

BOOKS TELL HOW TO BE HOUSEWIFE

Late Library Volumes Cover All Subjects of Home.

The bride who desires to become an efficient housekeeper can find a large amount of material on the subject in the public library. The books cover everything from the efficient kitchen, which is discussed in a book by George Boynton Child, to period furniture.

Christine McGaffin Frederick, author of "The New Housekeeping," graduated from Northwestern university with a Phi Beta Kappa key, but even after her marriage found that nothing she had learned helped her to be an efficient housekeeper.

LIKES TO WORK.

LEISURE IS SCARCE. She liked to cook and sew, but as she says, "she never seemed to get any where," and almost never had any leisure time to herself. She began to hear about the new movement for industrial efficiency. She determined to learn what the term implied and to apply it to her own work. This book is the result.

The book teaches women how to standardize their household operations and equipment to save time and strain. There are also chapters on household finances and records in the household. She advises keeping a card index file, not only for household accounts, but for everything that should be remembered, but usually is forgotten. One of the most valuable chapters tells how a housekeeper can reduce the cost of living by purchasing intelligently.

DIFFERENT ROOMS IN AVERAGE HOUSE.

"Planning and Furnishing the Home," by Mary J. Quinn, has chapters on the different rooms of the average home, giving practical and fairly economical suggestions for the artistic treatment of each. It includes a section on building a home, one on renting a house or an apartment and "doing" it over, two or three on period furniture, and a section on staining and refinishing wood, painting furniture, etc., for the "handy husband-at-home."

These books may be borrowed from the public library and kept for thirty days.

Society News

Miss Miriam Mackin of Rock Island, who is the guest of Mrs. Lucius French, 215 East Thirty-sixth street, was the hostess at an attractive luncheon given today by Mrs. French. Covers were laid for twenty-four. Professions of daffodils were used, all details lending themselves to the general plan of a daffodil luncheon. Among the guests were Miss Kathryn Ewing of Owensboro, Ky., and Mrs. J. P. McFarland and Mrs. Horace Reiser of Lafayette.

Miss Pauline Hitz of Franklin, Ind., is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. George, 1225 Park avenue.

Mrs. James Pearson, 4330 Park avenue, was hostess for the Clio club meeting this afternoon. Mrs. Josephine J. Dean read a paper on "French Industries." Mrs. J. H. Furnas gave a review on Riley's works, and Mrs. Pearson sang Riley's "There, Little Girl, Don't Cry."

Founders' day will be celebrated by Pi Beta Pi on April 21 with a luncheon at the Riley room of the Claypool hotel and a dance at night at the Athenaeum. Miss Edythe Habbie is in charge of general arrangements.

Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae club will hold the regular meeting tomorrow with Miss Laura Pantner, 3118 North Alabama street.

The Alumnae club of Delta Gamma will meet with Miss Adelaide Moore, 2223 North Alabama street. Arrangements will be made for the details of the state dinner, to be given Saturday, March 20, at the department clubhouse.

Commercial Editor Quits to Sell Bonds

George C. Myers, managing editor of the Indianapolis Commercial and assistant secretary of the Indianapolis stock exchange, has accepted a position as a bond salesman for Becker & Overman, 1210 Merchants Bank building. Mr. Myers will assume his new duties on Monday and will travel outside the city of Indianapolis.

Mr. Myers was engaged in newspaper work in Newcastle, Ind., until the war began. He served as an aviator and came to Indianapolis at the conclusion of the war.

Walk Defective, Says Mail Man Suing City

Alvin Shock, a United States mail carrier, filed a suit for $1,500 damages against the city of Indianapolis in superior court, room 3, for alleged injuries sustained by a fall which rendered him unconscious on Asbury street between Minnesota and Vigo streets in December last. He claims that the city walk was defective. He was riding a bicycle at night on the sidewalk, he claims, while delivering special delivery letters. He claims that Asbury street is unimproved.

Holds 50 Cents Day Too Little for Man

PARIS, March 12.—France's colonies filed to more than 50 cents a day from their pay envelopes in these H. C. L. times, according to a judge's decision granting a divorce to William E. Taylor. He said that was all his wife permitted him to have and that she "became" him with the family bric-a-brac when he got real extravagant one day and spent 35 cents over his allowance for a cake.

Mother Says Boy Needs $7,500 Year

NEW YORK, March 12.—Robert Kelly, 15, grandson of Eugene Kelly, banker who died in 1894, leaving several millions, requires $7,500 annually for his support, according to his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Kelly, whose application for this allowance from trust funds will be investigated by a referee appointed today by the surrogate court.

Mrs. Kelly listed among "necessities" $24.50 a month for gasoline for her son's car.

