were stealing coal from a car in the railroad yards. Detectives and police of the city police department have started a movement to raise a fund for Mrs. Stringer. Chauncey Manning, a personal friend and running mate of Stringer, has charge of the movement.

Officers of the association were elected as follows: Mr. Odell, president; Alfred Ogle, Terre Haute, vice-president; Louis Bieler, secretary. MUNCIE REMOVAL CASE DEMURRERS SUSTAINED JUDGE HOLDS SUIT IS FOR SUPREME COURT.

ILLEGAL FEES COMPLAINT

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MUNCIE, Ind., April 1.—Demurrers to the suit for injunctive relief, which also includes a request for the removal from office of Clarence E. Benadum, prosecuting attorney; Thomas Hiatt, sheriff, and Timothy Owen, justice of the peace, were sustained yesterday afternoon by James S. Engle, of Winchester, acting special judge in the Delaware circuit court.

Ben McBridge and others filed the complaint recently allegeding that they were arrested in a raid on a house, after which they were called to the court of Owen, where illegal fees were charged. The effect of Judge Engle's ruling to the complaint is to throw out of court the case as it affects Benadum and to instruct Benadum to proceed as prosecuting attorney against the sheriff and Owen, if the complaint is properly refiled as against the two men. The judge held that complaints asking the removal of a state official should be filed in the name of the state in the state supreme court.

Judge Engle set the time for the filing of an amended complaint and it is expected here that Benadum's name will be stricken from the paper and that it will be refiled as to Hiatt and Owen.

RUHR DISTRICT AGREEMENT

Dusseldorf Reports Amnesty Is to Be Granted.

DUSSELDORF, April 1 (by the Associated Press).—An agreement was reached at Muenster last night on a compromise arrangement for settling the troubles in the Ruhr district, according to the editor of the Moderate Labor newspaper in this city.

The reported compromise extends the time for acceptance of the Bielefeld agreement, with an added clause providing for amnesty for those concerned in the Ruhr uprising, until noon tomorrow. The executive committee of the workingmen here have not been informed of the action said to have been taken at Muenster, however, and its meeting to discuss the expected terms of the agreement was postponed.

According to the Muenster report the Bielefeld agreement is to be carried out in its entirety, with the change regarding amnesty, provided the required action is taken by the workingmen by noon Friday.

SELECTING STATE ROADS.

Governor and State Highway Commission on Inspection Tour.

Governor Goodrich and the state highway commission left today on a tour of a number of roads under consideration for places in the state highway system the commission is about to designate.

One of the problems to be solved is the selection of a route between Martinsville and Indianapolis. The Bluff road, the Mooresville road and the route from Martinsville through Plainfield are under consideration.

It is expected that announcement of the roads to constitute the state system will be made Friday or Saturday.

"MOUNTAIN VISION" TOPIC

The Rev. E. L. Powell Speaks at Holy Week Meeting.

"There can be no transfiguration or enthronement without the suffering experience of the cross," said the Rev. E. L. Powell, of Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, at the third meeting of the series of five being held at Keith's theater this week under the auspices of the Indianapolis Church Federation in observance of Holy week preceding Easter. Mr. Powell spoke on "A Mountain Vision."

In speaking of the league of nations he said. "The greatest criminal offense of any nation is the refusal of the United States senate to ratify the league of nations. The United States may obtain a mountain vision by ratifying the peace treaty and becoming a member of the league of nations.

The crowds attending the noonday meetings are increasing each day. The song service preceding the sermon is one of the interesting features, the quartet of the Y. M. C. A. sang Wednesday.

DISCUSSES CITY VICTORY.

Dr. Keene Tells Real Estate Men About Washington Meeting.

Dr. T. Victor Keene, Indiana representative on the national executive committee of the American Legion, who returnd Tuesday from a meeting of the committee in Washington, in a discussion before the Indianapolis Real Estate Board Wednesday, told how the movement in Washington to remove the national headquarters of the Legion from Indianapolis to Washington was defeated. He said the question never was brought up in the committee meeting, and that the representatives of Michigan, as well as the reresentatives from the other states that supported Indiana at Minneapolis, supported Indiana at this meeting, as did several others that did not support Indiana at the national convention. Dr. Keene said that most of the efforts made by Washington men fell of their own weight.

In discussing the beneficial legislation now before congress, Dr. Keene said that it will mean the purchase of about 2,400 homes by former service men in Indianapolis.

The entertainment committee of the Real Estate Board announced that a smoker will be held Wednesday, April 7, at 8 p. m.

INTERMEDDLED, HE SAYS.

Administrator of Dyer Estate Sues Mrs. Anna C. Dyer.

Charging that Mrs. Anna C. Dyer "intermeddled" in the affairs of the estate of her husband, George Dyer, and interfered with the administration of the estate, Philip Wilkinson, administrator of the estate, has filed suit in probate court, asking that Mrs. Dyer be enjoined from selling or transferring any of the personal property of the estate. He asks, also, a judgment for $20,300 against Mrs. Dyer, alleging that she has taken possession of personal property valued at that sum, from the estate, and has refused to deliver it to the administrator who is attempting to settle the estate.

Mrs. Dyer, when informed of the filing of the suit, said she had taken possession of none of the property from the estate, except her own personal property. She said she knew of no reason why this property should have been delivered to the administrator.

QUITS RACE FOR AUDITOR.

eymour Mayor Believes He is Not Eligible to Hold the Office.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SEYMOUR, Ind., April 1.—C. W. Burkhart, mayor of Seymour, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for auditor of Jackson countl, today announced that he had withdrawn from the race. He explained his action by asserting that he is prohibited by the Indiana Constitution from accepting the office in case of his nomination and election. He has made an aggressive campaign for the nomination during the last three months.

The provision in the Constitution, which Mr. Burkart believes disqualifies him for the office, follows:

"No person elected to a judicial office shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be eligible to any office or profit under the state other than a judicial office."

The Indiana supreme court has held that "mayors of cities of Indiana are judicial officers."

Mr. Burkart was elected mayor for a term of four years, beginning January 1, 1913, and ending January 1, 1922. The auditor's term in this county expires December 31, this year, before the expiration of the mayor's term.

Cabbage

[Natural Garden Bureau]

Cabbage needs a deep, rich soil and one that holds considerable moisture. There is a great deal of water in the composition of a good head of cabbage, so it is not wise to plant them in the dryest parts of the garden. They will answer fast if the hoe is kept busy in their vicinity. As the cabbages need plenty of room to develop, it is usual to grow a companion crop, particularly with the early varieties. Radishes, lettuce or some of the spring vegetables out of the way early, may be grown in the same row and be out of the way of the cabbages before they reach dimensions sufficient to be crowded.

In transplanting cabbage, many gardeners recommend planting the seedlings deeply, in fact, down to the first pair of true leaves. This, they insist, makes them much more certain to head.

While cabbages like plenty of water, they will not stand a sour soil. They need good drainage. Soil of heavy texture is best, as on light, sandy soils it often fails to make solid heads.

There isn't any vegetable that is a heavier feeder than the cabbage and the cauliflower, their culture being the same. Plenty of manure is necessary and it is a good plan to give manure in the fall and then a fresh dressing in the spring.

Two feet apart each way is about the right distance for early cabbage. They will need all of that space if they function as they should. This gives plenty of room for companion crops. The Wakefield and All Seasons varieties are much planted for early crops. There are many varieties offered by seedmen, earliness and solid heading being the features to be considered in selecting varieties.

CRITICISES PRESENT MODE

Mt. Holyoke Dean Comments on Dressing and Dancing.

SOUTH HADLEY, Mass., April 1.—Mothers of girls should take a stand against the present modes of dress and dancing, according to Miss Florence Purington, dean of Mt. Holyoke College at South Hadley, Mass., which is raising $3,000,000 for an endowment fund.

"Filmy dresses with necks so low that they might better be called 'undress,' are a detriment to morals," Miss Purington declared. "The college alone can not wage a battle against them, for the influences that actuate the wearing of them come from outside the college. The girl goes home during college recesses and sees a gown that appeals to her. She copies it and brings it back to the college to influence the selection of others by her classmates.

"The same is true of dancing. There is always a small group that runs to extremes. The 'turkey trot' and 'tango' have disappeared, but some of the dances at present in vogue are only a little less objectionable.

"It is in the home that the warning should be given. If every mother would advise her daughter on these subjects objectionable dress and dancing would be eliminated."

Indianapolis

There are twenty-two cities in America larger than Indianapolis, but ten of them do not sell as much merchandise at retail. In many ways Indianapolis is the most desirable city in America, most fortunately located, the center of population, the center of manufacturing in America, unequaled transportation, remarkable in the variety of industries.

We have at least one store that is different from any stores in other cities. The other large cities have mail order houses, but none of them have established and maintained a store for the accommodation of their home people. The Hurst store at Penna. and Ga. streets is in many ways different from any other store in Indianapolis or in any other large city. It is owned and operated by the same management that owns and operates Indiana's Mail Order House, which is rapidly growing into one of the biggest industries in this city and is already shipping merchandise to almost every state in the Union.

Hurst & Company have recently remodeled the upper floors of their big building at Penna. and Ga. streets and have added hundreds of feet more of shelving, show cases and counters. The dry goods department, located on third floor, had outgrown its space, so the electrical department and the gents' furnishings department have been removed to the newly remodeled fourth floor, thus giving needed room for the dry goods department to still further expand on the third floor.

Many people in this city and vicinity perhaps do not yet know that within the last year we have established one of the largest and most complete shoe departments in this city, where every member of the family can be supplied with just as good high grade shoes as can be bought anywhere else, and at a considerably less price.

Our old customers know they are always welcome and need no second invitation. All who have never visited us are hereby cordially invited to do so at once. The high quality of our merchandise and the big saving in price is sure to please you. We have other complete departments of hardware, paint, furniture, auto accessories, groceries, garden tools, implements, harness, etc. You do not have to watch for special sales at the Hurst Store. Our regular every day prices are considerably less than you will find elsewhere on the same quality of merchandise in any of our many departments.

We repeat that all who have never traded with us are cordially invited to visit us and learn for themselves if this is not the best place in the city for them to trade, and all our old customers already know that they are thrice welcome, but we especially invite you in the last two days of this week to see if you do not think we have greatly improved, not only the looks of our store, but that we have also made it more pleasant and convenient for you to shop.

No member of the family should buy their Easter shoes until you have visited our big shoe department and learned of the Hurst quality and the Hurst prices on all kinds of footwear.

Resolve now to visit this big department store tomorrow. The only big department store in this city owned and operated by a mail order house for the convenience of its home customers. You will be surprised and pleased how easy it is to shop in this big store and also at the big saving in price.

Cordially yours,

Hurst & Co.

ASKS COURT TO UPHOLD THE SCIENTIST MANUAL

DECREE SOUGHT FAVORING PUBLISHING SOCIETY.

INTEGRAL PART OF CHURCH

BOSTON, April 1.—A bill in equity has been filed in the Massachusetts supreme court by Mrs. Daisy Lovering Krauthoff and Edwin A. Krauthoff, as members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, petitioning the court to decree the Christian Science Publishing Society an integral part of the mother church and to uphold the church manual, the system of government of the mother church as established by Mary Baker G. Eddy and the activities thereof founded by her.

The bill further petitions that the case be heard in connection with that of the trustees of the publishing society against the directors of the mother church, that no decree be entered in the latter suit on the question of continuing the recent finding of Judge Dodge as master in favor of the trustees until this suit has been heard and that the decrees then be entered concurrently.

State Official Defendant.

Among the defendants, which include the church itself, the directors of the church, the trustees of the publishing society and several officers and former officers of the church, is J. Weston Allen, attorney-general of Massachusetts. It was explained that he was named in the expectation that the findings of Judge Dodge as master in the suit of the trustees of the publishing society against the directors of the mother church might be confirmed.

In this event, it was said, the attorney-general might feel it incumbent on himself to ask the courts to declare the funds set up by Mrs. Eddy a public charity and to request the appointment of public trustees to administer them, inasmuch as the master foundation of the church was not logically incorporated and was therefore a voluntary religious association with its directors possessing no administrative powers under the laws of Massachusetts.

"I have been consulted by counsel for several of the parties interested in the suit now before the courts," Mr. Allen said today, "with a view to having me take action on behalf of the commonwealth. I am considering whether to intervene in the present suit or to institute separate proceedings."

President of Democratic Organization at Indiana

KENNETH V. HUGHES.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 1.—Democrats at Indiana University have perfected a political organization which is just getting under way for work in advance of the May primaries. The organization, which is known as the Jackson Club, has a membership of about 400 students.

A series of political meetings, at which prominent Democrats of the state will be guests and speakers, is being planned. A large crowd attended the opening meeting of the club several weeks ago.

Kenneth V. Hughes, of Alexandria, is president of the Jackson Club, and he predicts a heavy vote by Democratic students in the primaries.

LEGAL EXISTENCE BEGINS.

Indiana Bell Telephone Company Becomes Operative.

The Indiana Bell Telephone Company today began its official existence. It is the Indiana corporation holding the Bell properties, most of which formerly were known as Central Union Telephone Company holdings. Merged in the new company are the Indianapolis Telephone Company, which just has been acquired, the Southern Telephone Company of Indiana, the United Telephone Company and the Indiana Union Telephone Company.

The formation of the new corporation required the payment of a $20,000 fee based on 15 cents on each $100 of securities for $20,000,000 of securities. The fee is the largest ever collected by the public service commission, which authorized the issuance of the securities. Last year the total of all regular fees collected by the commission was $24,851.

Frank Wampler, superintendent in Indiana of the Central Union and an official in some of the other allied companies, now is vice president of the new company.

ARMY RETAIL STORES FOR DISTRICT CLOSED

JEFFERSONVILLE ONLY ONE NOW OPEN.

LOT SALE BY BID MONDAY

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 1.—All the retail stores of the army quartermaster's department in the Jeffersonville retail district have now been closed except the store at Jeffersonville, which is still open, although comparatively little is being sold directly to the public. Shoe sales came to an end here after 125,000 pairs of reclaimed shoes had been sold. Many brought $2.50 and $3 a pair, before the price was cut to $1.50. All had new soles and heels.

Sales of articles on hand are being made through municipalities in a number of cases. Underclothing, certain articles of groceries, some hardware, and miscellaneous supplies are still on hand, but the big sellers are exhausted.

Next Monday the salvage department of the depot will conduct a sale by bid of condemned used supplies divided in 144 lots and including tents, tarpaulins, wagon parts, harness, field equipment, household articles and miscellaneous supplies.

