

PALLADIUM.

Saturday Morning, Nov. 16.

Wolves. We are informed that an unusual number of wolves has lately entered the northwestern part of this county, and taken up their quarters in the thick woods on the waters of Tanner's creek. Some sheep have been killed and other acts committed by the new settlers, of a character very ill calculated to gain the good feelings of our citizens, or obtain from them the rites of hospitality. Presuming that the right of these hairy marauders to the soil has been fairly extinguished, and the territory laid off into townships, and our laws extended over it, the most spirited preparations are making to drive them from the country. On Monday last, 5 or 600 persons assembled in the infested neighborhood, and after forming lines to encircle 5 or 6 miles square, marched to a central point, hoping by the manœuvre to enclose and destroy a portion of the enemy. But some how or other, owing probably to the machinations of some anti-state right-ites, a loop-hole was left in the lines, at which all the savages escaped, almost without harm to any one. A large number were seen and one or two shot at, and supposed wounded, but not a single scalp was taken. A few harmless deer were the whole trophies of the hunt. This was provoking, and a proclamation was immediately issued for the arming and equipping a new force, and calling on all good and true state rights men to stand to their arms, and sustain the proper authorities in the due execution of the laws "within our chartered limits." The next campaign opens on Saturday next, and there is every reason to believe it will be prosecuted successfully. Should Gen. Jackson, Martin Van Buren, or any other emissary of the general government, be found giving aid and countenance to said savages, or conniving at their escape from legal punishment, according to our laws, the most disagreeable consequences may be expected to follow. On this subject our citizens are as determined as ever Gen. Hamilton or Gov. Gayle was, and as fully able to carry their purposes into execution.

Phenomenon. On Wednesday morning last, about 5 o'clock, the attention of all who were up at that hour, were arrested by an unusual appearance in the heavens. The stars shot across the firmament in rapid succession, and in their passage emitted such a glare of light, as to render minute objects observable at considerable distances. Now here and then there a fiery courier would start athwart the heavens, and circumscribing a vast distance, sink from the sight below the horizon; while others seemed to take a course more immediately towards the earth, and passed from view in that direction, leaving their path for a few seconds distinctly marked by a streak of light. Their course was generally in a northern direction. We have heard no person pretend to account for the phenomenon, on rational principles; nor of any one who has seen the like before. That it prognosticates something—good or bad—is no doubt believed by many. The Western Statesman has promised a "serious" account of it next week. We shall await the development with great anxiety.

The editor of the Statesman complains that other papers extract original articles from his, without giving credit. This is very wrong, and has a most pernicious effect on the character of the Western press, and literature in general. We observe, however, that our neighbor of the American is always particular to quote the Statesman, and it is to be hoped others will be equally careful in future.

We invite the attention of our readers to the notices of the Indiana Journal and Indiana Democrat, published in another column. These papers are published at the seat of government, and during the session, are issued twice a week, for the purpose of giving the proceedings of the legislature. Terms for the session 75 cents.

WOLF HUNT.

We have been requested to say that a Wolf Hunt will take place in the neighborhood of John E. Hank's, on Saturday next. Men and boys of all parties—more the better—are requested to attend on the occasion, and lend a hand.

We feel no disposition to spoil the account given by our neighbor of a meeting held at Mr. Hunt's, on Monday. It has so often been our misfortune to differ from the Statesman in the relation of things, that we despair of ever arriving at similar conclusions upon any subject.

The legislature of this state will convene on Monday the 2d of December next. Congress meets on the same day.

PUBLIC MEETING.

At a meeting of the citizens of Dearborn county, assembled at Mr. Hunt's Hotel, agreeably to previous notice, for the purpose of appointing delegates to meet the State Convention at Indianapolis, to nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, and delegates to a National Convention at Baltimore, Mr. D. V. Culley was called to the chair, and Mr. Wm. Lanus appointed secretary.

