

EIGHTY KILLED AS CIVIL WAR GRIPS GERMANY

WILSON FLATLY REJECTS LODGE SUBSTITUTION

Declines to Accept Change in Article 10 as Vote Nears in Senate.

DISPLEASED AT ACTION

WASHINGTON, March 15.—President Wilson, in a message this afternoon to Senator Hitchcock, flatly rejected Senator Lodge's proposed substitute for the original reservation to Article 10.

The president made it plain that he will not be swerved by the efforts of his republican opponents to render ratification of the peace treaty more hopeless.

The message was a short communication written by the president's back of his desk from Hitchcock. The president wrote that the Lodge substitute was unacceptable to him. He indicated that he was displeased that he should have again been asked to pass upon a proposed reservation to Article 10 which, in his judgment, was just as objectionable to him as those which have previously been submitted to him.

LEAVES NO DOUBT AS TO HIS POSITION.

The president made it plain that unless the senate was prepared to accept Article 10 substantially as he himself wrote it into the league of nations covenant at Versailles, he would refuse to deposit the treaty at Paris.

The president made it plain that he was not only vexed by the latest developments in the treaty situation, but that he expected senators proposing allegiance to him to again vote against the Lodge reservation program even in its present modified form.

Hitchcock refused to make the president's latest message on the treaty public, although at the whitehouse it was stated there was no objection to the senator doing so.

In his message the president's "note" privately Hitchcock conveyed the impression that its tone was a rebuke to those senators who have been "fiddling" with Article 10 in an effort to bring about ratification.

The president reiterated the position he assumed at the Jackson day dinner and on other occasions when he has opposed the Lodge and other proposed reservations as "cutting at the heart" of the treaty and the length of nations covenant.

He made it known more that he favored the submission of the treaty to a referendum of the people in the coming campaign.

The senate rejected this afternoon a substitute, proposed by Senator Frelinghuysen, republican of New Jersey, to the Lodge reservation to Article 10. The vote was 46 to 36.

The first move in the final showdown on Article 10—anvielehre unmissverständigen—consent agreement between all factions must come before the end of the calendar day even if it is necessary for the senate to remain in continuous session until midnight.

RIGHTS RESOLUTION DEFEATED 31 TO 45.

A proposal by Senator Kirby (dem., Ark.) for a change in the Lodge substitute for the original reservation to Article 10, was defeated by a vote of 31 to 45.

By a vote of 30 to 46 the so-called Taft amendment to Article 10 was defeated.

By a vote of 27 to 51 the Simmons substitute was defeated.

MIDNIGHT END OF TAX PERIOD

School Head Aids City Essay Plans

ELLIS U. GRAFF.

Ellis U. Graff, superintendent of schools, will act as one of the judges in the essay contest among the school children of the four upper grades of the grade schools of Indianapolis on "Why Indianapolis is a Great City to Live and Grow In."

The contest will be carried on through the Indiana Daily Times and is under the direction of the board in charge of arrangements for the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, to be held in Indianapolis, June 6 to 10.

Prizes of $25, $10 and $5 will be awarded by the convention board for the three best essays of 100 words each on "Why Indianapolis Is a Great City to Live and Grow In."

The contest is part of the general movement of the advertising convention board to "make Indianapolis a better appreciated city" by "selling" the city first to itself and then to the world.

Elopers Give 'Em All Slip and Wed

Time for Income Returns Near Expiration.

The internal revenue office in the Federal building will remain open until midnight tonight in order to give tardy income tax payers an opportunity to file returns.

When the clock strikes 12 all returns must be in the hands of Collector William L. Elder, with the exception of some corporation blanks.

Those who fail to file returns will be subject to a penalty of $1,000 in addition to 25 per cent of the tax due.

At least one-fourth payment of taxes must accompany each return and in case this payment is not made at the proper time a penalty of 5 per cent of the tax, plus 1 per cent per month until paid, will be exacted.

PENALTY SEVERE FOR FALSE RETURNS.

For making a false or fraudulent return the penalty attached is a fine of not more than $10,000 to which may be added an imprisonment for not more than one year.

The income tax season opened Jan. 15 and blanks have been available since that time. However, a large number of taxpayers have delayed filling returns until the last hour and quite a rush is expected tonight. No excuses are accepted for failure to file reports on time with the exception of illness or in case one is traveling abroad.

PROMPT RETURNS HELPS PROGRESS.

Taxpayers in the Indianapolis district have been prompt in filing returns, according to H. E. Tebey, chief of the state department today. It was officially stated.

Corridors of the third floor of the federal building, where the income offices are located, were crowded today with beatified taxpayers filing returns.

Every single person whose income exceeded $1,000 and every married person whose income exceeded $2,000 during the year 1919 must file an income tax report before 12 o'clock tonight.

