

PALLADIUM.

Lawrenceburg, August 10.

We have been requested to say that John P. Dunn, Duncan Carmichael, and John Daniel will be voted for as candidates for School Section Trustees, in this township, at the election to be held at the house of James McLester, on the 31st inst.

The Election.—The election for members congress and various officers took place in this State on Monday last. The official vote for congress in this district has not been received, but enough has been ascertained to say that Amos Lane, Esq. has been elected by a majority over six hundred. The following statement of majorities will be found nearly correct:

	Lane.	Test.
Rush,	156
Dearborn,	546
Franklin,		69
Ripley,	64
Decatur,		104
Switzerland,	26
	792	173

It will be seen, by reference to the official return published to-day, that the election in this county resulted in the choice of David V. Culley, senator; George H. Dunn, Thomas Guion, and David Guard, representatives; Charles Dashiel, commissioner; Henry Walker, seminary trustee; and John S. Percival, coroner.

We have learned verbally that the following gentlemen have been elected representatives in the neighboring counties, to wit:

Ripley—Thomas Smith.
Switzerland—Daniel Kelso.
Jefferson—N. B. Palmer and J. H. Wallace.
Franklin—B. S. Noble and John Reid.
Decatur—Wm. Fowler.
Rush—M. Willett and — Bigger.
Fayette—M. Crume and C. B. Smith.

The Mayor of Cincinnati reports 122 deaths for the week ending 1st August. 12 were by Cholera.

The latest information from Cincinnati represents the health of the city as improving. The Cholera has nearly or quite abated, and deaths from other causes are said to be less than usual at this season of the year.

This place, we are pleased to say, continues, comparatively, healthy. With the exception of the one noticed in another column, there has been no death in town for the last month. Within the last week, the disposition to bilious attacks and bowel complaints has been greater than usual, and in consequence several of our citizens have been on the sick list. We are happy to say that with one or two exceptions the disease easily yielded to medicine and they are getting on their legs again.

SLAVERY.

Astonishing as it may seem to any well informed man at the North, it is apparent that the assertions of Duff Green, and his continued harping upon the subject, have induced some of the Southern people to believe there exists here a disposition to interfere with the slaves of our Southern neighbors with a view to their liberation, whether their owners are willing or not? The object with Green has been, and is, to create a general impression in the minds of the Southerners the North will urge this question upon Congress at the first convenient opportunity. His object is, no doubt, to fan the flames of sectional discord, and to separate the South from the North. We have no manner of doubt but this is the real object of Duff Green and the leaders of nullification. Mr. Calhoun has been defeated in his ambitious projects of reaching the Presidency, and he would therefore destroy the fair fabric of the Union, with a view to making himself Chief of a Southern Confederacy. The tariff was to have been made a pretext for a separation, and measures were actually in progress for this object, when they were arrested by the Proclamation and by the action of Congress, which deprived the leaders in South Carolina of any aid which they hoped to obtain from other States. That project having failed, a new cause is sought for in the agitation of the slave question; and such miserable fanatics as Garrison, and such worthless publications as the Liberator, are quoted by the Telegraph as indicative of the feeling of the Northern people on the subject of Slavery. Such fanatics and such publications are not less despised at the North than they are at the South, and aside from some half dozen crazy-headed zealots, there is scarcely a man in New-England who has the least disposition to press this subject upon Congress or to interfere with the slaves of the south in any manner. Duff Green knows this perfectly well; and yet there is scarcely a number of his mischievous publication that does not contain the charge in one shape or another. If he can make himself believed, his object is accomplished. But we believe there is yet good sense enough remaining with the republicans of the South to enable them to look through the flimsy guise of the disorganizing demagogue, and to award him in the infamy to which he is justly entitled.

Smoking.—The Boston Medical Journal will probably receive a considerable accession of subscribers. An article is published in the last number, which puts down the notion, that the fumes of the Jamestown weed are injurious to the human system, in the list of vulgar errors—King James and the doctors to the contrary notwithstanding. The price of pipes and cigars has advanced considerably within a day or two.

*Elected. †Declined standing a poll.

We learn that at Fort Winnebago, during the payment of the Winnebago Indian annuity, a few days ago, in consequence of fifty barrels of whiskey being sold to the Indians, they generally became intoxicated and several were killed in the affray. One Indian killed an Indian woman and several children. The Little Priest, a Winnebago chief, ordered the Indian to be shot, which was promptly obeyed. This was administered summary justice. Galenian.

WORK OR NO PAY.

One sultry afternoon, some ten years since, in that "goodly month," which comes between May and July, and in which the congregated wisdom of New Hampshire is assembled at the Capitol, to overhaul the laws of the land, a member who had stowed away a quantum suff. of the good things of this world by the way of eating his dinner, stretched himself out upon one of his seats and was very quietly enjoying his siesta, when one of the sovereign people who had seated himself in the gallery to overlook his servants, happened to observe the aforesaid sleeper—and without further ceremony, he bawled out—"Hallo, Mr. —, you man, that's napping it on the bench there, the State don't pay you two dollars day for sleeping, I can tell you, so wake up—wake up." By the time the above speech, which was made in no ordinary tone of voice, was concluded, the House was in a roar, the sleeper arose, scared half out of his wits and the Speaker ordered the galleries cleared.

The number of deaths of the members of the last two Congresses, occurring during the term for which they were elected, was unusually great. Without pretending to be accurate, we can reckon up eighteen deaths since the 4th of March, 1829. Of the Senate, we recollect Reed and Adams of Mississippi, McLean of Illinois, Johnson of Louisiana, and Buckner of Missouri, and of the House of Representatives, Mallory and Hunt of Vermont, Powers and Lent of New York, Miller and Ramsey of Pennsylvania, Mitchell of Maryland, Smythe, Dodge and Johnson of Virginia, Shields of Ohio, and Pettis of Missouri. Of the forty-eight who were members of the United States Senate at the commencement of the 21st Congress, but twenty were members of the next Congress; and of that twenty-eight only, viz: Webster, Naudain, Chambers, Tyler, Forsyth, Hendricks, Kane, and Benton, by re-election, during that time. This shows a frequency of change in the most permanent body of the legislature, which was not anticipated at the time of the adoption of the constitution, and which goes far to demonstrate by experience the weakness of some of the arguments against it.

PROGRESS OF THE EPIDEMIC.

The greatest number of burials from Cholera which we had this summer, were on the 24th of July, when they amounted to 13; on the 25th, there were 19; the 26th, 8; the 27th 10; the 28th, 9; the 29th, 3; the 30th, 5; the 31st, 5. Thus for four days, from the 24th, they were on an average 10 per diem; while for the next three days there were but six and a fraction, showing a manifest abatement. But on the first of August, yesterday, according to the reports of the Sextons to the Board of Health, they amounted to twelve, indicating a great increase for that day. I am inclined to believe that the Sextons have included in the returns of that day, some not previously made by them; for all the physicians, with whom I have conversed, were unaware of such an increase of the malady, and the prevailing opinion of the profession, I think, is, that the disease is declining. It is safest, however, to regard the epidemic poison as still violent, and to live with the same avoidance of eating causes as we did a week ago.

It is remarkable, that although so many cases of Dysentery have latterly occurred, no death from that disease, is reported in the last week's bill of mortality. This would seem to show the dysentery, which appears to be replacing the Cholera, is a less fatal disease, and should encourage us to hope, that we shall not, hereafter send forth such alarming weekly reports.
