SANITY IN AMERICA IS THEME OF WOOD

Better Government, Strong Foreign Policy, Square Deal for All Urged by Candidate.

BEGINS TOUR OF INDIANA

[By W. H. Blodgett, Staff Correspondent of The Indianapolis News.]

EN ROUTE WITH LEONARD WOOD IN INDIANA, April 26.—Urging sanity in the conduct of government affairs and pleading for justice to all, Leonard Wood today began a speaking tour in Indiana to place before its voters his views in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Good crowds and an enthusiasm that pleased him greatly greeted him in addresses during the morning at Danville, Greencastle and Brazil. The general started the day's activities by going from Indianapolis to Danville and Greencastle in an automobile, then proceeded to Brazil over the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern traction line, and went from there to Terre Haute by automobile.

At Terre Haute the candidate's party was met by a reception committee from Sullivan, headed by John C. Chaney, formerly representative in the congress from the Second district, and all proceeded on a special traction car to Sullivan, where a speech was on the afternoon program. From there the general was to go to Vincennes for a brief address and proceed to Evansville for an address tonight. After the latter meeting Gen. Wood was to go to Pittsburg, but he will return to the state Wednesday, resuming with a morning address at Bluffton in preparation for the state's preference primary for presidential candidates on May 4.

Rain Does Not Deter Crowd.

A large crowd heard the general at Danville, although it was early in the morning and a slight rain was falling. The crowd stood and listened to him intently, frequently interrupting with cheers. Otis E. Gulley, Fifth district chairman, introduced him. The general said:

"What we are working for today in America is government of the people, for the people, and by the people; absolute democracy; courts untouched by politics, independent of all outside influence; no class legislation, a square deal for everybody, a strong but not quarrelsome foreign policy, friendly relations with all nations, the building up of arbitration before resorting to force, bringing women into politics whole heartedly and without any reservations, pushing forward American business at home and abroad, building up a sound public school system with an adequately paid teaching force, industrial justice, a more careful regulation of immigration to protect American labor from the hordes which will come with the official declaration of peace and to Americanize the newcomers, the development of a strong American marine, the fostering and upbuilding of agriculture so as to stop the drift from the farm to the city.

"In short the building up of the best possible conditions in this country by doing everything we can to improve the general conditions under which the people work and live. It is not enough to let people live; we must help them to live. We must establish thrift and industry in this country nationally and individually. Industry means production and production, we must say. There is nothing to worry about if we pull together. Destructive criticism is useless. The things that are done are past and exist only in lessons for the future. There is no use carping about the expenses of the war. We regret them but they, with a part of losses were the result of our unpreparedness. We must take the lesson to heart and not let such things occur again. The past is past. Our great concern is with the future."

Flags and Banners Appear.

Along the road between Danville and Greencastle, the people were out to see General Wood go by. Coatesville and Fillmore were decked with flags and banners. At the edge of Greencastle a long line of automobiles loaded with prominent Republicans was waiting to escort the candidate to a beautifully decorated stand from which he spoke in front of the Courthouse. The reserve officers training corps of DePauw University in full uniform stood at attention when General Wood drew up. The sight pleased him greatly and he complimented them on their fine appearance.

"I am glad to have an opportunity to say something to you about the issues of the day," the general said in his address. "But before doing so, I want to pay my respects to the veterans of the civil war, the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Loyal Legion, the Spanish-American veterans, and to the large number of ex-service and American Legion men who are here. I am here in uniform myself and I shall be in uniform on all occasions during this campaign. I have no apologies to make for the uniform of the United States, nor have I any excuses or explanations to make for appearing in it.

"There is a disposition now to point the finger of scorn at the uniform. The man who does so or the man who apologizes for the uniform, or for wearing it, is one who insults the memory of every one of those fine Americans who lie in the soil of France; is one who insults every man who has worn the uniform from the beginning of our struggle for independence at Concord down to the last skirmish of the world war. Let's have done with these attacks upon the uniform for purely political purposes.

Praise for the Uniform.

"You will find generally that the men who make them are the men who, though they have had ample opportunity to put on the uniform in time of danger, have always found something else to do. These men of the Grand Army, the Loyal Legion, the Spanish American war veterans, and the ex-service men, and members of the American Legion have served their country and you in time of danger. You should respect them and by your manner of receiving them should show them they have gained an opportunity for advancement through service. Respect the uniform and you will gain respect for our nation at home and abroad. It is our country's uniform.

"Just as the Stars and Stripes is the flag of our country, and not of a state, so the uniform is the uniform of our country and not of an individual. There are certain people who attack the uniform, but you can be quite sure they are not the kind of Americans we want. They represent a dangerous element, dangerous in that they seek to build up the prejudice of racial and religious groups for their own personal advantages.

"We went into this war," continued General Wood. "We did our duty; our

GOVERNMENT WINS ANTHRACITE CASE

DISSOLUTION IS ORDERED

Decision Requires Railroads to Dispose of Stock Ownership in Coal Concerns.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The federal government today won its anti-trust suit against the Reading company and affiliated coal companies in one of the so-called anthracite coal cases.

By a vote of four to three the supreme court of the United States sustained the government's charges that the companies violated the "commodities clause" of the interstate commerce act and ordered the dissolution of the companies.

The Reading and Central of New Jersey railroads, the court decided, must dispose of stock ownership respectively of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company.

Three Justices Dissent.

Justice Clarke gave the decision for the majority, while Chief Justice White, in a minority opinion in which Associate Justices Holmes and Van Devanter joined, said the minority was in favor of accepting the opinion of the lower court.

The decree dissolves the combination of the Reading Holding Company, the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company. The decision was a complete victory for the government, the court denouncing the combination of the railroads and the coal companies and declaring that the great power obtained had been used to restrain commerce.

Justice Clarke, in concluding his opinion, said:

"It results that the decree of the district court will be affirmed as to the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, the Lehigh &New England Railroad Company, the Lehigh & Hudson River Railway Company as to restrictive covenants in the mining leases with respect to the shipping of coal, as to the dissolution of the combination between the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company and the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, maintained through the Reading Company and the Central railroad of New Jersey.

Individuals Not Included.

As to the Wilmington & Northern Railroad Company and as to individual defendants, the bill will be dismissed without prejudice. As to the Reading Company, the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and the Central Railroad Company, of New Jersey, the decree of the district court will be reversed, and the cause remanded with directions to enter a decree in conformity with this opinion dissolving the combination of the Reading Company, the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, existing and maintained through the Reading Company, with such provision for the disposition of the shares of stocks and bonds and other property of the various companies held by the Reading Company as may be necessary to establish the entire independence from that company and from each of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, and also such disposition shall be made by the decree of the stocks and bonds of the Lehigh and Coal Company, now held by the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, as may be necessary to establish entire independence between these two companies to the end that the affairs of all of these now combined companies may be conducted in harmony with the law."

Conclusions of Minority.

"By the opinion," Chief Justice White said in the dissenting opinion, "now announced this action of the court below, in so far as it directed a dismissal, is reversed and virtually the full relief prayed by the government is therefore granted. We are unable to concur in this conclusion because in our opinion neither the conventions as to the Sherman act, nor the reliance upon the commodities clause except to the extent that in the particulars stated they were sustained by the court below, has any foundation to rest upon. We do not state at any length the reasons which led us to this view because the court below, composed of three circuit judges, in a comprehensive and clear opinion, sustained the correctness of the action which it took and also demonstrates the error in-

FALLING WALL CRUSHES DECATUR FIRE FIGHTER

WALTER NOACK DIES; WATCH MAN SEVERELY BURNED.

PLANT LOSS ABOUT $250,000

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

DECATUR, Ind., April 26.—Walter Noack, age forty-five, a local fireman, was fatally hurt when he was crushed under a falling wall of the Schaefer-Saddlery Company, which was destroyed by fire early today, and George Deener, age seventy-five, night watchman at the plant. It is a local hospital suffering with severe burns. It is believed that the property loss will amount to about $250,000. Noack died shortly after he was removed to a hospital.

Deener was found unconscious on the second floor, where he had been fighting the flames alone until the fire department arrived. As far as known no other men were in the place at the time.

It is believed the fire originated from an explosion of gas that followed an attempt of Deener to light it. The aged man had made an effort to put the fire fighting equipment of the plant in operation and was overcome by gas fumes. The establishment was modern and well equipped, and was doing a heavy volume of business. Insurance to the amount of about $200,000 is said to have been carried by the Schaefer Company.

CAMPAIGN ENTERS THE 'SLIPPERY' ERA

HOGAN MAKES STATEMENT

State Manager Confident in Last Week of Canvass That Wood Will Carry Indiana

BURNQUIST TO SPEAK.

Governor J. A. Burnquist, of Minnesota, will make a speech in behalf of Leonard Wood at English's opera house tomorrow at noon. The meeting will last from 12:15 to 1 o'clock. It is expected that the Governor will have something to say about Minnesota, which Wood carried, and about the attitude of the delegates to the national convention from Minnesota. Charles W. Moores will be temporary chairman of the meeting and Mayor Charles W. Jewett permanent chairman. The Governor will be introduced by Mayor Jewett.

The "slippery" stage of the Indiana presidential preference primary campaign has been reached, and it is expected to remain "slippery" until the primary election May 4, after which the figures will disclose what effect the "smoothness" has exerted.

"Wood is slipping, Harding is gaining," is the word given out at Warren G. Harding's Indiana headquarters with portentous accent.

"Wood is slipping, the drift is to Lowden," is the summary industriously sounded by the forces of Governor Frank O. Lowden.

The tripartite effort to create a condition of "slipperiness" was evidently set on foor at three headquarters at practically the same time.

It is the sort of campaign that is usually directed against a leading candidate, for unless confidence in him can be shaken, there is little hope for secondary candidates, so if Leonard Wood wishes to accommodate the other candidates he will begin slipping right away and continue to slip until after May 4.

The Drift of the Slipping.

The outlook is that the principal contenders for presidential preference are Leonard Wood and Hiram Johnson, as it has been in other primary states, and the reports indicate that the "slipping" going on is a shift away from Harding and Lowden because numerous Republicans who had regarded them with favor, have become convinced that neither can carry the state and that the issue for the Republicans is to choose between Wood and Johnson, preferring the one most in accord with Republican principles and most likely to command the support of the national convention.

Harding and Lowden workers have made no secret of their desire for an uninstructed delegation from Indiana. That desire caused them to welcome the coming of Johnson. They were thinking about the povision of the Indiana law requiring the state convention to instruct for any candidate who receives a majority. They figured that with four in the field, no candidate could get a majority. But they did not count on the popular demand that the Indiana delegation support the candidate receiving a plurality, even if no candidate receives a majority, for otherwise it would be difficult to maintain party harmony in the state.

Old-Timers Upset.

This demand for support of the plurality candidate has considerably upset the old-time politicians because they are finding that many Republicans will not stand for the game of preventing a majority for any candidate and defeating instructions but, seeing that the principal contest is between Wood and Johnson, will choose between them, rather than run the risk involved in the old-time politicians' scheme.

Harry G. Hogan, Indiana manager for Wood, when asked about the "slipping," said:

"The last week of the campaign finds us confident that Wood will carry the state. The opposition is circulating 'bear' stories that Wood is slipping. If they were real serious and meant what they said they would

ROAD COLLAPSE RESULT OF GROUNDHOGS' WORK

OPENINGS IN PLACES MORE THAN TEN FEET DEEP.

LOUD REPORT BRINGS FEAR

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 26.—Believing that an earthquake had occurred, residents of Waymansville in Jackson township ran from their homes Saturday night, after a terrific report and a trembling of the ground. It was found that the earth under the Jackson-Bartholomew county line pike in front of the home of Henry Fiedderjohn had been cracked open for more than seventy-five feet, in some places being merely caved in, while in others, large openings were left, ten feet or more in depth.

Investigation disclosed that groundhogs had burrowed in the ground under the road and that the openings made by them extend much farther than the parts caved in or cracked, along the road and around it. Frank Harden, Bartholomew county, superintendent of roads was called to the scene and repairs will be made at once on the road, which is impassable for a considerable length.

It is believed the groundhogs still are at work under the road and in other places in the vicinity and efforts will be made to stop their destruction. No one was passing along the road when the breakup occurred, although it is a highway much traveled

Leak in Levee Is Found.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

VINCENNES, Ind., April 26.—Great excitement prevailed in the vicinity of Emison, five miles north of Vincennes, when a leak in the Wabash river levee was discovered by a fisherman early today. While the alarm was being sounded the levee fell, filling the hole and probably preventing a heavy loss to farmers of the district. About 100 men worked most of the day repairing the levee. It is believed that the break was the result of a groundhog's work.

PROPOSES CONTROL OF AMERICANIZATION PLAN

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS PROGRAM.

NATIONAL CO-OPERATION AID

ATLANTIC CITY, April 26.—The board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in convention here, today proposed that the chamber assume supreme control of Americanization work in the United States, co-ordinating and directing the efforts of organizations now engaged in philanthropic and patriotic activities. To finance this undertaking it was proposed that adequate collections of money be made and disbursed by a "standing committee on American ideals" under rules prescribed by the board of directors.

The national council unanimously approved the board of directors' proposal.

The proposal was approved by the board of directors and submitted to the national council, composed of representatives of more than 1,300 trade and commercial organizations.

Bureau of Information.

A bureau of inquiry and information concerning enterprises operating nationally "in philanthropic and patriotic fields" would be authorized, and on recommendation of this bureau financial support would be given such enterprises or withheld.

The board would authorize the committee on American ideals to create a central council composed of executives of philanthropic and patriotic organizations, with the purpose of eliminating wasteful philanthropic effort.

If put into operation the plan would fix responsibility for all Americanization efforts on the United States Chamber of Commerce, the directors said and contributors to such efforts would be requested by the chamber, to support only such organizations as the chamber approved.

A LOT OF NEW NEIGHBORS

LAST DAY REACHED BY SAN REMO CONFERENCE

ARMENIA MANDATE PUT UP TO UNITED STATES.

SHARP NOTE FOR GERMANY

SAN REMO, April 26 (by the Associated Press).—The supreme council began its work with the intention of finishing its remaining labors today. The council this afternoon dispatched a note to Berlin demanding immediate execution of the treaty, especially those clauses regarding disarmament, indemnities and coal deliveries, threatening to extend the occupation of German territory if the demands were refused. The premiers had important decisions to make, chiefly those concerning the form in which the note to Germany setting forth the decided position with regard to execution of the treaty of Versailles, should be drawn and the Adriatic settlement.

The French and Italian delegations expected to leave San Remo by night. The British train has been ordered to be ready tomorrow morning.

Adopts Compulsion Clause.

The council adopted the Franco-British declaration with regard to Germany after inserting a clause declaring its readiness to take all measures, even the occupation of additional German territory, if necessary, to assure the carrying out of the treaty of Versailles.

Adoption gave rise to some discussion. Premier Nitti opposed military measures. Premiers Millerand and Lloyd George, however, showed the Italian prime minister the necessity of considering such an eventuality. Former Minister Hymans, of Belgium, and Baron Matsui, Japanese ambassador to France, joined them in this point of view.

Terms of Declaration.

The joint declaration will begin by setting forth that an increase of German army can not even be considered so long as the terms of the treaty are CLONROCHE, County Wexford, Leinster, Ireland, April 26.—Three hundred men attacked the police barracks here today and rifle and revolver firing was incessant for two hours. SUGAR SITUATION UP.

Refiners Go Into Conference With Howard Figg.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—More than a dozen sugar refiners met here today with Howard Figg, assistant to the attorney-general, in charge of the high cost of living campaign, to discuss ways and means of increasing the sugar supply.

The conference was behind closed door and in advance of the meeting, Mr. Figg would not add to his previous statement that the purpose was to discuss "the whole sugar situation."

It was understood, however, that the question of sugar prices, if taken up at all, would be discussed in its relation to the training of adequate stocks to meet the public demand.

GRAIN PRICES SOAR.

Rye and Corn Lead Way in Advances at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Soaring prices in the grain markets today were accompanied by a renewal of speculative buying on a large scale. Rye led the way with a rise of 10 cents a bushel. Corn followed with an ascent of 5 cents or more for all deliveries, touching at one time $1.72¾ for May, as compared with $1.67¼ at the close Saturday.

Big export business in breadstuffs formed the basis of much of the buying, as did continued unseasonable weather.

Before the day ended an extreme advance of 6½c a bushel had been scored in the July delivery of corn, which touched $1.66½, with May at $1.73½. Reports were current in the last part of the session that owing to the unusually sharp upturn in values, British and French export interests temporarily had stopped buying.

TO ABANDON POLAR SEARCH

Roald Amundsen Is Soon to Leave Nome for Seattle.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Radio messages received today by the navy department from its station at Cordova, Alaska, indicate that Roald Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, intends to abandon his effort to reach the North pole.

The messages stated it was understood that Amundsen, who arrived last week at Anadyr, Siberia, intended to take the steamer Victoria at Nome for Seattle. It was said that the time of his departure would depend on the time of his getting clear of ice in Siberia.

The radiograms from Cordova were in response to a message from the navy department asking if that station was in touch either with the Russian wireless station at Anadyr or with Amundsen's ship, which is caught in the ice in Siberia near Anadyr. They were summarized by the navy department as follows:

STRIKERS MAY LOSE B. OF R. T. MEMBERSHIP

ACTION PLANNED BY OFFICERS OF LOCAL 374.

OUTLAWS PLAN TO FIGHT

One hundred seventy-eight members of Local 374, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen who have affiliated with the Indianapolis Yardmen's Association, the organization which is conducting the switchmen's "vacation" in this city, will stand trial on charges preferred by the local at its meeting Sunday in the Saks building. The union officials will attempt, through these charges, to declare the association members no longer members of the B. of R. T.

The other Indianapolis local of the B. of R. T., Local 261, does not plan to file any charges, according to Edward Stewart, president, but probably 200 members are expected to become automatically expelled because of nonpayment of dues in advance as required by the bylaws.

Regards It as a Joke.

Frank J. Peters, president of the Yardmen's Association, took the action of Local 374 as a joke, saying that the men had violated no part of the constitution of the local and that as long as they paid their dues they could not be expelled. In case the local union authorities should convict the defendants of misconduct and actions prejudicial to the union, he said, they would still have an appeal and if that failed they could take their case to the national convention floor.

Fight for Insurance.

Because of the money which the men have paid on insurance policies with the brotherhood, Mr. Peters said, they will contest any action to declare them not members and also will see to it that none of their privilege is withdrawn by nonpayment of dues which are $2.75 a month. Trials under the charges preferred in Local 374 will not be held before ten days, according to the bylaws, it was said.

"We are still standing pat," Peters said, in referring to the strike situation here. "A break is expected soon, but it will not come in our ranks. We have everything tied up and something will happen soon, I believe. Our committee in Chicago is awaiting developments there and we are keeping in close touch through it with national headquarters. Our men are as

CROWN HILL AGREEMENT

After officials of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Indiana had protested that the proposed widening of Massachusetts avenue, between Pennsylvania and Delaware streets, would mean an expense of $150,000 to the K. of P. lodge, the board of public works today modified the resolution to provide for resurfacing of the street only. The board previously had planned to have the street widened ten feet to conform with the rest of the street, which is sixty feet wide. Had these plans been carried out, the K. of P. building would have to move back its basement wall and change its heating and ventilating machinery.

Massachusetts Avenue Work.

Under resolutions confirmed by the board, Massachusetts avenue will be resurfaced from Pennsylvania street to Cornell avenue. The board also confirmed a resolution for resurfacing Capitol avenue, between Georgia and Mobile streets.

Forty-second street will be vacated from a point about 1,600 feet east of Michigan road, under a resolution confirmed by the board. This action was taken after Crown Hill cemetery had agreed to deed and to dedicate to the city a hundred-foot roadway which

RAILROAD STRIKERS PLAN ORGANIZATION

LAST APPEAL TO BE MADE

Delegation Goes to Washington to Ask Board Again to Take Hand in Strike.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Edward McHugh, leader of the railroad strike in the New York district, announced today that strikers had gone into session in Jersey City to organize a new union to include the 15,000 members of forty-two locals throughout the country whose charters, he said, had been revoked by the four big brotherhoods.

Talks of Bringing Suit.

McHugh added that the members of the big four, who, he asserted, had been expelled, planned to bring suit against the brotherhoods to recover insurance premiums of $2 a month. He said he was not able to compute at the present time the sum involved.

Asserting that the new union would have a membership of 8,000 from the New York district alone. He said that it would not be divided as were the brotherhoods into different groups of workers but would embrace them all. He said also that the union would have "no high salaried officers like William G. Lee, with a salary of $15,000 and expenses,' and would elect its officers by referendum.

McHugh's announcement was made after he had stepped from the hall in which the strikers were meeting. The strikers, he said, were then at work drawing up a constitution for the new organization.

Fear Blacklist.

Fear of a blacklist which would bar them permanently from employment appeared to be one of the driving forces today behind the steady break of the railroad workers' strike reported by railroad officials. Although no hint of such a plan has come from the managers, possibility of its adoption was discussed freely by some strikers after they learned at a mass meeting last night that nine locals of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in the New York-New Jersey district had lost their union charters by action of brotherhood officials.

Officials of the lines continued today their optimistic statements of last week that traffic was fast returning to normal and that the effects of the strike would soon wholly disappear.

In a last effort to induce the railroad labor board to take a hand in the strike, a delegation of five strikers went to Washington today. The delegation will appeal to the board to provide for the restoration of their jobs without loss of seniority rights.

MANY LOSE CHARTERS.

Total of Fifty-One Revocations Announced by W. G. Lee.

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Charters of fifty-one local lodges of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen have been revoked to date for violating the rules of the brotherhood by participating in the unauthorized strike of switchmen, W. G. Lee, president of the organization, announced today. The fifty-one lodges had a membership of nearly 18,000. Fully one-half of this number have been loyal and their memberships will be protected by transfer to other lodges, Mr. Lee said.

STATEMENTS IN CONFLICT.

Chicago Rail Managers and Strikers Make Claims.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Developments in the strike of insurgent railroad workers in the Chicago district today were confined to issuance of statements by the railroad managers and strikers. The managers said 1,892 men were at work yesterday and that freight traffic was 90 per cent. of normal. The strikers asserted that the number of men the railroads said were at work was less than one-fifth the normal number, that the industrial situation rapidly was growing worse, with a number of plants facing shutdowns because of lack of coal and that because the railroads could not continue using high-priced men as substitute switchmen, a compromise would be forced sooner or later.

Elsewhere in the central and far west a gradual return to normal freight movement was reported.

$500,000 LOOT BARED BY CHICAGO SHOOTING

POLICE FIND DATA AFTER KILLING MAN IN FIGHT.

STOLEN GOODS UNEARTHED

CHICAGO, April 26.—Seven hundred robberies, whose loot is believed to total more than $500,000, were cleared today when policemen examined the effects of Harry J. James, "silk mask burglar," who was killed last night after "shooting up" the Town Hall police station, wounding two patrolmen.

In James's private warehouse, where truckloads of rare art works, oriental rugs, jewels, typewriters, adding machines and dozens of other articles were found, police uncovered a card index in which the 700 robberies were listed, with the loot obtained.

Another section of the card file listed "prospects," and the wealth of data about each indicated that James had used an electric light inspector's card, found in his pocket, to gain entry to the houses.

A third file listed "gold coast" automobiles, with description, license number, owner's name, and "fair," "good" or "swell" to indicate the valuation.

In a secret chamber in the basement were 150 oriental rugs appraised by an expert at $40,000.

When James was killed he was found to be wearing a suit belonging to former United States Senator William Lorimer. The suit was one of forty stolen from a tailor shop.

WOMAN'S SKELETON IS FOUND IN ATTIC

SLIPPERS GIVE A CLEW

An old-time mystery, caused by the disappearance in Indianapolis about twenty years ago of Carrie T. Selvage, sister of Edward L., William J. and Joseph W. Selvage, was solved today by the finding of the skeleton of a woman in an attic of a brick building at 1333 North Capitol avenue.

The skeleton, which was clothed in an old blue dress, was found in a sitting posture in a corner of the attic by Dan Jones, 421 South Warman avenue, who, with a group of workmen, was preparing to place a steel beam in the building.

Slippers Identified.

The dress and a pair of felt slippers, which was found at the side of the skeleton, were identified by Joseph and Edward Selvage as the ones worn by their sister when she disappeared.

The building originally was the Indianapolis Orphans' Asylum and later was converted into the Union States Hospital. In recent years it had been used as a rooming house and is being converted into a garage.

Was Patient at Hospital.

Miss Selvage had suffered a nervous breakdown and was a patient in the hospital when she disappeared. Following her disappearance a country-wide search was made by relatives and large sums of money were spent in the effort to find her.

Coroner Robinson, who examined the skeleton, said that so far as he could determine there was no evidence of violence.

Dr. Robinson said it was practically impossible to determine whether the woman was carried to the attic by some one or whether she went to the place of her own accord and starved herself to death. Her skull had fallen to the floor and the bones of the upper part of the skeleton were leaning against the wall.

Disappeared in 1900.

Miss Selvage disappeared from the Union States Hospital at the North Capitol avenue address on Sunday morning, March 11, 1900. She was wearing a dark blue flannelette wrapper and black felt house slippers, and it was through the finding of these that the skeleton was identified.

"There is no doubt that the skeleton is that of my sister," said Joseph W. Selvage. "The house slippers found are the ones that were given to her as a Chirstmas present on December 25, 1899, and the dress tallies exactly with the one she was wearing at the time she disappeared."

Mr. Selvage, Coroner Robinson and detectives are at a loss to explain why the body or skeleton had not been discovered sooner.

The building is of unusual construction, and is the place where the skeleton was found—a small corner about three by four feet—apparently was a second attic and it is believed that few if any persons knew it was there.

Brothers Searched Building.

Mr. Selvage said he and his brothers searched the building the day after he learned of his sister's disappearance and that today was the first time he knew of the second attic. Entrance to the place led from a door near the top of a stairway leading to the first attic. Mr. Selvage said he had been through the building a number of times and never saw this door before.

On the morning Miss Selvage disappered she had returned to her room with her private nurse after having been for a short walk in the vicinity of the hospital. She asked the nurse to go to the kitchen and get her some

SONORA REVOLUTION IS BIG CARRANZA PROBLEM

GENERAL FLORES IS DRIVING SOUTH THROUGH SINALOA.

DEFECTION IS SPREADING

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Advices from Mexico City, including reports to the government, appeared to be in sharp conflict with a summary of the situation as to the Sonora revolutionary movement made public in Mexico City. Army officers studying the situation were frank in declaring their opinion, based on government advices, that the revolution was more serious than the Carranza officials were willing to admit.

These officers attached much importance to the southward drive of General Angel Flores's revolutionary forces through the state of Sinaloa. They also saw no probability from their advices or unofficial reports of an early attack in force by the federal forces on the revolutionary forces in Sonora itself.

Federal Delay Costly.

This delay in moving against the Sonora rebels was regarded as costly to the federal leaders. To move the forces available in the State of Chihuahua through the easily defended passes into Sonora, it was said, would be dangerous, not only because of the size of the force at hand, but also because of the increased activity of Villa along the government's exposed lines of communication.

Flores, who has occupied the capital of Sinaloa, is reported to be some distance south on his way to the State of Nayarit. His movement has been facilitated by the use of motor trucks which he was said to have used a few days ago to rout a small cavalry detachment sent to check him.

