

PALLADIUM.

Saturday Morning, Sept. 14.

A Hint. The editor would thank those writing to him on their own business, particularly electioneering letters, to pay the postage. The pleasure he always feels in receiving the friendly greetings of applicants for favor, he can assure them, is lessened very much when taxed with postage.

Since our last the river rose about two feet, but has fallen again to near its former height.

The opinion is pretty generally entertained that John Ewing is elected to congress in the 2d district in this state, by two votes over Dr. J. W. Davis.

"Whoppers." Two apples, raised in the orchard of Mr. Joseph Hays, in this vicinity, were exhibited in a store in this place, a few days since, which weighed together 2 pounds 15 ounces—the largest weighed 24 ounces, and measured 15 inches in circumference. All who have examined them admit that they are the largest they have ever seen. The Miami bottom has long been celebrated for its fine hogs and cattle, and excessive fertility in producing corn, (some of the stalks measuring near 20 feet,) and now she comes in and bears off the palm for large apples.

One of the apples (the smallest,) is now in our possession, and may be seen by the curious.

The election held in this township on Monday last, for justices of the peace, resulted in the choice of Hiram Wiley and Jonathan Blasdel. Messrs. Gregg and Jackson, though they received some votes, were not candidates. The following is a statement of the votes:

E. G. Pratt,	17
Ezekiel Jackson,	2
Abram Decamp,	54
Hiram Wiley,	92
Arthur St. Clair Vance,	67
George Cable,	22
J. Blasdel,	80
Milton Gregg,	36

"Some things can be done as well as others"—SAM PATCH.

A friend has communicated to us the following fact, which we present to our readers without comment—it speaks for itself:

"Mrs. Ewing, wife of Mr. Patrick Ewing, of Decatur county, was delivered last night (8th inst.) of three fine boys, weighing each 7 1/2, 6 1/2, and 6 1/2 lbs.—making in the aggregate 20 1/2 lbs. All doing well."

ACCIDENT. We omitted to notice in our paper of last week, that a man by the name of Thomas B. Preston, of Decatur county, in this state, was thrown from his wagon on Tuesday the 3d inst., while passing down the east bank of Tanners creek, at New Lawrenceburg, and so much bruised by the fall, or by some of the things in the wagon rolling over him, as to cause his death on Thursday following. The deceased, we are informed, was much affected by liquor when the accident happened, and to this may fairly be attributed the sad catastrophe that ended his existence. He was a man of family, and considerably advanced in life.

The New-York city gentry are paying $1 and upwards per bushel for peaches, and smacking their lips and laughing at the idea that they can had so cheap. Our market is supplied with this delicious fruit in great abundance, the sweetest and largest we have ever tasted, at 18 to 25 cents per bushel, and hard work sometimes to shove them off at that. This is the first season, however in the 3 last, that peaches have "hit" (as it is called,) in this section. The severe frosts of winter before last, destroyed, not only the buds, but a great number of the trees, and in many places whole orchards. Apples are also very plenty in our market, and of a better quality than last season.

GOOD DAY'S WORK. A short time since four brothers by the name of Noyes, in Manchester, between sun rise and sun set, prepared the necessary hoops, pressed, numbered and stowed away twenty-six bales of hay, weighing between 4 and 500 each; and making in all about 5 tons. The same gentlemen we understand are willing to venture something that they can in the same length of time press 30 bales, or about 6 tons. The ordinary day's work for 2 good hands is from 6 to 8 bales.

The Richmond Va. Whig contradicts the report of the destruction of 42 negroes, in the coal mines at Dover, during the shock of an earthquake.

"The facts (says the Whig) are simply these: The negroes in the pits being much alarmed by the earthquake, rushed at once to the mouth of the shaft; when they arrived there, the corve was about to ascend; one of them seized upon it with both hands, without being able to get into it, and when he had ascended the distance of about one hundred feet, his strength relaxing, his grasp gave way and he fell—dashing out his own brains, and killing another person, who was standing immediately under him. This was the extent of the damage. The pits were but little if at all injured—no tumble having taken place and the roofs remaining to all appearances as firm as before the earthquake took place."

Lawrenceburg Market.—Apples, green, bush 25 to 37; Bacon lbs, lb. 8 to 10, scarce; Beef lb. 34 to 37; Butter lb. 15 to 18; Chickens doz 75 to $1 00; Cheese lb 6 to 8; Eggs doz 6 to 8; Flour bbl $4, in bags $1 62 to 1 75 per cwt; Oats bush 12 to 15; Onions do. 50 to 60; Peaches, green, bush 18 to 25; Potatoes do. 25 to 31.

Important Law Decision.—A question was decided by the Supreme Court at its late sitting, which subjects the personal property of banks to taxation by city or village corporations. The assessors of the village of Canadagua having assessed and collected a tax upon $456 22 of the personal property of the Ontario Bank, a suit was brought by the Bank to recover back the amount from the Trustees. The question was argued by B. F. Butler for the Bank, and J. C. Spencer for the Trustees, and decided against the Bank.

