

LAWRENCEBURGH, SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 21, 1835.

Hon. T. H. Benton arrived at Cincinnati on the 13th instant, on his way to Washington. He was tendered a public dinner by the citizens of that place, but owing to circumstances requiring him to proceed upon his journey, the hospitality was declined.

Fort Wayne Branch Bank. We learn from the Sentinel, that the Branch at this place has commenced operations. On the 2d instant the following named gentlemen were elected directors on the part of the stockholders, viz: Samuel Lewis, Joseph Morgan, Joseph Sinclair, Asa Fairfield, W. G. Ewing, Francis Compere, David Burr, Jesse Vermyly, Isaac Spencer, and Samuel Edsall. Allen Hamilton was chosen president and Hugh McCullough, Cashier.

The second instalment payable to the branch bank here, which fell due on the 10th instant, was punctually paid up in gold and silver—not a single delinquency occurring. The specie capital of this branch is $130,000, on which she may issue $260,000. The business of the year has demonstrated that this sum, or even all she could issue, were her whole capital (200,000) paid in, is too small to meet the wants of our trading community; and that if the capital was enlarged one half, the branch could employ the whole profitably.

The watchful portion of creation, who are ever on the alert for something new, had a rare opportunity on Tuesday night last to feast their eyes and exercise their imaginations. About midnight the horizon to the north became brilliantly illuminated, as if by an immense fire. The rays striking out in lines, east and west, extended spirally to the middle of the heavens, illuminating the space between, and dispersing the gloom of night as under the influence of a full moon. Ever and anon the light grew dim, and again brightened up, as it were, into a flame. About 10 o'clock the beauty of the scene was heightened by the change of the sky to a deep red, beautifully variegated by light interspersed.

We do not pretend to give an accurate description of the phenomenon, nor guess at the whys nor wherefores of its occurrence; but merely notice it to let our readers know we are not always napping when sights are to be seen. To those more acquainted with astronomy, we leave the task of accounting for this strange appearance in the heavens; promising to lay their opinions before our readers as early as possible. In the mean time, we imagine the world will jog on as it has wont to do in times past, unmindful and unamused that any thing has occurred to create a doubt in the minds of any one that he is about to be arrested in his onward course.

Pork. Although the season has arrived for packing of this article, we have heard of but few sales, and those small lots of hogs, intended for immediate shipment in bulk, as it is termed. There appears to be an unusual backwardness, this season, both on the part of growers and purchasers to set prices, or make offers of what they will take or give for hogs. Both seem disposed not to be in a hurry to sell or buy, hoping, perhaps, to do better after a while. The few sales made, as noticed, were at something like $4 per cwt. The business will probably open at near the same price; and we apprehend, though better prices are expected, that few dealers will do better than to sell now on similar terms.

We understand that several persons in this place intend purchasing and packing this season. We know that extensive and suitable preparations have been made for the purpose, perhaps superior to any in the State. Maj. J. P. Dunn, we would mention, has erected extensive buildings expressly for packing pork, and fitted them up in a style that does credit to his taste and enterprise. Others have provided themselves with suitable buildings and appendages to do an extensive business, both in slaughtering and packing.

Farmers and others in this section of the State, entering the pork trade this fall, we think would do well to visit our place and see our dealers. Whether disposed to sell or pack on their own account, we feel persuaded they could do as well here, if not better, than at any other place.

Lawrenceburgh Market.—Apples, bushel, 25 to 37 1/2 cts. Butter, lb. 15 to 18, in demand. Beef lb. retail 5 to 6; by quarter lb. 3 to 4. Pork lb. 5 to 6, retail. Corn meal, bushel, 50 to 62. Chickens, doz. $1 to 150, scarce. Cheese, lb. 9 to 10. Eggs, doz. 8 to 12 1/2. Flour, bbl. $7 to —. Flaxseed, bush., 90 to 100. Hay, cwt. 50 to 56. Oats, bush. 31 to 37, in demand. Potatoes, bush. 25 to 37, sales fair. Salt, Kenhawa, bush. 35; Conamough, do. 37. Wood, cord, $2 to 2 50.

We understand that petitions are circulating in different parts of this county, for signatures, praying the legislature to revise their act of last session to relocate the county seat, and pass a law to give the people the power to determine by vote where the court-house shall be. The plan seems to be regarded as reasonable, and the most likely to give satisfaction to the people.

GREAT SOUTHERN RAIL ROAD.