Shelby County Exceeds Quota.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Shelbyville and Shelby county school children have exceeded the quota assigned this county for the building of a memorial monument on the battlefield of the Marne, the monument to be given to France by the school children of America. The quota for the county was $67. A total of $100.75 has been subscribed. William Everson, superintendent of the Shelby county schools, was the chairman of the committee in charge of raising the money.

SUPREME COURT

Abstracts of Opinions Announced March 31, 1920

MASTER AND SERVANT—WHO SERVANT.

23753. (9619) Standard Oil Company v. Joshua Allen, administrator, Wayne C. C. Appellant's petition to transfer from Appellate court is sustained, and judgment reversed. Lairy, J.

(1) This case, as decided in the Appellate court can be found in 121 N. E. 329 and 122 N. E. 893. It is an action by the appellee to recover damages against the appellant for alleged negligence to its alleged servant, the appellee's decedent, in the matter of vapors in a gasoline tank and other working conditions. The Supreme court reviews the answers to interrogatories and holds that they do not overcome the general verdict as showing that the decedent was not the servant of the appellant. The court then reviews the evidence more favorable to the appellee and holds that it shows that the decedent was working for a boiler maker who sent the decedent and decedent's foreman to do the work of repairing a gasoline tank, and that the appellant did not in any manner attempt to direct the manner of the performance of the work to make it in any way the directing power and responsible for the working conditions. It distinguishes the cases where the one having the work done in any way directs the method of doing the work, and holds that the rules laid down in those cases have no application in this case where the appellant merely requested results and left the method of reaching results to the one employed to do the work.

CRIMINAL LAW—APPEALS.

23606. John McCrocklin vs. State of Indiana. Vigo C. C. Affirmed. Willoughby, J.

The court recites the numerous things omitted and improperly stated in the brief for appellant, and holds that under the rules no question is presented for decision.

Appellate Court.

CITIES—NEGLIGENCE—GOVERNMENTAL DUTIES.

10097. William A. Mayne et al. vs. John C. Curtis, receiver, et al. Huntington C. C. Affirmed, McMahan, J.

The appellants sued the appellee receiver and the city of Huntington for alleged negligence. It is shown that the receiver's railroad maintained its tracks upon a street of the city, and that the appellants' grocery store was in line with the end of the track, and it is alleged that the city was negligent in failing to require the railroad to maintain a bump post at the end of the track, and as a consequence an engine running wild ran down to the end and off the end of the track and into their store. The trial court sustained a demurrer to the complaint, and this is assigned as error. The court holds that any duty of the city to require the railroad to maintain its road and bump post to prevent injury to appellants, was a governmental duty, for the failure of which no action for damages will lie. The court reviews the cases and holds that none but Kushman, M. W., vs. City of Lincoln, 97 Neb., 519, 150 N. W. 821, is in point, and holds that the dissenting judges in that case were right and not the opinion of the court. The subject and the authorities are reviewed.

CONFESSION OF ERROR.

10717. The Security Fire Insurance Company vs. Joseph Taylor. Pike C. C. On appellee's confession of error judgment is reversed. Per curiam.

APPEAL DISMISSED—DEFECTIVE NOTICE.

10654. Frances B. O'Connell et al. vs. Louisville & Southern Indiana Traction Company et al. Clark C. C. Appeal dismissed. Per curiam.

On the authority of Antioch, etc., Church vs. Morton, 52 App. 546, the appeal is dismissed.

CANDIDATE DISCUSSES STATE CHARITIES WORK

FESLER THINKS INSTITUTIONS SHOULD BE ENLARGED.

SPEAKS AT LOGANSPORT

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 1.—State issues, among which were views on the proper administration of state charities, were fully discussed by J. W. Fesler, of Indianapolis, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of Indiana, at a meeting here last night at the Nelson theater. Alfred Hogston, of Marion, a state senator, also spoke. Republican delegations from Peru, Marion, Huntington and Wabash attended.

Mr. Fesler gave his views concerning revision of the state tax law, which he believes is sound in principle, and advocated a state budget committee, better attention to educational interests, good roads, woman suffrage, a memorial to the war veterans and the maintenance of the supremacy of law and order.

State Charities Important.

"The state government has no more important duty than the administration of the state charities," said Mr. Fesler. "The benevolent institutions alone have a total enrollment of 9,600, and the correctional institutions 3,800, making a total of 12,800 unfortunate persons under state care and requiring an annual expenditure of more than $2,000,000. And I am informed that all in need of the state's care are not yet provided for.

"The proper care of so many defective and delinquent persons is a stupendous task and every citizen of the state should take pride in Indiana's splendid record in her effort to discharge this duty; a duty owing not only to the state's unfortunate but a duty of even greater importance to the coming generation. It is not sufficient to provide simply good treatment and good care for these unfortunates. We should go farther and determine by scientific research and investigation the causes which produce the mental defectives and delinquents and apply the proper remedies for the prevention of such conditions.

Party Politics Taboo.

"Full sympathy and accord is due the Indiana board of state charities, the Indiana committee on mental defectives, the heads of the state institutions and all other agencies engaged in this laudable but difficult task. They should be encouraged and assisted, both as a matter of humanity and as a matter of public economy.

"It goes without saying that the welfare of our state institutions can not be served and full duty to the unfortunates intrusted to their care be fully discharged unless party politics is kept out of their management. All parties and all good citizens are agreed upon this principle, and we should continue to observe it and apply it in letter and spirit. Merit alone should determine the tenure in this service.

"The number of men and women fitted by temperament and training for this special duty is not large and for that reason the service should be made inviting by adequate pay, good living conditions and opportunities for promotion. Otherwise our people best equipped are attracted by other states and into other activities, to our great loss. Indiana can afford to pay for the best service available for its unfortunates.

"The records show that the five hospitals for the insane are crowded to full capacity, and I am reliably informed that there are seven or eight hundred mentally diseased persons in need, but without hospital care. Some of these unfortunates are confined in county jails. Definite steps should be taken, without delay, to provide for these cases by enlargement of the existing institutions or some other means.

"No person suffering from mental disease should be committed to a county jail. A psychopathic hospital for intensive study of mental disease and early treatment of new cases has been recommended by experts as an important step in the direction of prevention. This plan commends itself to me, and I believe would soon result in great benefit to many of the state's unfortunates.

"The legislature of 1919 enacted a law authorizing three forward steps in the direction of prevention. This law provided for voluntary admission to the State Hospital without the stigma of legal commission, the establishment of free medical clinic in connection with the hospital for the insane and the establishment of a field service. This is a commendable law and all necessary means should be provided for carrying out its provisions."

LEONARD WOOD IS INVITED

Indiana Commandery to Hold Dinner Tuesday Evening.

General Leonard Wood has been invited to be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Indiana Commandery of the Military Order of Foreign Wars, Tuesday evening at the Hotel Severin.

In addition to the formal invitation to General Wood, Captain C. S. Tarleton, who served with the general in the Philippines, has written him a letter urging his attendance. Officers of the order hope that if General Wood is within reasonable traveling distance of Indianapolis he will attend the dinner. The organization is composed of officers who have served in any conflict with a foreign country. Since the last annual dinner of the order many officers have returned from the world war and the attendance is expected to be unusually large.

W. J. McKee is head of the Indiana commandery. Guy A. Boyle is chairman of the banquet committee.

New officers will be elected at a business meeting after the dinner.

NORTHINGTON LAUGHS AT SENTENCE FOR LIFE

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDERING CITY POLICE SERGEANT.

FIFTEEN BALLOTS BY JURY

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Upshaw (Big Boy) Northington, an Indianapolis negro, charged with the murder of Wade Hull, a sergeant of the Indianapolis police force, was found guilty of second degree murder, and his punishment fixed at life imprisonment by a jury in the Shelby circuit court Wednesday night. The jury reported an agreement at 10:45 o'clock after deliberating eight and one-half hours.

Calls "So Long, Bill."

After the verdict had been read by the court and members of the jury were filing from the room, Northington laughed at them and called "So long, Bill." Local attorneys for the defense asked for time to confer with Indianapolis attorneys in the case before court pronounced sentence.

Fifteen ballots were taken by the jury in reaching an agreement. On the first ballot two voted for a verdict of first degree murder, two for manslaughter, and eight for second degree murder. Those voting for conviction for murder in the first degree quickly joined with the eight voting for conviction for second degree murder, while the two favoring the manslaughter sentence held out until the last ballot.

Gives List of Crimes.

The closing argument by Claris Adams, Marion county prosecuting attorney, in which he recited a long list of crimes by Indianapolis negroes, is believed to have had an effect on the jury. Northington will be taken to the Indiana State Prison by Alvin O. Baker, Shelby county sheriff.

The state charged that Northington killed Sergeant Hull in a raid made by the police on a craps game in a house at 216 Anderson street, Indianapolis, on the night of September 10, 1919. The case was brought here from Marion county on a change of venue. At the first trial, held here during February, the jury was unable to agree.

WOOD OFFERS SOLUTION OF BOLSHEVIK PROBLEM

DELIVERS KEYNOTE SPEECH IN ILLINOIS CAMPAIGN.

FOR FAIR DEAL ALL ROUND

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

CHICAGO, April 1.—A warning of the growing strength of the Bolshevik movement in Europe, fostered by German capital and officered by German soldiers, was voiced here last night by Leonard Wood in his keynote speech in his Illinois campaign. Wood spoke at the Auditorium theater, the largest in the city, and every seat in the house was taken. He received an enthusiastic reception when he appeared on the platform at 7:30 o'clock.

"As you look at Europe and a large part of Asia you will find evidences of an upheaval," he said. "You find the so-called Red wave rolling westward and it is becoming a trifle more orderly as it moves along. It has partly exhausted itself but is still a menace and the world now is asking where it is going and when it is going to stop. You have man power in Russia and the near east in almost limitless strength that is gradually falling under the direction of Germans. The Red armies of today are led by German officers and German noncommissioned officers. They are well equipped and well provided with the necessities of war and are headed west. If we should find the man power of Russia and the near east under this leadership, and should find the great undeveloped resources of Russia behind German shop, German chemist and German scientist, the question as to who won the war would be yet to be determined, for these things mean industrial supremacy in Europe.

Says People Are Uneasy.

"Over here, while our people are as sound as a nut, there is an uneasy feeling. It is a part of war psychology which follows all wars. People are uneasy. It is no time now for loose talking or shallow thinking or for rash experiments. We have no serious difficulties yet, but a number of things are to be considered. We want to pull together. We want the same spirit of co-operation we had during the war, the spirit to win. Put America first. We have got it. We simply need to get together and put things over."

Wood advised encouragement of business, building up trade in foreign countries and taking off the excess profit tax and other tax burdens. He recommended a large merchant marine for foreign trade and a reserve for the navy. The budget system, he said, was our surest means of bringing about the general national retrenchment, and through it we eventually should be able to talk in terms of millions, where today we are forced to talk in terms of billions. Continuing, he said: "Absolute authority and extreme fraternalism are splendid instrumentalities for the quick and rapid establishment of conditions of law and order and general well being, but if long continued they are absolutely destructive of initiative and all those qualities which must be built up in a self-governing people. They are great forces for quick establishment of order, but never should be employed for any length of time. The coming of destructive conditions in Mexico was due largely to the fact that, able as he was, Diaz had never instructed his people in the art of government, and when he died the government fell with him and chaos supervened. You must never, except in cases of most extreme emergency, surrender the powers of government to any one individual, but exercise them under that wonderfully devised system of checks and balances furnished by our Constitution.

"In other words, we must remain a government under the Constitution, with each department of the government functioning within its own limits."

Position on Tariff.

Wood spoke of the need of a tariff as a weapon of defense.

"Some time we may need it as a weapon of offense, but now when production all over the world is almost at a standstill, the tariff must be fitted to conditions," he said. "We want a tariff to protect American industries which are essential to America and which need protection. We do not want a tariff to protect industries that are artificial and whose protection adds to the living costs of our people."

In discussing the labor situation, Wood said that there was much insincerity on both sides.

"The whole thing comes down to the application in relations between those who work and those who direct the work, of the basic principles of the golden rule," he said. "Honesty on the part of employers, and when I say honesty on their part I mean a man who is honest enough to give those who work for him a good wage, a wage which with thrift and industry will enable him to lay aside money for a stormy day, to marry, to have a family, and to give his children a chance in the world. We must not only let people live, but if we are the right kind of men and women, we must help them live."

KANSAS DELEGATION NAMED.

Will Go to Republican National Convention Uninstructed.

SALINA, Kas., April 1.—W. J. Bailey, of Atchison; H. H. Motter, of Olathe; D. W. Mulvane, of Topeka, and W. W. Watson, of Salina, were elected delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention at the state convention here yesterday. They were not instructed.

Resolutions adopted by the convention denounced governmental extravagance and liberation of conscientious objectors, urged more recognition of service men; praised the services of United States Senators Curtis and Capper and indorsed Governor Allen's administration.

"We condemn the appalling and inexcusable waste and extravagance of the national administration," the resolution states, "which has needlessly saddled a debt to the amount of billions of dollars on the American people.

"We condemn and disapprove the action of the secretary of war in liberating so-called conscientious objectors from military service in time of need, and in rewarding them for their disloyalty and giving them extra pay.

"We acknowledge and appreciate the debt we owe to all loyal men and women who enrolled for service in the world war, and urge that the national government immediately bring about a more effective recognition of their priceless service.

"We recommend that the nation employ the idea of the Kansas industrial court, believing it to be a logical development of American principles."

The resolutions "heartily approved" of the votes of Senators Capper and Curtis in favor of reservations to the league of nations whereby "American liberty and independence are preserved."

Delegates From Tennessee.

REPORT HINTS AT NEGLECT

Coal Miners Believe Tramp Was a Victim of Red Tape.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

PRINCETON, Ind., April 1.—Louis Miller, age thirty-eight, a tramp, died at the Gibson County Infirmary last week after taking an overdose of morphine. Yesterday his case was being investigated.

The chief investigation was made by a miners' committee which found that Miller lay sick on the floor of their washhouse from Saturday evening, March 14, until he was found Monday, March 16, when the miners went to work. The man remained there most of the day until the miners succeeded in getting the township trustee to care for him.

Willard Dill, trustee, of Patoka township, sent the sick man to the infirmary. Sam Fettinger, superintendent of the infirmary, refused to receive Miller on the ground that he was a non-resident and Miller was sent back to Dill. Dill gave the sick man a note to Fettinger and returned him to the infirmary. Again Miller was not received, and he spent the night in a barn. The next morning, in a heavy rain and with high fever, he walked seven miles to Princeton.