Reports of defections by federal groups at widely separated points, some of which have been conceded by the Mexico City authorities, have been supplemented by declarations of General Salvador Alvarado, Sonora agent here, that many leaders who have been in revolt for years have joined the rebel cause.

Notables are Mentioned.

Notable among them was Genevevo de Lao, one of the unconquered Zapatistas group who was said to have supplied the escort which enabled General Benjamin Hill to escape from Mexico City about the time General Obregon disappeared from the capital.

A new revolt in southern Vera Cruz was mentioned among reports. Rebels there have cut the railroad from the north to the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

No report had been received that American warcraft ordered to west coast ports had arrived. Topolobampo has been occupied by the rebels.

Assurances by Governor De La Huerta of Sonora that care would be taken by the rebels to safeguard the lives and interests of foreigners announced by General Alvarado and erroneously credited to the Mexican embassy, were reiterated in a telegram from General Flores.

FIND DEATH GUN IN LAKE NEAR HOUSE OF TRAGEDY

Turtle Lake (N. D.) Authorities Unearth Clews in Murder of Eight Persons on Farm.

TURTLE LAKE, N. D., April 26.—Seven of the eight persons found murdered here Saturday were killed with a shotgun and the eighth died after being struck on the head with a hatchet, it was decided at the coroner's inquest last night.

Jacob Wolf, on whose farm the tragedy occurred, had a large wound through the right side; Martha Wolf, age three, had been struck in the head with a hatchet; Mrs. Wolf and four other daughters, and Jake Hofer, age thirteen, hired boy, had gunshot wounds in the head. Several also had been struck with the hatchet.

Powder marks and burned hair and skin indicated most of the shots had been fired at close range.

Several clews were discovered by authorities. A double-barreled .12-gauge shotgun was found in a swamp one mile north of the Wolf farm. The stock had been detached and was floating on the water. Footprints in the mud indicated a man had approached and thrown the gun into the water.

Another clew was a pair of blood-soaked overalls found in the kitchen of the Wolf home. A hatchet was found in the kitchen.

John Brekken, a farmer, testified that he had seen two men walking rapidly from the direction of the farm shortly after noon Thursday. The crime is believed to have been committed either Thursday or Friday.

Wolf was believed to be well-to-do and his property estimated to be worth between $25,000 and $30,000. He had often told friends he kept a large amount of money in a small safe at home. Authorities are working on the possibility of theft as a motive for the crime.

Emma, eight months old, the only member of the Wolf family to escape death, is being cared for by neighbors. She was found lying in a cradle beside an open window.

WABASH RIVER FALLING.

U. S. Weather Forecast Predicts It Will Be at Flood Stage Wednesday.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 26.—The Wabash river has fallen two feet in the last forty-eight hours and showed a stage of 19.2 feet this morning. The local United States weather bureau forecast predicts that it will be down to flood stage by Wednesday night, after having been far above the mark on account of recent rains.

Ohio Passes Forty-Foot Mark.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 26.—The Ohio river here continues to rise as the result of the heavy rains of last week, but the crest of the flood is expected here some time tomorrow with 41 feet or more on the government marks. The stage today was 40.4 feet, a rise of nine-tenths of a foot since yesterday morning. This is 5.4 feet above the danger line.

Lower Green river is expected to continue rising during the next three days. The lower Wabash river is still rising, the stage at Mt. Carmel, Ill., Monday being 32.4 feet, or 7.4 feet above the danger line.

Teams Swept From Road.

WASHINGTON, Ind., April 26.—White river is slowly receding here after flooding thousands of acres of river bottom lands, damaging wheat and oats and delaying corn planting. While returning home from Washington yesterday with two teams and road wagons, Robert and John Overbay were caught by the swift current of the river, sweeping over the road leading to the wagon bridge, four miles west of here, and were swept off the roadway and carried downstream a short distance. They succeeded in saving the teams, but the wagons were lost.

White River Crest at 28.6 Feet.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SHOALS, Ind., April 26.—White river came to a stand here Sunday at 28.6 feet, the highest mark since 1913. About forty houses are surrounded by water and the families have been forced to move. Thousands of acres of river bottom land will not be in condition for plowing for several weeks.

Still Rising at Vincennes.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

VINCENNES, Ind., April 26.—The Wabash river today reached 19.7 feet and is still rising.

PROBE OF VETERAN'S DEATH

James Believed to Have Suffered Fatal Injuries in Quarrel.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MARION, Ind., April 26.—The county coroner is investigating the death of George James, age seventy-three, a civil war veteran, who died Saturday evening at the hospital at the Marion branch of the National Military Home. It is alleged that injuries suffered during a quarrel with David C. Wonderly, age seventy-three, also a veteran of the civil war, on Sunday, March 21, caused his death. Both men had been confined to the home hospital since the trouble.

According to Bert Fowler, sheriff, the quarrel occurred at Thirty-eighth street and the Big Four railroad tracks. James was talking to some children when Wonderly is said to have accosted him. The men exchanged words and then clinched. It is said that both men fell to the ground. Wonderly now is in a critical condition.

Two Girls Killed by Train.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

CHARLESTON, Ill., April 26.—Ida May Curl, age fifteen, and Bessie Louise Curl, her sister, were instantly killed here yesterday when they were struck by a Big Four passenger train. The girls were standing on the tracks and were reading postal cards, evidently not hearing the approaching train.

Seek Phone Girl's Slayer.

PONTIAC, Mich., April 26.—City and county authorities today were without definite clew as to the identity of the murderer of Miss Vera Schneider, nineteen-year-old telephone supervisor, found early Sunday morning, apparently choked to death, on the porch of an unoccupied dwelling.

YOUTH, AGE 18, CAUGHT WHEN HE RUNS FROM SCENE.

OTHER MACHINES STOLEN

Chauncey Sears, age eighteen, 911 North Tremont street, an alleged automobile thief, was caught Sunday night by Clarence Ovitt, 301 West Washington street, after, it is charged, he had wrecked a stolen car at Senate avenue and Washington street. The automobile, which belonged to Robert E. Romans, 106 North Elder avenue, was stolen earlier in the evening at Capitol avenue and Washington street.

Sears lost control of the machine and drove it into the sidewalk and into a cement wall. He jumped out and ran but was overtaken by Ovitt, Sergeant Houston and Patrolmen Brooks and Metevier, who arrested him, slated him on a charge of vehicle taking.

Colored Man Arrested.

Robert Whitesides, colored, 708 Torbet street, was arrested Sunday by Detective McMurtry and was slated at the city prison on charges of burglary and vehicle taking. He is accused of breaking into the salesroom of the Conduitt Auto Sales Company, 417 Torbet street, where it is alleged he stole an automobile and took some change from the cash register. The automobile was recovered later in the rear of a feed store in North West street.

WOOD AT CINCINNATI; PRAISES THE FARMER

CANDIDATE URGES IMPORTANCE OF AGRICULTURE.

THE DRIFT TO THE CITIES

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Leonard Wood, in his campaign for the Republican nomination for President, spoke to a large audience in Cincinnati Saturday evening.

He emphasized the importance of agriculture and the farmer. "We have another question which is of nation-wide importance, in fact there are few questions more important, and that is the problem of American agriculture," said General Wood. "In all great crises of our national history, the farmer has stood pre-eminently as a typical American. The typical farmer in our country has been the man who owns the land which he tills himself with the help of his sons and a few hired men. The farming population is the great stabilising force of this nation. The farmer is never an agitator; he is always steady; he believes in God; he reveres the Constitution and the sane and sound policies and traditions which are the foundation stones of this republic. The farmer is the steady fixed point about which the uneasy mass moves, but he is never shaken by it.

Drifting to the City.

"Today however, the men and women are drifting from the farms to the city and we must do everything possible to reverse that condition. If our agriculture ever drops to the point where we become an importing nation our whole military and naval policy will be entirely changed and we will have to have the biggest navy in the world in order to keep the sea routes open for the free importation of food. We must do everything we can to make life more attractive on the farm, build up better lines of communication, better roads, give the farmer schools as good as those in the cities, encourage the building up of the proper kind of co-operative organizations among the farmers. I do not mean the vicious kinds that we find in certain sections of the northwest. But I mean the right kind of co-operative associations among the farmers, both for buying and selling, in order to bring them nearer to the consumer and to insure their receiving their fair share of the consumer's dollar.

Spirit of Discontent.

Today there is a very broad-spread spirit of discontent on the part of the farmer, a feeling that he is not getting his fair share of the consumer's dollar. There is a feeling that his service during the war was not adequately recognized. The farmer sent two million men to the war, he sent his women in full proportion into all lines of war activity, and yet, short-handed, and under every sort of handicap, the farmers of America rendered magnificent service in feeding not only the army of the United States, but the army of Britain and of France and in large part of the other allies. It is well for us to remember that if the American farmer laid down or struck the war would have been lost by the allies.

"Agriculture is the very backbone of our wealth. It is the main source of our original wealth, and the agricultural population is the great source of stability in this country. We want to do everything we possibly can to aid the farmer."

Our Basic Principles.

In closing, General Wood said: "Our government must rest upon sound basic principles:

"First. Universal opportunity for education so that the people, the governing body, may vote intelligently.

"Second. Governmental responsibility for justice in the broadest sense in maintaining inalienable rights of the minority and each individual composing it.

"Third. A real opportunity for every citizen to better his conditions in life and of those depending upon him, by thrift, economy, industry, initiative, skill and ability. There must be security for the fruits of enterprise. We must not establish a condition under which the rewards of industry and idleness, ambition and indifference, intelligence and stupidity are the same.

"Lastly, there must be no discrimination based on religion, race, occupation, wealth or poverty, which results in adding to or taking away from any man's opportunity to participate in the government of his own country by vote. There must be government under the Constitution."

WRITERS' AND ACTORS' JUNKET.

250 Gather at Atlantic City to Prepare Republican Plans.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 26.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was the principal speaker at a gathering of 250 writers and actors here Saturday night. The gathering, which was headed by Owen Johnson, Richard Washburn Child and Porter Emerson Browne, came here on a special train from New York. Other speakers at the dinner were former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, and Governor Morrow, of Kentucky. Job Hedges was toastmaster.

"The gathering is not to boom any particular candidate for the Republican nomination for President," said Mr. Child. "I can not emphasize this too strongly. A few of those attending the gathering have expressed their unwillingness to commit themselves as being Republicans, but they asked us if they might come along, and, of course, we told them that we would be only too happy to have them.

"The expenses of the junket are being paid by special Republican subscription and this comes through the national Republican committee."

When asked to state the specific purpose of the gathering, Mr. Child replied:

"The object is to discuss Republican policies and bring together Republican authors who will likely be helpful to the Republican party in the next few months."

OUT OF POSSIBILITY RANGE.

Taft Replies to Candidacy Suggestion of Chicago Man.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Former President William Howard Taft, in a letter to David Herriott, a Chicag postoffice superintendent, made public by the latter, said his attitude toward the peace treaty had put a proposal by the Chicago man that he consider entering the Republican national convention as a candidate for the presidency "out of the range of practical possibility."

Mr. Herriott, in a letter to the former President, written the day after the senate rejected the peace treaty, said that the senate's action meant to him a call again to you "to lead this nation as you have never led it before."

"I am glad to know that you feel as I do in respect to the treaty," Taft's reply read. "Your suggestion of a remedy I value as a compliment, but not as a possible solution. My attitude toward the treaty has put such a proposal out of the range of practical possibility."

Wood Files in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 26.—Leonard Wood, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, filed his name here Saturday with the state board of elections, to be submitted to the state-wide primary June 5. Supporters of Hiram Johnson notified the election authorities that his application had been forwarded.

Certificate Issue Approved.

The public service commission Saturday authorized the South Bend & Northern Indiana Railway Company to issue $21,968 of 7 per cent. car trust certificates. The money is to be used as a part payment for ten one-man cars for South Bend.

For Graves of Soldiers.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SULLIVAN, Ind., April 26.—The Sullivan Community Club has bought five silk flags and will send them to Dan Frew, former member of the club, who with his family has sailed for Scotland and who will visit the French battlefields this summer. These flags will be placed on the graves of the five Sullivan county boys who are buried in France.

"BIG FOUR" BLAME FOR RAIL STRIKE IS FIXED

WAGE QUESTION NOT ISSUE

NEW YORK, April 26.—Responsibility for the strike of railroad switchmen which originated in Chicago was placed on "a new organization that appears to have for its purpose the destruction of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union," according to a statement issued here by representatives of three of the "big four" brotherhoods.

It was signed by L. G. Griffing, assistant grand chief, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; T. R. Dodge, assistant president, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; P. J. McNamara, and George K. Wark, vice-presidents, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. These men are assistants to the presidents of their respective brotherhoods and are clothed with authority, it was explained, similar to that of the president when detailed to act in specific cases. Their jurisdiction extends all over the United States and Canada.

The statement was issued, the signers said, in order that there may be no misunderstanding regarding the strike and to make clear the position of the four organizations which have for years represented the men engaged in this service.

Injected the Wage Question.

The question of wages was not involved, the statement said, but it was a demand for the reinstatement of the leader of the proposed new organization.

"After the strike was instituted," it continued, "the leaders of the new organization then injected the wage question for, as we believe, the sole purpose of deceiving the yardmen throughout the United States in order that they might the more successfully promote the 'one big union' idea, evidently believing that in these strenuous times nothing would appeal so strongly to the men as the prospects for an increase in pay."

The statement declared the necessity for improvement with regard to pay was realized, but "at the same time the same officers and a large majority of the members of these organizations are law abiding citizens, and therefore disapprove without reservation the hasty action of the men who not only disregarded the provisions made by the government of the country for dealing with such questions, but violated the law of the organizations concerned. They also, continued the statement, regret that the action by the men has seriously inconvenienced the public and plunged the men into a situation which may result in loss of position and previous standing with the companies.

"Violation of Organization," Laws.

"However," it added, "inasmuch as they left the service without authority, the action must be regarded as in violation of the laws of the several organizations concerned and makes impossible any effective organization effort in their behalf.

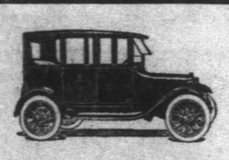

"It therefore appears that the next step in the matter must be taken by the men themselves, and when again in the service, should any grievance exist, same can be referred to the properly accredited committee of the organization to which the man or men having the grievances belong, and same can then be considered on their merit, and under the provisions of schedules in effect."

Yesterday and Today

In 1909 we had 25 employes, today we have more than 250 names on our pay roll. In 1909 we occupied 17,500 square feet of floor space. Today we are using approximately 55,000 square feet of floor space. In the short span of eleven years this store has developed from the smallest downtown department store to its present size. We are not boasting—we state these simple facts as indisputable proof of our claim that we undersell.

GRADUAL TIGHTENING IN MONEY MARKET SHOWN

FEDERAL DISTRICT REPORT

CHICAGO, April 26.—There has been a gradual tightening of the money market; rates are firmer and the banks throughout the district are borrowing freely at the Federal Reserve Bank, reflecting the abnormal demand for credit in all lines of business, according to the report issued by the bank and covering the Seventh federal reserve district.

The traffic situation is seriously affecting business. While the car shortage has prevented a free movement of finished goods and has also embarrassed manufacturing facilities by conrecipt of materials, fuel and supplies, the interruption of transportation by strikes has brought about a more acute condition. Collections have slowed down during the last sixty days, but this is explained to some extent by the inability to deliver goods after they have been sold and by the conditions of roads in the country districts.

Practically every bank replying to a general inquiry reports that there has been a greatly increased use of credit by farmers as well as by manufacturers. This situation is particularly aggravated in some of the agricultural districts where farmers have not been able to market their grain because of bad roads and inadequate cars and where elevators are filled to capacity.

Sift Loan Applications.

One of the encouraging developments in connection with the loan situation is the increasing disposition on the part of leading bankers of the district to sift loan applications. Customers are being asked to explain specifically for what purpose they are seeking credit extensions, with a view of determining whether the amounts can be pared down.

There is an almost insatiable demand for everything produced, and even the abnormally high production costs seem to be lost sight of in an effort to go ahead and supply the requirements.

With this volume of business causing a strain on the resources of the nation, necessarily failure on the part of any factor in the situation to properly function increases the demand for credit and adds to the financial burden resting on the banking system.

The practical shutting down of the stockyards at Chicago, throwing out of work 44,000 employes, and the closing down of 80 per cent. of Detroit industries dependent on central station for power, together with the cessation of operations by numerous other midwest plants, afford specific illustrations of what actually did occur.

Face Serious Interference.

Manufacturers for some months have been experiencing a serious interference through transportation irregularities and a shortage of labor and raw material. Whether this transportation inadequacy is due to the poor physical condition of the railroads or a record-breaking tonnage, or both, does not alter the fact that business, already handicapped by inefficiency of labor and other factors, is compelled to realize on the products of its industry or borrow more liberally at the banks.

Motor trucks have been pressed into use wherever possible, and yet the transportation facilities of the country are proving inadequate. The automobile industry is compelled to drive 20 to 50 per cent. of its output to sales agents.

Obviously the high level of prices and the shortage of available raw materials cause, it is estimated, double the amount of capital or credit for a given volume of trade. This is a big factor in the loan item, not only in the country districts, but in the manufacturing centers scattered all through the middle west.

Illustrating this is the instance of a large pig iron user who applied for a line of credit far in excess of normal borrowings at this time of the year.

Labor and Material Shortage.

Shortage of labor and raw materials, vital factors in the industrial situation, show no signs of an early improvement. Estimates of the shortage of labor run from about 10 to 25 per cent., no lines being exempt. Particularly is there a shortage of common labor, although, of course, in some lines, there is a shortage of skilled labor also.

Another important consideration in the situation is the abnormal shifting of labor.

The labor questionnaire covering March, including representative industries throughout the Seventh federal reserve district, shows an average decrease of 4.5 per cent. from February in number actually employed on the last full day of the month, and a decrease of 9.8 per cent. compared with March last year. The average percentage of full capacity employed in March was 75.1 against 77 in February, 1920, and 78.3 in March a year ago. The average pay roll disbursements in March showed an increase of 5.1 per cent. more than February and an increase of 12.9 per cent. over March, 1919. There is a shortage of labor now against a surplus a year ago.

While a special investigation of retail trade in various lines develops the fact that the public, more particularly the wage earning or laboring class, is still spending freely, a few points, principally the larger cities in the middle west, report indications of a halt or a show of conservatism. Grocery, dry goods, jewelry and furniture concerns report a tendency to buy the highest priced goods. There is, of course, some saving.

Luxuries or Semi-Luxuries.

On the whole the country districts continue to report the liberal buying of articles in the luxury or semi-luxury classes. Several grocery houses report that a number of their staple items which usually have found a ready market, particularly among the working classes, this year are finding a very limited demand, whereas the higher priced articles and what is termed "fancy" groceries are in heavy demand.

Careful investigation among the leading canners in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin reveals considerable recovery by the canning industry, which felt seriously the competition caused by the dumping of the surplus stocks of the war department on the market at much less than the cost of production, especially tomatoes.

The chief difficulty in this industry, as far as the future is concerned, is the decrease in acreage in all states excepting Wisconsin, and more especially in Michigan and Indiana, devoted to the production of vegetables and other products usually canned. This decrease is due to the inability of farmers to compete with the prices paid for labor by manufacturing concerns, and also to the high price obtainable for field corn and other products.

The general condition of the soil and crop prospects seem to be favorable. The season, however, has been delayed by excessive moisture. Farmers have not been able to start spring plowing, as a rule. The heavy fall of snow in April damaged some crops in certain parts of the district, but this was in no wise general. At the same time this white covering was very beneficial to the wheat in the ground.

Use Labor Saving Machinery.

One benefit of the effect of this shortage of farm labor, however, is the increased use of labor saving machinery in agricultural pursuits. Makers of this machinery report a good demand and say that its use will go a long way not only toward alleviating the labor shortage, but in intensifying production. Undoubtedly, however, acreage is below normal because of farm labor shortage.

Not So Sure About Her.

[Houston Post]

"I saw your wife this morning, old chap," remarked Jimson. "She didn't look very fit."

"She isn't; she's mourning the loss of a diamond necklace," said Blenkins sadly.

"Why don't you advertise a big money reward and no questions asked?"

"Well, I could manage the cash all right, but I doubt my wife's ability to fulfil the rest of that contract."

THE FRANKLIN CAR

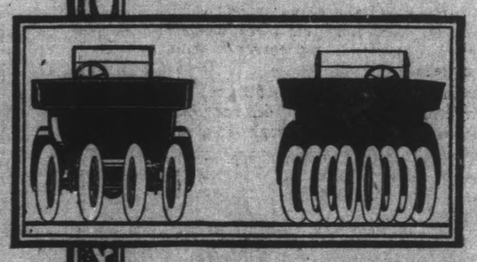

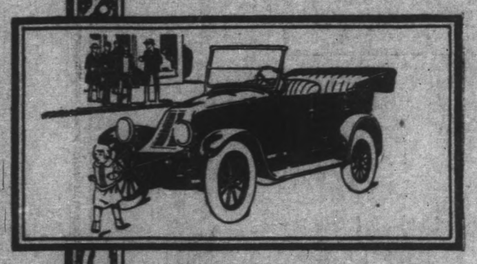

Most fine cars in America are literally dragging around 1500 pounds of unnecessary weight.

The average heavy and rigid car would require a cumbersome gasoline tank twice the size of the Franklin's, to go the same distance with one filling.

The heavy and rigid car needs twice as many tires as the Light Weight Franklin to go the same distance.

This actually happened in Detroit. The Franklin is easy to move—hence requires less fuel to move it.

The Light Weight and the Flexibility of the Franklin Car Enable It to Give Better Results at Less Cost

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires
50% slower yearly depreciation
(National Averages)

TO FRANKLIN OWNERS there is nothing remarkable about these results, because they are based on owners' figures. And the figures are no more unusual to one who knows the Franklin Car than these facts of its road-ability:

New York to Boston and return (458.8 miles) in 12 hours, 5 minutes—
Indianapolis to Syracuse and beyond (832.6 miles) in 22½ hours—
Cincinnati to Cleveland and return (553 miles) in 15 hours, 45 minutes—
Boston to Syracuse and return (693 miles) in 24 hours, 20 minutes. Woman driver—
New York to Montreal (398 miles) in 9 hours, 59 minutes—
Waterloo, Ia., non-stop, dirt road record (865.4 miles) in 24 hours.

1. Where is the best place to observe nature?

The place to observe nature is where you are; the walk to take today is the walk you took yesterday. You will not find the same things; both the observed and the observer have changed; the ship is on another tack in both cases.

2. Why is the porcupine a stupid animal?

The sharper the struggle, the sharper the wit. Our porcupine, for instance, is probably the most stupid of animals and has the least speed; it has little use for either wit or celerity of movement. It carries a death-dealing armor to protect it from its enemies, and it can climb the nearest hemlock tree and live on the bark all winter.

3. Do birds ever fly very high in the air?

On one occasion I saw a line of fowls, probably swans, going northward, at such a hight that they appeared like a faint, waving black line against the sky. They must have been at an altitude of two or three miles. I should never have seen them had they not crossed the precise spot on which my eye was fixed.

SECOND TRIAL SET MAY 17

Request for Reduction of Mrs. Gossett's Bond Is Denied.

The second trial of Mrs. Anna Mary Gossett, age twenty, on a charge of murdering her husband, Omar Gossett, has been set for May 17, by Judge James A. Collins in criminal court. Mrs. Gossett was tried recently but the jury failed to agree on a verdict, six members voting for conviction and six for acquittal. Mrs. Gossett is in jail. The early date for the retrial of the case was set when her attorneys asked that her bond be reduced from $5,000 to $2,500 in order that she might be released, pending trial. The bond was not reduced.

GOVERNMENT SHOE SALE.

Five Hundred Pairs Sold in Twenty Minutes at Columbus.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 26.—Five hundred pairs of government army shoes were sold in twenty minutes here Saturday. Automobiles were parked for three blocks up and down the street before the sale opened at 6 a. m. The rush was so great that the self-serve plan was adopted, the buyers selecting their goods and paying as they left. It is thought that about 300 attended the sale. The shoes were sold at $1.50 a pair.

Ratifies Trade-Mark Protection.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Peru has ratified the international convention for the protection of trade-marks, signed at the fourth international congress of American states at Buenos Aires, the state department has announced. Fourteen American republics now have ratified the convention and one has adhered to it out of the twenty that signed. An international bureau for the northern group has been established at Havana and a similar bureau will be established for the southern group at Rio Janeiro, when two-thirds of the states of that group ratify. The Havana bureau is functioning for both groups until the southern bureau is established.

CHARLES A. NICHOLS DEAD

Michigan Congressman Is Stricken When at Dinner.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Representative Charles A. Nichols, of Detroit, collapsed at his home here last night when at dinner with his mother and died within a few minutes. Death was said to have been due to heart disease.

Mr. Nichols was elected to the congress from the Thirteenth Michigan district in 1914, having served previously as secretary of the Detroit police department for several years. He was unmarried and was forty-four years old.

Until stricken, Mr. Nichols appeared to be in his usual good health. It was said the body would be taken to Detroit for burial.

Mr. Nichols, a Republican, was chairman of the committee on census and is a member of several other committees.

Women's Coats Priced Appealingly Low for Quick Disposal

The reason for this unheard of low price, is the adherence to our strict policy of never to hold over wearing apparel from one season to another. Women who are not in need of a coat for present wear, will follow in the path of prudence and economy by purchasing a new coat for next season. From present indications prices are not showing a tendency to decline, but rather, are steadily rising.

How much should I give to make this a better world?

A BUSINESS man filled out his income tax report.

It showed an income so large that his tax was 53%. And his total gifts to church and charity for the year were $148.

Think of it—thousands spent for luxuries and pleasure for himself; and $148 to leave the world a little better than he found it!

Most of us do better than that; but not so very much better.

—less than we spend for daily papers
—less than a local telephone call
—less than a third of the day's car fare
—less than 3 cents a day

No wonder that 80% of the ministers of America are paid less than $20 a week. No wonder that the church hospitals turn away thousands of sick people a year. No wonder that China has only one doctor for every 400,000 people. No wonder that every church board and charity society is forever meeting deficits, forever passing the hat.

It isn't because we are selfish; it isn't because we don't want to help. It's just because no one has ever put up a great big program to us, and asked us to think of the work of the church in a systematic businesslike way.

The Interchurch World Movement represents the united program of thirty great denominations. They have surveyed their whole task; no business could have done it better.

They have budgeted their needs; no business could have a more scientific budget. They have united to prevent the possibility of waste and duplication. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

And they come to the men and women who love America—to you—this week, asking you to use them as the channel through which a certain definite part of your income can be applied to make this a better world.

Only you can determine what part of your income that should be. The chart printed here is intended merely as a suggestion; it represents a scale of giving of 6%—or less.

Six per cent of your earning power; 15/16ths of your life for your own family needs, and 1 16th for your fellow men—is that more than you ought to give?

It's a good time right now to answer that question. We're passing through the world just once; how much better is the world going to be because you passed through?

THE LAST WEEK

One week from tomorrow the Republicans of Indiana will be called on to express their preference as to presidential candidates. General Wood comes into the state today to plead, not for himself, but for sound policies, law and order, and settled government. Later will come Senator Johnson to speak for policies which he will urge as sound, but which have the approval of William Randolph Hearst, who is violent in support of Johnson in his California campaign. Senator Harding and Governor Lowden will also be heard from. These men, of course, have nothing in common with Johnson.

