

a reform of those errors.

Fellow citizens, I have lost all confidence in those characters. Of what use are they to our country or the people of Indiana, only to drain the money out of the public treasury? On which (report says) some of our congressmen riot in drunkenness and debauchery to the disgrace of their constituents and their own shame. Even our senators and representatives of our state legislature, appear to have the same unrighteous delicacy in exposing the iniquity of officers, as the judges and congress representation—with some honorable exceptions.

Fellow citizens, does not the good of the government demand a change of men and measures in public office? Who will have the good of our country and the support of the constitution more at heart? Let us rise, in the majesty of our strength, and elect men of good moral and temperate habits, and sound judgment, with undaunted independence to serve the people as judges and in all the representative capacities. Men who will support the constitution of this state themselves, and aid and assist in chastising all offenders of the same.

Fellow citizens, the good of our country demands a change of measures: I do not mean a change of parties. Our country has been distracted enough already by raising parties to turn the ins out and the outs in. The laboring and working part of the community are generally honest, sober, and virtuous, who are well disposed and steady in the support of the laws and constitution; and in fact the bulwark of the nation. Out of this class we can find men of equal abilities and capacity to transact all our public business, equal to any other class of citizens. A reasonable competition in the government, to keep the people alive to their interest, is of the first importance in our free republic, but when it is carried beyond honorable measures it loses its valuable check, and borders on anarchy. I have a friendship alike for individuals who profess Jacksonism and Clayism, although I have been considered on the Clay side. But Dick Johnson's resolution, (of Kentucky) to leave all parties and declare for himself, is worthy of imitation. Let us declare for ourselves and put a stop to party broils and contention in our country.

Our laws are in a very bad state. It is true we have some that are good and wholesome for the people; but a revision is absolutely necessary. A short, simple, and plain code of laws is the best for a free people. They should be concise, mild, and energetic. All the unconstitutional acts should be repealed, also all the borrowed words from other languages should be struck out, and their places supplied with English, and so simplified, that the smallest capacities could understand them. An alteration in our judiciary is of the utmost importance. There should be a prompt decision in all judicial cases without delay, and but one attorney would be necessary to assist the judge in taking the evidence, to accomplish a righteous judgment. Examiner.

A Relic of the United States' Sloop of War Hornet.—It is now fifteen months since the gale in which the U. States ship Hornet, with her gallant crew, is supposed to have been lost in the Gulf of Mexico, and up to this time not a syllable of direct information has been given to the public concerning her fate. We have now a single item to communicate, which we believe can be relied on. Capt. Williams of the schooner "Texas," informs us that he saw at Brassy one of the Hornet's boats, which was driven ashore to the north of Tampico several months since, and in which were found a number of caps marked "Hornet."

She was recognized by a Captain well known to Capt. Williams, as a gig in which one of the Lieutenants of the Hornet frequently came ashore. Capt. Williams describes her as from 20 to 25 feet long, painted black, round waist, and copper fastened. She is single-banked, having two oars on one side, and three on the other. Since she came into the hands of her present owner, (a pilot at Brassy) she has been coppered, to preserve her from decay.

Capt. W. offered him $100 to exchange her for his own boat, in order that he might bring her home, but was refused. Further information may be obtained by applying to Capt. Williams, on board the schooner Texas, lying at pier No. 1, North River.

There are persons at the Navy Yard, we presume, who will be able, from the above description, to decide whether or not she belonged to the Hornet. To us there seems little reason to doubt on the subject. No other appendages of the ship, or pieces of the wreck had come ashore, from which it is probable that she foundered. Journal of Com.

CANDLES AND SOAP.

JUST received and for sale by the box, a quantity of candles and soap, at Cincinnati prices. THOMAS SHAW. January 8, 1831.

LAWRENCEBURGH: SATURDAY, JANUARY 8.

We acknowledge the receipt of sundry documents from our representative in congress, Mr. Test, comprising the report of the commissioner of the general land office, the report of major general Macomb, the report of the board of visitors to West point, and several others, accompanying the president's message. These documents may be had for perusal, by calling at this office.

We also have received, through the polite attention of Mr. Hendricks, of the United States senate, Mr. Sanford's report on the current coins. This is an interesting document, from which we purpose making some extracts.

Ohio.—The election for U. States' Senator came on in the Ohio legislature on the 39th ult. and resulted in the election of Thomas Ewing, on the 6th ballot, by a majority of 3 votes over Micajah T. Williams. The following is the vote on the several ballots:

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th
Ewing	33	37	42	46	51	54
Williams	49	50	49	52	53	51
King	21	21	16	9	5	00
Scattering	3				1	2

Mr. Williams was supported by the friends of the administration, & Messrs. Ewing and King by the friends of Mr. Clay.