Claude Smith, township attorney, telephoned to Amos W. Butler, secretary of the board of state charities, who informed Smith that the trustee should return Miller to the infirmary. He was returned and this time accepted.

The miners believe the man had influenza and the report of their committee, made public today, intimates that Miller's death was due, indirectly at least, to neglect.

Do Your Feet Ache After Walking?

THEY shouldn't. Nature planned the feet to carry the body comfortably.

Usually, we find that aching feet are due to wrong shoes—pointed shoes that bend the toes, causing corns, bunions, callouses, weak arches, and ingrowing nails.

The cure for suffering feet is proper footwear. Educator Shoes are proper, because shaped like the foot—they "let the feet grow as they should," shapely and straight.

Allow us to fit you with the Educator oxford shown here. You'll be grateful later.

Cocoa manufacturer discovers unusual bargains among Du Pont surplus equipment

The purchasing agent of a well-known cocoa manufacturing concern recently came to inspect a time clock we had offered him. The inspection led to the store-room where this clock was placed for display. An examination revealed that the clock was as represented and he increased his order to five.

By mere chance there happened to be stored in this room a few representative samples of some automatic powder weighing machines, formerly used in our explosive plants. These were shown to the purchasing agent and he immediately discerned that these powder machines could readily be utilized in the cocoa industry.

Owing to the nature of this equipment, we had placed very low selling prices on it, and the agent was able to supplant many old machines at his factory at a saving of thousands of dollars.

Stop and think of the countless items of equipment we have in our million-dollar stocks in our various plants, that can be made to fill the bill in your factory, yard, mill or office.

It will pay you to investigate what we have to offer in our used equipment and material. Just write and tell us what you need, or come personally to Wilmington, or any of our plants listed below.

EXPLOSION ON THE SUN PRODUCED BIG AURORA

EARTH PASSED THROUGH THE OUTER CONFINES OF CORONA.

HYDROGEN ATOMS THROWN

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—The earth was passing through the outer confines of the corona or exterior envelope of the sun the night of March 22 when the inhabitants of the northern part of the United States witnessed the great aurora in the skies, says Professor Monroe B. Snyder, director of the Philadelphia observatory.

The astronomer declared in a statement to the Associated Press that the "universal force of radioaction" on the sun "hurled the final atoms of an explosion, namely, electrified hydrogen and probably helium, straight to earth."

Professor Snyder's observations follow:

Atomic Disintegration.

"The recent aurora is a fine indication of the explosive atomic disintegration which takes place at the surface of the sun, and is responsible for its prominences, spots and corona. Our discovery of the magnitude and precise atomic order of the explosion of the chemical elements in the sun, and in the stars generally, lead to conceptions of the aurora and the accompanying magnetic and electric storms, which are beyond any doubt as to their validity.

"During the hours of Monday night the earth was, in a very true sense, and to the delight of us all, passing through the outer confines of the solar corona. The same universal force of radioaction which disintegrates the atoms in stupendous localized Krakatoas or Mont Pelees on the sun, and produces the hydrogen of the coronal streamers then also hurled the final atoms of that explosion, namely, electrified hydrogen and probably helium, straight to the earth.

Vernal Autumnal Equinox.

"Only within about a month of the equinox, vernal or autumnal, is the earth in an orbital position to be thus successfully bombarded. The moving electric hydrogen is, of course, an electric current, and is therefore carried toward the poles of the earth and round them by the earth's magnetic forces. The fascinating colors of the aurora are due to the changing electric excitation of the hydrogen and other gases. The theory of Vegard, the Swedish physicist, which has explained the wonderful contained auroras as due to hydrogen particles of positive electric charge, is now shown to be unquestionably true, in that it is but a logical result of the explosive eruption of the electric hydrogen from the sun.

Passage of Hydrogen Atoms.

"The well-known delay, or lag in time, between the solar eruption and the appearance of the magnetic storm and accompanying aurora on the earth, of about forty-five hours, is due to the time taken for the hydrogen atoms to travel from the sun to the earth. The rate of travel is about 575 miles a second, or somewhat in excess of the rate of the upward movement of the gases in some of the great solar prominences.

"The numerous and complex details of the auroral phenomena are found thus to receive, for the first time, reasonable explanation. Additional confirmation of this explanation is given by the fact that our discoveries also prove that all the elemental atoms, so wonderfully explosive in the stars, are structural products of hydrogen."

TREE DISEASE WARNING.

State Entomologist Urges Adoption of the Spraying Plan.

Municipal trees should be guarded against tree diseases, warns Frank N. Wallace, entomologist for the state conservation commission. He points out as commendable the purchasing of tree sprayers by a number of city departments and urges the general adoption of the plan.

SEEDLING STOCK SCARCE.

High Price Retarding Planting of Apple Orchards.

The high price of good seedling apple tree stock is retarding the planting of orchards and isolated apple trees, the state conservation commission observes. Formerly the little apple trees sold for $10 a thousand, but now they sell for $85 a thousand. The department is keeping close watch that bad seedlings are not put on the market during the scarcity. The department is ready to co-operate with any who can improve the situation.

Pictorial Review for April is a veritable picture gallery of new Spring styles.

Have women any real creative genius?

Or have men a monopoly? How does the feminine mind differ from that of man? And were Rosa Bonheur, George Eliot and Mme. Curie abnormal? Is the bearing of children the only "creative" ability woman possesses?

Dr. Kristine Mann, one of America's most distinguished women physicians, answers these questions in a surprising manner in Pictorial Review for April. Dr. Mann was appointed to supervise the health and moral welfare of the Government's thousands of women war workers and certainly knows what she's talking about.

What is a home-made president?

Seventeen million women will vote for President at the next election. Think of the enormous political power they will wield.

How are women going to use this new power? Will they take full advantage of it or not? Indications point to their complete rejection of a machine-made President. Ida Clyde Clark explains exactly why the women of America demand a home-made President.

DISCUSSES EVENTS IN MUSIC IN NEW YORK

ONA B. TALBOT RETURNS FROM TEN-DAY VISIT THERE.

ARRANGED FOR FESTIVAL

Mrs. Ona B. Talbot has just returned from New York where she has been for the last ten days making final arrangements for the May music festivals under her direction in Indianapolis May 3, 4 and 5, and in Louisville, Ky., May 6, 7 and 8. Complete announcements for the Indianapolis festival will be made within a few days.

"Without a shadow of doubt," said Mrs. Talbot, in speaking of the important events in music and drama in New York at this time, "Zaza" with Geraldine Farrar in the title role, has been the most thrilling, and it is the greatest role she has ever portrayed. Her acting was incomparable, and the settings and costumes were superb.

"I heard a performance of the 'Blue Bird' and felt how admirable it would be if this lovely music might be adapted to the English version of the drama. It is an opera which should be given as widely as possible to American children and adult music lovers. Raymonde Delaunois has an extraordinary role in this opera and she delivers it as only a great artist could.

Tschaikowsky Opera.

"The last novelty to be presented at the Metropolitan Opera House was Tschaikowsky's 'Eugene Onegin,' which is to the Russians what 'Il Travatore' is to the Italian people. This opera is founded on a tale by Pushkin, the great Russian poet, and is, I believe, entitled 'A Novel in Verse.' When I heard this opera it recalled to my mind the first Tschaikowsky opera made known in New York, 'Pique Dame,' given at the Metropolitan in 1910 under the direction of Gustav Mahler, though its success at that time was only marked from the artistic point of view.

"One of the most interesting concerts I attended was that given under the direction of Kurt Schindler, made up of choruses which he transcribed from the folk lore of the Orient. Spanish folk songs were exquisitely interpreted by Rafel Diaz, the young American tenor, of Spanish ancestry, who has been engaged as soloist with the Minneapolis Orchestra for the May festival here. On Sunday evening at the Metropolitan Opera House concert, Albert Spaulding was the brilliant star of the evening, and Indianapolis music lovers have a rare treat in store for them on Sunday afternoon when he plays at the Murat.

"Of the drama, John Barrymore in 'Richard III' is the sensation at present, and it gives him the highest place in his present commanding position in the English speaking theater.

"One of the operas I was particularly anxious to see, and which had such overwhelming success at its premier, is 'Cleopatra's Night,' by our own American composer Henry Hadley, who occupies a high place in the musical world, but I did not have the good fortune to have it billed while in New York.

Last Symphony Concert.

"New York is in its last run of concerts and symphony programs of the season. The last program of the New York Symphony Orchestra was given last Thursday at Carnegie hall. The early close is due to the long tour that it will make of Europe. Albert Spalding and John Powell, two of the foremost American artists, will be their soloists, and are true and emphatic examples of what this country can produce artistically.

"After the season is virtually over for the big public concerts, more exclusive and beautiful concerts are arranged at the Biltmore and Ritz hotels, and the one I attended last Sunday evening, given for the benefit of the Polish babies, with the program given by the well known American artists, Rafael Diaz, Oliver Denton, and Mme. Namara of the Chicago Opera Company, was delightful in every detail."

INVESTIGATES KILLING.

Madison County Coroner Inquires Into Death of Joseph Kendall.

(Special to The Indianapolis News)

ELWOOD, Ind., April 1.—Earl Sells, coroner for Madison county, after a post-mortem examination of the body of Joseph Kendall, age fifty-eight, which was found with a bullet wound through the brain early yesterday in a ravine near the American Sheet and Tinplate Company factory here, announced that death was due to a bullet wound from a thirty-two-caliber revolver, which had entered the back of the head and flattened against the skull. The coroner believes the bullet was fired from a distance of twenty feet.

Residents in the southern part of the city were questioned by the police and coroner yesterday, but could throw no light on Kendall's mysterious death. Mrs. Stanley, keeper of the restaurant where Kendall roomed, was examined and said that she had not seen Kendall since he left home early Tuesday morning.

A cablegram was sent yesterday to Y. Stedding, at Cumberland, England, the only address found in Kendall's effects, and which showed his name to be spelled Kendall and not Kindle as was first reported. The coroner and the police department continued their investigation today. Kendall was an employe in the Union Traction Company power house, at Anderson, traveling back and forth from here to his work.

BOEHNE CONSIDERING CONGRESSIONAL RACE

FIRST DISTRICT DEMOCRATS BOOST CANDIDACY.

CONFERENCE IN EVANSVILLE

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Democratic leaders from all counties in the First Indiana district attended a conference here yesterday and urged that John W. Boehne, of this city, enter the race for the congress. Benjamin Bosse, mayor of Evansville, and district and state Democratic chairman, for several weeks has been urging that Mr. Boehne enter the race.

Recently Mr. Boehne announced that he would not be a candidate, but following yesterday's session he said that he would consider the matter. His friends expect that he will announce his candidacy soon. It is believed here that in case Mr. Boehne enters the race other aspirants for the office will step aside.

Mr. Bosse presided at the meeting. Among those in attendance were Judge S. L. Vanderver, of Princeton; A. C. Mower, of New Harmony; Jesse Wade, representing Judge H. T. Clements, of Mt. Vernon; L. M. Robinson, chairman of Warrick county; Howard Roosa, editor of the Evansville Courier and authorized to act for the Democrats of Spencer county, and James D. Saunders and Lane B. Osborn, representing the Democrats of Vanderburg county.

Mr. Boehne served one term as mayor of Evansville and two terms as representative in congress.

SWITCH ENGINE HITS TRUCK

Two Injured and $2,000 Damage in Accident at South Bend.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 1.—Two men were injured seriously and damage of $2,000 was done Wednesday night when a switch engine on the New York Central lines backed into a big three-ton moving van as it was crossing the Lincoln highway here.

The injured men are A. C. Whiteman, who was moving his furniture from Gary to Whitman, Ind., and M. L. Angling, of Gary, owner of the truck. Anglin is suffering from injuries to his back and Whiteman was badly cut by glass.

HOME DISTILLER IS FINED.

Noblesville Man Also Receives State Farm Sentence.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., April 1.—James Cox, age fifty-two, arrested on the charge of making whisky in his home, pleaded guilty before Judge Cloe in the circuit court here Wednesday afternoon, was fined $100 and was sentenced to the Indiana State Farm for sixty days. Te told the court that he made the liquor for himself and several members of his family, who were sick.

When the police searched his home they found nothing but the first thing they stumbled over when they entered the barn was a large box. The officers say Mrs. Cox told them the box contained canned fruit. They did not accept this explanation and broke open the box which contained a complete whisky still. Soot was on the large can and a strong odor of sour mash indicated that the still had been used recently.

INTERCHURCH CONFERENCE

Madison County Denominations Outline Methods of Co-operation.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

ANDERSON, Ind., April 1.—Ministers and many laymen representing almost all of the Protestant churches in Madison county were in conference at the Young Men's Christian Association building here today to outline the methods of co-operation with the interchurch world movement and to prepare for the canvass in Madison county April 25 to May 2.

Charles M. Woodman, of Richmond, had charge of an interdenominational team of four men and one woman to explain the program. E. W. Cole, Huntington; W. E. Fisher, Moores Hill; O. M. Pratt, Bloomfield, and Mrs. Felix McWhirter, Indianapolis, were other members of the team.

The Rev. J. W. Potter, of Anderson, who has been in the east and also in the northwest in the interest of the interchurch movement, addressed the meeting. The Rev. P. E. Greenwalt, of Elwood, is the publicity director for Madison county. Late today there was to be a conference with young people.

Cranberries Are Nature's Spring Tonic!

Fine in the winter months—better yet in the languid early spring months.

The tonic tang of this crimson, health-giving fruit will aid the jaded appetite. Great as a spread for bread, and the tastiest relish with all meats—hot or cold.

Serve cranberries often.

This recipe requires but one-half the usual amount of sugar. Try it!

Cranberry Sauce

No. 1—One quart cranberries, 1 pint water, ½ level teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar.
Bring the water and salt together to a boiling point. Pick over and wash the cranberries, put them into the pint of boiling water and cook rapidly for 5 minutes, or until the skins of the berries have broken. Cool slightly, add the sugar, bring to boiling point, and cook slowly for additional five minutes.

No. 2—One quart cranberries, 1 pint boiling water, ½ of a cup of syrup, ½ of a cup of sugar.
Boil the syrup, sugar and water for 5 minutes, skim if necessary. Add the berries, and cook without stirring until all the skins break—about 5 minutes over a hot fire.

A quart of cranberries will serve 12 persons. They have no waste. All of the fruit is used.