But the best chance of rebuking and defeating this Hearst invasion is by voting for General Wood. It is hard to think that the Republicans of Indiana will follow the leadership of Hearst, a Democrat, and give their indorsement to a candidate favored by him. That would be something decidedly novel in Republican politics. It should not be forgotten that a vote for Johnson is a vote for class hatred and race antagonism, a vote against the position assumed by a large majority of Republican senators on the peace treaty, which they voted to ratify, but which Johnson and a few other bitter-enders voted to reject.

The men who have been using the California senator to defeat Wood must by this time realize that they are playing a very dangerous and desperate game. It is easy to let loose the forces of unrest, but not so easy to restrain them. A vote for Johnson would be a vote against Taft, Hughes, Root and Indeed against all the truly representative Republicans, who are for the treaty with moderate reservations, and in favor of Hearst who was charged by Theodore Roosevelt, speaking through Elihu Root, with being very largely responsible for inflaming the mind of the assassin of President McKinley. When the Republicans of Indiana go to the polls on May 4 they should remember that Hiram Johnson is the candidate of William Randolph Hearst. Nothing more than that should be needed to decide them against him.

OLD AGE CIRCUMSTANCES

One of the reasons the switchmen gave for needing more money referred to the necessity for putting by something for the time when paying work is no longer possible on account of old age. Many railroads have retirement pension systems under which old employes are taken care of, but others have not, and practically all wage earners are obliged to consider their old age as a matter of personal business, and to make such provision for it as they can. The American Bankers' Association has published the result of a survey that sheds light on the widespread American tendency to let the future take care of itself, to live only for the moment, hoping, if there is any thought at all of the future, that luck will somehow provide ease and comfort in the evening of life. The following is vouched for by the association as the actual life experience of 100 men:

At age 35: 5 have died; 10 are wealthy; 10 are in good circumstances; 40 have moderate means; 35 have saved nothing.

At age 45: 16 have died; 3 are wealthy; 65 are self-supporting but without resources; 16 are no longer self-supporting.

At age 55: 20 have died; 1 very wealthy; 3 are in good circumstances; 46 are self-supporting, but without means; 30 are dependent on children, relatives or charity for support.

At age 65: 36 have died; 1 very wealthy; 3 are wealthy; 6 self-supporting by labor; 54 are dependent on children, relatives or charity for support.

At age 75: 54 are dead; most of these left no estate; 3 are wealthy; 43 are dependent upon children, relatives or charity for support; 95 per cent. of these will not have sufficient means to defray funeral expenses.

"In spite of all preaching, economy and thrift are not common qualities," is the comment made on this report. However, it by no means tells a complete story. Take, for instance, the forty-three men who at the age of seventy-five are dependent upon their children for support. How many among these men scraped and pinched and denied themselves many things, including savings to cover the idleness enforced by the disabilities of old age, in order to provide an education for their children? Certainly a man who has devoted his energies and money to giving a good start in life to four children may not be said to have made no investment to insure him against want in old age. The discovery that at the age of forty-five approximately six men in every ten are self-supporting but without resources is, however, not far from the conclusion of almost any man who will take the trouble to go over the careers of men with whose lives he is familiar. At this age men are just beginning to realize that their lives are well over half gone and that their active earning power is approaching its maximum. Fortunate, indeed, is the man who at that age can show substantial provision for his later days, and who has had to work so hard for his reserve that he can not be persuaded to part with it. To active but improvident men of forty-five, who still have ample time to provide for the future, this report should carry a very profitable lesson.

JOHNSON IN NEBRASKA

If the matter of choosing a presidential candidate is ultimately in the hands of the majority who hold their Americanism above class prejudice or alien sympathy, Senator Johnson's victory in Nebraska should not help his candidacy. As the returns are analyzed it becomes more apparent that his success was due to the votes of that sort of radical represented by the Nonpartisan League, and to the numerically large pro-German element. He had the backing of the organized radicals in the campaign and his vote was heaviest where that group had shown evidence of strength. The German vote, apparently, went to him solidly. Some precincts known to be German he carried without an opposing vote. Ordinarily, this support would have gone to Hitchcock and had so gone for years. Johnson made enough of an appeal to draw the German element from its traditional and closely held party allegiance.

A primary success made possible by the votes of those who are not in sympathy with the spirit and the institutions of the country wherein they live and have their being may be gratifying to Senator Johnson, but it will not further his candidacy with the body of the people. The majority, we say with Vice-President Marshall, are not primarily members of factions, alien sympathizers or Reds, but Americans who approve of the institutions under which they live and who hold no allegiance except to the country that shelters and supports them. This majority can not be kept by all the trickery of politics from exercising a controlling influence in the primary and the election. It will not give its support to any candidate who appeals directly or indirectly to alien or class prejudice, and it will be suspicious of any candidate who, whether he makes any appeal or not, draws the votes of professed anti-Americans of any stripe.

The situation in Montana emphasizes Senator Johnson's attraction for the radical mind. The Nonpartisan League is making headway in that state. Its leading spirit and political adviser is Wellington Rankin, who is also a zealous Johnson worker and credited with conceiving a bit of tricky political strategy that may be an important factor in turning the state for the California senator. Primary victories obtained by such means and with such support are not without significance but they do not, if there is anything in democracy, signify success for the candidate who temporarily benefits by them.

THE EUROPEAN PROBLEM

Gradually the European problem is being worked out. It is announced that the British and French premiers are in entire accord in regard to the policy to be pursued toward Germany, and that they will shortly make public a declaration on the subject which, as Mr. Lloyd George says, "covers everything." These conclusions will, it is believed, be approved by the Italian premier. Also the premiers have agreed to establish the independent republic of Armenia, which the United States on Saturday very promptly recognized. The new state includes all of the present Armenia, and extends some distance east into the Caucasus, including parts of the provinces of Kars, Erivan and Elizabethpol, and the southern part of the province of Tiflis. Erivan is to be the capital, and it is in that city that the present de facto government is established. The Armenian republic will contain 26,000 square miles of territory and a population of about 2,000,000. Whether Armenia is as large as it should be, whether its boundaries are strategically sound, and whether it has sufficient access to the sea is by no means clear. It is admitted that the territory is rather constricted, but the theory was that it was as large as the people were capable of administering and defending. But the state might have been more easy to defend had it been made larger. However, this question does not seem to have been definitely answered, as President Wilson has been asked to arbitrate the difference as to boundaries, and to accept a mandate. Armenia, it should be added, will have the support of the league of nations.

So some progress is being made, slow, it may be, but perhaps as rapid as could be expected. With the Fiume problem about to be solved, Armenia established and the allies in agreement—when they seemed likely to fall out—as to Germany, there is some reason to be encouraged. We think that there will be general approval of the following statement made by Premier Nitti:

Peace must be brought back to all Europe and Europe given back to work. We must make peace at once and everywhere, or we are fated to the direst catastrophes. There is only one means to attain this result—conquered and conquerors must be made one.

We say that there will be general approval of this statement, but only on the understanding that conquerors are not to be converted into conquered, as such men as Keynes propose. To make conquered and conquerors one on the basis of injustice might bring a temporary and fevered peace. But no peace can have any of the elements of permanence that is not founded on justice and righteousness. If Germany can not pay all that she ought to pay, and it is admitted—was admitted in the treaty—that she can not make compensation for all the wrong she has done and the loss which she has inflicted, then there must be a reduction of the bill against her. But there should be no presumption indulged in her favor. The ends of justice must, as far as possible, be met. But it is necessary that peace be established everywhere, and that men get back to work.

GREED AND PRICES

Senator Capper, of Kansas, by his speech in the senate Saturday, seems to have stirred the department of justice to action, although it was announced last week that the campaign against extortionate prices had been abandoned. The senator said that conclusive proof of profiteering on a large scale could be found in the margin of profit of great corporations, and declared that it was notorious that the profits of these corporations had never been larger or their "greed more insatiable." He charged that the speculation in cotton and cotton goods had been "open, flagrant and notorious." The spread, he said, between the price of cotton goods to the consumer and the farm price of cotton had been shown to be 1,500 per cent. In one year alone, according to this authority, the gross income of American corporations rose from $35,000,000,000 to $84,000,000,000. Of these corporations some are earning anywhere from 20 to 200 per cent. The papers have printed announcements of stock dividends running as as high as 700 per cent. Senator Capper said that the Standard Oil Company of Indiana had increased its capital from $1,000,000 to $30,000,000, and had declared a stock dividend of 2,900 per cent. The National Candy Company had increased its earnings over 1915 by 545 per cent. Burns Brothers, the largest retail coal dealers in the country, had increased their profits from 23½ cents a ton in 1916 to 40 cents a ton. And the earnings of the American Ice Company had increased 283 per cent. in the last four years.

There have been many attempts to explain the high price of shoes. Senator Capper showed that the American Hide and Leather Company had earned three and one-half times as much as in 1914; that the profits of the Central Leather Company last year were double those for the same months in the year preceding, and that the profits of the Endicott-Johnson Shoe Manufacturing Corporation rose from $2,114,430 in 1915 to $9,791,580 in 1919. These are but a few specimens. But sugar should not be overlooked. The senator said:

At this moment the most brazen challenge we have had in this saturnalia of greed comes from the gamblers in sugar. A corner has evidently been formed right under the eyes of the department of justice. The canning season raid is on. For years the sugar interests have annually and openly and shamelessly robbed American housewives during the canning season.

The attorney-general has, said the senator, been setting mousetraps, when he should have used beartraps. And in the face of this showing congress is proposing to put a tax on sales to raise a bonus that should not be granted—thus still further widening the margin within which these men may operate. Perhaps one ought not to be surprised at this exhibition of greed, but it is surprising that supposedly shrewd and able business men should not realize that this is the worst sort of business. Men of their class talk much of the dangers of inflated credit, enormous wages, and expanded currency, and yet they are by their greed doing all they can to hinder the process of adjustment, and to perpetuate the unrest of which they talk so fearsomely.

THE INTERCHURCH DRIVE

Thirty co-operating Protestant denominations began a financial drive yesterday and will conclude next Sunday. An attempt will be made to pledge $336,777,572. This is the financial aim of the interchurch world movement, which is described as one of the churches, by the churches and for the churches. "Its object is to enable the Protestant churches of the United States to contribute their due share toward the evangelism of the world by means of co-operation," says an official announcement. Under its constitution the movement can not have anything to do with any movement to promote organic union among the churches. For the present those who are behind this campaign are content to let each denomination exercise control over its own policy. But there is a feeling that while the churches may retain their individuality, they can work in harmony to reach the goal to which all aspire.

The $336,777,572 will be spent on home and foreign missions, education, Sunday schools, ministerial salaries and pensions, and hospitals and homes. The average annual wage paid ministers is $937, so it is small wonder young men are not entering the ministry. They may be consecrated to the cause, but they can not live without means.

The appeal is being made to non-church members on a business basis. An eastern authority recently declared that the greatest factor in business life today is religion and that the business man's real security is the righteousness of the people of his community. People who have made advancement have been Christian in faith. One medical missionary in India or China may be the means of saving thousands of lives in America by checking a disease at its source. The interchurch world drive appeals to church members because they believe in religion. It may appeal to the nonchurch member because he will decide it is good business.

TIPS

Some time ago the United States department of labor conducted an investigation in twenty-six cities and twenty states to determine the average amounts given in tips to hotel and restaurant employes daily. Data were supplied by 153 hotels and 258 restaurants. The government does not vouch for the correctness of the figures as it is believed that the estimates are too low. In Chicago the hotel and restaurant association declined to give any information. This led the bureau representatives to suspect that the tipping evil is worse in Chicago than in New York.

In Indianapolis it is shown that the average daily tip of a hotel bellman is $1.47 and the highest for one day amounted to $2.67. Hotel maids average daily only 14 cents. Omaha with 11 cents is the only city with a lower average. The highest daily average was 20 cents. Porters had an average of 13 cents here. Waiters showed an average of $1.46, the high point being $2.86.

Bellmen receive in wages an average wage of 65 cents a day; maids, 84 cents; porters, $1.27, and waiters, $1.17, all with meals and lodgings. The bureau concludes that the public is paying about two-thirds of the salaries of these hotel and restaurant employes through tips, except the maids whose tips make up at least half of their earnings.

THE HYPHEN AGAIN

"The audience applauded the speaker's denunciation of England." Thus closes a dispatch from Terre Haute, telling of an address made by Patrick H. O'Donnell in behalf of the candidacy of Hiram Johnson.

There was a war, although many seem to have forgotten it, during which America and England were associated together in the job of whipping the Germans. Before America saw fit to enter the war as a belligerent England's navy was all that kept German warships away from American shores. England and France fought our war for a time. Out of that war came the belief that the hyphen must go, that there was no room in this country for any man who was anything less than a real American. Comes now Patrick H. O'Donnell and seeks to advance the candidacy of Johnson by denouncing England.

O'Donnell spoke once before at Tomlinson hall, on the night of May 21, 1916, before the United States entered the war. While the meeting was getting under way somebody shouted "hurrah for the kaiser." Among other things he said:

Recently I addressed another meeting where the Irish faces looked as German as they do here tonight. I am an Irish-American hyphenated, I suppose. If you want to know what you are ask the howling dervish of Sagamore Hill. He will tell you.

Later on he said: "I would be disloyal to humanity and to my people if I did not wish that the enemies of Great Britain should be supremely successful." That was another way of saying that he hoped Germany would win the war. When America and England fought side by side the tongues of such men as Patrick H. O'Donnell were stilled. They did not say openly that they hoped the enemies of England would win because England's defeat meant America's defeat. The war is over now. The hyphenate has come back and with his coming he seeks the support of those who hate England and love Germany, and that Johnson may become President. Shameful is a method of campaigning that feeds the fires of race hatred, that hunts the votes among those who are for the fatherland first and the adopted land second. Let him and those who believe with him go to France and see the cemeteries where thousands and thousands of American soldiers lie buried.

Terre Haute reports twenty-seven building permits issued for garages in March and nineteen for homes. The housing shortage as it affects automobiles seems in a fair way to being supplied. People seem to think that the new car must have a home whether people do or not. Indianapolis is expected to manufacture about 96,500 motor cars this year, valued at $167,000,000. This makes Indianapolis a close second to Detroit and the claim is made that it makes more high-priced cars. The prediction of 50-cent gasoline has no effect on the demand. Although foreign trade was still hampered last year, 15,585 commercial cars, valued at $35,425,437, and 67,145 pleasure cars, valued at $73,700,527, were exported. The export business in auto parts amounted to $42,662,186 and in tires to $28,924,659. Canada was America's biggest customer, with England second, then Australia. Other countries to which over 2,000 pleasure cars were shipped were Brazil, Mexico, Cuba, Denmark, Argentina, British India, Japan, New Zealand, British South Africa and the Philippine islands. France bought 866 pleasure cars and 3,521 commercial cars in America last year.

If Indianapolis makes 96,500 automobiles this year the pedestrian will have to do some additional dodging.

If the cost of living went down as rapidly as the swollen streams the people would not have so much to worry about.

Pat O'Donnell says he is going to carve his way to liberty and there stands Hiram Johnson waiting for the second joint.

It would be fine if arrangements could be made to have the weather man celebrate May day.

Doubtless the corporations that are declaring such big dividends can explain how such things in nowise increase the cost of living. People have been expected to believe other explanations that were quite as difficult.

But until the weather man can get the weather under control again, not so many people will be interested in overalls as in overcoats.

Now that New York has its 2.75 per cent. beer law, it isn't clear what it is going to do with it.

Samuel Gompers's criticism of the labor nonpartisan movement in Colorado adds another to the reasons why wage earners are likely to vote as they think and not as they are told.

The firemen who would rather go to jail than work might look at the proposition from another angle if they found they had to do both.

It appears that a good many of the striking railroad employes would like to go back to work, but hesitate for fear of being regarded as quitters for the second time within a few weeks.

NAMES NOT ON BALLOTS, IF THEY ARE UNOPPOSED

RULING OF KOSCIUSKO COURT IN ELECTION CASE.

COUNTY BOARD SUSTAINED

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

WARSAW, Ind., April 26.—Judge F. E. Bowser, in the Kosciusko circuit court Saturday afternoon, upheld the action of the Kosciusko county board of election commissioners in omitting from Indiana primary election ballots the names of all candidates who are unopposed. This ruling was given in sustaining a demurrer in the action of thirty Democratic candidates against the election board to mandate the board to have the ballots reprinted and to have the names of all candidates placed on the ballots.

Based on Primary Law.

Judge Bowser's ruling was based on a proviso in the state primary election law, which sets out that whenever candidates in any political subdivision are unopposed for any office there shall be no primary, and the names of such candidates shall be certified as though an election had in fact been held. A contention between Democrats and Republicans of Kosciusko county on the matter of election of a county council also was decided by judge Bowser, who held that there can be no election of councilmen this year.

Both parties have a full list of candidates in the field, the Republicans, however, having contended that there should be no election. By an overeight of both parties in 1918 no county councilmen were elected and the members elected in 1914 remain in office. Democratic leaders said that new councilmen should be elected this year to replace the holdovers.

Rules in Councilmen Case.

Judge Bowser, who is a Democrat, also ruled that the law specifically provides that councilmen be elected every four years and hold that there is no vacancy until 1922. In the mandamus action against Russell Butler, county clerk, to force him to publish a new election notice giving the names of all candidates, Judge Bowser ruled that it is mandatory that the clerk place all names in the notice, but sustained the demurrer of the defendant because the list of plaintiffs included the names of seven candidates for county council for which there is no election.

SHELBYVILLE MAN WRITES OF CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA

Lieutenant W. W. Sedgwick, Member of Russian Railway Service Corps, Stationed in Manchuria.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Lieutenant W. W. Sedgwick, of this city, a member of the Russian railway service corps, stationed at Buchedu, Manchuria, in a letter to an uncle, Riley Sedgwick, of this county, tells of his observations of conditions in Russia. Lieutenant Sedgwick arrived at Vladivostok January 20, and now is train dispatcher on the Chinese Eastern Railway at Buchedu, which is in Chinese territory, 300 miles west of Harbin and 1,000 miles from Vladivostok.

"The whole country is overstocked with productions which the people are unable to get to market," Lieut. Sedgwick writes, "because of the military organizations using their cars for the transportation of supplies and ammunition.

He says that the conditions existing in that territory are indescribable, adding that Americans and others now are attempting to eliminate a practice of whipping railroad employes who make a mistake in their work. Employes are never discharged when mistakes are made, it is said, but are tied to a post and flogged.

"Very strange to say," he writes, "the poor devils seldom show any trace of appreciation for our having helped them. We have been able to do more good without the army than with it, and the Russians, almost to a man, are friendly toward the Americans at all times."

FUNERAL OF FORMER SLAVE

Mrs. Marinda Howell Came to Indiana by Underground Railroad.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

ANDERSON, Ind., April 26.—Funeral services for Mrs. Marinda Howell, age ninety, a former slave, were attended by more than 200 white men and women Saturday at Pendleton, where Mrs. Howell lived since the civil war. The service, in the Methodist Episcopal church, was conducted by the Rev. J. E. Williams, of Indianapolis. In the audience was the Pendleton post of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Mrs. Howell was the last member of her family in Pendleton. With more than forty other colored persons, all of whom had been in slavery in the south, Mrs. Howell was brought to Pendleton by the so-called underground railroad near the close of the civil war and at that time was the subject of much political discussion.

Eventually all of the colored families except two left Pendleton. Mrs. Howell's children were graduated from the Pendleton school. William Walker, a student in the University of Illinois, is a grandson of Mrs. Howell.

KIND WORD FOR WILLIAM.

German Church Synod Thanks Former Kaiser for Works.

BERLIN, April 26 (by the Associated Press).—A vote of thanks to former Emperor William as the last temporal head of the Protestant state church, was given at the closing session of the annual general synod. The synod paid a tribute to the former monarch and his consort for having "in many ways testified to their practical Christian spirit by works of love toward their brethren."

The synod passed a resolution to the effect that the future path of the church lay in the direction of a state free church embracing all the German peoples. It added that while the church would welcome within its fold adherents of all political parties it would itself avoid all politics.

Plans For Corn Contest.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 26.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Huntington County Farmers' Federation Saturday afternoon plans were made for a five-acre corn contest, and a system of membership cards for the federation was approved. The county federation will offer $25 for prizes in the five-acre corn contest, in addition to the buttons awarded by the state for the heaviest productions. The cost of the corn will not count in the judging of the yield this year, it is announced. It was announced that women might join the federation, paying dues of $1 a year.

FIRST AID TO GARDEN LANDS

[United States Department of Agriculture]

If your thrift garden plot was worked as a garden last year, its preparation for this year's planting will be comparatively easy, according to United States department of agriculture specialists. First, any remains of last year's crops should either be burned or hauled away. They have a slight value as manure, but often are carriers of disease, and it is best to destroy them. The next step will be to give the land a thorough coating of manure if it can be procured. It is then ready for plowing or spading.

In case the land was not planted last year, but is what might be termed new land, the first step will be to remove any weeds or trash that would interfere with plowing or spading. Sometimes the land is covered with stones or broken bricks, and these necessarily must either be hauled off or piled to one side or one end of the plot. In some cases, good substantial stone fences have been built along the sides of the plots from the stones picked from the land. In the war-devastated zones of France, gardens are now growing inside the foundations of ruined houses. Every foot of ground is being utilized by these people for producing something to eat.

Derailed Truck Crosses Bridge; Jumps on Again

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SHOALS, Ind., April 26.—An eastbound Baltimore & Ohio freight train narrowly escaped a wreck here Saturday night when a car truck jumped the track about 200 feet west of the bridge across White river. The truck splintered ties, tore out the west end of the guard rail and cut every tie in the bridge, and when it reached the frog of the sidetrack at the local station, about 200 feet east of the bridge, remounted the rails.

The train crew had no knowledge of the accident, and it is not yet known definitely what train had the narrow escape. When it struck the switch at the west end of the station track, just before climbing back on the rails, the truck cut off every bolt holding the switch rail to the switch stand, and railroad men are surprised that it did not force the siding open and pile up the train.

DESPONDENT WOMEN END LIVES WITH GAS

MRS. LAURA E. REDD AND MRS. RUTH SMALLEY VICTIMS.

CORONER IS INVESTIGATING

Mrs. Laura E. Redd, age forty-nine, whose husband is proprietor of a grocery store at 837 Indiana avenue, committee suicide early today at her home, 949 Locke street, by inhaling gas. She was dead when her daughter, Mrs. Alice Brattain, of the same address, found her.

Dr. Paul F. Robinson, coroner, and Bicycle Policemen Bastian and Wilson, who investigated the case, said Mrs. Redd inhaled the fumes by attaching a small rubber hose to an open gas jet. They said relatives told them she had been suffering from cancer for several months and apparently was despondent because of her condition.

Mrs. Ruth Smalley, age fifty-two, wife of Charles W. Smalley, 1107 North Alabama street, ended her life late Saturday afternoon by inhaling gas from a cooking stove in the kitchen of her home. She was found dead by her husband when he returned home from work.

Smalley told Coroner Robinson and Motor Policemen Harris and Morarity that his wife had become despondent because of a lingering illness. In addition to the husband, Mrs. Smalley is survived by one daughter, Margaret Smalley, who is attending National Park Seminary, in Washington; three sisters, Mrs. Iva Rogers, of Indianapolis; Mrs. George Buckles, of Dunkirk, Ind., and Mrs. H. E. Garling, of Cleveland, O., and one brother, R. H. Brotherton, of Dunkirk.

Irish Poet Lectures

A thoroughly responsive audience gave William Butler Yeats an enthusiastic greeting when he was presented at the Murat yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Ona B. Talbot Fine Arts Association. Mr. Yeats, who was introduced by George Somnes, director of the Little theater, is an Irish poet and dramatist, one of the founders of the Abbey theater in Dublin, and a man of imagination, ideals and humor, as he proved by his lecture, "A Theater of the People."

The history of the Irish theater movement, as disclosed by Mr. Yeats, is a series of dramatic struggles between accepted standards in the commercial theater and a romantic theater which scorns money and the press. The obstacles put in the way of the establishment of the Abbey theater came chiefly from skeptics. A Shakespearean theater, which was the goal of Irish theater leaders, was an absurdity to the minds of the theatergoing public. However, Lady Gregory, John Synge and Mr. Yeats have achieved as close an approximation of the Shakespearean theater as is possible in the absence of the Shakespearean audience. The players and the plays in the Abbey theater come from all walks of life and from all parts of the community, and a mixed audience claps and hisses, throws things when it has a mind, and enjoys itself.

Deep admiration for Lady Gregory and for John Synge, both of whom he discussed from a personal, intimate point of view, love for the Irish of the bogs and islands, the simple folk who still speak the Gaelic, and a vigorous contempt for abstract ideas as opposed to the facts of life characterized Mr. Yeats's talk. In concluding his lecture, he read a few of his best-known poems, giving an amusing explanation of the reason for his manner of reading them.

BECAUSE OF LABOR TROUBLE

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

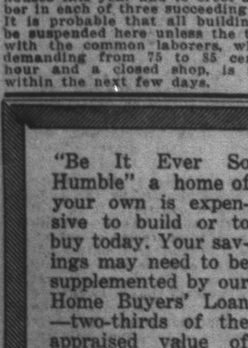

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 26.—Because of the labor troubles of the local building trades, all construction work on the Oliver housing movement was suspended at noon Saturday. One hundred and fifty partly built houses, which were to have been used by the employes to be brought here to man the new shops of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, remain unfinished. It was the intention to erect 1,000 houses this year and to erect a number in each of three succeeding years. It is probable that all building will be suspended here unless the trouble with the common laborers, who are demanding from 75 to 85 cents an hour and a closed shop, is settled within the next few days.

When the nerves that lead from the spine to the stomach are choked at the lead-pencil-size hole between joints of the backbone through which these nerves leave the spine to serve the stomach muscles and tissues there is irritation, weakness and disease. It's a Wise Man Who Knows His Own Teeth
This is a conclusion we have reached after years in dentistry. Frequently pus, or "matter," as it is popularly called, is present in the center of a tooth, or at the root itself, causing disease distant from the tooth itself. Such conditions may exist for years unsuspected. This is a condition revealed almost daily by the X-ray examinations conducted in this office. The prices for dental service here are low and the equipment up to date.

Poor Vision
Makes Dull Children

HAVE you scolded your boy or girl because of low marks at school? Possibly the reproof was not justified. It may not be his, or her, fault. The lack of interest, or apparent dullness, may be caused by defective vision. Poor vision makes children dull, and one child in four has defective vision. Your child may be one whose eyes are not giving normal service.

Now is the time to correct the trouble. Proper attention, now may enable the child to overcome the weakness or defect altogether. Even if this can not be accomplished, proper glasses will hold any muscular or focal defect in check, which if uncared for, may easily develop into a serious handicap later on.

The optometrist is the man to see. He will examine your child's eyes and measure the defects of focus. In other words, he will find out in a positive, accurate, mechanical manner without pain or discomfort, how much the eye lacks of performing its function properly, and then he will prepare lenses with a correction which will make up for the error of the eyes.

Go to an optometrist who displays in his window or office the emblem of the Indianapolis Optometrical Society. He will render you honest, conscientious, scientific service.

