

PALLADIUM.

Saturday Morning, Nov. 22.

The elections for governor, lieutenant governor, members of congress, and the State legislature took place in Massachusetts on Monday last. Honorable MARCUS MORRISON, is the Democratic candidate for governor and Hon. W. W. THOMPSON, for lieutenant governor. Nothing yet as to the result.

New York. The returns of the election in this State have been received in sufficient detail, to enable us to say that Marcy, the democratic candidate, is re-elected governor, by a majority of upwards of 12,000, over Seward, whig. All the congressional districts have been heard from, and the members elect stand, 31 democrats—9 whigs. The members elect to the next general assembly stand thus: Senate, 29 democrats—3 whigs. House of Representatives, 90 democrats—31 whigs.

The members of Congress are setting their faces towards Washington city. On the 12th instant the Hon. E. A. Hanagan and family passed through this place in the stage on their way east. Gen. Tipton passed through on Saturday, by stage; and the Hon. A. Lane left his residence here on the same morning, in the "Accommodation" line.

The river has risen four or five feet since our last, and is still on the swell. It is in fine boating order, and business lively and increasing. Some 8 or 10 flat boats, heavily laden, have left our wharves since our last report, (8th inst.). The following list comprises all we have been able to learn from the books of the Insurance office:

No 24 & 25. Joseph Kitchell, owner. Cargo—112 tons hay.

No 26. James Patterson, owner: departed 15th inst. Cargo—1660 bushels corn, 10 bales hay.

No 27. George Cheek, owner: departed 17th inst. Cargo—2000 lbs pork, 10 bales flour, 50 sacks oats, 1500 bushels corn, 170 head hogs.

No 28 & 29. Daniel M'Mullin, owner: departed 20th inst. Cargo—114 tons hay, 550 bushels corn.

No 30. Thomas Gaw and John Rees, owners: departed this day. Cargo—1900 bushels corn.

The season for putting up pork has again arrived, and some little is doing at it by our dealers; though the weather has been so far very unfavorable. We are not advised as to what extent our traders intend to go into the business; nor what prices the articles will sustain. At present, those purchasing are offering something like the following rates, viz: for hogs weighing 200, $3; 175 to 200, $2 75; 150 to 175, $2 50; under 150, $2 25. This is, we believe, what is offering in Cincinnati and Madison.

A writer in the Richmond Palladium, recommends Marks Crume, Esq. as a suitable person to represent the Wayne district in the next congress. O. H. Smith, Esq. is a candidate in the same district, and Messrs. Rariden and Findlay have been named as probable. Either would make a respectable public servant.

Indiana Journal. We omitted to notice last week, that the Editors of this paper (published at Indianapolis) intend to issue it twice a week, as usual, during the approaching session of the legislature. The price for the session, $1 in advance. Those desirous to subscribe, would do well to forward their names and the cash by members of the legislature.

The Editors of the Rising Sun Times misconceive our meaning. We intended no disrespect in calling them strangers.—Far be it from us. We used the term, because we believed they spoke of this place on the representations of others, and not from their own knowledge; and we are still willing to allow them the advantage of this relation. We have a better opinion of their liberality, their respect for truth, than to suppose that they would venture, on their own responsibility, to assert that this place was either unhealthy or surrounded by swamps. We will even allow that they heard some of our citizens say our town was sickly; but, then we will ask to be permitted to say that we have some grumblers in Lawrenceburg, like other places, who delight in exclaiming against the place or some persons in it; and who, we believe, would pine away and die, if they were denied this privilege. And yet these some grumblers, where they have amassed wealth, place a high estimate on their possessions here, sickly and swampy as it may be. Let any one offer to purchase their property, that they may escape from this charnel-house—this miry "fog pond," and he will at once discover, that all their railings originate in an innate disposition to talk and grumble. Dr. Franklin speaks of such men in the early settlement of Philadelphia. They continued to exclaim against the place year after year, and at the end of 15 or 20, the Doctor says he was pleased to see them pay 2 or $3,000 for lots they might have purchased for as many hundred at an earlier day, had they been so disposed.

It is not our purpose to enlarge. Lawrenceburg has its advantages and disadvantages. It has privileges denied other places; and then it has innumerable from which they are exempt. We have a tolerable eligible situation for business—pure water—rich, dry soil—salubrious & healthy atmosphere; and the only draw-back upon these, is the occasional overflows of the river. But with this, and every other disadvantage, our town grows, attracts attention, (vide, the Times,) and we doubt not but some of our neighbors would be willing to swap situations and give some boot, bad as it is represented to be. At all events, we consider it no evidence against a horse, to hear a dealer run him down before purchase. If our neighbors of the Times could buy our town at their estimate, and sell it again at ours, grumblers and all, we doubt not but they would make a handsome speculation.