CHOLERA.—It is with feelings of pleasure of no ordinary character, we announce to the public that this scourge has left our town. We have had no cases now for nearly two weeks. Already we discover a change in the appearance of our village. The most of our citizens who had left have returned, wearing cheerful, instead of anxious and care-worn countenances. Persons from the country visit us and business is becoming quite lively, which gives Richmond its wonted appearance.

CONVICTION FOR MURDER.—Adolphus Dewey was convicted in Montreal on the 17th inst. of the murder of his wife, and ordered to be executed on Friday the 30th. The prisoner and his deceased wife being extensively known in Montreal, an immense concourse of people were brought together at the trial, a full and minute report of which is contained in the papers received here on Friday, which in the event of room being afforded for that purpose we intend laying before our readers. The murder was committed on the 24th of March last, about three months subsequent to his marriage with the deceased, by means of a razor, with which he inflicted several severe and large cuts upon her throat and neck, which in the course of two or three days produced her death. It appears that shortly after his inter-marriage with the deceased, his conduct towards her was of so harsh a character, that she was under the necessity of claiming the protection of her father, to whose house on the day preceding the murder the culprit proceeded, and persuaded her to accompany him early on the following morning to the first mass at the parish church. Having done so, instead of returning home, he took her to his store, which she had scarcely entered before he closed the door and locked it, and then, the store being dark by reason of the windows and door being closed, he lighted two candles, and proceeded to inform her that she had reached the last day of her existence. His victim, astonished at his conduct, replied that he must be in jest, but Dewey instantly seized an axe which had been provided for the occasion, with which he attempted to strike her. In consequence however of her instantly throwing herself forward into his arms the intended blow was ineffective, when he resorted to a razor, with which his horrid purpose was accomplished. Dewey fled, after locking the door behind him, and proceeded to Plattsburgh in this State, whether he was pursued and overtaken. His victim, after groping about the store some time effected her escape through a rear door in a gore of blood, and of an appearance so horrible, that the servants of Mr. Roy a neighbor who benevolently received her into his house, ran affrighted from her. Dewey who is only 22 years of age, was habited on his trial in mourning, and respectfully dressed. He is represented to be of an interesting mien and figure, and his visage notwithstanding the paleness and trepidation which affected him on the trial, presented a well formed intelligent contour, with hair of a light auburn, and an appearance taken together which indicated the mildness of ingenious youth divested of every thing tending to raise a suspicion that crime could have had a lurking place in his bosom. No extenuating circumstance was offered in his defence. A feeble attempt was made it is true, to induce the jury to believe that he was insane at the time he committed the horrid act, but the evidence adduced in his behalf to make out this excuse, rather went to confirm the idea of deep and long premeditated malice, than alienation of mind.

After the verdict of guilty had been rendered against him, he was asked by the court what he had to offer by way of judgment of death should not be pronounced against him? to which he replied that he had nothing of importance to communicate, except, that incidents which operated against him had been distorted in their relation on the trial, and facts favorable to him suppressed; but that he was ready to meet his fate, as he preferred death a thousand times to a continuance of life which he did not estimate the value of a fraction.

MASSACRE OF GLENCOE.—In Appinopor there is a public house called Tighnacroise. To the house a "red coat" came one day. He was ushered into a room where the landlord happened to be taking a dram with two or three jolly neighbours; and the red coat being a man of wars and travels, highly entertained them with stories. At length one of the highlanders asked him what was the most revolting sight that he had ever seen in his life? He answered that he had seen many revolting sights, but that something connected with the massacre of Glencoe beat them all—that there he saw sixteen men bound head and foot, then placed side by side on the bench, and sixteen musket balls fired through their stout hearts! Upon this the landlord took occasion to go out, and beckoned one of his neighbours to follow. "I now understand," said he, "for he was one of those sixteen men. I am resolved to run him through with my dirk this instant." "Agreed, my brave Donald," said his companion, "but first may he not entertain us with some more of his stories?" They went in together, and sure of their prey, requested the red coat to continue his narrative.

"About dawn," continued the red coat, "we were under orders to quit Glencoe. Passing a brook we heard the screams of a child a little way up the hill. The captain who rode at our head said to me, 'go, Duncan run that child through if it be male, but if a female, spare it.'—I climbed up, and found a decent looking woman, with a blanket about her, and forcing a corner of it into a male infant's mouth to prevent its crying and to evade discovery. My heart melted with pity. I went back, and though at the risk of my life, I told the captain it was a female child." Upon this the landlord exclaimed, I was the infant in my mother's lap; often has she told me the tale with tears of gratitude! I had a little while ago resolved to slay you; but now put off that red coat and be as one of my sons forever.

