DR. SCARBOROUGH DEFENDS SCHOOL

President of Wilberforce Replies to Magazine Article.

EXPLAINS TRUE SITUATION.

Unwarranted Attack on Noted Ohio
Institution Greatly Displeases Alumni and Undergraduates—Wilberforce University With All Departments Is Simply One Institution.

Wilberforce.—The indignation of Wilberforce university and a large body of alumni and undergraduates at the article under the caption "The New Wilberforce" found in the Crisis for August compels a reply, though we well know that unsigned articles anywhere usually merit only silent contempt unless the editor gives a tangible hold by becoming sponsor for them, says President William S. Scarborough of Wilberforce university.

In such an article we are accustomed to seek at once the motives inspiring it. In this case we are wondering whether it was inspired by a malicious desire to strike the college department in particular, to belittle what it has done and injure its standing and work for higher education, or by a pious spirit which sees an opportunity for retaliation, or by a spirit which thus repays personal favors through questionable eulogiums, or was it real, unadulterated ignorance steeped in egotism? We must leave it for readers and those generally acquainted with the situation to judge.

One thing is true, however. No one is a real friend to the university or to any of its individual departments who would strive thus publicly to magnify the work of any one department at the expense of another. And for any one to cull deliberately, isolate and twist facts to make it appear that there is but one department at Wilberforce that is worth while and to try to convey that it is not a part of Wilberforce, but a distinct school, is, to speak mildly, an unmitigated attempt to slander the whole institution, no matter what the motive. It becomes an attack that cannot be overlooked.

Wilberforce has done much recently to honor the scholarly editor of the Crisis, and it has always staunchly upheld the cause and the association his magazine represents. Not three months ago it invited him to be one of the speakers during its commencement, and it readily acquiesced in his selection as one of the lecturers in the summer school (for the second time) in the department he eulogizes at $175 for five lectures. Wilberforce university is indeed courteously (?) repaid for this by the grateful editor.

One thing we state at the outset. The "New Wilberforce" has been a verity for some years. It is Wilberforce university—the whole institution with all its departments and not simply one of them. No part can be greater than the whole. The determination of enemies, internal and external, to try to swallow up, to ignore, to misrepresent the very department that is the genesis of the whole, giving birth to all the others and fostering their growth, the part that stands for higher education—this determination all authorities here are agreed must not only be condemned, but put down.

The department the article in the Crisis seeks to put for the whole and which calls forth such effusive praise was placed here by the state of Ohio in 1887, because it wished to help Wilberforce university, and this was the only way it could do so, and because it was just and right for it to be of service to us as we did not receive a share of the agricultural land grant under the Morrill act, which properly belonged to us, but which share went to Ohio State university. It was never intended to be an independent department, and it is not one now. The authorities, one and all, recognize that Wilberforce university with all its departments is a unit and not a conglomerate—a unit with but one head, and that one the president of the university.

The article in question is full of distortion. Facts are partially stated or omitted or put in wrong relations. The jumbled confusion of statements, of the work done, of buildings, of cuts, or culled quotations—all seem designedly used to mislead a public ignorant of the true relations that exist here and of the true work and workers. For example, the fact that the financial office of the C. N. and I. department is combined with that of the superintendency is due to no one's personality. It was so fixed by law some time ago, as was the bond to be given, and it has obtained for years. The sum mentioned as given in the last four years by the state includes moneys appropriated before that time for building purposes, but not available until later.

We are proud of our senior cottage, arrangements and appropriations for the building of which were completed some years ago by the state, but one would infer from the writer's article that Emory hall was also a creation of the department he eulogizes. This is not so, however. The funds—over $50,000—were raised by the efforts of the president and friends, and this dormitory for the girls of the college department is the one especially considered by all authorities to be the "most completely equipped dormitory to be found anywhere in any Negro institution." The military wing of our university, a cut of which embellishes the article in the Crisis, is a department that any institution may be proud of, but it is no creation of the department picked out for special laudation, as those unacquainted with the facts might regard it from the connection made. The United States government is pleased to maintain it here still under the best of Negro instructors, paying all expenses, and has recently appointed Lieutenant B. O. Davis of the Ninth United States cavalry for the second time to take charge of it.

The paragraph referring to enrollment is garbled so as to present a false idea. Figures certainly have no inherent power to falsify, but they may be made to say anything. Our enrollment for 1913-14 was 493. We do not pad our rolls. But there was no such increase as 10 per cent in any department to the knowledge of the president or the faculty. We have increased our enrollment yearly, we are pleased to say, and this increase has been most largely from without the state (over 300 last year), and the greatest per cent of increase anywhere is found in the college classes.

The state of Ohio helps Wilberforce university by sustaining a department which has been gradually built up since 1887 through long years of labor and earnest work of those in charge. We are gratified at this confidence shown by the state in our entire work. We hope for more help. It is true, however, that the college needs funds. So does every institution for higher education in the land. It is no crime to need money. It is an easy matter, however, to sit down and spend money under direction or without it when one does not raise his hand to get it, but no recipient of such favors should congratulate himself upon unusual ability because of this condition, nor should he use the situation to "crow over" or to hurt any department which has to hustle to gather funds from philanthropy for its work. With such an attitude and similar statements from overzealous friends (?) Wilberforce university is apt to be more hindered than helped in its work. It can well exclaim, "Good Lord, deliver us from such friends!"

Good Work of the Hon. John P. Green.

HIS CAREER AS STATESMAN.

Originated and Introduced Bill in Ohio Legislature Making First Monday in September Annual Holiday in Honor of Labor—Popular With Labor Unions Throughout Nation.

Philadelphia.—Perhaps but a very few of the leaders and but a small percentage of the members of the many labor unions are aware of the fact that the father of this bill which made the first Monday in September a holiday in honor of labor was a colored man, says G. Grant Williams in the Philadelphia Tribune. The first Labor day bill was written by John P. Green, attorney-at-law, Cleveland, O., in 1890. He was then a member of the Ohio legislature and personally introduced his bill before the Sixty-ninth general assembly.

The bill was strenuously opposed in the committee, but when it came before the main body for passage the Hon. John P. Green was very much in evidence. He made an eloquent plea in defense of the bill and urged its passage because of its unusual importance. He quoted the number of labor unions in the state of Ohio and their enormous membership and voting strength. The bill passed, and Mr. Green was called the "Daddy of Labor Day."

On several occasions Mr. Green was the guest of honor of the Amalgamated Trades of Cincinnati and on one occasional rode with distinguished citizens at the head of the Labor day procession.

The bill was the first passed by a state legislature legalizing Labor day as a holiday. With a few changes it was afterward presented in and passed by congress, indorsed by the national labor body, and since then the day is considered a national holiday in all the states and the District of Columbia and Alaska.

For three years following the passage of the bill by the general assembly Mr. Green was the honored guest of national labor union bodies and was toasted and feted as a leading advocate of labor legislation. Indorsed by the labor unions, he was subsequently elected to the senate of Ohio. He was the first and only colored man so far to have that honor.

John P. Green of Cleveland, O., was born at Newbern, N. C., on April 2, 1845, of free and humble colored parents. His father died in 1850, leaving his mother a widow with three small children. Mrs. Green sold her slender belongings, the remnant of a fortune which the elder Green had lost, and took her three children to Cleveland July 7, 1857. John P. was then twelve years of age. After attending the common schools of Cleveland young Green set forth to buy a home for his mother. It was a long, hard struggle, but in 1866 the last dollar was paid.

In 1869 he was graduated from the Central high school of Cleveland, having taken a classical course. Subsequently he was graduated from the Ohio Union Law college in Cleveland.

Senator Green's public record began in 1870, when he was admitted to practice law. In 1873 he was elected a justice of the peace of Cleveland. He was three times elected and served continuously for nine years, during which time he commenced and disposed of about 12,000 cases. In 1882 Mr. Green was elected to the general assembly of Ohio. In 1891 he was re-elected to the legislature, and in 1892 he took his seat in the senate of the Seventieth general assembly of Ohio, being the only colored man ever elected to that body.