From the manner in which this work receives favor in the South, there can be no doubt of its being immediately undertaken. We make the following extract from Gov. Lumpkin's annual message to the Legislature of Georgia on this subject. The language he holds and the argument she uses, are admirably calculated for our own people, and our own legislature—and, we trust, will have due weight. If a branch into this great work is of so much consequence to Georgia, how much more so it is to the people of Indiana, that they should be connected with it. This will be effected by the construction of our rail road to Indianapolis, and then by means of it and the White Water canal, the centre, northern, and eastern sections of the State will be brought into immediate connection with the southern trade and travel.

Already we perceive the citizens of Ohio are alive to this important subject. Meetings have been called to devise means for carrying branches from the main track into the interior of Ohio to the Lake. On the one side its business will be diffused to the upper Ohio by means of the Maysville turnpike—in the middle the main road will strike the river at Cincinnati—and the Lexington and Louisville rail road will accommodate the lower part of this State, Kentucky, and lower Illinois, and will the centre, the northern and the eastern parts of Indiana remain idle? If indeed we will not stir on our own account, we, in consideration to the important country back of us, should afford them this outlet to the south through our own State. Ohio will carry the improvement to Lake Erie, shall we not take it to Lake Michigan? and thereby make our State the thoroughfare for the citizens of the upper Illinois, Mississippi, and Michigan.

"I would most respectfully and earnestly invite the attention of the General Assembly to the contents of a pamphlet, which I lay before the House of Representatives, on the subject of a contemplated rail road from the valley of the Ohio river, to the Atlantic coast of Georgia and the Carolinas. A deliberate consideration of the documents which compose this pamphlet, will not fail to impress the comprehensive mind, with the great importance of the subject. Georgia, the two Carolinas, Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and Indiana are the States, most deeply interested in the project—while its consummation could not fail to extend benefits to every part of our continent, East and West, North, and South. The extent of this inland communication, from North, to South, through the centre of the United States, would comprehend at least fifteen degrees of latitude, and could only be compared with that established by the Mississippi river itself: at least half the population of the Union, comprehended in whole or in part, residing in Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri are interested in the completion of a rail road from Cincinnati in Ohio, to the Atlantic coast, and would immediately participate in its advantages. This line of communication, connected as it is and would be, with the other public works of the States, from the Atlantic Ocean to the great northern lakes, establishing a direct communication through nearly all the varieties of climate, soil production and people of United States, would forever stand conspicuous among the public works of the union, both in a commercial and social point of view. Should this work be executed, the social, political, and commercial relations between these extreme sections of the North and South, would instantly be changed. The intercourse thus established would be unprecedented in those United States; we should no longer be strangers and aliens to our brethren—Charleston, Savannah and Augusta would be brought into social and direct intercourse and good neighborhood with Cincinnati, Louisville, Lexington &c: the people of the two extreme regions would every summer meet together in the intervening mountain region of Georgia and the Carolinas (one of the most delightful climates in the world) exchange opinions, compare their sentiments and blend their feelings, the North and the South would shake hands with each other as united brethren—yield up every sectional and political prejudice, pledge themselves to joint objects of national interests, and part as friends and brethren, devoted to the Union and the liberties of their common country.

"The important objects of direct inter-communication between distant communities, have enlisted the talents and enterprise, of not only the first men of the age, but whole communities, composed of different States and sections of the country, are moving forward to the accomplishment of the most splendid works of internal improvements. The apathy of Georgia, on this deeply interesting subject, is pregnant with the most fatal consequences to the present and future interest and prosperity of the State. The geographical position of Georgia, is confidently believed to be the most favorable of any State in the Union, to participate largely in all the benefits of the splendid projects of internal improvements, designed to effect a direct communication between the Northwestern and Southern, Atlantic sections of our Union. Our state has a most extensive maritime coast on the Atlantic, with various rivers, inlets and harbours, possessing all the necessary advantages for the most extensive commerce. Moreover, Georgia is, in point of territory, that link in the chain of States, which embraces the territory through which the waters flow, both into the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico. As regards the work now under consideration, I do not entertain the shadow of a doubt, in regard to its utility and practicability; and I am equally confident that the mountains of Georgia afford gaps and passways for the contemplated rail road, far more favorable than any of her sister States. Admitting the great object of the contemplated work to be the most direct communication between Cincinnati and Charleston, the most practicable and best route will, upon a scientific examination, be found to intersect the "Georgia rail road" at Athens in this State. And shall we, the people of Georgia, under all these circumstances and considerations, stand idle "all the day long" and see our state passed by, on the right hand and on the left? If we do nothing as a State, shall we not encourage and aid our enterprising citizens, who have voluntarily engaged in the laudable work of internal improvements.