Easy to prepare. Economical. Delicious.

MANAGER JACK HENDRICKS BECOMES INTREPID NAVIGATOR OF AIR

HEYDLER AND MAGEE NECK AND NECK IN STATEMENT DERBY

STILL ANOTHER BOWLER PUSHES HIS WAY INTO SPOTLIGHT

EXTRA INFIELDERS MAY BE PROBLEM

With Smith in Line and Yerkes a Possibility, Manager Hendricks Faces New Task.

FINAL PRACTICE ON FRIDAY

Indians Set Faces North With Players in Good Shape for Season's Grind—Pitchers Only Need.

[By R. C. Thompson, Sport Editor of The Indianapolis News]

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1.—The Indians will wind up their spring training here tomorrow with morning practice and take the night train for the north, with most of the players in fine trim.

"They are in such good shape that another week here would cause them to go stale," said Manager Hendricks. "We are leaving at the best time and I expect to put on the finishing touches to those that are here in the practice and exhibition games at Chattanooga Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"It is too bad there are several players that belong to this team who failed to get the benefit of this wonderful training place. They will have to get in shape at the expense of the team's efficiency at home."

Smith Ready to Play.

Hendricks was referring to Clint Rogge, Leo Callahan, Jimmy Smith and even Steve Yerkes, who yet may be induced to play another season in professional baseball. The last report from Yerkes was that he is undecided whether to play with the tribe or take a job and play Saturday and Sunday ball for the Steel League. If he should report there will be a surplus of infielders, since word was received from Jimmy Smith last night to the effect that he was ready to report.

Among the players who belong to the Indians, and who may be seen in uniform during a part of the season, is Jack Leary, catcher. Leary has a steady job coaching a large eastern high school athletic team, and he wrote that he would assist the Indians during his three months' vacation, if his services are needed. The St. Joe Club wishes to buy Leary's release in order that he may manage that team in the Western League. Hendricks submitted the matter to Leary, but the latter has refused flatly to quit his job in the east.

More Pitchers Needed.

Before the season opens Hendricks will have to find two more pitchers. Crum and Cavet are certain fixtures, and Murray may develop into an asset. Adams is having more or less trouble getting back into his old-time form. Rogge is capable, and if he had been in here training the chances are he would be hustling with Crum and Cavet for the honor of pitching the opening game.

Dick Gossett, who has been handicapped for two weeks with a bad finger, is again in condition, and it is probable he will catch every game unless overtaken by accident.

Covington, who has a lame shoulder, hopes to be in line for the exhibition games at Chattanooga and at home. If he is not in shape Hendricks will have to patch his infield, and no other than Dutch Zwilling will be seen at first. Dutch surprised every one here by his agility around first base in a few practice stents. Just another word about Dutch. He's going big in the outfield and with the bat. Shinners and Emerick, the recruit outfielders, are hustling hard for regular jobs with Rehg and Zwilling.

Up in the Air.

Yesterday proved a banner day with several members of the tribe outfit. On the program was practice at the ball park, swimming at the beach and airplaning, or rather seaplaning. The latter was a diversion. Jack Hendricks looked over one of the seaplanes stationed here. Finally he said he intended to fly, and he did, out over Tampa bay, circling around over St. Petersburg, with a graceful volplane down to the water. This was a signal for others to make a flight, and for a time Lieutenant Albert Whitted, in charge of the plane, was kept busy. It was a splendid experience for those that took the flight, and traveling with a ball club is a hard job.

CERTAINTY OF VARSITY BOOSTS BUTLER TEAM

Butler is going to have a varsity nine, and it is entirely probable that an intercollegiate schedule will be played. At least there will be competition with outside clubs. This Captain Ike Wood and Coach Stanley Pessle assure Blue and White supporters.

Never before has there been so much enthusiasm on the diamond. There are more than thirty regular aspirants to positions on the varsity. The policy toward intercollegiate baseball will be fixed by Butler after the I. C. A. L. confab here Friday.

Rumors of a final abandonment of the varsity nine this semester brought such storms of disapproval that the authorities are going to permit a varsity schedule.

Practice is being held every afternoon on Irwin field. The new schedule will begin about April 10, if plans are perfected.

Pessle has chosen the following varsity squad: Bastian, third base; A. Wood, captain, shortstop; Alexander, first base; P. Brown, second base; Welborn, center field; Keeling, right field; Barkley, left field; Short and Porteus, catchers; Gwynn, Kiser, C. Mercer, Buckley and McKinney, pitchers. Substitutes are L. Wood, Hensley and Coil; outfielders, Stephenson, Tichenor, Barney, Burge and Kistler.

Evas to Get Morrison.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Guy Morrison, local pitcher, who was loaned to the Moline (Ill.) team, in the Three-I League, toward the close of the season last year, will appear in an Evansville uniform this year, and is expected to report to Lew Groh, the new manager of the Three-I team, in a few days. Groh is expecting to have his players here by the second week in April, and on April 17 the local team will play the Havolines, an independent team, at Lawrenceville, Ill.

GEORGES NOW A FLICKER STAR

NEW YORK, April 1.—After three days spent in posing for "stills" and having various "registrations" taken in the studio, Georges Carpentier did his first real motion picture work today. Between times on a busy daily schedule, he has learned his "lines" in the drama which is to star him as a college hero. With good weather the film will be completed early in May and Carpentier will start on his vaudeville tour.

'NOTHER SPRING DRIVE.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The New York Athletic Club began a drive for $50,000 yesterday to assist the American Olympic committee in sending Uncle Sam's team to Antwerp. In 1912 the club raised $36,000. In addition the club expects to send at least twenty-five of its members along on the team at its own expense of $1,000 a man.

No Bench for Me, Says Young Indian Outfielder

HAROLD EMERICK.

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., April 1.—This is a picture of a young man who is determined to break into professional baseball and win a steady job. He is Harold Emerick, a semi-professional player who has had some experience in Class D leagues. He lives in Detroit and recently showed up at the camp of the Philadelphia Nationals at Birmingham and really demanded a job of Gavvy Cravath, manager of the Phils. At first he insisted on paying his own expenses, and he insisted on a clause in his contract that if the Phils could not use him as a regular player that he be sent to a club that could use him. Cravath watched the youngster for a couple of weeks and being unable to keep him in the regular line-up he recommended him to Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indians. Gavvy and Jack are close friends. Emerick joined the Indians here and showed well from the start. He and Ralph Shinners, another Indian outfield recruit, are hustling for a steady job and it will require some good judgment on the part of Hendricks to decide between them. "No bench job for me" was what he told Hendricks.

TECH TRACK MEN WORK DURING VACATION TIME

Although spring vacation now is on, the Tech track team is training daily for first tryouts, to be held at Willard park next Tuesday afternoon. Beryl Black will coach the team. Black turned out a good squad last year, considering the green material from which he was required to pick.

The mile event draws the largest list of candidates. James Maxwell, winner of the mile event in the sectional last year, is reeling off the mile in fine shape. Matthew Dickerson, another miler of last season fame, is out again to win points for the east side this year. Besides these veterans, the coaches will have a world of promising youths to pick from for additional milers.

The shotput is the "ringleader" in the field events. Arthur Black, S. B. Van Arsdal and Clarence Drayer, all of basketball fame, are the most promising candidates in this event. Only two men of last year's relay team are out this season. Haldane Griggs and Duane Hawkins are the returning ones. Byron Woods knocked his high school eligibility sky-high when he ran for the Independent Athletic Club in the recent Indiana junior branch of the A. A. U. track and field meet at the Coliseum. Laurence Neidlinger, the remaining member of the quartet, will be unable to compete this year.

NO CHARGES MADE, SAYS NATIONAL LEAGUE HEAD

HEYDLER DENIES STATEMENT OF LEE MAGEE—INVESTIGATION IS PROMISED.

NEW YORK, April 1.—John A. Heydler, president of the National League, in a letter to Lee Magee's attorney, yesterday, reiterated his denial that Magee had filed any charges against team owners or supplied any names of players whom Magee accused of gambling on games in which they played. The alleged charges referred to by Magee's attorney as complaints against National League magnates President Heydler's letter said, "consist of a claim that Mr. Magee was not a member of the Chicago Club in proper standing in 1919 and was released without charges being brought against him."

"It is neither customary nor necessary for a club to prefer charges against a player before giving him his release," the latter added. "The matter of the release of Mr. Magee is one between him and the Chicago club."

President Heydler promised immediate investigation of charges against players accused of gambling on games in which they participate, but declared unless names of players were supplied him, with proof or data, "no further attention will be paid to alleged statements from indirect sources."

The letter, consisting of nearly 2,000 words, contained a complete history of the controversy with Magee and a resume of the Hal Chase investigation of more than a year ago.

Indianapolis Pin Toppler Gets Coveted 700 Score

LARRY CHENEY.

Larry Cheney, rolling with the Salvadors in the Knights of Columbus League, Wednesday night posted the remarkable total of 714 pins. He began his scores with a 192 game and came back with the big count of 289 in the second try. Cheney started the second game with a spare and then hit for ten consecutive strikes, getting two in the tenth and winding up with a good hit, the seven pin wabbling for an instant and straightening up, giving him 289. Needing 219 for a 700 count he began crashing the maples right at the start of the third game and came through with five straight in the pocket, when a wide open split in the sixth halted him for an instant. He finished the game in good style, winding up the evening's work with 233. Cheney is regarded as one of the city's best pin knights and has been making good counts for some years. Besides bowling with the Salvadors, in the Knights of Columbus circuit, he rolls with the Block's Optical team in the Commercial League.

The 714 total of Cheney's is the second high total of the season for local bowlers, Elmer Hall, earlier in the season shooting a total of 715, while Kimmel, rolling with the Hoosier Oil club, in Beam's No. 1 League, totaled 705, with counts of 211, 289 and 225. Jesse Pritchett holds the high one-game of the season with a perfect score of 300, made in the Elks League several weeks ago. Cheney's score of 289 ties Frank Hackerd for second high one-game of the season. Hackerd shooting with the Capitol alley five. Louis Ostheimer, of the Strauss Says five, made a 288 score the opening games of the season.

Both previous games went into overtime periods, the Celts winning at Clayton, 37 to 35, while the Seconds won the second game on their floor, 41 to 40. A knockout in the second round earned Private Joe Selfstein, of Ft. Myer, the honors in the light-heavyweight class. Selfstein weighed 160½ pounds and his opponent, Private William Fitzgerald, of Ft. Slocum, 174 pounds. Major Biddle refereed.

Private Dominick Kotarsky, of Camp Dix and Philadelphia, won the middleweight title by knocking out Private Alfred Larsen, of Ft. Myer and San Francisco, in the second round. The men weighed 158 pounds each.

THESE SISTERS CARRY REAL KNOCKOUT PUNCH

GREENCASTLE, Ind., April 1.—Wabash has chanted that humiliating refrain "We ah sisters" on the DePauw campus for the last time. At least they've "shouted" it for the last time without engaging in a fistic encounter as an af'ermath, says a body of DePauw men numbering practically every able-bodied male student in the Methodist institution.

And so these men have banded themselves together in a sort of holy league whose constitution rings with anti-caveman threats and whose chief oath is this: "Wherever and whenever I ——— hear a person hailing from cave-town give that familiar cry, I become a la Georges Carpentier on the spot."

The formation of the league of fighters resulted from the publication in The Indianapolis News of the Wabash hymn of hate and the part it played in the disastrous basketball game with Wabash at Crawfordsville this season.

SIXTEEN FILLIES ARE NOMINATED IN DERBY

ANOTHER REGRET MAY DEVELOP TO TAKE THE $50,000 PRIZE ON MAY 8.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 1.—Not in years has the Kentucky Derby seemed such an open affair. Almost every colt, gelding, or filly nominated for the big event appears to have a chance to capture the classic, and with the uncertainties that attend the preparation of candidates for such fixed events it will not be surprising if an outsider captures the rich plum on May 8. An exceptionally fine band of choicely bred fillies has been nominated this year for the stake and, while only one filly has ever been able to win the Kentucky Derby in the forty-five years in which it has been decided, a successor to Regret, which won the big event in 1915 in the colors of Harry Payne Whitney, may take the 1920 event.

Charles E. Rowe's black whirlwind, Miss Jemima, was the biggest money-winning filly last year, earning $20,055 for her owner and standing one of the most strenuous campaigns that a filly ever stood.

She was campaigned on a winter track at New Orleans early in the year of 1919 and raced all through the Kentucky meetings and stood a hard campaign on the eastern tracks, beating colts and fillies alike with equal ease.

This superbly-bred daughter of Black Tony—Valia started twelve times last year and finished first eight times, third once and three times outside of the money.

The Spring Trial at Churchill Downs, the Eastview at Empire City and the Flash at Saratoga are among the notable features captured by Miss Jemima. She is in rare form at present, having stepped three-quarters of a mile last week at Douglas Park in 1:17 3-5.

Big Money Winner.

Commander J. K. L. Ross's Constancy, by Ambassador—Simena's Daughter, was also a big money winner last year, placing $19,194 to the credit of her owner in thirteen starts, finishing first five times, second three times, third two times and being unplaced in the other three.

She was bought by Mr. Ross from A. B. Hancock, of Kentucky and Virginia, for the sum of $10,000.

Max Hirsch had her in training for Mr. Hancock and considered her one of the best fillies he had ever handled.

Constancy won, among other prominent races, the Spinaway Stakes at Saratoga and the Eastern Shore at Havre de Grace, and ran against the best colts as well as fillies in the east.

W. R. Coe's Cleopatra was a stake filly last year, the imported daughter of Corcyra—Gallice being returned a winner in two of her eleven starts and finishing five times second and one time third.

She won the Champagne Stakes at Belmont Park and earned the stable $9,206 during the season.

Camden Has Entry.

Johnson N. Camden, president of the Kentucky Jockey Club and chairman of the Kentucky state racing commission, has a strapping big filly, Lorraine, by his stallion Ben Brush, out of Amy J., which showed her real worth late last fall by defeating the best of her age and sex as well as many of the best colts racing on the Kentucky circuit.

She won four of her ten starts last year and $5,840 for her owner.

Former Congressman George W. Loft's Germa, by The Manager—Ilma, started thirteen times last season, winning four times and placing $4,178 to the credit of the stable.