During his service as senator he was called upon to preside over the senate, and it is worthy of note that during the time he presided over that body he was ex facto lieutenant governor of the state of Ohio. During the period from 1897 to 1906, nine years, Mr. Green discharged the duties of United States postage stamp agent under both Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt. During eighteen months of that time he discharged the duties of acting superintendent of finance of the postoffice department.

Bethel Church showed an increase of over 700 members, according to the report at Conference, making a total membership of 5,563. Each member was asked to pay $1 annually for Conference benevolence. Of this amount $4,363 was reported, of which sum Bishop Lee said this was the best report of the Conference made in the history of the church. Two hundred and sixty-one dollars was raised by Bethel Church of Muncie. Sunday night 75 members in secret meditation pledged themselves to work better this year than they did last year toward helping to build a new church.

She was born and reared here and lived here until her marriage to Mr. Ray, when they moved to Muncie. Mrs. Ray was an estimable young woman. She was noted for her Christian character and a good, kind, loving, Christian mother, who will greatly miss her. She leaves four children, two girls and two boys. No one can fill her place at that home. Rev. Sampson delivered two excellent sermons Sunday. Everything seems to be moving off nicely. The choir of the Second Baptist Church participated in a musical that was given in their church Thursday night. Miss Youba Harrett sang a solo. Rodger Madison gave an excellent bass solo. Ed Barker and family are occupying the upstairs of his Uncle Gus Pope's house.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The success of open house week had its effect on reaching hundreds of men, women and boys, and especially those who arranged programs for certain evenings during the week. Already classes in physical culture have been started, with hours conveniently arranged for both men and boys. The business and professional men's class is presenting to the membership a wholesome and recreative sport not obtainable elsewhere in the city.

Among the interesting events of the week was the opening of the educational classes on Monday night for both men and boys. An occurrence worthy of mention was the eagerness of a large number of men filling out applications to pursue courses of study along industrial and scientific lines as offered by the association.

The Tuesday Bible class is offering a complete three-year course in Bible study, to all men who desire to supplement their practical understanding with a more attractive course taught by men of ability.

Mr. Willis, of the Hearsey-Willis Bicycle Company, will give a very handsome Model 40 bicycle to the successful member of the boys' bicycle club. This club conducts hikes each Saturday afternoon. A mother's club in connection with the junior department is forming and full accounts will be given in the next issue.

Meets Son After Forty Years Separation.

Henry Johnson of New Carlisle, O., came to Indianapolis last Saturday and for the first time in 40 years met his son, Rev. J. D. Johnson, pastor of Metropolitan Baptist church, and another son Geo. Johnson of Greensburg, Ky., who came to this city for the meeting, and a daughter Mrs. Belle Mays of West 11th street. A great family re-union was held and the joy of again meeting in a family circle cannot be expressed in words. Mr. Johnson is hale and hearty at the age of 86 years, and is a prosperous farmer. He will remain for two weeks.

Local N. A. A. C. P. Notes.

Colored Progressives Stand By Principles

All colored voters of Marion county have been urged to support the Progressives, in a resolution adopted by forty (40) prominent colored men of Indianapolis.

They begin with the statement that "The statement made by certain individuals and newspapers relative to the negro going back to the old Republican party is unqualifiedly false" and then go on to tell why, in their opinion, the colored men should be Progressives.

Progressive County Chairman Clarence R. Martin considers the resolution, coming as it does, from prominent men in Indianapolis, will be of great benefit in defeating Republican efforts to get the colored voters to return to it; especially since it would be impossible to find such a group of leaders as signed the petition.

Support of the Progressive candidates is urged, especially W. S. Henry, a colored man, Progressive Legislative nominee, and the only colored man on any ticket in the State; and Paxton Hibben, Progressive nominee for Congressman, is given great praise for his stand for justice to the colored man, taken in answering questions asked by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"The statement made by certain individuals and newspapers relative to the negro going back to the old Republican party is unqualifiedly false," reads the resolution. "We stand for and represent that element of thinking colored voters who are not of the come-back brand, and who are willing to stand for the principles that tend to advance and qualify the negro for good citizenship."

"And we are firmly convinced that those principles are found in the platform of the Progressive party and by those principles we will stand, and by the candidates who support them."

MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

We have just returned from the best session of our national convention, the largest organization of Negroes in the world.

Our woman's convention, auxiliary to the national convention, in its fourteenth annual session, realized the growth and scope of their work and responsibilities more than ever before. The chairmen of our various departments, Social Service, Child Welfare, Legislation, and Vital Statistics, after surveying the fields for the past year, brought plans that will not only enlarge the scope of our endeavors but will greatly improve the conditions of our people and give them a new vision of their opportunities and responsibilities as Christian workers. All our sessions were most optimistic, the religious, intellectual and moral status showed the most wonderful advancement of any previous session. It is indeed a "truth" that our denomination, in these particular lines, is marching up Zion's hill.

While nations were rising against nations, the spirit of war in every breeze, the representatives of two million and a half of Baptists were in the City of Brotherly Love closing in our ranks in faith and hope for the ultimate triumph of Christ in the establishment of His kingdom of universal peace.

We have never been entertained so elaborately as in Philadelphia. Mrs. Blackwell, the charming wife of Bishop Blackwell, of the Zion M. E. Church, gave us a reception on Friday afternoon which was largely attended by our delegates. We left feeling that our fears, hopes and aims were one, and resolved to reunite our forces for the spread of His gospel and the uplift of our race.

Saturday afternoon we were tendered a reception by John Wanamaker in the Egyptian tea room in his store, the largest dry goods store in the world. An orchestra, composed of young Negro men, furnished the music. The master of ceremonies was a Negro churchman, and a splendid musical program was given us by these employees of Mr. Wanamaker. Mr. Wanamaker was introduced to the thousands of delegates present. He spoke in glorious terms of what the Negro had accomplished in the short time of his freedom and predicted a more marvelous progress in the future. His maintenance of a school where all can have an equal chance for their intellectual improvement, also teacher of the largest Sunday school class in the world, and that you can not be employed by him unless you attend some Sunday school, is proof positive that Mr. Wanamaker rightly deserves the term applied to him, "The Prince of Merchants."

He turned everything in that department over to the National convention to be used by them as long as they needed. He requested that the convention stand and sing, slowly and softly, "Steal Away to Jesus." Could you have heard the echoes of those voices singing that song and then associated it with the anguish of your forefathers, with the realization that their prayers had been answered, you would have said with me, "My soul doth magnify the Lord this day." Dr. Morris responded fittingly to the words of Mr. Wanamaker. He introduced Mrs. S. W. Layton, who simply out-dependent thinking before November 3, 1914, and to support the men who are willing to take a stand for justice and right and who are really in sympathy with those measures which are for the best interests of the colored race. A stand which we approve is that taken by Paxton Hibben, Progressive candidate for Congress, who has firmly declared his position in answering the questions propounded by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in a letter addressed to all Congressional candidates. He is the only one of three nominees from this district who has replied.

"We earnestly solicit the support of our candidates and especially W. S. Henry, who is a candidate for the Legislature."

The questions referred to in the resolution, and answered by Mr. Hibben so completely to the satisfaction of the colored men, deal with the attitude he would adopt in Congress toward attempts to disfranchise the negro and to discriminate against him through Jim Crow cars and segregation in residence sections of the District of Columbia. Mr. Hibben showed that he stood for the citizenship of the negro.