On motion, the following Resolutions were adopted, viz:

Resolved, That we approve of the State Convention at Indianapolis, to be held on the first Wednesday of the session of the Legislature.

Resolved, That eight delegates be appointed by this meeting to represent this county in said Convention. Whereupon the following named gentlemen were nominated as delegates, viz: Rev. A. J. Cotton, Maj. John P. Dunn, Wm. Conaway, Esq., John Barrieklow, Esq., Walter Armstrong, Esq., Wm. Flake, Esq., Wm. Lanus, and David V. Culley.

Resolved, That the delegates hereby appointed, insist in said Convention upon a vote by counties—the delegation from each, collectively, having but one vote on important questions.

Resolved, That the delegates hereby appointed be furnished with these proceedings, and that the same be published in the Indiana Palladium.

And then the meeting adjourned.

DAVID V. CULLEY, Ch'n.

WILLIAM LANUS, Sec'y.

The Western Sun, of the 2d instant, says: I have seen a letter from Washington City, informing of the removal of the Register and Receiver of Public Moneys at Indianapolis, and of the appointment of Mr. McCarty and Mr. Slaughter, to fill their places.

The Register at Crawfordsville has been removed, as will be seen in another column, and his place filled by a Mr. TYLER from Virginia. In this case, I regret that it had not been given to a citizen of Indiana. We have certainly men well qualified for the office.

A powder magazine blew up at Puebla (Mexico) 22d August, at one of the arsenals. In 24 hours after, about 107 dead bodies of the youth attached to the works, had been found among the ruins, and much more than that number were probably among the rubbish not yet dug up or removed.

FROM MEMOIRS OF ZERATI COLBURN. "In the beginning of 1815, a circumstance took place that excited much interest in Paris. A surgeon in the army, named Dautun, was arrested at a gambling house, in the Palais Royal, on the testimony of a scurrilous witness. Some time previous, the officers of the night had found while passing on their rounds, in the different parts of the city, four parcels tied up. One contained the head, another the trunk, a third the thighs, and fourth the legs and arms of a man. In the teeth, tightly compressed, was a piece of human flesh, apparently torn out in the dying struggle. The parts were collected, and put together in their regular order and exhibited for a number of days at the Morgue. The mystery which involved this dark transaction excited quite an interest, and numbers went to behold the corpse. The general and only conviction was that he must have been murdered; but for a number of weeks no clue was obtained to elicit information on the subject. When it came improper to keep the body longer above ground a crust in plaster was taken, fully representing the murdered victim, and this remained much longer for the public to see. At length Dautun happened to be engaged in gambling at the Palais Royal: he played high and lost; calling for liquor to drink, and angry because the waiter was somewhat tardy, when he came with it, Dautun emptied the glass and threw it at the waiter. It was shivered into a thousand pieces, and a fragment was carried into Dautun's wrist, under the cuff of his coat. The spectators gathered around, and learning the accident wished to see the gash; he drew down his sleeve and firmly pressed it round his wrist; they insisted on seeing it, he obstinately refused. By this course, the by-standers were at length led to suppose that something mysterious was involved in his conduct, and they determined at all events to see his wrist. By force they pushed up his sleeve, and behold a scar, recently healed, as if made by the tearing out of flesh, appeared. The landlord had been at the Morgue, and seen the murdered man with the flesh between the teeth, and it struck him in a moment that that flesh was torn from this man's wrist. Charging them to keep him safe, he hastened to call in the legal authorities, and arrested him.

In the event, Dautun confessed that being quartered at Sedan, and out of money, he came to Paris to try some adventure. Knowing that his brother had a large sum by him, directly on his arrival, he went to his lodging in a retired part of the city, about eight in the evening. He entered the house, unnoticed by the porter, and passing to his apartment, found his brother asleep. He immediately commenced his work of death; his brother waking up defended himself, but, in addition to the surprise and horror of the moment, being in a feeble state of health, all the desperation of his struggle was overpowered. In the scuffle he tore out the flesh. Being killed, the surgeon cut up the body, tied it up in four parcels as before mentioned, secured the money and retired.

