

WILL PROPOSES ADVISORY BODY FOR CONGRESS

Will Call for Industrial Parliament to Aid in Labor and Capital Problems.

ALONG CANADIAN IDEA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—A parliament of industry, to assist congress in dealing with problems of capital and labor, is to be proposed in a bill now being drafted and shortly to be introduced in the senate, it was learned today.

The plan was conceived some time ago, but held up pending the outcome of the first and second industrial conferences called by President Wilson. It was to be presented as soon as details could be worked out.

Following the Canadian idea, the bill will call for a general industrial parliament to draw up a code for industry. This is to be the basis for future legislation recommended to congress by the public's representation.

TO BE WORKED OUT.

Tentative plans call for 100 labor members to be chosen by unions and other groups of employees, 100 representatives of capital to include business and professional men. A third group probably will be added to represent the public, composed of fifty or one hundred members. This part of the plan has not been worked out definitely, it was said.

"Criticism of the proposal as being too unwieldy is anticipated," the author of the bill said today, "but it is based on the theory that the industrial congress will be a melting pot of all ideas affecting capital and labor and that complete representation of all groups is necessary. Out of the scores of ideas and viewpoints represented, legislation to be recommended to congress can be formed."

CALLS ON PRESIDENT

TO CALL PARLIAMENT.

The bill itself will call on the president to call an industrial parliament as described. It is then expected that the parliament will make itself a permanent body. Drafting a code of principles relating to recognition of collective bargaining, living wages and peaceable settlement of disputes is the first task the organization would have, according to present plans.

It is also contemplated that a body similar to the war labor board—to be the executive body to carry out principles approved by the congress and enacted into law—shall be set up.

Discuss Naming of Secretary of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary of Treasury Glass conferred with President Wilson today relative to the appointment of a successor, when Secretary Glass takes the oath of office as a senator from Virginia.

It is expected that an announcement as to the new secretary of treasury will be made tomorrow or today.

Secretary Glass is the third cabinet member the president has seen since his illness.

The conference between the president and Secretary Glass gave rise to new rumors as to the appointment and the names of Martin Glynn of Albany and John Burke, treasurer of the United States, were mentioned together with that of R. C. Leffingwell, assistant secretary of treasury.

Says Soldiers Want League of Nations

American soldiers who fought in France want the league of nations pact ratified by the United States senate, Sarah Millard Willmer, war worker and entertainer, declared at the Y. M. C. A. Big Meeting at English's opera house on Sunday afternoon. She served in France and spoke of her experiences there.

"The league of nations covenant is not perfect, but neither is anything else designed by human hands," she said. "But even though the league is not perfect, it is something toward the maintenance of peace and our boys want it. They deserve it and for this reason alone we ought to push it across."

Price Peril Seen in Grain Change

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Warning of price hazards which may confront wheat and flour handlers after the withdrawal of government control when the activities of the grain corporation are brought to an end next June, is contained today in an official bulletin issued by Julius H. Barnes to 42,000 licensees of the wheat director in all parts of the United States. "Emphasis is placed on the fact that the reduction of commitments to the minimum required for the conduct of necessary current business" will be a wise commercial policy for the grain trade upon the expiration of two years of official stabilization and in view of the present world situation.

DOWN IN BED AND SO WEAK

Lady Suffered Terribly for Eight Weeks But Her Case Showed Wonderful Improvement After Taking Cardui.

Johnson City, Tenn.—Mrs. M. R. Scott, living near this town, states: "About three years ago I was down in bed . . . terrible and so weak I couldn't bear the sight of food. This condition continued for about eight weeks . . . I thought I was going to die, and knew I must get something to do me some good. I had heard all my life of Cardui and the good results obtained from its use. So I decided to try it."

"After about a half bottle of Cardui my appetite improved, then I was less nervous. I kept it up until I had taken five bottles—and such an improvement! I gained flesh and now am the picture of health, due, I believe, solely to the use of Cardui. I am the mother of ten children and feel well and strong."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic for women. It has stood the most severe of all tests—the test of time, having been in use for over forty years. It is composed of purely vegetable ingredients which have been found to help build up the vitality, tone up the nerves, and strengthen the womanly constitution. Try Cardui.—Advertisement.

GRAND CLEAN-UP, NEW REFORM CRY

Pure Democracy by 1930 Object of 'Anti-Sin' Drive.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Treat tenderly the vices you have left. It may not be long before they are taken from you—one by one legislated out of existence.

