

PALLADIUM.

Saturday Morning, April 19.

To subscribers. Those indebted to this office for one year's papers or over, are informed that their accounts are making out, and will be forwarded in the paper, either this or next week. It is expected that all who receive their accounts in this way, will attend to the adjustment of the same in whole or in part, by the first of May at farthest. Should any who are in arrears be forgotten, in making out our delinquent list, it is hoped they will not feel slighted; but have the goodness to remind us of our neglect, by forwarding, by mail, or otherwise, the amount they believe due.

We are pleased to be able to state that the young man, whose mysterious absence from home was noticed last week, has been discovered and restored to his connexions in this place.

Public meeting. The Rising Sun of the 12th inst. contains the following notice of a meeting to be held at Wilmington, on the subject of the removal, not exactly of the deposits, but of the county seat of justice:

"A county meeting will be held at Wilmington on Saturday the 26th inst., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the next legislature. All those in favor of removing the county seat of justice from Lawrenceburg, will please attend."

The attention of our readers, who feel an interest in cultivating good fruit trees, is directed to the first page of this paper, for an excellent article on pruning.

The Whig, of yesterday, announces Colonel JOURNAL WATTS as a candidate for State Senator, at the ensuing election.

Late arrival. The Western Statesman, which has for some time past, been overhauling and fitting for another cruise—having in a run of 3 or 4 years been much damaged in her hull and tackle—came yesterday with "bran-splinter" new rigging and splendid figurehead, bearing the title of "Indiana Whig," in conspicuous letters drawn over the ground lately occupied by the words "Western Statesman." We gather from the log book of the Whig, that the aforesaid Statesman had veered and changed, tacked and re-tacked, hoisted and lowered her colours so often that it was utterly out of the question to hope ever to retrieve her name as a clean running vessel; and therefore it was thought best to take out papers under a new character and try her luck over again. This the judge says he has done, and thus got rid of a name (to use his language) "sunk into public contempt, and become odious;" or, in other words, which "under its own weight of corruption and scurrility, struggled, agonized and died."

Bank and deposits. The house of representatives have at length passed upon the resolutions reported by the committee of Ways and Means. The resolution against restoring the deposits was adopted by a majority of 15; and that against rechartering the bank, by a majority of 53. By a reference to another column the vote on the several resolutions will be seen.

Bank stock. The books for subscription of stock to the branch at this place were opened on the 17th inst., and a very considerable portion has already been taken. Those who wish to secure stock had better attend to the matter soon, as the whole amount necessary will no doubt be taken in a few days. The farming interest should not let this opportunity slip, but as many as can conveniently, should take a few shares at least in the institution. The investment we have no hesitation in believing will be profitable and safe.

We tender our thanks to Messrs. Carr and Ewing, of the house of representatives, for sundry papers and documents they have had the kindness to forward to us.

Money. The governor of New York has sent a special message to the legislature, recommending a loan of six millions on the credit of the State; to be used in alleviating the money pressure, and in assisting the banks of the state to extend their issues. A bill reported, in consonance with the suggestion of his excellency, has been ordered to a third reading in the house of representatives, by a majority that forbids any doubts as to its final passage. We copy the following notice of the bill from a New York paper:

"Mr. Morris, from the Joint Committee to whom was referred the special message of the governor, made a report responding to the charges of the governor, against the United States Bank, and concluding with a bill providing for the creation of a five per cent. STATE STOCK, amounting to SIX MILLIONS OF DOLLARS, redeemable in twelve years. 4,000,000 of dollars of this stock is proposed to be loaned to the banks in the city of New York, and two millions to be sent to the Loan Offices in different parts of the state, to be loaned when the supervisors of the different counties determine that they are in need of such aid. The bill creates a Board of Officers to manage the stock consisting in part of state Officers, and of persons to be appointed by the governor and senate. Mr. Morris also introduced a bill allowing the banks which may borrow this money to discount upon it as additional capital."

Pantalettes. Ladies, do not believe for a moment that we would touch the smallest hem of your garments; yet, we feel in duty bound, to warn you to be on your guard, and avoid Dutch Magistrates. We never objected to pantalettes, they are becoming, and, may be useful—but, one don't like to see too much of them—for, as our friend of the Constellation says—one pair of breeches will suffice for the head of the family. We say, wear pantalettes until you are married, and then pass them over to your "lord and master"—who, perhaps, will become them better than your charming selves, for we cannot allow "the gray mare to be the better horse."

Baltimore Visitor.

How to fatten Hogs. The New-York Farmer gives the following directions, as the fruits of experience:

In the fall of the year, when you put hogs upon a corn diet, instead of following the directions of the Temperance Society, by giving them pure water to drink, give them no water at all—not a drop; but instead thereof, give them plenty of raw potatoes; which while they greatly aid the corn in fattening, quench the thirst, and to which they go whenever they get dry by eating corn. Try it, and you will find your hogs improve much faster than on corn and water—your pork will be finer and heavier, and you will save one third of the expense of feeding.