To the Critics of the Gas Company

During the emergency caused by the widespread railroad strikes which have been tying up the industry of the country for over two weeks, a great many criticisms have been made on the service rendered by the gas company. Some of these have been malicious but most have been simply thoughtless. The facts of the case have been made public from time to time, but we desire now to summarize them:

1. The difficulty of the present time grows out of the coal strike in November and December. At the beginning of the coal strike this company was in a strong position. It had coal stocks on hand sufficient for full operation for at least 45 days, and was able to assist the other public utilities which were then in distress. We urged economy in the use of gas, but we maintained 100 per cent. service throughout that strike.

2. Not only had we provided reasonable stocks of coal; we had also been exceedingly prudent in providing for the strike which we had foreseen. When the coal strike began, in addition to stocks on hand, we had over 15,000 tons in transit. Furthermore, in addition to our regular contracts we had bought for shipment in November and December large quantities of coal from nonunion mines. In spite of disturbed mining conditions and dispersion of railway cars, we had shipped to us during November and December 102,000 tons of coal.

Yet our prudence and vigilance was futile. Most of this 117,000 tons of coal was seized by the government and diverted to other places. We used 110,000 tons of coal during the two months, but by January 1st our stock had been reduced to less than one-third of the amount we had on November 1st.

3. The end of the coal strike did not cause us to relax our efforts to build up our reserve stocks. We went into the market at once to buy coal to replenish our stocks and supplement our contract shipments which were reduced by the increased car shortage. But here comes in the interesting consequence of government price regulations. Until after April 1st, we were not permitted to pay, and coal operators were not permitted to charge more than certain prescribed prices, while there were no such restrictions on sales for export. Our contract mines continued to ship at contract prices, but why should mines which had free coal sell to us at prices ranging from $2.65 to $5.00 when French and Italian buyers were offering $5.00 to $5.50? From early in December until the end of March there was no coal for sale to domestic buyers unless they were prepared to buy the mines. Our government would not permit us to pay a price sufficient to get the coal. Consequently, our 15 days' supply of January 1st was reduced to 5 days' supply on April 10th, when the strike began here.

4. From being in a stronger position than any other public utility in the state at the beginning of the coal strike, we were reduced to a weaker position than any other at the beginning of the railroad strike. All other public utilities in Indianapolis use Indiana coal. Indiana coal has not been plentiful, but it has been obtainable at government prices. Indiana coal is not wanted for export. France and Italy are not competing for it. We can not use Indiana coal except in very limited quantities. We have used a little in this, as in previous emergencies, but with no gain in gas production, but rather with losses. The reasons for this are related to problems of chemical engineering which can not be given here, but which will be given to anybody who cares to ask for them. The gas supply of Indianapolis depends primarily on coal from mines on the C. & O., N. & W. and L. & N. railroads—two of which have been completely cut and the other badly crippled. The restoration of normal gas service depends not only on the restoration of full railroad service, but also on the resumption of mining operations.

5. When the present emergency arose, it was our hope that normal pressure could be maintained and that consumers would co-operate in reducing the use of gas. On Monday, April 12th, an appeal for conservation was made by the chairman of the Public Service Commission, the Mayor of Indianapolis, the president of the Chamber of Commerce and the general manager of the gas company. There was no general response, but, on the other hand, the consumption of gas on the following day arose about 50 per cent. above normal winter demand. We were then confronted with two alternatives: (1) to let the people take all the gas they wanted as long as it lasted, and then shut down; (2 to control the consumption by regulating the pressure. The former would have been much to the advantage of the company because the present method of operation is exceedingly expensive. The latter would save the community from unparalleled suffering, because without gas the population would starve. We chose the latter alternative. Many homes and industries have been seriously inconvenienced by the character of gas service maintained since April 13th. For this we have the greatest regret, but in view of the conditions as outlined above we have no apologies to offer.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

You Can't Help Liking This Range

The GOLD MEDAL GLENWOOD is in reality a combination range consisting of two complete ranges using different fuels, with neither one interfering in any manner with the other.

Coal supplies the fuel for one, and gas for the other. So far as the use of these two fuels is concerned, it is exactly as though you had a coal range and a gas range. The difference is that they occupy the same floor space instead of being two separate ranges in two different parts of the kitchen.

You may use the coal and the gas at the same time, or either one without the other. You have gas in warm weather and coal in cold weather. But at any time you wish to do more baking or more cooking, you have the advantage of using both fuels and both ovens at the same time.

It responds to your cooking art so quickly and efficiently, you will find that cooking is one of the greatest pleasures in your home.

WET WEATHER DELAYS FARM WORK IN STATE

PASTURES, RYE AND WHEAT BENEFITED.

POOR WHEAT PROSPECTS

Pastures, rye and wheat are about the only things on Indiana farms that have done any good in the last three weeks, observes George C. Bryant, field agent of the co-operative crop reporting service. In his weekly summary of crop conditions in the state.

He says:

"Exceptionally heavy rainfall on several days of the last week has caused practically all of the rivers and smaller streams of the state to overflow their banks and do considerable damage. No plowing or seeding has been done and farm work is now fully three weeks behind.

"The week has been favorable to wheat, but the condition is still very poor. There will not be a large plowing, because of the labor shortage, although some fields will make very low yields.

"Unless the weather settles the oats acreage will be considerably short of intentions. Rye looks very good and has made some growth. Young clover is beginning to show growth and is a fair stand, although less seed than usual was used to the acre.

"Early fruit trees are in bloom and show but little damage from the recent severe weather. Farmers are offering good wages for laborers but can not obtain enough for the requirements. Live stock generally is in good condition. Pastures made considerable growth during the week and are in splendid condition."

CHURCH MORTGAGE BURNED

Noblesville Congregation Frees Itself of a 15-Year-Old Debt.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Special services were held at the South Ninth Street Methodist Episcopal church in this city Sunday, the occasion being the burning of a mortgage which has been on the church since it was built fifteen years ago. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Hubert Perry, pastor of the Indiana Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Anderson.

The Baptist church in this city, of which the Rev. J. R. Quick is pastor and one of the smallest churches in Noblesville, so far as membership is concerned, went over the top Sunday afternoon in subscribing its interchurch world movement quota of $4,000. The entire amount was subscribed in by thirty-five members in five minutes.

"On and Off" Gas Hearing.

Hearing on a petition of the Central Indiana Gas Company to provide "on and off" service only to industrial concerns at Muncie, Hartford City, Fairmount and Gas City will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m., it has been announced by the public service commission. The "on and off" service proposal has been the cause of an extended contest between the company and the industrial concerns affected. The service would mean that the concerns would obtain gas only after the supply was more than necessary for domestic consumption.

FIRE LOSS IS $25,000.

Feed Mill, Warehouse and Three Houses Destroyed at Terre Haute.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 26.—The feed mill and warehouse of Wilson, Hager & Houles, at Fourteenth street and the Vandalia railroad, three houses, seven sheds, a small machine shop and a garage were destroyed Saturday evening by a fire believed to have been of incendiary origin. The loss was about $25,000, partly covered by insurance.

A watchman at the feed mill saw three small boys set fire to a pile of straw in the rear of the mill and gave chase but was unable to apprehend them. Henry Burgess, eleven years old, was arrested, and after examination was released to appear in court Monday morning.

A fire truck on the way to the fire struck an automobile at Fourteenth and Chestnut streets and cut it in two, but the three occupants escaped uninjured. The automobile driven by John Roll, assistant fire chief, was struck by a street car at Thirteenth and Locust streets when on the way to the fire, but Roll escaped injury.

TO PLANT DISEASED CORN.

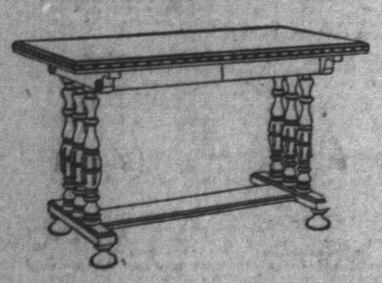

Shelby County Farmers Arranging Demonstration Plats.

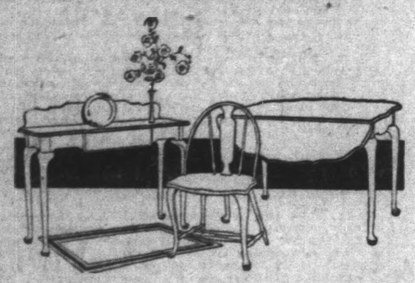

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

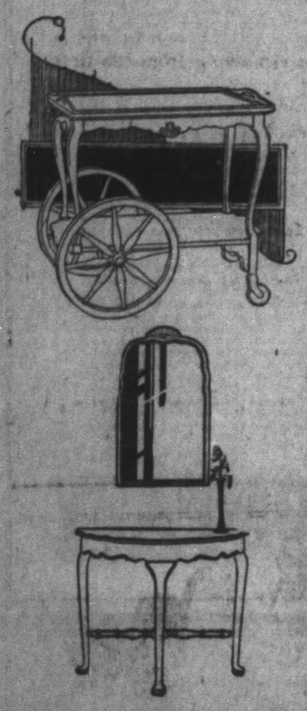

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Directors of the Shelby County Farmers' Association, at a meeting held here Saturday in the office of Russell G. East, county agent, arranged to plant thirty-five demonstration plots in the county this spring, using diseased seed corn for the tests.

Corn will be used that was found to be diseased in "modified rag doll" tests in this city. These plots will be carefully watched for disease and yield by local farmers and by Purdue experts. In the fall a series of demonstration meetings will be held. Two or more of the plots for demonstration purposes will be placed in each township.

Shelby county farmers, individually and collectively, will fight the Nolan tax bill, which has been introduced in the house. The bill provides that 25 per cent. of the manufacturers' tax be removed and placed on farms valued at more than $10,000. Each member of the county farmers' organization will wire to Representative Elliott and to Senators Watson and New, protesting against the bill, and asking for its defeat.

BETTER AMERICANISM CAMPAIGN IS STARTED

AMERICAN LEGION HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

INDIANAPOLIS OUT IN LEAD

A campaign for a better Americanism, which promises to become of nation-wide scope, was started in Marion county at a rousing meeting of former service men in the Riley room of the Claypool hotel Sunday afternoon. The meeting was in the charge of the county Americanism committee of the American Legion. Members of the committee outlined in detail the plans for its campaign. Ralph D. Cole, of Findley, O., formerly a lieutenant-colonel in the 37th division overseas, in the principal speech told of the Americanism ideals for which the Legion stands.

The details of the Americanism campaign, as outlined by J. J. Swan, chairman of the committee, will include the spreading of the gospel of patriotism through schools, churches, newspapers, theaters and all forms of public approach. Four-minute speakers will be recruited from the Legion ranks to preach this gospel in public gatherings. At the Sunday afternoon meeting, scores of the Legion members volunteered for this service. Lecture courses will be started, and noted speakers obtained. Mr. Swan pointed out that in this campaign the Legion will attempt to change the ideas of many so-called Americans who seem to have distorted visions of what their country and government really are. An effort will be made to counteract the radical propaganda fostered by Communists, the I. W. W., etc.

Support Is Pledged.

Members of the thirty-eight posts in the county voiced their approval of the program, and pledged their support to the finish. It was pointed out that the program of the local committee is in keeping with the recommendations of the national convention for an Americanism campaign. Indianapolis should lead in the movement because the national headquarters are here, it was pointed out.

"The time is ripe not to worry so much about the rest of the world but to get down to brass tacks and work for the United States of America," Mr. Cole said, after reviewing the aims and purposes of the Legion as well as its history. "We will continue to discharge our obligations to other nations and will not shirk our responsibilities, but there is serious work for us here at home.

"Indianapolis and Marion county are assuming leadership in this work. The plan is destined to become nation-wide and it is your solemn duty to get together and work out the plan and make a success of it in your own state."

America's Part in the War.

"We must not permit the rest of the United States," Mr. Cole said, "to minimize the achievements of the United States in the war. It impairs the opportunity of the Legion for future usefulness. I do not wish to detract from the glory justly won by other nations in the war, but I will not detract from the service rendered by the United States in the war. The fundamental cause of war is the lack of understanding and appreciation of nations among themselves. I am willing and glad to give other nations their just dues, but I insist that America was the dominant force and the determining factor in winning the war. From the time the first American division hit the Hindenburg line, the Germans never advanced a foot, and the Americans never retreated a foot."

The Legion is not a military organization, the speaker said. Membership in the Legion, he pointed out, does not affect or increase liability for military or police service, nor does rank exist in the Legion. It is an American organization pledged to American ideals.

Along Educational Lines.

"This Americanism movement," Mr. Cole said, "is along educational lines. We have alien communities that need Americanizing. There are mighty few aliens that will not become loyal Americans if given the opportunity."

Mr. Swan introduced Owen Charles, who will direct the general Americanism program in Marion county. Mr. Charles directed the publicity and speakers' bureau of the fourth Federal reserve district in the Victory loan drive. He explained the publicity campaign started by the committee.

Plans for an American day observance for May 1 were made after Solon J. Carter asked that a meeting be held on that day to offset the usual "red flag waving."

Songs sung at military camps were sung again at the meeting, led by J. S. Dale. A Boy Scouts' drum corps gave a short program in front of the hotel preceding the meeting.

TWO FUGITIVES ARRESTED

Men Are Wanted at Dayton, O., and Marion, Ind.

Two fugitives, wanted in other cities, were arrested in Indianapolis Saturday afternoon by detectives.

The arrest was made on information contained in a letter received by Jerry Kinney, chief of police, from the chief of police at Marion.

PLANS FOR AUTO BUILDING

Proposed Structure in Maple Road to Cost $200,000.

An architect's drawing of the automobile building the Craig-Hunt Motors Company is planning to erect at the southwest corner of Thirty-eighth and Meridian streets has been prepared. According to the drawing, the main entrance of the building, which it is said will cost $200,000, will be in Maple road. The building will be brick and stone in a Gothic design, and two and one-half stories high in front and three stories in the rear.

Plans for the building have not yet been submitted to the city building department. Walter B. Stern, building commissioner, has announced that if application is made for a permit by the company the application will be referred to the board of public safety. The park board has requested the safety board to refuse such a permit.

J. R. Craig, president of the motor company, has announced that his company is now negotiating for a factory site in another part of the city, and that when the factory is completed the Meridian street building will be used only for administration headquarters.

TURN GAS OFF AT NIGHT, IS WARNING OF CORONER

ANOTHER WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HER ROOM.

HOT PLATE BURNERS OUT

Dr. Paul F. Robinson, coroner, today issued a warning to users of gas to be sure that all jets, hotplates and stoves are not left burning during the night while the gas conservation program is in progress. The warning was issued as a result of two deaths, recently, caused by gas.

Mrs. Minnie Mounts, age sixty-two, was found dead Sunday afternoon in a rooming house run by Mrs. Christian Gerhart, 708½ Indiana avenue, and an investigation disclosed that death was due to escaping gas. Mrs. Mounts had been employed at the Hotel Williams.

Coroner Robinson and Sergeant Sandmann and squad said the woman apparently had turned on two burners of a small gas hotplate before retiring and during the night, when the gas pressure was reduced, the flame had gone out, thus permitting the gas to flow into the room when the pressure was increased.

SENDS 'DRY' MESSAGE TO DEMOCRATS OF INDIANA

BRYAN SAYS HOPE LIES IN PROHIBITION SUPPORT.

INDORSES RISK CANDIDACY

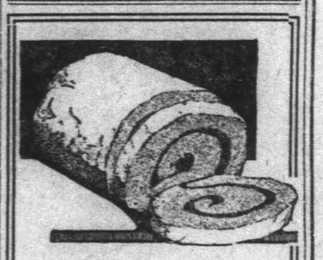

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 26.—Indiana Democracy must indorse the prohibition amendment if it hopes to appeal successfully to the conscience of the state, William Jennings Bryan says in a telegram to James K. Risk, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, who has won Mr. Bryan's indorsement.

The message, which was received yesterday from Lincoln, Neb., told of the election of ten Bryan men out of sixteen chosen as delegates to the Democratic national convention, also of the election of a Bryan man as national committeeman for Nebraska. It continued:

"Success to you in your race for Governor. The Nebraska Democracy has just repudiated Wall street leadership and indorsed the prohibition amendment. The Indiana Democracy can not hope to appeal successfully to the conscience of the state until it does the same and chooses progressive leaders."

Mr. Risk's Ft. Wayne manager, Glenn A. Smiley, met Mr. Bryan today and was to accompany him on a trip to Garrett where Mr. Bryan was to speak in behalf of Mr. Risk. The Nebraskan then left for Ohio to fill a lecture engagement.

CASE OVER UNTIL MAY 15

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

CHICAGO, April 26.—Chicago coal dealers and operators indicted at Indianapolis on the charge of conspiracy to violate the Lever act by limiting the production of coal and increasing the price today appeared before United States Commissioner Mason and fought removal to Indianapolis for trial.

Daniel A. Sims, special assistant to Attorney-General Palmer, asked the removal and questioned witnesses brought in by the federal government to identify the coal dealers as the men named in the indictments.

Andrew J. Maloney, 3556 Pine Grove avenue, vice-president of the Chicago, Wilmington & Franklin Coal Company, was the first to take the witness chair.

Indicted Chicago coal men appearing were H. C. Adams, George B. Harrington, F. C. Hanold, C. M. Modowell, Francis S. Peabody, E. C. Zaries, R. W. Cauffer, C. H. Whitsett, Robert E. Lee, Theodore Keller, J. H. Deering, John Connory, J. C. Muren, John Pursell, H. A. Huskey, Walter F. Bogle and Richard Fitzgerald. The case was continued until May 15.

men did splendidly. We were slow getting in. That was the fault of no particular group; it was a habit of mind, a national policy. But we want now to look ahead, remembering that God has given us eyes to see, ears to hear, a memory to carry, and an intelligence to apply the lessons of all times. Those are the talents which have been given you for safe keeping, and not alone for safe keeping, but for use. If you wrap them up, put them away and if an emergency comes again you can not look to God and man for help, because you have had your opportunity and lesson, and failed to seize them."

Training For Citizenship.

"So when we talk of universal training for citizenship and let us call it that, for that is what it is, remember these things. Remember that military training is only a part of it, but just as essential as any other, for this republic of ours rests very squarely upon one foundation—principle, equality of opportunity, equality of privilege. We must rise as far as God given ability and our own thrift and industry will take us. No one will interfere; nothing will stop us but lack of ability and lack of character. But while the government gives us all these things; while the government guarantees equality of privilege, demands absolute equality of obligation to the limit of your physical and mental power.

"That does not mean you are going to be in the first line, the fighting line. Not a bit of it. There are perhaps nine or ten individuals behind every man who is fighting at the front. Take the work of the farmer during the war; his work was an essential and vital part of the war. If the American farmer had laid down or struck we should have lost the war. Why? Because he fed the American army and part of the British and French armies as well as the other European armies of the allies. And without food the war would have been lost. He did his part well in the war and the men in the factories, the men in the shops, all the men back of the line did their part well.

"Personally, I am willing to leave this whole thing to the ex-service men. Let them be the judges. They have been through the war and know what it means. So take it up with them and follow their advice."

From Greencastle to Brazil.

From Greencastle, General Wood traveled by traction to Brazil, where he discussed the league of nations.

"The league of nations comes in as a part of our foreign policy," he said. "Many of you are familiar with my answer to Senator Borah's letter in which I set forth my views specifically. The league of nations is an important and very vital question to the American people. It is something we must act on and act on promptly. Personally I think it should be disposed of by the President and senate, the only agencies authorized under the Constitution to dispose of it. I do not think it should be left as an issue at the polls, for not one man in a thousand has read it, and very few can understand its technical phraseology and far-reaching effects.

"We want no league of nations which in any way limits the sovereignty of America, our own idea is that we should accept the league with the Lodge senate reservations, reservations which absolutely and completely Americanize it, leave the Monroe Doctrine intact, and leave America free and untrammeled as the sole judge of what America shall do.

"We want to co-operate in maintaining world peace, but we do not want to and we never will subordinate ourselves to any other nation or group of nations. We never have and never will take any mandate other than the mandate which comes from the American conscience; from American public opinion expressed through the agencies provided by the Constitution. We should not, however, attack any other nation or accuse them of unfair policies in connection with the league of nations, for we, through our representatives, gave birth to this idea and the other nations took it up. We created it, it is our idea, and it is up to us to so shape it that it will be truly American."

With Sympathetic Feeling.

"We can do this with all the sympathetic feeling with which a surgeon operates on his own child for the good of the child and his family. We must remember that the league of nations is an infant born of American parents while residing in a foreign land. It began its life under foreign surroundings and spoke at first in a foreign language. We have now got to teach it to think as an American and to speak in the language of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt. In other words, we must thoroughly Americanize it. The senate reservations do this. My letter to Senator Borah so states my views.

"But whatever we may do with the league of nations we must and we ought to be able to have the machinery which enables us to bring the representatives of various nations together to talk things over before they fight, and we can do this, we can avoid many international difficulties. We, as a peace loving nation, a Christian and humane people, must do all we can to maintain world peace, and if we can save some sort of an arrangement, such as the machinery of the league offers for the establishment of a sublimated Hague tribunal, through which we can add the force of America to that of other nations in an effort to obtain international justice, international fair dealing and world peace, we shall have taken a long step forward."

CARPENTERS' STRIKE ENDS

None of Demands on Contractors at Goshen Is Granted.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

GOSHEN, Ind., April 26.—A strike, started by union carpenters here April 5, has ended in what seven Goshen contractors affected declare to be a victory. None of the demands made by the union organization was granted. The strikers sought a wage of 85 cents an hour, a fifty-hour week, time and one-half for overtime, double time for holidays and a closed shop.

Some of the carpenters have left the city and others have taken employment in factories and a few have returned to their places at increases in pay that vary according to the amount and kind of service given. Contractors insisted from the beginning they would not grant a closed shop and finally they refused to consider any of the union demands.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 26.—Robert M. Van Atta, special judge in the Little river ditch case, has increased his finding of money due for work already done on the job by the Harry Newman Construction Company. not being complied with. It will recall that the Germans have made no proposition on the reparation proposition but will declare that the allies will not insist on too technical interpretation of the treaty.

It will also assert the determination of the allies not to annex any part of Germany's territory. It will declare the view of the allies that a direct exchange of views would be preferable to an exchange of notes and that they are disposed to undertake direct conversations with the German government. The declaration will end by asserting that the unity of the allies for the execution of the treaty is as complete as their unity for the war, and that the only means for Germany to secure her old position in the world will be for her to keep her engagements.

Turn to the President.

The council decided to ask President Wilson to arbitrate the boundaries of the new republic of Armenia, and is sending a formal request to the President that the United States government take the mandate for Armenia. The council is leaving to President Wilson the arbitration of the differences over the boundaries of Armenia.

The council awarded a mandate for Mesopotamia and Palestine to Great Britain and a mandate for Syria to France.

The boundaries of Syria and Mesopotamia will be determined by negotiation later between France and Great Britain. The Mesopotamia mandate is given subject to friendly arrangement with the Italian government over economic rights.

Treaty Regarded Completed.

The Turkish treaty is now what is officially called practically finished. The Turkish plenipotentiaries, after receiving it in Paris about May 10, will have three weeks to consider it.

In placing Palestine under a British mandate the council established within the ancient limits of the Holy Land what is called "the national home for the Jews."

Assurances have been given Zionist representatives by British delegates here that the military administration of Palestine will be changed to a sympathetic civil rule. Zionists are represented at San Remo by Benjamin Cohen, of Chicago, who came from Palestine with Dr. Chayim Weizmann, president of the world Zionist commission.

Palestine now has a population of 700,000. In the time of David it had 2,000,000.

Adriatic Question Discussed.

The Adriatic question was brought before the council, and the premiers, at the request of Premier Nitti, of Italy, and Foreign Minister Trumbitch, of Jugo-Slavia, will permit the Adriatic question to remain in negotiation between the Italian and Jugo-Slav governments, it was learned today. The Italian premier, Signor Nitti, proposed a settlement that followed generally President Wilson's note of December 9. It varies, however, to include a constitution for the buffer state of Fiume, to which both the French and British premiers objected on the ground that its limited too greatly the character of the new state.

Premier Nitti pointed out that the Italian proposal was almost identical with that of President Wilson Nevertheless, after considerable discussion, both the French and British delegations said they could not accept it. They declared that would take President Wilson's plan or abide by that pact of London, which gives Fiume to the Jugo-Slavs.

Robert Underwood Johnson, American ambassador to Italy, was the first to arrive at the Villa Devachan and took the seat at the horseshoe-shaped table which was assigned him when he was introduced to all the members of the council and the session was suspended.

WILLING TO ACCEPT MANDATE.

President Declared to Be Ready to Aid Armenia.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—President Wilson is in favor of having the United States accept a mandatory for Armenia in accord with the proposition which has come forth from the allied premiers in council at San Remo. This statement is made on the authority of administration officials, but they are careful to have it understood that in the present confused state of American foreign policy there is no assurance that the President can translate his wishes as to Armenia into action any more than he can make effective the plan for the league of nations.

The indications are that the President on consideration will place the issue squarely up to the congress and in such a way as to have it clearly understood whether America will make good on its pretensions to world dominance and to interest in oppressed peoples, or whether the country will persist in its present course.

The feeling among those who support the policies and ideals of the President in foreign affairs is that Armenia will provide the test of the good faith of the United States in the helping of backward or oppressed peoples. There is more than a suspicion that the allied premiers realized that the submission of their proposition would probably force a showdown in the United States as to what we are willing to undertake in the solution of post-war problems. Much of the inside effort and much of the newspaper propaganda which has come out of the San Remo conference has been designed again to interest the United States in the European problems.

DECREASE MAY BE SHOWN.

Stuart Says Many Old Plants Are Not in Operation.

Are many of the smaller industrial concerns of Indianapolis being absorbed by the larger ones, or are they going out of business in the face of the high cost of labor and material?

According to T. J. Stuart, chief special agent for the United States census bureau, who is now taking an industrial census of the state, present indications are that the decrease in the industrial census of Indianapolis will not show the same ratio as the population. He says many plants reported in 1915 are now out of business or not in operation. Unless many new places can be found, the number of establishments reported at this census will show a decrease compared to the number reported in 1915.

The bureau of the census regards any establishment, the product of which has a value of $500 or more, a manufacturing industry and should be included in the 1920 manufacturing census. Any firm or corporation, established since 1914, or any that has not received a schedule from the bureau of the census, should notify Mr. Stuart, 416 Federal building, of that fact on a postal card, giving the name and address of the plant, in order to be included in the census reports of 1920.

POLICE DRAG THE RIVER.

Clothes of Charles Alhand Found on Bridge.

For two hours Sunday morning police squads led by Lieutenants Thomas and Cox and Sergeants Dean and Valderaurer, dragged White river near the Vandalia railroad bridge, searching for the body of Charles Alhand, age thirty-eight, 825 Meikel street, who it was believed, had jumped into the river to end his life.

A suit of clothes, a hat, an overcoat and a watch, said to have belonged to Alhand, were found Sunday morning in the middle of the bridge by John P. Glazier, 5514 Lowell avenue, assistant yardmaster of the Vandalia railroad, where Alhand was employed as a switchman.

His son, Raymond Alhand, said Sunday that his father was worried about the strike of railroad switchmen, and also said that his father had told some men, with whom he worked that "he thought he would jump into the river." When last seen, Alhand had railroad passes and money in his pockets. When the clothes were found the passes were still in the coat, but the money was gone.

Police said today they learned from relatives that Alhand had disappeared from home once before by feigning suicide in a similar way. They said an investigation disclosed that an extra suit of clothes was missing from his home.