Buenos Ayres, July 2.—An event took place yesterday in the General Hospital of men, truly deplorable. The Cacique (Indian Chief) Hernando Benarino, had been carried to the Hospital, for the purpose of obtaining relief from a complaint with which he was afflicted. This individual had an Indian in his service called Yunguel, who conducted during the time he was in his employment, with the greatest moderation. But yesterday in visiting the interior of the establishment, he arrived at the door of the Anatomical Hall, at a time that one of the surgeons was giving lectures over a dead body, which they were proceeding to dissect. The Indian, who had not the most distant idea of this operation, and who doubtless believed they were about to perpetrate an inhuman act of assassination, was blind with rage, and pronouncing the word gautichu, made a furious attack with a knife upon all who were present, and mortally wounded the sergeant major Casiona Lopez, who we are informed, died last night, also wounded mortally a sick man and a soldier who was sentinal at the door of the Hall.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

Nothing can be more monotonous than life in New Orleans at this season of the year: we have reference to commercial life and men of busy habits, and we sympathize with those who have nothing to do, and yet bound to wear away the long, hot, dusty, idle days which must intervene between the present moment and the commencement of business—within doors, the pleasure of whiling away an hour by looking over the transactions of the past, or in any other useful and agreeable manner, is alloyed by the stinging and buzzing of myriads of never tiring mosquitoes—without, the ardent rays of the sun and clouds of dust, preclude the possibility of pleasure—and lastly, and worst of all, is the never failing topic, sickness; for, from some cause or other, there always remain in the city a number of strangers, some sick; some die, and many are daily in apprehension of contracting the malady of the climate, so that all are more or less interested in the result, which we set down as another drawback to the very small portion of satisfaction to be enjoyed in this dull, hot, dusty, mosquito biting, sickly season. Then, there is little or nothing to be had that is good to eat—the fish from the Lake spoil on the way, vegetation is parched by the sun, the rivers are so low that our Western friends cannot come to our aid, and our Northern brethren are kept aloof with their notions through fear of the Yellow Fever; there is however, a satisfaction attending this scarcity of comestibles, the rich and the poor are on a par, it matters not, money or no money, we all live alike, the article is not to be had. The Mississippi has fallen two feet, and was yesterday 13 feet below high water mark.

Sugar.—Small sales at former rates is all that we have to notice. The cane is every thing that could be desired. Cleared this week, for Tampico, 2 bbls. brown, and for Charleston 170 tierces and 70 bbls. refined.

Molasses.—A few bbls. continue to find their way to market, and command 26 cts. per gallon. Cleared this week for New York, 63 hds. Boston 146 hds.

Flour. The demand for the Mexican ports has given animation to the market, and reduced the supply on hand. Last sales $6 per bbl. Arrived this week 1356 bbls.

Lard is rather dull at 10 cts. per lb.; the supply on hand abundant. Arrived this week 12 kegs.

Whiskey is dull as ever at former quotations, 27 a 28 cts.—no sales. Arrived this week 150 bbls.

Bacon Hams are in good demand at 10 cts per lb. No arrival this week.

Beef pickled.—There is none in market.

Pork is scarce—demand small, but price advancing.

Coffee.—We continue to quote 13 a 14 cts; but remark, that a good article is rather difficult to be had at these rates. The market is however dull.

Hay is retailing from store at $1 50 per 100 lbs.

Corn, in sacks 87 1/2 cts. per bushel.

MARRIED.—At Mr. Ezra Guard's, on Thursday, 12th inst. by James W. Hunter, Esq. Mr. BUONAPARTE BRADLEY to Miss RACHAEL GUARD.

At the same place, on the same day, by the same, Mr. WARREN WATTS to Miss SARAH HAYS—all of this township.

On the 29th ult. by A. J. Cotton, Mr. JOHN MOSS to Miss ELIZABETH JORDAN—all of Manchester township.

Near Aurora, on Thursday the 5th inst., by Theob. Bagges, Esq. Mr. JOHN McKERNAN to Miss PHOEBE BALL.

OBITUARY.

[COMMUNICATED.]

DIED.—In this place on Tuesday last, after a short illness, Dr. ASA M. TEAL.

The history of our village presents no occurrence so generally lamented as the decease of this gentleman. He was endeared to us all from his long residence, and his private worth. As a physician, he was skillful and humane—as a citizen, he was active, generous and conciliating—his literary and scientific attainments, (for his age,) were of the first order—and, in short, the deceased combined within himself all that should characterize the amiable and useful man, with the valued and esteemed friend. He fell a victim to a bilious fever, which has pervaded our town for the last two weeks, of the most malignant character.

On Wednesday last, of the same disease, Mr. JAMES C. ROBINSON, merchant of this place. Greensburgh, Sept. 6th, 1833.

Ann Hudson,

vs.

The heirs of Christopher Hudson, dec'd.

On petition for Dower.

IN this matter now comes Ann Hudson, widow of Christopher Hudson, late of Dearborn county, deceased, by Test her attorney, and files her petition, showing that her husband died intestate, being the owner of the north west quarter of section 28, town 7, range 2 west, in the county of Dearborn; that she is entitled to dower in the said land; to set off which, pursuant to statute, the heirs have hitherto failed and neglected—and praying relief herein: Notice is therefore hereby given to Christopher Hudson, John Hudson and all others, the heirs of the said deceased