All told, there are sixteen fillies nominated for the rich Kentucky Derby, and besides those already mentioned, Harry Payne Whitney's Cobwebs, by Broomstick—Morningside, a good winner last year; Major T. C. McDowell's Distinction, by The Manager—Alanarka, which won her only start in hollow fashion last season; E. B. McLean's Siren Maid, by Sprole—Long's Oriove, by Dove Lance—Victoria B.; Mrs. W. M. Jeffords' Substitute, by Stalwart—Understudy; F. J. Kelly's Drumfire, by Vulcan—Delusion; Montford Jones's Ethel Grey, by Hessian—Sweet Marjoram; H. P. Headley's Eyes of Youth, by Uncle—Ave Maria; M. L. Wheeler's Alula, by Voorhees—Bremerhafen; J. H. Baker's Shrubbery, by Ben Brush—The Welkin, and John T. Ireland's Clearing Up, by Rochester—Sea Mist, will give stout opposition to the colts and geldings nominated for the $50,000 Derby.

Tremaine Leads Puryear.

DETROIT, April 1.—Carl Tremaine, Detroit, led Earl Puryear, of Tulsa, all the way in their ten-round bout here last night and won the newspaper decision. Young Chaney, New York, and Harry Kabbicoff, St. Louis, fought a ten-round draw and Eddie Dillon, Detroit, won from Patsy O'Toole, Detroit, in eight rounds.

BALL LEAGUE ORGANIZES.

The Manufacturers Baseball League has been organized for the season. The following teams have entered: American Can Company, Eli Lilly Company, Langsdale plant of Citizens Gas, Holcomb & Hoke, Rockwood Manufacturing Company and Link Belt.

The baseball season opens May 1st and closes August 7.

The officers of the league are: F. C. Lucore, president, and W. E. Gifford, secretary and treasurer.

BASKET TEAM ON ROAD.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 1.—Led by Captain Everette S. Dean, newly chosen leader of the 1921 Crimson basketball team, six members of the 1920 squad left today with the R. O. T. C. recruiting party. The team will meet Salem and Brownstown teams. Dean, Phillips, Donovan, Dobbins, Marxson and Jeffries are the players making the trip.

Morris Hogue Winner of High School Award

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Morris Hogue, age eighteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hogue, of this city, and a member of the senior class of the Shelbyville High School, today received the Paul Cross medal, at a public presentation ceremony held at the high school building.

The medal, offered by the Rev. Samuel J. Cross, of Sullivan, formerly of this city, in memory of his son, Paul Cross, a graduate and leader in athletics at the local school, who was one of the first members of Battery E, 150th field artillery, to be killed in action during the war against Germany, was presented to young Hogue by the Rev. Mr. Cross.

The winner of the medal is named by a committee of five Shelbyville men, and is selected on a scholarship record, combined with the record made in athletics during the school year. Interest in the school activities, interest in the basketball team, and faithful training are all taken into consideration. The committee that named Morris Hogue for the honor in the first year that the medal was presented, said that the competition was extremely close.

Addresses were made by several citizens, representing the city, the city school board, the teaching force of the high school and the citizens, on the subject of the benefit that accrues to the public and community through good, clean athletics in the schools. The speakers were Walter Myers, D. Wray DePrez, Miss Edith Wray and T. Dorsey Jones.

$600 FOR ARMENIANS.

Scottish Rite Gift Brings County Orphan Fund Up to $76,800.

The largest contribution to the near east relief fund for the care of Armenian orphans received today was a check for $600 from the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, a gift sufficient to provide for ten orphans for one year.

This brought the total fund for Marion county up to $76,800. Approximately 720 Armenian orphans are yet to be taken care of by the county to make the full quota of 2,000.

One of the contributors of the day was Sewall Elliott, age fourteen, son of George R. Elliott, 3816 Washington boulevard, who brought $2.50, the net proceeds from a motion picture show, he and his brother William gave with the neighborhood children as patrons. Two more orphans were adopted by the Imperial Drop Forge Company.

Percy O. Ort, campaign director, has arranged for a mass meeting at Acton, Franklin township, Friday night. Dr. V. K. Beshgetoor, Armenian, will speak. The concert band of the Holcomb & Hoke plant has volunteered to play. The junior class of the Acton school has canceled the annual banquet for the senior class. The money the juniors expected to spend on the dinner will be given to the orphan fund.

Notes of the Stage.

"I - Might - Be - Your - Once - in-a While," the song motif of the Victor Herbert musical piece, "Angel Face," at English's this week, has exceeded in sale more than a million copies, according to the music publishers' reports. This aside from a large demand for its phonograph records and music rolls. The melody is one of the pleasantest of a number of tuneful airs in the piece.

The Monday night performance of "Hello Alexander," the McIntyre and Heath musical comedy, coming to the Murat next week, has been taken over by the Shriners. Guests will be admitted.

Pretty Mary Moore, leading woman with Frances Starr in "Tiger! Tiger!" is new to the spoken drama. Prior to her engagement in this piece she devoted three of her four years' stage experience to the moving pictures, appearing with E. H. Sothern in several of his plays, and more recently with Mary Pickford.

Although only a little past majority in point of years, Jan Rubinie, appearing at B. F. Keith's this week, is an extraordinarily gifted violinist. At the age of nine he was playing recitals at the Royal Albert Hall, London, and giving other concerts throughout Europe. Musical critics expect him to become one of the world's foremost violinists.

Johnny Viesser, playing at the Lyric this week, was an alto player in the Indianapolis News Newsboys band for eight years, entering it when he was eleven and continuing until he became a stage professional. He is proud of the fact that he was the first boy to buy his horn. Johnny sold papers on the street and became a member of the band when it was first organized.

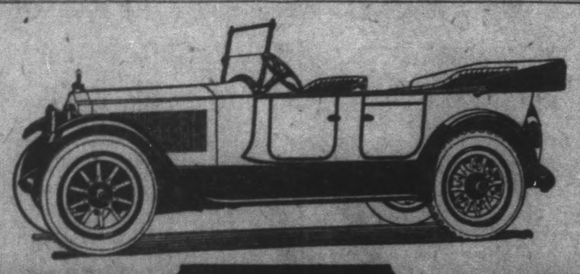

NEWS OF THE COLLEGES

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 1.—Purdue University's annual catalogue made its appearance today, the principal feature of this year's book being the announcement of marked changes in entrance requirements at Purdue. Foreign language credits are no longer required for admission. Instead vocational credits are recognized. One new requirement is a half unit in solid geometry. Credits from approved vocational schools or departments are to be accepted, as many as five units out of the total of fifteen required for entrance being counted. Graduates of commissioned high schools may offer as many as three units in vocational subjects. The catalogue shows expansion in many courses and considerable space is devoted to descriptions of buildings and equipment.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., April 1.—Determined to prevent the spread of scarlet fever and other contagious diseases, Notre Dame University authorities have decided to extend the usual Easter vacation to two weeks in order that adequate sanitary precautions may be taken against the spread of disease after the students return. The faculty members fear that students during vacations will mingle with students from other colleges and universities where there are epidemics of contagious diseases, and thus, on returning carry disease back to the university. As a result of the new ruling students left here Wednesday morning and will return Wednesday, April 14. They were scheduled originally to return April 7. Thorough examinations in several of the halls have revealed several mild cases of scarlet fever, but the medical authorities agreed with the faculty that an extension of the vacation and fumigation of the halls would provide sufficient precautions.

Notre Dame Knights of Columbus, at a special meeting Monday, made arrangements for celebrating the tenth anniversary of the council. The organization was founded April 10, 1910. A two-day celebration on April 30 and May 1 will feature the anniversary, an entertainment being planned for the first day and a dance at the Hotel Oliver the next afternoon.

Who Discovered RICORO?

Told by a Professor

"..... The quality is phenomenal—and the price is like a course in economics."

"A Ouija Board discovered Ricoro", replied the professor, as he moved the ash-tray nearer. "It happened at a clairvoyant investigation we conducted at the University.

"A famous European clairvoyant was at the seance, and after he'd made a few passes over the Ouija Board, the little three-legged planchette spelled the word 'R-i-c-o-r-o.'

"'Ricoro?' asked one of the scientists, in an awed voice, 'What does that mean?'

"'I can tell you that!' interrupted the Dean, 'Ricoro is the name of these delightful cigars'. He passed around some fine, slim panetelas, and everyone, including the medium, lighted up.

"'Now', said the medium, 'with the aid of the Ouija Board, I will endeavor to divine the price of these marvelous smokes'.

"Again the Ouija planchette moved — quickly spelling out 'T-w-e-n-t-y f-i-v-e c-e-n-t-s'

"'Wrong', shouted the Dean, 'though it's a natural mistake! These Ricoros sell for 9c in every United Cigar Store in the country!

"—And ten wise men unanimously agreed that you can't learn everything at college."

Sooner or later, you'll discover Ricoro. It's mildness and balmy tropic richness will please you as much as its price will astonish you. Ricoro is imported from Porto Rico duty free, so it costs no more than domestic cigars. A dozen shapes and sizes —8c to 3 for 50c. Sold only in United Cigar Stores. "Thank You!"

In Loving Remembrance

of Mattie Cossel, who departed this life one year ago today, April 1, 1919.
Oft we think of you, dear mother,
And our hearts are sad with pain,
O this world would be a heaven
Could we hear your voice again.
You wore a crown of patience
As you struggled on and on,
And the hands that rest forever
Are the hands that made our home,
A faithful mother, so kind and true.
We always pray and think of you
When days are dark and friends are few.
Dear mother, how we long for you.
SADLY MISSED BY HER SORROWING CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN.

In Loving Remembrance

of Mary Rosskopf Meany;
When the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting all alone,
In my heart there comes a longing
If you could only come home.
Oft and oft my thoughts do wander
To a grave not far away,
Where they laid my darling daughter
Just 4 years ago today.
SADLY MISSED BY THE MOTHER, BROTHER, SISTERS AND LITTLE DAUGHTER.

In Loving Remembrance

TRUANCY BOARD ACTION.

Halt on Parents Obtaining Child Employment Certificates.

A halt on the practice of parents keeping their children out of school by means of employment certificates was called by the state board of truancy today. The board ruled that certificates permitting children to be out of school for employment purposes hereafter shall be issued only to persons actually employing such children for hire.

The board's view is that parents do not "hire" their children to work for them and that the requirements of the compulsory school attendance law, which it is charged with administering, are not met when a parent keeps a child out of school to work. A child's work for parents is not done for hire because the child belongs to the parents until it is of legal age, the board says.

It has been reported to the board that in many places parents who wish their children to remain at home to work have obtained employment certificates from school authorities. The law permits children between fourteen and sixteen years old to remain out of school only as a means of financial help for themselves or dependents, the state officials believe.

INSANITY IS DEFENSE IN MRS. HAUGH HEARING

DEFENDANT IS ACCUSED OF SHOOTING AT HUSBAND.

WRITTEN PLEA IS FILED

The plea that Mrs. Marguerite Haugh was of unsound mind a year ago when she fired at her divorced husband, J. Guy Haugh, with an automatic pistol in a downtown garage in Indianapolis, was made by her attorneys in a written plea filed with Judge James A. Collins in criminal court today when the trial of Mrs. Haugh on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, was started.

Mr. Haugh and his former attorney, Walter Myers, testified that Mrs. Haugh had pointed an automatic pistol at Mr. Haugh and had fired the weapon. The said she approached them in a public garage on the night they returned from Rushville, where the divorce trial of Mr. and Mrs. Haugh had just been completed in the circuit court.

After Mrs. Haugh had fired and Mr. Haugh had dropped to the floor, Mrs. Haugh said to Mr. Myers, "I will get you, too." Mr. Myers testified. He said he made a diving tackle and held Mrs. Haugh until the pistol had been taken from her hands.

Mr. Haugh told of many quarrels between his former wife and himself before their separation. He said she had threatened his life many times.

Mrs. Miles Tiernan, formerly a detective employed by a local agency, testified that Mrs. Haugh had told her she would give $5,000 if she would kill Mr. Haugh. She said Mrs. Haugh employed her to shadow Mr. Haugh. On cross-examination by Mrs. Haugh's attorneys, she said she believed Mrs. Haugh was not speaking seriously when she spoke of paying her to kill Mr. Haugh. Caroline Pauley, formerly a seamstress in the Haugh home, told of quarrels between Mr. and Mrs. Haugh. She said they quarreled most of the time and Mrs. Haugh had told her that she "could kill Mr. Haugh." The courtroom was crowded when the trial started.

ALLEGED SLAYER ARRESTED

Man Is Accused of Murder of Child at Adena, O.

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 1.—Mike Onankuk, age thirty, an alien miner of Ramsey, was lodged in the Jefferson county jail here today, charged with the murder of Frances South, age eleven, of Adena, which occurred near her home last Thursday. The affidavit was filed by the prosecuting attorney, Roy Carpenter.

Onankuk was arrested in a boarding house at Ramsey, yesterday, by John Crawford, game warden, who brought him to his home near Steubenville yesterday and received permission from the prosecutor to keep him there all night.

The accused man was unable to account for himself during the hours between 11 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Thursday, the day of the murder. He has not worked since then, Ramsey citizens say. Crawford had been working on the case since last Saturday. When he placed Onankuk under arrest he searched his room and found underwear and other apparel which, he said, had blood stains on it.

The town of Adena is reported in an uproar of excitement since the alleged slayer was reported captured.

The accused man appears in a bewildered state of mind. He was questioned all last night, but said he was not guilty.

NEW YORK STRIKE ORDER.

Marine Workers' Union Says Five Thousand Men Will Obey.

NEW YORK, April 1.—A general strike order, effective immediately on all railroad boats except ferries, was issued by the Marine Workers' Affiliation this afternoon. Workers on ferry boats of railroad companies were ordered to quit work at 8 o'clock tonight.

The union announced that 5,000 men would obey the order, and that the strike would tie up 40 per cent. of the total harbor traffic.

While all the railroads are affected, the strike is aimed at the Erie, which was said to have sold some of its tugs and lighters to a private company, which in turn is alleged to have increased the working hours of the boatmen. The Erie had been operating the craft on eight-hour shifts, and by the transfer the men are said to be subject to a ten-hour working day.

FIVE DAYS IN JAIL FOR INDIRECT CONTEMPT

LEONARD STARLING FEIGNED SICKNESS TO ESCAPE COURT.

ALSO FACES FARM SENTENCE

Leonard Starling, colored, 1318 Cornell avenue, was sentenced to jail for five days by Judge Walter Pritchard in city court today after he had been found guilty of indirect contempt of court.