Mrs. Anna Porter, 717 North New Jersey street, has asked the police to assist in the search for her husband, Philip Porter, age thirty-four, who is missing from home. When last seen Porter was wearing blue trousers, a gray coat and vest, a gray overcoat and a black hat.

Lehigh Case Pending.

Another of the so-called anthracite coal cases—that against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company and affiliated rail, coal production and sales companies—is pending and when Justice Clarke read his decision in the Reading case today it was at first assumed that the case also had been decided. Examination of the written opinion, however, disclosed that confusion had been brought about by reference in the opinion to the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, one of the companies attacked in the Reading case.

Farm Loan Reargument.

The supreme court today ordered a reargument of the case atacking the constitutionality of the farm loan act. The appeal was brought by Charles E. Lehigh Valley rose almost 3 points, to 44¾, and the entire railway list became stronger on active buying, which embraced not only the coalers, but cotton carriers and trunk lines. Agricultural rails also shared in the general advance.

O'DONNELL IS SILENT AS TO ROOSEVELT

JOHNSON ORATOR HAD MUCH TO SAY IN 1916.

TOMLINSON HALL SPEECH

To the Editor of The News:

Sir—When I read in the papers the other day that Patrick O'Donnell, of Chicago, would make a speech for Hiram Johnson at Tomlinson hall last Friday night, just thought I'd drop in and hear his line of talk and get an idea of what elements the speaker would attract.

It was my recollection that when O'Donnell spoke in Tomlinson hall in 1916, before we entered the war, he took a fling at Roosevelt because of what the ex-President had been saying against hyphenates. To refresh my memory I have taken occasion to look up the newspaper files, and sure enough I find that at a Tomlinson hall meeting May 22, 1916, which was a memorial under the auspices of the Friends of Irish Freedom because of executors in Ireland, O'Donnell, who is an interesting orator, took a fling at the man he called the "howling dervish of Sagamore Hill."

For Defeat of Britain.

That was not all. He said that "if our sympathies go anywhere, they will go to the nation that is fulfilling the prophecy of Daniel O'Connell." He said that if England granted concessions to Ireland it would be because "the heavy howitzers of Kaiser Wilhelm are thundering at its gates. I would be disloyal to humanity and to my people if I did not wish that the enemies of Great Britain shall be supremely successful."

Rather interesting, isn't it?

"Recently I addressed another meeting where the Irish faces looked as German as they were here tonight," said O'Donnell, in 1916. "I am an Irish-American hyphenated, I suppose. If you do not know what you are, ask the howling dervish of Sagamore Hill. He will tell you." Somebody in the crowd cried: "You mean Oyster Bay, don't you?" and there was applause.

No Word About Roosevelt.

Recalling this, when I went to Tomlinson hall last Friday night, I wondered what O'Donnell would have to say about Roosevelt, inasmuch as Johnson is claiming more of the Roosevelt raiment than any other. Well, O'Donnell didn't have a word to say about Roosevelt, and if I remember aright he never uttered the word. He didn't say about the Republican party nor did the other speaker, Louis Crampton, Michigan congressman, who is reported to be a pacifist.

I see in a letter to the New York Times from W. A. McLaughlin, of Ann Arbor, Mich., that Crampton, who managed Johnson's campaign, "is the gentleman who in 1916 attempted to have certain members of the faculty of the University of Michigan disciplined because they had signed an address expressing sympathy with the cause of the allies." I noticed that Crampton had little to say at the Tomlinson hall meeting about the fine service of our army in the recent war, and what little he did have to say was modified by an assertion that peace has its responsibilities just as important to citizens as in times of war.

Johnson's Speech.

Now it struck me as being rather remarkable that at a meeting in behalf of a candidate who thinks he should inherit from Roosevelt no word was spoken about Roosevelt. I saw in the reports of Johnson's speech at the Columbia Club earlier in the week that Johnson was cynical about any other candidate going about in this campaign in the raiment of Roosevelt. That Tomlinson hall felt there wasn't a good word for Roosevelt's Americanism.

What's the big idea, anyhow? Is it an appeal to certain elements at one meeting and others at another in the hope of getting together enough malcontents of one kind and another to put Johnson over in the Indiana primaries? I haven't approved of everything Roosevelt has said and done, but I have the highest admiration for his genuine Americanism, and it is a travesty and farce for the Johnson campaign to try to gather in Roosevelt's admirers and bitter assailants, such as O'Donnell speaks for, at the same time. REPUBLICAN.

TOBIN WARNS AGAINST SOCIALIST AFFILIATION

A. F. of L. Officer Also Points Out That Branches Have No Authority to Affiliate With Labor Parties.

Affiliation with the Socialist party or the Labor party by union organizations is discouraged in a communication by Daniel J. Tobin, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers, and member of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, to members of the teamsters' brotherhood. The message, which has been published in the official magazine of the brotherhood, said in part:

"It is distinctly against the constitution of the American Federation of Labor for any central body or state branch to engage in the formation of a Labor party, even though the executive council last year gave its partial consent to central bodies to form local labor parties having to do with local municipal elections. But under no circumstances did the executive council consent or allow central bodies or state branches of the American Federation of Labor to engage in the establishment of state labor parties or a national labor party.

"The executive council could not give its consent because it would be a violation of the laws of the American Federation of Labor. Until the constitution of the American Federation of Labor is changed, that organization can not enter into the formation of a state or national labor party, and must assume a non-partisan position, and this the council has done by deciding to elect the friends and defeat the enemies of labor. Central bodies and state branches seeking or attempting to establish labor parties in the several states are acting in violation of the laws of the American Federation of Labor, and local unions of international unions are not carrying out the laws of the American Federation of Labor by affiliating with state or national labor parties, until such time as the convention of the American Federation of Labor has amended the constitution."

In referring to socialism, Mr. Tobin said: "It would be pretty hard to expect a real trade unionist, a full-blooded American, to support men like Victory Berger, Bill Haywood or Eugene Debs." He said the Socialist party in America was cursed with German and Russian types of socialism and these men were the primary causes for the party's inability to progress.

CAMPAIGN ENTERS THE "SLIPPERY" ERA

be very anxious to secure instructed delegates, for, after all, what does a primary vote mean if it doesn't carry with it delegates who can vote at the Chicago convention for the candidate that is being backed. When Wood begins to slip, we will be for uninstructed delegation, but at this stage of the game we want primary votes, and expect to get a plurality that will be in the nature of an instruction to the delegates finally relected.

Best Evidence of Strength.

"No other instructions than this will be necessary, as we are confident that the Republicans will express the wishes of the people as indicated in the primary. We think that the many stories circulated against Wood, with the forlorn hope that they will bring about some slipping, is the best evidence that he is well in the lead. If Indiana was a backwoods state these stories might have some effect. But the people of Indiana have been through so many spirited campaigns and can be reached on any subject in less than twenty-four hours by mail and newspapers that there is not much chance of putting over any unfounded propaganda.

"Very few Republican papers are giving the stories circulation. The only medium left is by word of mouth or through Democratic newspapers. The latter have been editorially and by cartoon attacking Wood viciously, but every knock from that source is a boost, because Republicans know that the Democratic papers never attack the weak candidate of the Republican party.

"The fight in this state is between Wood and Johnson, and the results in Ohio and New Jersey, regardless of the outcome, will verify this. It is simply a question of the people of Indiana deciding whether their preference is Wood or Johnson.

Double Operation Improbable.

"It might be a far cry, but the Chicago convention will nominate either Wood or Johnson. To eliminate them both would require the performing of two major operations. I don't believe the party would order two at the same time on the same table. It might be comforting to talk about a 'dark horse,' but after the Republicans have spent months in primary contests measuring the contestants, they are not going to turn down deliberately the most likely one and select as a candidate one who has never been tried in a national contest. To do so might be disastrous.

"The Literary Digest poll, which gives in first and second choice votes for Wood 51,804, Johnson 38,989, Harding 16,704, Lowden 16,310, indicates pretty accurately the strength of the four candidates, a rating that has been verified in the primaries where these men were entered. Wood and Johnson have always been first and second. Wood has never finished below second, being first in New Hampshire, South Dakota and Minnesota. You can rest assured that Republicans of Indiana, where there is more Republican T. N. T. than any other place in the Union, realize the significance of these political facts."

Three Primaries Tuesday.

Presidential primary elections will be held tomorrow in Ohio, New Jersey and Massachusetts. Interest at the Indiana headquarters of presidential candidates is marked in the Ohio and New Jersey contests.

In Ohio the candidates are Warren G. Harding, a "favorite son," and Leonard Wood. Delegates to the national convention are elected by direct vote of the people, the district delegates by the vote of the districts, and delegates at large by the vote of the state as a whole. Candidates for delegate are required to express their first and second choice. Leonard Wood desired at first to ask for second choice support of Ohio. The Harding forces opposed this.

In some districts, like Cleveland, their candidates for delegate declared for Johnson for second choice, and this was agreeable to the Harding forces because they believed it would detract from Wood. In other districts J. Warren Keifer, more than eighty years old, was put up by the Harding men for second choice. But in Cincinnati Wood sentiment was so pronounced that the Harding forces had to consent to Wood for second choice. The refusal of the Harding forces to permit Wood to run for second choice throughout the state caused Wood to enter for first choice against Harding and a vigorous campaign has been conducted. Wood candidates for delegate were put up.

Divided Delegation Possible.

Under the provisions of the primary law the delegation of Ohio could be divided. It appears that the district vote for candidates for delegate would prevail over the statewide vote so far as instructions are concerned. The Wood forces are not counting on carrying the state, but they say they will be well satisfied if Wood makes as good showing in Ohio against Harding as he did in Illinois against Lowden.

In New Jersey the contest is between Wood and Johnson. Johnson and a corps of speakers have been making a special appeal in the industrial centers of that state, where there are radical elements, as there are in Detroit, and where malcontent elements in regard to the war are counted on to support Johnson.

Johnson's Support Analyzed.

Robert J. Foster, of Newark, N. J., of the Essex county Republican committee, has issued the following statement concerning Senator Johnson's campaign for votes in that state:

"Analysis of the Johnson vote as thus far cast in the various states shows that his supporters include pro-Germans and others who were under constant suspicion and open charges of disloyalty throughout the war, radical Socialists, I. W. W.'s, Bolshevists and malcontents of every description. I can not bring myself to believe that the voters of New Jersey will align themselves with these undesirable elements by voting for Senator Johnson.

"New Jersey's people have had one taste of government ownership of railroads and that was more than enough. Senator Johnson has openly advocated permanent government ownership of railroads in the United States and his unqualified remarks on this subject are in the congressional record of February 19, 1918."

Three Candidates In City.

Three Republican candidates for the nomination for President were in Indianapolis this morning, before leaving for different parts of the state to make speeches. They were Leonard Wood, Warren G. Harding and Frank O. Lowden. Mrs. Harding was with Senator Harding.

Leonard Wood began an extensive speaking tour of Indiana this morning. He came to Indianapolis from Chicago and went to Danville by automobile.

On Wood's tour of the state he will use automobiles, interurbans and steam railroads. Numerous short daytime speeches will be made. Excepting Tuesday, when he is to go to Pittsburg to make an address, he will devote the remainder of the time up to and including May 3, the day before the primary, to Indiana.

Reception Committee.

General Wood was met at the Union station by Harry F. Hogan, state campaign manager; J. Burdette Little, manager of the speakers' bureau for Indiana, and the following committee representing Hendricks county Republicans: Otis E. Gulley, of Danville, Fifth district manager; Mrs. Gully, Mrs. Carl McCoun, Hendricks county women's manager; Dr. and Mrs. Lou W. Armstrong, William Haynes, Charles McClellan, Lee Newby, Marshall Hess, J. K. Little, R. M. Shirley, Hendricks county manager, and Ernest Farrow.

Governor Lowden left at 9 a. m. on the interurban for Marion, accompanied by Otto Klaus, state auditor; William L. Taylor and Joseph Mason. Mason travels with the Governor on his speech-making tours. Lowden speaks at Marion at noon; Muncie in the afternoon and Anderson tonight. Barney Cohen, director of labor of Illinois, has come to Indiana to make speeches for Lowden. John H. Harrison, of Danville, Ill., will speak for Lowden at Lebanon Friday evening.

United States Senator Warren G. Harding and Mrs. Harding left at noon for Crawfordsville, where he was scheduled to speak at 2 p. m. He will speak at Lafayette this evening.

Hiram Johnson will return from the east Wednesday, and is to speak at Richmond Wednesday evening.

Schedule of Speeches.

Wednesday—Bluffton, 8:55 a. m.; Marion, 10:40 a. m.; Logansport, 1:30 p. m.; Peru, 3 p. m.; Wabash, 4:05 p. m.; Huntington, 5:45 p. m.; Ft. Wayne, night.

Few More Return to Work.

Officials of the brotherhood said a few more of the association members have reported to work here and that several have gone to other cities to work. Switchmen from other points are coming here, they asserted. Also many of the railroad men are going into other work, it was said.

More than $20 was collected Sunday at a meeting in Labor Temple of the Yardmen's Association for the parents of Martha Huff, and another collection was to be taken in order to bring the total to at least $50 before it is turned over to the family. The all-day meetings of the strikers will be held in the future at the new labor headquarters at 35-41 East Pearl street.

You Will Readily Forego Denim When You Read April Sale Prices on These New Silks

There is No Panacea

A well known man the other day said, "There is no panacea for the ills of the world." No one man can bring forward a cure-all that will magically relieve the present dissatisfaction caused by high prices. In touch as we are with the markets of the world, we confess we can not make any accurate prediction as to when prices will come down, or offer any solution.

The problem is fundamental and is due to lack of raw materials, lack of production, and lack of transportation facilities.

While We Can Not Control Economic Conditions

we can at least do everything in our power to keep down prices on the merchandise which passes through our hands. For more than 66 years, it has been the policy of this store to operate on the smallest margin of profit. We have not deviated from this policy at this time, lured by the fact that the public has been taught to expect advanced prices. As a result Pettis prices are consistently low on the best kind of merchandise we can obtain.

The Favored Self-Reducing Model— $5 Lighter Than Ever—Stronger Than Ever

With corset prices at the highest peak, Nemo scores a great coup in bringing prices down by the use of U. S. government grade A, mercerized airplane cloth. It has the distinction of having the maximum strength with the minimum thickness. It is delightfully thin (just right for a summer corset) and yet it withstands a pressure of 80 pounds to the square inch. It was used for plane wings, you see, but it is pretty and dainty in spite of its origin.

What These Corsets Are

They are just the same splendid Self-Reducing Nemo Corsets that women have grown to know and to value—but they are lighter than usual. Much lighter, but not one bit less strong.

The model is designed for the comfort of medium and full figures. The long skirt correctly controls heavy hips and the Nemo self-reducing straps support and reduce the abdomen. The diagonal boning does its part in giving the much desired straight lines.

And Our Expert Corsetieres Will Fit These Corsets Without Any Extra Charge. Sizes 22 to 36.

How a Man Can Dress Better —And At a Lower Cost

The Way To Wear Good Clothes
At An Outlay You Can Afford

YES, the dollar has shrunk and clothes cost more than in the old days. That, we must frankly face.

No use trying to evade it by paying a lower price than good clothes can be sold for. The last thing in the world most of us can afford is a "run-down-at-the-heel" appearance.

BUY good clothes and nothing else. Good clothes honestly made of all-wool fabrics. Then get out of them all the service that the maker has built into them.

Don't wear the same suit day after day. Have several suits and change them frequently. All of them will wear much longer. See that your clothes are properly put away on hangers—even over night.

Brushing and pressing should be frequent and regular.

IT IS amazing how Kirschbaum Clothes respond to such care. The all-wool fabrics keep their freshness and full color. The shape stays because it is put into the garment stitch by stitch. The smart, well-groomed lines are there right up to the very last.

Wear Kirschbaum Clothes. Give them the care their good quality deserves. It will mean money in your pocket and better-looking clothes on your back!

LOWDEN SPEAKS IN THREE STATE CITIES

DEPLORES HIGH TAXATION

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MUNCIE, Ind., April 26.—Application of the principles of modern business to affairs of government was advocated here this afternoon by Frank O. Lowden, Governor of Illinois, speaking in behalf of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

Previously to speaking here, the Governor had a brief conference in Anderson in the morning, spoke in Marion at noon and came here in afternoon. He was to return to Anderson to speak in the evening. The day's invasion of the state, which is the first for the candidate with the exception of an address he made recently before the Columbia club at Indianapolis, began when he left Indianapolis early in the day for Anderson. His appeal is in preparation for the state presidential preference primary May 4.

Large Reception Committee.

The Governor was met at Marion by a committee of local Republicans and escorted here, where he was met by a reception committee of seventy-five Delaware county men and women. On the reception committee also were men from the other counties of the Eighth congressional district, except Madison county.

Part of the candidate's entertainment here called for a reception for women voters in the Delaware hotel after the speaking. To this the women of the community, regardless of party affiliations, had been invited. Mrs. Edward F. Nelson, Delaware county Republican women's chairman, was in charge of these arrangements. Edward F. Elliott, local manager for Governor Lowden, had general charge of the arrangements. He was assisted by Harry Long, Eighth district Republican chairman; Robe Carl White, Delaware county chairman, and others.

Plea For Business Administration.

In his address Governor Lowden said:

"We should begin to apply some of the principles of modern business to the greatest business of all—the business of our government. Business everywhere has often changed its methods. Banking and manufacturing have been revolutionized perhaps a half dozen times since our Constitution was adopted. Agriculture has undergone a complete transformation since my own boyhood days on the farm. I can go back far enough to recall the old cradle with the rake following, and the rake, unhappily, in the case I have in mind, was handled by a small boy who did not enjoy it very much. Today all those primitive implements have been superseded.

"In government alone we have made no progress at all. In fact, we have retrograded since the time Alexander Hamilton, one of the greatest statesmen in our history, helped to write our Constitution. Now that is not right. We are famous the world over for the triumphs and achievements of individuals in private enterprise. Isn't it about time that we give some attention to the public business, because it affects every other business and every individual in this country?

H. C. of L. Evil.

"In days gone by, it did not matter much. Our taxes were paid indirectly. And they were not heavy. We did not feel them. Today there is no problem of government in which taxation does not enter. One of the greatest evils today is the high cost of living. Taxation has a direct relation to that. I don't care how clever congress may be, it has not the genius to frame laws so that excess profit taxes and income taxes will not be partly borne by the consumer. You can't reduce the high cost of living until you reduce the high cost of government. You can't reduce taxes until you reduce the high cost of government.

"To pay for the expenses of our state government in Illinois, outside the state revenues that we derive from inheritance taxes and corporation taxes, and that sort of thing, we levy a general property tax. In 1917 our tax rate for state purposes was 90 cents on $100. Municipal taxes and county taxes were going up all the while just as they were elsewhere. I am talking now about the state government. Those departments that are under the jurisdiction of the state officers. In 1918 we were able to reduce the tax rate from 90 cents to 75 cents. Last December, when we met again to fix the tax rate for the ensuing year, we were able to make a further reduction of 20 per cent. in our tax rate.

Budget System Introduced.

"This reduction of 33 per cent. in our tax rate in two years was due to this consolidation of the 125 boards and commissions into nine departments with a director at the head of each and the establishment of a budgetary system. If we had followed the old system of appropriation, where every official made his independent request of what he wanted to the leislature without any opportunity of the leislature to make an adequate investigation, such a result as above we would have been absolutely impossible. That is exactly the sort of thing which must be done in Washington if the enormous increase in appropriations is to be checked. Machinery must be set up for a proper budgetary system."

INFORMAL RECEPTION.

Governor Lowden Greets Several Hundred Residents of Marion.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MARION, Ind., April 26.—Frank O. Lowden, Governor of Illinois and candidate for the Republican nomination for President, arrived in Marion at 12:35 o'clock this afternoon. He was met by a reception committee and was driven immediately to the Spencer hotel, where several hundred citizens had gathered for the purpose of meeting him. An informal reception took place, the Governor shaking hands with every one present.

Because of a severe cold and a desire to save his voice for scheduled speeches at Anderson and Muncie, he did not speak here other than to express gratification at the opportunity of meeting his friends. The Governor was entertained informally at dinner and left Marion at 1:35 o'clock by automobile.

Anderson Prepares Reception.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

ANDERSON, Ind., April 26.—When Frank O. Lowden, candidate for the Republican nomination for President arrives here for his meeting tonight, he will be received at the Grand hotel by a reception committee and will be the guest of honor at a dinner at the hotel. Governor Lowden will speak in Grand Opera house and will be introduced by W. T. Durbin, formerly Governor of Indiana. If Mr. Lowden remains here over night he will be a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Durbin. Joseph E. Hennings is in charge of the Lowden meeting arrangements here.

Lowden Speech Canceled.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 26.—Inability to obtain a hall in South Bend for Friday night has made it necessary for local supporters of Governor Lowden of Illinois, to cancel his address for this city, which was scheduled for Friday night. It is probable he will speak here May 3.

In the "Bubbles" Cast

MRS. DON HAWKINS.

Mrs. Hawkins will be in the cast of "Bubbles," characterized as a musical froth, to be presented at the Murat theater Tuesday and Wednesday nights for the benefit of the Boys' Club Association of Indianapolis. The proceeds will be devoted to welfare work among the boys of Indianapolis. Nearly seventy-five persons, representing some of the best talent in the city, will be in the play. Tickets are on sale at the Murat theater box office.

HARDING CROWD BACKS JOHNSON TO BEAT WOOD

PLAN DEVISED TO OVERCOME OPPOSITION TO SENATOR.

BITTER CONTEST NEAR END

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

COLUMBUS, O., April 26.—With the presidential preference and delegate primary only one day away the campaign in Ohio has been brought to a close after a bitter contest, even for this hotbed, between Senator Warren G. Harding and Leonard Wood, with Hiram Johnson likely to figure prominently in the result. Wood and Harding are the only names appearing on the Republican primary ticket, but the Harding people have been making a desperate effort in the closing week of the campaign to gain votes for Johnson, in the belief that such a course would draw from the Wood strength and thus divide the opposition.

Many highly-paid workers have been carrying this propaganda throughout the state and hundreds of thousands of stickers bearing Johnson's name would have been distributed for use in the booths had not Secretary of State Smith, who is supervisor of state elections, declared the use of stickers illegal. Places have been provided on the ballot, however, for the writing in of other preferences.

Blow to Harding Machine.

The blow thus dealt the machine, which is backing Harding, in the opinion of impartial observers, leaves every indication that Wood will make a good showing probably fully as satisfactory as the showing he made in Illinois. The vote against Harding will be a protest vote against the machine.

Harding's well known part in the senatorial combine, including Penrose and others of that clique, has not enhanced his popularity among those who believe that public sentiment should prevail. The Harding managers have been stirred by the opposition which they were not able to check, much less break down, hence the scheme to turn as much of the vote as possible away from Wood by diverting it to Johnson.

Wood has shown great strength among the farmers. The only worry for the Wood supporters on this score is the spring planting which is now demanding full attention of the farmers and which may reduce the farmer vote.

Farm Bureau in Campaign.

The farm defense bureau, backed by prominent agriculturists, was organized to oppose Harding in Ohio and has been carrying on an active campaign by mail and advertising in the rural papers. There are only two candidates on the ticket for Wood delegates-at-large. W. H. Boyd, a Cleveland attorney, and E. C. Turner, of Columbus, former attorney-general, who has been centering his efforts on the defeat of Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's manager. He has directed attention to Daugherty's 9:11 a. m. statement to prove his adherence to machine politics, for which he is noted, and to his record as a never-successful candidate or manager, to warn the voters that the people of Ohio never have dared to put their faith in him in the past. The Harding managers issued a statement Saturday night predicting a sweeping victory for their candidate in Ohio, and announcing that on that assumption they were preparing to duplicate the result in Indiana by opening a similar campaign in that state.

MASSACHUSETTS PRIMARY.

Few of Candidates as Delegates-at-Large Are Pledged.

BOSTON, April 26.—None of the candidates for delegates-at-large to the Republican and Democratic national conventions will appear on the ballot at the Massachusetts primaries tomorrow as pledged to vote for any particular man for the presidential nomination. The Democratic candidates have made no statements as to their presidential preference.

Four of the Republican candidates are running as a group, although under the law they must be voted for separately. They are Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Frederick H. Gillett, Speaker of the house of representatives; former Senator W. Murray Crane and Edward A. Thurston, former chairman of the Republican state committee. Although all are unpledged, Senator Lodge has announced that he will present the name of Governor Calvin Coolidge to the convention if the Governor desires it.

The other candidates for the four places as Republican delegates-at-large are former Governor Samuel W. McCall, who has declared himself in favor of the nomination of Herbert Hoover, former Lieutenant-Governor Louis A. Frothingham, who has announced that he will vote for Leonard Wood, with Hoover as second choice; Congressman Alvan T. Fuller, who has publicly pledged himself to vote for Wood, Thomas W. Lawson and Russell A. Wood.

On the Democratic ticket, the "regular" slate is composed of Senator David I. Walsh, Richard H. Long, twice Democratic nominee for Governor, District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier and Daniel F. Doherty, former Congressman Joseph O'Connell, the only other candidate, has made his campaign on his declaration that he will work for an anti-prohibition plank in the platform to be adopted at San Francisco. There are numerous contests for district delegates in both parties. On the Democratic side these have no direct bearing on presidential candidates. Among the Republican candidates several who have declared themselves in favor of Wood are opposed by men seeking to go to Chicago unpledged.

MARION COUNTY MAY BE STATE VITAL POINT

BOTH PARTIES HAVE INDIANAPOLIS CANDIDATES.

FORMER ELECTION FIGURES

The fact that Marion county is likely to be a vital point in Indiana at the November election is apparently impressing the political organizations more strongly this year than ever. The importance of Marion county is being stressed by those who are supporting Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch, of Indianapolis, for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Democrats are pointing also to the strength Thomas Taggart will get from Marion county in his senatorship race. Marion county also has a candidate on the Republican side, as James W. Fesler, of Indianapolis, is an active candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

There are strong indications that the Democratic state organization will succeed in bringing about harmonious party conditions in Marion county and the local organization will be in better shape than it has been for several years.

Taggart Taking Personal Interest.

Thomas Taggart is taking a personal interest in the local situation, and probably will devote much time to it. If a good local ticket can be nominated, a ticket that will inspire the confidence of the people, the Democrats hope to overcome the handicaps they have had in the past. Dr. McCulloch practically has had no opposition in Marion county from other Democratic candidates, and is likely to receive practically the entire Democratic vote at the local primary.

Mr. Fesler is popular among Marion county Republicans, but he has not been without opposition in the county on the part of Warren T. McCray, of Kentland, and Edward C. Toner, of Anderson, his opponents. The McCray workers particularly realized early that Marion county is an important factor in the state election, and they have been working hard in the county. They opened headquarters in Indiana avenue and sent workers out into the wards. Mr. Fesler's friends say that the McCray element has not succeeded in getting a foothold in Indianapolis. However, Fred Robinson, the manager for Mr. McCray, says he is well satisfied with the progress made.

Toner in Indianapolis.

Mr. Toner recently spent part of a week in Indianapolis and addressed several noon factory meetings. Little developed during his Marion county campaign that gave him encouragement, and it is not generally believed that he will get many votes in the county.