We have not yet learned the result of the election for U. States' Senator in Kentucky, to fill the place of Mr. Rowan. It was to have taken place on Tuesday last.

Congress. Little business is doing in either house of congress of a general nature. The impeachment and trial of Judge Peck, of Missouri, for misdemeanors in office, seem to engage much attention. Until his case is disposed of little other business, it is thought, will be attended to.

Judge Test arrived at Washington on the 15th ult. The injury he sustained in one of his legs, by jumping from the stage, detained him considerably on his journey, and is still very painful. In a letter to the editor of the 25th ult., he says he is barely able to hobble about on crutches, and attend the meetings of the house by the aid of a hack.

By letters received in town from Messrs. Ferris and Armstrong, we learn that a bill has passed the house of representatives to incorporate the Tanner's creek bridge company, with a capital stock of $500,000, to be created by shares at $5 each. Those who have subscribed to the bridge, are to receive shares to the amount of the money paid. The bill also provides for an adjustment of the accounts of the contractors and the payment of what may be due them. Under all the circumstances, we think the bill will meet the wishes of a majority of our citizens.

The Louisville Advertiser states that Mr. Clay and family arrived in that city on the 29th ult. on their way to New-Orleans.

Some of the Clay editors seem disposed to exult at the re-election of Mr. Hendricks to the U. States' Senate. The friends of the administration can with unfeigned good feeling join with them in celebrating the event. Such victories as the friends of Mr. Clay have achieved in the re-election of Mr. Hendricks, of Indiana, and Mr. Buckner, of Missouri, are easily reconciled. We wish them more such.

"The Mentor." We have received the first No. of a neat little publication under the above title, intended principally for the instruction of youth. It is issued from New York city, twice a month, at $1 per year. On our miscellaneous page the reader may see a specimen of this interesting work.

To the right about! The friends of Mr. Clay have been busily engaged since the senatorial election in Missouri, endeavoring to prove that Mr. Buckner, the successor of Mr. Barton, is opposed to the administration. The following letter will, we think, put the matter to rest, and show that the opposition editors have been practising an imposition on their readers. Our neighbor of the Statesman has twice essayed to inform the public to which party Mr. Buckner belongs. Once he represented Mr. B. as friendly to the administration; again that he was opposed to it.—The third attempt having a charm, we expect the matter will be finally settled, that—"he's not of our church."

To the Editor of the Jeffersonian.

Sir—in the last number of the "Times," I observed a paragraph, stating that previous to the late Senatorial Election, I had given pledges to the friends of Mr. Bartoo, and declared myself to be a friend of Mr. Henry Clay, and opposed to the proscription of the present administration (basely intending to say that I am pledged to oppose the administration of President Jackson.) All this is clearly a mistake, as every body at this place can testify—I was supported as a supporter of the said administration.

I hope the editor of the "Times" will do me the justice to correct this imputation.

You will oblige me by giving the above a place in your paper. I am respectfully, yours and &c.

A. BUCKNER.

December 7, 1830.

We notice the following as a communication in the Louisville Advertiser of the 1st inst.

A flat Boat, commanded by Andrew Johnson, passed the Louisville and Portland Canal, on the 29th inst. from Boston, 18 miles from Cleveland, Ohio, by the way of the Canal, over the White Woman Feeder Dam, and down the Muskingum to Marietta, and has gone to New-Orleans with a full cargo of produce.

The Ohio river is in fine stage, higher than it has been for 6 or 8 months past.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 31.

Elections by the Legislature. At three o'clock in the afternoon of Wednesday last, as will be seen by our Legislative reports the General Assembly convened in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and proceeded to the election of the several officers as specified in the resolution for that purpose passed on Tuesday—A Judge of the Supreme Court—Senator in Congress—Secretary of State—Keeper of the Penitentiary and State Printer, were chosen on joint ballot of the two Houses. On the 7th ballot, John C. Wright, (Clay) of Steubenville, was elected a Judge of the Supreme Court over Thomas Morris of Clermont county, (Jackson) who was his principal competitor. Calvin Pease of Warren, Trumbull county, however, received 43 votes on the last ballot, and Wright, 54.

The contest for Senator next came on. Micajah T. Williams of Cincinnati, was the Jackson candidate, and Thomas Ewing and Edward King were severally supported by the opposition.—Six ballots were had before a choice was effected. The last ballot resulted in the choice of Mr. Ewing by a majority three votes over Mr. Williams.