SIBERIAN FIRE KILLS 4 YANKS

Barracks at Vladivostok Destroyed by Flames.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Four American enlisted men were killed in a fire which completely destroyed a barracks of United States troops at Vladivostok, Russia, the government was advised today by Gen. Graves.

The names of the men were:

Alexander V. Laheu, Oakland, Calif.

Merrill D. Martin, Tulsa, Okla.

Julius W. Morris, Ridgefield, N. J.

James A. Branley, Fitzgerald, Ga.

MAN RESCUES CRASH VICTIM

Dragg Mrs. Laura Eckel From Under Car After Collision.

An unidentified man saved a woman serious injury when two East Washington street cars came together at East and Washington streets at 8 o'clock last night. The wheels slipped on the molested tracks and it plunged into the rear of the smaller car.

The unidentified man jumped when he saw the crash coming, but Mrs. Eckel was buried through the front door of a small gray street car stopped, which stood at the corner of East and Washington. A large East Washington car came up behind. The wheels slipped on the molested tracks and it plunged into the rear of the smaller car.

The unidentified man jumped when he saw the crash coming, but Mrs. Eckel was buried through the front door of a small gray street car stopped, which stood at the corner of East and Washington. A large East Washington car came up behind. The wheels slipped on the molested tracks and it plunged into the rear of the smaller car.

Mrs. Eckel, 101½ East Washington street, was sitting near the front door of a small gray street car stopped, which stood at the corner of East and Washington. A large East Washington car came up behind. The wheels slipped on the molested tracks and it plunged into the rear of the smaller car.

The unidentified man jumped when he saw the crash coming, but Mrs. Eckel was buried through the front door of a small gray street car stopped, which stood at the corner of East and Washington. A large East Washington car came up behind. The wheels slipped on the molested tracks and it plunged into the rear of the smaller car.

Mrs. Eckel was bruised. She was sent home by Patrolman Fogarty, who investigated.

THE WEATHER

Local Forecast—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, with probably rain; warmer tonight, colder by Tuesday afternoon; strong and blustery winds.

EQUINOX TEMPERATURE.

6 a. m. 46 7 m. 48 8 a. m. 55 9 a. m. 56 10 a. m. 56 11 m. 57 12 (noon). 58 1 p. m. 59 2 p. m. 59 Sun sets today, 5:51; rises tomorrow, 5:56; sets, 5:52. One year ago today, highest temperature, 69; lowest, 53.

Sun sets today, 5:51; rises tomorrow, 5:56; sets, 5:52. One year ago today, highest temperature, 69; lowest, 53.

Additional weather reports on page 10.

STARTS MOVE FOR RESIDENCE ZONES IN CITY

Steps Taken as Result of Plan for Motor Factory at Meridian and Maple.

LEGAL FIGHT IN VIEW

Residential districts in Indianapolis are to be protected from the encroachment of industrial concerns.

Steps to provide such protection are now being taken by city officials as the result of a proposal before the park board and the Craig-Hunt Motors company over a factory site at Meridian street and Maple road.

Mayor Charles W. Jewett announced today that, in conjunction with the city planning committee now contemplated, a city zoning committee is to be appointed to arrange for legislation for the protection of residential sections of the city.

James H. Lowry, superintendent of parks, announced that the park board intended to fight the erection of the Craig-Hunt automobile plant to a finish. He conferred with J. Clyde Hoffman, attorney for the park board, in regard to what legal action can be taken.

POINTS TO LACK OF RESIDENTIAL SECTIONS.

"It is the duty of the city government to protect residential districts from industrial buildings," said Mr. Lowry in discussing the matter. "There is not one first-class residential section in Indianapolis today and this condition is caused by the lack of protection to the city. We have long been in need of an ordinance regulating building zones and an effort to get such legislation will be made by members of the park board."

The movement to protect property rights in residential districts developed as the result of complaints from citizens living on Meridian street and Maple road, who are opposed to the proposed building of the Craig-Hunt automobile assembly factory at the intersection and the erection of a gasoline filling station. Both Meridian street and Maple road are boulevards and property owners in the vicinity feel that there will be a depreciation in the property in case the factory is permitted to build.

The Craig-Hunt Company now holds an option on a building site at the intersection which is being purchased through the real estate firm of Spann & Co. It is planned to erect either a three or four-story building, to be used as an assembly plant. The property has a frontage of 180 feet on Meridian street and 120 feet on Maple road.

MAY EXERCISE OPTION SOON.

According to R. W. Duck of the Spann company, officials of the motors company are planning on exercising their

CENTRAL FIGURES IN GERMAN REVOLUTION

GEN LUTTWITZ

FRIEDRICH C EBERT

GUSTAV NOSKE

PARIS

LUTTWITZ

PARIS

LUTTWITZ