The Fesler workers are assuming that their candidate will get a large bulk of the Marion county vote. They are pointing to a recent compilation of figures to show that for the last forty-four years Indiana has gone the same way politically that Marion county has gone. They reason in the following fashion from the figures presented to show that it is desirable for the Republicans to have a strong candidate from Marion county, as the vote in this county might swing a close election in other parts of the state.

In 1916, Hughes, Republican, carried Indiana by a plurality of 6,942 votes, of which Marion county alone contributed a plurality of 5,656. With the exception of what were regarded as four abnormal years, the state has never gone in a presidential election since 1876 for either party more than 15,541, the plurality in 1884 when the Democrats won, and the plurality has been as low as 2,331 in 1888 when the Republicans won.

Abnormal Years.

The abnormal years were in 1896 and 1900 when, as a result of the Bryan campaigns, the Republicans won with a larger plurality; in 1904, the Roosevelt campaign, when the Republicans won by a plurality of 93,944, and in 1912, when the Republican split carried the state for the Democrats by a plurality of 120,621. Exclusive of the abnormal years, the Democrats have carried the state four times with an average plurality of 8,715, and the Republicans have carried the state three times with an average plurality of 6,668.

Letter Written by Coffin.

In a letter to Paul Mossman, of Ft. Wayne, Charles F. Coffin, president of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, after praising Mr. Fesler as a man of high character and ability, says in regard to the Republican situation in the state:

"This is the first time in about forty years when it is absolutely necessary to Republican success that the candidate for Governor should come from Marion county, and this is a fact the significance of which it will simply not do to overlook or underestimate. You know the popularity and strength of Tom Taggart in this county, and I know as possibly you may not know, the tremendous popularity of Dr. McCulloch. It may not be to the pleasure of the Fesler plate, but I can assure you that there are a great many independent Republicans in Marion county whose strong friendship for Dr. McCulloch will cause them to vote for him unless there is a candidate on the Republican ticket that they feel sure will carry the state, and it seems to me that it will require no argument to men who understand conditions in Marion county to know that Mr. Fesler is the only present Republican candidate for Governor that can carry the county. But, with Fesler at the head of the ticket, I believe Marion county will go Republican with a sufficient strength to turn the scale in the state and win for the presidential electors, for United States senator, and for the general state ticket. The business men in Indianapolis are backing Mr. Fesler with enthusiasm and energy for the very reasons which I have enumerated above.

McCray in City.

Mr. McCray spent a few hours in Indianapolis Monday and conferred with his managers, Mr. Robinson and Miss Adah Bush. He said he was greatly pleased with the prospects for him everywhere in the state. Most of the week will be spent by Mr. McCray in central counties. Tonight he will speak at Newcastle. Although the women of the state will not be permitted to vote at the primary, the women organizers for Mr. McCray, under the guidance of Miss Bush, are continuing their work among the women. Mrs. E. A. Torrence, of Evansville, a well-known clubwoman, has written the first campaign song in honor of Mr. McCray. Mrs. Ralph Ross, of Gary, has followed with another McCray song.

Mr. Toner planned to spend today and tomorrow in Evansville. Wednesday, he will go to Martinsville, his old home county, where he has many friends. Thursday, he will again visit Ft. Wayne; will speak at Auburn Friday, and probably will close the week in the northern part of the state. The Toner campaign has an active woman's department, under the direction of Mrs. Julia C. Henderson.

Mr. Fesler will spend the next two days in Grant and Montgomery counties.

Plans of McCulloch.

Dr. McCulloch, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will canvass in Madison and Tipton counties during the first part of the week. He had a successful meeting at Shelbyville Saturday where he addressed the precinct workers. Charles Mendenhall spoke at the Kingan & Company plant, and Norman A. Zollezzi at the Midwest Engine Company plant on behalf of Mr. Fesler at noon.

Republican meetings will be held in Indianapolis tonight at the Ebenezer church, California and North streets; the Puritan hotel, and the Beal Civic League, 1450 Sheppard street.

Luke W. Duffey and Merrill Moores, the present congressman, are facing a busy week in the contest for the Republican nomination for congressman from this district. Mr. Duffey is showing great activity, and is basing his appeal for support on his record in behalf of the good roads movement. He addressed well attended meetings at Traders' Point and at Ft. Wayne avenue and Pratt street Saturday night. He will leave for Atlantic City Tuesday to give an address on good roads transportation before the national convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and expects to return Thursday night. During his absence, Arthur R. Robinson will speak for him. Mr. Moores is standing on his record in the congress as a recommendation for his renomination.

Shank and Bookwalter.

Lew Shank and Charles A. Bookwalter are advertised to speak at a meeting which will be held tonight at the Shank warehouse, 227 North New Jersey street.

ROUMANIANS PLEDGE $437 IN CHURCH DRIVE

SOME CHURCHES OVERSUBSCRIBE QUOTAS SUNDAY.

CAMPAIGN STARTS WELL

A Roumanian mission at 424 West Maryland street, which has eight members, has without solicitation raised $437 toward the interchurch world movement, Indiana headquarters of the movement announced, following the opening of the financial drive Sunday. The Rev. V. Prodau, a student at Louisville, is pastor of the mission. Several of the members will return to Roumania soon, and they expressed a wish to contribute to the movement before they leave this country. A Roumania church at Gary raised $2,000 for interchurch, going $600 over its quota.

Reports from Baptists throughout the state are that $500,000 was contributed Sunday. Baptist churches at Decatur, Noblesville and Michigan City competed for a bronze tablet which was to be presented to the church which reached its quota first, with the result that the three came in at the same time with announcements that the quotas were met.

Pledges in Indianapolis.

In Indianapolis the First Baptist church reported $215,000 subscribed Sunday night toward its quota of $300,000, with more in sight. Woodruff Place Baptist is more than half subscribed, and Tuxedo Park Baptist is 80 per cent. subscribed, it is reported.

Two conferences of the United Brethren church in Indiana have given $73,315, nine churches in the conferences having gone $6,000 beyond their allotments. The First United Brethren church of Indianapolis, with Rev. C. Cohn as pastor, went $2,000 above its quota Sunday, raising $6,300. Brookside Park church went $200 above its apportionment, raising $5,552.80. Bishop H. H. Fout said that many churches in the area have gone beyond their quotas.

Second Reformed church, Indianapolis, with a quota of $20,000, raised $26,000 in pledges Sunday. The congregation numbers 550 members, with the Rev. Ernest N. Evans as pastor. William Doenges is financial director for the interchurch drive.

St. John's Overpledged.

St. John's Reformed church of Indianapolis, with a quota of $17,618, has obtained pledges for $26,500. Emmanuel Reformed has raised its quota of $17,500 and reports that it is "still going." Central Avenue Reformed, with a quota of $3,100, has raised $3,400.

Headquarters have received word that one church at Bedford has raised $16,713.90, and a church at Mitchell has obtained $4,500.

The drive will continue for a week, the object being to obtain pledges, nationally, for $336,777,572, of which $175,000,000 is to be paid this year.

RAY TO PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

Frank A. Symmes Appointed to Defend Confessed Murderer.

William Ray, alias William Hart, colored, confessed murderer of Martha Huff, fourteen, will enter a plea of not guilty to the charge of first degree murder when he is arraigned in criminal court Tuesday, it is expected. The plea will be entered for Ray by Frank A. Symmes, county attorney for the poor, who has been instructed by Judge James A. Collins, of the criminal court, to defend Ray.

The selection of a jury to try Ray will be started at once after his arraignment and, while all the negro's legal rights will be safeguarded for him, every effort will be made to make the trial speedy. A special venire of 150 jury talesmen has been called for the case. Each prospective juror who is called to the jury box will be questioned closely by Claris Adams, prosecuting attorney, as to his views on capital punishment. The state will insist on the death penalty for Ray.

It is expected more than twelve witnesses will be called by the prosecution. Persons who saw the negro and the Huff girl together before the assault and murder, and detectives to whom Ray made a confession will be among the witnesses.

REAL ESTATE MEN TAKE UP NOLAN BILL FIGHT

DIRECTORS OF CITY BOARD PLAN OPPOSITION.

RESOLUTION IS PREPARED

Recommendations for a line of action to oppose house bill No. 12397 introduced in congress by Representative Nolan, of California, which proposes to place a tax of 1 per cent. on the value of all land held by any person in excess of $10,000, were formulated at a meeting of the board of directors of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board, to be presented at the weekly meeting of the organization Wednesday. The Real Estate Tax League of Indiana and the Indiana Real Estate Association also are opposing the bill.

The legislative committee of the Indianapolis board has recommended to the board the passage of a resolution opposing the bill on the ground that it would place an unjust burden on real estate. The state organization has sent letters to all of the real estate boards of the state urging them to take action in regard to the bill.

Alfred F. Potts, chairman of the organization committee of the Real Estate Tax League, said in regard to the bill: "House bill No. 12397, introduced by Representative Nolan, of California, and now before the ways and means committee, presents the bald proposition to levy a special tax of 1 per cent. on all land in excess of $10,000 held by any individual, firm or corporation.

"The mere pendency of such a bill might not be so alarming but for the fact that a strong organization of business interests is behind it with an ample fund to secure popular support for the measure.

"Active and immediate efforts are required to meet this propaganda.

"Thoughtless and selfish people are giving their support to it who do not realize that it is a cunning first step in aid of the single taxers whose aim is to tax private ownership of land out of existence. We call for immediate and widespread support through membership in the Tax League of Indiana to meet and combat this peril to our institutions."

Monday Club Luncheon

One of the delightful social affairs of the month was the silver anniversary luncheon of the Monday Club, which was held today in the Rainbow room of the Hotel Severin, about 100 members and guests being present. Seated at the table with Mrs. J. F. Edwards, toastmaster, were the charter members and the speakers, Mrs. John Downing Johnson, Mrs. Edward Ferger, Mrs. E. J. Robison, Mrs. J. F. Edwards, Mrs. James H. Parkhurst, Mrs. H. B. Long, of Cleveland O.; Mrs. A. J. Clark, Mrs. E. C. Rumpler and Mrs. W. G. Oliver, of Franklin, the first treasurer of the club. The other guests were seated at round tables wreathed in pink and white carnations and ferns, which were afterward given as favors.

The program included songs and violin numbers by Mrs. Jean McCormick and Miss Margaret Seegmiller and toasts pertaining to the life of the club as follows: "The House Where She Was Born," Mrs. E. J. Robison; "Incidents of Her Early Youth," Mrs. A. J. Clark; "Her Early Hopes and Aspirations," Mrs. H. B. Long; "Her Social Triumphs," Mrs. Edward Ferger.

Mrs. McCormick's songs were two verses of "Long, Long Ago," which she sang after the first toast; "I Did Not Know" (Vanderpool), "Glow of Spring (Rungee), "Apple Blossoms" (Kellie), "Irish Folk Song" (Foote), "For You Alone" (Geehl), "Values" (Vanderpool) and "A Southern Lullaby (Terry), the last four songs being sung with a violin obligato by Miss Seegmiller.

Miss Seegmiller's numbers were two serenades by Dridla and Pierne, and "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler. Mrs. Herbert Adkinson was the accompanist.

The luncheon closed with the singing of "Auld Lange Syne" by the guests, among whom were Mrs. M. P. Johnson and Miss Margaret Fullenwider, of San Diego, Cal., with Mrs. Harry Wade. Mrs. Martin H. Wallick, the chairman of the luncheon committee, was assisted by Mrs. Robert Brude Walloch, Mrs. L. L. Fellows, Mrs. Frank R. Ross, Mrs. Hadley Green, Mrs. Walter T. White and Mrs. W. H. Elmendorff. A charming feature of the affair was a large birthday cake lighted with twenty-five candles.

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

WORK NEAR COMPLETION ON RECENTLY BOUGHT TEMPLE.

MANY REQUESTS FOR SPACE

Labor organizations which had their headquarters in the Labor Temple, 138 West Washington street, moved today to the property at 35-41 West Pearl street, which was bought recently by the Electrical Workers' Labor Temple Association. Remodeling of the four-story building will be completed in a few days, according to Charles Lutz, secretary-treasurer, and work has been advanced far enough to permit the use of the building.

Clubrooms for union men are on the first floor, offices for all locals with headquarters in the building are on the second floor, and meeting halls have been arranged for the third and fourth floors. Of the six meeting halls, the largest will seat about 600 persons. About 1,000 men can be accommodated in meetings at the same time.

Among the tenants is the Marion County Building Trades Council, which is composed of sixteen local unions. The Marion County Central Labor Union also will have headquarters and hold its semi-monthly meetings in the building. Many locals which were not in the old Labor Temple have applied for office room, Mr. Lutz said.

Officers of the building association in addition to Mr. Lutz are Peter Boland, president, and H. C. Carmichael, vice-president. The electrical work was done in one day by volunteers from the Electrical Workers' Union. The property was bought from George J. Marott for $75,000, and the first floor formerly was occupied by the Hofbrau saloon.

DUEL MAY NOT BE FOUGHT

MONTEVIDEO, April 26.—The duel to which President Baltasar Brum challenged Dr. Rodriguez Larreta, director of El Pais, following attacks in that newspaper against the president in connection with his lecture of Wednesday on inter-American affairs before the students of the University of Montevideo, probably will not fought.

Dr. Larreta was quoted as saying that he would fight only if the duel were held in a foreign country, alleging that there would be trouble with the police if President Brum should be wounded in a duel in Montevideo. It was learned that President Brum would not send his seconds to Dr. Larreta again.

The article in El Pais to which President Brum took exception asserted among other things that certain recent acts of the president constituted flagrant violations of justice.

Dr. Larreta was an editor of El Pais with the late Washington Beltran, who was recently killed in a duel by former President Jose Battle y Ordonez.

SAYS PICTURES WERE SENT

Photographer in France Offers to Make Good on Orders.

As a result of the publication of a Washington dispatch, last December in the News, to the effect that hundreds of Indiana men who had been in the expeditionary forces in France and who had ordered and paid for panoramic photographs of their companies, taken by photographers at Brest, "probably will not be surprised to learn that there seems at this time very little prospect that they will get the photographs," a letter discussing the article has been received by W. H. Green, 1404 Lawton street, who turned the letter over to The News. It is signed by B. F. Jordan, Panoramic Photo Company, 4 Rue du Marche, Levallois-Perret (Seine), and is dated March 21. Mr. Jordan's name was mentioned in the article.

In the letter Mr. Jordan says in part: "The very day that this article is dated, the last picture was sent to the States. Out of the many thousands of photos mailed, I have only received three letters from fellows, stating that theirs was damaged in the mail, and ordering others. Have had nine returned from men who left their former address without having their mail forwarded. Have received several hundred reorders from men who were well pleased with the first photos they got. On account of the present rate of exchange we send copies of any companw photo for $1, instead of $1.50, as we are now getting our paper in France (buying it with this wallpaper) and the postage is the same. You will do a favor to me and all the men who ordered photos if you will have The News publish this letter, and if there is any one who did not get his photo, all he has to do is write me a letter and I will fix him up at once, as I have complete lists of those who ordered photos, and receipts for all photos mailed."

milk and when the nurse returned she was gone.

Long Search Futile.

Mr. Selvage said he and his brothers were not notified of her disappearance until one of them called at the hospital in the afternoon to visit her. A search was started immediately and continued for many months, bulletins and notices of her disappearance being sent to cities in all parts of the United States.

Before she suffered a nervous breakdown, Miss Selvage had been for a number of years a teacher in the Indianapolis public schools. She was forty-three years old when she disappeared. In addition to the three brothers, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Anna F. Miller, of Anderson. The brothers are Edward L. Selvage, 2729 College avenue; William J. Selvage, 2529 Bellefontaine street, and Joseph W. Selvage, 2340 Broadway.

Was Private Hospital.

The Union States Hospital was started by public subscription for the private treatment of mental and nervous diseases and was operated under the direction of Dr. John Colmar, who died several years ago. Hugh H. Hanna, 1512 North Pennsylvania street, was president of the institution. Mr. Hanna said the hospital was later moved from the Capitol avenue address to a building in North Alabama street and remained there until it was discontinued.

Old News Story Quoted.

An example of comment on the case as published in The News is quoted from the issue of March 26, 1900, under the caption, "No Trace Was Found."

"The canal bed was thoroughly searched, from Broad Ripple to its mouth, yesterday, in an effort to find the body of Miss Carrie Selvage, who disappeared, March 11, from the Union State Hospital. Nearly all the water was let out Saturday night and yesterday morning, and all the holes were dragged without success. The family and friends of Miss Selvage have followed every clew, and nothing has been left undone that would lead to the discovery of her whereabouts. Searching parties went to all the surrounding towns and outhouses, barns, vacant dwellings, schoolhouses, cisterns and hundreds of other places were thoroughly searched.

"The only hope is that she has been taken into the home of some farmer, who has not read the newspapers carefully. The searching parties found that there are hundreds of families in the surrounding country who seldom read a newspaper.

"When Miss Selvage disappeared, she wore a dark blue flannelette wrapper and black felt house slippers and her head was bare. She is forty-three years old, and her weight is about 100 pounds. Her hight is five feet five inches. She has brown hair, slightly tinged with gray; blue eyes with large pupils. Because of an operation her eyes are of peculiar shape, and her eyesight is defective. Her brother, Joseph W. Selvage, lives at 2017 North New Jersey street."

Reported at Whiteland.

Two days later it was thought an important clew had been found and the following is an excerpt taken from an article published March 28:

"It has been definitely ascertained that Miss Carrie Selvage, who mysteriously disappeared from the Union State Hospital Sunday morning, March 11, was seen on the evening of the same day in Whiteland, a small station on the J., M. & I. railroad, sixteen miles south of Indianapolis, where she remained until the following morning.

"Notwithstanding the number of newspaper articles regarding the disappearance of Miss Selvage, the inhabitants of Whiteland did not think of Miss Selvage during the two weeks intervening between the time the strange woman was seen and the day the picture of the missing woman was printed. When the papers were distributed last Monday night in Whiteland, W. E. Fitzgerald, of that place, was the first person to recognize and call attention to the picture. With a copy of the paper in his hand he visited several business men who had seen the woman, and all of them identified her as the original of the picture.

"The train she probably took in leaving Franklin was south-bound, and it is possible that she bought a ticket with the money furnished her by the townsmen of Whiteland. It was the general impression of all the persons who saw and talked with the woman that she was demented."

Recalls Search.

Chauncey Manning, supervisor of detectives, who was a detective when Miss Selvage disappeared, recalls the search for her. It continued for weeks, he said, the police and citizens beating the woods around Indianapolis and every conceivable hiding place. The search was resumed from time to time for several years, Manning said.

Following the arrest of Rufus Cantrell and his gang of grave robbers, some time after the disappearance of Miss Selvage, some of the gang gave the police a description of a body in a grave in one of the cemeteries here that was thought to answer the description of Miss Selvage. Acting on this statement, the police dug up two or three graves, Manning said, believing there was a chance of finding Miss Selvage's body.

The last tenant in the old house where the body was found was Mrs. Leona Sidell, who moved Saturday. She is now living at 1422 North Illinois street. The property was owned, until it was sold recently, by Mrs. Laura B. McDonald. The present owner is a man named Julian, who lives in Ohio.

SOUTH BEND WILL GIVE WOOD A HUGE AUDIENCE

OVERFLOW MEETING PLAN

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 26.—The stage is set in South Bend for the visit of Leonard Wood, Republican candidate for the presidential nomination, to the city the afternoon of May 1. It is expected that General Wood will be greeted by crowds that will break all previous records for the reception of presidential candidates in South Bend.

May 1, proclaimed American day, will be observed as a general holiday, and the afternoon will find all industries closed. Before General Wood's address, there will be two parades, one of school children, and one of all persons of foreign birth. This observance will be featured by an address by Carl Vrooman.

Because of the many persons who wish to hear General Wood, arrangements have been made for him to speak in the tabernacle, which seats 5,000 and which was erected for Bob Jones, evangelist. Mr. Jones offered the use of the building to the local committee. An overflow meeting will be held at the high school auditorium, which holds 2,000.

EVANSVILLE ADDRESS.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Interest will be stimulated in Republican politics this week by the visit to Evansville of three candidates for the presidential nomination. The first candidate to visit the city will be Leonard Wood, who will speak tonight at the Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial Coliseum. Wood leaders believe that the meeting will eclipse that addressed in the coliseum last Monday by Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California.

Representatives from all of the six counties in the First district are expected to hear General Wood. E. C. Henning, county chairman for Vanderburg county for the Wood organization, will preside at the meeting.

General Wood will arrive tonight at 6 o'clock by automobile from Princeton, where he will make a short address. A reception will be held after the coliseum meeting, after which the candidate will leave for Pittsburg, Pa., where he will hold a conference with western Pennsylvania Republicans, returning to Indiana in time to resume his speaking tour at Ft. Wayne Wednesday night.

Eugene H. Sargeant, of Newburg, Wood manager for the district, says he has received reports from all over the district from Wood men who are arranging to come to the meeting here. A reception committee of more than 300 leading Republicans has been appointed.

PREPARE FOR WOOD VISIT.

Lafayette Citizens and Purdue Students Arranging Reception.

He will come here from Bloomington on the Monon railroad, and will be met by a big reception committee at the station. It had been planned to take him to Purdue University, but because of the class work being in progress at that hour it has been decided to merge the Purdue and Lafayette receptions.

General Wood will speak from the porch of the Lincoln Club at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon. From this same porch Theodore Roosevelt spoke on two occasions during his several campaigns. Several hundred students from the university will join the citizens in welcoming the distinguished visitor.

The local committee is headed by Charles Weigle, Charles B. Jamison and Alfred R. Hayes, all business men. After his meeting General Wood will leave for Crawfordsville by automobile. He will stop at Romney and Linden for short talks.

PLAYFUL FANS CAUSE INDIANS TO LOSE GAME

HENDRICKS TO FILE PROTEST

Cushion showers at Washington park have been more or less popular, but it was not until yesterday that this playful diversion cost the Indians a victory, the Colonels getting credit for winning both games. After the Colonels had defeated the tribe in the first game, 5 to 1, the second game was forfeited to Louisville in the seventh inning, 9 to 0, by Umpire Finneran following a shower of hundreds of cushions that were thrown from the grand stand.

The air literally was filled with cushions and they fell all over the diamond and field. There was almost a free-for-all fight by a few excited fans and players, but the big crowd for the most part was in a playful mood and the police had little difficulty in preserving order when the fans swept onto the field.

At the time the game was forfeited the Colonels had scored six runs in the seventh inning with only twelve minutes left to complete the inning before the game would be called in accordance with the 6 o'clock closing law. To get credit for these runs it was necessary for the Colonels to have the whole inning played, as otherwise the score at the end of the sixth inning, which was 3 to 2 in favor of the tribe, would stand.

Tries to Strike Out.

Manager McCarthy, of the Colonels, was frantically trying to have his own players declared out while Manager Hendricks, of the Indians, apparently was using stalling tactics in an effort to delay the game. McCarthy himself was trying to strike out and Hendricks was switching players. The 5,000 fans in the stands were quick to size up the conditions and when one started a cushion sailing through the air it proved a signal for hundreds of others to do likewise. The fans hopped over the box railings onto the field so eager were they to have the game called and save it for the Indians.

During the excitement Umpire Finneran forfeited the game and his decision almost precipitated a riot. Several of the players threatened to fight but when the patrolmen present drew ther clubs and threatened to use them, the trouble subsided.

Acts Too Hastily.

It was evident that Finneran acted too hastily, as regardless of the tactics employed, there was not enough time left to complete the inning. After the game Manager Hendricks said he would file a protest against Finneran's decision with President T. J. Hickey, of the American Associaton. He claimed he had a right to switch players at any time. As for the crowd the finish proved good entertainment and the fans left the park in good humor.

Besides losing the first game the Indians were sorely hit when Jimmy Smith and Betzel were injured in a collision in the ninth inning. Both players were assisted off the field. Smith may be out of the game indefinitely.

The Indians will go on the road Tuesday and will be away for a month. The club will play in all the other cities in the association before returning to Washington park, May 29, when they again are scheduled to play the Colonels.

Meet for Youngsters.

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 26.—Arrangements have been made for a big public school field day here May 21, in which pupils of every grade will take part and compete for prizes in running and jumping events, baseball, distance throws and other athletic activities.

PARK TENNIS PLAYERS TO HOLD BIG MEETING

The biggest meeting ever held as a getaway for the biggest season in the history of Indianapolis tennis is planned for next Friday night at 8 o'clock in the office of the board of public parks at the City Hall. Every public park tennis player is asked to attend this meeting, for every park tennis player in Indianapolis is to have an active part in tennis this coming year. Players on Brookside, Fairview, Riverside, Garfield, Willard and the Fall creek courts all will attend and any unattached players who do not belong to one of the private clubs will be there.

The big idea as set forth by James H. Lowry, superintendent of public parks; Hence Orme, "the daddy of 'em all"; Dr. Charles D. Humes, member of the national executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, and Harlan Stewart, is to bring the park tennis of Indianapolis up to national championship standard. It was on the public park courts in the cities of California that Morris McLaughlin, William Johnston, Lindley Murray and the ranking westerners all get their start, and it is realized by men who are at the head of tennis in Indianapolis that if this city is to develop a national champion from Hoosier ranks that it must come through co-operation between the public and the private court player of the city.

In on Interclub Matches.

The Association of Indianapolis Tennis Clubs, formed some time ago, is composed of Woodstock, Country Club, Hawthorn, Indianapolis Tennis Association and the Audubon-Butler Club besides the park clubs. Throughout the year there will be interclub tennis matches between these clubs and this year the park players will have a place on the city schedule and a chance to meet the best of the city's players. With this experience the park players will have the training sufficient to put them well up in the Indiana state tournament.

The park players will organize an association of their own at the meeting Friday, elect officers, make arrangements for installation of shower baths at the various parks, and plan for the annual inter-park tournament which will be held this year the last of June or the first week in July. George Starbuck, winner of last year's event will have a hard fight this year holding his title, as many of the best tennis players of the city parks were developed after the tournament was played last year.

New Players Get Chance.

There is going to be a program of play arranged for all so that the new player will get as much chance at competition as the older and better tenniser. The players will be divided into classes, and competition will be carried on in each class throughout the season.

If tennis interest grows at the rate this coming season in proportion to last year's development a professional instructor will undoubtedly be maintained in due time to train the youngsters correctly from the time they are able to hold a racket.

HOOSIER BALL PLAYER SETS NEW RECORD IN BIG LEAGUES

EVERETT SCOTT.

BOSTON, April 26.—Everett Scott, shortstop of the Boston Americans, will break all major league records for playing in consecutive games when he takes the field against the Athletics at Philadelphia today. With today's game, Scott will have participated in 534 consecutive league contests. Luderus, of the Philadelphia Nationals, set the record of 533 games last season, but he has not played this year.

Scott started his continuous playing on June 20, 1916, with the Red Sox, and he has not missed a game since. Actually Scott had previously outstripped Luderus through participation in eleven world series games in two years, but these post-season contests have not been considered in the consecutive record for regular games.

The Boston shortstop has to his credit also for two years what is said to be the highest fielding average for any shortstop playing the full season in either major league. His mark of .976, made in both 1918 and 1919, is the highest on record, Tuck Turner's average of .973 in 1910 being the best previously made in the American League, and .968, Joe Tinker's record at short for Cincinnati, being the best in the National League.