For Secretary of State, several candidates were run.—Gen. Jeremiah McLene, the present incumbent, and David F. Heaton, a Senator from Preble county, were severally supported by the friends of the administration, and Moses H. Kirby, a member of the House of Representatives from the county of Highland, Benjamin Hinkson also of the House, from Clinton county, and Chas. Carpenter, were run by the opposition. On the sixth ballot, Mr. Kirby was elected.

Bryan Leonard, a friend of the administration and the present incumbent, was elected Keeper of the Penitentiary on the first ballot over Thos. Weston, a Senator from Monroe county.

David Smith, publisher of the Ohio Monitor, (Jackson) was elected State Printer on the 8th ballot, over John Bailhache. William A. Cameron of Springfield, was also run, who received, on the first ballot, 51 votes.

This has terminated the elections. For the present, we forbear all comment.

Mr. Cilley of Cincinnati, a member of the Senate, and a friend to Gen. Jackson, was absent at the time of the election, owing to his continued indisposition. Bulletin.

From intelligence received from Washington, we learn, that the appointment of the Hon. ELIJAH HAYWARD, commissioner of the General Land Office, and that of NOAH H. SWAYNE, ESQ. who was appointed Attorney of the United States for the District of Ohio, during the past summer, have been confirmed. lb.

Congress. Among the most important business now before Congress, is that on the subject of the impeachment of Judge PECK of Missouri. The court of impeachment was opened a few days since. Messrs. Wirt and Mcredith appeared, and Messrs. Buchanan, McDuffie, Spencer and Wickliffe, were to conduct the impeachment on the part of the House of Representatives. lb.

STEAM BOATS.

Our steam boat owners and Captains entertain some very erroneous notions about their liabilities, which it would be well for them and for the public, to have removed.—Some six or seven years ago, our Supreme Court decided here, in Cincinnati, that steam boat owners were not liable for goods destroyed by fire on board the boat. The correctness of that decision is very questionable and I doubt whether it will be adhered to. The decision noticed below is different, and as I take it much the safest. Cin. Gaz.

"The Court of King's Bench, for the District of Montreal has decided, that proprietors of steam boats are to be considered as common carriers, and legally responsible for the safe delivery of all goods entrusted to them, notwithstanding every clause to the contrary in their advertisements, bills of lading, or other documents. The Chief Justice maintained in his charge, that as bills of lading could not contain any valid clause annulling the existing laws, all such stipulations were void. The law is the same as to stage proprietors." N.Y. Daily Advertiser.

Greensburg, (Pa.) Dec. 10.

Shocking Affair.—Four persons were confined in the jail of this county, on Friday last, for killing a man, by the name of Gardner, in the neighborhood of Brush Run, in Franklin township, by stabbing him in so choking a manner, as to cause his death in a few hours afterwards. We have not learned any particulars that can be relied upon, respecting this distressing affair, and forbear giving any, as it will undergo a legal investigation.—The names of two of the persons, now confined, are David Linnebigler and Atchison M'Murry.

We have been requested to announce Oliver H. Smith as a candidate to represent this district in the 22d congress. Mr. Smith will embrace early and suitable opportunities to present the public with his political opinions generally.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE undersigned considers it a duty he owes his family and himself, to present the public with such facts connected with the late prosecution of himself at Vicksburgh, Mississippi, on a charge of robbery, as may serve to show his innocence, and put to silence the trumpet-tongue of the ruthless assailant of private character. His main object being to exculpate himself from the foul charge brought against him by one Moses Swartz, he omits in this publication the insertion of a number of letters and documents, in his possession, calculated to show the notorious character of said Swartz, and fix upon him the odium which justly attaches to him wherever he is known. The attached certificate, he feels persuaded, will be sufficient of itself to convince every mind, not blinded by prejudice or swayed by passion, that he is innocent of the charge brought against him, and that the prosecution was the result of malice in a mind devoid of every honest or honorable feeling. (copy)

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Warren county, and State of Mississippi, certify to whom it may concern, that we were present during the trial of William Harrison, before our honorable circuit court, at the present term, charged with the robbery of Moses Swartz, a European Jew. We have no hesitation in saying that we believe the charge was entirely without foundation, malicious and false. We believe Moses Swartz an infamous character, a notorious swindler, and a dangerous man in society. Vicksburgh, Nov. 13th, 1830."

(SIGNED) Jas. Blaud, associate justice of the county court. John Lane, President justice of the county court. Th. D. Brown, Sheriff Warren county. E. G. Cook, clerk of Warren county court. W. L. Sharkey, N. G. Howard, A. G. Creath, James Shirley, Jno. I. Guion, A. G. McNutt, and eight others, members of the bar of Warren and the adjoining counties.

The certificate is also signed by four members of the jury, who tried the case; and no doubt would have been signed by all, had it been presented to them.