"Make our democracy pure by 1930" is the slogan of reformers gathered in Washington today to unite on plans for a grand drive against sin. Reformers of every kind and from everywhere—the biggest collection ever seen in these parts. They represent the gathering of all national reform organizations.

The assembled reformers are hot for action against all manifestations of wickedness, from prize fighting to pornography. They will hold "purity" mass meetings, addressed by William Jennings Bryan and Attorney General Palmer. All of the senators and congressmen have been given reserved seats.

Among the organizations represented are the International Reform Bureau, the W. C. T. U., the National Temperance Union and the Intercollegiate Prohibition association. They are holding separate and joint meetings. They have dedicated the week to joy and thanksgiving because of the prohibition victory.

The International Reform Bureau, which boasts of a board of directors that includes such distinguished characters as Senator Poindexter and Senator Sherman, has an elaborate "anti-sin" program. It is out to reform everything from marriage to labor leaders.

This year being the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Mayflower, Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent, says it should be a fine year for putting purity across. However, he advises against ordering the 1921 advanced styles in wings. It may be another century or two before the program of the high cost of dressing is solved by wings.

TREATY CAUCUS AROUSES HOPE

press, the Tagesschau Rundschau, says that "the aim now must be a removal of this work of peace."

"Under the Peace Yoke," is the head placed by the Lokal Anzeiger upon its comment.

The Allgemeine Zeitung dwelt mostly upon the limitations of German sovereignty.

"Germany must set her hope in the British workers," said the newspaper Freiheit. This newspaper mentions the "peace yoke," and laments "the impracticability of the peace."

DEPLORE ABSENCE OF U. S. IN LEAGUE

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Regret that the United States did not participate in ratification of the treaty of Versailles is expressed by today's newspapers. Some editorials strike a doleful note.

"The omission of America's signature to the ratifying document," says the Telegraph, "stands for the bitter disappointment of the hope that glowed with promise for humanity a year ago. It is true the league of nations exists by the terms of the treaty, but the world knows that unless and until the United States adheres to the league and participates in its actions not a title of the usefulness and moral authority it should possess will belong to it."

The Telegraph also cites the absence of Russia from Saturday's ceremony and says: "Until the sky in that direction grows clearer there is no world peace, nor any hope."

Doubts of the reality of peace, behind the formal act of ratification are expressed by the Daily News.

"There is not a nation which can not, if it wishes, manufacture new grievances out of the settlement to trouble the peace of the world," it says. "Occasions of offense are so numerous they obscure the very fact of peace."

Report Plot to Sink Ships Allies Demand

SYMONS WON'T SUBMIT TO GAG

Says He'll Ask Special Session to Act on Legion Bill.

A bill providing for the establishment of a headquarters at Indianapolis for the American legion will be introduced in the proposed first special session of the legislature, Luther Symons, representative from Henry county, has promised a committee of the legion. Mr. Symons' promise is the first indication that there would be a definite effort to bring about the consideration of other measures besides suffrage by the legislature.

Representative Symons has informed the Indiana Woman's Franchise league that he will not consent to the consideration of the suffrage amendment only because he believes the consideration of a bill to provide headquarters for the legion to be necessary at this time. He pointed to the fact that Indianapolis must have a permanent headquarters building well under way before the national convention of the legion in September of this year or the national headquarters probably will be taken away from Indianapolis.

The national executive committee of the legion has not decided whether it shall give its approval to the presentation of a bill of this nature to the first special session, according to Dr. T. Victor Keene, Indiana member of the committee. Dr. Keene takes the stand that it probably would be more advisable to wait until the second session.

Representative Symons was urged to support the measure by a committee appointed by a Henry county post of the legion on instructions to Raymond S. Springer, state commander. The instructions were sent out before a local committee called on Gov. Goodrich and obtained a statement from him to the effect that the measure could not be taken up before the second session.

The letter sent to post commanders by the state commander asked that each member of the legislature be pledged to support such a measure. All posts with the exception of Attica post No. 52 expressed approval of the plan to have the state finance the construction of a headquarters building. This post took the stand that the legion should build its own home and not ask one state to build a home for an organization covering forty-eight states.

The first of the trucks left at 6 a. m. and expect to arrive at Ft. Sheridan at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Col. W. S. Mapes, commander, expects to be at Ft. Sheridan only a few days before they proceed to their home camp at Ft. Dodge, Des Moines, Ia.

THE successful farmer raises bigger crops and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.