Scott is a Bluffton (Ind.), boy and he started on his career as a ball player in the Northern Indiana League in 1909, at Kokomo. He was in other smaller leagues until 1913, when he played with the St. Paul club in the American Association. In 1914 he went with the Red Sox and has been there since.

BASEBALL SIDELIGHTS

After the windup with the Colonels this afternoon the Indians will not show their faces on the home lot until they have visited every city in the A. A. circuit.

When the smoke of battle cleared each club was minus one of its best athletes, while the tribesmen were shy a couple of ball games.

Anyhow, the Saints didn't win. They didn't play.

Detroit lost again, but not without a struggle. The White Sox had to go ten innings to choke the Tigers.

Walter Johnson had the best of Joe Bush in a pitchers' duel and Washington beat the Red Sox.

Part of 30,000, a record crowd for Brooklyn, swarmed on the field with two down in the last half of the ninth and stopped the game. They thought the game was over. The Giants won, 5 to 2.

New World's Auto Records

DAYTONA, Fla., April 26.—Six world's records for automobiles were broken here Sunday by Tom Milton in his sixteen-cylinder car, the events being sanctioned and supervised by American Automobile Association officials.

Milton covered one kilometer in :14.15; three miles in 1:12.18; four miles in 1:36.14, and five miles in 2:00.04. Previous records held by Ralph De Palma were: One kilometer, :14.86; three miles, 1:15.04; four miles, 1:39.577, and five miles 2:04.58.

Milton also reduced his own world's record for the half mile and the mile, doing the half in :11.86 and the mile in :23.56.

Logansport Wins First.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 26.—In the opening game of the season played here Sunday between the Logansport Ottos and the Flint (Mich.) team of the Michigan-Ontario League, the score was 10 to 0 in favor of the locals. The Flint team is captained by Jimmie Pierce, assistant coach at Purdue University. Johnny Corriden, former National League player, led the local nine.

6,000 SPECTATORS SEE INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE OPEN

KOKOMO, Ind., April 26.—Six thousand persons ducked their heads here Saturday when an airplane, driven by Wilbur Fagley, ex-army aviator, swirled down over the Chamber of Commerce ball park and, just clearing the tip of the grand stands, dropped the first ball of the season into the bands of J. E. Frederick, president of the chamber. The ceremony marked the official opening of Kokomo's 1920 Industrial Baseball League schedule.

A parade two miles long, in which girls in overalls, ministers, factory workers and four bands participated, preceded the opening game. Kokomo staged a repetition of the celebration held here when the armistice was signed.

HEBBLE TOPS INDIVIDUALS IN INDIANA BOWLING MEET

FT. WAYNE, Ind., April 26.—In the state bowling tournament, Saturday night the Hoosier Oil Company of Indianapolis, with a score of 2,810 took second place in the five-man events. The Grabers five of Indianapolis hit off 2,713 pins, which put them in seventh place.

A new leader heads the singles today, C. Hebble, of Indianapolis, taking the top of the list yesterday by spilling 669 pins. J. Klingman, of Indianapolis, knocked over 630 for fourth place, and H. Buchan, of Indianapolis went in sixth position with 624.

Behrman to Lead Netters.

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 26.—Former members of the Racket Tennis Club, which suspended during the war, reorganized last night, electing the following officers: Dave Behrman, president; William Roth, secretary and treasurer, and Frank Meyer, Wendell Rynerson and Will Roth, membership committee. Women will be admitted as associate members.

Tackle DePauw Next.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Undaunted by Saturday's defeat at the hands of Rose Poly at Terre Haute, 12 to 4, the Little Giant baseball team will go to Greencastle tomorrow to hook up with the strong DePauw nine. Heald and Rusie will probably form the Wabash battery.

WITHERING SEASON AT HAND IN MAJOR LOOPS

CUBS AND GIANTS BEGIN TO SHOW CLASS—WHITE SOX ARE SENSATION.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Now for the withering season.

Withering is what a water lily would do in the desert; what a cactus would do on a hunk of ice and what a second-string ball club does in the rich soil at the top when the going gets hard.

The withering season is about due in baseball. The well-known class should begin soon to alter the complexion of the flowers in the big league gardens.

The Cubs and Giants are showing the first indications of "rising" in the National League, but the American League is staying fairly well put.

Dodgers Hit Hard.

Brooklyn with five hitters between .300 and .667, and a staff of pitchers that favors turning in five games a week, is leading the National League. The Robins scored twenty-six runs, sixty hits and allowed their opposition only fourteen runs.

The Reds slipped last week, dropping three out of five games. They scored thirteen runs and forty-four hits, but got only fair pitching.

With the ancient Babe Adams showing the way to youngsters, the Pirates rolled into the third hole. They broke even in four games last week. They are hitting the poorest in the league, but excellent pitching is holding them steady.

The Cardinals are mauling the ball, hitting the heaviest in the league. Schupp and Doak are the only pitchers working right, but with six in the lineup clubbing between .300 and .750, Rickey doesn't need a flock of star flingers.

The Cubs are hitting third, and as soon as Mitchell's pitchers come to earth some one will have to make way for them farther up. The Giant pitchers are coming to now, and their eyes are working better at the plate.

White Sox Show Speed.

The White Sox are the sensation of the American League. Gleason has copped six straight games with three pitchers. Lefty Williams has won three; Eddie Cicotte, two, and Red Faber pulled a surprise by kicking in a win. Weaver, Collins and Jackson are doing all the clubbing.

Though they won five out of six last week and hit the heaviest in the league, the Red Sox will have to hustle to keep out of the path of that Cleveland bunch of Indians. Speaker went through the week without dropping one—he averaged ten runs a game.

Miller Huggins shook up his Yankees last week and even if the team did lose Babe Ruth it is beginning to show some of its potential strength.

Rose Nine Confident.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 26.—Fresh from her victory over Wabash last Saturday Rose Poly will meet Indiana on Jordan field here Tuesday. Jeffries probably will hurl for Indiana.

CANADIAN HOCKEY TEAM LIKELY OLYMPIC WINNER

ANTWERP, April 26.—Canada and Sweden will meet in the ice palace here tonight in a game which will determine the Olympian hockey championship. France and the United States were eliminated for first place honors yesterday, the former by losing to Sweden by a score of 4 to 0, and the latter by going down to a 2-to-0 defeat before the Falcons, of Canada, after a stirring contest. That Canada will win the championship seems certain as the Swedish team has little hope except to hold the Falcons to a low score.

Under the Olympic rules, all teams directly beaten by the champion team must compete for second prize. Thus the United States, Czecho-Slovakia and the loser of tonight's game will draw for opponents following the contest.

The American team was disappointed, but not chagrined, at its defeat by Canada, last night.

"It was anybody's game until near the finish," said Manager Fellowes, "but the best team won."

Amateur BASEBALL

The Apprentice Printers had an easy time winning their first game from the Highland A. C.'s Sunday, 14 to 2. Torrence, Jr., featured the game with his timely hitting.

The Indianapolis Stars defeated the Spades A. C.'s Sunday, 10 to 2. Games out of town are desired. Address 766 Edgemont avenue. Manager Dickerson desires another good pitcher.

The Arsenal Cubs defeated the Trinitys, 12 to 7. The game was featured by the pitching of Meehan. The Cubs play in the fourteen-year-old class. For games call Woodruff 7858 and ask for Elmer. A good catcher can land a place on the team by calling the above number.

The St. Philips won their third straight game Sunday by defeating the Rhodius A. C., 13 to 0. Shay pitched a good game, having nine strikeouts to his credit. Howard played well at first and O'Connor and Bittner each hit the ball for two-base hits.

The St. Philips Cubs defeated the Holy Cross Juniors, 10 to 0. They play in the eleven-year-old class. Call Woodruff 8417.

The Indianapolis Independents will organize under the management of T. Hartlage. Games are now being scheduled. Call Circle 3735 or address T. Hartlage, 1118 West New York street.

Johnson Record Smasher

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Ray Johnson, star football player and second choice for the fullback position on the 1919 News All-State team, put the shot 42 feet 6 inches for a new Earlham and Indiana Collegiate Athletic League record here Saturday afternoon in a dual meet against Cincinnati University. Ivey, captain of the Hoosier team was the individual star of the meet, taking four firsts.

INDIANA RUNNERS OUT TO TRIM PURDUE TEAM

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 26.—Purdue and Indiana will meet in track here next Saturday in the fourth competition of the present college year. The Boiler Makers have won two basketball games and the Crimson annexed the wrestling meet. The Crimson rooters are after a victory in the track and field meet "to even up matters."

In spite of its victory over the Franklin track athletes, at Franklin Saturday, the Indiana team is in comparatively poor condition. This is true particularly in the field events. Purcell has a strained tendon, and may not be at his best next Saturday. Great things are expected of Green, who ran third in the quarter-mile event at Franklin. He led the field by fifteen yards at the 300-yard mark, but strained a muscle in rounding the turn into the home stretch.

Indiana fears Furnas, the star distance runner of the Boiler Makers, but the sensational performance of Powell in the two-mile event Saturday has caused the hope here that Indiana may place even in the distance events.

Butler Beats City Champs.

Butler College will for the third time try to play Shortridge High School in baseball on the Irwin field diamond Tuesday afternoon. Two or three games are to be arranged for later in the week. The Indiana Bell Telephone team, 1919 city semi-pro champions, held no fears for Butler, and the college boys defeated them in the best game seen at Butler in months, 6 to 3.

AUTO THIEF FIRES AT PURSUER; HITS WOMAN

ROBBERS ARE FRUSTRATED

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Miss Ida Bappert, bookkeeper for the Indiana Printing Company in this city, is at Culver Union Hospital with a shattered right arm, caused by a bullet from the revolver of an automobile thief, who fired at F. Rider Freeman, who was pursuing him. The man had attempted to steal an auto from in front of the Freeman home.

Miss Bappert was on her way home after attending a League of Voters banquet at Masonic temple when she received the wound. The thief, who was one of three in a gang that endeavored to steal the car, turned and fired at Mr. Freeman. Miss Bappert was half a block away.

Three Thieves Pursued.

Glenn H. Hammet, of Louisville, Ky., owned the car which the thieves attempted to steal. He was at the home of Mr. Freeman and had left his car standing in front of the house. When he heard some one start the engine he ran to the door just in time to see his car being driven away. Hammet and Freeman started in pursuit. In shifting gears the bandits stalled the engine and were compelled to abandon the car. Hammet followed one of the men, while Freeman pursued the other two. When Mr. Freeman passed under a street light, one of the men turned and fired at him. The three thieves escaped.

Bullet Removed From Arm.

Physicians removed the bullet from the arm of Miss Bappert yesterday at the hospital. The wound is serious, but she will recover. Friday evening three men attempted to steal a car from in front of the Baptist church, but were frightened away. Two automobile tires were stolen from the car of N. Lodell Goodbar Friday evening while the car was left parked in front of Masonic temple.

COLLAR AND SHIRT STRIKE

Chicagoans Plan Movement to Fight Alleged Profiteering.

CHICAGO, April 26.—A "collar and shirt" strike aimed at alleged profiteering by haberdashers and laundrymen, to begin May 5 and continue twenty days, has been announced by a committee of Chicagoans. The committee, of which John W. Champion, executive secretary of the Chicago Red Cross, and George F. Fairfield and George H. Bryant, business men, are leaders, said it expected to have 10,000 adherents in a few days.

If collar and laundry prices do not come down within the twenty-day period the strike would be continued, the committee announced. Telegrams were sent to presidential candidates asking them to aid the movement by wearing soft shirts. The "strikers" will wear shirts of khaki, cotton or any other material, costing not more than $2.50, with collars attached, the laundering to be done at home.

The University Club, with a membership of 3,500 business and professional men, also announced that the white collar would be discarded by members and shirts with attached collars worn.

MEADER BOY'S BODY FOUND

Lodged in Tree Near Banks of the Wabash—Drowned Two Months Ago.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

PERU, Ind., April 26.—The body of Herbert Meader, age four, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Meader, of Peru, which was found Saturday lodged in the forks of a tree on the north bank of the Wabash river three miles west of Logansport, was brought to Peru Saturday night and identified by the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Meader had become reconciled to the belief that their son's body would never be found. Funeral services for the boy were held this afternoon.

Herbert Meader coasted from the ice on the Wabash river in front of his home into the stream more than two months ago. The ice was blasted, and each day for a month the boy's father and others searched both banks of the river from Peru to Logansport, but no trace of the body was found. A reward of $300 for the recovery of the body was posted along the river, and many searching parties made fruitless trips for many miles west of Peru.

When Joseph Osborne, of rural route No. 6, out of Logansport, went to the river Saturday to cut some corner posts for his garage he discovered the body and notified the coroner, who informed the boy's parents.

FEARFUL OF MAY DAY.

Paris Authorities Prepare to Check Demonstrations.

PARIS, April 26.—This city faces an almost complete paralysis of business Saturday, May 1, as the result of a large number of unions voting to join the labor demonstration by calling a general strike. Hotel, postoffice, telephone and telegraph, local surface transportation and gas and electrical workers, all unionized workers on the pay rolls of the municipality with the exception of heath officers, and a large number of less important branches of labor will participate in the strike. Work in most lines will be resumed after twenty-four hours, but the walkout of telephone and telegraph employes will interrupt communication. Teachers will remain on duty and food stores will be open, at least part of the day.

Decision of the congress of French railway workers to call a strike to enforce demands threatens a new danger if the men lay down their tools before Saturday.

The government's policy, either as regards the May day demonstrations or the prospective railway strike, has not been officially announced, but it is known that it would include an immediate mobilization of the railroad men to break the strike, as was the case in February. As to the May day demonstrations, it is understood that the government's plans call for even more vigorous action than last year. At that time the efforts to clear the streets ended with the troops charging the crowd and firing on the strikers, casualties occurring in the Rue Royale and before the Church of the Madeleine, while cavalry was used to disperse crowds which resisted the orders of the authorities.

International Bridge Burned.

LAREDO, Tex., April 26.—Fire destroyed the International footbridge here, connecting Mexico and the United States, causing a loss of $300,000.

Gold Coins Found in Old Shoes, Clock and in Cans

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind., April 26.—When Mrs. Emma A. Danbenheyer died at her home near here recently she left her entire estate to her sistr, Mrs. Aletha M. Dunning. Mrs. Dunning went to the Danbenheyer home last week to remove the household goods, and found gold coins concealed in the clock, under carpets, in a false bottom of the trunk, in fruit cans and in a pair of old shoes. She collected about $1,600. Mrs. Danbenheyer was the widow of a civil war veteran and received a pension. She did not believe in banks, and kept all her money at home.

ASK DISMISSAL OF BILL.

Christian Science Publishing Society Directors File Answer.

BOSTON, April 26.—Dismissal of the bill in equity brought in the supreme court by the directors of the Christian Science church against the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, seeking the removal of the trustees is asked in the answer filed by counsel for the trustees. In their answer they assert that they have not mismanaged the affairs of the society. They assert that the directors in various ways have seriously injured the business of the society, thereby diminishing the revenues which otherwise would have accrued to the church and have shown "a willful purpose, in case they can not govern the affairs of the society, utterly to ruin and destroy the business of the society."

DR. PARKHURST SAYS WOOD IS BEST EQUIPPED MAN

Declares Republican Candidate Is Not a Militarist, But That He Can Fight.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst believes Leonard Wood is the best equipped of all the presidential aspirants. In a statement he declared that the duty of voters this year was the election of a man able to lift the country "out of the abyss of distraction in which it finds itself as it nears the close of the present administration."

"Although a soldier, General Wood is not a militarist," said Dr. Parkhurst. "That is proved by the versatility of his genius and by the facility with which in the Philippines, and notably in Cuba, he transferred his attention from soldierly service to civic activities of an executive and administrative character.

"Certainly we can accommodate ourselves to a certain amount of the militant at a time when lawlessness is running riot, when everything seems falling to pieces and solidity to have crumbled into a state of disintegration. While we do not want to be ruled by any President, soldier or otherwise, we require, as the supreme expression of democratic authority, a man who, without obstinacy (the name we give to the perversity of small minds), is to such degree established in his own convictions that we can concentrate in him our respects and our confidences.

"He has shown in a dramatic way that under severe provocation he can quietly hold himself under control, which we have scriptural authority for claiming is the mark of a robust and perfected character."

A genuine anatomical shoe without the Freak-Shoe Look.

The new way to make shoes and fit them

Why a Tru-pe-dic misfit is impossible

Your foot is one of these 3 types—Inflare, Outflare or Straight. The Tru-pe-dic Shoe is made in the 3 shapes. Try on all three. Your foot will feel its right type instantly. With its right shoe on, your foot will not make a wrong decision.

Let us demonstrate the worth of this new shoe on your foot. Just drop in and try them on. The Tru-pe-dic is an unusually fine-looking shoe. It will fit right, hold its shape and, therefore, wear well. The price is reasonable.

COAL STOCKS RISE ON HIGH COURT DECISION

RAILS AND OILS PROMINENT

Average Stock Prices

The average price of twenty industrial stocks Saturday was 95.76, up .30 per cent. The average price of twenty active rails was 72.01, up .36 per cent.

Stocks were freely absorbed at materially higher prices Monday, improvement in the local bank position being a strong factor of the advance. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Steels, equipments and oils led the list at the strong opening of today's stock market. Traders evidently found much encouragement in the better local financial situation, as indicated by last Saturday's returns of the federal reserve bank and clearing house. Conspicuous features included Vanadium and Lackawana steels. Baldwin and Studebaker at gains of 1½ to 3½ points. United States Steel opened unchanged, but soon rose almost 2 points. General Motors took a foremost position with the first half hour, advancing 10½ points to 309.

General Motors extended its rise to 16½ points and most other active issues made additional gains chiefly at the expense of the shorts. Activity slackened on the customary profit-taking, but was resumed when call money opened at 7 per cent. Oils, notably the Mexican group, food shares as represented by Corn Products and sugar issues, also rails, shippings and tobaccos were in demand, with specialties, including textiles. The west was a buyer of stocks, although dispatches from there reported further reduction of industrial activity and movement of railroad tonnage.

Coalers took the lead later, Reading rising almost 10 points on the supreme court decision ordering a dissolution of the so-called anthracite combination. Industrials and specialties were subjected to further selling for profit. The closing was strong.

Unfavorable Cool Rains Cause Anxiety About New Crop Outlook.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The development of unfavorable weather conditions in the belt over Sunday led to a violent advance in the cotton market here during today's early trading. Cables were lower than due and the opening price was 10 points lower for May, but the tone was firm with later months 17 to 55 points higher on active covering inspired by the bullish weather and crop advices. July soon sold up to 38.80c and October to 35.45c, or 87 to 93 points above Saturday's closing. Showers in the southwest were considered beneficial, but cool rains in the central belt with prospects that they would spread eastward caused increased anxiety over the new crop outlook.

Realizing became more active around 38.80c for July and 35.85c for October, or about 97 to 118 points above Saturday's closing quotations. Reactions of 25 or 30 points followed, but trade interests were buyers, while there was continued covering and the market became less active but held generally steady during the early afternoon. A private cable from Liverpool reported a quiet market there, owing to dullness in Manchester. It also said that heavy tenders were expected at the end of the month and that both finance and warehouse room was tight.

The market displayed increasing strength after the publication of detailed weather reports, which show heavy rain in central belt sections and the advance was stimulated by private reports of further rain east of the Mississippi. July sold up to 38.94c and October to 35.98c, or 101 to 148 points net higher.

Futures closed steady: May, 40.90c; July, 38.93c; October, 35.98c; December, 35.00c; January, 34.35c. Spot—Steady; middling, 42.00c.

Thomson & McKinnon Market Letter

—April 26—

Corn—Freezing temperatures and excessive rains have been the important motive in today's corn market. Action was also helped by further export business in rye and wheat. Receipts of 35 cars being insufficient for local uses, prices were quoted 3c to 6c higher. Late messages indicated a quieter down of the export demand, some foreign interests refusing to follow the advance in rye. Labor troubles at Buffalo prevent the receipt of grain from the west. The forecast is for clearing weather. Considering the weather and the inability to move grain to seaboard, together with the underlying financial condition, it seems reasonable to expect a setback in prices.

Oats—The factors in corn have been also effective in oats, new record prices being paid for cash oats, No. 2 white selling at $1.08 and $1.12 in St. Louis. To some extent this market will reflect improvement in weather, but nearby deliveries should remain strong.

Provisions—Strength in grains was reflected in the provision list. There is not the volume of hedging sales from packers which has been in the market heretofore. On the other hand, there seems no marked improvement in cash trade.

Stocks—Following the rather heavy liquidation of last week and the bank statement which was looked upon as favorable the short interest became rather eager to cover commitments and as offerings were light a fair sized rally followed. Money was not in very eager demand because accounts have been very materially reduced and the renewal rate of 7 per cent. may be regarded under existing conditions as a normal figure.

During the day we had one of our monthly rallies in rails. The supreme court decision in the Reading case caused a substantial rally. It is assumed that a splitting up of the company's properties will prove of value to stockholders. A study of market conditions with a view toward ultimate results discloses nothing particularly new or startling. We will probably experience some substantial rallies from time to time, but we are inclined to look for a continuation of the downward trend and would therefore meet the good bulges with selling orders.

—April 26—

There were only a few more than half as many hogs Monday as the daily average last week and a good advance in prices was the result, while in other places where receipts were large there was a sharp decline. Local prices were 25c to 50c higher than on Saturday, 25c higher than the last sales of that day and 50c higher than the opening, while at Buffalo with a run of 20,800 hogs the top price, $15.35, was 75c lower than it was last Saturday and $4.15 lower than their top price Wednesday of last week. Normally Buffalo is about $1.00 higher than this market but Monday the local top price was 50c higher than at Buffalo.

Kingan paid $15.85 for one drove of Hampshires, outside buyers paid $15.75 for a few light hogs and Armour bought a drove of Hampshires at $15.65. Aside from this the predominating price for the hogs averaging 225 pounds down was $15.50, against $15.00 to $15.25 last Saturday, $17.50 a week ago and $18.00 two weeks ago. A few hogs weighing more than 225 pounds sold at $15.50, but $15.25 was virtually the top price for medium weights, and heavier kinds sold at $14.00 to $15.00, rarely lower than $14.50. Pig prices were practically steady, with the top $15.00, and other sales were from $14.50 down, rarely higher than $14.00. A Hampshire sow sold at $13.00, but the practical top price was $12.25, and most sales were from $12.00 down. Local killers took about 3,000 hogs and the rest of the fresh and layover supply of 5,500 hogs went to outside account.

Three eastern markets had more than 32,000 on Monday, against fewer than 3,000 a week ago. The total at eleven markets was 118,000 hogs, against 88,000 a week ago, 30,000 two weeks ago, 154,000 a year ago and 123,000 two years ago.

Receipts of 1,200 cattle were smaller than usual on Monday. The trend was weak, but only occasionally were sales lower than prices prevailing for the same kinds of stock on Saturday. The weakness was in steers and heifers. The supply of cows was only equal to requirements, and for the third consecutive market day they sold stronger, relatively, than other kinds of cattle used by killers. Good steers up to $13.60, heavier but plainer kinds at $13.25 and lighter or less desirable kinds down to $12.00 were $1.00 or more lower than prevailing prices for the same sort at the high time recently.

Plain steers at $10.50@11.00 were quoted 50c lower. Aside from odd heifers few sales were higher than $12.00 and not many cows sold higher than $10.50. The demand for bulls was equal to the supply and prices were steady, with sales from $11.00 down. Calves from $15.00 down were steady and the feeder market was nominal.

A year ago the best steers in Chicago sold at $19.85, heifers and cows at $14.00, bulls at $12.00 and calves at $14.00, so that the steers are now about $5.00 lower, the female butcher cattle $1.00 to $2.00 lower, bulls not more than $1.00 lower and calves fully as high as at this time last year.

BETTER SHIPPING RELIEVES TIEUP IN STEEL TRADE

Holland Active Buyer—Copper, Tin and Lead Quiet—Zinc and Antimony Easier.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A spark of life was put into the steel industry the last week, as freight movements became more active and congestion of mill yards and warehouses was relieved somewhat by shipments to crippled consumers who were closed down by railroad embargoes caused by the strike. Steel production remains at a low standard. Coal and coke deliveries are on the way, but fuel will be insufficient to speed up output for several weeks to come. Holland is active in the market for finished steel, pumps and machinery, as its coal consuming industries are being converted to oil fuel. The demand is heavy for sheets by automobile builders, who are quoted $6.50 mill for blue annealed. Sheet bars are selling at from $80.00 to $85.00 and Bessemer $75.00 to $80.00. Producers are so tightly sold up that new business is hard to place. Demand and inquiries have increased for pig iron, foundry iron, ferromanganese and coke. Production is still limited by light coke receipts. The car supply is only 50 per cent. of normal and freight congestion prevents speeding up of production. Coke is being contracted for last half at $10.00 to $11.00, as consumers are anxious to cover their requirements.

The copper market has been quiet all week. Outside prices range from 18¾c to 19c for spot and second quarter, but producers quote 19¼c. Small production, caused by the railroad strike and the existing miners' strike at Butte adds a firm undertone to the market.

Tin has passed through a dull week and is now ruling at 62c for spot, as compared with 63½c on Monday. Demand for nearby metal increased with the end of the railroad strike, but prompt delivery is scarce. Off month shipments are quoted at 61c. The shortage of tin is increasing. Lead inactive. Zinc was the weakest of the nonferrous metals, ruling at low level for the month on absence of buyers and resales of zinc engaged for export. Antimony is easier at 10¾c. Retailers ask 10¾c.

REFINERS ADVANCE SUGAR

NEW YORK, April 26.—The American Sugar Refining Company announced today it had advanced the price for bulk granulated sugar from 17½c a pound to 18½c, wholesale. Prices for sugar now vary from 17½c to 23½c a pound among the leading refiners based on various quotations for raw sugar and inability to get sizable amounts in any quarter.

Since last December the price of Cuban raw sugar has advanced from 10 cents, cost and freight, to 18¾ cents, although the rise has been checked from time to time only by forecasts of the arrival of some 200,000 tons of sugar from the far east, attracted to this market by the high quotations here. This importation has not yet reached here.

Raw sugar, firm; centrifugals, 19.50c; futures were a little easier Monday, but trading was light with operators inclined to hold off and wait developments.

This May Be Spring, After All.

MADISON, Ind., April 26.—The slippery elm peeling season is on, a sure sign of spring, it is said. Elm peels only from early spring until early summer, about July 1. After that it is difficult to obtain the inner bark, free of outside rough bark as the sap is going down causing the outside bark to stick tight. Sulzer Bros. have already booked one order for fifty tons of slippery elm. One peeler received $20 for the bark from one large tree. Before the war peelers received 6 to 10 cents a pound. They now receive 10c for common elm and 20c for white slab elm. These higher prices are increasing the amount marketed.

Cotton Exports Increase

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Cotton exports last month were estimated at $171,000,000 in a report issued by the department of commerce. This represents an increase of nearly $100,000,000 over exports in March, 1919.

Value of meat and dairy products exported declined greatly as compared with March of a year ago, the total being estimated at $70,000,000, compared with $122,000,000.

Breadstuffs exported in March were valued at $68,500,000, approximately equal to March, 1919, exports, while mineral oils were worth $44,25,000, an increase of more than 50 per cent. Exports of gasoline and naptha increased from 22,000,000 to 47,000,000 gallons.

New York Fur Sales, $5,975,000.

