

ONE OF THREE LIKELY TO FILL TAGGART GAP

Woolen, VanNuys or Ralston
Seen as Possible Choice for Senate Race.

MUST BE APPOINTED

The withdrawal of Thomas Taggart as a candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator from Indiana creates a vacancy on the primary ballot which places the task of naming a candidate for the nomination in the hands of the state central committee.

At this time three prominent Indiana democrats have been suggested as successors to Mr. Taggart as a primary candidate for the senate. They are Evans Woolen, president of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company, Indianapolis; Frederick VanNuys, United States district attorney, and Samuel M. Ralston, former governor of Indiana.

Mr. Woolen is popular with Indiana democrats because of his ability which he has proved in the business world and in the position of United States fuel administrator for Indiana during the world war.

Mr. Woolen was urged by his friends to become a candidate for the senate, but he declined their proposal because he believed that Mr. Taggart desired to make the race. Mr. Woolen's friends believe that, having seen that Mr. Taggart has declined to be a candidate, he would not be adverse to accepting the nomination.

CAN BE PROUD

While he has never held a public office, Mr. Woolen has taken part in democratic party movements for many years. He has never been associated with any particular element in the party and his record is clean.

During the war Mr. Woolen was known as one of the most efficient fuel administrators in the country. As a result of his ability he was called to Washington, where he assisted Fuel Administrator Garfield until the work of the department was concluded.

Frederick VanNuys is well known to every democrat in Indiana. He was chairman of the state central committee during the 1918 campaign and in this capacity he gained a wide acquaintance. Prior to becoming state chairman, Mr. VanNuys was a member of the state senate. He was prosecuting attorney of Madison county, which is his home, before he came to Indianapolis as a member of the senate representing that county.

Mr. VanNuys became United States district attorney last January, succeeding L. E. St. Louis.

RALSTON MAY AGREE TO RUN.

Mr. Ralston is another possibility whose friends have urged him to seek the nomination. Early in the campaign it was the statement that he was not a candidate for any office. Later his friends circulated a petition in his behalf planning to place his name on the primary ballot for governor. He refused to permit this, however, because he had pledged his support to Dr. Carleton B. McCulloch and felt bound to stand by his pledge. Like Mr. Woolen, Mr. Ralston did not seek the nomination for United States senator because of the impression that Mr. Taggart would be the candidate.

The state committee is expected to be called into session some time this month. It appears probable that one of the three probable candidates named will be selected by the committee.

The refusal of Taggart to permit his name to stand as the only entrant in the democratic senatorial primary leaves him free to assume the role he has long had and in the performance of which he has done much for the democratic party of Indiana.

Neither seeking office himself nor being persuaded to become a candidate, he is free to devote his own peculiar genius to the reorganization of the democratic party in the state and the conduct of a vigorous campaign, which alone is necessary to the success of the democratic ticket in Indiana this fall.

Mr. Taggart, it is conceded by all who know him, can not and should not refrain from taking an active part in Indiana democratic politics. The democratic party of the state without Mr. Taggart would be a number of groups without a directing head. With Mr. Taggart as a candidate the guiding genius which has been of such benefit to others in the party would have been dimmed by the general restrictions imposed by the candidacy.

As a candidate for the senatorship, to which he was entitled by every right known to politics, Mr. Taggart might easily have set back and watched himself elected whether the rest of the ticket won or not.

As genial Tom Taggart, always working for democratic success and always sought out and regarded as a leader of the party in the state, Mr. Taggart will be, as usual, interested in the success of the whole ticket.

The democratic state in the opinion of most politicians, have lost a nominee whose success was assured, but have regained a counselor under whose guidance they will be able to elect their whole ticket. In speaking editorially of Mr. Taggart, the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette says:

"Indiana politics has never known a more pleasing personality. His smile is known from coast to coast. And behind the smile there has always been the good will and the generous intent. No one perhaps ever went to Tom Taggart for a favor that was possible of bestowal to carry disappointment away. And no one applying for a favor ever had to present party credentials. To him people are just folks. No bitterness in party combat has ever left a scar. There was a time when his very predominance made enemies, but that period is gone. His popularity has withstood the wear and tear of time. And emerging at the age of 60 from the smoke of innumerable battles he finds himself saluted by a unanimous party, and respected and liked by all, regardless of political affiliations."

The impression created among close political observers in Indianapolis by Mr. Taggart's withdrawal from the senatorial race is that he withdraws in order to devote himself unselfishly to the promotion of democratic success.