Starling was cited for contempt by Judge Pritchard when he feigned sickness and failed to appear in court on March 17 to answer to charges of drawing deadly weapons and impersonating an officer. He was accused of drawing a revolver on Frederick Freij, a grocer at Thirteenth and Yandes streets, while serving a notice on the grocer to appear in the court of J. B. Mullane, a justice of the peace in Irvington. Starling was sentenced to forty days on the State Farm and fined $100 and costs on this charge.

The contempt charges resulted when Patrolman Allison, who made the arrest, served a forthwith subpena on Starling when he failed to appear for trial. Allison found him in bed and Starling declared he was sick. Dr. Clark E. Day, police physician, pronounced him physically able to appear in court. Through his attorney Starling pleaded guilty to the contempt charges but begged for lenity on the ground that he was influenced to feign sickness by Val Alexander, colored, a constable from Mullane's court, with whom he was working when first arrested.

"I feel sorry for Starling," Judge Pritchard said, "for I think he fell in with bad company, but, nevertheless, these constables must be shown that they can not disobey court summons and escape without punishment. However, as he has no appeal from contempt action I am inclined to be lenient and think five days is enough."

NEW RATES AT WASHINGTON

Commission Authorizes Increase—Comments on Rise in Cost.

New rates for the Washington Water, Light and Power Company are authorized in an order the public service commission issued today. The commission directs the company to put in meters for patrons as soon as possible, and to improve the quality of gas it sells. In authorizing the new rates, the commission commented on the increasing costs of utility plant operation, because of the increasing cost of coal and transportation, due in large part to wage-earners' demand, and stated:

"Increases of wages in the two basic industries of transportation and coal mining can not but have far reaching effects, for if labor is to have increases in wages, the eight-hour day and better working conditions, it must at the same time be prepared to help bear its part of the inevitable burden of higher costs which such increases and benefits have imposed on the general consumer."

The new water rates of the company range from 38 to 18 cents a 1,000 gallons, with a monthly minimum of $1.25. The new gas rate is $1.65 a 1,000 cubic feet. Present rates yield the company only about 3.5 per cent. on its estimated valuation of $105,000, the order says. The new rates are intended to yield a 7 per cent. return.

Body Found on River Bank.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—The body of a man was found Wednesday on the banks of the Wabash river above New Harmony by George Garrett, a farmer. Although it has not been positively identified, it is believed it is that of Joseph Posey, age seventy-five, who fell from the Southern railroad bridge at Mt. Carmel, Ill., several weeks ago. Posey was watchman at the bridge, where he had been employed for a number of years.

DRINKS NEARLY THREE OUNCES OF ACID; DIES

HARRY BLACKMORE IN CITY FOR UNION MEETING.

HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH

Harry Blackmore, age sixty-four, 4223 North Market street, St. Louis, Mo., a member of the general executive board of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, committed suicide early today in his room at the English hotel by drinking nearly three ounces of carbolic acid.

His body was found on the bathroom floor by Hazel Williams, a colored maid, when she went in to clean the room. Dr. Paul F. Robinson, coroner, said Blackmore had been dead only a short time when the body was discovered.

Mr. Blackmore came to Indianapolis Monday to attend the regular quarterly meeting of the executive board and, according to his associates, apparently had been in the best of spirits. His friends told Coroner Robinson that he had been in ill health recently and they believe that constant worry over his condition caused him to become despondent.

Torn parts of a letter, received Wednesday from one of his daughters, were found on a table in the room, Coroner Robinson said, but when placed together failed to disclose anything that might be ascribed as a motive for his act. Blackmore's body was sent to a local undertaking establishment and will be held pending the arrival of his son.

Friends said he usually carried a large sum of money with him but only a small amount of change was found in his pockets. Detectives Stone and Barnaby were detailed to investigate this phase of the case.

William L. Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, has telegraphed Mr. Blackmore's son in St. Louis regarding funeral arrangements, and the general executive board will accompany the body there. A recess will be taken during that time, but the board has several days' work ahead, Mr. Hutcheson said, in acting on trade movements or working agreements of affiliated local unions.

During the two months of the regular school, three courses will be offered in agriculture, four in home economics, three in trade and industries, and ten in general education. Professor George L. Roberts, head of the department of education, will act as dean of the summer school.

Green River Flood Warning.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—A flood warning was issued today by Al Brand, local United States weather observer, who said that the heavy rains during the last twenty-four hours in the Green river valley will result in sharp rises and probably flood stages along most of Green and Barren rivers during the next three days. Green and Barren rivers were above flood stages for more than two weeks and only became stationary a few days ago when the Ohio river here started to fall.

Disinfection Makes Epidemics Impossible

Epidemics of contagious disease would be unknown if disinfection and sanitation were practiced universally and regularly.

Disinfection and disease germs never go hand in hand. One works for good, the other for evil. Never can both be present at the same time.

Do your part to prevent the epidemics by practicing and urging intelligent and sure disinfection.

CALM SELF-RESTRAINT ADVISED BY BEVERIDGE

WHOLESALE GROCERS HEAR PLEA FOR SANITY.

WORK CRISIS IS PREDICTED

Arjay Davies, president of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, was the principal speaker today at the closing sessions of the tenth annual convention of the Indiana Wholesale Grocers' Association at the Claypool hotel. Mr. Davies arrived in the city Wednesday and made a short talk on industrial conditions at the banquet held by the association in the evening, when Albert J. Beveridge, formerly United States senator from Indiana, made an address.

"The American citizen of today, Mr. Beveridge said in making a plea for "America Only," faces a grave responsibility of exercising self-restraint and getting into a calm, clear-headed and composed state of mind if catastrophe is to be averted. His talk, dealing chiefly with economic conditions, emphasized the great need for national economy, and this can become a fact, he said, only by its originating with the individual.

Urges Repeal of War Taxes.

Excess profits tax and other war taxes, framed hurriedly to meet war demands, should be repealed, Mr. Beveridge said, asserting that the excess profits tax is the most unscientific tax ever devised and is merely a shackle on enterprise, a ball and chain about the feet of business, when every effort should be made to relieve business of all possible burdens. As a substitute measure to help toward raising money necessary to carry the national debt, he suggested a sales tax and advised the audience to consider such a tax as a possible remedy.

"America has become the milch cow of the nations," he said, "yes, the milch cow of the world, and this must stop. The whole process of collecting from the public for great funds for this and that purpose has to be stopped. Every cent paid in these drives, many of which no doubt are for worthy causes, has its effect on the high cost of living. It is the duty of the American citizen to get down to economic bed rock."

Predicts Slump in Work.

Mr. Beveridge warned against undue optimism, calling attention to the national debt which he said was eight times as great as the debt at the close of the civil war, while the wealth of the country has increased only about four times; to the system of taxation; to drives and campaigns, and to the inflation of American currency 59 per cent.

"I learned in Washington—and the figures have not been made public—he said, "that the exports of this country slumped 70 per cent last month. When you remember that one-sixth of our products formerly was sold abroad, you will see what this means. The beginning of the period of unemployment has started. It is coming two years earlier than expected, but reports received at Washington indicate that it is starting now. Three years from this hour there will be from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 men out of work."

In speaking of the problems which must be met in the next few years, Mr. Beveridge said: "I can not understand why any man, seeking honor or glory or career, would want to be President for the next four years, or the four years after that. He probably would be crushed politically and perhaps discredited in history. Surely no man seeking honor or glory or career wishes the nomination. Becoming President at this time in our history should be purely a matter of duty, and the one elected should accept his task like a soldier on the battlefield, willing to press forward and do his all for his country, not for glory but for duty's sake alone."

League of Nations Opposed.

The league of nations was opposed by the speaker, who said no construing body was provided for, and that authority to interpret the terms of the constitution should be reposed in some body. He also urged the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law, scored the action of congress in yielding to pressure in passing the Adamson law, advocated the extension to foreign countries of the federal reserve bank system, and declared the so-called regulations, which he termed a tangle about business, must be eliminated and the tendency toward bureaucracy must be checked, abolishing the mighty army of spies on American business."

CHICAGO'S MUNICIPAL STRIKE MENACE GROWS

FIREMEN THREATEN WHOLESALE RESIGNATIONS.

ARBITRATION IS PROPOSED

CHICAGO, April 1.—Fifteen hundred striking City Hall employes and other municipal workers remained out today, despite passage of a budget providing pay increases of 10 per cent., and the city faced a further threat of withdrawal of fire protection through wholesale resignations of city firemen.

A blanket resignation, effective April 7, bearing 600 names, was in the hands of the firemen's committee when other members of the force met today to consider the increase of $192 voted by the city council. The firemen have presented demands for a general increase of $300 a year and leaders declared that three-fourths of their number would join in resigning unless the full demand was met.

City officials announced that should the city be endangered by a depleted fire fighting force, state militiamen would be called to man fire apparatus.

Some hope that the strike crisis might be ironed out sprang from the announcement that Mayor Thompson would appoint an arbitration committee, composed of department heads and aldermen.

SAVING OF $715.97.

Work of Chamber of Commerce Department in March.

The freight and traffic division of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, of which A. D. Hitz is chairman, effected a saving to the members last month of $715.97 in overcharges on freight bills, according to a report of H. B. McNeely, secretary of the division.

This represents an increase of more than one hundred dollars in the saving of this department alone over the month of February, when the saving to members made by checking their freight bills against the proper charges as prepared by the freight and traffic division was $604.15.

This increase is due in part to the increasing membership of the chamber, which is enrolling new members at the rate of about 150 a month.

Steamer Bowling Green Sinks.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—The steamer Bowling Green, which plies in the Ohio and Green river trade, sank last night in about thirteen feet of water in Green river, opposite South Carrollton, Ky., according to word received here today. No lives were lost, and little freight was damaged.

It is thought that the boat can be raised without difficulty. The Bowling Green hit a rock opposite the Kentucky shore, and was rather slow in settling, giving everyone plenty of time to get off. The steamer was on her way back to Evansville and had only a light load of freight on board.

DEPORTATION EVIDENCE TAKEN BY COMMITTEE

HOUSE BODY ACTS AGAINST CAMINETTI'S OFFICE.

I. W. W. AND COMMUNISTS

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Evidence in the cases of a number of aliens recently ordered deported and subsequently released was taken from the custody of Anthony Caminetti, commissioner-general of the immigration, today, by the house immigration committee. Papers in cases in which warrants of deportations were canceled also were taken.

The documents were not removed from the commissioner's office, but were placed in charge of a subcommittee consisting of Chairman Johnson and Representative Vaile (Rep., Colo.) and Baker (Rep., Cal.).

From Far West and East.

Many of the cases were from Seattle and the northwest and New York city. Chairman Johnson said evidence had been obtained which convinced the committee that the I. W. W. was allied with the Communist party.

"Alien members of the Communist party," Chairman Johnson said, "are being deported under the ruling of Secretary of Labor Wilson that their organization is one which advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States by force and violence."

Members of the committee contend that alien members of the I. W. W. are clearly deportable for the same cause and they desire to look over the evidence and records.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 1.—The Vanderburg county Labor party will file its county ticket by petition, and not by primary election, it has been announced by Fred Hohenberger, district representative of the party, with headquarters in Evansville. Since using Resinol I have not worn a veil

"I know you will say a veil is smart-looking, anyway, but I wore one because my skin was so blotched and rough I was ashamed of it, till Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap took away all the soreness and gradually cleared my skin entirely. Now I can't bear to wear a veil. Resinol is fine, too, for chapped skins." At all druggists.

UNCONSCIOUS NINE DAYS AFTER FALL OF 35 FEET

LEWIS WILLIAMS, OF INDIANAPOLIS, DIES IN HOSPITAL.

PRISONER IN REFORMATORY

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 1.—Lewis Williams, age twenty-two, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, of Indianapolis, died last night at the Indiana Reformatory hospital here, without having recovered consciousness since he fell thirty-five feet March 22 in an attempt to escape over the wall. William was originally committed here from Indianapolis for larceny June 12, 1915; was paroled January, 1919; received his final discharge a year later, and was recommitted from Ft. TO ATTEND WHEAT HEARING

Lewis Taylor Plans to Represent Indiana Farmers at Chicago.

Lewis Taylor planned today to attend a hearing in Chicago Friday conducted by E. T. Meredith, secretary of the department of agriculture, at which proposals to make changes in the federal wheat grades, particularly as they apply to spring wheat, will be discussed. Mr. Taylor is secretary of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations, and the organization would be interested in the hearing inasmuch as it also is proposed to extend the changes to other grades of wheat more commonly raised in this state.

General secretaries of state organizations in the middle west and bordering states have been asked by Mr. Taylor to attend a meeting in Indianapolis, April 14, at the Claypool hotel, to form an organization whose purpose will be to adopt general working policies for this territory. Secretaries from Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia, and New York, in addition the president, the secretary and the treasurer of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the national organization of the state federations, are expected to attend.

Reports from the state indicate that meetings were held in most townships Wednesday night for the purpose of explaining the live stock tabulated reports being collected by the federation. It is hoped to obtain information from these reports of such a sort that producers of live stock may be advised when best to market their stock in order to keep a steady flow on the market. A few hundred of these reports already have been returned to the general offices.

April Fool! Ha, Ha!

This is an April Fool story, so don't read it. (It probably won't get by the copy desk censors anyway.)

Down goes the cost of living! (That's something like all good April Fool stories should begin.) Fresh eggs, at our January writing, worth 95 cents and $1 a dozen, slipping some since then, have slipped another notch of 2 or 3 cents. Jobbers paid 38 cents a dozen for them, and retailers sold them at 42 and 43 cents, today.

Up goes the cost of living! (This is the April Fool part of the story.) Bituminous coal, sold at so much a ton yesterday, is bringing from 65 cents to $1.50 a ton more today. At least, mine operators, who agreed to the new wage scale yesterday, effective today announced that it would mean an increase in the price of coal ranging between the two figures. And with the increase in the price of coal, think what it will mean to the price of electricity, gas, water, street car service, automobiles, tooth brushes, shoes, collars, hatpins, potatoes, and maybe even eggs. Yep, down goes the cost of living, if you are standing on your head.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Mrs. Mabel Trostle, Despondent, Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Mrs. Mabel Trostle, age thirty-five, attempted suicide Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1005 North Alabama street, by drinking carbolic acid. She was attended by Dr. W. D. Little, 605 Hume-Mansur building, and was sent to the City Hospital. Her condition is believed to be serious.

Motor Policemen Finney and Lansing, who investigated, reported that Mrs. Trostle was despondent following a quarrel with her husband, John Trostle.

$500,000 COLUMBUS FIRE

Four Four-Story Buildings Destroyed in Ohio City.