The resolution is signed by: Rev. G. William Ward, R. L. Brokenburr, Richard Arnold, Samuel W. Beal, Oscar Weather, Lucas B. Willis, Dr. O. E. Ballinger, F. B. Hansom, Jerry Daniels, Smith Weathers, Willis A. Kersey, William Boyd, George Baptist, Elmer Herron, William Reed, Ira Jones, Henry Henderson, Dr. Oscar Langston, Dr. H. W. Armstead, A. H. Breckenridge, Oliver Broughton, Rev. J. D. Johnson, Rev. H. L. Herod, Chris Edwards, Arthur J. Franklin, Ewing Overton, W. H. Roberts, A. H. Claybrooks, Winston Hodges, Charles Coleman, C. J. Leonard, Robert Abel, Claude Peters, Willis Horner, R. H. Hudson, Fred Roper, J. S. Hodge, H. H. Abel, W. M. Payne, Isaac Fields.

did herself on the subject of "The part the Negro women play in the great world movement of the age." Mrs. Layton introduced Miss Burroughs, without a doubt one of the greatest women this country has ever produced. Could you have seen Miss Burroughs as she stood on that magnificent platform, looking squarely into the face of the "Prince of Merchants," her voice quivering with emotion, soul touched with infinite eloquence, pleading for her people, your soul would have been kindled afresh with divine love and consecration to His service. Queen Esther did not appear before the king and plead more earnestly or devotedly for her people than did Miss Burroughs for her people. In substance, she said, the Negro was ready and waiting to play his part and wanted to come to the front. God had helped the Negro to the center of the stage of action and he wanted to come to the front, but the men who held the curtain would not lift it and let him to the front. She said the Negro did not want money, not social equality, but just to be given a chance. No heart was more deeply touched than Mr. Wanamaker's. Miss Burroughs is a hard worker, a deep thinker and is doing more to bring our race in closer touch with the white race from an intellectual, moral and religious standpoint, than any woman of our race and in proportion as she comes in contact and touches the vital chords of life of men and women of worth and influence, in the same proportion will our race be lifted on a higher plane. As sisters of this great organization, it seemed as if we were never understood as well as we are this year. The spirit of love exhibited was beautiful to behold and we closed our session feeling a deeper consecration to Christ and His cause.

To the women of our own constituency we plead for concentration of forces, energies and a general getting together for the work of the world is crowding too greatly upon us to complain and find fault while others work. Rather decide to take and fill your place as a woman in the battlefield for right, face the fight of the world boldly for Christ and our race. We are entering upon a new year's work; can we not enter upon it more earnestly with deeper consecration of hearts and a determination to conquer, though we die?

Mr. Booker T. Washington has well said, "I have learned that success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life, as by the obstacles which he has overcome while trying to succeed."

Yours for His service,
MATTIE D. GRIGGSBY,
State Director of Indiana.

WILLIAMS' WORLD FAMOUS COLORED SINGERS

FAVORITES OF TWO CONTINENTS
130 PERFORMANCES IN LONDON, ENG.

Witherspoon United Presbyterian church presents this company of artists to the people of Indianapolis at Bethel church, November 2. The annual concert of Witherspoon church was omitted last year for the reason that suitable talent could not be secured, so this year we are offering this unusual attraction. We are presenting a $1.00 entertainment for 50 cents.

What follows is the introduction of this company to the general public:
The World Famous WILLIAMS' COLORED SINGERS.
Everyone a Star.

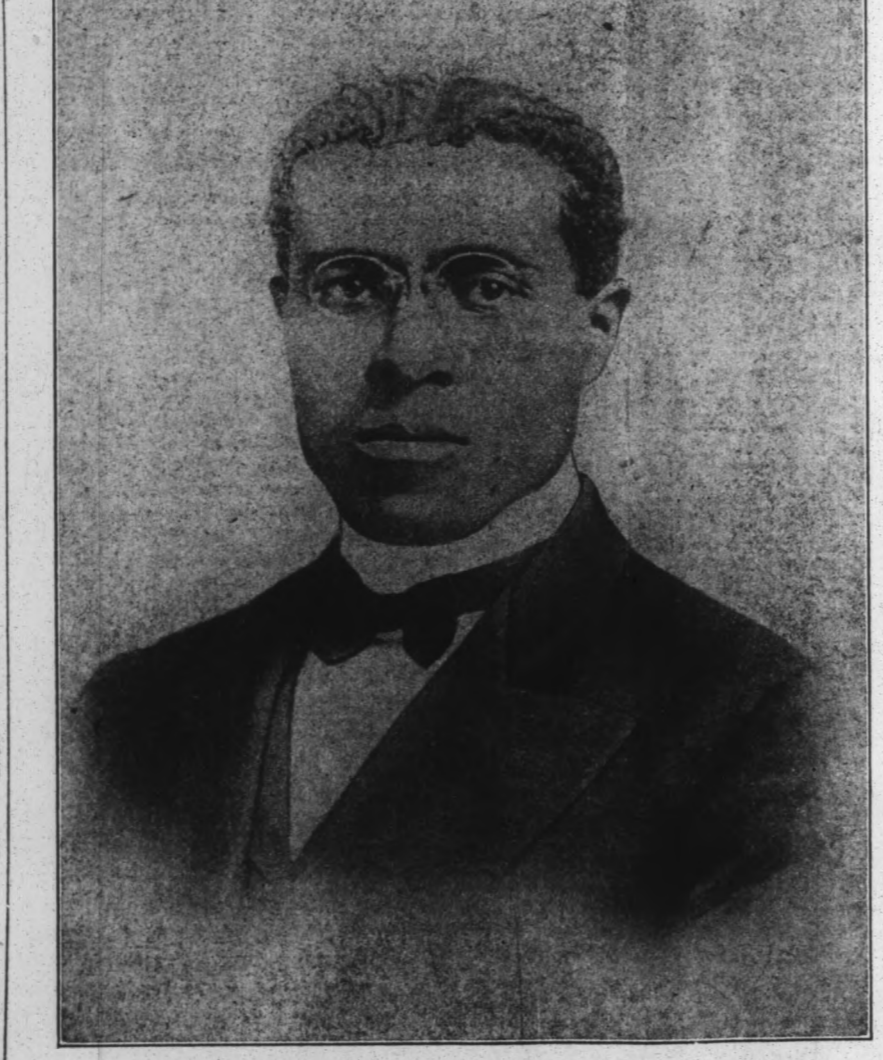

In presenting this company to the public the management has made special effort to have a high moral as well as musical standard. Therefore, our members have been selected from the best Christian homes and have trained in some of America's best schools. Rust University of Mississippi, Knoxville College and Fisk University of Tennessee, and Oberlin College of Ohio are represented in our company.

The Quartet is a special feature and is always a favorite. The prima donna was trained by one of the best instructors of Chicago. She has a lyric voice possessing the flute quality, which is classed by the European masters as being the rarest and most beautiful. The colored race has produced few singers as great as she.

The Contralto has been a student at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. She possesses a rich and charming voice of great depth and power, which has won her many admirers.

The soprano is worthy of special mention. Her remarkable talent is quickly recognized and appreciated by music lovers everywhere.

To years of constant devotion to our life's work in the United States and Canada, we have added a year of travel and study in England, Scotland, Wales, Holland, Belgium, Germany and France. We were eighteen weeks in London, where we gave 130 performances, singing in many of its best known theatres, among which was the world famous Coliseum. While in London the entire company was under the instruction of one of the world's greatest vocal teachers, Miss Ira Aldridge, who is a scholar of the London Royal Conservatory of Music, and whose early teacher was the famous Jennie Lind. This experience added to natural talent and former years of faithful application enhances the ability of each individual singer and has produced in our case a remarkable musical combination. The company is now stronger than ever and we are glad to be again touring America—our native land.

REV. JAMES H. HOLDER
Installation Service At Ebenezer Baptist Church Sunday Oct. 11.

Rev. James H. Holder, D. D.

The above is the likeness of the Rev. Dr. James H. Holder, who is being installed as pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church Sunday, October 11, 1914, at 3 p. m. This character was born on a farm of Tennessee near Hendersonville. His parents moved to this State when he was about seven years old. Some of the older people today remember how when he was but a boy that he shirked no task placed upon him by parents or his employer; and that industry and truthfulness was the very essence of his character.

He embraced a hope in Christ during a revival at the St. Paul A. M. E. Church, Baltimore avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., at the age of eleven years. He united with the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, of which the Rev. B. F. Farrell at that time was pastor, and was baptized. Though but a boy the evidence for a life of usefulness was detected and admitted by all who knew him. He was fond of hard work, a diligent student, and made his home with his parents always until his work called him away from home.

In 1895 when the burden and responsibility of his life's work pressed upon him, he was forced to relate same to the little St. John the Baptist Church in the country out west of Indianapolis, where he preached and held successful revivals even before he was licensed to preach. Even though but a lad he pressed his way up and with the aid of the common schools of Indiana and burning midnight oil he was able for his ministerial education to enter the Roger Williams University and broadened his vision for greater usefulness.