The Editors ask us to debate the propriety of removing the county seat. Out of respect to our delegation in the legislature, we decline the task. They have the matter in keeping, and it would not be right to anticipate what they may say in reference to it. The Editors, however, may continue their remarks, and we will listen to them.

One of our brethren of the type are emigrating from the state of "single-blessedness" to the island of matrimony. Mr. David P. Holloway, one of the Editors of the Richmond Palladium, has lately taken up his line of march for the island, in company with Miss Jane Anne Paulson. We wish them a pleasant journey.

We have heard a good deal about the recklessness, the virulence of the Jackson prints; and in some instances we have no doubt there was much cause for the complaint. But after making full allowance for prejudice, we must insist that some of the Whig Journals out go them in this particular. For example, just read the following from the New York Courier & Enquirer, a leading Whig paper in the city of New York, and then contrast it with the worst slang on the opposite side, and if it does not beat it all hollow, why, then, we are mistaken—that's all.

The Elections. Now that the great struggle in this State is over, and the TORIES every where triumphant—now that JACKSON GOLD and the corrupt and corrupting influence of the OFFICE HOLDERS and the public Treasury, have bought up a sufficient number of voters to retain them in places they disgrace, and armed them with additional weapons and increased power, to trample upon the laws and Constitution of the country—it becomes every White as the friend of Liberty and advocate of a Constitutional Government, to enquire what is to be done? Submit we must while submission is a virtue; but we must be ever on our guard to discover that point beyond which submission is a crime, when usurpation must be checked and tyranny resisted at any and every hazard.

There is a duty incumbent upon all of us, and faithfully to discharge this sacred duty to our country, it is necessary that we should not yield to despair or give up any portion of that organization, which, although it did not give us a victory, carried terror into the ranks of our opponents and caused them to tremble for the safety of their ill gotten and much abused power.

We recommend therefore, that wards should immediately be called together and a new and efficient organization be made with a view to the spring contest. We have now possession of the City Government, and if we would ever hereafter hope to triumph over the common enemy, we must not suffer him to regain possession of the Corporation and the immense power it gives to a corrupt party. We know that it has not been of much direct service to us, because we have never used it improperly; but knowing how unscrupulously the TORIES have always used this power, we have no hesitation in saying that if they had retained the Corporation last spring, they would have carried the recent election by at least six thousand majority.

Madison Branch Bank. The cash on the part of stockholders in Madison was paid in on the 10th instant without any defalcation. On the 11th the following gentlemen were elected directors on the part of the stockholders, viz: J. F. D. Lanier, John King, Robert Craig, Benjamin Hubbs, Lucius Barber, Wm. W. Page, C. P. J. Arion, and Howard Watts. The directors on the part of the State, are Wm. Dutton, Robert Brantham, and Williamson Dunn. On the evening of the 11th, all the directors held a meeting and elected J. F. D. Lanier, Esq. president—Milton Stapp, Esq. cashier, and John Sering, Esq. clerk. J. F. D. Lanier, was also chosen a director of the State Bank, on the part of the Madison Branch.

We know not that it becomes us on this occasion to say any thing in praise of the selections, and we need not, and would not, were Madison, or Jefferson county, alone concerned; but this is not the case. The people of the whole State, and as many out of it, as may handle the paper of the Bank, have a right to know if a good selection has been made. As evidence of confidence on the part of the stockholders, we have been told that the choice of directors was nearly unanimous, while the vote for president and cashier, was entirely so—and as far as we have learned, the whole transactions have been generally approved. It is enough for us to say that the gentlemen elected possess wealth, talents, and reputation, and their skill and fidelity in the management of Madison Branch Bank cannot be doubted.

Republican.

Lafayette Branch Bank. On Monday last, the last day for the payment of the first instalment of the Bank stock, the Stockholders came forward with great punctuality; and we learn there were but few delinquents, and that their stock was taken up and paid in very readily.

On Tuesday, the Stockholders proceeded to elect their Directors for this Branch, which occupied the whole day, and resulted in the election of Messrs. John Taylor, Andrew Ingram, Isaac Coleman, Rudolph S. Ford, William Heaton, George Nichol, Israel Spencer, and John Sherry.

On yesterday (12th inst.) the Directors met, and unanimously elected Thomas T. Benbridge, President, Samuel Taylor Cashier, and Dr. Loyal Fairman State Director. We have not learned further of their proceedings.

Mercury.