LOWDEN AIDS OFFICER.—CHICAGO, March 12.—Gov. Lowden took a hand today in the case of Dorsey Chambliss, negro policeman, whose alleged mistreatment of Bertha Wiebeck of Pawnee Rock, Kas., caused the girl's death. The governor assigned Assistant Attorney General James Burns to investigate the case for him and to represent him when the trial is called here next Wednesday.

COLDS

Head or chest—
are best treated
"externally" with
VICK'S VAPORUB
EYEDROPS

Confessions of a Bride 'MY DEAR! MY DEAR!' I SAID

"I vow that I will get out in search of daddy under spirit guidance," Chrys said defiantly. "And I will start as soon as I get a little more testimony about him."

"My dear! My dear!" I exclaimed. "I have gone through some terrible experiences which I haven't courted and haven't wanted, but I am a very mild little adventurer compared to you—if you take a ghost for a guide! I tried, at least, to take along a little common sense. Surely, Chrys, you'll never cut loose from your home and follow instructions you obtain from that spelling board? How about Jordan Spence?"

"I'll do just that," she replied. "Jordan Spence loves me as I love him. He will humor me."

"I don't feel so sure about that," I said. "For the love of love, Chrys, let us accept all this supernatural nonsense as—as literature. But let us not act in accordance with it."

"If the thing is true at all, it must be a guide to conduct," was the rejoinder. I was reminded for the hundredth time that Bob's only sister is a born fanatic when she sets out to have her own way. They say that she inherits her spirit from an ancestor whom Queen Mary burned at the stake.

"Listen to reason, Chrys. We'll hear from daddy soon. He will cable us again, you'll see, when they make their next harbor. I, for one, have had all the adventure I want for a cycle of blue moons. I'm going to be passive and not interfere with the fates. Maybe that is a good theory—it's popular, but none of the Lormers have ever experimented with it. Well, I'm going to. Pretty soon Bob and I are going to open up our own little house again. And I am going to drift with the tide of life. I guess I'll be as happy as I have been while leading a strenuous life."

"Welcome destiny in however sinister a disguise," quoted Chrys, with a shrug. I shivered. I couldn't help it. Our long talk had excited me. I knew that Chrys can be horribly perverse when her pet plans are not received with enthusiasm. Sometimes her own respect for her communications with the unseen effect of her speech and her manners and she really looks like a magnificent sylph or prophetic of ancient days.

Perhaps the conversation with the ghost had made me creepy. I couldn't imagine any kind of a sinister destiny attached to my pretty little home; nevertheless, I shuddered and had to force a little vivacity into my voice when I answered:

"I'll take my luck a day at a time, my dear."

"The luck you need is some kind of a steady job for that husband of yours." Plainly Chrys wanted to get away from our talk about the world of mysteries. "Bob has been brushing up against some dangerous romances since he took off his uniform."

"Bob was a dandy business man before he was shell-shocked," I insisted. "He isn't a lazy man—he never was. He can't help being a millionaire's son, and if he wants to study, study, day and night."

"He studies only when he hasn't got to rescue some fair damsel in distress," was Chrys's next thrust.

What reason had she to remind me of that?

"Bob is a 100 per cent husband, Chrys, and I am going to be a 100 per cent wife. He will play the knight errant for no fair maiden, ever again!" I said. But although I tried to believe my own words I became suddenly aware of a new flare of jealousy within my heart.

Katherine Miller was at home, I had heard. Was that tawny-haired tiger woman to be, once more, a disguise for a sinister destiny.—Copyright 1920, by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

(To be Continued.)

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

GIRL STUDENT DIES OF BURNS

Goldie Croyer, 18, Suffers Fatal Injuries in Explosion.

Miss Goldie Croyer, 18, of Otwell, Ind., died at the City hospital early today as the result of burns received on Thursday. She was in the kitchen of the home where she roomed, Wright street, and Woodlawn avenue, and attempted to start a fire in a cook stove. The oil exploded, igniting her clothing.

Miss Croyer ran from the house into the yard, where M. L. Leach, 801 Woodlawn avenue, threw a bucket of water on her, extinguishing the flames. Bicycle Policemen Delane and Muse investigated and sent the young woman to the City hospital. She died at 2:40 o'clock this morning. Miss Croyer had come to Indianapolis to study music.

GIRL STUDENT DIES OF BURNS

Goldie Croyer, 18, Suffers Fatal Injuries in Explosion.

Miss Goldie Croyer, 18, of Otwell, Ind., died at the City hospital early today as the result of burns received on Thursday. She was in the kitchen of the home where she roomed, Wright street, and Woodlawn avenue, and attempted to start a fire in a cook stove. The oil exploded, igniting her clothing.