In 1898 he was ordained to the pastorate of the St. Paul Baptist Church, Haughville, where he had been serving as pastor. In 1900 he joined in wedlock to one Miss Laura A. Butler, of Princeton, Ind., who has even until now proved a great spoke in the wheel of his success.

In December, 1901, he took charge of the Second Baptist Church, Brazil, Ind., where he lifted the mortgage, remodeled the building, paid off that debt, held successful revivals, doubled the membership and lifted the work to a higher intelligent standard.

In July, 1904, he took charge of the Second Baptist Church of Columbus, Ind., where he greatly improved the general conditions of the parish and erected a cosy and unique edifice. It was here that young Holder's influence was felt, not only as a minister, but in the general life of the people, both white and black, that he had the honor during the Legislature of 1906 to serve as chaplain in one of its sessions.

In November, 1906, he was called to the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, South Bend, Ind. In keeping with Dr. Holder's ministerial habits, he at once went to work, lifted the mortgage from this property, held successful revivals and increased greatly the membership. The church pride brought about by his ministry demanded a modern and adequate church building, which he went about at once, and carried the work to the blue print point, at which point a panic struck the place, and business was tied up, during which event a call was extended him from the Metropolitan Baptist Church, Pittsburgh, Pa.

In September, 1908, Dr. Holder took charge of the Metropolitan Baptist Church. This is one of the leading churches of both our race and denomination. The work was run down, yet this young hero was found to be equal to the task. He found on the church property a mortgage of $12,144, including other floating debts. He paid on the mortgage over $6,500. Total receipts for the five years were something over $14,500. With modern ideas and methods the intelligent standard of the church was raised to cope with any of the race. He was the first to introduce the individual communion set among the colored churches of the city.

He resigned the Metropolitan Baptist Church August 16, 1914, on his own free will and accord to accept the pastorate of the Ebenezer Baptist Church, Indianapolis, Ind. He will be installed Sunday, October 11, 1914, at 3 p. m.

This young man has occupied with credit some of the leading positions of his denomination in both Pennsylvania and Indiana. He leaves the East with a deep sense of regret on the part of both church and State, and returns to the old Hoosier State with a cordial reception on the part of both his church and friends.

B. F. FARRELL.

FOR SHERIFF

THEODORE PORTEUS FOR SHERIFF HAS MADE GOOD.

A Man Who Believes a Public Office a Public Trust Has Made a Model Sheriff.

At the coming election the people of Marion county will have an opportunity to cast their votes for the election of a man whom they think is the best fitted and qualified to manage and supervise the duties of the office of sheriff.

It is plainly seen that the sheriff's office has many duties and large responsibilities, and for this reason the taxpayers should see to it that this office is kept in the hands of an honest, trustworthy and efficient servant. If the people are not willing to nominate a man whom they have already found and know to be "tried and true to their interests," then they will be remiss in their duty to themselves.

Mr. Porteus is 54 years of age, and was born in Franklin county, Indiana, July 24, 1859. After leaving the farm he clerked in a hardware store for two years. After becoming a traveling salesman he moved to Indianapolis in 1885, where he has lived ever since. He is a member of the Indiana and Old Hickory Democratic Clubs, as well as a member of the F. and A. M., I. O. O. F., K. of P., Moose, Buffalo and other fraternal organizations. He was elected to the city council from the ninth ward in November, 1905, notwithstanding the ward was strongly Republican, and served throughout the years of 1906 to 1909 with credit to himself and his party. When Mr. Porteus was candidate for sheriff two years ago the Indianapolis News said: "Theodore Porteus was a member of the city council until he became deputy sheriff and was one of the few members of the council against whom no charge was ever made of crookedness or questionable practices. He came through with a clean record."

Mr. Porteus, since his election, has been the real sheriff of Marion county. He is the first sheriff in the history of the county who has given his undivided attention to the management and supervision of the business of this office.

After the election of Mr. Porteus as sheriff the State Board of Accounts examined the books in the sheriff's office for the four years that he acted as chief deputy, and found that all the money collected by him had been properly accounted for and turned over to the county treasurer.

Business in the sheriff's office has been kept up to date, and everybody with business to transact has had prompt, careful and courteous attention.

Mr. Porteus has employed more deputies and has paid them larger salaries than any other sheriff in Marion county.

Mr. Porteus has employed a corps of deputies who have been trained to his own ideals of efficiency, exactness and conscientiousness in the performance of their duties.

The jail has been kept clean, sanitary and free from vermin. The clothing of the prisoners is disinfected in an apparatus installed by the sheriff.

—Adv.

FT. WAYNE, IND.

The song service held at the A. M. E. Church was well attended Sunday evening. There was an excellent program and the choir rendered beautiful selections. Mrs. Bertha Welch, Rhoda Jones and Mrs. Jessie Talbert led the singing. Mrs. Langhorn Jackson read an instructive paper on the Qualities of the Sunday School Teacher. The Olive Branch Club, an auxiliary of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, meets every Friday evening at the church. Its motto is Unity and Love. We hope every one will come into this club with a double portion of devotion, strength, and preparation.

Rev. J. W. Saunders is still out of the city visiting his mother. Mrs. Bryant was in the city the guest of Mrs. McCulloch, on Weiser park. Masters Cecil and Robert Dickerson have returned home after a visit with relatives and friends in Chicago, South Bend and Cassopolis, Mich. Mrs. A. F. Dickerson and daughters, Lillian and Naomi, are visiting in Detroit. They are expected home in a few days. Mr. Ohma Harris, of Chicago, spent a few days here last week at the Dickerson home. Owing to the poor health of Miss Marjorie Dickerson, she will not go to school this winter as planned. She will make a study of the history or biography of the noted colored men. She has secured a book from Oberlin College and will present it to the club of young ladies of which she is secretary to further spend their evenings with bright and helpful thoughts to strengthen the organization. Mrs. Jennie Dupee, mother of James Dupee, one of the old pioneer residents of Simpsonville, Ind., is making her home in this city with her son, Mr. Dupee. Having lost her beloved companion, May 16, she has leased her home for sixteen months to reside in this city. Mrs. Jennie Dupee being one of the most estimable citizens of Simpsonville, her many friends regret seeing her leave. For sixteen years she has attended the Shelbyville, Ky., fair association, her brother, Reuben Logan, being treasurer. She has held premiums every year at the fair, from exhibiting her beautiful silk quilts and cakes of her own make, and also showing fine fruit from her large orchard and the best of wine that can be excelled. Mrs. Josie Smothers, of Shelbyville, Ky., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weakley, another daughter of Mrs. J. Dupee.

Items.

The poetical and dramatical recital given by Prof. J. E. McGirt, of Philadelphia, at the K. of P. hall October 5 was a financial success under the auspices of the Calantha Court. Prof. McGirt came to the city through the influence of Mr. Wm. Peters, Jr., the broad-minded young man of Port Wayne. This recital was very largely attended. Prof. McGirt has a cordial invitation from the best young men of the city to return again and get a view of the city at their expense. He left for Buffalo, N. Y., at 4 a. m. Tuesday.

STATISTICS SHOW THRIFT.

Occupations in Which the Race is Engaged Exclusive of Farming.
By RALPH W. TYLER.

Washington.—Quite recently I gave the number of colored men engaged in agriculture, forestry and animal husbandry in the United States. The number, especially of those who are owners, managers or foremen, must have proved a revelation. That the race does not confine its operations exclusively to the farm, but extends its operations practically to every other industry, is shown by the number employed, either as owners, managers, foremen or laborers, in the extraction of minerals and the like.

Engaged in coal mining there are 40,623 members of the race employed. Of these twelve are owners or operators, two are officials of companies, eight are managers or superintendents, 116 are bosses, foremen or overseers, seventeen are bookkeepers, cashiers or accountants, eight are clerks, four are draftsmen, one of whom is a woman; fifteen are electricians or electrical engineers and thirteen are mining engineers, the remainder of the more than 40,000 engaged in coal mining being distributed as laborers, car builders, machinists, drillers, drivers, motormen and the many other occupations associated with coal mining.

In copper mining there are 282 members of the race engaged; none as owner, official, manager or superintendent, but at least one as a boss. In this branch of mining, however, there are three engineers who are identified with the race. In gold and silver mining there are 302 Negroes employed, two of whom are owners and four of whom are mining, civil or mechanical engineers, while the balance employed are distributed among the various other departments of gold and silver mining.