The following account is given by the "Constellation," of the Van Buren meeting held in Covington on the 9th inst. for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State Convention:

OLD FOUNTAIN IN MOTION!

We give below, the proceedings of the Meeting held in this town, on the 9th inst. by the friends of Van Buren and Johnson, by which it will be perceived that the Democracy of the County, with their characteristic magnanimity, have determined to support the candidates of the people, chosen by their Representatives, in the Baltimore Convention.

The meeting was numerously attended; and what added greatly to its importance was the fact, that Mr. ROBERT MCINTYRE presided. This gentleman followed Gen. Wayne through all the vicissitudes and hardships of his campaign—fought in the battle of Tippecanoe, and was distinguished for his bravery as a soldier. He was one of the framers of the Constitution of the State of Indiana, and many years represented Washington County in both branches of the Legislature. We repeat that the appearance of this grey-haired patriarch of democracy, as the presiding officer, was calculated to inspire those enlisted under its banner, with animation and attachment.

Much praise is due to the Hon. E. A. HANNEGAN for the able and eloquent manner in which he exposed the corrupt and unprincipled means resorted to by the heterogeneous combination of the Opposition to divide and distract the republican party. He took up the different candidates, one after another, and after exhibiting their several claims to the suffrages of the people, settled down in the full conviction that the talents, patriotism, and firm adherence to the cause of democracy, claimed for Martin Van Buren and Richard M. Johnson the support of the republican party. The resolutions which he offered at the conclusion of his remarks, breathe the spirit of liberty, to the principles of which he is so zealous and faithful an advocate; and it may afford his constituents much pleasure to know that they were warmly responded to by all who heard them. The people are awakening to their interest—they begin to see the schemes of the Opposition, to foist upon them some candidate who will recharter the darling idol of their hearts—the U. S. Bank—and thus again bring upon the country the system of bribery and corruption, which the Jackson men labored so strenuously to overthrow.

We extract the following from a number of spirited resolutions passed by the meeting, highly approving the measures of the present administration, and recommending to the support of the people of Indiana, the nominees of the Baltimore Convention:

Resolved, That we view the nomination of the Baltimore Convention, (made by delegates duly chosen from the people in their primary assemblies), as affording clear and decided evidence of the wishes of a majority of the Democratic party, and as such we are prepared most cheerfully to unite in the support of MARTIN VAN BUREN and RICHARD M. JOHNSON for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, to succeed the present incumbents.

Resolved, That we approve of the plan of holding a Convention at Indianapolis on the 8th of January next, to nominate an Electoral Ticket favorable to these distinguished individuals, and that we consider it desirable to associate Fountain County in such Convention of Delegates from the different counties of the State.

Resolved, That thirteen delegates be appointed to represent the County in such Convention. Whereupon, C. S. Winans, Capt. John Ward, William Templeton, J. W. McBroom, W. B. White, L. B. Hughes, John Bowman, Mitchell C. Black, Robt. McIntire, Uriah Biggs, David Sewell, D. Rawles, Col. Wade, Joseph Ristine, and D. Glasscock were appointed.

TEXAS. We lay before our readers this week, a mass of highly important and interesting intelligence from Texas.—The war has already begun. Gonzalez has become the Lexington of Texas. The distinguished Don Lorenzo de Zavala (the great Mexican patriot, who had the boldness to denounce the apostacies of Santa Anna,) and Stephen F. Austin, Esq. are in the field, battling against the legions of centralism and despotism.

GONZALES, Oct. 3, 1835.

Your letter of September 27, has been received, and we rejoice to see that volunteers are on their march to our assistance. The Rubicon is crossed, and it is now of vital importance to Texas that we should be immediately reinforced.