He also confessed that eleven months previous he had murdered an aunt, who was living with a second husband, to obtain money. Her husband was arrested and imprisoned for a number of months, but as nothing appeared to criminate him, he had been discharged. The writer saw the unhappy fratricide on his way from prison to the place of execution.

Munchausen Eclipsed. A statement is made in the Turf Register, attested by the deposition of Maj. John Pilters of Kaskaskia, Illinois, which confirms the impression long established by some, that the Turkey Buzzard has the power of reproducing its eyes! The experiment made was thus: A buzzard was deprived of its eyes, by ripping them open, so that no part of the ball remained. "The head of the bird was then placed under one of its wings, in which position it remained a few minutes, when raising its head, both eyes were produced perfectly sound, free from blemish, and possessing in every degree the power of vision." This comparatively cruel experiment was repeated at least fifty times, uniformly with the same result. The writer also, being incredulous as to the facts, not having witnessed them, made the experiment in another buzzard, with similar effect. It is ascribed to the healing powers of the down from the inside of the buzzard's wing, which is said to have cured several cases of approaching blindness in men and horses.

"My gracious!" as Aunt Mary would say.

A letter from Abbeville, S. C. says that the nullifiers still keep up their military organization—the volunteer corps being as it were separated from the militia. The governor attended by eight aids-de-camp, lately presented a flag of the 'nation' of South Carolina and delivered a speech, of which we have the following account:

"He stated that South Carolina, by her brave and determined course, had driven the tiger within his den—that the tyrant with his bloody bill had succumbed to the brave and chivalrous spirit of Carolina, and that they never would lay down their arms till congress had repealed the force bill. He directed their attention to Alabama, who had risen in her might against the tyrant, and, when the hour of trial came, South Carolina would aid her in maintaining her soil against the oppression of the despot, Jackson."

We did hope that the "day of these things" was passing away—that their end was nigh.

A CARD.—To publishers of Newspapers and Periodicals in the United States and the British Provinces.

The publishers of the New England Weekly Review are desirous of making up on the first of January, a complete list of all the Newspapers and periodicals published in the United States and the British Provinces, with the names of their publishers, and the places where published; they, therefore, request all publishers to insert this card, and also send them two copies of their respective publications in succession, that they may not fail of receiving one, in order to render the list complete.

BUFFALO, Oct. 18.

The number of passengers who have left our harbor for the West in steamboats alone, during this season, taking the average to the close, will be from 65 to 70,000. It is impossible for us to arrive at any correct account of passengers, &c. in the 140 schooners which navigate our lakes.

From Portugal advices have been received direct from St. Ubes to Boston—last date 20th ult. The squadron of Don Pedro had captured a steamboat from England, containing about twenty French officers, on board, with arms and ammunition, &c., for the support of Miguel. The Miguelites were signally defeated on the 5th ult. and many have deserted to the queen. Miguel himself resides in a place in the vicinity of Lisbon. Amer. Sent.

GREEN VAN SICKLE, the last Postmaster at Claysville, Pa. to whom we alluded some days ago as the successor both in office and crime of Christian Weirich, is also about to undergo similar punishment. He was arraigned in the U. S. District Court, at Pittsburgh, pleaded guilty of the offence charged—that of purloining money from the mail, and was sentenced to twelve years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary of that state. The Pittsburgh Gazette, in noticing the case observes, that it is a melancholy instance of human weakness—as the culprit throughout his previous life had supported an unblemished character. The sum taken was we believe, about sixty dollars. The result is an eloquent example to deter. Nat. Intel.

Vermont has elected an anti-Masonic Governor, Lieut. Governor and Council Ticket, and after twelve or fourteen ballottings in the Legislature, the Anties have succeeded in securing their Speaker.