There are 5,379 members of the race engaged in oil mining, fourteen of whom are owners or operators, one as manager or superintendent, nine as bosses, foremen or overseers, one as mining engineer and ten as stationary engineers, the remainder being mechanics, clerks, motormen, laborers and various other employees. Engaged in lead and zinc mining there are 278 members of the race, three of whom are mining or mechanical engineers, seven are drillers, and the remainder are laborers and skilled mechanics.

Engaged in quarrying there are 10,348 colored men, thirty-eight of whom are owners or operators, four as managers, thirty-nine as foremen or overseers, four as clerks, fifty-eight as stationary engineers, two as inspectors, fifty-three as blacksmiths, seven as carpenters and the balance distributed among the skilled laborers and unskilled laborers connected with quarrying. I have ascertained that in the oil and gas well industry there are 268 colored men employed, six of whom are owners, two as bosses, eight as engineers, eight as drillers, seven as tool dressers, the remainder being engaged in common labor or other occupations connected with drilling for oil and gas.

In the production of salt, oil and natural gas—namely, employed in the factories or refineries—there are 208 colored men, one of whom is an owner, three as bosses or foremen, eight as coopers, while the remainder of the 208 employed are engaged as skilled and unskilled laborers and in other occupations required in the production of salt, oil and gas. In all there are 62,755 members of the race engaged in the extraction of minerals in this country, a number that testifies to the fact that the race confines its efforts to no one single occupation.

Speaks for Progressive Principles

The ends of the government are life liberty, freedom and the pursuit of happiness. That these ends may be attained and that the people might be guaranteed these sacred rights forever a code of rules were adopted in 1787, to govern all the people of this Republic. These rules are known as the organic laws of the land, the Constitution of the nation. That constitution sets forth in its pre-amble,

That all men are created equal, and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, a mong them which is the right to life; the right to freedom; the right to liberty; and the right to the pursuit of happiness. These laws or rules of human conduct have been prescribed for us by our superior, and it is mandatory that they be obeyed and respected by all. That every man might enjoy equally the full benefits of the common government, it has been further declared by our constitution, that the government, shall be a government of the people, for the people by the people by the people.

To that end representatives from the rank and file of the people are called by their votes to the offices to the offices demanded to be filled by the government that her blessings might unstintingly descend upon all of her citizens alike. To select these men political parties have been formed, and each party puts its man in the field pledged to certain principles.

Today three great political parties in the state and nation are engaged in a campaign. The principles to which the men put forward by each party are pledged, have been published to the world, and you, Mr. Public must make your selection from these to be your next public servant.

As black Americans the problem before us is grave. The two old parties we know. The new party we have yet to become acquainted. At the hands of the Democratic party experience has taught us to expect nothing. The Republican party has proven to be in these latter years a worse enemy to our rights guaranteed us by the constitution than the Democrats. For at their hands by reason of our solid support these years, we have looked up to them with fondest hopes, for a full and complete enjoyment of real manhood, and have been led by the ghost of false promise to the very gate of real citizenship, to have the gate shut in our faces our hopes blasted and our avenues of happiness blocked.

Our Republican friends have stood by while in full control of the affairs of the nation, and gave their silent consent to the disfranchisement of more than six million black Americans in the South. They have seen every Jim Crow law entered upon the several statute books with not one word of protest. They have heard the dying groans of more than three thousand six hundred black men amid the frenzied cries of angry mobs and have not used their hands in their defense.

With the fifty years just passed, filled with such experiences we conclude that the map who feigns friendship to a weaker brother, and by that pretended friendship robs him of his sacred heritage the ballot box is worse by far than the man from whom he expecteth nothing. Hence the two old parties so far as the black man is concerned are and have been together in the suppression of our rights. Then when we look about us for shelter, for an opportunity to be men, for the pursuit of happiness, freedom and liberty, would prudence suggest that we longer remain in their courts, longer abide in their trusts.

The Progressive party is our only ship, all else the sea.

VOTE FOR CHAS. HOOVER

PAXTON HIBBEN.

My dear Mr. Stewart:

Professor Joel E. Spingarn, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has sent to every Congressional candidate of the Progressive, Democratic and Republican parties a list of questions touching the intentions of these candidates towards the colored people and their votes, if elected, on certain measures. I have been glad to reply to these questions; and I append herewith the questions and my answers. May I suggest that it is a matter of the greatest interest to the colored voters of Indianapolis what answers the remaining candidates for Congress gress from the District have made or may make? And may I suggest that The Indianapolis Recorder might find it of interest to its readers to publish their replies? I have no objection to having my replies to these questions made public. I have a ways been; and I shall always be very frank and decided regarding the citizenship of the colored people.

Here are the questions and my answers:

1. Will you, if elected, vote against any measure abrogating the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments?

Answer: I shall.

2. Will you, if elected, vote against (a) segregation in the federal service?

Answer: I shall. (b) Residential segregation in the District of Columbia? Answer: I shall. (c) Segregation in Jim Crow cars in the District of Columbia? I shall.

3. Regardless of whether you advocate racial intermarriage, will you oppose the passage of a law making such marriage in the District of Columbia invalid, since the enactment by States of such laws has led to the degradation of Negro women and children?

Answer: I shall vote to make no woman's children illegitimate.

4. Do you under any circumstance justify lynching?

Answer: I do not.

5. Do you favor the enforcement of Clause 2 of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution?

Answer: Certainly. The erection of "rotten boroughs" in this country is the negation of representative government.

GEORGE W. BROWN

Progressive Nominee for COUNTY TREASURER

MY PLATFORM: The Office of County Treasurer has to do with the proper collection, safe guarding and disbursement of about—
Five Millions of Dollars Annually of Funds of the Taxpayers

It should not be looked upon as a political office. Considerable sums of this trust may be diverted by technical means to ill advantage of our citizens by a faithless or partisan-minded trustee. The tax payer is interested too in not being taken advantage of by lax methods of notices, and should receive wherever possible, more extended courtesies, such as ought to prevail toward those who pay their hardearned money into the Treasury. The taxpayer for the most part, pays his lawful proportion willingly and he has the right to expect that the funds shall be scrupulously and honestly administered.

This I Pledge Myself to Do, if Elected.

Lesson II.—Fourth Quarter, For

Oct. 11, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark xiv, 12-25.

Memory Verses, 22, 23—Golden Text, 1 Cor. xi, 26—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The record of this last evening on which He kept the passover and instituted what we call the Lord's supper is found more or less fully in each of the four gospels. Luke says that He sent Peter and John, saying, "Go and prepare us the passover," and that they said unto Him, "Where wilt thou that we prepare?" (Luke xxii, 8, 9). So should we ever ask Him concerning all our goings, and there is another question we should ask Him concerning all our doings, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" (Acts ix, 6), for we have no wisdom concerning anything, but Prov. iii, 5, 6; Ps. xxxii, 8; Isa. xxx, 21, are a very great comfort. They needed no instruction to reach the city, so He said, "Behold, when ye are entered into the city there shall a man meet you bearing a pitcher of water" (Luke xxii, 10).

They were to follow him into a house and say to the good man of the house, "The Master saith, where is the guest chamber where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?" (Verses 13, 14; Luke xxii, 10, 11). It does not seem that the man bearing the water vessel knew what he was doing, but that he all unconsciously guided the men to the right house.

We are often unconsciously guiding people rightly or wrongly, for "Doth He not see my ways and count all my steps?" (Job xxxi, 4).

The owner of the house must have been a disciple, for he understood and showed them the upper room furnished. Thus they found as He had said unto them (verse 16; see also Luke xix, 32).

So shall we always find it to be just as He has said. The words translated "guest chamber" are found in only one other place besides this incident, and that is in Luke ii, 7, "No room for them in the inn." There they made ready the passover. What a privilege and honor and pleasure to make anything ready for Him! Do you find it so? As He sat down with them in the evening He said that He had greatly desired to eat this passover with them before He suffered, but that He would not eat it again until fulfilled in the kingdom of God (Luke xxii, 15-18). He Himself is our passover sacrificed for us, but as there was a great deliverance of Israel from Egypt at the first passover there will be a greater deliverance of Israel at His second coming to set up His kingdom (1 Cor. v, 7; Jer. xxiii, 7, 8). After lesson verse 17 and this portion from Luke there should come in the incident of the feet washing, found only in John xiii, by which He taught them humbly to serve one another and the necessity of constant cleansing from earth's defilement.

