

LAWRENCEBURGH.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1825.

The vote, at the late election in Pennsylvania, for and against calling a Convention to amend the constitution, has been, in a number of counties, much divided, some giving a considerable majority for, and others against it. Nine counties gave a majority for a Convention of 3,000 and upwards. It is thought the vote favorable to a Convention will succeed.

The Georgia Election.—The result of the election for Governor, in the State of Georgia, is as yet, very doubtful—from returns received from 52 counties, it appears that Gov. Troup has a majority of 721 votes over his opponent, Gen. Clarke. There are yet eight counties to be heard from, and it is to be hoped, for the peace and prosperity of the good people of Georgia, that the returns from those counties will so change the aspect of affairs, that their present puissant Governor may find his prerogatives considerably abridged, and his pride humbled by the voice of the sovereign People, which bids him retire from a seat which he has proved himself unworthy to occupy.

The irregularity of the arrival of the eastern mail at Cincinnati, has given cause of complaint to a number of our brother editors in that city; and as the same causes must produce the same effects, we are led to make our grievances known, which are none of the most trivial: By a late arrangement the eastern mail is to arrive at Cincinnati daily; this will be of great importance to that place, but how much are the people on the route through this place to Louisville to be benefited by this change, if no provision is made for an additional mail? The answer is easily made—it will be of no benefit at all. Cincinnati has a daily mail, Louisville has a daily mail, and this, as well as the other towns, intervening those places, are favored with a weekly mail in good weather, although on one of the most important post roads from Cincinnati to New Orleans; a route which would, without doubt, authorize the Postmaster General to establish at least two mails per week. In fact there ought to be something done quickly, for so soon as Congress convenes it will be impossible to do justice to this portion of country, under existing circumstances; letters and papers will be delayed for the want of the proper means of conveyance.

The Louisiana Advertiser of the 7th Oct., gives the following notice respecting the health of New-Orleans:

“Notwithstanding the unusual healthiness of our city at this season of the year, we would not advise a too early return of strangers among us, as it would be but the means of furnishing victims, and calling forth the fell destroyer in all its varied horrors.”

Return of the military election, held at Wilmington on the 29th ult., to elect Field Officers to command the 55th Regiment, Indiana Militia.

The following gentlemen are announced as candidates for Auditor of State:

W. H. LILLY, of Marion county,
B. J. BLYTHE, do. do.
W. G. ARMSTRONG, of Clark county,
JOHN SCOTT, of Wayne county.

It is estimated that 90,000 foot passengers, 800 wagons, 300 carts and drays, 1,300 coaches, 500 gigs, and 1,800 saddle horses pass over London Bridge daily.

A resolution has been adopted by the Tennessee Legislature, with but one dissenting vote, recommending General JACKSON as a candidate for the next Presidency.

Major Noah estimates the number of Jews in the Turkish Empire, including the Barbary states, at 1,500,000; of whom only 100,000 reside in Palestine, the land of their fathers.—The number of Jews in Germany and the Northern Kingdoms, of Europe, is computed at 2,500,000; in Holland, 100,000. They were formerly numerous in Spain, and more than a million now speak the Spanish language, though they have long been banished from that country.

Fall Emigration.—The emigration to this country, which suddenly ceased in the beginning of July last, as is usual in the harvest months, has again commenced, and the steam boats and schooners that reach our wharves, and the taverns in town and country, have been filled to overflowing. The emigration is still principally from the western (the richest) counties in New York. It appears that a knowledge of this country has not yet reached farther east than the county of Onondaga. Western New York, however, pours in her thousands, and excellent emigrants they are; calculated well to make a new country rich and powerful, by their intelligence, enterprise and capital.

The Georgia Maniac.—A Baltimorean at Paris, thus writes to his friend—“Governor Troup’s insane message, with the inflammatory proceedings of the Georgia legislature, are going the rounds in the French and English papers. The latter view them in a correct light, as the mere vaporings of faction, but they endeavor to establish the old position, that our government is too weak to last much longer—that our system, which might answer for an infant society, is entirely inadequate to the condition of a great, a growing, and a luxurious nation.”