It will be recollected that it was stated in our last week's paper, that the American brig Encomium, bound from Charleston to New-Orleans, had been wrecked on one of the Bahama Keys; from whence the officers and passengers, with a portion of their property, made their escape to Nassau N. P., where they were grossly insulted by the British authorities of the island, were forcibly deprived of their property, and were threatened with the halter by the Lieut. Governor, in case they attempted to preserve it. We observe that a public meeting on the subject was held by the citizens of Wilmington, on Friday last, which is said to have been the largest and most respectable assemblage ever witnessed in that place. Col. Gabriel Holmes officiated as Chairman, and Alexander Anderson, Esq. as Secretary. A series of spirited resolutions, submitted by Wm. B. Meares, Esq., strongly expressing their indignation at the insults and injuries offered to our fellow-citizens, and calling upon the Government of the United States to take "prompt, decisive and efficient measures to enquire into, and to redress this outrage," were unanimously adopted.—N. C. Star.

The Scarlet Fever. A writer in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, in a letter dated, Talbotton, (Geo.) recommends the use of spirits of turpentine in Scarlet Fever. He states that he has prescribed it in many cases, where the eruptions had only slightly and partially appeared, and it acted with great efficacy—the whole surface became completely covered with the rash, and the patients were soon greatly relieved of an inordinate oppression, no less disagreeable than dangerous.—The plan of administering the simple remedy is described as follows:

"As soon as I find the disease has made its attack, or as soon thereafter, as the paroxysms of fever have somewhat subsided, I administer from ten to fifteen drops to a tea spoonful of spirits of turpentine (according to the age of the patient), with one, two, or three tea-spoonfuls of castor oil, mixed together; and this I repeat every day, or sufficiently often to keep the eruption full on the surface."

HORRIBLE TRANSACTION.

The N. H. Courier gives the following account of a shocking affair which lately occurred in Hooksett, in that State:

"As Miss Vaughn, a very respectable young woman, who keeps a milliner's shop in the town of Hooksett, was returning home from the residence of Samuel Head, Esq. on Sunday afternoon last, about four o'clock, was waylaid by a deaf and dumb man, in the employ of Mr. Head, seized by the throat, and dragged into the woods, and most inhumanly insulted and abused; her clothes were rent to pieces, her comb broken to flinters, and her life but barely spared. The distance from Mr. Head's to the village, is about one mile, and the road passes through a wood where there is no house; it was in this by place that the ruffian effected his infernal purpose, for which he now lies in Hopkinton jail; and for which, if any crime, he deserves the scaffold and hemp. Although deaf and dumb, he is said to be a man of considerable information, much pains having been taken to educate him. Humanity weeps at the commission of such crimes, and the injured has the deep sympathies of a virtuous and moral community."

Death of a Giant.—The Taunton (Eng.) Courier, contains an account of the death and funeral of Joseph Neal Sewell, the Lincolnshire giant, who was born at Horncastle, in 1805. He had been depending on parish relief until a few months past, when an inhabitant of Taunton undertook to exhibit him, in conjunction with a Somersetshire dwarf. Sewell died on the 4th inst. at Swansea, and his remains were interred in the church-yard of Taunton, St. Mary Magdalen. He had a great horror of anatomical operations after death; and his exhibitioner, in deference to his wish, refused many lucrative offers for his body, and had quicklime thrown into the grave. The dwarf, thirty-seven inches high, and weighing sixty-eight pounds only, followed as chief mourner to the funeral. The deceased was seven feet four inches high, and weighing thirty-seven stone, or five hundred and eighteen pounds. Sewell's dress required five yards of broadcloth for his coat, five yards of cloth and linen for his waistcoat, seven yards of patent cord for his trousers; his shoes were fourteen inches and a half long, and six inches and a half wide.

Cholera. The fact stated in the subjoined letter, is very extraordinary; but whether it will be found to be applicable as a general principle, we know not:

My Dear Sir: The following extract from a letter received to day from Madras, may possibly be of service as a hint to any Commander whose ship may hereafter be visited by cholera. To all it must be both curious and interesting. "The 'Undaunted' Frigate, which sailed from this five weeks ago, to bring Lord Wm. Bentinck here, returned yesterday, owing to the cholera having broken out on board, and nine cases proving fatal; 103 of the crew had been attacked; and so long as the ship was before the wind, the disease increased upon them; when the surgeon recommended the Captain to change his course and haul the wind. This he did; when strange to say, an improvement was immediately observed, and the Frigate is now quite free from the complaint. He adds very properly, That is a hint to you sailors in the event of a similar attack. Dear Sir, Yours truly, JOHN HINE.

MADISON BRANCH BANK.

The Madison Republican & Banner of the 10th inst. says—

"The steam is up! On Monday last, the subscription book for the stock in the Madison branch of the Indiana State Bank was opened, and at eleven o'clock, A. M., of the same day, the whole amount of stock was subscribed on the part of the citizens, and one hundred and forty-five shares over! It is now believed that there will be a call for eight hundred shares more."