Then as they ate the passover He said that one of them would betray Him and it had been good for that man if he had never been born. No one seemed to suspect Judas Iscariot, for they said one by one, "Is it I?" Simon Peter asked John, who was leaning on Jesus' bosom, to ask Jesus who it was. He replied, "He it is to whom I shall give a sop when I have dipped it." He gave the sop to Judas Iscariot, and then Satan entered into him.

Then Jesus said to him, "That thou doest, do quickly."

Judas went immediately out, and it was night and has been night with him ever since. Before he went out he said, "Master, is it I?" And Jesus said unto him, "Thou hast said" (verses 18-21; Matt. xxvi, 25; John xiii, 25-30). According to our lesson, there followed the institution of the supper, by which, according to 1 Cor. xi, 26, we show the Lord's death till He come. The bread represents His body given for us, and the wine His blood shed for us, as is explained in John vi, 47, 54, where in the one verse eternal life is the result of believing on Him, and in the other it is the result of eating His flesh and drinking His blood, so that eating His flesh and drinking His blood is just believing on Him or, according to John i, 12, receiving Him.

He said again in this connection that He would not drink any more of the fruit of the vine till He should drink it new in the kingdom of God (verse 25).

He also spoke of appointing to the twelve (some one taking the place of Judas Iscariot) a kingdom that they might eat and drink at His table in His kingdom and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel (Luke xxii, 28-30). Compare Matt. xix, 28.

While He had before Him, knowing all things, the sufferings of Gethsemane and Calvary, they were selfishly talking of who should be the greatest, and Simon was saying that he was ready to go with Him to prison and to death, not knowing his utter weakness nor that Satan was asking for him to sift him (Luke xxii, 24-34).

In His reference to swords He seems to me to be saying to them that if they could not trust Him when invisibly as well as when visibly with them they had better buy swords and take care of themselves. When He said that two swords were enough it is evident that He did not mean that each should have one.

TERRE HAUTE.

Henry Jones, one of our best known citizens, was accidentally killed last Saturday morning by a street car near 612 street and Wabash avenue. He and a gang of men who were under the direction of Mr. Jones had been working on the streets of Terre Haute for several months prior to his death. He leaves a wife, two children, a mother and other relatives to mourn his loss. His funeral was held at Spruce Street A. M. E. Church on Monday afternoon. Rev. M. W. Sparks preached the sermon and the Masons performed the last sad rites over the deceased brother. His body was interred in Highland Lawn Cemetery. The family has our sympathy in this their hour of sorrow. In our times of last week we were trying to speak of our night schools. We spoke of the kind of work done and subjects taught, but for some cause it was so mixed up with the item that referred to the election of trustees of Spruce Street A. M. E. Church that those who read the items could not tell anything about either item. We will say that the night schools of our city have been going on for two or three weeks. Writing, spelling, reading, arithmetic, English, public speaking, stenography and typewriting, mechanical drawing, electricity, cooking and sewing are being taught. Much interest is being shown. More than 850 persons are attending these schools, which are in session five nights in the week. Persons of all ages, conditions and nationalities are seen in these schools. Prof. Briggs has charge of the schools. The following persons were elected trustees of Spruce Street A. M. E. Church: Edward Morgan, Joseph Churchill, D. M. Roberts, James Shearer, E. C. Roach, Joseph Jackson and C. F. Stokes. One more teacher in the person of Miss Eva Williams has been added to the teaching force of the colored teachers of our city. Miss Williams comes well recommended from her home school in Illinois. She has been a student of the State Normal and teacher in the Vico County schools for two years or more. She is now a teacher in the Lincoln schools. Owing to crowded condition and the scarcity of room at this school a room for the first grade has been fitted up at the Spruce Street A. M. E. Church. Miss A. L. Knight has charge of this room and grade. Miss Louvinia Russell and Miss Florence Tolbert were guests for dinner at Mrs. Newton Fowls Sunday. The enrollment at the Douglas School has now reached 43. Every seat is taken. Mr. Stokes, the teacher, says: "It will not be very long before this school will, of necessity, have to be relieved, too, just like the Lincoln has been relieved." Supt. Waits has already said: "When the number reaches 45 let me know." All the grades from one to seven are being taught there this year. News from the other churches has not come in as yet, therefore it is not possible to give their items. If any one wants to take advantage of having his or her items appearing in the Terre Haute column, please send the items in by Tuesday morning or evening. Old phone 1460. Please renew your subscriptions at once for three months, six months or one year.

ANDERSON.

Regular services will be held at regular hours on tomorrow at the three churches. Additional services will be held at Allen Chapel at 3 o'clock, it being quarterly meeting day. The Lord's Supper will be administered at 3 o'clock. With the return of Rev. Nichols new plans for the year are being made and great hope is entertained for a successful year. Fire destroyed some household effects and wearing apparel at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Clemmons Saturday night, when Mrs. Stonestreet, a daughter, attempted to make a light in an upstairs room. Mr. Ben Carter has removed his family from Irondale to Madison avenue. Miss Georgia Perry has returned to this city for an indefinite stay. This program will be rendered: Scripture reading; prayer; Rev. Prentiss; song by lodge members; solo by Mrs. Florence Tolbert; paper, subject, "Why We Join Secret Orders," by Mrs. Rose Blakemore; duet, Mrs. Susie Watkins and Mrs. Elizabeth Turner; address by Mrs. Ada Goins, of Indianapolis; offering; benediction. A large number of colored people are attending the night school which opened October 1, an opportunity which should be taken advantage of by every one. Some of the same are open to the public and are taught absolutely free of charge that have been refused to colored applicants in business schools because of color only. Julius Ellis, Miss Elmer Blakemore and Mrs. Herron, who have been on the sick list, are all improved.

POULTRY and EGGS

PROCESS OF MOLTING.

Fowls Should Be Protected From Storms When Bare of Feathers. The molting of fowls usually lasts from July to November, sometimes extending well into the winter. The molting season is not the same with all hens, nor does a given hen begin at the same period each year. The hens that begin to molt early are those that finish their molting early and are ready for laying before winter commences. Having completed their growth of feathers, they are in excellent condition for service.

Unless the henhouse is dry, comfortable and well ventilated eggs will not only be a scarcity, but the health of the flock will be in jeopardy. Frost on the walls indicates that the house is not properly ventilated, and the animal heat on the interior coming in contact on the walls with the cold air outside is what causes the frost. The open front henhouse, such as that illustrated, has proved valuable even where the mercury gets very low. In extreme weather a curtain may be lowered over the opening.

Should the process of molting extend into the winter the hens that have not finished in November will probably not lay before spring, consequently the matter of molting is one which all who desire to obtain the best results from their fowls should give due consideration. It is a well known fact that a hen or pullet which starts to lay before cold weather will usually lay all winter and spring.

Fowls that have their liberty and are properly fed usually go through the molting period without much difficulty. Special care should be taken to shelter them during rainy weather. A thorough soaking when they are nearly bare of feathers is apt to result in an attack of roup or cause a chill, the effect of which may last for many months. Fowls which are confined to small runs should have plenty of green food—in fact, give as much of such food as the birds care to eat. But do not overfeed on food of fattening tendencies. It is easy to get the fowls into an overfat condition at this time. They seldom take as much exercise as they should. A good mash should be fed once a day. Should the fowls get off their feed a dose of epsom salts twice a week will be found beneficial. The salts should first be dissolved in water at the rate of a half teaspoonful to each grown fowl and the water used to mix the mash. A little sulphur mixed with the mash twice a week will assist the new feathers to grow. Use the sulphur in the proportion of a teaspoonful to every three fowls. Fresh water must be supplied always.

More diseases are generally contracted during the molting period than at any other time, but by the use of clean quarters the birds can be pulled through with safety. The heavy strain upon the constitution of fowls in casting their feathers is much greater than one would suppose. The worst thing that can be done is to crowd too many fowls in one roosting place, especially if this place is badly ventilated and unclean. Make everything clean and use disinfectants freely on the floor and on the roosts of the house. Loose feathers should not be allowed to accumulate in the house, as they tend to increase the insects and vermin.

