

LAWRENCEBURGH.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1825.

Affairs at home.—To render the passing scenes of life more tolerable, which are alternately succeeded by clouds and sunshine; and to demonstrate his belief in the truth of the maxim, that example is a more powerful incentive to good actions than precept, the senior editor respectfully advises the readers of the Indiana Palladium, that he has (believing "it is not good for man to be alone") taken a partner, not for one or two years, but so long as life shall last; not to share with him in the toils of the Printing-Office, but to strive with him.

"In offices of love, how they may lighten

"Each other's burden, in their share of woe," and participate together in life's pleasures.

We are unable, this week, to give our readers any local news of importance.—The Legislature of this state convened on Monday last; but in consequence of the mail for this place leaving Indianapolis on that day, we did not receive the governor's message, as anticipated. No papers were received from Frankfort, by the last mail, consequently, our Kentucky friends are still kept in ignorance of the proceedings of their Legislators.

We have seen a letter from a gentleman in London to his friend in Philadelphia, which confirms the statement of the London John Bull of Sept. 26, that Mr. BROUGHAM has serious intentions of visiting America. It is stated, that he is now putting his professional business in such a train, as will enable him to remain in this country long enough to travel over a great portion of its territories, in order that he may witness the practical effects of that system of government, of which he is so enthusiastic an admirer. This distinguished advocate of the rights of man will, undoubtedly, be received and treated with that spirit of kindness and courtesy, which is always the result of admiration of talents and good principles,

Freeman's Journal.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Pickle for Beef and Pork.—The following receipt is strongly recommended: Six gallons of water; 9 pounds of salt, coarse and fine mixed; 3 pounds of sugar; 2 ounces salt-petre; 1 ounce pearl-ash; 1 gallon molasses to every 6 gallons water. In making a larger or smaller quantity of pickle, the above proportions are to be observed. Boil and skim the ingredients well.

From the St. Clairsville Gazette.

It has been estimated that the number of acres planted in tobacco in this county, the present year, was somewhere near 2000; that 700 pounds are produced off an acre, and that the average price per hundred in Baltimore will be fifteen dollars, which amounts to the enormous sum of two hundred and ten thousand dollars. This sum annually distributed among our farmers would brighten up their countenances, which have so long looked gloomy by the continued and severe pressure of HARD TIMES.

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 5.

Private letters, the contents of which are corroborated by the report of the master of a small vessel arrived here, state upwards of 20 dead bodies to have been found, a few days since, bound two and two and back to back, on the beach on this side of Malaga, which had been washed thither by the sea. All that has hitherto been ascertained respecting the unfortunate sufferers, is, that they were Spaniards. (Chronicle)

Laws.—The following decision was made by the Supreme Court at the late law term in Worcester.

A principle of some importance was settled in relation to parents and minor children, and as to the right of the former to wages earned by the latter; and we understand the Court to have decided that whenever a parent permits a child to contract for wages without interfering to claim them, he thereby loses his right, not only to recover such a part of the wages as may have been actually paid to the child, but also to any part which may remain unpaid; so that he cannot maintain an action for the subsequent earnings of the child; and the child is entitled to receive them to his own use, free from the parent's control.

Mr. Jefferson.—It would appear from the following article from the Richmond Enquirer, that the author of the declaration of Independence, has had a narrow escape for his life, while setting to Mr. Browere to have his bust taken.

From the Richmond Enquirer.

We have received from Charlottesville the following account of the matter:

"Mr. Browere carried letters to Mr. J. and one from Mr. Madison; the latter had submitted to the operation, and represented it as not painful; and the artist assured Mr. J. that his mode was more easy than that of an artist who had already taken his bust. He submitted to the operation. Instead of pursuing the usual course of taking the face at one operation, and the rest of the head at another, the whole was attempted at once. The plaster was permitted to get too hard, and Mr. J. was nearly suffocated. He had no other mode of giving the alarm but by stamping with his feet. This noise alarmed the female part of the family who ran into the room in a moment. The plaster was so hard that it had to be broken into pieces by means of a hammer and chisel. The strokes were necessarily hard, and the jars exceedingly distressing. Even after the mould was broken, the plaster had taken such firm hold on the ears that Mr. J. was doubtful whether they would be pulled off or the plaster would break. It had to be separated from other parts of the neck and skin by running a knife between. This operation, independent of the suffocation, you will easily conceive, must have been very distressing. I understand that Mr. J. says he had his arm broken and his wrist put out of joint at the same moment, and the pain of setting the one and putting the other in place, was far less than what this operation occasioned. Would you believe that this "eccentric" artist and letter writer neither sympathised with the pain he had occasioned nor participated in the solicitude of the family. On the contrary, he was congratulating himself with the exactness of the likeness, and unfeelingly jested about the pain and distress. His sensibility was alike blunted to the evidences of displeasure occasioned by his untimely humour. The coxcomical letter he has written on this subject, caps the climax of his "eccentricity." I understand that Mr. J. says, with much good humour, that he will freely forgive him if he fulfills his promise in sending for the University the best drawing master in the country (Landscapes.)