An intelligent merchant of Indianapolis, writing from the city of New York under a late date, says, there is but little doubt but the Bank loan, on the part of the State, will be effected.—Those wishing Stock at this and other places, should subscribe immediately, or they may be disappointed, like some of the citizens of Madison, in having the opportunity.

Ind. Democrat.

The bill to establish a General System of Education, in Pennsylvania, by Common Schools has passed both Houses of the Legislature, and has become a law.

A new article of importation. In unloading a vessel from a Southern port last Saturday, a barrel marked "Pork" was taken from the hold and placed upon the wharf. While rolling it, the heading gave way, and a new head showed itself in a shape most unquestionably human. On examining the contents of the barrel, they were found to be the disjointed body of a man pickled down, doubtless for surgical purposes. Wonder what kind of brand the Inspectors of Pork would give the barrel. Baltimore paper.

Highest Tavern in Europe. A tavern has been built on the summit of Mount Faulhorn, in Switzerland; it stands on an elevation of 8,140 feet above the level of the sea. As a matter of course, its guests one and all, get high, and are charged high for their refreshments.

Births Extraordinary. Mrs. Miller, residing in Conway street, between Howard and Eutaw streets, gave birth on Monday, to three fine children, all females. Her accouchment were attended by Dr. Duman, who states that the children are of extraordinary size. The lady is doing well, but the family is poor, and with this extraordinary addition to its number, its embarrassments are greatly increased. Baltimore American.

A serious altercation took place in the British House of Commons, on the 5th of February, while the affairs of Ireland were under discussion. The scene is described as quite an agitated one. Lord Althorp and Mr. Shiel were committed to the custody of the Sergeant-at-arms, but were subsequently liberated on bowing to the rules of the House.

Bloody Murrain in Cattle. A farmer in Ohio has discovered the cause of this disease to be leeches, taken into the stomachs of cattle with their drink. The discovery was the result of post mortem examinations. Leeches were found in the stomach much distended by the blood they had extracted from the suffering animal.

The preventive clearly is, to give the cattle water free from Leeches.—Lexington Intel.

The editor of the Village Record states, that he has made it a rule, for a number of years past, to deal only with those who deal with him, i. e. to purchase his hats, shoes, clothing, groceries, beef, flour, &c. of his customers, in preference to patronising those who do not take his paper.

People of Importance. Nobody likes to be nobody, but every body is pleased to think himself somebody; but the worst of the matter is, when any body thinks himself to be somebody, he is too much inclined to think every body else nobody.

The Bank people are now-a-days the exclusive friends of the "Constitution" and "Laws;" but by Constitution, they mean the bank of the United States, and by the Laws, they mean the rules which govern the loaning "facilities."

Blairsville Record.

England. The London papers are discussing the subject of what they term "The Irish Row," kicked up in the House of Commons, by Mr. O'Connell. They attribute to O'Connell a design to destroy Shiel, as the only member of his tail whom he had reason to fear as a rival.

Numerous petitions have been presented to Parliament, from the Dissenters, praying for liberty to register their own births and marriages, and for exemption from marriage fees.

TAKEN UP, by James Blauvelt, of Kelson township, Dearborn county, Ind., on the 24 day of April, 1834, a DARK BROWN-MARE, 13 hands high, with a star in her forehead, supposed to be 5 years old this Spring, and appraised at twenty dollars, by William S. Ward and Samuel Wright, the 9th day of April, 1834. I hereby certify the foregoing to be a correct copy. ROBT. ROWE, Jr. J. P. 14-2w.

OHIO FARMER.

And Western Horticulturist.

THIS paper is published twice a month, on fine paper, and new type, at the very low price of ONE DOLLAR a year. In offering it to the public at the reduced price, which makes it one of the cheapest publications ever presented to the western public, my object is to put into the power of every individual whatever may be his circumstances to become a subscriber—the cost cannot be felt in the course of the year out of the earnings of the poorest individual. Folded and paged with a regular index at the close of the year making a volume of about 200 pages it can be conveniently stowed and bound, and will at all times be ready and useful reference—for in it will be recorded whatever is interesting to those who manage a farm or conduct a shop. And every female also who has a taste for the cultivation of flowers—admires a well supplied kitchen garden, a neat and profitable dairy, or a correct and economical management of the cooking department, will find, in almost every number, hints of a highly useful nature. The main object of the Farmer, will be directed however, to the great and important interest of Western Agriculture, and particularly to the State of Ohio. The condition and resources of the immense Valley of the Mississippi are so clearly dependant on the cultivation of the soil, that the subject cannot be too much dwelt upon or too extensively investigated. In Ohio the work has already commenced, and may we not expect to see every Western State take the same or a more efficient stand in the cause.

All notes on solvent Banks received, and payment made in advance.

All letters to the editor must be post paid. S. MEDARY.