The Markets.—So great a scarcity of the autumnal fruits of the earth, as that now experience has perhaps never before been felt by the inhabitants of this Island. It appears that the very great draught of last summer, was not confined even to this vicinity. Corn, an article which we have hitherto imported in large quantities from the South, is now quick at one dollar per bushel.—The crops of the present year in this place, will not supply one fourth of the wants of our citizens. Potatoes are also scarce: they bring 65 cents readily—and other vegetables in proportion. Here are 20,000 bipeds and quadrupeds—men, horses, fowls, pigs, geese, cows, ducks and sheep, living upon—expectation! A few cargoes of eatables of almost any description, would now find a good market.

The Erie Canal.—It is estimated that two thousand boats, eight thousand horses, and eight thousand men are employed in the transportation of articles on this canal. If, then, the pay and subsistence of the men and horses, be calculated at only fifty cents each per day, including the interest on capital, and depreciation in value in the last, as we think it reasonably may, it will appear that the transport business, on this canal, costs eight thousand dollars daily, or 2,920,000 dollars a year—say three millions! without allowing any thing for the tare and wear of boats, and for the capital vested in them, or for the numerous persons to open and shut the locks, or keep the canal in repair, &c. &c.

Public Debt.—On the first day of this month 6,187,006 dollars of the principal of the Public Debt were paid off and extinguished—being all that remained of the six per cent. stock of the year 1812.

Toasts.—At the late races, near New-York a filly, called Ariel, by Eclipse, three years old, beat a Virginia colt of the same age, named Lafayette—hence the following toasts were given:

Lafayette—who, this day, was for the first time in this country, caught running after the fair sex.

Ariel—Though not overtaken to day by the general, yet on a different course, she may not be so coy.

Virginia—Though beat, she never feels backward in coming forward.—Viles.

The celebrated horse Eclipse, has been sold for $10,000. Messrs. Stevens and Livingston are the purchasers, who have also purchased Eclipse’s competitor, Henry. They now inhabit one stable together at Hoboken, and will probably hereafter be quite good friends.

Within the last few weeks five persons have been assaulted, knocked down, and robbed of their hats in the lower Marsh Market, at night; one of the persons robbed, had his head most dangerously cut.

Baltimore Chronicle.

A Bedlamite.—It is reported that a man in Bedlam Hospital made these observations: We that are kept here are only called mad, because our madness does not happen to agree with that of the rest of the world. Every body thinks his neighbour mad, if his pursuits happen to be opposite to his own. His neighbor thinks the same of him. But then these two kinds of madness do not interfere with each other. Now and then comes an eccentric man, who thinks them all mad. Him they catch and lock up—that’s my case.”

Drinkers.—There are three sorts of drinkers.—The first class drink to satisfy nature and support existence; the second are somewhat more bibulous, and take a larger quantum, to exhilarate the frame and cheer the heart—to give vivacity to manner, and brighter coruscations to wit, as well as to ensure them sound repose—these we may be allowed to call lawful drinkers; but the third class, those who swallow potions deep, for no earthly purpose but to enervate the body and stupefy the mind, are wholly indefensible. Upon their own shewing, they deserve to be ranked with, if not beneath, the beasts that perish, seeing that it is their constant aim to render their reason oblivious, without possessing its next of kin, instinct.

Dearborn Circuit Court.

OCTOBER TERM, 1825.

Lodwick Cook, vs. Mary Cook.

N OW came Lodwick Cook, by St. Clair, his Attorney, and made it manifest to the Court, that Mary Cook, the defendant aforesaid, is not a resident of this state. It is therefore ruled and ordered, that notice of the pendency of the aforesaid bill or libel for divorce, be published for four weeks successively, in the Indiana Palladium, a public newspaper, printed in Lawrenceburgh, Dearborn county, requiring the said Mary Cook to be and appear before the Judges of the Dearborn Circuit Court, in Chancery sitting, on the first day of their