COLUMBUS, O., April 1.—A spectacular fire in the wholesale district today practically destroyed four four-story brick buildings in Chestnut, between High and Third streets, with a loss estimated at more than $500,000. For a time the fire threatened to spread to two other large wholesale warehouses, but was brought under control.

Occupants of the four burned buildings were the Erner & Hopkins Electrical Company, the Livingston Seed Company, the Davis Cigar Company, and the Simmons Shoe Company.

The fire started from an unknown cause in the basement of the Erner & Hopkins building. Every place of fire apparatus in the city was called out. Two firemen were injured, one seriously.

ALFRED W. CARTER VICTIM

Body Found Along the Illinois Central Tracks Is Identified.

The body of the man found along the tracks of the Illinois Central railroad near Francesville, Ind., early yesterday morning by the crew of a passenger train, has been identified as that of Alfred W. Carter, age eighty-six, who for the last three years had been making his home with his son-in-law, Dr. G. W. Seaton, 3015 North Capitol avenue. Mr. Carter apparently had gone to Francesville without informing his relatives of his intention.

The body will be taken to Danville, Ind., where funeral services will be held at the Christian church at 2 p. m. Saturday.

Mr. Carter was born on a farm in central Kentucky, April 18, 1833. He came to Indiana about 1859. During the civil war he enlisted in Benjamin Harrison's regiment, and served four years. After his discharge from the army he returned to Indiana and settled in Hendricks county, removing to Danville, Ind., from there. Mr. Carter was a retired farmer and interested in several banks.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Harrison, of Carterssburg; Mrs. Burt A. Veatch, of Danville, and Mrs. Mabel Seaton, of Indianapolis.

TOUR OF THE SOUTH

Lower Berths Still Available.

A standard steel Pullman, our own porter and a departure from Indianapolis at 12 o'clock noon over the Big Four Railroad April 12, form a nucleus for the tour of southern historical points, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hinkle.

Oh, Luther! bring Mrs. Traveler a pillow. That's right, now you are comfortably situated for the run to Louisville, Ky.

Arriving at Louisville at 3:30 p. m., we will enjoy a stroll down through the business part of town to the Watterson hotel, where already the tables have been drawn to the center of the main dining room and the chef has prepared a dandy dinner for the Hinkle party.

A theater, and we are off for our car, which is attached to the L. & N.'s New Orleans Limited, departing at 10:15 p. m. Our good-night to you will include the information that the diner will be just ahead and should you care to rise early, or sleep late, you will not be an unexpected guest when you do arrive at the diner.

Morning finds us skimming along, possibly partaking of a good hot plate of cakes, some good bacon and eggs in the diner near Birmingham, Ala. Luncheon will be served on the L. & N. diner, and at 5::30 p. m. we arrive at Pensacola, Fla., our first stop of any consequence.

The San Carlos hotel, Pensacola's leading hotel, likewise are expecting us, and a good dinner awaits you, after which it will be my duty to retire you early, preparatory to a strenuous day sightseeing at Pensacola.

You may be choosing extraordinarily good about 9 a. m., the second day out of Indianapolis, but I'll be on hand to break up this pleasant slumber, for I have the yacht chartered for a day's run out into the bay, the Gulf of Mexico and a stop at Ft. Baranous.

Pensacola has been established as naval winter training headquarters, and a wonderful sight you will see from our little yacht as we dart in and out around the battleships. Oh, daddy! Come look here quick! here is a real for sure submarine, and oh, daddy! look at that blr dirigible. Honest to goodness, daddy, I never dreamed my eyes could see so many wonderful things at once. Look at those hydroplanes and airplanes! Look! Look! Daddy, there's one falling in the sea. These are familiar remarks on the trip out in the bay, for you will see battleships, airplanes, hydroplanes, dirigibles and submarines maneuvering at practice. A landing is made at Ft. Baranous, and the ancient old fort is visited.

We must hurry back now to Pensacola and the hotel, where a good dinner awaits you, after which you are given the liberty of the evening to yourself, our train departing at 10:30 p. m. for New Orleans.

Morning the third day out finds us breakfasting at the St. Charles hotel, that noted old southern hostelry. The day will be spent in visiting historical points of interest and seeing the sights at New Orleans, which include Jackson square and monument, Mississippi river steamboat landing, Napoleon's house, the old haunted house, the old French market and through the creole section. And now we must hurry back to the St. Charles hotel for dinner, because our car leaves at 7 p. m., attached to the Southern Pacific Sunset limited for Galveston.

Oh, Luther; Luther! get the people up quick; we are coming into Galveston, and are already now on the great trestle leading out from the mainland to the islands.

A dandy Harvey house breakfast served in the depot at Galveston puts you in trim for the sights at this island city, which include the great sea wall erected after the destruction of the city in 1900, a dip in the gulf at the bathing beach and the wharves where the ocean liners ply to and fro.

An all night's run and we arrive at San Antonio the morning of the fourth day from Indianapolis. Headquarters will be established at the Gunter hotel, and you must not tarry too long in the dining room, because already the "rubber neck wagon" is waiting for you to take you on a tour of San Antonio and surrounding country. The ancient old Spanish missions will be visited, a trip through beautiful Breckenridge park, and a visit to old Ft. Sam Houston and then the Alamo, where Davy Crockett and his little handful of Americans were finally defeated defending the city against the approaching Mexicans, when their ammunition ran out, the Mexicans swarming in over the wall and massacring the little handful of Americans.

Again we are off over the International & Great Northern railroad for an all night's run to the Mexican border, which will be reached at Laredo, Tex. Genuine sights you will see at this place, where we will rest up for two days and a night before the return trip.

I might say that there is absolutely no danger at this point on the border, and I have arranged to furnish you day passports for a trip over the river to Neuvo in Mexico. This little town is just over the river, and a true Mexican banquet will be served you.

Our return trip includes a stop at Hot Springs, Ark., in the heart of the Ozark mountains, nature's most wonderful healing resort. Here it was that the old nigger mammy said to her husband: "Sam, come on get way from here, hell ain't half a mile away." This, of course, she said after she had burnt her tongue drinking of the boiling hot water.

The expenses for this ten days of real genuine pleasure and healthful recreation are $200 per person, paid in advance, which covers all expenses for the ten-day tour, including meals on dining cars, transportation, hotels, amusements and even the postage stamps necessary to write back home.

Average Stock Prices

The average price of twenty industrial stocks Wednesday was 102.81, up .36 per cent. The average price of twenty active rails was 76.11, off .35 per cent.

Trading on the Stock Exchange Thursday presented the usual preholiday aspect. Pool activity was limited to several of the popular steels, equipments and motors. Sales approximated 575,000 shares.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The impending holidays and uncertainty regarding money conditions over that period accounted in large measure for the dullness and unimportant price changes at the opening of today's stock market. Gains outnumbered recessions, but in no noteworthy instance did the change exceed a fraction of a point. There were indications that the operations of pools and other professional interests in various specialties might be affected, for a time at least, as a result of the action taken by officials of the Exchange yesterday in connection with Stutz Motor.

Trading continued in light volume during the morning and the market became more irregular. Crucible Steel led the reaction of the first hour, declining 9 points to 254 and other steels, equipments, motors and oils fell 1 to 3 points. On Crucible's partial rally and a 4-point gain for General Motors the market improved. Shippings, sugar shares and express company issues also were inclined to strengthen, but steels and oils led another reversal before noon. Call money opened at 8 per cent., that rate also applying to renewals into the coming week.

The market became stagnant during the mid-session, but selling extended to equipments, shippings and tobaccos. Motors and their specialties particularly reflected the absence of recent pool support. Rails were only occasionally quoted but held comparatively firm.

Crucible Steel, General Motors and oils led the gradual rally of the dull final hour, but prices eased moderately as call money rose to 10 per cent. The closing was steady.

RUMORS OF STUTZ CORNER

Board of Governors of Exchange Bars Trading in This Stock.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Allan Ryan Brokerage Company today announced it would purchase any stock of the Stutz Motor Company offered for sale. Trading in the stock on the New York Exchange was suspended by the board of governors, because it was reported Allan A. Ryan, a member of the exchange had cornered 80,000 of the 100,000 outstanding shares of Stutz. This action of the company in offering to purchase any outstanding stock was taken to protect owners against loss, it is said.

The suspension applies not only to trading on the floor of the exchange, but also to private transactions between members outside of the exchange and is without precedent in the history of that institution.

Officials of the Stock Exchange declined to explain or in any way amplify the action of the governing committee, which confined its statement to the bare announcement that further trading would be suspended.

Stutz has been the most conspicuous stock of the last few weeks, rising from 123⅛, its final price on March 6, to 391 at the close of today's trading. The advance has been steady, at daily gains of 10 to almost 30 points.

Approximately 110,000 shares have changed on the rise, or about 10,000 shares more than the entire issue. This is not unusual in itself, as many active stocks are turned over several times in excess of their total issue during an active period, running into several weeks or more.

Stutz is said to be controlled by Allan A. Ryan, head of the banking house of A. A. Ryan & Co. Mr. Ryan is president of the company and active in its management. No statement was obtainable from the Ryan interest other than that they knew nothing of any attempt to "corner the stock, which they said had been available for buying or loading purposes throughout its advance.

Stock Exchange gossip has associated the sensational rise of Stutz with reports that a prominent steel man went heavily "short" of the stock some 200 points under today's record quotation and that he was being "squeezed" by those in control of the property.

There were other rumors that Stutz and several motor specialties dominated by Ryan and his friends were to be taken into a huge consolidation of motor interests in process of organization by one of the leading automobile companies of the country.

The March receipts of live stock, 159,000 hogs, 32,000 cattle, 17,400 calves and 4,500 sheep represented a loss of 12,600 hogs, but an increase of nearly 5,000 cattle, 6,000 calves and 1,100 sheep, compared with the same month last year. The March receipts of hogs were 67,000 smaller than the record for that month and 4,000 larger than the March average for seven years. There were 500 more cattle than ever before in the month of March, and the receipts of calves were more than 5,000 larger than ever before in that month. The receipts of stock for the first quarter of 1920 represented a loss of a little more than 64,000 hogs, 6,000 cattle and an increase of 9,000 calves and 7,000 sheep, compared with the same time last year.

There was a flurry in the late market for hogs on Wednesday, and some of the last sales were 25c higher than the opening, with a few loads of light hogs up to $16.75, the top price, and as high as they sold on Tuesday.

There were not quite 6,000 fresh receipts of hogs on Thursday, a surprise to buyers who had been expecting greatly expanded supplies on account of the suspension of business at the largest live stock market in the world. The subnormal receipts Thursday and the skyrocket finish in the trading of the day before were elements that favored the selling side and they realized a further advance, in extreme cases, 50c.

The good hogs averaging less than 250 pounds sold usually at $16.50, $16.75 and $17.00, against $16.10, $16.35 and $16.50, the schedule prices Wednesday morning, and the heavier grades were listed at $15.00, $15.50 and $16.00, against $14.75, $15.25 and $15.75 the schedule prices for the same sort, on the day before. Light hogs were about 40c higher, and the heavies 25c higher than on Wednesday. The advance in prices of light hogs was reflected in the sales of pigs from $16.00 down, and sows were fully steady, with more sales higher than $13.00; top, $13.50.

Buyers accused of being an accessory in boosting prices of hogs on the late market Wednesday were not implicated in the Thursday trade. When local killers saw the receipts were larger than required they reversed the gear and tried to buy hogs at a discount of 25c in prices from the opening. Several loads were left unsold. The top price here was 40c higher than in Buffalo.

Top Price For Calves, $18.00.

Sales of cattle were not as uniform as they have been heretofore this week. Prices were generally steady for steer cattle but some sales were lower. It is evident that dealers are a little doubtful of the permanency of the recent advance which they attribute exclusively to the tieup in business at the Chicago market. There were fewer choice cattle in the Thursday offerings and this could have affected the interest of buyers to the extent of causing a stricter classification which always means fewer dollars for the owner.

There was more competition in the market for the heifers and cows and prices were strong with Wednesday but the female butcher cattle, except canner cows, are fully 25c lower than they were at the close of trade last week. The market for veal calves was steady with the top price practically $18.00 and the medium kinds were quoted $1.00 lower. The inquiry for feeding cattle is still largely for the lighter grades, to put on grass, and prices for feeders of all kinds are steady.

WHEAT REPORTS SEND CHICAGO CORN HIGHER

ESTIMATED CONDITION LOW, LARGE ACREAGE ABANDONED.

NEW HIGH MARKS REACHED

CHICAGO, April 1.—Corn took a decided upward swing in price today, mainly as a result of bullish estimates regarding winter wheat. A leading expert had figured the winter wheat crop condition as the lowest for this date in more than ten years, barring a slight exception. Besides, his report suggested that the consequent abandonment of winter wheat would amount to the large total of 5,000,000 acres. Opening corn prices, which ranged from ½c to 1¾c higher, with May $1.58¾@1.59½ and July $1.52¼@1.52½, were followed by slight reaction and then by material fresh upturns.

On the advance July and September deliveries went to the highest prices yet on the crop. Heavy buying for houses with eastern connections was a feature. The close was strong, 2¼ to 3¾c net higher, with May $1.61⅝@1.61½, and July $1.54⅛@1.54⅜.

Oats sympathized with corn. After opening ⅜c off to ⅝c advance, including July at 79⅛c to 79½c, the market scored moderate gains all around.

Continuance of the strike of Chicago stockyard employes tended to lift the provision market. Business, however, lacked volume.

In the later trading the strength of grain failed to counterbalance the effect of increased commission house selling. Much of the advance in provisions was, therefore, wiped out.

HIGHER PRICES FOR STEEL PRODUCTS STILL IN EFFECT

Plates Are Easier to Buy—Fewer High Premiums From Buyers—Pig Iron Advances.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Iron Age says: Predictions of easier conditions in steel products are due in part to the volume of business booked at the Steel Corporation prices and in part to prospects for larger output and freer shipments. Yet current buying and selling show no reduction of the higher prices recently paid in ordinary transactions with independent mills.

Practically the only changes are that plates can be had more promptly and that instances are fewer in which buyers urgently offer high premiums to persuade makers to give them prompt material. As independent steel companies one by one open their books for delivery in the third quarter, a test will come of the extent to which the gap is to be narrowed between the high premium levels and the year-old prices of the Steel Corporation. Signs are that the steel producers will take some of the notes of the railroads in payment for car building material, just as the car builders themselves have at other times accepted negotiable certificates.