On Thursday Evening last, the following Gentlemen were elected directors in the Lafayette Bank, to wit:

Josiah Lawrence, Caleb Bates, C. Donaldson, John D. Jones, H. L. Tatam, S. P. Chase, David K. Estee, D. B. Lawler, Wright Smith, S. W. Phelps, George W. Neff, W. McLean, Morgan Neville, and on the following day Josiah Lawrence was elected President.

Cin. Courier.

New Albany Branch Bank. We are informed that the whole amount of stock in the branch of the state bank, located at New Albany, was taken prior to the 10th inst., and that the first instalment, required to be paid on that day, was deposited with the commissioners in specie. On the 11th, an election for Directors took place, which resulted in the choice of M. C. Fitch, A. S. Burnett, P. F. Tuely, Wicome Hale, H. B. Shields, M. Robinson, S. G. Wilson and R. Downey.

At a meeting of the Directors, on the same evening, M. C. Fitch was chosen President, and James R. Shields Cashier.

We are also informed that the stock was taken generally by the farmers and mechanics of the country, and that every prospect exists of their realizing considerable profits from the operations of the institution.

Comet.

Bottle Royal. Some gamblers from Boston took post a few days since, on the musterfield at Lexington, Mass. where there was a brigade review. The soldiery, disliking the manœuvres of the blacklegs, charged the whole body, foot and horse—but we find it recorded as one of the uncertainties of war, that the "regulars" were most ignobly defeated. The gamblers made fight, and actually drove the assailants from the field, infantry and cavalry—three of the soldiers being wounded.

NEW YORK MARKET—Nov. 8.

Flour.—The week has been exceedingly dull, and prices of Western have given way fully 12 cents. In Southern there has been no change, and the transactions have been exceedingly limited. Rye Flour continues to be scarce. Sales of Indian Meal in barrels at $3 87, and in hds. we do not hear of any sales of moment.

Grain.—Western Wheat continues to sell at 100 cts. Northern at 101 a 104 cents. Rye remains without change. No Southern in market. Oats have fallen; sales of Northern at 37 a 38 cts. Southern 31 a 32 cents. Barley commands a trifling advance on the price the previous week. Corn has declined; sales of Southern at 70 cents; Northern yellow old 72 a 73; new 65 a 68; old white 74 cents.

Provisions.—The sales of Mess and Prime Pork during the week, have been by no means large, and at former quotations—the sales amount to about 900 bbls at the quotations of the past week. The sales of Mess and Prime Beef have gone off steadily, and sales of about 100 bbls have been made at 8 1/2 a $1 for Mess and 5 1/2 a $1 for Prime. Lard goes off heavily, at 8 1/2 a 9 cts. for Northern, at 6 a 7 1/2 for Western.

From B. Levy's N. O. Prices Current of Nov. 1.

Remarks.—The Mississippi here is still without perceptible change 13 1/2 feet below high water mark; the Upper Mississippi and the Ohio are both represented, by persons just arrived, to be very low, the latter having but 25 inches water on the bars. The weather, in general, has been favorable to out-door affairs, but the last day or two has been rather warm and close.

Flour.—The stock in market is not very large at this moment, but is accumulating; the demand is not moderate at $1 50 per bbl small lots, $1 75, Arrived this week 7447 bbls.

Pork.—The demand for Pork, though on the increase, is confined to small sales generally, to fill the orders for the planter's use. Arrived this week 127 bbls.

Beef.—is scarce, but the limited demand that continues to be felt, renders sales of little importance, and prices without change. Arrived this week 69 bbls.

Lard.—We quote Lard at 7 a 7 1/2 cts. per lb with fair supply and rather a dull market. Arrived this week 3147 kegs.

Whiskey.—is worth from 30 a 31 cents per gallon; it is still scarce, but not in very great demand. Arrived this week, 168 kegs.

Coffee.—The demand for good Green Coffee is quite active, while other sorts are almost entirely neglected.—Present quotations for Havana Green 12 a 13 cents. No St Domingo in the place.

Corn is now selling in the ear per bbl at 87 1/2 cts. Shelled in sacks as last quoted. Arrived 3800 bbls.

Hay.—From the number of late arrivals, has been quite plenty. We quote cargo sales at 75 cents per 100 lbs.

Oats.—have declined in price and are now selling for $1 25 per sack of 2 bushels.

MARRIED.—On Sunday the 16th instant by D. Weaver, Esq., Mr. DANIEL LEMON, of Caesars Creek township, to Miss ALICE KALL, of Randolph township.

DIED.—On the 27th Oct. at Peoria, Illinois, Mr. JOHN ST. CLAIR, late of Cincinnati, Ohio.