Grit For Poultry.

Grit is sometimes called the hens' teeth. Some poultrymen claim they do not need it, but, as a rule, it is kept before them. Oyster shell is fed because the hens need more lime than they get in their food to make the egg shells, says Professor Graham. Therefore both grit and oyster shell should be kept where the hens can get them when they choose. Charcoal in some form is usually recommended for poultry, but it is not absolutely essential for healthy stock. If the hens appear dumpy or get off their feed, a little in powdered form can be mixed with the mash.

The poultryman who has been practicing the too common system of inbreeding should turn over a new leaf and secure some good cockerels now to head next year's breeding pens. Do not inbreed any longer. A strain of prize winning fowls may be brought up from foundation stock of only fair quality. But it is time wasted in trying to do it. It is more satisfactory and more certain and takes less time by starting with the very best the poultry raiser can afford.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Jolly Miller.

This is one of the lively ring games that children always enjoy. They first stand in a double circle, the arm of each player in the outer ring being linked with that of a player in the inner circle. A player stands within the inner circle. The two rings march around, singing: Jolly is the miller who lives on the hill. His wheel goes round with a right good will. One hand in the hopper, the other in the bag; The right ones hasten, and the left ones lag.

As the song ends each player in the outer ring lets go his hold and tries to grasp the arm of the one in front of his former partner. This movement is the opportunity of the player within the ring, who tries to grasp the arm of some one in the inner circle while it is free. If he succeeds the player in the outer ring, who is thus left without a partner, must take his place.

Animal Barometers.

If you find your cat particularly lively and playful prepare for a thunder-storm.

When rain is due you will find the cat busily washing her face.

If in the early morning you see cows lying down, huddled with their tails to windward, look out for a storm.

If a donkey brays loudly you will not have to wait long for the pattering drops.

Sheep turn their heads to the wind when the day is going to be fine, but it is a sign of rain, say the shepherds, when they graze with their tails to windward.

The most dignified and sedate of pigs will become lively at the approach of rain.

Hard to Produce the "S" Sound.

There is one sound of the human speech which it is practically impossible to perfectly reproduce by mechanical means. It is the sound of the letter "s." Neither the telephone nor the phonograph renders it properly. Lord Rayleigh, an English physicist of note, was the first to observe this and to subject the phenomenon to scientific investigation. He found that to pronounce the sound "s" the muscles of the mouth must exert only a slight pressure upon the air, but at the same time the breath must be projected with such force as to produce not less than 1,000 vibrations of the air waves per second. This is a higher number than in the case of any other sound of the human speech.

Campfire Handicraft.

Chicago girls practiced a new handicraft at their campfire camp last summer. They made Indian willow beds according to directions furnished by Ernest Thompson Seton in his "Book of Woodcraft." They cut and peeled seventy willow twigs thirty-two inches long and notched them at the ends. Then they bound them together with heavy twine and fastened them to a framework of heavier boughs. When the work was complete two campfire honor beads were awarded to each craftsman. Another Indian bed was made on the ground by arranging layers of leaves at the bottom and laying hemlock boughs upon them.

Boring Thin Glass.

Everybody who has tried understands how difficult it is to bore a hole in a strip of thin glass. The following method is said to be very successful:

Press a cake of wet clay upon the glass and then make a hole through the clay of the desired size, laying bare the glass at the bottom of the hole. Then pour melted lead into the hole, and it will drop through the glass, making a round aperture. The explanation is that the sudden application of heat cracks the glass in a circle corresponding in size with the hole in the clay.

Boy Scouts Prevent Train Wreck.

A train wreck was prevented recently at Kings Mills, O., through the prompt action of Troop 1, Norwood boy scouts. The troop was hiking along the railroad tracks when they found that a passing freight train had broken a switch. The New York flier was due in a few minutes, so the patrol divided, half of the boys to go to the station to notify the station agent while the other half ran out on the track to flag the approaching train. The boys attracted the attention of the engineer, and the train was brought to a stop within a few feet of the broken switch.

Catching a Melon Thief.

A farmer was losing his canteloupes, and he couldn't catch the thief. One day he hid his camera in a thicket, focusing it upon a fine melon just ripe enough to pick and attaching the shutter by a dark cord to the stem. When he visited his patch a little later his melon was gone, but upon developing the film a stooping figure he knew very well appeared. A print of the picture mailed to the chief actor, in the incident stopped the farmer's losses.

Old King Coal.

Old King Coal
Is a merry old soul,
And a merry old soul is he.
He burns in the grate
From early till late
And crackles so merrily.
He weighs quite a ton.
You can poke him in fun,
And he'll laugh and burn brightly
In gloe:
But, my, how he'd pout
If you'd let him go out!
What a chilly old cinder he'd be!

WHAT REPUBLICAN PARTY TYPIFIES

Organization Is Genuinely Progressive As It Always Was.

A SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL

Farmers of North Must Have Equal Chance With Those of South—Prosperity and Employment For the Idle Thousands—American Markets For American Producers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 7.—A few of the progressive things for which the Republican party stands in the present campaign are cited in a statement just issued by the Republican state committee. The statement gives the following:

"The Republican party stands for a tariff that will prevent 'Big Business' from hiring Japanese labor in Japan and Chinese labor in China for manufacturing goods to be distributed by 'Big Business' distributing agencies at lower cost than the same articles, made by American labor, can be distributed.

"The Republican party stands for a tariff that will give the farmers of the north an equal chance with the planters of the south.

"The Republican party stands for a tariff that will keep Argentine corn out of this country and will give the wheat growers of the north a chance with the onion raisers of the south.

"The Republican party stands for a tariff that will put the thousands of idle railroad employees and factory men back to work at high American wages.

"The Republican party stands for a tariff equal to the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad.

"The Republican party stands for the same measure of protection for the products of the mines as the products of other American industries.

"The Republican party stands for the preservation of American markets for the American producer.

"The Republican party stands for the repeal of the Underwood tariff law, which hands over the American markets to foreign commerce and the establishment of a non-partisan tariff commission to the end that all duties shall be adjusted to the exact difference between the cost of production at home and abroad.

"The Republican party stands for the maintenance of the Panama canal without dictation from any foreign power.

"The Republican party stands for international arbitration and the principles of peace inaugurated by William Howard Taft.

"The Republican party stands for the most generous pensions for the old soldiers and their widows or orphans.

"The Republican party stands for such legislation as will develop a modern system of rural credits.

"The Republican party stands for the right of individual participation on the part of its membership in party affairs.

"The Republican party stands for a reduction in state debt and current expenditures and the unwhorling of the notorious Democratic machine now so grossly extravagant and corrupt in the management of state affairs.

"The Republican party stands for honesty and integrity in office and good and efficient government all along the line.

"The Republican party stands for the same efficiency in the conduct of the public business as is demanded by private business enterprise.

"The Republican party stands for the demolition of the spoils system.

"The Republican party stands for amendments to the State Constitution prohibiting extension of the term of any legislative officer.

We reiterate our former declaration in favor of the revision of the constitution of the state by a constitutional convention consisting of representatives elected by the people, the new constitution so prepared to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection.

"The Republican party stands for the extension of industrial and agricultural education.

"The Republican party stands for the right of labor to organize for its protection and the establishment of a non-partisan state labor commission to have charge of state inspection and to mediate industrial disputes.

"The Republican party stands for arbitration of industrial differences, for the eradication of the child labor evil, for better hours and working conditions for women and more sanitary conditions in workshops.

"The Republican party stands in opposition to placing prison-made goods in competition with the products of free labor and for better safeguards to protect the lives of those who toil in the mines.

"The Republican party stands for the enactment of an equitable workmen's compensation law.

"The Republican party stands for the removal of the liquor question from party politics.

"The Republican party stands for the submission of woman's suffrage to the proposed constitutional convention or to a vote of the people in the form of a proposed amendment to the state constitution.

"The Republican party stands for the divorce of the judiciary from partisan politics, the simplification of methods of legal procedure and legislation that will make less difficult the impeachment of officials for malfeasance.