In the structural field, railroad inquiry looms large. An important sale of the week was 10,000 tons of rim sections to a Detroit wheel manufacturer. The tendency of pig iron prices in most centers is upward. A St. Louis consumer of basic who offered $43 for 6,000 tons of second quarter delivery failed to obtain the iron.

COTTON PRICES SUBSIDE.

Heavy Profit-Taking Cuts Down Sharp Early Advance.

NEW YORK, April 1.—An opening advance of 10 to 21 points on overnight buying orders met a good deal of realizing in the cotton market this morning. There were quick reactions of some 10 to 20 points in consequence, but nervousness over the new crop start was increased by unfavorable weather advices, and the buying continued, with prices soon selling 25 to 45 points above last night's closing figures. All months made new high records, with May selling at 40.00c, but October contracts were relatively firm, advancing to 32.20c, and buying on the weather news seemed to center on the early new crop. Private cables said the sharp advance in Liverpool was due to unfavorable crop advices.

The eastern belt forecast for unsettled weather with showers or thunderstorms was regarded unfavorable, but the market turned easier during the middle of the morning under heavy realizing for over the holidays. Old crop months lost most of their early advance with May selling off to 39.75c, while October declined from 34.25c to 34c, compared with 33.75c at the close yesterday. At 40c for May contracts here this morning, the market was said to be approaching a tenderable basis with some grades in the eastern belt spot markets.

The detailed weather reports, showing heavy precipitation in central belt sections, led to slight rallies, but trading remained quiet during the middle of the afternoon, with prices ruling about 1 to 5 points net higher.

Spot steady; middling, 41.75c.

SIDELIGHTS ON MARKETS

—April 1—

The New York Consolidated Stock Exchange also barred its members from trading in Stutz stock. At the opening several outside houses were making a nominal market, bids ranging from 370 to 380 and offerings from 420 to 425. No sales were reported.

Liverpool exchange will be closed until next Wednesday morning.

Bank of England shows further gold loss of £3,611,000, or about $18,000,000. This presumably reflects additional shipments to New York in connection with paying off Anglo-French loan.

B. W. Snow, crop expert, estimates winter wheat condition 77. against 85.2 per cent. last December.

The New York stock market was considerably a holiday affair.

Dow, Jones & Co., New York—Brooklyn Rapid Transit is to file suit for permission to charge 8 cent fare. House passes McLean bill amending federal reserve act so that federal reserve banks may limit rediscounting privilege of each of the member banks. Governor Harding, of federal reserve board, conferred with local acceptance bankers Wednesday. He says no special significance attaches to meeting. He favors progressive scale rediscount rates. Banking houses of Blair & Company and William Salomon & Company to merge under title of Blair & Company, with authorized capital of $20,600,000 6 per cent preferred, and $10,000,000 common stock. Traders who are short of Stutz Motor will have to pay only 1 per cent. premium for borrowing the stock, according to Article 33, Section 6, of the constitution of the exchange. Italian government has made the Submarine Boat Corporation an offer for the twenty-three vessels it is now constructing at Port Newark yards.

Thomson & McKinnon—New York heretofore has banked on Chicago's surplus funds. Present discount rates indicate the supply is in urgent demand at home.

With stocks of hog products piling up at all western points and no foreign outlet, it is reasonable to expect lower prices. If so then hog market will sympathize. As feeding is already being done at a loss it may follow that country owners of corn will see fit to offer more freely. If this line of thought be correct then the best opportunities are on the selling side. However, the market will be stubborn until receipts overcome demand from industries.

TO CHECK CREDIT INFLATION

Chicago Federal Reserve Bank Raises Loan Rate ¼ Per Cent.

CHICAGO, April 1.—In an effort to check inflation of credit in the middle west and to discourage further borrowing by banks, the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank has increased the rate on loans to the banks secured by bankers' acceptances from 5¼ to 5½ per cent. Other rates were unchanged. The Federal Reserve Bank has lent $306,544,867 to its member banks, the largest amount in its history.

Demand for Electric Goods Exceeds Factory Capacity

NEW YORK, April 1.—Orders received by the General Electric Company in 1919 totalled $237,623,932 compared with $234,134,037 in the preceding year, according to the pamphlet report for the year. The present demand for the company's products is greatly in excess of the factory capacity, the report states. Sales bills were $229,979,983 or $13,164,706 more than in 1918. Unfilled orders at the close of the year were $98,880,000 compared with $80,000,000 at the end of the preceding year.

CANADIAN MILLERS ASK GOVERNMENT CO-OPERATION

Desire Modification of Wheat Rules and Help to Sell Flour Abroad.

OTTAWA, April 1.—Canadian millers today asked the government that regulations of the Canadian wheat board be modified, as the price of flour must be advanced if increased cost of manufacture is to be met.

George A. MacDonald, heading the delegation, said that continued restrictions on flour prices and lack of export markets had brought Canadian mills face to face with a serious situation. He added that vast quantities of flour available in the United States for export complicated the Canadian problem. Closing down of many of the Dominion's 500 mills have resulted in 4,000 men being thrown out of employment.

Scarcity of mill feeds is directly traceable to lack of flour markets, and the consequent decrease in the volume of domestic milling, according to the millers who ask that the government co-operate in inducing foreign buyers to take a reasonable proportion of Canadian wheat as flour.

ORDERS PERMITS HELD UP

Supreme Court of United States Acts in Texas-Oklahoma Case.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Texas was enjoined today by the supreme court of the United States from issuing permits affecting contested oil lands in the Red River valley pending a final decision on the boundary proceedings instituted by the state of Oklahoma.

The court also enjoined both states from removing any of the machinery now used in taking gas or oil from the land, and ordered the appointment of Jacob M. Dickinson, of Chicago, as receiver, to take possession of the lands and property.

The injunction was granted on the motion of the government, which asked to be made a party to the proceedings.

Report Trade Brisker

Trade in Commission row is brisker, dealers say, which is usually the case the week before Easter.

Celery prices are climbing steadily. A car, which arrived Thursday, sells at $6.00 a crate.

The demand for Florida oranges has decreased and more buyers are calling for the California seedless, dealers say.

A shipment of Georgia asparagus sells at $8.00@9.00 a crate.

Seed potatoes continue to advance. A consignment of Early Rose sells at $7.00.

Grapefruit prices are a little stronger, with the top $4.75.

A car of Texas spinach is among the arrivals. It sells at $3.00@3.25 a bushel.

The weekly review of the bureau of markets says: Potatoes made the most important advance in prices during the week. Cabbage and celery were moderately higher. Price changes in apples, onions, sweet potatoes and tomatoes were relatively small. Total shipments were 8,283 cars, a slight increase from 8,101 cars last week, and considerably more than the movement of 6,590 cars shipped the same week last year. The increase for the week was distributed over all commodities mentioned except that the carlot movement of onions was at practically the same rate as last week.

LIVELY DEMAND FOR FISH.

Sandusky Shipments of Perch, Pickerel and Saugers Arrive.

Local dealers say that trade at fish and oyster houses this week has been unusually good, even considering the fact that business is always lively during Holy Week. This year supplies have been good and prices relatively stationary. Among the favorites of the week are perch, pickerel and saugers from Sandusky, roe shad and Maine scallops. Shipments from Sandusky arrived late this year because of the severe winter. Jumbo frogs at 60 cents each are selling well. The oyster trade is dull except for hotels and restaurants.

DOWN ON THE FARM

CONNERSVILLE—The hessian fly's work in Fayette county wheat fields last fall is now seen to be as bad as was feared. It is the belief of conservative wheat growers here that the county crop will be reduced 15 to 20 per cent. by the pest. The same farmers predict that unless the seed corn is tested, the corn crop will be as seriously shortened by bad seed as was the wheat crop by the fly. Seed corn testing is hampered here by the absence of a county agricultural agent. The place is left vacant by the recent resignation of Chester M. George.

JEFFERSONVILLE—A number of local farmers will this year, under the direction of the horticultural department of Purdue University, carry out special work in improvement of seed potatoes which will, it is hoped, result in greatly increased yields. In Wisconsin the methods have resulted in increases of 50 to 100 bushels an acre more than former averages. Special seed plots will be prepared. High grade seed which has first been treated with birchloride of mercury for black scurf and potato scale will be used. Plants will later be sprayed, and before the time for digging the plot will be carefully inspected.

ALEXANDRIA—Farmers in Monroe township owning clover seed are disposing of it at $100 a sack. A local farmer bought one bushel yesterday for $37.50. Owners of the clover seed say that the price will advance more in another month.

The natives had given her a beautiful name, "White Almond Blossom," but Old Thomas, the fisherman, called her Mary. Here, in the far away tropics, she seemed a strange, transplanted flower or a pearl carried by playful seas to a beach sun kissed and mellowed by tropic sunlight. A beauteous hoyden is "Mary," tender, caressful, loving or hating with all the varied bloods that flowed in her veins. Dancing, always dancing, before strange gods, despising the mission girls and their calicoes, dancing, always dancing, flashing eyes that set afire the souls of men that wooed her—until out of the sea HE came, a sot, laggard, drunk, with the grip of sin on his young manhood, and strange was the tale of their wooing.

Delayed Reports Add to French Marne River Statue.

Delayed reports of Indianapolis schools, in the drive for money to be used in erecting the MacMonnies statue on the Marne river, where Germany made her nearest approach to Paris, and to be known as "America's gift to France," bring the total of Indianapolis school contributions up to $1,466.86.

Checks were received Wednesday from Manual Training High School, $70.40; Normal School, Mary Lee Webster, principal, $3.50; school No. 46, $21.66. A report from school No. 15, $25.66, sent in last Friday, was omitted when the list was published.

FLOWER TRIMMED HATS
Suggestive of the Easter season

And what a gloriously beautiful Eastertide it will be with all these richly, deftly colored "flower witcheries" to rival spring's own budding life and beauty.

JUDGE SAYS GRAND JURY DID NOT DO FULL DUTY

DECLARES GAMBLING STILL EXISTS IN MUNCIE.

REPLY IS BEING PREPARED

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MUNCIE, Ind., April 1.—Although the grand jury for the January term of court in its report, returned last night, pointed to improved moral conditions in Muncie and praised Clarence Benadum, prosecuting attorney, for his work, William A. Thompson, judge of the Delaware circuit court, delivered a scathing arraignment of the jury because, he said, it had failed to indict many guilty persons. He said that within a stone's throw of Main and Walnut streets on the public square, three gambling houses flourish, and he also said that other vicious conditions exist in the city. It is thought that Judge Thompson referred to three cigar stores where card games are played for checks good in merchandise. He has often referred to these games as "schools of gambling."

In anticipation of the grand jury's report, Judge Thompson had typewritten his comment. The grand jurors are preparing a reply, in which they say they will "show up" Judge Thompson's charges and the animus back of them. All members of the grand jury are prominent men. Attorneys who have been active in prosecuting recent charges of extortion and misfeasance against Mr. Benadum and Thomas Hiatt, sheriff, and Timothy Owen, justice of the peace, were in court when the grand jury reported.

Forty Indictments Returned.

The grand jury, which returned forty indictments and failed to indict twenty-five persons that it investigated, recommended that the Delaware County Bar Association take action to disbar certain of its members, but mentioned no names. It is said the grand jurors had four local attorneys in mind, these men having been engaged in unlawful practices, according to reports.

"We feel that the moral conditions in Muncie are now much better than at any time since the departure of John Barleycorn," the grand jury's report reads. "Many crimes that heretofore have had their birth and protection, their guardianship and parentage in the law-protected liquor traffic, can now be minimized if officers do their sworn duty.

"We are unanimous in praise of the honest effort of Clarence Benadum (appointed prosecuting attorney to succeed Horace G. Murphy when the latter was sentenced to federal prison last November, after being found guilty of giving offical protection to a swindling gang here) to clean Muncie of the stigma that once branded her, though some of our citizens who are law-defying strike back hard when honest officers do their sworn duty."

This last reference is taken to allude to a recent suit brought against Mr. Benadum and Sheriff Hiatt to oust them from office because of the alleged illegal collection of official fees, the suit having been brought by persons caught in a raid made by the [illegible] on a house here. The case was thrown out of court yesterday. The report continues:

"Policemen, city and county officers should be only honest men. Men whose lives have been tainted with crime, who have been bribed in office, should not be permitted to be public servants."

The grand jury conducted extensive investigations of the operations of "blue sky" stock salesmen in Muncie and the country outside and in its report recommends that a "blue sky" law be passed by the next session of the Indiana legislature. On the subject of disbarring local lawyers, the report says:

"We also recommend to the court and the members of the Delaware county bar the disbarment of certain members who have criminal records. The public's business is not safe when it falls in the trust of such, and this bar knows who its unscrupulous members are. We therefore recommend the court to appoint a committee to bring disbarment proceedings against all such."

Little Stories of Daily Life

For Miss Toodles.

It was the first piece of mail for "Miss Toodles." When the maid answered the bell, the postman asked: "Is there a Miss Toodles lives here? I know that Mr. F. lives here, so I just wanted to make sure."

The maid replied: "Yes, that letter belongs here and you may have many more of them. While Mr. F. is on his trip in Florida he thinks the dog gets lonesome and this letter is for me to read to Miss Toodles."

Keeping Heroism in Check.

Five-year-old Harry was almost sure that his mother would not give him a spanking for it now, for the ice had long ago disappeared, so he said to his mother, "Did you know that my brother Jim is a hero?"

"How's that?" asked his mother.

Jim who is seven spoke up, "Oh, it was nothing much mother," and his chest swelled with pride. We ran off and went skating one day last winter. Harry he gets out on some thin ice and is afraid to move for he was sure that the ice was going to break. I just skated out to him, picks him up in my arms and skates to the bank with him."

COTTAGE OWNERS' PLAN.

Favor Legislation to Protect Summer Resorts, Lakes.

Lake cottage owners and summer resorters in northern Indiana are fostering a plan to enact legislation placing all lakes of ten or more acres under the supervision of the state conservation commission. They hope thus to preserve the lakes from commercial seizure, wastage and to encourage the recreational and other possibilities of Hoosier waters.

Flowers That Will Last

ARE HERE FOR EASTER

ON THE China and Artware floor you will find a most beautiful display of realistic flowers. Roses and dahlias are in great abundance, and the simpler flowers are there, too, such as clover, straw flowers, bachelors' buttons, and cherry blossoms. The flowers are so lifelike that in most cases only the touch can detect the difference between them and the real. They seem to drip with the morning dew and breathe the atmosphere of spring. And, the beauty of these flowers is that they will last and continue to bring sunshine to your rooms as long as you desire.