The king of Great Britain, it appears by the recent intelligence, has issued his proclamation interdicting all interference on the part of his subjects in the contests between the Turks and the Greeks, under the penalty of fine and imprisonment. Lord Cochrane, it is stated, has received orders to proceed no further in his naval armament, and we learn that his majesty is determined to observe the most rigid neutrality. It becomes a question for the British ministry to settle amongst themselves, why this strict observance of neutrality was not exacted before—why was it delayed until the darkest moment of the Grecian struggle, when thousands of swords were ready to leap from their scabbards to avenge the wrongs of this injured and insulted people. The British ministry have to reconcile this late proclamation of their monarch, with the generous overture made by the Greeks to put themselves under the protection of the English government. It is not improbable that this persecuted people may now make a formal tender of their loyalty to the Russian court, and solicit once more the protection of Alexander. Such was the course which rumour had declared the Greeks were resolved to adopt, and in that case Alexander will, after all, be enabled to claim precedence of George the fourth, as the generous protector of a persecuted people. Indeed the conduct of the English ministry demands an explanation—at one moment they show themselves the proud asserters of South American and Mexican Independence, and in the next, they present the face of cold neutrality, to an equally oppressed and persecuted people, who claim protection from their humanity.—Balt. Amer.

Punishment of Scholars.—An action was lately tried before the supreme court of N. Hampshire at Guilford, for an alleged assault and battery. The plaintiff was a boy of 10 or 11 years of age, and the defendant an instructor in a school of which the plaintiff was a scholar. For some misdemeanor, the plaintiff had been chastised by the defendant during school hours; and at the close of the school for the day, the scholars not having dispersed, the plaintiff asked the defendant why he whipt him more than the other boys? The defendant replied, that he did not whip him more than others who transgressed the rules of the school in an equal degree. The boy then told the instructor he was a G-d a-d liar, and ran out of the house: the instructor followed, caught and whipped him back to the school house, for which the plaintiff brought this suit. It further appeared that the plaintiff was soundly flogged, and that stripes remained on his back for ten days afterwards. The chief justice charged the jury very clearly on the subject; the jury retired for a few moments, and returned a verdict (as every sound minded man would have done) of not guilty. The law laid down in this case, was, that instructors have full right to punish their pupils for the transgression of the rules of their schools, even though the school may have been dismissed, if the scholar, so transgressing, has not gone home to his parents or master.—Bost. Cour.

WHOLESALE PRICE CURRENT.

CINCINNATI, December 5, 1825.

Articles.	From	To
Bees' wax*	lb. $ cts.	$ cts.
Candles { dipped	" 9	10
{ mould	" 21	22
Coffee { W. I. green best	" 20	21
{ St. Domingo	" 26	27
Feathers, live*	bbl. 2 90	$ 00
Ginseng†	lb. 29	21
{ Forks Island‡ bush.	1 00	1 25
Salt { Kenhawa, at the river†	" 28	30
{ in store	" 33	35
Sugar { New Orleans‡	lb. 11	12
{ Havana, white	" 15	21
{ Loaf and lump†	" 1 40	22
Teas { Imperial do §	" 1 35	1 20
{ Young Hyson	" 1 10	1 18
Whiskey, new*	gal. 18	19

*In demand. †Plenty. ‡Scarce. §Dull. ||Sale.

PRICE CURRENT.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 1.

Bacon hams,	lb. 8 a 9 cts.	scarce.
Butter, fresh,	" 12 a 15	do.
Beans,	bbl. $ 2 50 a 3 50
Coffee, Havana, green, lb.	17 a 19	plenty.
Cheese, Amer. good, lb.	18 a 20	in demand.
Cider, bbl.	$ 2 a 3	in bottles do.
Corn, in ears, pr. flour bbl. full,	$ 1 50 do.
Meal, kiln dried,	2 25	none.
Flour, good, per bbl.	$ 4 87 a 5 00
Ginseng lb.	none in market.
Lard, lb.	10 a	saies.
Molasses, gal.	27 a 28	do.
Sugar, La. lb.	7 a 9	scarce.
Whiskey, gal.	24 cents, dull.
Tobacco, 1st. quality, lb.	6 1-2 a 7 sales.
Bees' Wax	35 a	scarce.

Price Current.

HYMNEAL.

MARRIED—On yesterday evening, by Daniel Hagerman, Esq. Mr. DAVID V. CULLEY, one of the editors of this paper, to Miss MARY ANN BROWN, of this place.

I'll keep no book of my love's faults,
Since we're in wedlock join'd;
But strive to merit the reward
Of friendship—pure and kind.