New Sugar.—We were on Monday last, shown a beautiful sample of Sugar of the new crop, manufactured on the plantation of Mr. Michael Gordy, of Bayou Salle. It was pronounced by competent judges, to be of a superior quality. The impression is, that our planters generally, will make a fair turn out.

There is a report that the keeper of the tigers lately exhibiting in this city, who was in the habit of entering their cage, was torn to pieces by them and literally eaten up, a day or two since in one of the northern towns. He was life daring, for the day before he was detained in the cage by them several hours, and was only rescued by administering to the animals stupefying articles in his food.

N. H. Register.

A case of Hydrophobia has occurred in the vicinity of Millburg, Pa. The son of a Mr. Horsh, aged about eight years, was bit in the cheek by a dog supposed to be in a rabid state, between seven and eight weeks since; every remedy was used to prevent this disease, but had no effect.

Expensive meal. On Friday afternoon, at the Zoological Gardens, Regent's Park, a lady was holding a biscuit to the elephant from the top of her reticule, when the animal, mistaking the extent of the lady's generosity, seized the reticule with his trunk, and conveyed it with its contents, consisting of a ten pound note, some loose money, and a bunch of keys, into his stomach, to the dismay of the lady, and amusement of the bystanders.

Odd Notion. There is at this moment a lunatic at the Bicetre, who fancies that, when at breakfast in a garrison town, he inadvertently swallowed a captain of Hussars, who had fallen in his glass.

It is stated that a large emigration of Jamaica Planters will take place to the United States.

Indiana Democrat.

PUBLISHED AT INDIANAPOLIS, I.A.

THE Proprietors of the Indiana Democrat take this method of informing the public, that they have made arrangements, by the employment of competent Reporters, to ensure a faithful and interesting detail of the proceedings of the Indiana Legislature, during the ensuing session. The paper will, as heretofore, be published twice a week, during the session, and will contain, in addition to the legislative reports, the earliest important news of the day—foreign and domestic, Congressional intelligence, politics, miscellaneous matter, &c. &c.—The political course of the paper is so well known and established, that it is unnecessary to remark further on this subject, than to say, that it will be the ambition of the proprietors to make it deserving the liberal patronage it has already received from an enlightened public. The additional expense of a semi-weekly paper, in stock, materials and workmen,—together with the employment of a Reporter for each branch of the Legislature, makes it necessary that we should appeal to the generosity of the citizens of our State, to sustain us in the undertaking—hoping and believing, that we shall be enabled to make a full return for their patronage.

TERMS.

The price of subscription, to regular subscribers, is two dollars for fifty-two numbers, if paid in advance; two dollars and fifty cents, if paid within six months, or three dollars at the end of the year.

For the paper, during the session of the Legislature, (published twice a week) SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS in advance.

Subscriptions can be forwarded by the members of the Legislature and Delegates to the State Convention, through the Post-Office, &c.—Post-Masters are respectfully solicited to act as our Agents in obtaining subscriptions. To all who will aid us in furthering the extension of the Democrat among the people, we promise to make a suitable return, either by furnishing them a paper, or allowing a reasonable compensation. Advance subscriptions will be preferred in all cases.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE Editors of the Indiana Journal respectfully inform their patrons and the public that they intend, as usual, to publish their paper twice a week during the session of the Legislature, and to furnish their subscribers a faithful and impartial sketch of the proceedings of the General Assembly, for which purpose competent reporters will be engaged. Those wishing the paper for the session only, will be furnished at 75 cents as usual, payable always in advance. Increased exertions will be made to make the Journal interesting as well as useful. This paper was published twice a week during the sessions at least three years before any other establishment would undertake it, and when it was a losing concern; and it is hoped this fact will have some influence with the public in reference to our present effort. Subscribers for the session only will please to forward their names on or before the 1st of December. Members of the Legislature are authorized and requested to act as agents for us in receiving subscriptions and money.