Miss Croyer ran from the house into the yard, where M. L. Leach, 801 Woodlawn avenue, threw a bucket of water on her, extinguishing the flames. Bicycle Policemen Delane and Muse investigated and sent the young woman to the City hospital. She died at 2:40 o'clock this morning. Miss Croyer had come to Indianapolis to study music.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

GIRL STUDENT DIES OF BURNS

Goldie Croyer, 18, Suffers Fatal Injuries in Explosion.

Miss Goldie Croyer, 18, of Otwell, Ind., died at the City hospital early today as the result of burns received on Thursday. She was in the kitchen of the home where she roomed, Wright street, and Woodlawn avenue, and attempted to start a fire in a cook stove. The oil exploded, igniting her clothing.

Miss Croyer ran from the house into the yard, where M. L. Leach, 801 Woodlawn avenue, threw a bucket of water on her, extinguishing the flames. Bicycle Policemen Delane and Muse investigated and sent the young woman to the City hospital. She died at 2:40 o'clock this morning. Miss Croyer had come to Indianapolis to study music.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

League of Women Plans Civic Work

The local and civic programs of the New League of Women Voters are arousing the interest of the Franchise leagues over the state, almost to the exclusion of its state and national features. Although they can not adopt the new name until after the state convention, several of the large leagues are holding meetings this week and next to prepare to take up a plan of civic activities.

This part of the new league's work includes the many things in which women have been interested for years, and for which they have organized from time to time countless committees, societies and clubs. Some of these have succeeded in their object, but many have failed, in spite of the devotion of the individual members, owing to the smallness of the societies. These matters can now be behind them, if they desire, the impetus which comes from a large body of people, strongly organized, backed by votes.

Poison in Prison Kills and Blinds

ALBANY, March 12.—Authorities at Clinton prison are battling with a mysterious poison which has to date claimed two deaths, blinded five and partly robbed twenty-five other inmates of their sight. The dead are John Slocum, New York City, and Grant Griffith of Suffolk county.

Counties of canned salmon have been sent to the state laboratory for analysis. The authorities first believed the poisoning came from wood alcohol, but have abandoned that theory.

Hearst Asked to Head New Party

NEW YORK, March 12.—A movement to launch a third major political party founded on "progressive" principles was under way here today. It was being fostered by about fifty citizens of Brooklyn.

This group has asked William Randolph Hearst, publisher, to assume the leadership in organizing the proposed new party and to become its candidate for president.

Auto Show
State Fair
Grounds

L. S. AYRES & Co.

Auto Show
State Fair
Grounds

Special Pricings on These Scalloped Organdie Collars

In blue, toast and white. Observe the trailing embroidery, their general daintiness. And even more appealing, their price—25¢.

Veiling Lengths

In black, brown, navy blue and taupe, several attractive meshes being available. One-yard lengths, each only 45¢.

Children's Hairbows

Gay silken ribbons in fancy stripes; tied free of charge if desired. Price, 49¢ the yard.

These for Saturday Only

—Ayres—Street floor.

Where Will You Buy Groceries? Surely 'Tis an Important Question May We Suggest the Answer—?

500 Pounds Miller & Hart's Little Pig Hams
35¢ These fine sugar cured hams will weigh from 6 to 10 pounds each. Skin and surplus fat removed. The Pound And They're Fine The Pound

At 36¢, Swift's Empire bacon sweet sugar cured and of delicious flavor.

At $2.29, 9-pound pails Stumph's pure kettle rendered lard.

At 28¢ a pound, Ayres fresh made, special peanut butter. The kiddies love it.

At $1.50, 3-pound carton Bata-via coffee. Has a delicious flavor.

24½-Pound Bags Pure Wheat Flour at...$1.48
12-Pound Bags Pure Wheat Flour at...74¢
Sold by request of United States government.

At 75¢, 5-pound pails of Barn ard's pure sorghum.

At 44¢ a pound, Hershey's pure rich cocoa.

At 19¢, two boxes Roxane pan cake flour.

At 32¢, 2-pound tins Libby's delicious apple butter.

At 38¢ a bottle, Premier salad dressing. It's fine.

Free delivery on grocery orders of $2 or over. No C. O. D. orders. —Basement grocery.

At 6¢ a bar, Hershey's milk chocolate and almond bars. A box of 24 bars for $1.35.

At 69¢ a pound, Ayres' special creamery butter. None better.

At 74¢ and 10¢, fancy Sealed sweet grapefruit. Two sizes.

At $ 1-3¢, 15¢ and 17¢ a box, Sunshine cakes and crackers.