It is recalled that Mr. Taggart is thoroughly impressed with the desirability and necessity of a vigorous campaign in the state. From now on the political observers expect that the democrats of Indiana will take the offensive in politics and that the offense will be helped by the very capable hand of Mr. Taggart, whose ability along that line is known to both republicans and democrats alike.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more energy than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitrophosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by druggists and all druggists under guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitrophosphate produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Catarrh Gone No More Hawking and Snuffling When You Breathe Hyomei

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) is guaranteed to end the misery of catarrh. Breathe it, destroy the catarrh germs, and soon hawking and snuffling should cease.

Breathe it and crusts no longer form in the nose nor mucus lodge in the throat; inflammation leaves the membrane of the nose and throat and your head will feel clear and fine.

Breathe it for coughs, colds and sore throat; it's soothing, healing, antiseptic action is better than all the stomach-digesting remedies in creation, and there isn't a particle of opium, cocaine or other habit-forming drug in it.

Complete Outfit, which includes Inhaler, $1.50. Extra bottles of Hyomei if after-ward needed, 60 cents at the Haag drug stores and druggists everywhere.

MI-O-NA Ends Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching and all stomach disease or money back. Large box of tablets 90 cents. Druggists in all towns.

AUTOS SPEED ON AS VICTIMS LIE

Man Struck Downtown and Woman Hurt in Collision.

Charles Thomas, 48, of 1014 North Meridian street, was injured early today when he was struck by an automobile while crossing Washington street near Illinois. He was taken to his home in an automobile. The driver of the automobile did not stop. Sergt. Sandmann, who investigated, was unable to learn the name of the automobile driver. Thomas' injuries are not serious.

Mrs. William Fox, 1015 Bellefontaine street, was injured when an auto driven by her son, M. J. Fox, and in which her daughter Agnes was riding, turned over at Meridian and Twenty-second streets, last night. Sergt. Fred Winkler was told that another car collided with Fox's auto, and that Fox's car skidded and turned over. The other automobile did not stop. Mrs. Fox was taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

Mrs. Lizzie Russell, 63, of 111 West Norwood street, suffered injuries about the head when a buggy in which she was riding was struck by a stock yards street car at South street and Kentucky avenue. She was taken to the City hospital.

Teachers Quit in Body When Mining Town Refuses Raise

WILLIAM A. KELLY

ARCHIBALD, Pa., March 10.—One hundred and forty thousand teachers in the United States have resigned their positions within a year because of low pay. In this valley mining town is the first 100 per cent strike of teachers on record. Fifty-two have left their desks.

School board members say that there is no money available for higher salaries. Ten years ago the teachers of Archibald started their request for a raise. In 1919 the state law was passed fixing the minimum pay for teachers at $35 a month. The minimum in Archibald had been $45. But this increase did not satisfy the teachers, who again presented their demands, and when these were refused, quit in a body. William A. Kelly is a leader in the teachers' fight for the increase.

New Car, 'Gale Four,' to Be Made Here

Offices for the Gale Motors corporation, a new concern with a capitalization of $500,000, have been opened at 400 Terminal Traction building, according to Gard Gale, head of the concern. A new four-cylinder car known as the Gale Four, will be manufactured by the company.

BONUS FRIENDS PUSHING FIGHT

Seek to Put Through Legislation This Month.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Every means possible will be used by friends of soldier bonus legislation, to have a bonus bill passed before the end of the present month. Representative Royal C. Johnson of South Dakota, a former service man, said today.

The ways and means committee, having the soldiers' aid legislation in charge, may not come to an agreement for several weeks. If the committee does not act quickly the friends of the bonus plan, led by Johnson and Representative Swope of Kentucky, will lead a movement to have the committee discharged from consideration.

"We have our plans ready to force action on this legislation if the committee fails to act," Johnson said. "I do not think the house will turn us down in our efforts. It is possible that we will ask for a party caucus on the measure."

To give the ways and means committee time to frame money raising legislation bonus supporters have announced they are willing to fix the bonus payment date after July 1.

State K. of C. Boasts 81 War Secretaries

Eighty-one Indiana men served as Knights of Columbus secretaries in the war, according to data being prepared for the Indiana war history by J. W. Oliver, director of the state historical commission. Thirty-eight of the Indiana secretaries were sent overseas.

The war record of each man is set forth briefly in the historical work and a photograph of each was provided by William F. Fox, director of the K. of C. war activities bureau. A complete file of a periodical, "The Knights of Columbus War Activities," which was edited by John C. Dawson of Laporte, Ind., in France, is included in the data.