MARRIED—On yesterday evening, by the Rev. Ezra Ferris, CHARLES L. BRASHER, Esq. of this place, to Miss ELIZABETH COLE, of Logan township.

Also—on yesterday evening, by the same, Mr. ELIJAH SALTMARSH, to Miss RACHEL CARMAN, both of Lawrenceburgh township.

Communicated.

ESTRAYS.

Taken up by Jonathan Bennett, of Manchester township, Dearborn county, Three estray horses, one a Brown horse, supposed to be 14 years old; no brands perceptible; a small bunch on his back with some white hairs; about 15 hands one inch high; one shoe on the left fore foot. Appraised at thirty dollars.

Also, one Bay horse; black main and tail; a star and snip in his forehead; with all white feet; shod before; 15 hands high; no brands or marks perceptible; supposed to be 18 years old. Appraised at thirty dollars.

Also, a mare colt, supposed to be one year old last spring; right hind foot white; about 18 hands high. Appraised at fifteen dollars.

The above property appraised by Amos Dickinson, Richard B. Curtes, and James Manley.

A true copy,

John Palmer, J. P.

December 2, 1825. 49-3w

PAY UP!

AND SAVE COSTS!!!

THE subscriber wishes to inform those indebted to him by note or book account, that the time for paying the same in produce, will expire on the 1st day of December. All those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity of paying in produce, will do well to deliver it on or before the 10th Dec. as he intends putting all his notes and accounts in the hands of the proper officer for collection after that period.

DANIEL BROWN.

November 28, 1825.

JAMES H. GRAVES,

TAILOR,

RESPECTFULLY returns his thanks to his customers, and the public generally, for the liberal encouragement he has heretofore received; and informs them that he will continue to carry on the above business, at his old stand in Lawrenceburgh, on Main street, first door above John Gray's Inn; where all orders in his line, will be thankfully received, and punctually attended to.

AN APPRENTICE

Wanted immediately, to the above business, about 12 or 14 years of age. One coming well recommended, would be thankfully received.

J. H. GRAVES.

43f.

Oct 28, 1825.

GUY HUDSON,

TAILOR,

RESPECTFULLY informs the inhabitants of Lawrenceburgh and its vicinity, that he has commenced the TAILORING BUSINESS in this place, in a room one door south-west of the Union Hotel, on High-street, where he hopes by long experience in his profession and faithful attention to business, to merit a share of public patronage. He has received the latest and most approved fashions from the eastern cities, and will constantly have advices from those places. Ladies and Gentlemen desirous of having their habits and coats executed in the neatest and most elegant style, are requested to call.

Cutting done on the shortest notice; and all orders punctually attended to.

Nov 4, 1825.

44-6m.

The Wild Girl.

A N article has lately appeared in the papers, stating that a young girl, who calls herself Maria Matthews, in a deranged or wild state of mind, was found, not long since, in Stow, Portage county, Ohio. From every information collected, we are led to believe she is the same unfortunate being who was found in Beaver county, Pa. February last, in a most miserable situation—almost in a state of nudity; an account of which was published in a number of newspapers. Her parents reside in this county and are very desirous that she should return to her home; but being in indigent circumstances & debilitated by age and infirmity, it is impossible for them to go in quest of her. If any means can be devised by the inhabitants of the neighborhood in which this information may find her, to restore her to the arms of the bereaved and disconsolate parents, they will do much in aid of the cause of humanity.

We are authorized by Mr. Daniel Brown, to state, that he will pay twenty dollars out of his own funds to any person who will convey her to this place; and we feel little hesitation in saying, that any additional expenses would be fully realized by the person who might return with her. EDITORS.

Editors in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Indiana, will do an act of benevolence by inserting the above once or twice in their respective papers.

Lawrenceburgh, Dec. 2, 1825.

GRAY'S INN,

LAWRENCEBURGH, INDIANA.

THIS House of Entertainment is now large and commodious, with an addition to its former accommodation, of a large back building, containing seven well finished rooms, with a fire place in each, and mostly intended for lodging rooms.

The subscriber tenders his sincere thanks to the public, for the liberal share of patronage heretofore received, and flatters himself that, from his unremitting attention to his business, the carelessness of his Ostler, the goodness of his stable forage &c. he will still merit a continuance of the public favour.

JOHN GRAY.

November 28, 1825.

48-

Administrators' Sale.

ON Saturday the 31st day of December, in and adjoining the town of Lawrenceburgh, we will offer for sale a lot of Corn, estimated at seven hundred bushels, some Posts and Rails, Oats and Wheat in the stack, with other articles, the property of the estate of Lazarus Noble, dec'd. A liberal credit will be given—the further terms of which will be made known on the day of sale.

THOS. G. NOBLE,

N. NOBLE,

Administrators.