"The Republican party stands for the enactment of a law prohibiting the issuance of sale of watered stock by corporations, the suppression of tuberculosis and the enactment of better regulations for the sale of narcotic drugs.

"The Republican party, nationally, in state and in county, stands for a square deal to every man, no matter what his politics; stands for an honest use of taxes and revenues, and stands against bias or prejudice in the administration of public affairs."

POPULAR CANDIDATE

JOB FREEMAN.

Job Freeman, of Terre Haute, Republican nominee for Treasurer of State, is one of the best known coal operators in Indiana. His treatment of his employees has always been so fair that the miners of Indiana are now enthusiastically supporting his candidacy. A few years ago Mr. Freeman gave a handsome new residence in the city of Linton to the miners for a hospital. The need for such an institution had long been felt, as the nearest modernly equipped hospital to this mining field was at Terre Haute, and the time necessary to carry a wounded miner to that city often cost a life. Mr. Freeman is one of the most popular men ever presented by a party for a State office. His business experience and success make him an ideal candidate for this highly important office.

THEY'RE "RETROGRESSIVES" NOW.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—As a result of the recent New York primaries in which the Progressives of Roosevelt's home state, after a most spirited contest over the gubernatorial nomination made such a miserable showing, casting less than 30,000 votes as against 390,021 cast for Roosevelt in this state in 1912, the Progressives are being referred to as "Retrospectives." The new name is spreading like wild fire over the Empire state. The suggestion has also been made that the emblem of the party be changed from a Bull Moose to a mosquito.

Heart Disease Almost
Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when thirteen years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her bed near a window so she could get her breath. One doctor said, 'Poor child, she is likely to fall dead any time.' A friend told me Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but I she is spared to me today, a fat, rosy checked girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy." A. R. CANON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. If you are bothered with short breath, fainting spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pains about the heart and shoulder blades, palpitation, weak and hungry spells, you should begin using Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy at once. Profit by the experience of others while you may.

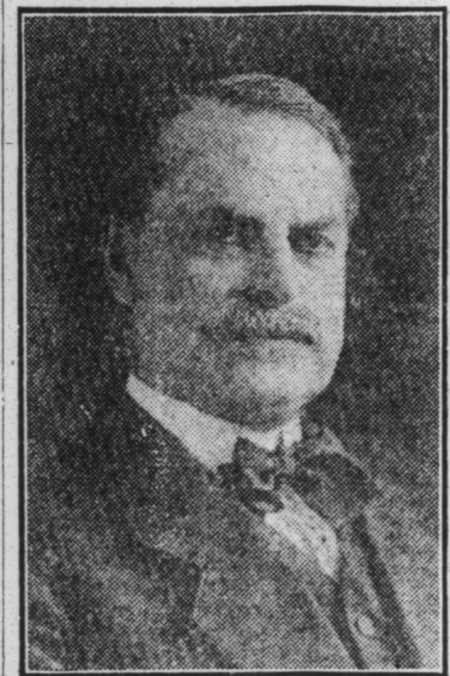

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.
MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

JUDGE QUINCY A. MYERS

Quincy Alden Myers was born near Logansport, Cass county, September 1, 1853. His paternal grandfather was a pioneer farmer, and his own father a farmer, stockman and lumberman. Judge Myers' mother was the daughter of James Justice, also a pioneer farmer of Cass county. Judge Myers attended the country schools and worked on the farm in the summer, until at the age of fourteen he entered the Presbyterian Academy at Logansport to prepare for college.

He graduated from Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., with the class address to the president in June, 1875, with the degree of A. B.

He at once began the study of law in the office of the late Dubitt C. Justice, of Logansport, who in 1876 formed a partnership with Hon. M. Winfield, and young Myers went into that office.

QUINCY A. MYERS

His industry and capacity for work were the subject of comment by all who knew him, and his proficiency such that, in the autumn of 1875, he was made Deputy City Attorney of Logansport, at a time when the office was important.

He graduated from Albany Law School, Albany, N. Y., in June, 1877, as valedictorian of his class, with the degree of LL. B. He received the degree of Master of Arts from Dartmouth College in June, 1878.

By the time of his graduation from the law school Mr. Winfield and Mr.

Justice had dissolved their relation, and young Myers had arranged to go to the University of Leipzig, Germany, to complete his German education, and take a course in the civil law of the continent, when he received a telegram from Mr. Winfield, inviting him to a partnership in a lucrative business. This partnership continued until June, 1882, when Mr. Myers formed a partnership with Hon. John C. Nelson, retiring judge of the Cass Superior Court, with whom he continued in business until his election to the supreme bench of the State, in the election of 1908, the firm in the meantime having in 1903 taken in Mr. Chas. E. Yarlott. Judge Myers' position on the supreme bench has been one of marked credit to himself, and of distinction in the profession. He is characterized by a geniality and a good nature, and disposition to go out of his way to help others, which, coupled with his ability and high character, have commended him to the profession and the people of the State to an unusual degree.

He is one of the most industrious and diligent of men, careful, deliberative, firm and self-poised, and of the most unswerving integrity.

His career on the supreme bench has been especially marked by his opinions on questions of public importance, such as transportation, safety appliance, employers' liability, factory and mining laws. He has been city attorney, county attorney and for thirteen years was a member of the school board of Logansport, during which time many fine buildings were erected in that city, to the erection of which, it is said, he gave his personal supervision. He was Republican presidential elector in the Eleventh Congressional District in 1900, and is president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, having in its active membership many of the leading professional men of the nation.

Judge Myers is a Republican, but it is said of him that while active in local politics, he never offended any man of opposite politics by word or act, and while firm in his own views, has always been courteous to and respectful of the opinions of others.

He is a candidate for re-election, and deserves the support of the profession and the people of this State, without regard to politics.

In his position he has known no politics, and if a non-partisan judiciary is desired in this State, as we believe it is, Judge Myers is to be commended, and should be elected on that ground, coupled with his eminent fitness and his character.

CANDIDATE FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

JUDGE ED JACKSON

While the public record of Homer L. Cook, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State by grace of the Fairbanks-Taggart political cabal, is under consideration it might be well to learn something of Judge Ed Jackson, of Newcastle, the Republican nominee for this position. Cook was speaker of the last House of the Indiana General Assembly and during his incumbency of that office laws were written into the statute books of Indiana that were never passed by the Legislature. In addition, it has been discovered that the permanent record of the proceedings of the House which were compiled under Cook's supervision contain a number of "mistakes."

Judge Jackson is forty years of age; was born in Howard county, near Kokomo, and has lived in several counties in eastern Indiana. His advantages and opportunities were very meager and he was able to go to school but a short time in his boyhood and was compelled to study hard and diligently at home in order to get an education to fit himself and equip himself for the study of law, which he did in the office of the late Judge Nash of Tipton. During the time he was studying law with Judge Nash he sold paper on the streets of Tipton to pay his expenses in order that he might be able to take the time from his work in the factory to read law.

He worked by day's work in order to make a living during all his young manhood, until he was twenty-two or twenty-three years of age, having worked in the various factories of Tipton and other places where he lived, until he worked himself into the practice of the law, which he did by opening an office in the small town of Kennard, Henry county, and later removed to New Castle, his present home, where he has been engaged in the practice of the law since coming here.

After removing to New Castle he was nominated and elected for two terms as Prosecuting Attorney of Henry county, after which he was appointed by Governor Hanly to fill out the unexpired term of his predecessor as Judge of the Henry Circuit Court, who died while holding the office, and he was afterwards nominated and elected for a full term as Judge of the Henry Circuit Court and is now serving in that capacity. His term will expire November 17th of this year.

He has always endeavored to conduct himself in such a way that those associated with him and coming in contact with him would not regret any confidence they may have placed in him. He has endeavored to conduct himself in his official capacity in a way that would be a credit to himself and his constituency and has always been willing and glad to assume his full share of the responsibilities arising in the community in which he lived and using his talents and means to help those needing his help and using his money for charitable and benevolent purposes, having used a great deal of the money coming to him in that way.

Judge Jackson has long been prominent in the civic affairs of New Castle and Henry county. He is a past president of the Lincoln League of Indiana. He is a member of the Christian church.