About 12 o'clock on the 20th, the military, about 200 in number, arrived on the western bank of the Guadalupe, and attempted the passage of the river, but were repulsed by 18 men, the whole force then in the place. They then encamped on the mound at De Witt's. On the 1st of October, about 12 o'clock, they took up their march, and encamped about 7 miles above the place, in a very strong position. Suspecting that their object in this movement was either to wait for a reinforcement from San Antonio, or to cross at the upper crossing, about 15 miles above, it was determined to attack them before their plans could be carried into execution. Accordingly, on the same night, the whole force, on foot, amounting to about 160 men, from the Guadalupe, Colorado, and Le Beca, commanded by Col. J. H. Moore, crossed the river, attacked the enemy about daybreak and put them to flight, without the loss of a single man. Inasmuch as we expect a formidable attack from Ugaritechea, should the forces long remain idle, the determination is to attack San Antonio as soon as we can receive reinforcements, to prevent this country from becoming the battle ground. This committee, therefore, earnestly desire that you would use your influence to send to this place, as soon as possible, as many volunteers as possible. Respectfully, yours, W. M. FISHER, ch'n.

Col. S. F. AUSTIN, chairman committee of safety.

Information which is relied on, has been received from the interior, that the States of Zacatecas and Gaudalaxay have risen and taken up arms in defence of the Constitution of 1824, and in support of the federal system; also, that there are insurrections in the State of Tamaulipas, in favor of the same cause; also, that the republican General, Juan Alvarez, has gained a victory over the government troops in the south of Mexico.

To the Editor of the True American.

DEAR SIR:—I hasten to give you the latest news received from Texas. Enclosed you will herewith receive the 'Red River Herald,' containing a mass of late and important news from Texas.

Also the following extract from a letter to a gentleman in this place, dated at

"NACOGDOCHES, TEXAS, 19th Oct. 1835.

"We were delighted last night by the arrival of an express from the Brazos, by whom we were informed of the complete success of the Americans at Goliad (Labahia): they had killed a few of the Lancers, (who are the flowers of the Mexican army,) and taken the rest prisoners;—seized on the public store, taken possession of 300 stand of arms and a number of houses.

"Gen. Cos' troops had departed from that place for Gonzales, and there we hope and believe he will be defeated; as he is completely surrounded by Americans, he will have no chance of retreat. Yours, &c.

"P. S.—The stores taken by our men, were worth $10,000. They had been landed at Capano, and destined for St. Antonio, for the use of the Mexican army. There are now 50 men here from Tansho, who are just starting for the seat of war. Ninety volunteers left here a few days since. Yours, etc. J. CABLE.

Natchitoches, La. 25th Oct. 1835."

veged at Trenton on Tuesday last, and elected Mr. Sitgraves of Warren, as Vice President of Council, and Mr. Ryal, of Monmouth, Speaker of the House of Assembly.—Mr. Thompson of Salem, Clerk. The democratic party has a majority of twenty-two in joint meeting. On the 30th ult. P. D. Vroom, Esq. was re-elected Governor, without opposition, James D. Westcott, was unanimously re-elected Secretary of State for five years, and Stacy G. Potts, Clerk in Chancery.

The Governor, in his Message, adverts to the subject of slavery, disapproves of the fanatical proceedings of certain deluded or misguided persons, and while he is pleased that their efforts have received no countenance by the people of New Jersey, would not recommend any Legislative interference in the matter.

Professor Rogers has been appointed to effect a geological survey of the State.

THOMPSON'S

TOOTH-ACHE DROPS.

THE subscriber has the pleasure of offering to the Public a fresh supply of his remedy for that tormenting disease the

which he has discovered after a series of experiments pursued for nearly two years.—In the composition of this remedy he assures the public that there is not the smallest particle of any mineral substance, that it is entirely compounded from the vegetable kingdom, and that its tendency is, instead of corroding the nerve and substance of the tooth, to preserve both.—It acts as a sedative, and also as an antiseptic, without producing the slightest increase of pain, and on its application almost instantaneous relief is obtained.

Numerous certificates are in the possession of the subscriber, of cures performed by this remedy, but as some of them can be seen where the "drops" are for sale and the others on application to the subscriber, it is deemed useless to insert them here as the publication would be more expensive than necessary.

A single vial will be sufficient if properly applied to cure from 60 to 100 cases, and as printed directions accompany each vial, any person can administer it even to himself.

For sale wholesale and retail by Dr. Phillip Mason in Connersville, Allen & Co., Cincinnati, Nathan D. Gallion, Brookville, and by retail at most of the country stores.

A liberal discount made to those who purchase for retailing.

THE undersigned, intending to transfer his Publication Office to the Eastward, offers to sell the PRESSES TYPE and MATERIALS used in the Public Work. The Patronage of the Departments is worth from twelve to twenty thousand dollars per annum, and that of the House as much more. The Globe has been for years in the enjoyment of the one, and is sufficiently rewarded. Especially as its Editors are so much opposed to all monopolies.