Highest Level of Sugar Prices in the World

Edgar's Sugar House, Detroit, gives the following summary of the refined sugar situation:

With no abatement in the extraordinary demand for refined sugars, distribution continues checked by the limited supplies and the difficulty or impossibility of shipping sugar after allotments are made. Readjustment in quotations last week by the American, Franklin, Howell and Arbuckle place them all on a uniform basis of 17.50 less two per cent.

Other refiners are withdrawn, working exclusively on toll sugars. Federal is reported to have allotted some sugars at 23 less 2 per cent, in connection with tolling arrangements. Howell and Federal have been able to make a few shipments to New York state and New England points from Yonkers, which is not as closely tied up as the port of New York. Arbuckle also is said to have trucked sugars to Yonkers for loading at that point and Howell is sending barge loads to Baltimore, which market has been also hauling sugars by truck from New York. The American's allotments have been strictly local. The railroad situation in the east is somewhat improved, but the harbor continues to be tied up by the marine strike, which effects not only refined but also direct consumption imported sugars. Opinions are expressed that the strike will soon break; nevertheless, it will take some time to clear up the congestion after labor troubles are passed. In the meantime, interior points have exhausted all spot stocks and the trade is awaiting further shipments to take care of the immediate demand.

The invisible supply in consumers' hands is being rapidly exhausted and the public will make desperate efforts to secure sugars for the heavy consuming period this summer if given the slightest opportunity. Large sections of the country have been without sugars for varying periods of time, and the volume of business lost by this condition is difficult to estimate, though it must be borne in mind that this lost consumption will not be made up later in the year. The few sugars available both at refining points and at interior distributing markets have been snapped up by the trade, in some cases at extreme prices. Sales have been reported at 30 to 35 cents in some markets.

The country has now passed from the lowest to the highest level of sugar prices in the world, and in consequence every other country that can ship sugars, irrespective of their own needs, is offering them to the United States, not only to take advantage of our high level of prices, but also to make the additional profit afforded by the exchange situation. Besides the usual offering from all the producing countries and islands of the western hemisphere, to which we have become accustomed in the last few months, sugars have been offered during the last few weeks from Japan, China, Formosa, Java, Egypt, Constantinople, Czecho-Slovakia, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark and Scandinavia. Java sugars have been offered for reshipment from British India and other points. American granulated on spot in Holland has been sold for reshipment to the United States.

Some of the rather free Java offerings for shipment during the summer and arrival in the United States September and later, have been withdrawn, and are reported sold to Europe. Press dispatches report further activity of the department of justice, in New York and Philadelphia, in connection with sugar speculators' sales. The effect of this activity is already noticeable in the offerings. There will be a conference between the refiners and the department of justice within the next day or two for the purpose of working out a plan to protect the consumer of sugar in the present situation.

DOWN ON THE FARM

EVANSVILLE—Miss Edna May Whiting, teacher in the city high school at Mt. Vernon, who has been appointed home demonstration agent of Vanderburg county, will arive here May 15. Local produce men and grocers say that another week of cool weather will mean that few vegetables will be on the market. The Farmers Federation of Knight township, Vanderburg county, has assured J. A. McCarthy, county agent of Vanderburg county, that they will have entries in the men's five-acre and boys' one-acre corn-growing contests. Other townships in the county are expected to enter. Not much can be expected of the oats crop in the pocket counties this year, according to McCarthy. The wheat crop is looking better than it did a few weeks ago. The executive committee of the Home Economics Club, of Evansvile, which started the local boycott on potatoes recently because of high prices, has issued a reply to the objections raised to the boycott by Jacob Aleon, president of the Vanderburg County Farmers' Improvement Association, who recently said that a boycott would cause the farmers to decrease the acreage of potatoes. The committee says that local farmers have disposed of this year's crop of potatoes, and that the complaint was made against persons who have unjustly raised prices on potatoes that have been shipped into this market.

COLUMBUS—A five-acre corn growing contest, in which it is expected there will be fifty or more entries will be held in Bartholomew county this summer under the auspices of the Bartholomew County Corn Growers' Association, it was decided at a meeting of the directors Saturday afternoon. The contestants will be required to keep a complete record of the labor.

ANDERSON—More than 200,000 pounds of wool will be pooled by organizations of farmers in Madison, Henry and Delaware counties, with the agricultural agents of the three counties co-operating with farmers to merge the wool clip of 1920 and to hold it for the highest bid. Last year wool pooled in Madison county sold for a fraction more than 60 cents a pound.

JEFFERSONVILLE—Reports from Borden, the center of the fruit growing industry of this county, are encouraging. The peach and berry crops are in promising condition and apples, pears, plums and cherries only slightly hurt by the cold.

GREENFIELD—Farmers are far behind with their spring work. Usually ground for corn and oats is broken by this time.

MILITARY POLICY PLAN IN CONFEREES' HANDS

NEW REVIEWS SITUATION

33 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The conferees on the army reorganization bill held their first meeting today. Leaders of the senate military committee feel that a crisis has been reached in the national military policy. They fear a reversion to the state of utter unpreparedness that prevailed before the world war unless the senate plan of consolidating the national guard into the federal military establishment can be adopted. Strong opposition to this is apparent among the house conferees and also a considerable though less defined opposition to the senate bill's voluntary training program. These the senate conferees are determined to save if possible.

The present demoralization of the army was described today by Senator New (Rep., Ind.) as follows:

"I am pretty well acquainted in the army," he said, "and I know that the situation is thoroughly bad.

Never So Little "Pep."

"There never has been a time in my knowledge when there was so little 'pep' in the army, when disposition to obey was less keen, when morale was so low or regard for all authority so lacking. Officers, especially of the lower grades, are so hopeless that they devote themselves to efforts to get out of the service. That is equally true of the army and navy.

"In the last few months about 2,400 army officers have resigned. They can not live on their pay and though people generally do not know it, the officer who gets and chronically remains in debt always is in fear of court-martial, to which he is liable for that offense. Members of congress are overwhelmed with the beseechings of officers who ask no more than assistance to get their resignations accepted.

Hope For Some Relief.

"The army pay bill, we hope, will give some relief. The enlisted pay of the navy is increased 39 per cent, and of the army 20 per cent., the difference being accounted for by certain advantages the army men have in buying supplies through the army stores. Salaries of officers are increased from around $400 a year for lieutenants to $700 a year for captains, $800 for majors and $900 for colonels and lieutenant-colonels.

"I have been told that in one Annapolis class whose service has now been long enough—think it is four years—to give the men the privilege of resigning if they wish, practically all have their resignations on file or ready to submit. The navy authorities are compelled simply to ignore the resignations.

Compulsory Training Effort.

"For twenty years, ever since my service in the Spanish-American war, I have been working for compulsory military training. Three times in the senate I have tried to get it adopted and failed. I have reluctantly concluded it is impossible in this country. There are great communities solidly opposed and powerful elements everywhere. So I want as an alternative the best substitute plan, a plan to establish an officers' reserve and train officers for it. If we insure this, the trained officers can, in emergency, train the men quickly."

Characterized as Disgrace.

The army and navy pay increase bill as agreed by the house and senate pay increase measure conferees and ordered reported today was characterized by officers of both the army and navy as a disgrace to the nation and as likely to produce a crisis in the affairs of the army and navy, where wholesale resignations have reduced the morale to one of the lowest points known in American history.

Although both the army and navy had been led to believe that substantial enough increases would be granted in the pending bill to curtail at least the flood of resignations that has swept through both branches they were greatly disappointed and chagrined when told today that the increases were comparatively small and that the house conferees had had their way in their program of cutting all appropriations to the bone.

The conference report shows that the largest increase was granted to noncommissioned officers in the army, army nursing corps and marine corps, where the increases in the various grades averaged 20 per cent. No increase was granted men receiving less than $33 a month, as they received a 100 per cent. increase in 1917.

For Enlisted Men in Navy.

Specific increases also are granted to enlisted men and noncommissioned officers of the navy that will make the aggregate increase to the navy equal to that of the army and marine corps. No increase is granted naval officers higher than the grade of captain and to army and marine corps officers higher than the grade of colonel. Increases to officers of all branches under these grades run from 10 to 15 per cent., although the officers had submitted estimates to congress showing that their requirements to meet present living costs were at least for a 30 per cent. increase.

Specific increases granted commanders and captains in the navy and colonels and lieutenant-colonels in the army were $600 a year.

Lieutenant-commanders in the navy and majors in the army will receive $840 a year more, the largest increase for any grade of officers.

All increase are made retroactive to January 1, 1920, although they do not apply to those who have resigned since that time or whose enlistments have run out.

Edward Stevens and Arthur Welling, arrested by detectives at the Hotel Severin on the night of April 18, when safe-blowing tools were said to have been found in their possession, were bound over to the grand jury in city court today on charges of burglary. Welling was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of having explosives in his possession unlawfully, and a similar charge against Stevens was continued until the afternoon, when Judge Walter Pritchard was to hear arguments on a motion by the defense to dismiss the charge.

Judge Pritchard fixed the bond of Welling at $10,000 for the burglary charge, and $5,000 for the other. Stevens's bond on the burglary charge was fixed at $10,000. Ira N. Holmes, attorney for the men indicated that habeas corpus proceedings would be filed to obtain the release of the men.

Detectives who made the arrest connected the accused men with the robbing of a safe in the filling station of the Western Oil Refining Company, at Twenty-fifth and Meridian streets, on the night of April 11. They testified that bits found in suitcases belonging to the men fitted holes found bored in the safe door of the filling station.

EXPLOSION CASES STAND.

Supreme Court Decision Affects 1,600 Black Tom Claims.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Judgments against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for approximately $750,000, resulting from the Black Tom explosion of war munitions in the company's yards, New York bay, in 1916, will stand as a result of the refusal today of the supreme court of the United States to review appeals brought in thirteen separate proceedings.

One thousand six hundred claims, aggregating $11,622,000, have been started as a result of the explosion and 1,500 of the claims, calling for $7,000,000, now are pending in New Jersey and New York courts.

WRONG BEEF RING NAMED.

Ulrich Organization Vote Confused With That of Another Ring.

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

WABASH, Ind., April 26.—Through misunderstanding here it was erroneously reported to The Indianapolis News last week that twenty of twenty-one farmers belonging to a beef ring near here, and headed by M. C. Ulrich, had cast their ballots for Leonard Wood in a straw vote taken at a meeting of the organization. The announced vote was taken by another beef ring in this county. The Ulrich ring took a straw vote only for Governor.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

AT THE THEATERS TODAY.

English's—"Clarence" ..... At 8:15
Murat—Technical High School Play. ..... At 2:15 and 8:15
B. F. Keith's—Vaudeville. At 2:15 and 8:15
Lyric—Continuous Vaudeville.

Notes of the Stage.

"Clarence," Booth Tarkington's comedy, is the attraction at English's tonight and for the rest of the week. Gregory Kelly and Ruth Gordon, last year of the Stuart Walker Company, are prominent in the cast. Robert Adams is in the title role and others are the same players who presented the piece during its long Chicago run. George Tyler is the producer of "Clarence," as he is of most of the Tarkington plays.

After being booked in and out several times, Bertha Kalich in "The Riddle Woman" will, barring further calamity, arrive at the Murat Thursday for an engagement of three days. The play is a serious drama adapted from foreign sources by Charlotte E. Wells and Dorothy Donnelly.

"Robin Hood," the DeKoven light opera, will be presented at English's all of next week as the closing attraction of the regular season by the same excellent company heard in Indianapolis in the same piece several months ago.

Willie Zimmerman, the impersonator at the Lyric this week, was probably the first man to impersonate President Harrison on the stage. He presented a character impression of General Harrison, while playing in New York a short time after Mr. Harrison was inaugurated President. Since that time Mr. Zimmerman has impersonated nearly every President who has occupied the White House.

THINKS SEVEN CENTS IS FAIR

Wyckoff to Oppose 10-Cent Price for Soft Drinks.

Any attempt on the part of local dealers to increase beyond 7 cents the price of bottled soft drinks and of Coca-Cola and other drinks of that class served at soda fountains, will be vigorously opposed, according to a statement made today by Stanley Wyckoff, fair price commissioner for Indiana, following a conference with representatives of bottlers and of the Coca-Cola Company. An increase to 7 cents, including war tax, would give the retailer more profit than under the old schedule of wholesale and retail prices, Mr. Wyckoff said.

Investigation has disclosed, he said, that a fair profit can be made by holding the price of these drinks to 7 cents and he arranged for a conference with representatives of the Indianapolis Association of Retail Druggists, which at a meeting last week authorized an increase to 10 cents on drinks which formerly sold at 6 cents.

Because of a shortage of sugar on the market, Mr. Wyckoff has issued an appeal to consumers who have stocked up on sugar recently to refrain from buying more at this time.

GOODRICH LAUDS IDEALISM

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

ELKHART, Ind., April 26.—The choice by America of the spiritual, rather than the material side of the world war, was lauded by Governor Goodrich, when he addressed the men's Bible class of the Presbyterian church here Sunday.

The Governor drew his lesson from the story of Ruth's renunciation of her Moabitic home to follow the spiritual guidance of Naomi. In his address, he impressed on the class the necessity for retaining high ideals and following them.

While in Elkhart, the Governor was the guest of A. H. Beardsley, state senator, and attended a dinner in his honor at Mr. Beardsley's home.

FAVORS USING BIG STICK IN CANADIAN PAPER CASE

Senator Underwood Would First Attempt Friendly Efforts on Provinces as to Export Rules.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Unless Canadian provinces can be won through friendly efforts to remove export restrictions on pulp wood the congress should use the "big stick" of retaliatory legislation, Senator Underwood (Dem., Ala.) declared today before the house foreign affairs committee. He was urging favorable action on his resolution for the appointment of a committee to seek the removal of the embargoes.

Representatives of the pulp and paper industry and newspaper publishers who appeared before the committee agreed with Senator Underwood that the embargoes were intended to encourage Canadian paper industries by forcing American paper plants either to close or move to Canada.

"Serious injury will be suffered by our newspapers in a few years if there is no legislation," declared Senator Underwood. "You might as well do nothing as to rely upon the state department, because it has no power to act."

W. E. Haskell, vice-president of the International Paper Company, declared that the present serious situation in the newsprint market was due to the scarcity of pulp wood and that the Underwood resolution comprehended the only practical means of providing sufficient newsprint in the United States to insure the lives of the smaller newspapers.

$1 AND COSTS AND 30 DAYS

Herbert Whitaker, 208 North Lynn street, arrested by Chief of Police Jerry Kinney Thursday night and charged with disorderly conduct and inciting riot, was fined $1 and costs and sentenced to thirty days on the penal farm on the first charge, and the second charge was continued indefinitely in city court today. Whitaker was in a crowd of persons near the county jail. Kinney testified that when he made the arrest Whitaker was shouting epithets against the police for protecting William Ray, the negro charged with the murder of Martha Huff.

William Leisure, 1822 Thalman street, was fined $1 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail for disorderly conduct. The charge of inciting riot was continued indefinitely. Leisure was arrested in another crowd near the jail Thursday night by Detective Sergeant George Winkler.

BUYING OLD BUILDINGS TO OBTAIN THEIR BRICK

SOME STRUCTURES AT JEFFERSONVILLE 100 YEARS OLD.

BUILDERS PRAISE QUALITY

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 26.—Many brick buildings of former daygs have been bought in the city in the last few months for the value of the brick they contain. Builders assert that in many cases the brick is superior to any that can be bought now. Some of the old buildings are 100 years old and the brick is going into modern structures with newer brick as a facing.

A number of contractors have their eye on Spring street, which it is proposed to repave. It is asserted that the vitrified brick, with which it is paved, will be valuable and will easily find a buyer, although much is worn away one-fourth of its thickness by the traffic of twenty years.

OPPOSED TO BONUS PLAN.

Henry Breckinridge Says It Will Work Injury, Not Benefit.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Henry Breckinridge, assistant secretary of war during the incumbency of Secretary Garrison and who served in France as a lieutenant-colonel of infantry, has made public a letter to the chairman of house and senate committees dealing with bonus legislation emphatically opposing any such proposal.

The bonus proposal is wrong in principle and unsound economically, he said, adding that a bonus would work "injury, not a benefit, both to the people it is supposed to benefit and to the country."

"It is wrong," the letter said, "because it will take money from the wounded and from the widows and orphans of the dead soldier to fatten the pockets of the living and uninjured. It is wrong because it would attempt to set a money price on what is beyond purchase and beyond price—the duty of a citizen to give his life for his country.

"What are the facts? The men who fought the war must pay for the war. They are the able bodied of this generation. Ninety per cent. of them are back at work now earning a good living by honest toil and able to care for themselves just as they were able to save the nation when the nation was in need."

BRINGING SOLDIER'S BODY

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

MUNCIE, Ind., April 26.—The body of Private William M. Thomas, one of the first Delaware county men to enlist for the world war, is being brought home, two years after the young man's death at Brest, France.

The transport bearing Private Thomas's body with those of a number of other American soldiers, is due to dock at Hoboken, N. J., Thursday, and the body will arrive here two or three days later, to be buried in the American Legion plot in Beech Grove cemetery. A military funeral will be held in the charge of the local Legion post.

Private Thomas was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Thomas, of Royerton, six miles north of here. He enlisted in September, 1917, and died April 24, 1918, in a military hospital. His body was buried in the American military cemetery at Brest. The parents, a brother, Richard Thomas, and a sister, Mrs. W. F. Evans, live here.

Merle Sidener to Speak.

Other speakers will be Jesse Hanft, president of the Advertising Club, and Paul Richey, director of promotion on the advertisers' convention board.

Wives Cost More

LONDON, April 26.—Lord Dewar, who has just returned from Central Africa, in giving an account of his travels there, said the increased cost of living in the district he visited was reflected in the higher price for wives paid by the natives. Whereas a fine, sixteen-hands-high wife cost four spearheads in prewar days, she now costs eight spearheads, Lord Dewar said, and in the cattle districts, the price of a wife at present is eight cows instead of four.

The specific charge against Bentall was that he obstructed the army and navy programs of the United States by a speech delivered July 31, 1917, at Hutchinson, Minn.

ACCUSES CONGRESS OF FAILING THE COUNTRY

HITS INTERVENTION IDEA

[By the Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Declarations that the present congress has failed the nation "with completeness and abandon" were made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in the current issue of the American Federationist.

"America must get rid of its veto congress and elect an action congress," he says. "The 'no' congress must give place to a 'yes' congress."

The labor leader asserts that the congress has failed on the peace treaty, reconstruction and the high cost of living and that it also had "failed us in intelligent comprehension of every great question affecting the lives and welfare of our people."

The "sins of the present congress," he adds, were of commission as well as omission, as there had been "almost an eagerness to do the wrong things," the enactment of the railroad bill being cited as a "shining example."

Must Turn Faces to Task.

"There must be a congress which will turn its face to the task confronting the American citizenship in the true spirit of American institutions," Gompers says. "A constant genius for accomplishment must replace an ill-considered mania for restriction and coercion.

"America can not play forever the part of a peevish child in international relations. The affairs of the world are the concern of the United States. There may be proper limits to which this concern may go, but there is no longer any such thing as absolute divorcement from what transpires elsewnere.

"The blind and bigoted action of congress in refusing to deal intelligently with the peace treaty has made it impossible for the United States to manifest the proper concern in these affairs.

"On our own continent there is the same need. For weeks a senatorial subcommittee has been going up and down the country gathering testimony, the evident purpose of which can be but to inflame the minds of those who think little and who take much on faith.

At Too Frequent Periods.

"At periods all too frequent, the United States is brought to the verge of war with Mexico. It is not difficult to find the evidences of satisfaction on the part of the predatory interests at each of these periods, nor is it difficult to discern the propaganda which fosters the development of them.

"Falsehood, vilification, studied misrepresentation — these are the weapons constantly in use by those who, to serve their own ends, would precipitate war between these two American republics. It is no longer possible to feel with certainty that high government officials have not been made the tools and pawns of those who seek intervention, the latest term for which is 'Cubanization.'

"At home, across our borders and over the seas, congress has made for itself a record of failure, a record of stubborn opposition to that which is good.

"Democracy must mean equality of opportunity. It must mean the sovereignty of the masses. It must mean absence of domination by a select ruling class or caste or clique.

Indicates Its Hostility.

"Congress has done much in recent months to indicate hostility to these principles. Powerful forces in the United States are seeking to wound and cripple democracy. They do not want equality of opportunity. They want an unfair advantage in the industry of the nation, in the legislatures of the nation and in the courts of the nation.

"When the labor movement protests against the pressure of those who would turn backward the tide of progress and deny the sunlight to lives but just emerging from the dark, it speaks with authority.

"The labor movement of America does speak and it must be heard. Where the effort is made in industry to crowd men and women backward and downward, we will resist and resist and resist, for it is better to resist and lose than never to have resisted. Where the effort is made in the halls of congress and legislatures, we will resist and resist to the end. We will resist with all our power the re-election of those who have been false to the trust which humanity placed in them."

Little Stories of Daily Life

Rhubarb.

A certain east side man was cutting the dock weed in his back yard with a scythe, and his eight-year-old son was watching, seemingly engrossed in thought. Presently he asked: "Papa, why does God make dockweed?" On receiving no satisfactory reply he set to thinking again. In a few minutes he looked up again with a smile all over his face. This was his explanation: "I'll bet God got mixed up when he was making things and thought this was rhubarb."

A Bargain.

It was evidently another case of the family trying to find a house to rent or buy that caused a small child in a downtown picture show to pass the following remark as one of the homes of the "400" flashed on the screen: "Gee, daddy, if you could get that for $300 you'd get a bargain, wouldn't you?"

ONE WOOD CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS HIS NAME

TACTICS OF LOWDEN-JOHNSON-HARDING FORCES.

UPROAR IN MONROE COUNTY

[Special to The Indianapolis News]

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 26.—The Lowden-Johnson-Harding forces, working together, have taken away from Leonard Wood one delegate in Monroe county, but in doing this they have raised an uproar among the Monroe county people who believe in fair play that will react against Lowden, Johnson and Harding and in favor of General Wood. The Johnson-Lowden-Harding forces captured this delegate by a piece of "slick" work which in the primary practically disfranchises the majority of the voters in three precincts in Perry township, Monroe county. These voters are in favor of General Wood for the nomination, but they have no delegate to vote for.

This incident appears to bear out the charges repeatedly made that the Lowden, Johnson and Harding elements are practically working as one faction to prevent the nomination of General Wood, although this charge also has been repeatedly denied in Bloomington by the managers of the Lowden, Harding and Johnson campaigns.

Persuaded to Withdraw.

The slick work was done Saturday night. A full Wood ticket is in the field in this county but Saturday evening, after nightfall a group of Johnson-Lowden-Harding leaders from Bloomington drove to Clear Creek, it is said, talked with Oscar Campbell, the Wood delegate in Precincts 6, 7 and 8, Perry township, and Campbell withdrew his name, thus leaving the field clear to John Shigley, who is an avowed Johnson man.

The followers of General Wood did not learn of the action in time to do anything about it. The work of printing the ballots for the primary election already had been started but as under the law a candidate for delegate has the chance to withdraw any time previously to ten days before the primary, it was necessary to destroy the ballots for these three precincts and print them over again.

Prevented by Law.

But the law prevented another Wood man's being put on as a candidate for delegate although a big majority of the voters of these three precincts favor General Wood.

The incident is much regretted by many of the local Republican leaders who recently have come out strongly against any of the old-time methods. The Wood organization here at the very start of the campaign went on record in favor of an absolutely fair primary, the delegates to go to the presidential candidate who received the most votes in the county.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS PLAN STATE CONCLAVE MAY 11-13

Plans are being completed for the sixty-sixth annual conclave of the grand commandery, Knights Templars, of Indiana, which will be held at the Masonic Temple in Indianapolis, May 11, 12 and 13. Henri T. Conde who is grand commander, is a member of Raper Commandery No. 1, of Indianapolis.

The program will include a number of innovations, one being the exemplification of the Order of the Temple. This will be given at 6:15 p. m. on the second day of the conclave. A prize team will put on the work. Members of the team, their commanderies and their stations in putting on the work are as follows: Ivory C. Tolle, Lebanon No. 43, commander; Charles O. Grafton, Muncie No. 18, generalissimo; Edward J. Scoonover, Raper No. 1, captain general; Will M. Sparks, Rushville No. 49, prelate; Lewis M. Morris, Frankfort No. 29, senior warden; Arthur Rogers, Washington No. 33, junior warden; John G. Grimm, South Bend No. 13, warden; Horace M. Johnson, Newcastle No. 44, first guard; Walter M. Hindman, Vincennes No. 20, second guard; Conrad J. Herber, Terre Haute No. 16, third guard.

A parade will open the conclave, forming at Meridian and North streets, and moving south in Meridian street at 2 p. m., to Washington street; east to Pennsylvania street; north to Vermont street. The head of the column will halt at Meridian street facing south, where a mass formation will be completed. The procession will move south around Monument Circle again, with all bands consolidated at its head playing "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The procession will then move back to the Masonic Temple, by way of Meridian street.

A number of theater and dinner parties are on the program, including a buffet luncheon at the Temple at 4 p. m. on the second day, and a reception by the grand officers at Murat Temple at 9 o'clock that evening. Business sessions will be held Wednesday and Thursday, May 12 and 13.

DEFINES LABOR'S STAND.

CLEVELAND, April 26.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, denounced the Lever act, the "eat cheap cuts" campaign, the railroad strike and the various independent labor parties and reaffirmed the federations nonpartisan stand in politics in an address here yesterday.

While Gompers attacked bitterly the yardmen's strike, he said he approved of "lawful" strikes and that they were necessary in some instances.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, accepted a challenge to meet Samuel Gompers in debate on the merits of the Kansas court of industrial relations.

Syrian Bishop Visiting America.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Most Rev. Chekralla Khouri Maronite archbishop of Tyre, Syria, said to be the first Syrian archbishop of the Roman Catholic church to come to the United States, arrived here today on the steamer Lorraine as extraordinary apostolic visitor to the Maronite churches of America. He will visit churches at Philadelphia, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Pittsburg, Cleveland, Youngstown, Cincinnati, Wheeling, W. Va.; St. Louis, Detroit, Michigan City, Ind.; Minneapolis, St. Paul, Birmingham, Ala.; Richmond and Roanoke, Va., and elsewhere.

W. H. SEWARD DEAD.

Son of Former Secretary Once Commended by Lew Wallace.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 26.—William H. Seward, age eighty-one, son of William Henry Seward, secretary of state in Lincoln's cabinet, died today after a long illness. With his brother, Frederick Seward, he was resident in Washington much of the period of the civil war and knew Lincoln intimately, having been an usher at the inaugural balls. He led the 138th New York volunteers and later it became the 9th heavy artillery. In the battle of the Monocacy his horse was shot under him and he was wounded, being commended by General Lew Wallace as "having acted with rare gallantry." He was later commissioned brigadier-general by Secretary Stanton, who wrote the commission in his own hand, awarding it "for gallant and meritorious services."

After the civil war Seward entered the banking business and had conducted the banking house of W. H. Seward & Co. ever since. He was a director in many large corporations, including the American Express Company.

PRAISES INDIANA TAX LAW.

New York Expert, After Study, Says It Is Best in United States.

"Indiana has the best tax law in the United States," said A. E. Holcomb, of New York city, for years treasurer of the National Tax Association and editor of its monthly bulletin. Mr. Holcomb was in Indianapolis last week in the interest of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. He said he had studied the law and found it second to none.
